Primary for District Offices Closed Monday, June 3

Cossett, Ripley and McFarlane In Race for Congress Office

The deadline for district candidates filing for places on the primary ballot to be used on Monday night was closed Monday morning with the closing of the offices, according to information released Tuesday morning by J. Roberts, Foard County Democratic Chairman.

County Deadline June 15

The deadline for county candidates filing for ballot positions is Saturday night, June 15. To date, only one aspirant has filed his name with the county office. There have been no candidates announced for the various offices.

Three in Congressional Race

In the last-minute entrance to the race for Representative in the U. S. Congress, 13th Congressional District, there are three candidates who have filed their names with the county chairman.

The first candidate to announce his name was Ed Gossett of this office who is seeking re-election as the Representative in this district after defeating McFarlane two years ago.

The third candidate in this race is Charles H. Ripley of Wichita Falls.

Either of the three candidates might make a formal announcement in this county, but they have not done so.

Four Seek Sheriff's Job

Ed Scates, candidate for sheriff and tax assessor-collector of Foard County, is the only local man to file his name with the county chairman, however, Lewis J. Jimmie Franklin, Jesse D. King, and A. W. Lilly, who are seeking re-election, have announced as candidates for that office.

Two In Judge's Race

Leslie Thomas, Crowell attorney and Claude Callaway, incumbent, are the only two candidates who have announced for the office of county judge.

Two Treasurer Candidates

Mrs. Ruth Marts and Miss Lottie Bell are the only persons seeking the office of county treasurer. Margaret Curtis has announced that she would not seek the office in the coming election.

Ten In Commissioners' Races

Ten men have entered the races for the four precinct commissioners. Two of the present commissioners, E. G. Grimsley of Precinct No. 2, and Hartley Easton of Precinct No. 4, are unopposed in their races for re-election.

One of the most closely watched races in the county is that for precinct No. 1 where five candidates are seeking the commission. They are A. B. Wiseman, W. G. Chapman, E. H. (Dick) Moore, Roy C. Todd and J. C. Taylor.

J. A. Stovall and H. E. Ferguson are unopposed in their races for re-election to the offices of county and district clerk and justice of the peace, respectively.

Foster Davis is also unopposed in his campaign for re-election as county attorney.

Three for Public Weigher

Another race that has more than two candidates and in which runoff will probably be needed is that for Public Weigher, Precinct No. 1, in which Frank Moore, incumbent, W. E. Higgs and S. H. (Henry) Ross have announced.

Roberts Without Opponent

Grady Roberts of Munday is his only opponent in his campaign for re-election to the lower House of the Legislature from the 114th District. Mr. Roberts was elected to that office two years ago.

Four In D. A.'s Race

Another race which will be given much attention by the voters of Foard County is that for the office of District Attorney of the 11th Judicial District in which T. S. Rodgers of Quanah, Curtis Denton, R. R. Donaghey and Jesse News, incumbent, all of Vernon, are entered.

A. J. Foley of Floyd County, who is seeking re-election as Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the 7th Supreme Judicial District, has also filed for place on the ballot.

Farmers Asked to Return Chains, Farm Levels to AAA Office

County Agent John Nagy and A. V. Sheppard, administrative assistant, are asking farmers of the county who have farm levels and surveyors' chains to return them to the Crowell office before June 15.

The chains must be in the office on or before that date as they will be needed in checking farms of the county for general compliance. The deadline for loaning of a chain has been set for June 12.

Mr. Nagy stated that one farmer has had a farm level for about three months and, as no record is kept of who borrows the levels, the name of the person in question is not known but he is asked to return the level.

Foard County News Appreciates Job Work

For the past two weeks The News' job printing department has been very busy supplying the Crowell grain elevators with their printing needs necessary to take care of the wheat harvest that was started the first of the week.

The News feels fortunate and deeply grateful for the privilege of taking care of the printing needs of the three home grain elevators and, we believe, three of the best grain elevators to be found in West Texas. These elevators are equipped to take care of the needs of Foard County wheat farmers and they always do it in a manner that is satisfactory to their customers.

