Extension Service Birthday Program Is Held Saturday

A program in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Extension Service, which was established with the passage of the Smith-Lever Act by Congress in May, 1914, was held in Crowell Saturday.

The program was opened with a parade of 4-H Club members of the county and two floats from Home Demonstration Clubs. One was a model farm layout displayed by the Foard City Home Demonstration Club, the second was a display of native shrubs and flowers of the Riverside community exhibited by the Home Demonstration Club of that community.

The welcome address was given by Judge Claude Callaway after a concert by the Crowell band playing under the direction of Arnold Rucker.

The first address of the program was given by Leslie Thomas who discussed "Milestones Along the Extension Highway."

In relating the story of demonstration work in Texas, County Agent John Nagy told of the first demonstration carried on in Texas and showed the effectiveness of teaching by referring to a quotation of Dr. Seaman A. Knapp: "We find the kernel of agricultural extension work in: what a man hears, he may doubt, what a (Continued on Page Five)

GROWTH OF FIELD BINDWEED BECOMES SERIOUS; CONTROL STEPS SHOULD BE TAKEN NOW

The field bindweed, commonly known as the "possession" weed in Foard County, is prevalent in the tight land sections of the county, although the growth of the weed is slight in sandy land, according to a report by County Agent John Nagy, following a survey.

The growth of the weed is rapidly spreading and steps should be taken now to check its growth. The bindweed is a dangerous and destructive weed and some farms of the West are so completely overgrown with the weed that crops can be produced only by the expenditure of much additional labor, without which greatly reduced yields are obtained.

It is feared that if steps are not taken to control the bindweed now it will become one of the farmers' greatest problems, and for that reason the following information concerning the bindweed and its control has been released by County Agent Nagy.

Description and Habits
Field bindweed is a long-lived perennial belonging to the morning glory family. It can be distinguished by its small bell-shaped flowers which are scarcely half as large as those of the common morning glory and which range in color from pure white, or slightly tinged with pink, to almost pure pink. The leaves vary in size and shape, but are usually small, somewhat arrow-shaped, and blunt or rounded at the tip. The plant produces a trailing or twining growth of vines which climb up any support, such as weeds and stems of crop plants.

Prevention is the most important consideration where the land is free from the weed, as it is easier to prevent the weed's getting a start than to eradicate it on the farm. All crop seed should be tested for purity before planting. Care should also be taken to avoid bringing feed grain, roughage, or manure to the farm from areas that are infested and to prevent the introduction of hte weed by any other means by which it may be spread. Eternal vigilance is the price of success in keeping the farm free from bindweed.

As soon as a plant or patch is found, its location should be conspicuously marked and the infested area isolated. This area should not be cultivated with the remainder of hte field on account of the danger of spreading the weed. Small patches can be killed with relatively little trouble and expense.

MEMBERS OF FOARD COUNTY SOIL ADVISORY COMMITTEE ELECTED AT LANDOWNERS MEETING MON.

A meeting of the landowners of Foard County was held in the district court room in Crowell Monday afternoon for the purpose of electing a County Soil Advisory Committee in compliance with the order of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel commanding the commissioners to call this meeting. The Soil Advisory Committee consists of four landowners, one elected from each of the four commissioner's precincts.

The meeting was opened by Judge Claude Callaway, who explained the purpose of the meeting, which was then turned over to County Agent John Nagy. Mr. Nagy presided at the meeting and had arranged for Weldon P. Herman, administrative assistant, to explain the State Soil Conservation law.

This law provides that a meeting be held in each precinct and be presided over by the respective commissioner, and the purpose of the precinct meeting was to elect a landowner as a member of the County Soil Advisory Committee.

The meeting in precinct No. 1 was presided over by Commissioner R. F. Cates and L. H. Williams was elected as a member of the advisory committee. Commissioner E. G. Grimsley presided over the meeting in precinct No. 2, at which W. A. Dunn was elected to the committee. T. F. Welch was chosen as a member of the committee at the meeting in precinct No. 3, over which Commissioner A. L. Davis presided. In precinct No. 4, Commissioner Hartley Easley presided at the meeting and Allen Fish was elected.

After the four precinct meetings had adjourned the chairman of each precinct had certified the name of member elected to the advisory committee, it was found that all four of the members were present and they immediately held the first meeting of the Foard County Soil Advisory Committee.

At this meeting L. H. Williams was elected chairman of the committee, and W. A. Dunn was selected as Foard County's delegate to the District One meeting to be held in Plainview on Monday, May 22.

The Plainview meeting will be held for the purpose of electing a landowner from this section as a member of the State Soil Conservation Board.

Former Crowell Resident Dies in Vernon Wed.

M. L. Bird, 73, former Crowell resident, died at his home in Vernon Wednesday morning at 12:45 following a long illness, although his condition had not been critical for only about two weeks.

Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the Underwood Funeral Home in Vernon this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with interment in the East View Memorial Park.

Survivors are his widow and three sons, Phillip Bird of Vernon, Douglas and Woodrow Bird of Oakland, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Laura McCowan of Waco and Mrs. Alice Stevens of Oxford, Calif.; and one brother, Andrew J. Bird, of Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bird and Woodrow Bird arrived Monday night from Oakland after being notified of Mr. Bird's serious condition.

Mr. Bird was born Aug. 9, 1865, near Waco, Texas, and he was reared in that vicinity. During his young manhood he attended Baylor University at Waco, which was then known as Baylor College. He was married to Miss Mary Wilson of Corsicana on Nov. 28, 1906.

