THEFT RING IN FOARD, WILBARGER AND HARDEMAN COUNTIES BELIEVED BROKEN BY OFFICERS WITH ARREST OF FOUR PERSONS

An organized merchandise theft and burglary ring, which has been operating in Foard, Wilbarger and Hardeaman counties, was exposed and believed to have been broken up this week as the result of continued investigations by Sheriff W. Lilly of Crowell, Sheriff Irlan Owens of Quanah and Sheriff Oran Key of Vernon, after the arrests of Willie Johnson, Ivin C. Kinard and Bill Brady last week in connection with burglaries at Crowell, Thalia, Ermon and Chillicothe.

"Fence" Believed Caught

A signed detailed statement from Johnson and Kinard, concerning nine burglaries in this section, involved and led to the arrest of a prominent Altus, Okla., business man, Hedley Abbott, hotel operator, last Friday. Abbott refused to waive extradition and has posted bonds totaling $6,500 to await an extradition hearing. Brady, who was arrested in Altus and is being held in jail there, also refused to waive extradition and the dates of the hearings have not yet been set.

District Attorney Jesse Owens Vernon stated that it is believed that Abbott acted as the "fence" for the ring, as it is thought he bought the loot stolen in the robberies and disposed of it.

Wilbarger Grand Jury Acts

Eighteen complaints have been filed against Johnson, Kinard and Brady in Foard, Wilbarger and Hardeaman counties, with one of them being filed in this county. Complaints were also filed here against two Altus grocers for receiving and concealing stolen goods.

Indictments charging burglary were returned against Johnson and Kinard by the Wilbarger grand jury which met Tuesday in connection with the robbery of a Long-Bell Lumber Co. in Vernon. In connection with the same case, indictments charging accomplices to burglary were voted against Abbott and Brady and Annie and Harvey Jones, who live on a small farm near Altus. Indictments for the six defendants on these indictments ranged from one to five years.

Boy Scout troops of the Crowell section, which includes those in Crowell, Thalia and Truscott, will participate for the first time in the Boy Scouts Anniversary Week, Feb. 8-14, during which time all troops in the nation will observe the organization's twenty-ninth birthday in the United States, according to a release by Scout Master Recie Womack.

Theme of Observance

The theme of this national observance is "Scouting Carries on American Ideals," and emphasizes three major points in the progress of a great nation.

First, loyalty to basic institutions: home, church and school. Second, faith in God and the great American principle of religious freedom. Third, recognition of the brotherhood of man, that knows no bounds of race or creed. Fourth, service, the keynote of participating citizenship. Fifth, high moral character, as patterned after the Scout oath and law.

Two Big Days Planned

In conjunction with the Anniversary Week program released for troops in the Northwest Texas Council, the troops of the Crowell section have planned two of the biggest programs ever to be staged in Crowell by a Boy Scout troop. Hardeman County to Get Deep Wildcat

A 4,000-foot wildcat test will be made in the southeast part of Hardeman County and will seek the production found in Foard and Wilbarger County pools to the east and south, according to an announcement made this week.

Norris-Gilbert Company of New York City has staked a location for its No. 1 V. H. Weekly ranch, in section 85, block 16, H. & T. C. survey, in the extreme southeast corner of the county. The location is 8 miles northwest of the Fluhman pool in Wilbarger and five miles northeast of the Thalia pool in Foard County.

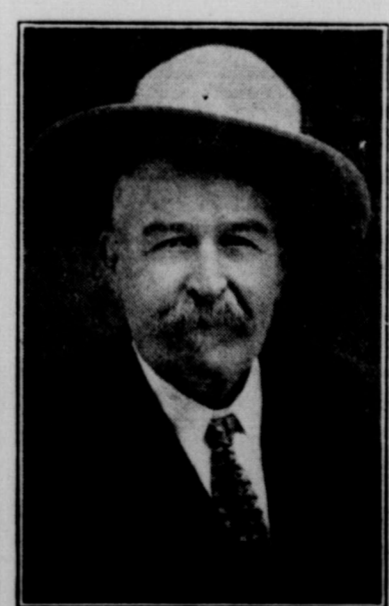

The location was made on the geology of Edwin S. Smith Jr., geologist for the company. Production in the Fluhman pool ranges from 200 to 500 barrels daily, from sands at 1,200 feet, 1,400 feet, 1,500 feet, 1,800 feet and 2,200 feet, and natural gas and oil is found in the Thalia field between 800 and 2,000 feet.

Other tests drilled in this same area have encountered large sand bodies, but all have been dry.

J. G. THOMPSON REGULAR SUBSCRIBER SINCE PAPER WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1891

J. G. THOMPSON

J. G. Thompson, who has made his home on the same farm he filed on when he came to this section in 1886, has been a regular subscriber to The Foard County News since it was started in 1891, almost 48 years ago. He also subscribed to the small sheet that was published during the election campaign to organize Foard County.

Mr. Thompson and his nephew, J. C. Thompson of Crowell, arrived on the east bank of Mule Creek east of Old Margaret Sept. 6, 1886. The creek was out of banks and it was not possible to cross with a wagon and team. They did manage to cross on foot by walking on drifts and visited Margaret which was a very nice western village at that time, county seat of Hardeman County. A newspaper was published in Margaret at that time.