We have had occasion in the past to ask neighboring printers if they were getting any grain elevator printing and the answer invariably has been that the printing for their local elevators was being done by an out-of-town printer.

In learning that this is true in towns larger than Crowell, it makes us doubly appreciative of the confidence placed in us by our local elevator managers in permitting us to do their printing, believing that we will do as good a job as an out-of-town printer and at a reasonable price.

Change in Mail Service is Made Here This Week

Routes to Receive Mail Every Morning; Train Time Changed

A change in the mail service for the people who are served on the routes from the Crowell postoffice was inaugurated on Saturday, June 1.

The mail carriers now leave the postoffice at 9 o'clock every morning and are back at the office by 11:45 o'clock. The old schedule called for the carriers to leave the office at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoons and return at 4 o'clock.

There has also been a slight change in the arrival of the northbound train. The northbound train now arrives in Crowell at 1:30 p. m. instead of 1:03 p. m. The southbound train still arrives in Crowell at 3:03 p. m.

The change in the route carriers' schedule was made at the same time the schedule for the northbound train was changed.

Postmaster Alva Spencer stated that the change would give the people living on the routes better service as the bulk of the daily mail, which includes first class mail and newspapers, arrive by bus at 8 a. m. This mail is delivered within a few hours after its arrival and mail from the routes will leave the postoffice the same day it is mailed instead of having to lay over about 17 hours before leaving the postoffice.

S. S. Bell Brings First Load of Wheat To Crowell Saturday

Foard County's 1940 wheat harvest season was opened on Thursday, May 30, when the first load of new wheat was delivered in Crowell from the S. S. Bell farm a short distance west of the city. The wheat was bought by the Self Grain Company of Crowell and Mr. Bell received a premium price of one dollar per bushel for this first load. This grain was of the early black hull variety and is expected to yield 18 or 20 bushels per acre.

Last season, the first load of new wheat arrived in Crowell on May 30, the exact date of this year's first load.

Over 600,000 Bushels Estimated

Wheat men of Foard County think this year's wheat crop is one of the best for Foard County since 1937 and estimate that between 600,000 and 650,000 bushels will be harvested. There were a little more than 47,000 acres planted to wheat in the county this year. These figures will place the average yield at between 13 and 15 bushels per acre.

It was estimated that between 20 and 25 days would be required to gather the crop, provided favorable weather conditions prevail, in spite of the fact that a lot of the grain will not be ripe enough to harvest until June 15.

Over 40,000 Bushels

According to figures released by the elevators of the county Wednesday afternoon, approximately 43,000 bushels of 1940 wheat had been delivered to the elevators in Crowell, Foard County and Margaret since harvest started last Saturday.

The flow of wheat into the elevators during these past few days has been comparatively slow but it is expected that the rush season of the harvest will start within the next day or two and be in full swing by this time next week.

High Yields Being Reported

Some unusually high yields have been reported during the first several days of the harvest, however, the highest is that of Mack Gamble who reported that he gathered 33 bushels per acre from a part of his farm west of Thalia last Monday. Correct figures for the whole patch could not be obtained as a part of the wheat was stored in a granary.

The lowest yield to be reported so far is about 10 bushels, however, the majority of the yield being reported ranges between 15 and 25 bushels per acre.

Good Tests

The elevators report that the majority of the wheat now being delivered is testing as No. 1 wheat, 60 pounds or more, with some testing as high as 64 pounds per bushel. The lowest tests recorded were 52 pounds and two loads of this wheat was turned down by an elevator because it was too wet to store.

Some Wheat Damaged

With the exception of two small wind storms which brought hail and short dry spells, weather conditions for the crop this year have been very favorable, but during these two hail storms some wheat was damaged.

Gordon Bell reports thirty per cent hail damage on 150 acres of wheat and Zeke Bell reports 47 per cent on 170 acres. Others reported to have suffered hail damage are George Cates, J. A. Bell and Robert Long.

