A penalty will be assessed against drivers who drive passenger and farm vehicles without tags after April 1.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

Out in the middle west where I live the frequent strikes called in defense industries are resulting in a rising tide of scorn and indignation that the federal government permits such a thing to continue; that while taxes are mounting for defense and appropriations are mounting for defense and every resource of the country is being called upon to further the defense program, strikes can be called over petty details that tie up entire industries that are supplying the most vital needs of the defense program.

The thing those of the middle west do not understand is, how it happens that the employer, who has virtually turned his plant over to the government in this defense program, is always wrong—not sometimes wrong, but always wrong. Of course are out in the middle west know better than this. We know that the employer is just as apt to be right as the employee. Suppose, for instance, that the employer in these industries should take the same attitude of complete disregard for the needs of the country at this particular time, and putting their own interests first and ignoring all others, be just as stubborn, and just as unreasonable as are the radical labor leaders, close down their plants and say as do in effect these labor leaders: "We have no interest in the country or the defense program, all we are interested in doing is taking advantage of the critical situation that faces the country, and because of the crisis, force all opposing us to do our will and to come to our terms—or else."

The result would be obvious. The defense program would go to pieces. It is only because that industry is more patriotic than the radical labor leaders that the defense program goes on. Furthermore if the defense program is successful in its aims the credit will go to industry and not in any sense to the radical labor leaders.

The unfortunate aspect of the whole thing is that many fail to differentiate between the workers and their radical leaders and often place the blame upon the workers who in the majority of instances are not to blame except to the degree that they are responsible for their leadership. Left to themselves they would work out their differences as they have for years in the Ford plant, but fired by the radical leadership that appears to be inspired by the thought that unless it can be constantly stirring up trouble between employee and employer the employees, who are providing them with fat salaries, may begin to think that they are not getting their money's worth for the liberal lug exacted from their pay checks.

A dangerous thing has come into being in the United States today whereby the most radical labor leaders can come into a peaceful plant, call a strike, deprive the owners of the use of the property, prevent other men from working, all under the protection of the law. Once a strike is declared in a plant the owner ceases to have control over it. From then on, until he complies with the demands of the radical labor leader who called the strike, the plant virtually belongs to the radical labor leader, and the owner can only enter it when he accedes to the demands and meets the terms of the leader, however unfair and unjust and uneconomic they may be.

This is unfortunate—unfortunate for industry, unfortunate for the workers—unfortunate for the country. It denotes a trend that has implications that are definitely not in accord with the theme or spirit of democracy—even though the practice seems to enjoy complete administration sanction.

Men's neckwear in the new Nylon fabric will appear on sale in the near future.

This Week in Defense

National Defense Mediation Board

President Roosevelt created an 11-member National Defense Mediation Board to settle labor disputes "threatening to burden or obstruct national defense," and appointed Clarence A. Dykstra, Selective Service Director and University of Wisconsin President, as Chairman.

The board membership includes four labor leaders, four employers and three representatives of the public. The board is authorized to aid in voluntary arbitration and negotiation between employers and labor, establish methods to avoid future disputes, conduct hearings and make investigations. Labor disputes will be referred to the board whenever the Secretary of Labor certifies that a controversy threatens the defense program and cannot be adjusted by ordinary means.

Defense Housing. The President approved a program from 6,000 temporary defense housing units in 10 localities. It calls for 2,000 trailers for families and 4,000 units for single men and women in dormitories or ships as follows:

New London, Conn., dormitories for 400 single men; Erie, Penn., 200 family trailers; Sidney, N. Y., 100 rooms for single men and 35 family trailers; Baltimore, Md., 300 units for single men and 325 trailers; Orange, Texas, 400 units for single men; Nashville, Tenn., 200 units for single men, 450 family trailers; San Diego, Calif., 1,000 units for single men, 500 family trailers; Bremerton, Wash., 500 dormitory units, 200 trailers; Wilmington, N. C., 325 trailers of which 200 would be for white families and 125 for colored workers; Washington, D. C., dormitories for 1,000 women.