During his life, Mr. Thompson has been both a farmer and carpenter. He worked on the first Foard County jail. Without moving, he has paid taxes on five court houses and four jails.

Although Mr. Thompson is in his 90th year, he is hale and hearty, but his vision in the past year has become so impaired he cannot see well enough to read.

SLOW STARTING IS OLD-FASHIONED Since Phillips 66 Came to Town

"WHAT A FUNNY LOOKING CAR" is the universal comment on any 1910 model. The gasoline of that era is just as funny, compared with today's.

Progress in motor car design has been more than matched by improvements in motor fuels. And one of the leaders among modern gasolines is today's high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

The fire alarm was given about 9 o'clock Saturday morning and the announcement was made that the residence of A. C. Gaines in the northeastern portion of town was on fire, but this proved to be a mistake, as it was a building just across the street, a residence in which Ransom Meadors and family reside. The fire was soon extinguished and the house saved from destruction. Late Sunday afternoon, after a high wind had blown up from the north, the old hanger back of Swaim's garage was discovered to be in flames and the fire department responded quickly to the call and soon had that one under control.

Christian Science Services

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 12.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us; this is the Lord" (Isaiah 25:9.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will walk before the Lord in the land of the living" (Psalms 116:9.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortality, exempt from age or decay, has a glory of its own,—the radiance of Soul. Immortal men and women are models of spiritual sense, drawn by perfect Mind and reflecting those higher conceptions of loveliness which transcend all material sense" (page 247.)

Goodyear Carrying on Cotton Research

An encouraging new year for the South is envisioned by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in a statement received from President P. W. Litchfield, this week by M. F. Crowell, Goodyear representative in Crowell.

Goodyear will consume something more than sixty million pounds of southern-grown cotton during the year, it was indicated. This figure is in substantial excess of the company's cotton consumption during 1938.

During the past year Goodyear has made remarkable progress in the development of improved cotton cord construction. These improvements have been in the direction of producing cord for tires which would afford longer tire wear through resistance to heat.

Already the company's four cotton textile mills in Alabama and Georgia have been converted over to the new type construction and tires produced from this fabric are showing substantially increased mileage over the older type of construction.

In its search for tire cord improvements, Goodyear has developed a new type of rayon cord called Rayotwist. This material has been used to a limited extent in the construction of tires for use under extreme conditions.

Trucking operations which call for heavy overloading and high sustained speed have been afforded increased tire mileage and safety through use of the Rayotwist tires. Cotton linters is one of the basic materials used in Rayotwist.

However, the market for these tires has been distinctly limited due to factors of cost and the fact that a vast majority of trucking operations are not sufficiently severe to call for the more expensive Rayotwist tires.

Meanwhile, Goodyear technical men are continuing their experiments with cotton cord construction looking toward an ultimate process which will meet the most severe requirements.

Increased shipments of crude rubber from the Orient into the port of Mobile, Alabama, will be made in 1939 for use in the Goodyear tire factory at Gadsden.

PULL YOUR TOWN TOGETHER

This is true about neighbors the world around you get along with them or you don't get along with them.

Look at your neighbor—even if he lives on the other side of town. Perhaps his name is unpronounceable, his language incomprehensible, his customs inexplicable, yet he is more like you than he is unlike you.

Civic-minded bodies, as Louis Adamie says, have done and can do much to bring together different national or racial groups in any community—in the New World or Old World.

County Welfare Worker

Q. What are the duties of a county welfare worker?

A. Since the duties of a county welfare worker are so many and varied, time and space will not permit a complete answer to this question.

The County welfare worker is authorized to take applications for WPA referral.

The County welfare worker is authorized to take applications for CCC enrollment.

The County welfare worker is authorized to take applications for assistance in the form of Federal Surplus Commodities.

The four programs outlined above are the outstanding programs now in effect by the Federal Government.

In this county we have a county-wide NYA project of which the county welfare worker is project superintendent and timekeeper.

There are so many duties that fall under the above headings that I will not try to enumerate them at this time.

I would like to add that your county welfare worker is your contact man with the assignment division and the social service department of WPA.

Present Activities of Relief Commission

During the year of 1938, an average of 3,519,164 pounds of surplus food commodities and an average of 433,561 clothing and household articles were distributed each month by the Commodity Distribution Department of the Texas Relief Commission.

During the year a total of 42,227,973 pounds of food stuffs and 5,202,734 clothing and household articles were distributed.

Two fundamental distribution rules have been rigidly maintained by the Texas Relief Commission: (1) That commodities should go only to persons certified by approved qualified caseworkers as eligible for public aid; and (2) that the commodities should be given to individuals in addition to, rather than in substitution for any other assistance available from Federal, State or local sources.

The everyday job of the Commodity Distribution Department is to furnish food and clothing to certified relief clients. However, as supplies of surplus commodities are on hand and as distribution machinery is available in all sections of the State, the Texas Relief Commission is in a strategic position for quick action in assisting victims of widespread disasters.

