

Revival Meeting Started at Methodist Church Sunday with Rev. Kenneth Copeland Preaching Twice Each Day

A two-weeks' revival meeting was started at the Crowell Methodist Church Sunday with Rev. Kenneth Copeland, pastor of the Methodist Church in Haskell, doing the preaching. Services are held each morning, except Saturday, at 10 a. m., and each evening at 7:15. The visiting evangelist is being assisted by the pastor, Rev. H. A. Longino, and the singing is under the direction of Sam Mills.

Rev. Copeland is well known as a pastor and evangelistic preacher and the Crowell church is fortunate to secure his services in this meeting. He is also a talented singer. Great interest was manifested in the meeting at the first service and has continued to grow each day.

On Friday evening the service will be designated as Young People's Night, and all young people of the city are urged to be present. Rev. Copeland's sermon subject for this service will be "A Drunken King, a Devilish Woman, a Dancing Girl, and a Dead Preacher." After the service the young people will be directed by the evangelist in an hour of fellowship in the basement of the church. The fellowship hour will include an open forum on some topic current among young people, a sing-song, and games.

Thursday night will be "Father and Son Night." Each man is asked to bring his son. If he has no son he is asked to bring some boy who will be his son for the evening. The sermon topic for this service will be "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

People of Crowell and surrounding territory, regardless of their church affiliation, and those who do not belong to any church, are invited and urged to attend these revival services.

The revival meeting will be in progress for two weeks and will be concluded Sunday, Jan. 17.

Hope of America Lies in Small Businesses, Spiritual Awakening, Roger W. Babson Predicts

Business and Financial Outlook For 1943

Babson Predicts: Major Events are moving at a steady pace. Never before has the world been in the grip of such a far-reaching turmoil. Within the next few months, it is almost certain that the whole course of history will be changed. It will be important to keep your eyes open. To change your business or investment program with any other piece of war news is almost folly. A good example of this was portmanteau when the United States opened up a second front in North Africa. That morning many thousands of self-appointed commentators predicted that the war would be over in a few days.

1. Total Business: Defense production will be up sharply (plus 50%); non-defense down sharply (minus 35%), accompanied by a drastic standardization of products.

2. Employment: The above also applies to employment, if we do not include the armed forces.

3. Farm Income: Will be up 5% in 1943 over 1942.

4. Dividends and Business Earnings: Have passed their peaks and will be lower in 1943 than in 1942.

5. Labor: There will be practically no strikes until the end of the War and wages will gradually become stabilized.

6. Commodity Prices: Will strengthen somewhat, especially the prices of manufactured goods. Commodity price indexes will indicate far less than the actual advance.

7. Taxes: Will be felt severely, especially by the white-collar group who can expect no pay increases.

8. Retail Trade: Will be 12% off in physical volume in 1943 compared to 1942.

9. High-grade Stocks: Should decline, but good stocks should sell higher.

10. Creeping Inflation: Will continue throughout 1943.

Farmers Urged to Repair Machinery

County farm machinery quotas are in the hands of the farm rationing committee and actual rationing is underway, according to the committee, Grady Halbert, chairman, C. N. Barker and R. H. Cooper.

Farmers are urged not to apply for machinery unless it is absolutely necessary for the operation of the farm, due to the extreme scarcity of machinery and the limited quotas allotted to Foard County. Repairs are easier to obtain, so it is recommended that machinery be repaired instead of applying for new machinery. The supply of repair parts is larger than usual and should help to offset the decrease in the supply of new machines.

The county farm rationing committee is operating under the direction of the U. S. D. A. War Board and will issue purchase certificates of purchasers whose applications for new machinery are approved.

For any further information, consult any one of the members or make inquiry at the AAA Office.

Health Inventory for Every Texan Worthwhile Idea

Austin. — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states that he believes it would be a worthwhile idea for every Texan to take a health inventory at the beginning of the New Year. "In the true spirit of the New Year, we should give some thought to the mistakes we have made during the past year, and a great deal of thought to planning some way of improving our health conditions during the coming year."

Farmers of Foard County to be Aided in Food Production

A new, streamlined program designed to assist farmers of Foard County increase their food production to help the nation meet its war food requirements...

"The one purpose of the FSA all over the country now is to produce food and war crops," Mr. Wright declared.