Dormitories and ships will be so designed and arranged as to constitute satisfactory accommodations for the standard of sanitation and public welfare for the period of their use. Mobile units and most of the dormitories will be under the management of the Farm Security Administration.

Labor Supply. Stating that more than three-fourths of the workers in defense industries are in plants operating only one shift, War Under Secretary Patterson said production "could be vastly expanded if skilled labor were available in numbers sufficient to add a second shift." Director Knudsen, Office of Production Management, called upon labor and industry to cooperate in an expanded "training-in-the-shop" program.

Federal Security Administrator McNutt appealed to farmers and farm workers to register at State Employment Offices so that placements may be obtained for "thousands of workers formerly available for agricultural jobs who are now working in defense plants."

Defense Production. The Federal Reserve System announced activity in defense production raised the System's index to a record high of 141 for February, with particular increases at machinery plants, aircraft factories, ship yards and railroad equipment plants. The report showed other increases in the cotton textile, rubber, chemical and wood industries, with pig iron, coke, and non-ferrous metals production "near capacity."

The War Department announced increases in production at Army arsenals as follows (comparing monthly production of 1939 with monthly production of 1941): 500 per cent increase in small arms ammunition, 1,200 per cent increase in artillery cartridge cases, 900 per cent in fire control instruments, 3,000 per cent in artillery shells, 1,800 per cent increase in Garand semi-automatic rifles, and 500 per cent in smokeless powder.

Director Knudsen urged every factory owner who believes he is equipped to handle a defense contract or subcontract to write or go to the Regional Office of the Defense Contract Service at the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch Bank which serves his region. He said: "Every manufacturer large and small who has suitable machinery... must be enlisted."

Defense Contract Distribution. National Defense Advisory Commissioner Chester Davis told the Southern Governors' Conference, "Your area has been waiting for industry to come and use the most vigorous and positive methods to achieve recognition of your labor reserves and labor resources will suffice." Mr. Davis said 11 Southern States had received only 7 per cent of new defense contracts up to January 31, and only 24 of 302 new plants up to March 1 were planned for these States.

Lease Lend Program. President Roosevelt directed Agricultural Secretary Wickard and the Public Health Service to devise a program to extend aid in foodstuffs and other agricultural products to Britain and other democracies. He said the program might make food available for such countries as Spain and unoccupied France.

Navy Secretary Knox said no naval vessels have been transferred to Britain under the Lease-Lend program as yet, but the type to go first probably will be mosquito boats, submarine chasers, fast motorboats, and yachts suitable for work in the English Chan-

Early General Debate Expected in Legislature on Measures Sponsored by West Texas Chamber of Commerce

Senator Geo. Moffett Issues Statement on Legislative Matters

The News in receipt of the following statement from Senator George Moffett, who represents this district at Austin: "Probably no other Legislature in Texas has worked harder than the present one," said Senator Moffett. "The mail and personal calls to members have both been heavier than has ever been known before. This is probably a very healthy sign, for in a democratic form of government the people should maintain a continuous interest in what is being done."

"Reports of friction between the Legislature and the Governor have been unduly magnified. There are, of course, a good many honest differences of opinion which would naturally occur wherever men with ideas come together. My belief is that this session of the Legislature will pass a tax bill of some consequence, which will provide for social security and for the State's insane asylums and educational institutions. We have also been called upon to provide considerably more money for military purposes than ever before. The State is building $7,000,000 worth of permanent buildings to be used as armories. The general belief is that this is a necessary item."

"The fight over the truck load limit matter is practically over, and it was finished with much less argument than was thought possible."

"I have again introduced a bill to provide a cotton research laboratory to search out new uses for cotton and cotton products. My belief is that increased consumption of cotton will cure more troubles than any other one particular thing that could be done."