Mr. and Mrs. Bird moved to Crowell in 1908 where he engaged in the real estate business, being manager of the Crowell Development Co. In 1920 the family moved to Vernon at which time Mr. Bird bought the Bird Hotel which he operated for a number of years. He was also interested in the real estate, insurance and oil business for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Bird moved back to Crowell in 1930 and lived on their farm just east of Crowell until 1937 when they again took up their residence in Vernon.

OVER TWO INCHES OF RAIN RECORDED HERE FRIDAY NIGHT AND MONDAY; DROUTH BROKEN

Two and one-tenth inches of rain fell in Foard County Friday night and Monday night to break a short drouth that was damaging wheat and other crops severely.

It was estimated that the .75-inch rain which fell Friday night added wheat in the county, as a whole, from fifty per cent upward, and the 1.35 inch rain of Monday night insured enough moisture to carry the wheat to maturity.

The above measurements are those taken at the Crowell State Bank and although the rains were general over the county the amount varied considerably in the different sections. Rain reports from over the county varied from less than a half inch to three inches and the northern section of the county appears to have received the most moisture.

The rains greatly benefited young feed crops and gave a good season for crops yet to be planted.

Bone Found Near Thalia Believed of Prehistoric Animal

A bone, believed to have been a shoulder joint of a prehistoric animal, was brought to Crowell last Saturday by Lee Whitman of Thalia, and the bone is now on display with other museum pieces at the Self Motor Company.

Mr. Whitman found the bone on his farm about five miles south of Thalia. He stated that years of soil erosion had uncovered a part of the bone and he accidentally saw it and uncovered it. The discovery was made several days ago. This is the second such bone Mr. Whitman has found on his farm, the first being found several years ago near the same spot the last bone was found.

The joint weighed 11 pounds and measured 11 inches around the largest part, of which a section was missing. The bone was about 15 inches in length.

Summer Projects Are Planned By Crowell VA Boys

With the 1938-39 school term in its last days, several members of the Vocational Agriculture classes of Crowell High School have announced their plans for carrying on F. F. A. projects during the summer months, according to a report from Marvin L. Myers, chapter adviser.

Mr. Myers stated that the boys were determined to carry on a better project program during the coming year than they did during the past.

The boys plan to start about seventeen baby beef calves and fifteen pigs for pork production on feed some time during the summer vacation months. The boys also plan to start their livestock feeding early in order that they might develop a well-finished animal that can compete with any competition that may be found in other counties of this section.

The following projects, to be carried on during the summer months, are being planned by the boys: three sows for pig production; 445 hens for egg production; seventy-five baby chicks; and 150 turkeys.

Housewives of This Vicinity Can Participate in P. & G.-Serval Electrolux Nation-Wide Contest

Anticipating an enthusiastic participation by the housewives of Crowell and vicinity in a popular nation-wide contest featuring the awarding of 360 deluxe gas kerosene refrigerators to winners, W. R. Womack will collaborate with the sponsors of the competition which will last from May 22 to July 2, it was announced by Mr. Womack, local Serval Electrolux dealer. A total of 12 refrigerators a day will be awarded during the period of the contest.

"With the rules of the contest so simple, with the task of writing the short 25 word sentences so easy, and with the rewards so gratifying, we feel that the housewives in this vicinity will be eager to join in a competition where they will stand a good chance of winning one of the 'Duchess' model Serval Electrolux refrigerators which are offered to successful contestants," Mr. Womack stated.

"The enthusiasm with which a similar contest held a year ago was greeted by women all over the United States is an indication of the ever-growing desire for modern refrigeration in the household, and therefore, our company is happy to announce its co-operation in making the contest even more successful than that of last year.

"Consequently, our company invites those who wish to enter the contest this year, to call at our salesrooms where they will receive courteous attention and where they will receive complete information regarding the details of the competition. We will also supply entry blanks to all applicants.

"No one need hesitate to enter the contest, as by so doing the entrant has an opportunity to win a refrigerator, and it goes without saying that our company will be only too gratified if among the 360 winners, one or more of the contestants is a resident of this community.

"To win a refrigerator, no high literary abilities are required, nor does one have a particular aptitude for writing. In fact, just a concise, spontaneous expression of thought put in the simplest kind of language may result in winning a refrigerator.

"The contest will be conducted by Procter and Gamble, the well-known soap manufacturing concern, in collaboration with Serval, Inc., makers of the famous Serval Electrolux, the refrigerator with a freezing system that has no moving parts, thus assuring permanent silence, continued low operating costs, more years of service and savings that pay for it.

"The competition is part of Procter and Gamble's popular 'Guiding Light' program which will be broadcast over an NBC coast-to-coast network every afternoon from May 22 to July 2, inclusive. On each of these days, excepting Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, twelve refrigerators will be offered to successful contestants.

"Those entering the contest are invited to submit a statement of twenty-five words or less to complete the sentence: 'I like P & G White Uapthra Soap because'. The sentences will be judged for their originality, sincerity and conciseness of thought. The refrigerators will go to those who are considered the best writers of the sentence."

ELECTRA'S EIGHTH ANNUAL RODEO MAY 19-20-21 Fri. 8 p. m. - Sat. & Sun. 2 p. m. FEATURE ACTS WORLD CHAMPION COWBOYS

Crowell, Texas, May 18, 1939

Seek the Lord, and his strength; seek his face evermore. Remember his marvelous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgment of his mouth.—Psalms 105:4-5.

