Support Enterprises Already Established, Then Look for Others

An editorial appeared on the front page of the Vernon Daily Record Tuesday of this week regarding the purchase by local people of bread which was baked in another city. The editorial was crammed full of sound reasoning and common sense. The same situation exists in Crowell where five families are dependent on the local bakery for their living and Crowell bread for many years has enjoyed the reputation of being as good as the best turned out in the big cities. Let's be fair and square and patronize the industries we already have and then, if the occasion arises for some new industry to locate here, we'll be justified in going after it.

Everybody likes a thriving city, large or small, but for that to be true, it takes the active support and boosting of all local people.

In this immediate territory there are from 75 to 100 families getting their livelihood from local bakeries and every day a bread truck of a big chain passes through the towns of the territory.

The splendid editorial follows and the same argument applies in Foard County:

"Why Not Support Industries Already Here?"

"If a chance were offered to the business leaders of Vernon to secure an industry which employs 20 people, it would receive serious consideration. But if it should be possible to obtain such an industry at no cost to the city, the proposition would be doubly attractive.

"A proposition very much like that is involved in a situation which has developed here within recent weeks, and probably within a very short time it will be decided whether an important industry already located here will continue in business.

"The bakeries of Vernon are threatened with competition from sources outside of Vernon which may force the local bakeries to cease operation. Bread is being brought here and sold at prices below the usual price for the same bread in the cities where it is made, and lower than the prevailing bread prices in this territory.

"The usual procedure in such cases is to use the lower prices to force local bakers out of business and then raise the price back to its regular level, or even higher. It is the familiar practice of big concerns which engage in unfair competition in order to gain control of a market.

"Assuming that Vernon bread prices and quality are fair, Vernon people should not indirectly support a movement which has for its object the destruction of Vernon business and the loss of jobs by Vernon people. Two things can be done to prevent this. Local people can buy Vernon-baked bread, even though a competitive bread from the outside may be offered temporarily at a lower price. Vernon merchants can help by refusing to permit the use of their stores as outlets for bread sold at cut rates for the purpose of destroying competition.

"If Vernon bakers are not producing bread of a quality equal to that offered by outside bakers, or if their prices are unreasonably high the people owe them no special consideration. They are entitled to a fair deal and no more. But they are entitled to that, just as any other business concern is entitled to fair treatment.

"Why go out seeking new enterprises unless we are willing to support the ones we already have?"

Over 1,000 Votes Cast in County Last Saturday

Taylor and Ross Win Offices in Second Primary

Foard County voters turned out stronger than expected as 1,070 votes were cast in the second Democratic Primary election held last Saturday in which J. C. Taylor and S. H. (Henry) Ross were nominated county commissioner, precinct No. 1, and public weigher, precinct No. 1, respectively, in the only county races up for runoff.

Mr. Taylor was victorious over A. B. Wisdom in the runoff for county commissioner, precinct No. 1, by 14 votes. Mr. Taylor carried Crowell box No. 1, 59 to 33, and Mr. Wisdom carried the West Thalia box, No. 7, 50 to 49.

In the weigher's race, Mr. Moore carried 5 of the 8 boxes while Mr. Ross piled up enough votes in the other three boxes to emerge victorious by 15 votes.

State Races

Foard County voters gave Brooks a 742 to 290 vote majority over his opponent Culberson in the Railroad Commissioner's race. In the Chief Justice Supreme Court, in which Lattimore and Alexander were runoff opponents, Lattimore polled 576 votes to Alexander's 380 votes.

A. W. Lilly, candidate for sheriff, tax assessor-collector of Foard County, was unopposed in his runoff campaign and polled 1,069 votes.

Drive Opened to Get Feeding of Calves for Show Started

A drive is being started this week by County Farm Agent John Nagy and Marvin Myers, FFA chapter adviser, to get more boys in Foard County to feed out calves for the annual 4-H Club and FFA Project Show to be held in Crowell next March.

During the past three years, only a few boys, other than FFA members, have entered calves in the shows, but Mr. Nagy and Mr. Myers are striving to get more 4-H boys interested in beef production.

It is felt that this move will go far in giving a boy a good foundation in future feeding of livestock, and at the same time teach him the value of good stock. As has been shown in the past, a boy stands to make a profit if he handles and feeds his calf properly.

There has been some doubt in the past as to the eligibility to enter the show, but 4-H Club boys between the ages of 10 and 21 years, and all FFA boys, are eligible to place entries. FFA boys will feed out their calves as FFA projects and 4-H Club boys will work under the supervision of Mr. Nagy and Mr. Myers.

The two men stated that now is the time to start feeding calves to enter the show next year, and all boys who are interested in feeding calves should contact either of these men. They

Much progress has been made in the development of the new Gamble-Dickerson oil pool eight miles northeast of Crowell during the past week, as the Foster Petroleum Corporation's Mrs. Belle Allee No. 2 was brought in Tuesday and Thomason's E. M. Gamble No. 2 is to be prepared to be brought in the latter part of the week.

Much Gas in Well

The Allee No. 2 was finished this week with cable tools, but after the plug was drilled it did not come in satisfactorily, however, oil stood several hundred feet in the hole a short time after the plug was drilled.

One thousand gallons of acid were used in the hole Tuesday and oil blew in, but as yet an accurate test has not been made. It is estimated that the well is making from 8 to 10 million feet of gas, but an estimate as to the oil production has not been made. Tubing was placed in the hole to a depth of 2,360 feet. Casing pressure is 880 pounds.