Coyotes Lose—

Coyote clash by a score of 47 to 18.

The Margaret all-stars used the sound strategy of throwing a strong defense under the basket and letting their opponents fire at the basket with long shots. Smooth passing and quick breaking plays paved the way for the majority of Margaret's points. Marvin Myers and Bernice Fitzgerald paced the Margaret team with 12 points each with C. Russell and Bell tallying 6 points each.

Too Much for Coyotes

The fast pace set by the Wildcats early and kept up throughout the fray was too much for the Coyotes and the type of basketball they used in defeating the Wildcats in their first meeting on the Wichita Falls court by a 20-19 score proved very ineffective because the Gravesmen made their breaks instead of waiting for them.

Much credit for the Coyotes' low score must go to Gafford, as his defensive playing stopped opponent's scoring attacks a large number of times, and it seems that he will have a berth with the team if he continues to turn in sparkling defensive games.

Paced by Owens and Gafford, the Crowell defense worked more smoothly than it has this year. Coyote sharpshooters were unable to do effective work under the basket and were forced to be contented with attempting field goals with long shots.

Tom Andrews, forward, was the spear head of Crowell attack during the first half, during which he registered 8 of his 10 points. In the last half, he turned those duties over to Owens, who performed very efficiently in the forward position, and he accounted for 12 of Crowell's points in the last half.

Crowell struck first to take a lead which was never threatened after the first few minutes of play, and the Wildcats continued to increase that lead until it was practically impossible for the Coyotes to overcome it. Late in the third frame, Crowell recorded its largest margin when the score stood at 31-7.

Coach Graves started sending his second string into the game early in the last quarter and soon had his entire second team on the floor. With two minutes to play, Coach A. D. Beck retaliated by placing his second string Coyotes in the game.

There were only 14 personal fouls recorded during the game. Nine were credited against Crowell and five against Wichita Falls.

Following the invocation, supper will be served to the Scouts and their fathers.

After supper the entire group will sing several numbers, after which the following games will be played, as are outlined in the Boy Scout handbook: whip to right, steal bacon, Indian hand wrestle and knot relay.

After another song, the following troops will present troop stunts: Thalia, Truscott, Crowell Baptist troop, Crowell Methodist troop, and the American Legion troop. First aid demonstration that will be given by members of the troop will include: use of knife, use of hatchet, bleeding, broken bone and drowning and artificial respiration.

A brief history of Scouting by a member of a Crowell troop will precede the principal talk of the evening, to be made by Chas. McDougal of Quannah, chairman of the Quannah district committee.

The scout oath by the Scouts and the Scout Master's benediction will conclude the observance by troops of the Crowell section of the twenty-ninth birthday of Scouting in the United States.

The week's program for the local Scouts was started with "Scouting 29th Birthday in America" Wednesday, Feb. 8, of which day the feature was an anniversary broadcast by the United States' most loyal Boy Scout worker, President Roosevelt, Walter Head and Dr. James E. West, over the National Broadcasting Company system at 9 p. m.

The remaining days and programs that will be observed by the Scouts are: Thursday, Feb. 9, "Citizenship Day," which day Scouts will wear their uniforms to school; Friday, Feb. 10, "Brotherhood Day," on which day Scouts will have an outdoor meeting at the City Park, one block south of the square; Saturday, Feb. 11, "Scout Service Day"; Monday, Feb. 13, "Scout Dedication Day."

Foard Grand Jury to Act

When the Foard County grand jury for the February term of district court convenes in Crowell Monday morning, ten complaints involving the same six persons indicted by the Wilbarger grand jury Tuesday in connection with burglaries at Crowell, Thalia and Margaret will be submitted for its consideration and examination.

Three of the complaints are against Abbott, Johnson and Brady in connection with the burglarizing of the WPA store house here. All four of the men are involved in complaints concerning the robbery of the Boman & Co. store at Margaret; the Stovall-Cates grocery at Thalia and the local West Texas Utilities Co. office in Crowell. Complaints against Lonnie and Harvey Jones, negroes, as having received and concealed stolen goods will also be submitted to the grand jury.

The four robberies named in the complaints occurred within only a few nights of each other. On the night of Dec. 31, 1938, the paint was stolen from the WPA store house. Then only five days later, on Jan. 5, 1939, the store at Margaret was robbed. On the night of Jan. 14, both the grocery at Thalia and the Utilities office in Crowell were burglarized.

Break Gives Lead

Local officials had been searching for Johnson for several days in connection with the robberies in this county but had been unable to make any headway until Saturday night, Jan. 28, when Kinard was arrested in Vernon for driving a car without license plates.

When officials went to Altus to investigate Kinard, they found and arrested Johnson. Later the signed statements were obtained from them that led to the arrest of the other two men.

Efforts Being Made to Legalize Horse Racing in Texas

Austin, Feb. 8.—Pierce Brooks, Dallas civic leader, in a speech delivered here today before a meeting of the League of Voters, discussed the proposal before the House to pay old age pensions and expressed surprise that a bill to legalize horse racing by local option had been introduced "so early during this session of the Legislature."