About the middle of last week, Foard County experienced a migration of harvest hands, combines and wheat trucks who came to seek work in the harvest. By Monday morning the court house square in Crowell was nearly encircled by combines and trucks, however, a large part of the combines and trucks have already been put to work in harvesting the crop and a large number of the truck drivers still idle report that they have jobs lined up for the near future.

The Foard County Mill received its first load of 1940 wheat from Millard Rader of Foard City on Friday, May 31. Mr. Rader was paid a ten cent per bushel premium on this load. The Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator received its first load on Saturday, June 1, and this wheat was stored.

Permanent Recovery of Agriculture Most Needed, Says Hines

Cuero, May 6.—(Special)—It is a definite function of the State government to aid in solving the agricultural and tenant farmer problem in Texas, Harry Hines, candidate for Governor, said in an address here Monday night. He pledged himself to take the lead, if elected, to help work out the problem.

Hines, former chairman and a member of the State Highway Commission, was principal speaker at a mass meeting of citizens and farmers of this region at Municipal Park here.

Agriculture still is the basic industry in Texas, Hines pointed out, and added that while his discussion dealt generally with conditions affecting farming, ranching, citrus growing and the other phases of agriculture, "the problem vitally concerns city residents because today agriculture's condition directly affects the welfare of our cities and towns greater than ever before."

As Governor, Hines declared he would work and co-operate closely with the State Department of Agriculture, the several agricultural organizations of Texas, outstanding farm and ranch authorities of colleges, practical farmers, ranchers and citrus growers, business men, bankers and Federal agricultural leaders with the view of Texas finding a solution for State agricultural recovery that will prove permanent.

"Texas, the mighty State that it is, has the power and capacity and influence to carry the agricultural recovery banner for the nation," he said.

Hines declared "the first helping hand" he would, as Governor extend to the farmer is "a sensible, workable new tax revenue program, which I have recommended. I propose we raise 15 million dollars new revenue to pay old age pensions, aid to the needy blind, dependent children, teachers' retirement, and our other State obligations and necessary projects—and not the enormous tax burden of 50 or 60 millions of dollars that the 'professional promoter' and the other candidates for Governor have urged."

He said he would always oppose placing a transactions, receipts, or any sales tax on the farmer or laborer.

"This practical 15 million dollar plan I have recommended," Hines added, "not only will pay our just State obligations without another two years or more of delay, but by paying old age pensions and the other debts we will aid conditions in both rural and city regions. This money will go into circulation and will materially help conditions in the farm, ranch, citrus and other agricultural sections since many of our aged folks live in those sections."

Hines asserted that the "most distressing and urgent problem of our farm situation we must tackle and work out is the plight of the small and tenant farmer driven into towns and cities by our agricultural conditions." He said there are 350,000 of roaming, tenant farmers in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Kenney and daughter, Mary Alice, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Black, Thursday and Friday.

C. C. Browning and John Black went to Clovis last Saturday on business.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. — Matthew 5:16.

Adolf Hitler differs from Stalin of Russia in the respect that Stalin claims his reason for invading Finland was that Finland was preparing to invade Russia. Hitler claimed that his reason for invading Norway, Denmark, Belgium and the Netherlands was to prevent the English from invading them. The effect in either case is the same. The countries mentioned are being torn up by a war in spite of their neutrality and their desire to remain out of war.

It is very evident that during the past twenty years Germany has not only been preparing for war by building airplanes and guns and tanks, she has also been training men. Guns, airplanes and tanks can be built by the Allies in a hurry but men cannot be trained in a hurry. If the world escapes Hitler this time it should never make the mistake of failing utterly to prepare again.