It is reported that Stalin, dictator of Russia, has caused the execution of many of his best trained army men, and that the Russian army now has no leadership with a better than eighth grade education.

Col. Lindbergh's suggestion that America should first devote its attention and energy toward perfecting and improving its planes, and leave mass production until later, is sound.

The attention of those who think that no foreign power can establish a base in this country from which to conduct military operations is called to the fact that Mexico, our neighbor on the south, is shipping a million barrels of oil a month to Japan and Germany, oil that was taken from American oil companies in Mexico, seized by the Mexican government.

Organized crime has met its Waterloo in men like Thomas Dewey and J. Edgar Hoover. America owes much to these men and the organization they represent.

Electra's Eighth Annual Three-Day Rodeo Opens Friday

Electra's big celebration opens this year on Friday, May 19, and the feature entertainment is really going to blow the lid off, according to reports.

Starting Friday afternoon with an all-round safety and first aid program with U. S. Bureau of Mines and Texas Company safety trucks and equipment, the three days are full of fun and frolic.

Opening rodeo performance is under the lights at 8 p. m., Friday night. World's champion cowboys are entered in the events of steer riding, bronc riding, bull wrestling and calf roping.

Saturday at 10 a. m. is the hour for the big parade with bands, floats, bathing girls, oil equipment and old style horse and buggy equipment.

Sunday, visitors' day, will be the day of championship contests at the rodeo grounds. Clyde Birk, Geo. Yardley, Bill Hancock and Jonas DeArman, all world's champion cowboys, will contest for the prize purses.

Margaret Rasmussen of Greeley, Colo., is paying her way through college by raising blooded cattle from original stock which she purchased with $75 won in an essay contest.

Acute Problems Give Emphasis To Cotton Week

Cotton Belt states and communities are uniting this month in a challenging campaign unprecedented in the annals of American cotton-growing history to promote greater consumption of cotton products through National Cotton Week, May 22 to 27.

Backed solidly by other national organizations, the National Cotton Council and the Cotton Textile Institute are leading the drive as official sponsors of the 1939 observance.

Throughout the Cotton Belt, cotton carnivals will abound during National Cotton Week, with kings and queens of the cotton realm receiving homage in beautifully cotton-decorated courts.

Co-operating with the Cotton Council and the Cotton Textile Institute in the expanding Cotton Week are the national Retail Dry Goods Association, the Wholesale Dry Goods Institute and chains affiliated with the Institute of Distribution, the National Association of Food Chains and the National Association of Chain Drug Stores.

Particular significance is being attached to Cotton Week this year by virtue of acute problems facing the crop and the industry. In five years the world price of American Cotton, based on the gold dollar, has dropped from approximately 18 cents a pound to an all-time low of five cents, while 1939 exports are setting a new low of 3,500,000 bales as compared with the normal annual export of 7,500,000 bales.

At the same time, figures reveal that world consumption of foreign cotton has increased in ten years from 10,000,000 bales to 16,750,000.

The cotton industry likewise faces an increasingly destructive threat from synthetic fibers, production of which has increased in ten years from an equivalent of 738,000 bales to 4,500,000 bales per year.

Paper, manufactured in 37 states, has replaced cotton in over 100 varied fields, while jute, wool, and flax have also gone flagrantly into cotton's original kingdom.

With Loan Fund Gone, FSA Gets More Requests

The Farm Security Administration made loans of $898,344 during April to 2,455 low-income farmers of Texas and has virtually exhausted the seven million dollar loan fund allotted the state for the fiscal year ending June 30, according to Julian Wright, county supervisor.

"While it is almost two months until the probable allocation of more funds, we are having a large and steady stream of requests for loans," Mr. Wright said. "$84,092 of this money loaned in April went to 12 county farmers."

"There are 730 farmers in the county and probably 156 of them are eligible to use our loan service to bring about more profitable operations," he stated. "With our funds for this year, we have been able to assist only 28 of them. Many whom we are unable to reach are headed for the relief rolls where they will be expensive public charges. Others not in danger of actual destitution can build up much greater buying power with the aid which the FSA is set up to render."

Mr. Wright said that experience has indicated that more than 75 per cent of all the money the FSA has loaned will be repaid with interest. "Last year's repayments in the state almost equaled the money loaned, even though loan payments are spread over five years," he concluded.

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

It is vain thought to flee from the work that God appoints us, for the sake of finding a greater blessing, instead of seeking it where alone it is to be found—in loving obedience.—George Eliot.

Obedience to God is the most infallible evidence of sincere and supreme love to him.—Nathaniel Emmons.

We are born subject, and to obey God in perfect liberty. He that does this shall be free, safe, and happy.—Lucius Anneus Seneca.

Sixteen-year-old Mrs. Virginia Grimm of Steubenville, O., recently gave birth to triplets, whose total weight was nearly 16 pounds.

Bindweed—

to eradicate, there are several methods by which this can be accomplished. For small areas up to an acre or so in extent the most practical methods are: spraying with a solution of sodium chlorate, salting and heavy pasturing with hogs.

Sodium Chlorate Method

Experiments show that bindweed can be killed by spraying the plants with a solution of sodium chlorate with only temporary injury to the soil.

Strength of Solution

One pound of sodium chlorate to one gallon of water produces a solution of sufficient strength to kill bindweed. Increasing the concentration or strength of the solution adds to the danger from fire.