"There is a clear indication that this group means business, and are intent on bringing horse racing back to Texas. They plan to do so by passing a local option law, and later voting in the larger cities through their ring of gamblers located in the metropolitan areas. No one is opposed to the clean sport of horse racing, but the issue is, legalizing Pari-Mutual betting on races."

Brooks, recent candidate for Lieutenant Governor, stated that very little would be netted for tax purposes, "the old folks of Texas do not want money secured by gambling, and there is no way to legalize gambling. No one in Texas can hope to benefit materially except that group of Eastern racketeers working to bring Pari-Mutual horse racing back to Texas."

In his address he pointed out that in Dallas alone, during the last race meet, crime increased 20 per cent. After making a canvass of several hundred merchants in the larger cities of the state, it was found that 70 per cent of these merchants were opposed to horse racing, for the reason that over 85 per cent of the money placed on bets are made by those living within the state. Of this amount 50 per cent goes out of the state, Brooks stated.

The dog was the first domesticated animal. Birds have the keenest and most far sighted vision. A camel can outrun a horse after a distance of three miles. The eyes of a cat are forty times more sensitive to light than man's.

Our Weekly Sermon

(By Rev. Henry Ostrom, D. D., Extension Staff, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago)

Fear of God

Text—There is no fear of God before their eyes.—Romans 3:18. The word godliness is entirely too much in the air today. It suggests bravery, but is only a camouflaged flag for the cringing coward. It bursts, emitting a poisonous gas of conceit that makes one think of the fool, "Godless societies," "Godless Christmas," "Godless parades"—they suggest the insane if not the insane. "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Godliness is ignorance at the beginning, ignorance at the conclusion, and ignorance from first to last.

The verse at the head of this column is a record of human steps toward eternity. Read the Scripture passage that precedes the text and you will see that there is mention made of the feet and the way, and this accounts for the statement that the fear of God is not before men's eyes. We might have expected it to read that the fear of God is not in men's thoughts, or in men's hearts; but describing men as going step by step (and they can do no more), they lack this fear before their eyes in the journey. Thus they are seen lost and stumbling into utter ruin. It is a tragic lack. They may fear some of their fellow men, who may be dead in a minute, but they dare, they risk, they foolishly ignore, the fear of God.

Surely, the verse teaches that we should recognize a living, personal God. Only deadness would be before us if this were not so. No use to gaze upon His works and fail to look to Him above His works. Indeed, if we do not recognize Him we are stumbling in blindness without hope. One of the most wonderful things about the Bible is that it reveals throughout a personal God.

Entombed in a mine by an explosion, a miner is said to have declared a house fly saved him from madness or death. The buzz of the fly was the only token of real life the man could get in touch with until rescued. Ah, what wealth is this, to know that God is the living God! Great indeed is the value of life.

As surely this verse teaches that man must reckon with God. It forbids our being so occupied with our own affairs that we forget the living God. It is the living God! Great indeed is the value of life.

LIBROS DE ESPANOL

The usual greeting of most of the Spanish students is, "Have you finished your Spanish scrapbook yet?" The general answer is, "No, we have not."

It seems that before we pass his semester in Spanish, we must have a project for each six-weeks. This time most of us have chosen to make wooden scrapbooks and we are using them. We really didn't know what we were getting into. These scrap books are made of three-ply wood. Some times they are varnished but mostly they are left their natural color. They are held together by tiny brass hinges on the front and tied together with leather shoe strings. At the top of the front is the word Espanol, meaning Spanish, of course, and this is painted on or some times burnt in. Gay Mexican figures decorate, or will decorate the front.

These notebooks will be quite attractive when they are finished (mind you when they are finished.) Inside goes the regular notebook made up of pictures and clippings. If you see some Spanish student moping around because they haven't got their scrapbook finished, just give him a cheery look and have patience. It won't last forever.

THE EARLY BIRD

Benjamin Franklin once said, "He who rises late may trot all day and not overtake his business at night." Several students of CHS could well take this little saying to heart.

More and more it is found to be true as the time lessens until May 30th—beginning of final exams—that those who rise late may trot well into summer and maybe not fall before he overtakes his business—that of getting his school work in to make up the E or I.

Too many of us have the following attitude concerning our studies: Every night I make up my mind to rise early the next morning, but every morning make up my body to lie still.

When the morning comes will you be the one that makes up your mind to lie still and drag through the day hoping to get by until night, or will you be the one who has the attitude of Lord Chamberlain, "If you do not rise early you can make progress in nothing?"

We could well hear another saying of Franklin and apply it to our school work: "The early morning hath gold in the mouth." Or as Mr. Graves would say, "Hoe your row to the end, and if you haven't yet started your row you'll have to start it now and work fast, if you expect to finish it with the others."

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

At a Senior class meeting Monday noon, it was decided that the school would reserve Thursday afternoon for the Senior day before the final exam.

After having a long discussion the seniors decided not to go either to Yellowstone National Park or Colorado, because of the weather conditions in that certain part of the United States.

In the same meeting it was left up to the Seniors to go either to Carlsbad Cavern, Oklahoma or Galveston. I believe the majority will vote on going to Galveston bay, after visiting Austin, Houston and San Antonio, unless something extraordinary turns up.

