One of the highlights of the show was the tour of the Swift and company packing plant at Fort Worth. In Sunday morning the boys rode various parks and visited the zoo in Forest Park, south of the business section of Fort Worth. The group left Crowell shortly after midnight Friday and returned to Crowell Sunday afternoon.

The trip was made in the school bus driven by Dale Jones. Coach Graves acted as the advisor of the group in the absence of Walker P. Todd, who is recovering from blood poisoning to an injury on his leg. Henderson also accompanied the group.

DEADLINE FOR SCHOOL CENSUS DRAWING NEAR

Number of Children Yet to Be Listed Before March 31

The dead line for enumerating children of scholastic age for the 1938 census is Thursday, March 31, and there is a number of children who have not yet been enumerated, according to L. A. Andrews, who is in charge of the school census.

The census returns for the Crowell Independent School District for 1938 are almost complete, but a drive is being made to include every child of school age in the returns, Mr. Andrews stated. To date 619 scholastics for the 1938-1939 term have been enumerated. This number is eleven short of the returns of last year, and it is hoped that when the final check-up is made the total will equal or surpass that of last year.

Children who will be six years old and under eighteen on or before Sept. 1, 1938, are eligible to be enumerated. If your child has not been enumerated or if you know of some family with children in school, which has recently moved into this district, you are urged to notify Mr. Andrews, who will see that they are listed.

Co-operation of Foard Farmers in Supplying Information on Farms

In the near future every farmer in the county will receive papers from the County Agent's office and they are urged to fill out the sheets correctly and return to the office promptly. The co-operation of every farmer is asked by County Agent John Nagy in this matter, as these papers are important in mapping out the 1938 Farm Program.

In order to give each farm its allotted cotton acres, the County Agent must have the co-operation of every farmer. Due to the fact that the new farm program being released so late and the great concentration of the work, prompt action must be taken in this matter. If you are called to the Agent's office please do not delay in doing so.

The farmers of the county will be notified when to sign up for the 1938 program. At present work is being done on the 1937 worksheets.

A large number of farmers have signed the 1937 worksheets during the past week, but there are still many who have not signed. The co-operation of farmers is sought, and those who have not signed are urged to do so in the near future, as the 1938 Farm Program can not be started in the county until worksheets on every farm in the county have been signed.

Any farmer who does not sign last year's worksheets will not be able to get a cotton allotment in 1938.

FOARD FARMERS VOTE 5-1 FOR COTTON QUOTAS

Entire South Favored New Law Restricting Cotton Production

Cotton farmers of Foard County voted 5 to 1 in favor of putting marketing quotas into effect upon their 1938 cotton crop in the referendum for cotton farmers held Saturday, March 12.

In the box at Crowell, 166 farmers voted for the quotas and 33 against. Ninety-one votes for the program were cast in the Thalia box and 16 against. Three hundred and six farmers voted in Foard County, and the final count revealed that 257 votes had been cast in favor of the marketing quotas and 49 against.

States Department of Agriculture indicate that the percentage of the votes of the cotton farmers of the entire South is running 92.5 per cent for the application of crop restrictions and only 7.5 per cent against, according to a news dispatch Tuesday. A two-thirds vote in favor of putting the marketing control provisions of the new farm law into effect was necessary.

At the time the news dispatch was released, returns had been received from only 778 of the 1,050 cotton producing counties in the twenty states, but at that time 1,181,611 farmers had voted in favor of the marketing quotas and 95,678 against. The total number of farmers eligible to vote was estimated at 2,360,000. Later returns are not expected to materially change the percentage for or against.

Federal control of sales will start when the 1938 crops start to market. Farmers marketing in excess of their federally-allotted shares of the national quotas will be subject to heavy penalties.

ROOKIE-SENIOR GRIDDERS MEET IN GAME TODAY

First Game of Spring Season Starts at 4 O'Clock

A team of rookies and lettermen will clash with a team of gridders from the Senior class of Crowell High School in the first practice game of the spring season this afternoon (Thursday) at 4 o'clock on the Crowell gridiron.