Discing in the spring of the year in which spraying is to be done will help hold other weeds in check and reduce the cost of spraying. The growth of bindweed on the area to be treated should not be disturbed in any way for at least a month before the first application of the spray, and no cultivation should be done after June 1.

For areas that have not been sprayed the preceding year the first application should not be made before the first of July, and the middle of August is usually a better time, although this can be done as late as September.

Precautions

Clothing, hay, straw, unpainted boards and similar material that have been wet with a solution of sodium chlorate and allowed to dry may be ignited by friction, sparks, or a hot sun and cause serious damage from fire.

Second Season Treatment

Killing a patch of bindweed should be looked upon as at least a two-year job and the work the second season regarded as equal in importance to that of the first. The land should in no way be disturbed after spraying is started until May of the year following.

Any one wishing further and complete information concerning the field bindweed should contact County Agent Nagy in his office in Crowell.

Renewed efforts are now being made in all parts of the country to lessen the number of accidents occasioned by children playing with blasting caps.

These accidents often result in children being blinded, or losing fingers or hands, and thus going through life in a crippled condition. In some cases children are killed.

Most of these accidents occur in country districts where children find the caps in the neighborhood of blasting operations, where, in many cases, they have been left by careless workmen. Playing with these caps—such as picking them with nails, hitting them with hammers, or throwing them into bonfires, usually results in an accident.

Blasting caps are small copper cylinders used to detonate explosives in mines, quarries, construction work, and in blasting ditches, stamps and boulders. They are closed at one end and loaded with a sensitive and powerful explosive. Electric blasting caps are similar to the regular caps except that they have wires attached and are detonated by an electric current from a blasting machine.

When the cap explodes small particles of copper fly in all directions. Any child nearby may be hurt.

All parents and teachers are requested to warn children not to play with these blasting caps, but when they do find one, to notify an officer of the law or other responsible adult.

Patrol leaders strive to put the same system that they learned at the Camporee into effect in their own patrols so that every individual Scout gets the benefit of camporee training.

The activity promotes troop camping and the making and securing of the necessary equipment. The practicing and training broadens the interests of the troop and provides a stimulant for growth. Each patrol should enter a team in each event.

Camporee Benefits 1. It develops group interest, for boys plan together in advance the various methods used to make themselves efficient.

2. It is probably the most practical type of activity that gives the fullest expression to the patrol method.

3. It develops boy leadership.

4. It encourages troop camping.

5. It is in keeping with the type of work done at the National Jamboree.

6. It educates the public on scouting and what is trying to be accomplished.

7. It promotes comradeship and a spirit of friendly rivalry.

Vaccination for Smallpox Effective in Prevention Work

Austin.—Case reports reaching the State Department of Health indicate that smallpox is rapidly forging to the front in the list of preventable communicable diseases over Texas at this time.

"Smallpox epidemics would never occur if everyone, especially children, could be effectively vaccinated," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "At the present there is an increasing lack of vaccination among school children and this constitutes a menace.

"Modern safeguards have removed legitimate objection to vaccination. The virus is made from calves and, consequently, is incapable of transmitting human blood diseases. Among some ten million vaccinations performed in the Philippine Islands, there was no loss of life or limb or demonstrable injury to health.

"A primary vaccination with and was the first man to start cooperative marketing and club work here.

S. W. Gentry of Crowell told about the first terraces in Foard County. These terraces were run by Fred Rennels, present County Agent of Wilbarger County and how they crossed a ditch so deep that a man standing in it could not be seen. Today there is no ditch in the field. These terraces were run in 1925, and C. O. Nichols was the first man to run terraces in the county in about 1923.

Last speech on the program was that of County Agent Nagy in which he gave statistical report of the amount of terracing, trench silos, club work, cotton improvement and wheat improvement in Foard County.

A basket lunch was spread at the roadside park three miles north of Crowell at the noon hour. The demonstration tour planned for the afternoon was cancelled because of the rain Friday night and Saturday.

The program, which was held on the west steps of the court house, was enjoyed by persons throughout the business section of Crowell, and the speeches were broadcast over the public address system furnished by Marion Crowell, local radio service man.

old Beck, visited the then Gov.-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel at Fort Worth. They discussed with him the appointment of a man to succeed John Wood as Highway Commissioner. They told him where East Texas is located, and pointed out the geographical allocation of the Commissionerships which has always been observed. Though they have never discussed this particular angle, it is quite likely the names of some likely men were brought up, and if so, it is also quite likely the name of Brady P. Gentry, of Tyler, was mentioned. At any rate, O'Daniel, the Senators reported, agreed heartily with their views, and gave them assurance these views would be respected.

Last January, O'Daniel nominated Carr P. Collins, Dallas insurance man, and his No. 1 campaign director. Dallas is not in East Texas, according to the views of the Senators. So Collins was rejected. Then O'Daniel, went far afield and named J. C. Hunter of Abilene. Hunter, facing rejection, withdrew. Then O'Daniel sent up Jim West, Houston oil multimillionaire, and West, too was rejected, but not on geographical grounds.

Last week, O'Daniel nominated Grady Gentry, Gentry, three times Smith County judge, has had plenty of political experience. He knows a lot about highways, and enjoys the confidence of those interested in state highway development. A quick canvass of the potent East Texas senatorial group indicated he will be promptly confirmed. So, in six months, the Governor learned where East Texas is, and the kind of a man the Senate wants for highway commissioner. If he had listened to the four Senators, he might have saved six months of embarrassment, and avoided learning at least one lesson the hard way. That's how it is done in politics.