This trip will be of great interest to the majority of the seniors, as most of them have never been far away from home, or have never gone to the southern part of Texas.

Here is hoping that they decide at last to go to Galveston and visit on the way those other cities, as every High School student in the State of Texas should know more about the state where he lives, and perhaps for some, this will be the only chance.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The issue between a sales tax and increased levies on natural resources was clearly drawn this week, as the House taxation and revenue committee began preliminary arrangements to start hearings on various tax bills.

The week has brought distinct changes in the tax battle, and the atmosphere, clouded for the first few weeks of the session by conflicting interests, seems gradually to be clearing up.

Most important development appears to observers of the situation here to be distinct weakening of the strong position which the sales tax element maneuvered themselves into immediately after the session opened, through the introduction of the O'Daniel transaction tax bill.

The purpose of this bill apparently was to make a sales tax look so good by comparison that it would be submitted without strong resistance. The strategy apparently worked fine at first. Now it seems to have proved a boomerang, and the sales tax tanks are shaken badly by the reaction.

Overplayed Their Hand

The big interests which want a sales tax overplayed their hand by exercising it with different studies.

There are more men ennobled by study, than by nature.

You are to come to your study as to the table, with a sharp appetite, whereby that which you read may the better digest. He that has no stomach to his book will very hardly thrive upon it.

Mankind has a great aversion to intellectual labor, but, ever supposing knowledge to be easily attainable, more people would be content to be ignorant than would take even a little trouble to acquire it.

MISS PATTERSON ILL

This week the Future Homemakers of Texas are missing their most efficient adviser, Miss Patterson. Miss Patterson is in the Knox City hospital. We sincerely wish Miss Patterson a speedy recovery.

RESULTS OF WACO TOURNEY

The all important event, the Waco tournament, held good results for the Crowell Debate Club. Friday morning, very early, the eight debaters were up and ready to travel. Mrs. I. T. Graves and Hubert Brown accompanied the club. Besides learning the question that is being debated this year inside and out, they had a genuine good time. H. C. Brown and A. Y. Olds won two debates. Daphn McClure and Dorothy Flesher, Verne Joy and Frances Johnson, and Chippie Griffin and Joe Wallace Beverly won a debate for each team. This record is exceptionally good. They debated among 150 large schools from all over the state of Texas. Sunday night a tired but happy Debate Club returned to the realms of CHS.

PUBLIC DEBATE HELD

The Crowell debate club debated for the public on the question "Should a Uniform Retail Sales Tax Be Adopted in Texas?" Wednesday night.

Mr. Sandifer so graciously rewarded the debaters. H. C. Brown and A. Y. Olds were given $3.75 for winning the boys' debate. Frances Johnson and Verne Joy were given $3.75 for winning the girls' debate. Daphn McClure and Dorothy Flesher and Joe Wallace Beverly and Chippie Griffin were given $2.50 for the effort and hard work put out.

Mr. Sandifer was overjoyed with the results of the contest. His statement he congratulated all the debaters on the excellent work they had done. He spoke to let the high school pupils know the advantage of being able to face the public with something to say.

FHT DISTRICT MEETING HELD IN CROWELL

Girls from Chillicothe, Quana, Vernon, King's High, Harrold and Crowell, attended the yearly district meeting of all the FHT Clubs of Area Two, Saturday, Feb. 4.

Miss Ruth Patterson, sponsor of the Crowell club was ill and unable to attend the meeting. Her duties were carried on by Miss Thelma White, Miss Florence Black and Margaret Long.

Mr. Graves welcomed all the clubs to our town. Rev. E. L. Yeats gave an interesting and helpful talk on "How to Spend Your Leisure Time." Numbers were given by Quana, Vernon, Chillicothe and Crowell clubs. A play was given by Vernon; songs were given by the other three clubs.

At the noon hour, Margaret Long, Crowell president, entertained the visiting presidents.

After lunch, group singing was held with Fay Zeibig as leader. Margaret Long presided during the business session, and it was decided that the next district meeting would be held in Vernon.

A tea was served by the Crowell club to bid members of the visiting clubs goodbye.

proposal stirred up the people to such an extent that they began to examine into the effects not only of a transactions tax, but also into a sales tax.

Exposure of the process by which the sales tax unloads the burden upon the merchant and the consumer has spread like wildfire, through newspapers and by word of mouth, and reports here of an aroused populace have the sales taxers so worried that at the week-end their leaders were extremely dubious about submitting the measure to the people at any near date.

Meanwhile, those forces in the House who do not believe that the "little" people should shoulder the burden of a $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 additional tax load to pay pensions or for any other purpose, popped three bills into the House hopper. Two of them propose hikes in the natural resources tax rates, including oil, gas and sulphur. One by Albert Derden of Marlin, would raise $24,000,000 annually. Another bill by G. C. Morris of Greenville, proposes similar increases, but more moderate in percentage, and would raise about $16,000,000. Particularly significant was the fact that 44 house members signed Morris' bill with the author.