"It is fortunate that the mechanism of the Farm Security Administration was already set up and functioning when the nation's food demands became so much greater."

This agency is able, without additional workers or cost of administration, to help operators of farms raise their output of food from 20 to 300 per cent, officials have estimated.

Farmers who can't expand their yield of crops, livestock, dairy and poultry products with their own money or with funds borrowed from private lending agencies are eligible for the new FSA food freedom loans.

He pointed out that operators of small farms are in a better position to increase production now than bigger operators because of the labor shortage which has seriously handicapped the larger farms requiring hired help.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

We hear much these days about what is to be the world program after the war is over. I think that it is well that full discussion of the matter be given that the thought of the world may have the opportunity to crystallize, and, as they say in industry, get the bugs out of the plan.

Incidentally I do not favor a lull or armistice or waiting period after the war is over before the world plan is announced. I feel very definitely this would not be the wise thing to do. Such a delay would prolong uncertainty and unrest and indecision.

It is not my purpose, however, in this article to discuss this phase of the post war world. I wish to direct the thoughts of my readers during the remaining paragraphs of this column to the post war world here at home in this nation, and with each individual of this nation.

The end of the war is going to ring the curtain down on an old order and cause it to rise on a new order. It is going to be a different world than we have ever known before.

The new creations of industry are going to be more advanced and better than we have ever known before. Automobiles are going to be better and more beautiful, farm machinery is going to be better, and there is going to be more of it.

The pent up desire to create, to advance, to progress, sublimated for the time being, is going to clamor for release and expression. We are going to see an era of better built homes and better furnished homes.

This thought brings another thought, that is, that this period of curtailed operation and expression should be a period of preparation for the period that is to come. This is no time for expansion or planning for immediate operations.

HISTORY

League of Nations' Day—January 10: This day marks the anniversary of the establishment of the League of Nations established by the Treaty of Versailles following the first World War.

1943 will see more changes in civilian life than any year since the Revolutionary war. Wise are those who are first to prepare for these changes. When one studies the tremendous purchases which the Government is making, they make one shudder.

Babson Report—

Building and Real Estate New building during 1943 will fall off. Government building, both of factories and cantonments, will decline while residential building will continue to be held down.

New Industries 1943 will see the greatest crop of new scientific developments that any year ever witnessed. These may revolutionize agriculture, industry and commerce even to a greater extent than the war will revolutionize governments, politics and human relations.

During 1943 our wives will begin to use dried eggs, dehydrated vegetables, frozen meats and other innovations. This does not mean that canned goods will be displaced, but I do forecast a revolution in connection with pre-

Government even more closely than the prices of commodities. The idea, however, that money rates will always continue low is just as foolish as were the forecasts of ten years ago that money would permanently remain on a high basis.

The bonded debt of the Federal Government is now $90 billions, or an increase of $67 billions since the Roosevelt Administration came into power. By the end of 1943, this debt may stand at about $150 billions.

Crop Situation With normal weather conditions there is every reason to believe that more crops will be raised in this country in 1943 than in 1942 and that farmers should benefit accordingly.

Further Rationing 1943 will see more changes in civilian life than any year since the Revolutionary war. Wise are those who are first to prepare for these changes.

Industrial Production Readers will remember that our war production will not reach its height until well into 1943. The plants manufacturing big bombers are not yet completed.

Political Situation Certainly we are entering 1943 with a much better political situation than existed a year ago. This does not mean that the new Congressmen are conservative—some are more radical in certain ways than their predecessors—but they will combine with the conservative Southern Democrats on questions of taxation and war matters.

Money Rates There may be a slight increase in short-term money rates during 1943; but there will be little or no change in the rates that banks charge their customers. Money rates are now managed by the ties now doing well will become ghost towns; while other sleeping cities will become busy beehives. Taking all in all, industrial production should climb into new ground during 1943, averaging about 210% of the 1935-39 level.

Business failures in 1942 amounted to $105 millions and I fear these will be increased during 1943. If so, it will be due to manufacturers being unable to secure necessary raw materials or substitutes and merchants being unable to get a supply of goods.

Conclusion It is probable that 1943 will witness further cuts in civilian business, that victory models and standardization will be compulsory, that manpower will be rationed as well as commodities.