A Correction

This column last week carelessly referred to Rep. G. C. Morris, of Greenville, a probable opponent of Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham next year, as "Joe" Morris, for which your reporter apologizes. G. C. Morris, one of the leaders of the anti-tax bloc in the House, is an able legislator, an extraordinary debater and orator, and is reported to be an excellent campaigner. Sam Rayburn's record in Congress as majority leader is too well known to need review here. If Morris takes out after Sam, it ought to be an interesting campaign to keep

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—They took the $40,000,000 sales tax-constitutional amendment "program" out and "laid it on the table" last week—technically—but actually, they laid it on a slab in the morgue, from which it has only the remotest chance of ever being resurrected. Somebody misinformed Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel about the strength of the "program," and when he confidentially predicted over the radio that it would pass the House with a bang, he didn't know there were 80 votes in the House that would withstand all of the terrific pressure that could be put upon them by those members of the House who honestly believe in writing a tax rate and a sales tax into the organic law, backed by the strength of an organized special interest lobby, plus the personal pressure of the governor himself. So the House sent "program" which was originated by a special interest lobby, and for which that lobby and the Governor worked day and night for four months, into the bonnyard for good.

Legislators Take the Ball As a result, the lobbyists who with amazing audacity seized the ball at the opening of the regular session and have kept it throughout the first 120 days of the session, have at last relinquished it. It is now an "every man for himself" scramble, with each individual lobbyist struggling madly to get the special interest he represents exempted, or kindly treated, in the omnibus tax bill which now appears to be the only tax measure that can possibly be enacted—and the devil take the "program." There is still no certainty that any tax measure will be enacted, although the legislature is earnestly striving to bring out a bill increasing natural resources taxes, and imposing a sales tax on certain luxuries. Unless the lobbyists, working individually, turn out to be as strong as they were collectively, some such bill will probably be enacted. But it will raise nearer $20,000,000 a year than the $40,000,000 proposed in the lobby "program." That will be ample to finance a reasonable social security program, including a somewhat liberalized pension list, aid for blind, dependent children, and teachers' pensions. But the plan of taxing poverty for twice as much as is needed for social security, through a sales tax, and writing it into the Constitution, and turning the $20,000,000 surplus into the pot for the relief of special interest taxpayers, is definitely consigned to the limbo of the fantastic dreams of a lobbyist who, drunk with a delusion of power, lost all sense of balance. The regular session will last at least another two weeks, possibly longer. House members are definitely desirous of enacting tax legislation to finance the social security program, and, with the legislative power back into the hands of the folks the people elected to do the job, there is a fair prospect they may succeed.

Are You Helping To Build Your Community?

Quite often, we who live in Foard County, make our living in Foard County, and expect the support of the towns and their people, will go out of the county to buy our various needs.

This is a free country and each man and woman can purchase his or her needs whenever and wherever they see fit, but, if we are to build for greater prosperity, we must first give our own the first opportunity to serve us. Even charity begins at home. It is easily understood why a man will buy out of town when he is unable to secure what he wants in his town but when all things are equal, it is difficult to understand the person's viewpoint who "secures his income from the town and county and then goes out of town and county to spend and buy the goods he needs. Yes, he has a perfect right to do so and is well within his rights but in the end, money spent out of our county does the county no good. If we are to build a more prosperous county, and, individual towns, then we must be willing to put into that town whenever possible and not be too anxious to send our cash out of the county. Most people do this, not thinking of the detrimental effect it has on the county.

Those of you who will give the subject due consideration, will find that the business men of Crowell and other towns of Foard County, carry a very good stock of goods and are always ready and willing to serve your needs. Should you find that you are unable to secure the exact item at once, if possible, give the "Home Town Merchant" an opportunity to order the goods or material for you. It will only take a few days and if it is not satisfactory, you will find in each instance, the merchant will gladly return the article or keep it in stock without any expense or outlay on your part.

CONSIDER THESE FACTS (AND THEY ARE FACTS)

- 1.—Who pays the bulk of the taxes?
- 2.—Who sees to it that our community is kept in a livable condition?
- 3.—Who is most interested in our city government?
- 4.—Who is most interested in your child and my child?
- 5.—Who is it that keeps up civic pride?
- 6.—Who is it that is alert and on the job to see that new enterprises locate in our midst so that you and I may have work, money with which to enjoy the necessities of life?
- 7.—Who gives you work and who keeps up the local payroll?
- 8.—Who supports your churches and schools?
- 9.—When you are in need of help, who do you go to?
- 10.—Who boosts your town, county and its people?

THE ANSWER—No other than "The Home Town Merchant"

ONE MORE QUESTION—"Are you helping to build your town and county or are you building some other community, thereby limiting your future opportunities?"

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

This is just a reminder that we had our long-awaited event, the Junior-Senior Banquet, on Friday night, May 12. It was a very gala occasion, with the girls beautifully bedecked in gorgeous dress and male escorts gallantly assisting the best they knew to keep from wrinkling the touchous gowns.

The fun was opened with singing led by Daphyn McClure. Then H. C. Brown proposed to give a hearty welcome to the Seniors and guests, then Russell responded with much gusto. Wanda Liles did an excellent job of dreaming the future of all the Seniors. You know, I believe Wanda is quite prophetic, time will tell. The girls were very generous in their gifts which Bernice Fitzgerald had been designated to give to the Juniors. Mr. Graves, with a speech in a while, gave us a very good speech. All the fun was in a smashing close by yells and group singing again led by Daphyn.