"I would be glad to have comment on vital questions before us at any time, comment," concluded Senator Moffett, "from the folks back home is a valuable thing to any member of a law-making body."

nel. Knox said the British Government has requested the U. S. to repair some British vessels in U. S. shipyards as provided in the Lease-Lend law.

Navy Progress. The Navy Secretary stated that the U. S. is building destroyers in less than one year instead of more than two years, acquiring auxiliaries "as fast as we can convert them," and constructing mine layers and sweepers, tenders and torpedo boats "at a tempo unheard of in World War I."

Consumer and Defense. National Defense Advisory Commissioner Harriet Elliott, working with all branches of industry to increase production of consumer goods so profits may be made from increased sales rather than higher prices, said the U. S. is better prepared to protect consumer interest than in 1915-16. Miss Elliott also presented State Defense Councils with suggested State legislation for limiting rent increases.

The Department of Labor reported retail costs of food had increased "slightly." Sharply higher prices for pork, moderately higher prices for staples like coffee, sugar and lard, slight increases for some vegetables and other advances in the average grocery bill the Department said, were almost entirely offset by a 12 1/2 per cent drop in egg prices and lower prices for beef and fish.

Army Construction. The War Department announced completion of Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, Mississippi, in less time and at less cost than estimated. The camp, largest Army training center is first of 46 to Abilene, March 31.—The 47th Texas legislature is making an unprecedented showing in speedy disposal of major legislation. Officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said today this is clearing the way for early general debate and action on pending measures sponsored by the regional chamber and described as "something that is being done for the taxpayer."

Committee action has been completed on HB 42 and SB 190, by respectively, Rep. Joe Humphrey of Abilene and Sen. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton. The bills provide for fiscal control, financial planning and reorganization, reforms in budgetary practices and a merit employment system, in the state government. The State Affairs committees in both houses have unanimously voted them out and ordered that they be printed. With the committees' full blessing they are now ready for setting on the calendars.

The two bills are virtually identical. They are comprehensive documents containing more than 15,000 words and every word carefully weighed. They were written after long study of fiscal control legislation adopted in other states and, say, their authors, embody the best features of acts of these states that have, on actual experience, resulted in greater efficiency and financial economies in state government.

For the Taxpayer. D. A. Bantee, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, avowed a feeling of "deep satisfaction and encouragement over the progress of this legislation."

"In the Senate committee hearing," he continued, "Senator Smith clearly and potently stated the psychology of the situation when he said that instead of another painful operation on pocketbooks of Texas taxpayers, here is something that is being done for the taxpayer. Our organization, in campaigning for this legislation, has consistently claimed and we earnestly believe that, once in operation, it will result in at least a $10,000,000 a year saving to the people who pay the bills. The authors of these bills have done a grand job. They are due the thanks of the people of Texas."

J. S. Bridwell, WTCC president, said: "This legislation gives sound emphasis to a profound and significant fact at this time particularly. With the certainty of national defense needs making continuing and increasing calls on taxpayers' resources, it behooves us as never before to closely examine public expenditures for purely domestic purposes, and to confine these to what the people need rather than what they would like to have in the way of governmental services."

Humphrey's bill was the first of the two measures to pass committee scrutiny. The Abilene legislator said, "This measure will affect a general tightening up in all departments of the administrative branches. It will provide a better piece of machinery for getting the financial job done in line with modern needs."

He completed. It covers 6 miles and contains 15,000 structures, 85 miles of water mains, 60 miles of sewers and 55 miles of hard-curfaced roads; it will accommodate nearly 70,000 men.

The United States now owns three-fourths of the gold of the world. Practically all of the 40,000 diamond cutters of the world live in Nazi dominated countries. There are only about 450 diamond cutters in the United States. Careless habits can ruin your life. Be careful.