This game will rest the third week of the six-weeks spring training period and will be the last practice until after the county interscholastic meet Friday and Saturday, March 25-26. This lay-off is given in order that some of the boys now in football training might start practicing for track and field events Monday.

The seven starters, who have not yet been allowed to get the joy of whamming a body block into a tough rookie, will don their war togs Monday, March 27, at which time workouts will be resumed. After three weeks of practice under the tutelage of Coach Grady Graves, the natural abilities of many of the rookies have been developing fast, and the experienced squads have shown up better during the past three weeks than ever before. When the seven favored gridders step upon the battle field, they may find the knocks coming their way about as fast as they can give them, because the lads who have been drilling faithfully for the past three weeks have learned how to take care of themselves. Even the starters admit that the rookies will furnish plenty of competition.

Starters for Game

Unless last minute changes are made, Coach Graves will place eleven 1937 squads on the field to face the Seniors and will also play a number of very promising rookies who will get their first taste of competitive leather lugging and football knocks this afternoon.

Even though the prospective gridmen have had three weeks of practice, the Seniors will boast a

Not every one that sayeth unto me Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven.—Matt. 7:21.

The time is coming when Protestantism will forget its several creeds and unite in one body. Men everywhere are coming to care less and less for creeds and more for the essential elements of Christ's program.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—While the political pot simmered in Texas this week, in preparation for a grand boiling over about April 1, cheerful economic news featured the week, as reports from various reliable indices showed the Lone Star state to be one of the brightest spots on the business map of the nation.

Comp. George Sheppard released an analysis of tax and revenue collections of the state showing that during the first six months of the current fiscal year, ended February 28th, state revenue totaled $102,385,636—an indicated gain of about $15,000,000 for the full year, over last year. The increase was attributed by the Comptroller to better collections and, in part, to increased rates.

Auditor Urges Reform

But efficiency in the spending of the $200,000,000 a year of state income can never be achieved under the present hodge-podge taxation system, State Auditor Tom King declared, in issuing an analysis of fiscal operations of the state. He urged reforms which have been pointed out in this column frequently as essentials to efficient and economical government, including a decent system of auditing the state's business, the abolition of more than 100 special funds and putting of the state's revenue into a general fund, to be spent only on specific expenditures to insure that the revenue has been spent as the lawmakers direct.

He also urged creation of a budget-making authority, and some sort of civil service authority to day from Dallas where he had completed the Powell Training School. He is now ready for the university.

Political Notes

Most political activity in Austin this week was behind the scenes, a Bill McCraw and Ernest Thompson were busy with intensive organization work, preparatory to launching platforms and active campaigns about April 1. Thompson conferred here with Myron Blalock, of Marshall, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, who is reported getting ready to manage the red-headed Amarillon's campaign for Governor, McCraw filed an anti-trust suit against six Texas cement companies, alleging price fixing in violation of state laws, and seeking penalties which could total a maximum of $30,000,000 if conviction is had. McCraw, of course, will not likely try the suit, retiring from the Attorney General's office next January. Two new second-string gubernatorial candidates posted their $100 fee. They are S. T. Broedon, Stephenville architect, and Joseph King, Houston tavern operator. Vann Kennedy, state Democratic committee secretary, declared he is offering the biggest advertising bargain, publishing any man's name to a "million circulation" (the ballots) for $100. Their Health is Protected by Electric Refrigeration

Hospital Obstetrics Supervisor Says: "It's Safest"
Economy in operation and safety from food spoilage are so important in your home as in any hospital! Therefore, it seems amazingly significant that most all hospitals, including Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene (see photos), depend largely on Electric Refrigeration for these two necessary performances. Miss Vera Smith, obstetrics supervisor, says: "We now have eight Fridgidares in use, one of which is in the maternity ward. I know of no better method than electric refrigeration as a means of providing one of many safeguards for the health of these babies." So when buying a refrigerator, please bear in mind that responsible persons, qualified to exert expert choice, everywhere are choosing Electric Refrigeration. Especially is this true in West Texas, where torrid summer heat makes it impossible for other types to maintain 40- to 45-degree temperatures—necessary for complete food protection. Electric service for refrigeration costs as little as 2 1/2 cents a day!