A WEEK of the WAR

and taxicab owners whose certificates of War Necessity do not provide sufficient mileage and fuel allotments to estimate their requirements carefully and apply for the minimum amount of fuel necessary for essential operations. Secretary Wickard called on farmers in the East to cooperate to the utmost in conserving fuels and to buy only enough for current needs. And Petroleum Administrator Ickes, to safeguard the Atlantic seaboard's limited stocks, issued an order controlling the amounts of gasoline and fuel oils which may be withdrawn from East Coast refineries and terminal supply points.

Fuel Oil

WPB has approved the barge, tugboat and towboat building program recommended by ODT, and construction will begin shortly on 500 wooden tank barges, 21 steel tugboats and 100 towboats, to enable an additional daily eastward barge movement of 50,000 barrels of residual fuel oil within five months and 100,000 barrels within ten months. Terminals will be built at Jacksonville and Panama City, Fla., and at Cairo, Ill. OPA has issued an amendment, permitting oil brought into the 30-state rationing area in the supply tanks of locomotives, boats, trucks or other motor vehicles to be consumed without a ration, as the use of this fuel does not deplete the supply of oil in the rationed area. Those homeowners who have exhausted their currently valid fuel oil rations can now use up to one-half their coupons for the next heating period, and office buildings, apartment houses and other commercial buildings which, because of a lack of labor or materials, have been unable to convert heating equipment to coal, may use temporary fuel oil rations after the January 26 deadline. Due to the recent protracted spell of abnormally cold weather, the value of fuel oil coupons has been increased in the 13 rationed Middle Western states—Class I coupons (home owners) valued at 11 gallons instead of 10, and Class II coupons (apartment houses, office buildings, etc.) valued at 110 gallons instead of 100—and consumers in the Eastern area may use their third-period fuel oil coupons any time after December 28.

Manpower

The government is preparing a program for the scientific training of civilian specialists so urgently needed in the war effort. The program is similar to that formulated by the Army and Navy for college-age men, but the WMC expects to use the facilities of more universities and colleges that the armed services will use. More than 6,500 war production plants in which more than 6,000,000 men and women are at work have now been aided by the job instructor training program of the training-within-industry service. Better than 320,000 supervisors, industrial foremen and crew chiefs have been certified as war-production job instructors and the announced goal of 335,000 "trainers" by the end of 1942 will be reached on schedule. To combat rumors that negroes are not being inducted into the army in percentages comparable to their population, the OWI reported that they are not only being inducted in the same proportion as they are registered, but in 9 out of 14 Southern states, inductions have exceeded that proportion. Although negroes constitute 9.8 per cent of our total population (according to the last census), one out of every ten men inducted into the army as of October 31, 1942, was a negro. As for voluntary enlistment, during the 1940-41 period negroes constituted better than 16 per cent of the total number of volunteers entering the Army through selective service. The Director of Selective Service, in reporting to the President on the high percentage of negro volunteers, said that in one particular state every call made for negro selectees was filled over a period of December 28, 29.—You are a convincing, smooth, forceful speaker. Surface study does not satisfy you, you want to go down deep in your investigation of hidden causes. While not secretive, you do not broadcast your private affairs in public. December 30, 31.—You are thoughtful, calculating, close in money matters and shrewd at a bargain. You are quick to see the good in others, and have many friends. You are just and thoughtful in your dealings with others, and people rather like to have you around. January 1, 2, 3.—You love your family dearly and want them to have the best of everything. You have much determination of character and like to be the leader in everything. You have much executive ability, a large circle of friends, and are a very interesting person. January 4, 5.—You are good natured, jolly, and devoted to your family. You are demonstrative of your affection and like to have those near and dear to you show their love for you. As a general thing you do not care much what people think of you, so long as you have a good opinion of yourself. January 6, 7.—You have a keen, discriminating mind, careful and watchful of your own interest, are a good financier and possess much mechanical ability. You are capable of being intensely selfish and unreliable. You have a knowledge and understanding of what is just and right but do not always live up to it. January 8, 9, 10.—You have a gloomy outlook on life and things which threaten calamity are the things which impress themselves most forcibly upon your mind. Try in practice the pleasure of living for others, for the love that kills is the love of self.

CHURCHES

Christian Science Church Sunday School at 10 a. m. Sunday services at 11 a. m. Wednesday evening services at 9:00 o'clock. Sunday, January 10, 1943. Subject: "Sacrament."