Army Life With A Selectee

(This is the first of a series of articles telling of life in the U. S. Army written by Pvt. J. M. Crowell of Fort Brown, Texas, who recently entered the army for a year's training under the Selective Service Act.—Ed.)

I'm in the Army now! We eight selectees left Bryan on Tuesday, March 18, and were carried by train to Houston where we were taken to the induction station with several hundred other Selectees and given physical examinations. We failed to get through that first day and were held over through Wednesday. After leaving the induction station, we boarded another train for Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio.

We arrived in San Antonio early Thursday morning with practically no rest and then were trucked to the replacement camp at Fort Dood and had mess, received our new suits, etc., (very pretty) and started taking another slight physical exam, typhoid and smallpox vaccinations, mental test, interview for special work, heard articles of war, drilled half a day and arose Saturday morning at 4:30 o'clock to leave for Fort Brown at 8 o'clock. We (thirty-five men) arrived at Fort Brown about 9:30 p. m. and were given a nice reception at the station. We then went to the post adjoining Brownsville in trucks and were well fed and placed in tents.

A heavy rain caused my tent (shared with five others) to leak considerably, however, no one will die and everyone is very cheerful and taking everything with a grin. This fort is composed of cavalry men and is very pretty to the eye of a West Texan. Large palm trees, grapefruit and orange trees adorn the post grounds and everything is kept clean. I'm sure that I will like my new home. For the benefit of those to be inducted later, have them leave hats at home and bring as few things as possible. A person dressed in a suit, bareheaded, with a tooth brush and razor in his pocket, is better off than one with a suit case of stuff, because the hat will be crammed into the suit case or barrack bag (100 pounds). Select E. Crowell.

Evidence that the best way to bring about the repeal of a poor law may be found in the action of Attorney General James R. Morford of Delaware who in an effort to bring about the repeal of the Blue Law caused 500 persons to be arrested. The State Blue Law which had been in effect 201 years forbade "worldly pursuits." The Attorney desires that regulation of pal law makers be rather than the old Blue Law won his point.

The first DuPont plant country was built on the Creek in Delaware, 139 years ago. Last year the DuPont spent $50,800,000 on improvements and expansion and coming year the company to expend for this purpose 600,000.

LETTERS

(From Former Residents)

Elsinore, Calif., Mar. 28, 1941. Dear Russell: I ran into old Crowell. You remember, he used to barber over on the north side with Tanner. He now lives in Perris, Calif., and I know he would appreciate getting an invitation to the 50th celebration. We surely did appreciate cuds and if Rose and I can possibly get away we will be there. Best regards to everybody back there.—Tom Baker.

Kansas City, Kan., Dear Russell: I am indeed glad to receive the invitation. Mrs. Thompson joins me in wishing we could attend the Jubilee. At the present writing it looks impossible, but still we may wish strong enough. We came to Crowell April 15, 1913, and left Dec. 11, 1918. Our daughter, Jean, was born in Crowell Oct. 10, 1916. I look back a good many years to so many I would like to see. Give our regards to the Gibsons, the McCormicks, John Roberts, Johnnie Cepes, who will be at the reunion, I feel sure, and remember as to the Fergusons, Sells, Bells, Baxter Johnson, and so many more that come to me as I write.

We still consider that we spent the best part of our lives in Foard County, and long after we moved away, I kept up with everybody and visited many times.—Grey Thompson.

Dulhart, Texas, Mar. 27, 1941. Gentlemen: We received your invitation some few days ago and appreciate it very much, and will certainly be there if possible. I hope that the old draw bridge across the Peace River is in good shape, also the Jake Wright hill.

Will send you names and addresses of a few old-timers which you may not have: Emmett Williams, Hartley, Texas; Otis O'Neal, Middlewater, Texas; Judge Elliott, Stratford, Texas.

Again thanking you for the invitation, I am, very respectfully yours.—George Wells.