You'd never believe it from the expressions on their faces, but Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray are having the time of their young lives in this scene from their latest Paramount comedy-drama, "True Confession"! In a message which should be of great interest to livestock men as well as packers, retailers and consumers, S. T. Bledsoe, president said: "The Santa Fe takes pleasure in calling to the attention of its patrons the importance in our national economy of the Livestock and Meat Industry. The greater use of meat by all of us will go far towards stabilizing and making more secure this great basic industry."

This message has been printed on cards under the President's signature and placed before patrons throughout the 13,500 miles of the System.

HIGHBUSH CRANBERRY NOT RELATIVE OF TRUE BERRY

The name of the highbush cranberry (Viburnum opulus) is rather misleading, for it is not related to the true cranberry. On the contrary, it is a relative of the elderberry and is a member of the well known honeysuckle family. It gets the cranberry name because its fruit looks and tastes somewhat like the cultivated cranberry. But with that the similarity ends. It has a number of other names, Christian Science Church Sunday School at 10 a. m. Sunday services at 11 a. m. Wednesday evening services at 8 o'clock. Sunday, March 20, 1938. Subject: "Matter". The public is cordially invited.

Christian Science Services "Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 20. The Golden Text is: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalms 114:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, or any thing taken from it" (Ecclesiastes 3:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The objects of time and sense disappear in the illumination of spiritual understanding, and Mind measures time according to the good that is unfolded" (page 584).

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

The Value of A Man: I was present the other day in a group in which the value of a man was being discussed. The opinion was advanced by one party that merely because a living organism changed to be a man, he, by virtue of this fact had a high value because he had a soul. Personally I do not subscribe to this belief. The fact that a man exists or has a soul is due to no effort of his own and he himself is entitled to no credit for his soul or the fact of his existence. We live in a world in which only those things that are useful have a value. The value is in direct ratio to the degree of usefulness. To my way of thinking this applies as much to man as it does to any other creature or thing in existence. A man has no right to claim a value merely because he changes to have a soul. He is worth to the world whatever he contributes to the sum total of human happiness and human progress and no more. To my way of thinking there are individuals who are easily worth more to the world than a thousand average men and women, and now there are individuals who are worth to the world ten thousand ordinary men and women. The point I am endeavoring to make is that we can be worth much or little to the world. It depends upon us, but we are only worth what we contribute to the sum total of human happiness and human progress and no more. This is a just and impartial measure of every man's worth.

some of which are quite descriptive, such as crampbark tree, wild guelderrose, cherry-wood, yew, elder, rose elder, love rose, May rose, squaw bush and witch-hobble. All of these names have a meaning to those who know the shrub, for they are all related to some aspect of its history, uses, or appearance, according to an authority in the Chicago Tribune.

It is quite evident that the herb doctors must have thought up the name of "crampbark." They believed that if you boiled the bark of the cranberry the liquid was an excellent remedy for stomach aches.

The shrub thrives even in northern Saskatchewan, 500 miles north of the American border. It is rather common in the New England states, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, and states where the winters are rather severe.

WHAT WE THINK

(By Frank Dixon)

The legislature of my state recently concluded a special session which had been called for a special purpose.

Though the legislature was called for one specific purpose, and for no other, some 250 bills were introduced, and a session which should have required but a week dragged out into four weeks at an un-ouctionable expense.

I have never been a believer in the present system of state legislatures in common use in this country. There are many valid objections to it. In the first place too many men are elected to the legislature who have no concept of the state's welfare and are motivated by political expediency only.

Instead of uniting on laws for the good of the whole state, too often they judge them upon their political implications purely, and weeks are wasted and thousands of dollars of the taxpayers money is spent by a group of men often incompetent and often lacking in the knowledge and patriotism necessary to enable them to render a competent service.