Pay in this well is from 2,357-72 feet.

Tanks will be erected this week with work starting today.

The Allee No. 2 is 360 feet west of the discovery well, Gamble No. 1.

Gamble No. 2

The E. M. Gamble No. 2 was drilled to a depth of 2,353 feet with a rotary rig and pipe was set in the hole to a depth of 2,351 yesterday. The steel derrick was moved Tuesday, and a spudder will be set today, as the hole will be completed with cable tools.

College and Spend or Business and Earn?

Young Folks: Here Is the Answer

One of America's best known college presidents, Dr. Glenn Frank, has endorsed the educational program of the private business school for those not preparing for a professional career.

Roger Batsone says, "One of the great tragedies of American life is our common belief that everyone is suited to college training. There are hundreds in our colleges without desire, taste or capacity for what college has to offer.

Employers are agreed that the traditional liberal arts education alone is not preparation for business. Unless his liberal arts education has been strengthened with a technical training the academic graduate may be passed up by those whose business education enables them to offer specific service.

Dr. Link, Psychologist, author and educator, says, "It is a waste of time and money for a girl or boy to go to college unless they have a good reason for going. To get an education is not a good reason for going. To say, 'A very good test of education is: Will or can the student ever pay or help to pay for his education? If not should the parent pay for it?' Every boy and girl in the country should be made self-supporting? Especially the girl for there is no telling how early in life she may be thrown on her own resources.

The United States Bureau of Education reveals the startling fact that seven out of every ten young people who will hopefully launch themselves on a four-year college course this fall will never finish. The matter of health, or economic status, or lack of interest, or unfortunate choice of subjects—and many other reasons account for the fact that 70 per cent of the students drop out of our institutions of higher learning unprepared to earn a living. How, then, can one guard against this situation? The answer lies in attending a good Commercial College.

M. L. Frederick says, "My work for many years has been the employing and training of young folks for business. During this time I have observed that one can attract the attention of influential executives and learn about business from them much more promptly and effectively by beginning on a secretarial or stenographic assignment than by any other approach to a business career.

No school will give this practical training in a more thorough manner or in so short a time or at such low cost or on such liberal terms as the BYRNE COLLEGE and SCHOOL OF COMMERCE, Dallas, Texas.

C. E. Blevins of Thalia and J. C. Davis attended the Hardeman-Foard County Wolf Hunters Association meeting at Medicine Mound Thursday night. Supper was spread before sundown and there was plenty and to spare. The crowd was estimated at 200, about 60 being women and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Crisp, who were called here from Flagstaff, Ariz., on account of the serious illness of Mr. Crisp's father, A. W. Crisp, spent part of last week in this community, and Saturday morning and was buried in the Thalia cemetery Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church at Thalia.

Crop prospects are good but another rain would greatly benefit the growth and fruiting of cotton.

College and Spend or Business and Earn?

Young Folks: Here Is the Answer

One of America's best known college presidents, Dr. Glenn Frank, has endorsed the educational program of the private business school for those not preparing for a professional career.

Roger Batsone says, "One of the great tragedies of American life is our common belief that everyone is suited to college training. There are hundreds in our colleges without desire, taste or capacity for what college has to offer.

Employers are agreed that the traditional liberal arts education alone is not preparation for business. Unless his liberal arts education has been strengthened with a technical training the academic graduate may be passed up by those whose business education enables them to offer specific service.

Dr. Link, Psychologist, author and educator, says, "It is a waste of time and money for a girl or boy to go to college unless they have a good reason for going. To get an education is not a good reason for going. To say, 'A very good test of education is: Will or can the student ever pay or help to pay for his education? If not should the parent pay for it?' Every boy and girl in the country should be made self-supporting? Especially the girl for there is no telling how early in life she may be thrown on her own resources.

The United States Bureau of Education reveals the startling fact that seven out of every ten young people who will hopefully launch themselves on a four-year college course this fall will never finish. The matter of health, or economic status, or lack of interest, or unfortunate choice of subjects—and many other reasons account for the fact that 70 per cent of the students drop out of our institutions of higher learning unprepared to earn a living. How, then, can one guard against this situation? The answer lies in attending a good Commercial College.

M. L. Frederick says, "My work for many years has been the employing and training of young folks for business. During this time I have observed that one can attract the attention of influential executives and learn about business from them much more promptly and effectively by beginning on a secretarial or stenographic assignment than by any other approach to a business career.

No school will give this practical training in a more thorough manner or in so short a time or at such low cost or on such liberal terms as the BYRNE COLLEGE and SCHOOL OF COMMERCE, Dallas, Texas.