Lubbock, Texas, Mar. 24, 1941. Dear Pioneer Friends: We received your invitation to the Foard County Golden Jubilee. Many thanks. We would like very much to come, but I don't think it's advisable. Mr. Edwards fell from a windmill tower several years ago and it left him badly crippled and my health is also bad. However, we will be represented, since our children are planning to attend and we will be with you in spirit.

We arrived in Crowell April 13, 1902. Mr. Edwards went into town to get supplies to take out to the land he had bought in the Cottonwood neighborhood. Mr. Joe Beverly was the first person I met in Foard County. He came out to the back that day and talked to Mother Edwards and myself. I thought he was a very pleasant man.

Some of the best friends I ever had were in Foard County. Many have gone to their reward, but there are still some I would like very much to see again. Some of the happiest days of my life were spent there. Of course, we had hardships and privations, but if it were possible I would like to go over the glad ones again.

I feel sure that the celebration will be a great success, and hope that it will be continued throughout the years. Goodbye and God bless you all.—Mrs. F. M. Edwards.

Levelland, Texas, Dear Friend: Received your invitation to the Golden Jubilee, for which I thank you. Was present at the 45th Jubilee and enjoyed it so much as I saw old friends that I hadn't seen since we were small school children going to school to Prof. Moyer and Blankenship. Old Walter Raney was one of them, but he didn't have "Old Skeet" with him he said. All the boys will remember "Old Skeet." Thanking you again for your invitation. Will be there if possible. Respectfully.—Hugh N. Thompson.

Hobart, Okla., March 28, 1941. Invitation Committee: My Dear Folks, I'll come to the Golden Jubilee Anniversary if my health will permit. So glad you invited me. Yours truly, Mrs. Ollie (Raney) Satterwhite.

Los Angeles, Calif., Mar. 22, 1941. Dear Friends: I am in receipt of your invitation to the Foard County Golden Jubilee and am making plans to be there on the 27th day of April. I am planning to drive my automobile and expect to arrive in the morning. I am looking forward to seeing many friends and enjoying the celebration.—M. Bledsoe.

Tahoka, Mar. 31, 1941. Dear Old Clarence: I received the invitation to attend the celebration on April 28-29. I am planning on coming down, so have a big piece of barbecue for me. Yours.—L. C. Johnson.

Willow, Okla., Mar. 30, 1941. Dear Friends: I received your invitation to the Golden Jubilee. I will be present if my plans don't fail me. Hoping to see many old friends once more.—Geo. H. Ferguson.

Fort Worth, Texas, Mar. 31, 1941. Dear Old Friends: I will try and be on hand Saturday night, April 27, if not, will be there for sure on the 28th and am indeed proud I am one of the old settlers that dates back to Oct. 12, 1888. There will be not too many that will date back of that, and I am proud of the nice invitation you have honored me with and I hope we can all be here in April, 1951, and make it a grand 60th. With best wishes and long may you all live, I remain one of the old-timers.—Walter B. Raney, 1403 1/2 Houston St.

Upswing in Measles Prevalence in Texas, Reports Indicate

Austin.—The annual spring upswing in measles prevalence is evident from reports to the State Health Department by more than 300 city and county health officers throughout the state.

The prevalence of measles was 338 per cent higher than the normal prevalence for last week, figured on a seven-year median, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. There were 1,416 cases reported for the eleventh week of the year, ending March 15, and the median number of cases for the week over a seven-year period was 420.

Since measles is a disease which should always be given careful nursing, with isolation of the patient to protect others against the disease, and since it is characteristic of the disease that it usually becomes more prevalent in the spring season, the State Health Department issues this warning to the parents of Texas children—guard your children against measles, and if they contract this disease, put them to bed immediately, call your family physician, and see that cases are promptly reported to the local health officers, and that your home is properly placarded.