Another criticism of our present law making machinery is that of

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simpson and sons, Walter Dwan and Berl Lynn, and Bob Simpson and son, Rene, of Paducah spent Sunday with Mrs. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Davidson.

Arthur Sandlin and son, Herman, have returned home after spending several days with relatives in Oklahoma.

Miss Mary Wanda Lewis of Houston is here visiting with her mother, Mrs. S. J. Lewis.

Mrs. Weldon Burleson and daughter, Reta Ann, and son, James Davis, of Skellytown are here visiting with her mother, Mrs. B. W. Matthews.

Several from this community attended the singing at Ogden Sunday night.

Miss Russie Rasberry attended a district meeting of the Home Demonstration Association in Seymour Friday.

Miss Margaret Evans, who teaches near Tulsa, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans.

Mrs. R. L. Walling and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Walling went to Bowie Tuesday where they will spend a few days with their daughter and sister, Mrs. George Benham, of Bowie.

ten well meaning men are elected to the legislature who have little or no knowledge of what is best for the state. They have never given any thought or study to the science of government and law making or to the particular needs of their state.

The system would miss many of its pitfalls if in each community the best qualified men would run for the legislature. In most instances they do not, and too often when they do run they are defeated by men, who, though better vote getters, are not to be compared when it comes to being intelligent students of government.

One of the greatest weaknesses of our form of government is the inability of the average voter to make the proper discrimination between the statesman and politician. Too often the politician appeals to the mass and gets the votes and the statesman is left at home.

In my state the legislature meets every other year. Hundreds of bills are introduced and acted upon and jammed through by men who have not even had time to read them and learn what they are about, bills that have to do with important matters touching on business, taxes, schools and every phase of daily life of the citizens of the state.

It has always appealed to me as a tragic joke—a pathetic effort to cling to an old custom. We are slaves to the idea, that, because we used to do it this way, we should continue to do it this way.

I have no doubt that the same wasteful, uneconomic, inefficient results are attained in the legislatures of many states.

We are living in an automobile age but in many things we are still employing the old hand pushcart of three centuries ago.

The most amazing thing to me in politics today is the tenacity with which some of the leaders in the old parties cling to their old ideas. Many of these ideas are so obviously out of date and unfitted to the conditions of the times that their continued espousal would be ridiculous if it wasn't so pathetic.

Nothing is like it used to be fifty years ago. Our living standards all changed, the tempo of living has been stepped up. Communication and rapid transit have brought to every family circle the knowledge, the music, and the culture of the entire world.

Our customs and conventions are changed, our manner of living, our standard of living, all have changed.

And we like it. We would not go back, for anything, to the handloom, the tallow candle, the uncomfortable drafty homes, the drudgery and discomforts that were an inseparable part of it all.

We are living in a new day and are glad of it and want to continue to progress and make life fuller and more complete and more desirable.

In all except politics and the affairs of government, finance and economics.

I am not a worshiper of the past only in so far as the actions of the past tend to prove or disprove theories and point the way definitely for the future.

Some of the things that may have to be done may sound, to some, radical, but I hold that nothing is for the best to the greatest number of people, that will promote happiness and content, and permit us all to live together in peace and unity and harmony can be called radical no matter how great the departure may be from the accepted normal.

The point I am endeavoring to make is that we have been suffering too much from mental inertia, a sort of jealousy for opinions and practices that have been handed down to us in the past. We shrink from learning something new, we are loath to concede that there is merit in new ideas.

We are going to be forced to it. If one political party espouses the cause of a new plan for a new day the other will have to fall in line or fall by the wayside.

The next two major parties that are going to control the destinies of this country are not going to consist of one party that believes in new ideas for a new day and one that believes that old ideas are still suitable for a new day.

The next cleavage of political thought is going to come over how new ideas for a new day will be applied and administered.

I believe this is inevitable because it is unescapable.

A LOT OF CAR for a VERY LOW PRICE

The Ford effort to make your dollars buy a constantly better car is well illustrated in the Standard Ford V-8.