It would take 100 votes to submit a constitutional amendment calling for a sales tax. This indicates that at least 45 House members prefer to tax the big interests before resorting to a tax on poverty. If the resources group can recruit 6 additional votes—and it appears reasonable that they can—there is little prospect of getting the sales tax submitted by the House. Both the Derden and Morris proposals are coupled with liberalized pension measures. Derden proposing to pay $15 to all over 65, while Morris would apply the O'Daniel plan of paying enough to make up a $30 minimum income for everybody over 65, including all sources. Derden's bill would also kick the cigarette tax up a penny a pack, from 4 to 5 cents.

The transactions tax, as such, is apparently dead beyond recall. Despite the plea of the governor for help from the "plain common citizens" on the radio Sunday, when he urged them to write the representatives in favor of his bill, the massed opposition of consumers, merchants, farmers, labor, and virtually every business interest in Texas—including those large interests who dictated the writing of O'Daniel's bill—is much too strong. The newest groups to take the field against it, and against the sales tax for which it was made a stalking horse, include organized labor and farmers' organizations. Heads of the unions and of five statewide farmers' organizations this week were planning conferences in Austin to consider the transaction tax.

Meanwhile, those forces in the House who do not believe that the "little" people should shoulder the burden of a $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 additional tax load to pay pensions or for any other purpose, popped three bills into the House hopper.

Economy Signs Gratifying

Meanwhile, there were indications that the great volume of talk about economy might be productive of results. The Legislature ducked the problem of deciding whether Elster M. Haile lives in Texas or Kansas, by abolishing the office of State Tax Commissioner, to which O'Daniel had nominated him, at a saving of $50,000 a year. The Railroad Commission, through efforts of Ernest Thompson and Jerry Sadler, cut 56 employees permanently off its payroll, saving $150,000 a year, and was congratulated by resolutions adopted by both houses. The Senate quickly passed O'Daniel's emergency recommendation for placing appointment and control of the state auditor under the Legislature, a reform which students of government have urged for years. The week-end saw many guesses, but no certainty, about whom O'Daniel would name Highway Commissioner, following the Senate's action in rejecting by a vote of 16 to 12, the name of Carr P. Collins. E. B. Germany of Dallas, R. L. Lucas of Tyler, County Commissioner Mills of Port Arthur, Charles Ashcroft of Sulphur Springs, Ex. Lt. Gov. Walter Woodluff of Houston, and several others were mentioned. Nobody knew, and the governor was keeping his counsel. The nomination probably will be a surprise.

Austin Notes

Prompt Senate action on a bill passed by the House as an emergency, to permit the borrowing of $900,000 to prevent cutting pension payments next month, was expected. The bill also authorized refunding of a balance of $1,300,000 of a previous three million dollar borrow for pensions. . . . Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president-elect of Texas University, who takes over next June, visited Austin and conferred with the regents. Through this column, he thanked thousands of Texans who have written him congratulations and best wishes on his new job. . . . Strong opposition to the plan of some Texas county judges to raid the County Road Bond Indebtedness Fund for nearly $200,000,000 by having the board take over retirement county bonds used to build lateral roads, followed the statement of Lowry Martin, Corsicana publisher, and president of the Texas Good Roads Ass'n, in condemning the measure. Martin proposed a substitute, under which the counties would be repaid in cash, out of the surplus in the fund, for payments they had to make in the early years of its operation on bonds spent on roads that are now State Highways, when the income wasn't sufficient to meet these payments in full. . . . Speaking of Clover

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Ass'n.

We remarked once before that there's good luck in a four-leaf clover or any other sort if there's enough of it. The Southwest has been dilatory in adopting clover, but is stepping into its use at a rapid rate in recent years. The increased production of livestock and poultry on farms demands more legumes for grazing and hay, as well as for soil improvement, and there is scarcely a section for which there is not one or more sorts of clover available.

While it is generally preferable to sow the clovers early in fall, some of them are equally or better adapted to spring sowing. Since all clovers and small seeded grasses require a well-settled, firm seedbed, for good germination, the preparation for spring sowing must begin several weeks before seeding time.

Sweet clover is one of the most widely adapted in the Southwest and the best time for seeding either alone or on winter grain, ranges from the middle of February to the middle of March. If it or alfalfa has not been grown on the field before the seed should be inoculated. Standard inoculants may be bought in all good seed stores, and directions should be carefully followed.

A successful practice is to drill the sweet clover seed cross-wise of newly drilled-in spring oats or barley; or it may be drilled in lightly on fall-sown oats or barley. In either case the grain serves as a nurse crop, and the clover makes its growth after grain harvest.

Biennial sweet clover should be granted the 30-day stay of execution to arouse public opinion, against the death penalty, and to "keep blood off his own hands" raised a question of whether, in order to ease his own conscience of the burden of having any part in the execution of any criminal, the Governor intends to torture every criminal sentenced during the next two years by staying each execution for 30 days. . . . Rail Commissioner Ernest Thompson forgot official duties and politics for a week, and raised $30,000 for the President's infantile paralysis fund, in a vigorous campaign among Austin folk, which he directed.

not be sown on land where cotton dies with root rot, as the stand will be depleted before the clover makes seed. Hubam (annual white sweet clover) sown the first year and is being used successfully in the Texas blacklands where cotton root rot occurs.