Crowell Methodist Church It is not necessary that you be informed that there is a revival in progress at the Methodist Church, but you will permit me to suggest that Rev. Copeland is doing some fine preaching as you know, in event you have attended. The messages are not "rationed." You may come and take all you wish and there is no less for your friends. The more people partaking the better the quality and the more abundant the supply. We have several rows near the front that are "slightly used," in fact, they are almost as good as new. We shall be glad to let any one occupy them during the meeting without an "income tax" being levied. If you should see fit to contribute financially to the meeting it will lessen your income tax in proportion. If there is such a thing as a "Streamline Message" I think you might say that Brother Copeland's messages are streamlined. Certainly they are up-to-date. The seats in the balcony are reserved, and have been for years, but in case you are unable to find seats in the main auditorium, we will even permit you to occupy a balcony seat free. As the widower said to the widow, whose property joined his, "Why not let's take down the fence between our souls and God?" Why not, let's take down the fence between our souls and God? consistent with truth and will express the truth. We must say with Paul, "We can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth" (II Cor. 13:8).

Jesus said, "I am the life. Again He said, "I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger." "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." "He that believeth on me hath everlasting life" (John 6:35; 10:10; 6:47). If we accept the Christ as the eternal, ever-living Son of God, and believe with Peter that He has the words of eternal life, we shall know that we truly have our life, our abiding life, our everlasting life, in Him. Jesus, the Son of God, is the way of life for He is the life. Jesus Christ is the way, the truth, and the life. What a wonderful Saviour!

Singing by Mrs. Longino and prayers offered by Messdames Hughton and Jeff Bruce also were a part of the devotional. Mrs. Klepper accompanied the songs. The pledge signing was impressive and an increased pledge was made toward missions for the coming year.

After the installation ceremony, the new president took charge for a short business session.

School Mates of 1898 Have Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Self was the scene of a delightful New Year's Eve party when "the Freshmen of '98" gathered for an old-fashioned celebration.

Seasonal decorations of poinsettia blossoms and ivy added to the festivity of the occasion and the informality of the evening accentuated the happiness and genial good will of those present.

A timely welcome in verse was given by Mrs. Tom Bell and this was followed by greetings and reminiscences by Mrs. Jack Roberts.

Old songs of that day were led by Mrs. Tom Bell and by Mrs. Pearl Carter and the singing was interspersed with contests conducted by Mrs. Bell, readings, jokes, tricks and other frivolities. Each person present contributed to the program to make the party a most enjoyable one.

Christmas cake and coffee were served during the evening. Guests thanking their hosts for an enjoyable evening which renewed courage and kindly understanding and appreciation of their friends were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bell, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. T. E. L. Class Has Christmas Party

The T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday School enjoyed a lovely Christmas party at the home of Mrs. A. L. Rucker on Tuesday afternoon prior to Christmas. Mrs. Albert Dunagan was co-hostess with Mrs. Rucker.

The guests were greeted at the door by Arnold Rucker, impersonating old Santa Claus. A program had been prepared, the first number of which was a group of Christmas selections played on the bell-lyre, "Away in the Manger," "Joy to the World," "Silent Night," and "Jingle Bells." Bettie Barker sang as a solo, "White Christmas." "The Night Before Christmas" was read by Mrs. I. T. Graves.

Mrs. W. D. Howell gave a beautiful Christmas story, entitled, "The King of Christmas." The diversion was under the direction of Mrs. John Nichols. A salad plate was served with spiced tea to those present.

Instead of gifts, an offering was given to buy a piano for the new church. The offering amounted to $39.87.

Foard City H. D. Club Has Meeting

On January 4th, at the home of Mrs. Lefevre, eight members of the Foard City Home Demonstration Club held the first meeting of the year with Mrs. Floyd Borchardt, the new president, in charge.

Before the business meeting, a vitamin game was played to determine whether or not the average daily diet of each club member came up to vitamin requirements.

It was voted to pay the Federation and Library dues. As demonstrator Mrs. Glenn Shook volunteered, and Mrs. Grady Halbert, as clothing demonstrator.

On January 19, an all-day meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Davis, when members will quilt. On Feb. 22, in an all-day meeting with Mrs. Shook, the planting of a frame garden will be demonstrated.