It has all the basic Ford advantages. It is built on the same chassis as the De Luxe Ford V-8. It gives you a choice of smooth 85-horsepower or 60-horsepower V-8 engines. But it sells at low prices, and includes bumpers, spare tire, cigar lighter, twin horns and other equipment that make it a still bigger bargain.

With the thrifty 60-horsepower engine the Standard Ford V-8 is priced especially low and gives the greatest mileage in Ford history. Hundreds of owners report averages of 22 to 27 miles a gallon—or even more. Your pocketbook will approve of Standard Ford in every way. Ask us when you drive it!

BEAUTY AND BIG FEET

After observing feminine pulchritude in many parts of the world, Earl H. Bell, anthropologist at the University of Nebraska, comes to the conclusion that American women are the most beautiful of all. He says that the mass of our girls, from the bleakest to the socialite class, are more attractive than those of any other country.

Bell is impressed especially with the way in which older American women retain their charm in comparison with European women. He does not rate the women so highly, and says that occasionally one is found who is beautiful, the majority are made one statement as a result of his investigations, however, which may not be entirely true in the countrywomen, and is that they have big feet. A survey made at Vassar and other girls' colleges disclosed that the modern girl wears shoes at least two sizes larger than those of her grandmother. Just how big the data on the grandmothers' feet are, is not stated. Bell can readily agree with the doctor's general conclusion.

Hotel proprietor: "Did you want the porter to call you?"
 Guest: "No, thanks. I awaken every morning at seven."
 Proprietor: "Then would you mind calling the porter?"

Mrs.: "Ray Dear, you run ahead and hold the train."
 Mr.: "Yeah, and what particular hold would you like me to use, the headlock, scissors or half-nelson?"

Angry wife: "Now that I have an electric refrigerator, see what you can do about getting a mechanical stenographer."
 Vacationist: "Any big men born here?"

Dare County Native: "Nope, not very progressive 'round here; best we kin do is babies. Different in the city, I s'pose?"

THE MODERN JUGGERNAUT

Suppose that, on a given day, we rounded up nearly forty thousand American men, women and children, heeded them into a field, and there proceeded to slaughter them. Suppose that, at the same time, we wounded, blinded, crippled and otherwise harmed several hundred thousand more.

Horrible? Impossible? More barbarous than the barbarians? Of course it is—but, in effect, that is what happens on American highways every year. The slaughter doesn't occur on a single day, but over 365 days. And instead of killing the victims with shell and rifle fire, and gas and grenades, we use that well known servant of mankind which can also be a monster of destruction—the automobile.

If an airplane falls and kills ten people the fact is headlined throughout the country and millions feel a sense of horror. If a ship sinks and 50 men die, the entire world knows it in a few minutes, and world-wide sympathy is extended to the victims and their survivors. But when automobiles crash and people die horribly as a result, we note the fact absently, and turn the page to the comic strips.

Our people are criminally negligent in driving automobiles. And America is criminally complacent in its attitude of more or less bored indifference toward the accident toll.

Juggernaut is no more—but the automobile more than fulfills its gory role.

HOW BIG IS TEXAS?

How big is Texas? Well, Texas is this big—that the natives of El Paso smile when they speak of those "so and so Easterners, the citizens of Galveston!" That the train-traveling Londoner drops his monocle in wide-eyed surprise when told: "Of course, you're still in Texas!"

Whether you judge it in terms of people, area, animals, crops or natural wealth, Texas is a big state. From the eight-foot spread of a longhorn's points to the twenty-five mile Houston ship canal, Texas does things in a big way. And that bigness isn't just physical. When it comes to things of the heart and spirit, Texas can qualify for greatness also. Friendship, loyalty, patriotism, "push," vitality, spirit—these are big virtues.

How big is Texas? Well, Texas is this big—that "billion" is just about the most popular word in the language. A billion feet of lumber per year, mineral products worth a billion dollars every two years, a billion in manufactured products every year, a billion barrels of oil every two years, a billion dollars worth of cotton, corn, wheat and other farm products every three years—Texas, the billionaire state.