Fall Checkup of Tires Urged By Local Dealer

Nine-Day Buying Event Is Scheduled To Insure Good Treads for Wet Roads

For years it has been the custom of many a motorist, looking toward fall driving to use the period just preceding Labor Day to get his car ready for bad weather, since vacations for the most part are over and with them the long summer drives have ended. Looking to his car's battery, cables, ignition system and especially to tires, has become an annual routine. Coupled with this is the fact that tire engineers have proved through road and laboratory tests and observations, over a period of years, that when new tires are applied to automobiles in cool weather, their owners gain as much as 20 per cent longer wear from them, than would be the case were the tires applied in hot weather. Besides this, new tire treads are sharp and clear-cut, providing necessary protection against skidding on wet pavements prevalent in autumn. Important news to car owners this year, M. F. Crowell, local Goodyear dealer told The News in an interview this week, is that for a nine-day period only he will be able to offer Goodyear G-3 tires with the All-Weather Tread, that is protection against wet pavement skids, at a special price for the 6.00-16 size, which is what 70 per cent of the cars in service use. "When they learn the price, which is but $9.99, and that similar reductions apply to other G-3 sizes, those discerning car owners who want quality and appreciate it the more at lower prices, will certainly be interested. "The tires," Mr. Crowell explained, "are protected by a lifetime guarantee, and the price includes turning in the customer's old tires. "Despite the increase in tire prices which took place in July, this nine-day offer is a very unusual departure in merchandising," said Mr. Crowell, "but is being made to give car owners an opportunity to do their part in helping make fall highway driving safer, preventing those dangerous skids which are a big factor in the total accident toll." Local car owners are invited to make use of the no-obligation, no-charge tire inspection which is offered at Crowell Service Station to anyone who drives in for it. "Good tires with adequate treads is one way of insuring a reduction in highway accidents the rest of this year, by enabling drivers to stop their cars quickly when they need to," Mr. Crowell said.

1940 Marks 25th Anniversary First Paper Mill in U. S.

The year 1940, which is the 500th Anniversary of the invention of printing by Johann Gutenberg, is also the 250th Anniversary of the establishment of the first paper mill in what is now the United States. America's first colonial paper mill began operations in 1690 on the banks of a stream flowing into Wissahickon Creek, five miles from Philadelphia, on the present site of Germantown, Penn. It was built by William Rittenhouse and his son, Nicholas, emigrant paper makers from Holland, who were aided in their venture by William Bradford, early colonial printer sorely in need of a domestic paper supply, and other prominent colonists. After their first arrival in Philadelphia, three or four years before the establishment of the mill, the Rittenhouses, according to one of their last living descendants, dwelt in caves, during a part of the winter of 1687 and 1688, dug into the banks of the Delaware River. The mill remained in the Rittenhouse family for 120 years after its establishment and today a mill operated by successors of the Rittenhouses is still in operation near the same site. Chinese Invented Paper Had paper not been invented by the Chinese about the year 105 A. D. and spread to Europe, Gutenberg's invention of printing which made possible inexpensive books, magazines, and newspapers, it is generally agreed, might have passed into the limbo of sterile inventions. The early hand-written books, which involved several years of work for production of a single copy, were lettered on expensive and costly parchment. As it was, it took the art of papermaking more than a thousand years to reach Europe. The Moslems, represented by the all-conquering Arabs, wrested the secret of papermaking from Chinese papermakers they had captured in battle during the early part of the eighth century. Paper had then been a Chinese monopoly for some six hundred years, and the Moslems, by shutting off the trade routes to Europe, held it within the Moslem world for another 600 years. Harun-al-Rashid, the famous caliph of the Arabian Nights, was instrumental in the importation of papermakers to Bagdad in 793 A. D. Papermaking then moved slowly to Egypt, across the dark continent of northern Africa and finally reached Morocco in the twelfth century. Three mighty religions, Buddhism, Mohammedanism, and Nestorianism, helped the spread of paper and also delayed its arrival in the western world. Papermaking first fell into European hands by conquest when the ancient kingdom of Aragon captured the Moorish kingdom of Valencia, in Spain, about the year 1150. Even after that, the Aragonians allowed papermaking to remain in the hands of infidels, because of the value of the export trade. The earliest paper mill in Christendom was erected at Fabriano, in Italy, still an important paper manufacturing center, about the year 1270. By 1348 paper was being manufactured in France and in 1380 papermaking was introduced into Germany. It was fatefully fortunate that a few years prior to the start of Gutenberg's experiments with printing at Strasburg in 1436, a paper mill had been erected there. Papermaking was not introduced into England, the American colonial source of supply before the establishment of the Rittenhouse mill, until the end of the fifteenth century. Joint Celebrations Paper manufacturers throughout the United States, its possessions and Canada, are joining the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen and other graphic arts groups during 1940 in joint city-wide celebrations honoring the Anniversary of the establishment of America's first paper mill and the 500th Anniversary of Gutenberg's invention of printing. In principle, the process of papermaking differs little today, except for improvements in machinery and processes to increase production, from the methods employed by the early Chinese papermakers. Fundamentals of the papermaking technique call for the mixing up of disintegrated vegetable fibers with water. After the fibers have been mixed to a "soupy" consistency, the mixture was then—as now in the case of fine handmade papers—spread evenly over a screen or mold through which the water was drained off, leaving a film of matted fibers, which constitutes paper. The S. S. America, recently launched is the largest and fastest liner ever built in the Western Hemisphere. Its cost was $17,500,000. It is 723 feet long. American exports to the Scandinavian country fell off $29,000,000 the first month after the German invasion of Norway.

The 1940 lamb crop estimated at 32,729,000 head sets an all time record for the United States according to the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Pure Black Hull Seed Wheat We have a limited amount of pure Black Hull seed wheat at Crowell, Texas. This wheat will harvest around week to ten days earlier than the regular varieties. The best yields in Foard County were made from this seed in 1940, on a field of 160 acres, making an average of 33 bushels per acre. This wheat is especially bred for short, strong straw and will not grow tall. All this wheat was placed in our seed bins on a moisture test of twelve and one-half and under, was perfectly dry, and has been kept in excellent condition. This wheat will test 61 and 62 and protein 16 and better. This wheat has been run through our cleaner, oat cleaning machine, and is as clean as our machinery will make it. There is accumulated storage, weight loss in cleaning, freight charges, handling expense, so we are selling this wheat now for 90 cents per bushel. Prices subject to change without notice. All orders placed now will be accepted only with check attached. War is on and prices could change rapidly. All wheat bought now can be left in our elevator until November 15th without charges. We have, we think, the best stock of pure Black Hull short straw seed wheat in the state and all in the very best condition, but when the wheat leaves our elevators the risk is yours. We are planting all our own farms with this seed. Self Grain Company Crowell, Texas

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.—Psalms 1:1.