The stage of measles preceding the eruption is frequently mistaken for a common cold, and as the disease is highly communicable at this stage the germs are widely spread because, as a rule, we take no common-sense precautions either in treating or protecting others from a common cold. Measles causes a congestion and inflammation of the respiratory tract, the delicate membrane that lines the eyelids and the accessory sinuses—these conditions make complications of the disease fairly common. Complications may take Preaching Sunday morning and evening by J. Fletcher Floyd of Paducah. Everybody is cordially invited.

Each Lord's Day—Bible classes at 10 a. m. Worship service at 10:45 a. m. Evening service at 7 o'clock.
Mid-week Bible class each Wednesday evening.

Methodist Church
Now that spring is here and we are hoping for better weather there should be larger attendance at both church and Sunday School. Our superintendent has been working for a certain number in attendance and I have predicted that he will have that expectation met next Sunday at Sunday School. If you think we are wrong in this expectation just come on time next Sunday and see for yourself.

Since the announcements last Sunday morning it has been necessary to make some changes in the church services for Sunday, April 6. Communion service will be had at the morning hour, 11 a. m., and Mrs. Longino will preach at the evening hour instead of the morning, as previously announced. The meeting at Thalia was postponed one week.

We wish to thank each one who contributed toward the new roof on the church. You will be glad to know that it has been completed and will be paid for in cash at an early date. One more much needed piece of work done and completed, thanks to you contributors.

As we approach the Easter Season the form of bronchitis, pneumonia, and acute inflammation of the middle ear.

This disease is particularly in the very young children. It is a serious mistake to expose a small child to measles so that he will have it before school age, because the mortality rate for measles and its complications is much lower among children of school age than younger children.

The very young children who have recently recovered from respiratory diseases or who are undernourished should be given the opportunity for protection if they are exposed to measles. Prevention or modification of measles is a very successful procedure if the physician is given opportunity within a short time after exposure to the disease.

Baptist Training Union
The Baptist Training Union of the First Baptist Church of Crowell will meet at 6:45 Sunday evening.
Did you ever stop to think of the good the Training Union members derive from this organization? What have you gained in the way of training? Let us think of some of the benefits of the Training Union service: Faith, Training for future work, Obedience, Moral Character.

This training helps us not only in our church work, but in our daily lives, too. We learn to be patient and kind and helpful in our relationships with others. We learn to familiarize ourselves with God's Word, and to apply its wonderful lessons to our own personal needs. Truly the Training Union provides the type of training that all Christians should have.

Make your plans to attend the Training School, beginning Monday evening, April 7, at 7:30 to continue five nights, which is planned for the church at large. Will have with us one of the best approved state workers that can be secured, Mrs. A. Adameik.

We will have a class for every age and we want every member of our church to take advantage of this school.

Senior Christian Endeavor

(By Roy Joe Cates)
The young people with their sponsor met last Sunday at the regular time.
Winnifred Greening had charge of the program and the main lesson topic was "Serving Through Giving." Several songs were sung, and the prayer was given by Orval Holt. Donald Ward read the scripture. Those on the program were: A. Y. Olds, John Clark Long, Ann Favor, and Kenneth Greening. Mrs. Roy Steele gave a very interesting talk on "Why I'm Glad I'm Your Sponsor." She used the seven letters, s-p-o-n-s-o-r and gave a word for each letter that a sponsor of a group of young people must do. Ann Favor will be leader next Sunday.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 6.
The Golden Text is: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is" (Jeremiah 17:7).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Even eternity can never reveal the whole of God, since there is no limit to infinitude or to its reflections" (page 517).

Our Weekly Sermon

Experiments or Experience?
Many of an older generation will remember the famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," which Dr. Conwell delivered thousands of times. His thesis was that men miss the opportunities for success at their own doors, while they wander the world over, or wish themselves in distant places. Dr. Conwell multiplied true incidents of men who journeyed to the ends of the earth in search of fortune, only to find it buried in the very

When you order coffee in Java you get only a few drops in a cup—but it's a powerful essence, and adding hot water makes a normal cupful ground on which they had rolled their marbles.