It was all so much fun and so nice, we thoroughly enjoyed it. Juniors, next year don't forget that you shall be paid for all your efforts that proved to be so splendid.

SENIOR-JUNIOR PICNIC

The juniors were entertained Friday afternoon with a picnic by the seniors. They were to meet either at the school building or at the Country Club. Some of them had gone out earlier to swim; therefore when the cars from the school building arrived there were already some in swimming. The wind was very cold and unfavorable, so the boys did not stay in swimming very long. After all had arrived, there were about 75 people.

The food was spread and after playing a few games they all made a run for it. The food consisted of sandwiches, pickles, cookies, and drinks. Before all of this was gone the rain began to fall and they all took refuge in the cars until the rain stopped. Unfortunately the rain did not stop and the park grounds were abandoned. However, the seniors are becoming used to the picnics they plan to be spoiled by the rain; therefore the rain was not such a surprise.

Even though the rain did come too soon, the seniors hope a good time; and from all that we hear, they did.

Henry Black, who had also been to the previous senior picnic, was invited to this picnic, the very last picnic to be had by the seniors of '39. Mr. and Mrs. Graves, Miss Yeats and Mr. Foster, the class sponsors, and Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Thomson, the class mothers, were present, also.

FRESHMAN PICNIC

The Freshmen ended their social career Friday afternoon with a barbecue at the North Pocket Park. The barbecue was prepared by John Clark Long and his parents. The rain interfered with the fun, but it didn't come too soon to stop the enjoyment of the barbecue, which was supplemented by bread, pickles, onions, and fudge circles. The class mothers, Mrs. J. T. Billington and Mrs. Thomas F. Hughton, and Mrs. Paul Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Long, and the sponsor, Miss Cogdell, were present.

A RAINY DAY PICNIC

It seems that old Mother Nature could not resist giving her blessings in showers Friday afternoon when the entire student body of CHS attempted to have picnics.

The sophomores were at South Pocket Park when the first drenching raindrops began to fall. But Mother Nature couldn't keep the sophomores from celebrating the close of school—not the sophomores. Everyone jumped into the cars and headed for the gym where games of volleyball, redline and flying Dutchman were enjoyed by all.

Afterward we were served with hamburgers, tea and cakes by the class mothers in the cafeteria. Everyone had "grobs" to eat and a "soggy" time was enjoyed by a happy group of sophomores. Thanks very much dear sponsors and class mothers for everything you have done for us.

F. H. T. CLUB

The feature of the FHT Club meeting Thursday, was the review of the book, The Rosary, by Daphyn McClure.

Mary Ella Rettig read some of our best loved poems. Fay Griffin gave an instructive article from the book, "Behave Yourself."

Another interesting feature was the accounts of the visit to Galveston given by Marguerite Lewis, Margaret Long, Theda Wright, Jane Billington, and Beverly Hughton.

During the absence of Clonita Russell, Reed Sanders was the leader.

The meeting was adjourned by the president to meet again in June.

SCHOOL CHATTER

Dear kids, we've been trying to keep this from you all year, but now we've simply got to break the news. School is going to be out. Yes, really. We know how disappointed you must be, but after all, everyone needs a little rest. So take it on the chin with a cheerful face, September will come soon enough and when you can begin your beloved studies again. In other words—Whoopee!

Seniors—here's to you. May the finer things of life be yours and may you all have a happy and successful career.

Juniors—here's looking forward to your absence on Senior Day (next year).

Freshmen—Oh, well—why say anything. You've three more years to go.

May 16, 17, 18, 19—Your home is popular in your community, you enjoy entertaining and friends and groups like to come there. You resent being pushed aside and often show bitterness. You should learn to take defeat in a cheerful manner. You are venturesome in business but otherwise are prone to be backward.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Secret of Happiness and Content: One of the most difficult of all lessons for many to learn is the lesson of complete dependence and trust in God. To many it is not easy to realize and feel that God is interested and does have a concern for mortals and does have a plan for those who entrust their lives to Him—a plan that ultimately works out for their greatest happiness and content.

We are prone to take too short a view of things. We are prone to consider only the present condition or circumstance without stopping to think to what it might lead or what its outcome might be. We fail to see that the fact that we are thwarted in many of our desires is often for our own ultimate best interest and good. All through the scriptures, in secular history, and even in our own lives we see evidence that thwarted human plans have often turned out for the best and what appeared to be disappointment and defeat was a blessing in disguise. The realization of this, the faith that God has a plan for mortals and the willingness to be used in it is an infallible formula for human happiness.

The Safe Diet for Good Health and Vitality

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Ass'n.

Good health depends upon proper nutrition. Proper nutrition depends first, upon the availability of the food supply. This takes us right back to the Breeder-Feeder Movement, or balanced farming program, which is the basis for Southwestern economic independence. Secondly, proper nutrition depends upon the proper use of these food products. Whether you are a producer or consumer, both phases of the problem are of vital importance. Good health and vitality are the direct results of proper nutrition.

But, what is proper nutrition? Briefly the needs of the body are: (1) Calories for heat and energy, (2) Protein to build and repair the body tissue, (3) Minerals to regulate body processes, to build bone, blood, etc., (4) Vitamins to promote growth and protect health, and (5) Bulk to aid in elimination of body waste. Proper nutrition means the selection of a diet which supplies all of the daily needs of the body with a small reserve supply.