Claude Wickard's new famous quotation, "Food will win the war and write the peace," was the theme of a discussion by Miss Elizabeth Elliott. She also discussed Nutrition and Home Food Supply. Even with a short crop in 1943, cereals will still be plentiful for civilians, but sugar will probably be further rationed. A number of foods that will be plentiful and others which will probably be unavailable were listed by Miss Elliott. Education of food values and nutrition for housewives is especially vital at the present time, for substitutions of rationed foods or totally unavailable foods will be necessary.

On January 19, an all-day meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Davis, when members will quilt. On Feb. 22, in an all-day meeting with Mrs. Shook, the planting of a frame garden will be demonstrated.

Garden Club Will Meet Friday at Home of Mrs. Kincaid

Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, who is temporary chairman of the Crowell Garden Club, is calling for a meeting of all members at her home on Friday, Jan. 8, (tomorrow), for the transaction of important business. The club was suspended last fall because the members were not ready to resume work, after the storm.

This meeting is for the purpose of re-organizing and for making plans for the year. A short program will be rendered and refreshments will be served. Each and every member is expected to attend.

MODERN MOLLY PITCHERS "GO TO WAR"

Above, a modern Molly Pitcher—a typical woman war worker at the Hyatt Bearings Division of General Motors—grooms the Revolutionary War heroine in a symbolic ceremony marking the formation of the initial Molly Pitcher Brigade chapter at Harrison, N. J., which bids fair to expand into a national movement with thousands of members. At right, two members of the Hyatt Molly Pitcher Brigade are busy in a G.M. plant where they are helping to fashion weapons of war for their fighting men.

HARRISON, N. J.—Molly Pitcher is fighting for American liberty again.

Although she is not loading and firing a cannon at her fallen husband's side, she is in this war beside her husband and is playing a part as vital as the role of her Revolutionary predecessor. For the modern Molly Pitcher is today's woman war worker, and her efforts on the production front will contribute very largely to final victory.

Symbolizing the rebirth of the spirit of the Revolutionary heroine, the women war workers of the Hyatt Bearings Division of General Motors here have formed a Molly Pitcher Brigade, which, from the outside interest aroused in it, bids fair to become a national movement with thousands of members.

A group of Hyatt girls met last summer to form the organization. Reserving for themselves the right of being the charter unit, the Hyatt group has extended invitations to fellow women war workers to join them in similar Molly Pitcher Brigade units. Women workers in both war plant and office, married or single, are eligible for membership.

Though not called upon to do battle as the original Molly Pitcher did, the women of today have an important part in this all-out war. They are asked to fill the empty ranks of industry as the men go to the front, and some of these women are filling their own husbands' posts. Besides their war work, the Hyatt Molly Pitchers, now 400 strong, are carrying on a number of other activities to aid the men in service—raising money to supply them with cigarettes and other treats, knitting, writing letters and sending boxes and gift packages to them.

The Molly Pitchers are so intent on their efforts that they asked the Hyatt plant to set aside its plans for sending Christmas boxes to the men. Then the brigade took over. Through their own efforts they raised $1,200 and sent 350 Christmas boxes to the Hyatt men in service. Each box represented a cost of $3 and contained good things to eat as well as shaving cream, writing materials and other needed items.

It was not many miles from Harrison, at the Battle of Monmouth on June 28, 1778, a very hot day, that Mary Ludwig Hays carried water for the thirsty American patriots during some of the fiercest fighting of the Revolutionary War. Legend has it that when her own husband fell, Molly—the grateful soldier—manned his cannon and kept the piece firing through the battle.

Health of Children Should Be Guarded by Parents, Dr. Cox Says

Austin—Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today. "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a temporary correction by means of glasses made when required."

"No child fancies wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if any doubt arises that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

According to the State Health Officer, any acute condition of a child's eyes calls for immediate treatment either by the family doctor or by a physician who specializes in diseases of the eyes.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the children by no means is limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned, are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

"The eyes of the young, middle-aged, and older represent perhaps one of the most priceless of bodily possessions," the State Health Officer asserted. "To take care of them promptly and properly is a responsibility which never should be sidestepped."

Charlie Clark, H. C. Brown, A. Y. Olds and Richard Bird, all students at the University of Texas have returned to Austin to resume their studies, after a vacation of about two weeks.