Ours is particularly an age of novelties. We like search better than research, and we prefer the new to the true. Experiment rather than experience counts high with us. To say that a thing has been tried and proved is equivalent in the minds of many to saying it is musty and mildewed. We have experiments in morals, in philosophy, in economics. We observe entire nations deliberately cutting loose from the moorings of the centuries, and in mutiny against the captain named Experience. They are giving allegiance to a new commander, named Experiment. Now while men are in the mood of trying things, may it not be the best time to remind them they had better try something new which is yet old—the Bible, the eternal Word of God.

In the light of the demands and failures of the present day, the reading of Psalm 78 would be profitable. It demonstrates the permanence of the Bible message. In this historical psalm we see God's ancient people placing all their problems on an economic basis. "Can God supply a table in the wilderness?" was one of their troubled questions. God replied, "I'll supply all your temporal needs, but you have greater needs." How strange, and yet how true to human nature in every age, to read in conjunction, "He brought streams out of the rocks . . . and they sinned yet more against him." Again, "And he rained manna and flesh upon them. . . For all this they sinned still, and believed not for his wondrous works." The more they got the more they wanted, and the less thankful they were for what they got. They blamed con-

NONSENSICAL NONSENSE

I got up bright and early one day to go horseback riding. I put my gloves on my feet and my hat on my head. I had my breakfast. I then put some cotton on my shoeshirings and tied them so I wouldn't trip over them. I then put on my shirt and tie and went down to the table, and put on my cap and tie because it was very cold. Outside it was a warm sunshiny day in March. I strapped the saddle on my car, turned on the motor, pressed the key, honked the horn, pulled out the steering wheel and walked to the near drug store to send a telegram to my Aunt Minnie that lives next door. I left to my car with a milk of turnips on each leg. I stepped on the ash tray, pulled clutch and stopped off in a shop.

Suddenly I heard something. I thought a few minutes later I realized it was the car. I discovered that the cause of the jolt was a blowout. I put the motor on the back seat, changed gear and flew off in a slow trot. I was speeding along as slowly as possible when I hit a milk factory wheel. That bent the crank shaft a little but I went to a grocery store where I put water in the gas tank and oil on the motor. I at last turned and headed backward for the city to see scenery.

CAMPUS CHAT

Hello bag! How's tricks? As Sloan says to the English IV class, "Remember, in four years your theme is due and it promises to be 1,000 pages long—er—mean 1,000 words."
 Ralph Flesher's theme song of the day seems to be "Worried about it." It comes in the form of a blue eyes and about five inches tall. But Beverly's only remarks, "Curiosity killed a cat"—gee! I'd better be careful, cause I'm a kitty, etc.

And have you noticed how unscrupulous Betty Johnson is by Roy's loyal love!
 Guess what—whee! Lucky!

Jean Orr has a date with Billy Klepper for the banquet. Will miracles never cease?
 Gee! Just think—you can do your Christmas shopping now and avoid the holiday rush. Remember, it is just 38 more weeks until Christmas.

Woo, woo! Hot diggity! Did you know that George Cates is "that a-way" about a little gal in the Junior class? Well, what else did you think the new shoes were for?

Sooooooo—holding out on us, aren't you Evelyn Crosnoe? She is a Thalia minded little gal these days and it just couldn't be because of a little boy that lives there—or could it?
 Miss Yeats' jungle is still thriving—much to the disgust of the hay fever victims!
 Yours, till rabbit's eyes turn purple,
 KITTY.

 Romance of the week was Lois Evelyn Flesher and Shorty Roark who were double dating with Marjorie Davidson and John Clark Long.