Lespedeza is another legume with a wide adaptation throughout the more humid portions of the Southwest, especially on sandy soils, and is also sown in the spring. It supplies good summer pasture and with fertile soil and good rainfall grows high enough to cut for hay.

New strains, Tennessee 75, Korean, and Kobe Lespedeza, introduced in recent years with remarkable success in some sections, have not been widely enough tried in the Southwest to determine their value and special adaptability, but where they succeed they make heavier yields than the common Lespedeza. Kobe is doing well in deep East Texas and Arkansas, however.

Alfalfa is of course the king of all legume forage plants, and while it is usually better to sow it in fall in this region, it can be sown like sweet clover on ground that is not foul with early-growing weeds. In its seedling stage alfalfa cannot compete with grass or weeds, but if it gets a good start, the competing growth can be held down by mowing.

Looking ahead to next fall it is not too early to plan a field so that the summer crop will be out of the way and the ground in condition for sowing alfalfa or some other clover in September or October.

"In clover" is a common phrase for good living in either man or beast. Let's "cloverize" for the livestock as a means of putting their owners also "in clover."

BORN: Light . . . Sired by Private Initiative and Inventive Genius

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

EDISON
 born Feb. 11, 1847

Q. Who invented the first electric light bulb?
 A. Thomas Alva Edison, now known as "the Wizard of Menlo Park."

Q. Was he ever assisted by governmental subsidies during the many long years he worked to perfect electric lights?
 A. No. Electric light is the result of private initiative and inventive genius on the part of a man who sought to make the world a better place in which to live.

Q. Did he succeed in doing that?
 A. Yes. Other individuals took up where he left off . . . constantly improving the light bulb Edison invented. Private industry, bent on spreading the use of GOOD LIGHT into every home in the land, learned how to manufacture the bulb more cheaply and efficiently.

Q. Whose money made this possible?
 A. Private citizens invested their money in the electric industry, thus making it possible to carry on the research that led to present-day low rates for light and power. West Texas, along with the entire country, has profited from the investment of private funds which now provide not only good light but contribute to the support of whole communities through employment of thousands of men and women and through payment of huge sums in taxes.

Q. Then Edison's invention has had far-reaching benefits for all?
 A. Yes. He—of all men—left the world a better place!

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown Celebrated at Home Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Tuesday at their home with four of their children, five grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and a few friends as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married on Feb. 7, 1889, at Howe, Grayson County. They resided in Grayson County for five years, then moved to Wolf Ridge, Cooke County, where they lived for five years. They came to Foard County in 1899, and established their home on a farm in the southeast part of the county. There they lived until about twenty years ago when they moved to Crowell to the place where they now reside. Mr. Brown has been active in farming until the past few years and still retains his farm. The couple have been identified as active members of the Methodist Church during their married life.

At the celebration on Tuesday an elaborate dinner was served at noon. The dining table had a white lace cover and the centerpiece was a pretty three-tiered wedding cake, white with the inscription in gold, "1889 to 1939." Mrs. Brown cut the cake, which was served as part of the dessert course. She was assisted in the entertainment features by the daughters and daughters-in-law present. Those present for the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Brown, four of their six children, with their wives and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Thorny Cates, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith; five grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Cates, Mrs. Avis Whitman, Hubert Carl Brown, Jay Don Brown and V. A. Smith; six great grandchildren, Dwane Cates, J. M. Cates, Jerry Cates, Rufus Whitman and Gayland Whitman; friends, Mrs. Steve Bell, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Benham, Mrs. Mack Cates, Mrs. W. W. Kinsey, Mrs. Bertha Shultz, Mrs. Henry Hayes and Mrs. Pets Bell. A number of friends called during the afternoon, including Mrs. Jim Cook, Mrs. Jim Cates and son, Jimmy Tom, Mrs. M. L. Hughton and Marian and Marilyn Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown received a number of nice anniversary gifts. Other than the four children who were present, there are two who were unable to come, Rae Brown and Travis Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Rae Brown and their three children, J. Rae, H. M. and Virginia Ellen, reside in Fort Sumner, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Brown and two sons, Ray Allen and Billy Travis, live in Altamont, Ill.

Four generations were represented in the family gathering. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Thorny Cates, Mrs. Avis Whitman and Rufus Whitman.

Selected by School As Representative to D. A. R. Congress

Miss Marjorie Ann Cope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cope of Odessa, former Crowell resident, has the honor of being selected by the Odessa High School faculty as that city's representative to the D. A. R. Congress in Washington, D. C. Miss Cope has yet to pass two more selective groups.

The Odessa High School sponsors a 2 weeks all-expense trip to Washington the first of June each year to ten highest ranking seniors and ten juniors.

The following item concerning Miss Cope's selection is taken from the Odessa News-Times:

Marjorie Ann Cope, 17-year-old Odessa High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cope, 600 North Grant Avenue, will be this city's representative in Washington, D. C., if she is successful in getting by two more selective groups.