Fifty years ago there were no automobiles. Operations were rare. There were no radios or picture shows. There were no grapefruit. Milk shakes were the common drink. Farmers came to town for their mail. The popular diversion Sunday afternoon was to go down to the depot to see the train come in. Women wore tight shoes and tighter corsets. Skirts dragged the sidewalk. No one swatted flies. Few houses had screens on the windows. For a nickel one could put a pair of tubes in his ears and hear a phonograph record. Milk was five cents a quart or six quarts for a quarter. Bread was five cents a loaf or six loaves for a quarter. There were no relief programs. Every man supported his own family and made provisions for his own old age. Foreclosures were rare. Nearly every one walked to church and all children walked to school. Perhaps this is the reason there were fewer foreclosures. Gasoline was used only for cooking. The butcher thought nothing of throwing in, without cost, a liberal chunk of liver. Women's bathing suits had long skirts and the bathers wore cotton stockings. Women wore high top button shoes. Men wore congress shoes. Women wore knee length shorts in the peppiest chorus shows only.

This country will be better governed when government is made a science rather than a game of chance. Under our system men are elected to Congress to manage the nation and to deal with problems of far reaching import who could not manage a village grocer. Men are elected to state legislatures and to the office of governor who have never in their lives shown any evidence of possessing judgment, business ability, or knowledge of government. In most instances it is the best showman rather than the ablest candidate that is elected. If government were made a life study and only those qualified in its fundamentals and gifted with good judgment were permitted to run, the country would be more efficiently and better governed. It doesn't click with the general idea of democracy but it clicks with sound sense.

A newspaper does not print a crime story until it gets into court and becomes public property. Every newspaper knows a lot of good stories that never get into court and hence cannot be printed.

One of the weakest links in Hitler's scheme is that he will not permit his people or any of the people he has conquered to hear the truth over the radio. Time was when a people could be kept in ignorance of the truth but that time is past. There are too many ways for a people to learn the truth. Once they learn the truth they discover what a sham their leader is.

Most all the busy men we know expect to ease up one of these days and take a vacation. Come as they will, most of the funerals of men that we have attended were men who were planning to take a little time off before they died and take a vacation. Somehow they just never got around to it.

Those who are opposed to the preparedness program in this country would be the first to call upon the soldier boys in the event of an invasion to fight off enemy tanks with their bare hands and with insufficient guns and training.

We believe the pay of men who enlist in the National Guard should be increased or the pay of CCC enrollees materially reduced. There is no comparison when it comes to the two tasks. Either the CCC pay is entirely too low or the Guard pay is pitifully low.

Mr. Crisp was born in Graham County, N. C., on April 6, 1852, and was married to Miss Sarah Pilkinton in 1888. Fifteen children were born to this couple, twelve of whom survive. The family came to the Rayland community in 1903 where Mr. and Mrs. Crisp had resided since that time.

Mr. Crisp was converted and joined the Baptist Church at the age of 18 and was a deacon in the Rayland Baptist Church several years during his active life. He was of strong moral character and believed in practicing Christianity each day of his life. His examples of righteous living and influence will live long in the memories of his neighbors and friends in the community where he lived so long.

He is survived by the widow; twelve children, Mrs. Gene Page, Mrs. P. W. Neal, R. F. H. H. and E. W. Crisp of Thalia; Mrs. G. L. Pool of Sweeney; Mrs. T. A. French of Fredericksburg; H. N. French of Crowell; Post; U. S. and C. A. Crisp of Flagstaff, Ariz., all of whom were present for the funeral. Twenty-eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

We saw a cartoon some time ago which showed two sign posts out in the field some distance from the corner of the highway. One sign pointed north and one sign pointed south telling the traveler the way he should go.

At one time the signs had been located on the corner of the highway but a new highway had been laid out with one of those modern roads, sweeping curves that left the old sign posts at some distance from the corner out in the field. Here they stood surrounded by the tall weeds and sunflowers still bearing the legend that had been inscribed on them the day they were first put there.

All unheeded they continued valiantly to point the way to a stream of hurrying travelers who paid no attention to them. New signs had taken their place over on the new highway to which the traveling public gave all the attention, not even so much as noticing the old signs. In their day they had rendered a valuable service to those who traveled that way and had served to guide many a traveler safely to his destination.

But a new day had come. Instead of the slow leisurely moving horse and buggy, traffic moved in shining swiftly moving cars. The crowd paid no attention to the old signs. It seemed to know where it was going and needed no one to tell it.

The picture suggested to me the two old political parties, Democrat and Republican. For years they have stood at the crossroads pointing the way. For years the crowd followed their direction without question. The same old issues were offered each year and each year the voters took their choice of the way they would go.

But like the new highways and new signs the people have demanded new issues. Instead of the tariff and the bloody shirt there has come issues that more nearly relate to the life of the people. In the place of the tariff has come the revolutionary trade agreements, social welfare, old age pensions, secured bank deposits, and many forms of social legislation that reach down and touch the individual life and home.