So big is Texas, the delight of the statisticians with a "now is all the pins" complex. It's farther from El Paso to Beaumont than it is from New York to Chicago! If Texas were as densely populated as New England, it would take every inhabitant of the United States to fill it up. If Texas raised all the farm products her fertile lands could produce, the rest of the farm states could quit business! Those are true Texas tall tales!

How big is Texas? Well, Texas is this big—that no few paragraphs can hope to even summarize the greatness of her plains and valleys, her cities and ranches, her forests and deserts. So big is Texas—the "Lone Star" in the field of forty-eight states.

Foard City Scholastics

(By School Reporter)

There will be music in the air in the vicinity of the school house Friday night, beginning at 7:30. The source of the music will be the two Foard City choruses, a duet and a quartet. In another musical fashion the local Eaveson band will furnish entertainment.

The "picture man" came to school Tuesday, and the feminine two-thirds of the faculty went to a session of hair combing. Floyd Carl looked like a happy floyd of a good health advertisement. It was quite an exciting experience to many of the first graders.

In about two weeks we will receive the finished pictures of the boys and girls, who will be the Foard City of tomorrow. One can just look over their faces and pick out the future farmers, postmen, garage men, school teachers, choir leaders and ministers.

For the choir leaders we nominate Beatrice Lewis and Estelle Autry; for the pretty, efficient young school teacher, Anita Traveek.

Pioneer Resident Observes Eighty-First Birthday Wednesday

G. A. Mitchell, resident of this section for forty-eight years, quietly observed his 81st birthday Wednesday at his home in Crowell, his two daughters, Mrs. J. R. Allee and Miss Dima Mitchell, preparing a birthday dinner. "Brother" Mitchell, as he is familiarly known to his older friends in this county, came to this section in 1890, one year before Foard County was organized, and has made his home here since that time. His untiring spirit and progressive attitude toward the development of a community in a frontier section has meant much in the growth of this county since its organization in 1891. During this long period he has held many places of trust, his last public position being tax assessor-collector for the Crowell Independent School District. Among greetings received was a poem, "To Granddad," written by his grandson, Billie Carter, of Lubbock.

GARDEN CLUB

The Crowell Garden Club held its March meeting at the Christian Church on Friday, March 11, with Mrs. H. K. Edwards presiding. Mrs. W. A. Cogdell reported a group of the members had been guests of the Childress Garden Club on the preceding Monday, at which time they presented the program. Each Crowell lady was given a potted pansy as a favor. They had taken plants to present to the Childress ladies. Mrs. O. R. Boman reported that the Highway Department was planting the 400 Chinese elms and 52 red cedars that had been given by the Chillicothe Experimental Station. The trees are being planted in the City Park, located on the south highway. A hedge line is being made of the Chinese elms and hackberries, red cedars and elms are being used in grove formations all through the plot of ground. Business men donated funds to buy 10 Arizona cypress, 4 Pfitzer Junipers and 2 mandarin. Each club member donated a shrub and all these are being planted in the park. Plans are being made to provide for maintenance of the park, so that it will be a pride to every citizen. The clean-up campaign starts April 3 and lasts throughout the week. Garden Club members are urged to begin on their own grounds before that time. Mrs. L. A. Andrews gave some helpful hints on the planting of annuals. Seeds should be soaked for 24 hours before planting; should be planted not more than one-eighth inch deep, and should be covered with paper or burlap, and kept damp until seeds germinate. Soil for the seed boxes should be baked, so that mold won't collect before plants are ready to be transplanted. In her discussion of lawns, Mrs. Andrews stated that a new lawn can be made as quickly as an old one can be patched. A good lawn should be made to last 15 years, and should be fed twice a year. Mrs. R. L. Kincaid gave a helpful talk on roses. She advised rose planting in February. Roses should be soaked with water every ten days. They should have a resting spell during July and August. They should be fertilized in