The Texas Extension Service working with other scientific specialists, set up a Texas Food Standard as a guide to proper nutrition for rural people. This standard has been broadened for use of urban families and is being suggested as the "Safe Diet" by nutritionists, dietitians, home economists and teaching groups throughout the Southwest. The following standard is a safe guide in evaluating the daily menu, and attaining proper nutrition through an adequate, balanced diet.

The Safe Diet:

- Daily
- 1 quart of milk.
 - 1 egg.
 - 1 serving lean meat.
 - 1 serving potatoes or rice.
 - 1 serving green or yellow vegetables.
 - 1 serving other vegetables.
 - 1 serving citrus fruit or tomatoes.
 - 1 serving other fruit—dried, canned or fresh.
 - 1 serving whole grain products. Bread and butter at every meal. Some sweets.
 - Cheese three times per week.
 - Dried peas and beans three times per week.
 - Liver once a week.
 - Water daily—six to eight glasses.

This "Safe Diet" has meat once a day and specifies liver once a week. More meat could be used with more safety because, of all the foods, meat offers the most in food elements, satisfying qualities, and in palatability.

In our urge or need to economize, we have skimped too much on meat. Had this not been the case, perhaps the results might have been different. We are told that the diets of the Southwest are dangerously inadequate, that only twenty-five per cent of our people are today enjoying diets over and above the daily needs. Rural people can grow their own and need not lack for all the elements of a good diet—meat included.

Better dietary habits improve health; better health raises economic and social standards; the route to security and economic independence lies through both producing and consuming a "Safe Diet" on the farm as far as possible.

Shower Last Friday Afternoon Honors Mrs. Darvin Bell

A lovely shower complimenting Mrs. Darvin Bell, who was Miss Faye Evelyn Borchardt before her recent marriage, was given Friday afternoon by Mrs. J. E. Maxwell and her daughter, Miss Helen Harwell.

The shower was at the Adelphi club house which was decorated in cut flowers of pink and white.

The receiving line was composed of Mrs. Harwell; Mrs. F. C. Borchardt, mother of the bride; Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Edith Bell, mother of the groom. Miss Helen Harwell presided over the bride's book, where approximately fifty guests registered during the afternoon.

A short program was given. Bonita Liles, playing her own accompaniment on the guitar, sang two numbers. Jane Billington gave a clever reading. Mrs. C. W. Thompson and Mrs. T. B. Klepper accompanied by Mrs. Arnold Rucker, sang a duet.

Master Wayne Borchardt, little nephew of the honoree, presented her with a shower bouquet of roses, with ribbons attached, and upon following the ribbons, she found an array of beautiful gifts from friends.

Misses Jean Opal Borchardt, Margaret Woods and Modena Stovall served punch in the dining room where the pink and white color scheme prevailed in the appointments.

Seventy-five Entries Made in Flower Show Friday Afternoon

At the Flower Show sponsored by the Crowell Garden Club last Friday afternoon, there were 75 entries in three divisions, single specimens, group arrangements, and wild flowers.

Miss Anne Lee Long, chairman of the program committee, presented the following program: A sextette, composed of Joyzelle Tysinger, Bonita Liles, Mary Evelyn Edwards, Wanda Jo Ketchersid, Bettie Jo Zeibig and Evelyn Jean Seales sang "Springtime." They were accompanied by Miss Long. Evelyn Joan Seales sang, as a solo, "Just Like a Rose." Bonita Liles played on the guitar and sang, "Texas Yellow Rose." The sextette sang a group of songs, "Spin, Maiden Spin," "Isle of Dreams," and "Seeing Nellie Home."

Mesdames Walter Huggins, L. G. Hawkins and W. O. Oliver of Vernon, served as judges for the flower show. They were accompanied by Mrs. G. C. Morris.

In the single specimen division, blue, red and white ribbons were awarded, in the order named to Mrs. W. A. Cogdell for a full-bloom red rose, Mrs. Claude Callaway for a K. A. Victoria rose-bud and to Mrs. H. Schindler for a Freida Mohr iris.

In the group arrangement division, 1st and 2nd places were given to Mrs. O. R. Boman for an arrangement of crapepinks, to Mrs. Bert Self for Ophelia rose-buds and for third place, Mrs. Merl Kincaid and Mrs. J. H. Shultz tied with Red Radiance roses and perennial sweet peas.

The wild flower exhibit was the work of the Girl Scouts. The Garden Club gave a prize of $1 to Joyzelle Tysinger for a bowl of wild clover and 50 cents to Mary Evelyn Edwards for an arrangement of Italian grass.

B&PW Club Honor Mothers With Supper

Formality was the keynote of a supper meeting held for the Business and Professional Club women of Crowell, complimenting their mothers last Thursday evening at O'Connell's Lunch Room at 7:30 o'clock at which time Mrs. Inez Spencer shared hostess duties with Miss Alma Walker.

A delicious supper, which was in harmony with the decorations, was served at a table decorated with vari-colored spring blossoms in pastel shades.

Particularly attractive was the center piece which extended to the extremities of the table and indicated the letters in a floral inscription, "Mother."

To glorify mothers' tasks, the place cards were small scrub buckets made of artist linen, and favors were miniature brooms made of pencils and crepe paper.

Entertainment included a skit, "The Fatal Quest," by five members of the club.

In addition to this dramatic presentation, music was the special diversion of the evening. Mrs. Mae Solomon played a number of songs that were popular in the "gay nineties," and also played some of the popular songs of today.

Mrs. Foster Davis gave a violin solo, "Adoration" by Felix Borowski. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Inez Spencer.