The reactionaries of both old parties still stand at the cross roads shouting themselves hoarse to the passing crowds, seeking to call them back to their old ways. Pointing with alarm that the foundation and cardinal principles of the old parties are being forgotten. They would have the people believe that destruction and disaster lies ahead unless they come back to the old path and once more fight for the old principles.

Like the travelers on the highway who give scant heed to the old signs out in the field, the voters today give only passing attention to their appeals and continue on their way.

The party name doesn't mean as much as it used to. The question now is which set of leaders will come nearer bringing about the desired reforms in legislation which they feel is more fitted to present day needs. They are traveling the broad new highway. They are paying little attention to the old sign posts. They have the idea of the destination they wish to reach and they think they know how to reach it.

Margaret and Crowell Men to Play Softball Game Here Monday

(By Mrs. J. L. Farrar)

As an encore to the business men's softball game, which made such a hit with fans last week, the Margaret Outlaws will meet John Nagy's Killers under the lights here next Monday night. The Outlaw club will be composed of Margaret men and the Killers will be made up of Crowell men. Joe Russell and J. S. Owens Jr. are managers of the Outlaws.

The Killers were challenged after the game last week in which they were so victorious over Foster Davis' Sluggers.

Probable starting lineups are as follows: Margaret—Edd Dunn and Jim Owens, catchers; "Oak" McCurley, Walter Hysinger and John L. Hunter, pitchers; S. B. Middlebrook Jr., first base; Raymond Bell, second base; Raymond Bell, third base; Claud Orr, short stop; Clois Orr, roving short; Abb Dunn, left field; "Shorty" Orr, center field; "Bunny" Bledsoe, right field. Reserve—Buster Bledsoe.

LAST GAME TONIGHT

The schedule season of the league will be closed with the game between Margaret and the Crowell Oilers Thursday night. Margaret has already clinched the championship title for the league, having lost only one game this season and winning the first half.

It is being planned for a game between Margaret and a team picked from the Aces and Oilers to be played some time next week, however, complete plans have not yet been made.

In their last meeting of the scheduled season of the Foard County Softball League, the Margaret lads turned on full power in the late innings to drop the Crowell Aces 23 to 10.

Trailing by one run in the fourth inning, the heavy hitting Margaret crew turned loose with healthy blasts and aided by Ace errors quickly jumped back into the lead. They had things their own way after the third inning, as the Aces were unable to score until the last inning.

CCC Boys Are Not Trained in Combat Boys of the CCC have not been trained in the manual of arms and close order drill, but they have learned other things that make them too valuable to be sent to the front lines, according to a news release given The News by Mrs. R. G. Carroll, manager of the local relief office. Here are some of the accomplishments that make them soldiers already in fact, but not in name. First, they know how to live in barracks, under discipline as rigid as that of any army camp. Thousands of them know minutely the workings of an engine, how to tear it down and rebuild it quickly. Many of them are expert drivers of heavy tractors, which would make them skilled in driving army tanks. Many of them are telephone men, woodworkers, surveyors, or radio operators, and all know first aid. Even the day of a CCC enrollee parallels a day in the army, for they rise at 5:30 in the morning and go through calisthenics, stand for roll call in companies and are taken in trucks to work, coming in at 3:30 in the afternoon. At night, until 9:30, they attend school. The 1,500 camps now in existence have built 7,000 bridges, not to mention the telephone lines laid and the training that has been given 300,000 young men. Soldiers? No, for they do not know the technique of killing, but instead are specialists of vital importance to a war machine. Nagy's Team Defeats Sluggers in Softball Contest Last Week John Nagy's Killers out-slugged Foster Davis' Sluggers in their meeting under the lights at the softball field here last Friday night by a score of 36 to 6. Nagy's team took the lead in the first inning and were never threatened. One of the highlights of the game was when Jack Roberts took over the mound duties for the Killers late in the game. He lasted one full inning before being relieved, but while in the game he did not allow a run and struck out Jim Owens. Coming to the bat, Mr. Roberts blasted out a ground ball and reached first on an error. Later he scored. Stars of the game were Ed Dunn and Jim Owens who held down the catching spots, for the clubs. Both were deadly with the bat and turned in nice games behind the bat. The scorekeeper gave up trying to keep up with the hits and errors during the first inning, but following are the players with all or a part of their hits and scores: Killers—Ed Dunn, c, 3 hits and 5 runs; Guy Todd, p-ss, 2 hits and 4 runs; Marvin Myers, 1b, 3 hits and 5 runs; John Nagy, 2b-p, 3 hit and 5 runs; Tanner Billington, 2 hits and 4 runs; "Dock" Callaway, ss, 1 hit and 2 runs; Sewell Roy, sf, 2 hits and 1 run; Moody Bursey, lf, 2 hits and 2 runs; Ted Reeder, cf, 3 hits and 3 runs; George Self, rf, 2 hits and 4 runs; Harold Rea, rf-p, 1 hit; Jack Roberts, p, 1 run; J. Santa Fe to Sell Student Tickets at Reduced Rates

The sale of student railway tickets at especially reduced rates started Aug. 15 and will extend to October 8, according to announcement this week by H. C. Vincent, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe Railway. Pullman reductions will also obtain for the students on this arrangement.

"This exceptional fare for the benefit of all students is supported by all roads of the United States and Canada," Vincent asserted. The Pullman Company is joining this year in the student plan. It will lighten the load of school costs and entitle students to return to their homes any time during the Christmas or Easter holidays, or at the end of the school term.