LIBRARY NOTES

Kathleen Thompson Norris was born in San Francisco on July 16, 1880. Her father was born in Hawaii, came of a Boston family and was manager of a bank. Her home life, with five brothers and sisters, was an unusually happy one, a fact which accounts for her general theme of the happiness to be found in the lives of everyday people in their homes in almost all of her novels. When Kathleen was nineteen, both her parents died, and the children were left practically destitute. Kathleen secured employment with a hardware firm, and shouldered all the domestic responsibility. She was married to Charles Norris in 1909, a writer, and began her own career of writing. She has become one of the outstanding and most widely read fiction writers of the present time, and has had over forty novels published. The library has copies of approximately twenty of her novels, the latest ones being "Crossroads," and "Heartbroken Melody."

Activities of Foard County H. D. Women

Twenty-five shade trees have been set out in their yard, according to Helen Russell, Margaret 4-H Club girl. The trees were mostly cottonwoods and Chinese elms. These were set about the yard for shade and a row of salt cedar set nearer the house. They were set out just after the first rain. Helen says that she did some of all the work from digging the holes to setting the trees.

VIVIAN H. D. CLUB

The "Seven C's" for the kitchen was defined by Miss Myrna Holman Thursday afternoon, March 10, at the meeting of the Vivian Home Demonstration Club in the home of Misses Myrtle and Naomi Fish. The definition given was as follows: Convenient — arrangement; complete equipment; comfortable to work in; colorful for enjoyment; cleanable; cupboard use; and communicative. The roll call was answered by the members with something planned for the kitchen. Some of the "bachelor" girls answered, "I don't have a kitchen." Visitors were Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. Jess Walling, Mrs. R. L. Walling and Miss Mary Wanda Lewis. The next meeting of the club will be held in the home of Miss Bernita Fish Thursday, March 31.

RIVERSIDE H. D. CLUB

The greatest inconvenience to be found in the storage space of most kitchens is that the shelves are too far apart and too wide, was one of the many facts learned by members of the Riverside Home Demonstration Club at the meeting in the home of Mrs. S. H. Hembree, March 8. In her demonstration on storage in the kitchen, the home demonstration agent, Miss Myrna Holman, demonstrated how the storage space in cabinets could be doubled by re-arranging the shelves or adding additional shelves. By putting partitions in the shelves very convenient individual storage spaces can be provided for lids, pie and cake pans, muffin pans, etc., which are usually all stored together, thereby making it difficult to quickly find the article desired. Storage space in drawers may be more than doubled by putting partitions in them. For example: sugar, flour and meal could be stored in the same drawer if partitioned. Partitions for the silverware drawer may be made at home or purchased for a small sum. They make it easy to keep the knives, forks, spoons, etc., separate, which saves much time as it is handier to reach in a partition and get the desired implement instead of hunting for them in a scrambled heap. There were eight members present. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Shirley McLarty, March 22, at 2 p. m., at which time a Texas program will be given with Mrs. S. H. Hembree as leader.

VIVIAN 4-H CLUB

"Why do chickens die?" asked Miss Myrna Holman, during the Vivian 4-H club meeting, at the Vivian school house at 10:30, March 10. Chickens die if they do not have a clean, dry, livable, with plenty of food and nesting devices. The club will meet again at school house on March 24.

WHY INSURE AGAINST HAIL?

- 1st. Statistics show that the hail loss to growing crops is several times greater than the fire hazard is to farm buildings.
2nd. Hail is purely a physical hazard and unlike the fire hazard no precaution can be taken or care exercised to minimize the risk.
3rd. Farming is no net profit; a small grain crop of $9,000.00 in value probably represents to the farmer when marketed not more than $500 to $1,000.00 in net profit, as the balance is necessarily expended in the purchase of machinery, harness, seed, hired help and the family living expenses from one fall to the next. A loss of the crop by hail means the loss, not only of the season's profit of $500 to $1,000.00, but the $1,000 or $1,200 or more represented by the season's outlay as well. As a business proposition it is more foolish for a farmer to be without hail insurance than it is for a merchant in town to be without fire protection, as vital business interests are endangered in either case.