The individual is the expression of his mind. If he is petty and narrow he has a petty and narrow mind. If he is ruthless and greedy and selfish he has a selfish and a ruthless and greedy mind. Taken as a whole the conduct and actions of a man reveal his mind. They are its visible expression. The individual lives his mind. His work, whether it is excellent, good, poor, shiftless, sloppy or careless is the product and the expression of his mind. It is not necessary to be a mind reader to know individuals. Their work, the manner in which it is done, their conduct, is a visible record of their mind, that anyone who cares to, may read.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin. — A short sharp "blitzkrieg" type of campaign, with surprises and rapid-fire developments during the last four or five weeks of the campaign, was the prospect in the race for Governor of Texas at the weekend.

Former Governor Dan Moody, in whose behalf a petition and the $100 filing fee were filed with State Democratic Chairman Germany, held the answer to one big campaign riddle as he declared he would decide within a few days, whether to let his name stand, or withdraw it. His Georgetown friends "drafted" him as a candidate. Moody has been flirting with the idea for weeks, but had about decided not to run, it is generally understood. Twice Governor, once victor of Mrs. Ferguson, the red-haired lawyer has built up a very lucrative law practice. He had retired definitely from politics, and but for the fact that he was outraged at the treatment accorded his life-long friend Claude Teer, member of the Board of Control who committed suicide last fall, by Gov. O'Daniel and his political henchmen, would probably have never considered running for Governor again.

Teer's Death Irks Dan Moody, according to a well-authenticated story in Austin at the time, called on Gov. O'Daniel, with whom he had been quite friendly, during the time Teer was confined to a hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown. Moody accompanied Dr. Johnson, superintendent of the San Antonio State Hospital to the Governor's office and they asked O'Daniel to put at rest rumors then current that O'Daniel wanted to remove Teer from office, because his illness kept him away from his job for several weeks. O'Daniel, so the story goes, not only refused to reassure Teer, so that his recovery might be speeded, but insulted Johnson and Moody, and threatened to try to remove Teer from office by court action. Moody, the story goes, replied hotly to the Governor, challenged him to go to court, on the removal of Teer, and left the office in high dudgeon. Two days later, accompanied by political hangers-on, he "interviewed" him, Teer, with his mental balance upset by worry, took his own life. Moody, according to his friends, has been extremely bitter toward O'Daniel

The Answer to Reduced Acreage

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Associate Editor Farm and Ranch

A good many cotton growers are making about as much cotton on a smaller acreage as they made before the government program compelled acreage reduction. Higher acre yields mean lower costs per pound, which enhances the chances for profit, whatever the price may be. The Old South is getting better yields by fertilization, both by turning under green manure crops, and the use of commercial fertilizer. The same methods are practical for a large part of the Southwest, but are not adapted to the western cotton belt. Texas and Oklahoma particularly, and Arkansas and Louisiana to a degree, are penalized in the AAA allotments on account of past low yields. Until the law and its administrative rulings are re-written, the only offset the Southwestern cotton grower can make to the low allotments, is to increase his acre yields by every means within economic reason.

There is one factor of lowered yields which most of the cotton south has in common—the insect problem. The Southwest has not paid as much attention to bugs as has the Old South, resting on the assumption that climatic conditions here make insects a minor problem. The "rain belt" cotton farmers, on the other hand, knew that insects had to be controlled and the better ones adopted pest control as a regular program, along with weed control and fertilization. The result is that the Southwest is now losing more cotton to insects than is the Old South.

It goes without saying that the practical cotton grower does not plant a crop and leave it to be taken by weeds. Why, then, should we stop short of doing all the economically sound things that will raise the yield. Why treat the insect problem as an "act of God" and do nothing, while we plow, hoe and sweat to bring the crop along to harvest? Weeds are also providential—that is they are a natural growth which we do not leave to nature or Providence. It is doing only half a job to prepare the ground, plant good seed, and cultivate, without also keeping down insect losses. Fortunately we seldom have all the insects in one season, else we would have been out of the cotton business. Fortunately also, insect losses are not serious in every season. But seasons unfavorable to the crop itself, and its potential yields are lowered by factors beyond our control. Dry seasons are also unfavorable to weeds, but we don't stop plowing on that account. In such seasons ever since, and if he decides to run for Governor, this feeling, coupled with a belief that somebody ought to make a sacrifice to defeat the flour salesman, and give Texas a Governor with ability and experience in public affairs, during the critical world war situation, will be the factor that influences him. Moody made one of the most enviable records of any Texas governor in recent years. He enjoyed the confidence and admiration of thousands of Texans, for his high moral character and his statesmanlike qualities. The fact that he has represented some large corporations in oil litigation since he abandoned public life, may influence his race, if he makes one, adversely with the large pension and high tax advocates. But Moody is a capable campaigner, and if he runs for Governor, the race will take on color and enlist public interest, undoubtedly, something that it has lacked to date.