Especially reduced fares to aid travel over the Labor Day week-end are planned by Texas railroads, Mr. Vincent also announced this week. A round-trip coach fare for the price of a one-way coach fare, plus twenty-five cents, to and from any points served in Texas and Louisiana is to be the basis of the holiday travel.

The total income of Americans during 1939 was $69,400,000,000 according to the Department of Commerce. If the present ratio of gains continue in 1940 the income will total 75 billion which is only 7 billions short of the 1929 peak.

Highways By-Passing Towns Discussed by Charles E. Simons

Austin.—The old controversy over the advantages and disadvantages, the justness and the injustices, the economy or lack of economy in by-passing smaller cities with arterial highways was waxed violently back and forth over Texas and other states. Charles E. Simons turns the spotlight on a by-pass route being constructed by the Texas Highway Department around San Marcos. His article, "For Comfort, Safety and Convenience," appears in the August issue of Texas Parade.

"The contention is held by some," he writes, "that it is of small advantage to traffic to by-pass a city with through traffic, that it is rank injustice to the respective business houses that draw a portion of their trade from that portion of the traveling public that travels by highway, that it doesn't save anybody anything. 'Others have argued that it is an imposition to force through traffic to go any place it doesn't want to go, especially through the winding and narrow streets of many of our smaller towns and villages, that it constitutes a distinct traffic hazard both to the motorist and to the resident of the village, that it costs him more in wear and tear and gasoline and oil and that it also costs, in the aggregate, much time that could be saved."

"The author has listened attentively to both sides of the argument and has reached some very definite conclusions. Speaking solely for himself and with no intent to persuade those whose opinions dictate an opposing viewpoint, he always has gone back to the principle that the traveling public foots the bill for the construction of a highway; that it is, in a very real sense, his highway for which he has paid a heavy toll; that he, as the user of the highway who has paid dearly for it, is the main person to be considered in arriving at any decision concerning the traffic facility; that he is, in the mass, the sole and exclusive reason for the construction of the highway in the first place and that he has, if anyone does have, the exclusive vested interest in it."

"This line of reason refutes the argument that a person who has constructed his business along an established artery of travel has a vested interest in the road and in the traffic that goes over it. This line of reasoning holds the view that the highway traveler was responsible for the road and the business, both, and that both should be subservient to his safety, convenience and comfort."

"The Texas Highway Department has started the construction of a by-pass route around San Marcos in U. S. Highway 81, one of the two most important roads in Texas. There was much opposition to the construction of this by-pass, or 'alternate route' as the more soft-spoken designate it. The officials and the business houses of San Marcos fought it for years. There was even a neat bit of legislative work done several years ago. For these many years, vehicles using Highway 81 were forced to wind a dangerous, tortuous way through the outskirts of San Marcos, across three dangerous railroad crossings, through the main part of the business section. Often the business section was badly congested, particularly on Saturday afternoons and evenings. The through traffic was forced to breast the hazard of heavy local vehicle traffic and of heavy pedestrian movements. The local vehicular traffic was forced into conflict with the through traffic and the local pedestrians were forced to jump either and yon."

"The plan being carried out with respect to the San Marcos cut-off will give the through traffic a straight shoot from north to south. The distance will be reduced by six-tenths of a mile. The average saving in time per vehicle is estimated at 10 minutes. A modern traffic circle will be installed at the south end of the cut-off to serve the traffic using Highway 123, which extends from San Marcos to Seguin. Another traffic circle will be installed where the highway to Luling intersects Highway 81. "A considerable portion of the by-pass will provide four lanes of traffic, reducing the possibility of serious collisions. "Traffic counts taken by the State-Federal Highway Planning Survey show that an average of 2,600 cars daily travel over the present road, both north and south of the city. It is estimated that at least 75 per cent of this volume is through traffic which would not go through San Marcos unless forced to. This is equal to 2,000 vehicles per day. The saving in distance to these vehicles of six-tenths of a mile amounts to a total in mileage of 1,200 miles daily. On the basis of a year's travel, this saving reached the staggering figure of 438,000 miles. Computed on an average cost of five cents per mile, the monetary saving to the traffic using this highway will be $21,900 per year. "There is another economic factor of great importance to the local citizens of San Marcos. The cost of the project will amount to $237,000. Most of this money

Christian Science Services "Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 1. The Golden Text is: "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power; who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him" (Acts 10:38). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master fully and eddily demonstrated divine Science in his victory over death and the grave. Jesus' deed was for the enlightenment of men and for the salvation of the whole world from sin, sickness, and death" (page 45).

will go directly to laborers on the project and will find its way into the cash registers of the local merchants of San Marcos for groceries, rent, clothing and other items of daily purchase. The business these expenditures will generate in San Marcos will offset for many years any temporary loss the city's business establishments might sustain from the loss of trade with through traffic. "All of which goes to prove that construction of modern, safe highway facilities is just good business."

Our Weekly Sermon

By William M. Lessel, Assistant to the Director of the Mailing and Service Bureau, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Our Prayer Life How often we rise in the morning, rush through the personal preparations for the day's work, eat only half of our breakfast, grab our hat and coat, and rush out of the house as our wife or mother holds open the door. Similar conditions of hustle and bustle hold true in the evening after the day's work is done.

This picture of the average working man or woman serves to illustrate the excuse many Christians use for not finding time for morning worship and evening prayer. Now, the many things we do, are not done because we have time, but rather because we want to do them, or they must be done from necessity. We see therefore that we can find time to pray regardless of the complexities and perplexities of the day, if we have a real desire to seek our Father's face.