Her name was chosen from a list of three senior girls this morning at a faculty meeting at the high school. Miss Cope, Miss Lemmah Anderson and Miss Donnie Purkey were chosen by the junior and senior classes as being the high school's most representative girls.

The classes were asked to select three girls from the senior class, the names to be submitted to the faculty for final choice.

Miss Cope, blond and blue-eyed, most successfully got by two more selective bodies before she can represent Texas at the Washington conference. While the selection here was made on a basis of merit, the two she must go through in the future, at Alpine and Austin, will be a matter of luck.

Her name, along with the names of other representatives from each school in this district, will be "pulled out of a hat" at Alpine. Whoever wins at Alpine must still be lucky in Austin.

There will be 24 names in the hat in Austin. The winner gets the trip.

The trip is awarded a school class each state, in the union every year by the D. A. R. Forty-eight girls are given an all-expense, several days' visit in the nation's capital.

Texas' winner last year came from this district, a Fabens girl, winning.

President Cemetery Association Urges More Co-operation

The following report concerning the condition of the Crowell Cemetery is given by Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president:

It was in September that the services of the sexton were discontinued at the cemetery, but with the arrival of Spring, he should be employed again on full time. He went on regular duty March 1. Last year we acquired some permanent improvements, for which all are justly proud. Whoever dreamed that some day there would be a paved road from town to the very gates of the cemetery, and then by private donations of labor and funds, a gravel road passing through the cemetery from the south gate to the east? A new water line has been run from the center south.

Many other improvements are needed, chief of which is better living quarters for the sexton. But most of all, we want to keep our sexton on full time. He has lots of acres to keep, and must be continually going over the ground in the growing season. Without the help of his family this would be almost an impossible task.

The worries and woes of the care of the Crowell Cemetery falls on the shoulders of a few women, and there are times when we become almost desperate in our efforts. Mr. Womack takes care of many of our problems. We must guard our funds with miserly vigilance. All we have is from lot sales and private donations. With a burial ground as old as ours, most families have long ago bought their lots on lots and the money went at that time for upkeep.

Since the middle of November we have received from:

Tom Patton $1.00
W. F. Hlavaty 2.00
Mrs. Winnie Brown 1.00
Mrs. G. W. Walthall 1.00
Mrs. Sudie Bradford 1.00

It will soon be time for our annual business meeting when all interested friends are invited to come and bring their helpful suggestions. These meetings are advertised weeks ahead and we usually have from 4 to 6 present. In the meantime, we hope some master mind will figure out some way to finance our cemetery.

CROWELL WINS SECOND FROM CHILLICOTHE

Smooth Working Local Quintets Register 40-27 Victory

In their second meeting with the Eagles in Chillicothe Wednesday night, Coach Graves' Crowell Wildcats registered their second top-heavy victory over their feathered foes, this time by a score of 40 to 27 in a non-conference game.

Backed by strong defensive play which was displayed in the Wichita Falls game here Tuesday night, Crowell's offense was able to settle down to work smoothly and efficiently without having to be worried by their opponent's staging a scoring spree.

Ed Gafford, playing his second game with the Wildcats, again showed himself as an outstanding defensive player and was one of the stars of Crowell's defense, although his play is not yet as polished as his team mates.

With the defense stopping the Eagle sharpshooters J. S. Owens, Leonard Smith and Jack Fitzgerald were able to break through the eagles to take their place as leading scorers of the game. Johnson led the Eagles with 9 points, and Graf was second with 8.

Following the game between the first strings, the second teams of the two schools squared off for a bout, of which Crowell was the victor by a 14-9 score.

H. C. Brown was high point man for the Crowell second stringers with 4 points and Jimmie Williams, Junior Haseloff, Frank Dunn, Ted Crossnoe and Que Meason registered two points each.

JULIA SMITH

LIBRARY NOTES

"The U. P. Trail," by Zane Grey is the story of the building of the Union Pacific Railroad with a love story interwoven.

A young girl in her teens is the only one to escape a Sioux Indian massacre on the far western plains. She is found, half dead, by a young construction engineer, and when brought to consciousness is found to be insane from the horrors she has experienced. Neale brings Allie back to sanity by will power and love. There follows a thrilling chain of adventure among gamblers, Indians and plainsmen, which reach their climax just as the first train crosses the continent.

"The U. P. Trail" has recently been added to the large selection of Zane Grey books already in the library.

"Speaking parts will be taken by leading speech students under the direction of Mrs. Myrtle Hardy of the College speech faculty. The Indian ballet and play party dances have been planned by Miss Donnie Cotterell of the physical education department. The entire opera is under the musical direction of Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, head of the College music department.

"Plans for a gala opening are under way at N. T. S. T. C., which is Miss Smith's alma mater. Faculty and students will bring out "tuxes" and tails to honor their distinguished alumna - composer and to greet a distinguished guest list which includes state music critics, musicians, legislators, surviving members of the Parker family.

"Julia Smith, the composer, now makes her home in New York City, where she holds a Juilliard fellowship in composition. Following the premiere in Denton, "Cynthia Parker" will have at least two performances this winter by the Juilliard School of Music in New York City."