Meanwhile, Ernest Thompson told friends he would formally file his application for a place on the ballot on Monday, the last filing day.

Warm Congress Race Over in East Texas, where Dick Waters of Texarkana is waging a hot campaign against Congressman Patman on the issue in the campaign has been neatly dramatized by Waters. At his meeting, he holds up a can of baking powder, and points out that Patman's proposed Federal chain-store tax bill, designed to put the chain stores entirely out of existence, would make it illegal to sell the can of baking powder at less than 25 cents, the manufacturer's advertised price. It now sells for 19 cents. Patman is seeking his sixth term. Waters, an Alfred stalwart, served as State Casualty Insurance Commissioner, and made a good record. He also lambasts Patman in every speech for the latter's alleged connection with the McKesson-Robbins wholesale drug firm, charging Patman received from this company up to $300 each for speeches he made in favor of the Robinson-Patman Act. Waters' friends say he is making visible headway in his efforts to oust the veteran Texarkana congressman.

On Tuesday night, the Oilers tackled the Rayland lads and little difficulty in winning. Taking advantage of the wildness of Rayland's pitchers, the Oilers took a lead in the first frame, were never in danger throughout the remainder of the fray.

Benjamin Bows to Margaret Appearing under the ace the first time since hanging up their first half championship, the Margaret players met Benjamin Friday night in a free-scoring. The lead changed about four times during the game, but the Margaret team managed to push one run across the plate in the 11th inning to win by a comfortable margin.

This was Benjamin's second appearance on the Crowell field, they recently blasted the Aces with a lop-sided score.

Boston, Mass., June 3. An appeal for calm and more faith in the face of present world turmoil, featured the gathering here today of thousands of Christian Scientists for all over the world for the annual meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

"Trusting in the omnipotence of God," said Harry C. Browne, First Reader of The Mother Church in reading a message from The Christian Science Board of Directors, "enables one, through demonstration, to enjoy the freedom of thought resulting from the unfolding of the characteristics of divine Mind as expressed by Christ Jesus.

"Becoming cognizant of the true idea of anything, exposes its suppositional opposite as a lie. Therefore, when the true idea of man's relationship to God is universally expressed, misunderstandings between men and nations will vanish.

"The divine Mind is in reality the only power; therefore nothing can resist the manifestation of righteousness. With due regard for the necessary human footsteps, which our Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, says are indispensable in meeting problems, it is imperative to look to the divine Mind for guidance and wisdom to supply the impetus to do all things in a right way and at the right time."

On Life's Stage

If acting is so much more real than routine living, and so much more exciting, why shouldn't all of us cultivate the art on a larger stage, our world? I am convinced we should. For the past 15 years I have taught the principles of acting to persons preparing for a stage or movie career. The more I work with these principles, the more I am convinced that they have significance for us in daily living.—Maud Scheerer, dramatic coach and actress, writing in the Rotarian Magazine.

Parasitic Children

Telling a boy how many cows you used to milk before breakfast and how many cords of wood you used to split on Saturdays is not advising him what to do with his time before breakfast and on Saturdays. Your examples are obsolete. The economic parasitism of children is not of their making. Nor are all the spoiled gim-gimme children the sons and daughters of the well-to-do. They are better described as children of this day and age.—Farnsworth Crowder, author, in the Rotarian Magazine.