Martin Luther, the great man of God who literally brought nations to the foot of the Cross, amid his extremely busy life, had this to say on the question: "I have so much work to do today that I cannot get along on less than three hours of prayer." How many Christians today spend three hours—or even thirty minutes—in prayer? But therein lay Luther's great strength.

Throughout the Word of God we are called to pray. "Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation" (Matt. 26:41). "Men ought always to pray, and not to faint" (Luke 18:1). "I will therefore that men pray everywhere" (Tim. 2:8). "And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he (Jesus) went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed" (Mark 1:35). "We went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God" (Luke 6:12). "In the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up" (Ps. 5:3).

Christ's life on earth was one of unceasing prayer. He prayed at His baptism. He prayed before He chose His disciples. He prayed at the time of His transfiguration. He prayed at the tomb of Lazarus. He prayed at the Last Supper. He prayed in the Garden of Gethsemane. He prayed while hanging on the cross. If Christ, the only sinless man, found prayer so necessary in His life, how much more do we need to "pray without ceasing."

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

The Final Test of A Christian: I have heard many definitions of a Christian man, a religious man. Some define a religious and a Christian man as a man who is a faithful member of a church, who contributes to the church and to missions, who attends all services, and who reads and studies his Bible. I think that a good Christian should, and perhaps would do all of these things. They would be a part of his life, but I believe that a man can do all of these things and still not be a very good Christian. He can attend every service, read and study his Bible diligently, pray fluently, contribute generously to the local church and to missions, even to the tenth of his income, and still not be a very good Christian. In fact, some of the poorest Christians I have known did all of these things in full measure. I think the best test of a Christian is how he treats his fellow men, those with whom he comes in contact daily. If he is little, and petty, and mean, and hateful, and despicable, and dishonest, he is no Christian no matter what his professions or his religious practices are. If he is kind, considerate, generous, charitable, courteous, thoughtful, sober, industrious and tolerant he rates high in my estimation as a Christian. He is living Christ in his daily life.

Cook and Mrs. Tom Ditto of Bowie, brothers and sisters of Mrs. White; Mrs. Laura Childs, Alvord; Mrs. Clara Scivally, Fort Worth, and Mrs. John Brown, Wichita Falls, sisters of Mr. White; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Brown and baby, Wichita Falls; Mrs. G. E. Shultz and daughter, Wichita Falls, and the following children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. White: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pulliam of Vega, Mr. and Mrs. Jack White and son of Matador, Mr. and Mrs. Homer White and son, Mr. and Mrs. Clint White and two daughters, Joyce and Barbara, and Miss Idura White, all of Crowell.

From 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon open house was held for many friends of the couple. A large three-tiered wedding cake occupied the center of the dining table. A horseshoe for good luck and a miniature bride and groom were used in decoration as well as were marigolds in profusion. The daughters-in-law served the cake with punch to the guests. A pretty guest register and memory book combined held the names of more than 75 guests. Informal entertainment was enjoyed throughout the afternoon. Many lovely gifts were received by the honor guests. The living room was decorated with large bouquets of gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. White were married in Bowie, Montague County, on August 24, 1890, and came to Foard County in 1906. Mrs. White was born in Longview and moved to Montague County with her parents when she was a young girl. Two brothers, V. V. Overstreet of Weatherford, and two sisters, Mrs. Edna Roberts of Amarillo and Mrs. B. A. Green of Oklahoma City, were unable to attend the celebration.

Mr. White was born in Grayson County. The town of Whitesboro was named for his grandfather, A. B. White, who built the first residence there.

Mr. and Mrs. White reside on the same section of land upon which they have lived since they came to this county.

Miss Elsie Cook Becomes Bride of F. K. Harrell Jr.

The wedding of Miss Elsie Cook to Mr. Frank Kendrick Harrell Jr., of Jal, N. M., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. N. Cook Friday afternoon, 25, at 4:30 o'clock, with Rev. Paul J. Merrill of Henrietta performing the marriage rites. Only the immediate family of the bride and a few close friends were present.

The home was attractive with greens and flowers. The marriage was performed under an archway between the living room and dining room. Tall white candles burned on either side of a lovely arrangement of asters on the lace-covered dining table. The ring ceremony was used by Rev. Merrill, a close friend of the family for many years.

Present for the occasion were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Killingsworth of Paducah, Miss Bernice Morley of Quanah; George Cook, brother of the bride, and Jimmie Tom Cates.

For her marriage, Mrs. Harrell wore a black and white ensemble with black crepe dress and white lace blouse and a short velvet jacket. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Harrell was reared to womanhood in Crowell. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cook and of Mrs. I. M. Cates. She was graduated from Crowell High School in 1934. She worked for Kellogg's Variety store for one year following her graduation, then for Speer's Store. Following that, she was in the ladies' ready-to-wear business here. She returned to Speer's store and after another year there, was employed at Bird's Dry Goods Store. She has been manager of a Speer's store in Jal, N. M., for the past ten months.

Mr. Harrell is the son of Frank Kendrick Harrell Sr., of Sanderston. He is in the employ of the El Paso Natural Gas Co., in field construction work in the oil field area of Southeastern New Mexico. The couple will reside in Jal.

Immediately following the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cates were hosts to the members of the wedding party at a reception at their home. The Cates home was attractively decorated with red and white flowers, the chosen colors of the bride. Angel-food cake and punch were served by the hostess.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When washing spinach a handful of salt added to the water will help make the sand sink to the bottom of the pan.