During the period following the program, Miss Blanche Hays presented Miss Mayme Lee Collins with a lovely housecoat as a gift from the club in appreciation of her two years service as the club president.

The invitation list for the affair included Mesdames Ida Reavis, Pearl Lovelady, J. C. Self, E. M. Cates, H. E. Davis, J. Y. Welch, Minnie Lloyd, Henrietta Hays, Foster Davis, Hallie Beverly and D. E. Todd.

In the last report from the club, there was an error in the listing of the newly elected officers of the club. The article should have read: Miss Gustia Davis, president, and Mrs. M. O'Connell, vice president.

The barbecue committee was composed of John Nagy, Gordon Bell and George Self.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

Food spoilage, according to the Department of Agriculture, amounts to something like three hundred and seventy-five dollars a year for each family in the United States, or enough to pay the first cost on a refrigerator.

Miss Joellene Vannoy told members of the West Side Club when they met with Mrs. Curtis Ribble on May 10.

There are only about ten days during the year in some sections, possibly longer in others, and not so long in some, that foods will keep without some form of refrigeration, stated Miss Vannoy. The different types of refrigerators all have their advantages.

There were two visitors, Mrs. Minnie Summers of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Roy Steele.

The club will meet with Mrs. G. H. Kinchloe on May 24.

SEASON'S MOST BRILLIANT MOVIES TO USHER IN VACATION DAYS IN CROWELL

Stars On Ice

The full beauty of the masterful skating sequences is captured by the technicolor camera in this picture and is shown to best advantage in "The Indian Love Dance" with all of the vivid colors of the Indian village brought into prominence. Such artistry is beyond description.

One reason a good name is better than riches is that there is no tax on a good name.

Love on the Meter

The meter on Don Ameche's taxi clicks away the hours of his romance with Claudette Colbert, his new screen sweetheart in "Midnight," the Paramount comedy opening next Wednesday at the Rialto Theatre.

Famed Names Dazzle In "Midnight" Cast

"Midnight brings out the stars!"

The truth behind the current Hollywood saying is proved by the picture which inspired it. For the new Paramount comedy, "Midnight," which opens next Wednesday at the Rialto Theatre, has more famous names in its cast than any other production of the year. The list is a long and spectacular one, beginning with Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche, the co-stars, and including John Barrymore, Francis Lederer, Mary Astor, Hedda Hopper, Rex O'Malley and Elaine Barrie. The last named is, of course, the young wife of Barrymore, now making her first appearance on the screen.

"Midnight" was written especially with an eye on Miss Colbert's unique personality and style of acting, and is reminiscent in a season ago, "I Met Him in Paris." The script, written by Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder, based on a story by Edwin J. Mayer and Franz Schulz, tells of a beautiful American fortune-hunter who falls in love with a Paris taxi-driver but leaves him to stalk bigger game in high society. Ameche, now to be seen with Miss Colbert for the first time, plays the romantic caddy. Miss Colbert's adventures in Paris began when a puckish businessman, Barrymore, whom she meets at a party, hires her to make a play for his wife's sweetheart and so restore marital happiness to his badly-shaken home. The arrangement is to be a strictly business one: Barrymore pays the bills (and leave it to the American to see that they are considerable), while Miss Colbert turns her charms onto the home-wrecker, played by Lederer. To complicate matters, she poses as a Hungarian countess, this, too, with Barrymore's connivance.

The climax is reached with a house party given by Barrymore and his wife, played by Miss Astor, at their Versailles chateau. All the characters concerned are present, including, as an unexpected guest, Ameche. All other means of reaching Miss Colbert "countess's" "count" to settle the affair in an uproarious breakfast scene.

At the risk of giving away some of the plot, it can be said that Ameche makes the biggest news of his career in "Midnight." For, believe it or not, he gets the girl! The "second fiddle" of "Happy Landings," "In Old Chicago" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band" now goes out for romance on his own and makes a big success of it!

time produce skating shows the ice rink. Joan Crawford orders to keep her home life gives up her career as the star whereupon her employer, Stewart to produce a picture, making it possible for her and wife to work together at the studio lot.

Comedy scenes abound in picture with all the principal stars furnishing the laughs. L. Stander, an outstanding comedian himself, is seen to good advantage in many places.

One song is given chief prominence and was written by Bert Petkere and Marty Symes. "East Side of Heaven," brings new life to the screen in the form of baby "Sandy" and Mischa Auer along with a host of airy songs. Moviegoers will have a last chance to see this Universal musical hit tonight.

Crawford in Good Form
Changing her style entirely from anything she has done before, Joan Crawford has entered the ranks of the daring, dazzling, scintillating beauties of the silver screen in "Ice Follies of 1939," showing at the Saturday night preview, Sunday and Monday.

Along with Miss Crawford is included a supporting cast of actors, any one of whom would furnish top-billing for any ordinary movie. But "Ice Follies" is not an ordinary movie, mainly because it so completely outshines any other skating picture ever produced, and secondly because the supporting cast is headed by James Stewart, Lew Ayres and Lewis Stone. The presence of the International Ice Follies troupe in the most magnificent skating exhibition ever filmed, and that portion being filmed in technicolor, places the picture above comparison with previous skating productions. Only the color camera, a most flexible and artful one in this case, is competent to report accurately the artistry of these quite incredible skaters. This portion of the film is without precedent.

"Ice Follies" not only has abundance of skating thrills and spectacular scenes, but also has an interesting, well-formed plot. James Stewart has a great deal of trouble trying to stay married to a movie star and at the same