Raw or cooked cauliflower flowerets and canned string beans are tasty additions to spring salads.

Redskin Owner Says Dick Todd Is Best Back

He Can Do More Things Better, Marshall States

Here's the first story about Dick Todd received in Crowell since he left several weeks ago to join his football team, the Washington Redskins, at the training camp in Spokane, Washington, and it contains an interview of George Marshall, owner of the Redskins, in which he strongly acclaims Dick as the greatest all-around back with the Indians.

Following is the interview which appeared in a Spokane newspaper:

"Spokane, Wash., Aug. 19.—Now that Frankie Filchock's safety within the fold, it isn't a case of sour grapes when Owner Geo. Marshall goes on record with the statement that Dick Todd, not flinching Frank, is the best all-around trainer back among the Redskins.

"Aware that he's running counter to the opinion of the majority of the players who steadfastly maintain that Filchock is the tops, Marshall not only sticks to his belief, but goes a step—and a big step it is—farther.

"Show me a better back in all pro football," George declares in a tone breathing defiance. "A back who can do more things, or as well."

"A year ago, the Indians' chieftain was saying that Sammy Baugh was the greatest football player of all time, not excluding Jim Thorpe, Bronk Noagurski, Dutch Clark or the like. He still thinks it, stating that no man ever has been able to direct the destiny of a game any more completely than Baugh, who could change the complexion of the battle within the space of a few seconds.

Todd Fearless Tackler
"But because Todd shows such an intense desire to play, because he wants to be in the thick of action at all times and because he can do so many things in superior style, he gets Marshall's current vote as the most valuable back with the Burgundy and Gold.

"Where, I ask you, can you get a better runner, a better kicker, a better passer or—and don't overlook this—a better tackler in one man than in Dick Todd? He's so elusive, once he gets the ball, that a tackler not only has trouble getting to him, but has a tough time holding onto him when he does."

"Where can you find a longer or more accurate punter? I'll stack him up against any in the business. And if it weren't for the fact that we have the best passer football's ever known, Todd would earn universal acclaim as a passer. And, despite the kid's matchlike frame (he's only 170 pounds), he's absolutely fearless as a tackler."

Starred Against Packers
"Just recall some of the things he did last year. The way he made those Brooklyn Dodgers resemble a second-rate team. The way he kicked against the Packers, even in the rain with a sodden ball. The number of times he completed passes when Sammy wasn't in there."

"And the way he stood out in his position as safety man, as a tackler when he was all we had between an opposing ball carrier and the goal line." (We still shudder at the time big Cecil Isbell was heading for Todd and the last white line, only to be amazed at the way little Dick took the big Packer completely off his feet with one of the greatest tackles we ever saw).

"Frankly," Marshall continued, "there's only one man in football today I can compare to him—Ace Parker. But Dick's a few years younger than the Ace and has more speed."

Inspires His Teammates
"Conceptually, I believe the players themselves, unconsciously pep up when Dick's going to carry the ball. He's easily the most popular man on the squad and there's nothing they wouldn't do for him. Consequently, when his signal is called, they open holes big enough for wagons to go through, even though Dick needs only the space for a bicycle."

"If the words of any booster ever have been borne out, it is those written by Todd's trainer at Texas A. & M.: 'All you have to do with Todd,' this proven sage advised, 'is to call his signal, give him the ball—and school is out.' 'I'm thinking that classes are going to be dismissed again this year with increasing regularity,' Marshall concluded, mirthfully."

Runs Wild In Practice Game
As though backing up Marshall's statements, in an intra-squad game last week, Dick intercepted a pass and streaked 87 yards for a touchdown, and a short time later took the ball on a running play and galloped over 30 yards for a second touchdown.

Fatalities from farm accidents still number about 4,400 a year. The country's total cash loss from accidents, including death, injury, loss of time, etc., has been estimated at 2 1/2 billion dollars annually, with from 27 per cent to 35 per cent of this loss on farms.

RECEIVES DEGREE

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Banister and son, Harold, and daughter, Miss Marjorie, and Mrs. Banister's father, J. G. Thompson, of the Thalia community attended the graduating exercises of the North Texas State Teachers College in Denton the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Banister's son, Billie Banister, received his B. S. degree from the college. He had sung with the college's A Cappella Choir, directed by Dr. Albert Bain, for the past two summers. For the past seven years he has taught in the Nocona school system where he directed band and high school choruses. This year he will go to East Mountain, near Longview, where he will teach band exclusively in a consolidated school system. This school band has won national honors for three years and was chosen as the official band of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce last year.

Bryan Banister, who had attended the Denton college during the summer, returned home with his parents. J. G. Thompson remained for a visit with relatives in Collin County. Miss Eunice Banister of Fort Worth, also attended the commencement exercises and visited with her family there.

Another increase in import duties on tobacco products by the United Kingdom makes the tax on a package of cigarettes there about 20 cents as compared to 6.5 cents in the United States. The increase is the fourth since April, 1939.

Football "Down-Under"

All kinds of football—the kind played in America and the soccer and rugby of the Old World—are known to Australia. But Australia has developed a variety of the sport all its own, and people who have compared it with others declare it is equal if not superior to them in all that makes a game good to watch and to play. Some day, we hope, it will become international.—Secretary L. H. McBrien, Victoria Section, of the Australian National Football Council, writing in the current Rotarian Magazine.

The S. S. America, recently launched, is the largest steamship ever built in America. It will make its maiden cruise August 10, to the West Indies. The new luxury liner weighs 26,000 tons.