And say—that was the week that Virginia was wearing a wine-colored jacket after having dated a certain lad from Vernon. Remember, Jinny?
 And who did we see out riding that week but, Mrs. Sloan and Miss Yeats, our own jungle Jim. On bicycles, too.
 Quote: "Pop! Bang! (?) Whee-ee, bop-bang-clank-sink! Pow! Goodness! What's that coming down the road? It looks like—why it is J. M. Hill in his new 1960 super-charge crate. (It's called a crate because it is always full of peaches—get it?)
 Gee! Don't it seem funny and doesn't it bring back old times?

The Russian that was seeking entrance in the United States has about the right idea:

 Do you promise to support the constitution of the U. S.?—"Me? I can't. I got a wife and three kids to support!"

SENIORS—AND THEIR RINGS

Have you noticed how perfectly thrilled the Juniors were last week? You did and you wondered why. Well, it's because they put in their order for their Senior Rings last Monday afternoon. The ring that they chose is very pretty and all of the Juniors are very enthusiastic and can hardly wait until they get them—but it's a long time, yet, for they won't get them until the beginning of next year. There are 50 Juniors and about 42 orders were put in. Some of the Juniors were absent and they will have to give their orders to our president so that he can send them off.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hartwell)

What Doth It Profit A Man: In my community there lived, several years ago, a man who had always lived an average, simple, normal, happy life surrounded by friends who esteemed him for his kindness and unselfishness and friendliness. One day through the death of a relative he came into the possession of a large and profitable business. The touch of success changed him. He lost interest in his friends. He became interested only in money and men with money. Soon all his old friends were forgotten and he found himself surrounded with friends who were friends because of the money he possessed. He awoke one day to the true realization of his situation. He had gained wealth but had permitted it to separate him from his real friends. He discovered too late that these friends of his earlier life, who had worked and struggled and lived side by side with him were, after all, the worth while things of life—the things for which his soul vainly hungered, now that they were gone. This man had, because of a few thousand dollars, lost his best friends and was doomed to unhappiness because of it. How much more empty will the future be to the man who, because of greed and selfishness and desire for power and empty popularity, loses his own soul. What doth it profit a man?

Texas NYA Boys and Girls Assigned to U. S. Army Projects

Austin, March 30. — Approximately fifteen hundred boys and girls in Texas are assigned to NYA projects sponsored by the United States Army, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. Of this number 1,151 are boys and 269 are girls.

This work, which is non-military in nature, consists of assisting in sheet metal, motor, machine, and electrical shops and of acting as helpers in carpentering, painting, bricklaying, plumbing, refrigeration, steamfitting, laundry, warehouses, clerical work, and hospital work. Through these NYA projects the regular Army men are left free to devote all of their time and energy to strictly military duties.

In Forts Brown, Brownsville; Ringgold, Rio Grande City; McIntosh, Laredo; Sam Houston, San Antonio; Bliss, El Paso; and D. A. Russell, Marfa, 579 NYA boys and 130 girls are acting as assistants in the repair shops, warehouses, and offices.

At Camp Normoyle near San Antonio 94 boys receive work experience as automobile mechanics' helpers, and nine girls are engaged as clerical assistants. One hundred and eight boys are receiving experience in the repair, construction, and maintenance of airplanes and airplane engines at an NYA Resident Center sponsored by the U. S. Army Air Corps and set up at the Duncan Field Air Depot near San Antonio.

Other NYA youth are assigned to projects at Kelly Field, Ellington Field, San Antonio General Depot, San Antonio Arsenal, Fort Worth Reserve Officers Office, Eighth Corps Area Headquarters, First Military District in San Antonio, Dallas Military District, Houston Military District, and Army recruiting stations in ten Texas cities.

Cotton Stamps Will Aid Low Income Farm Families

Living standards of low income cotton farmers in Foard County will be definitely improved if they take part in the new cotton stamp program, Grady Halbert, chairman of the county AAA committee points out.

"By further reducing the acreage of cotton this year, the farmer not only will keep down the cotton surplus but will provide himself with more cotton goods," the committeeman said.

Under the provisions of the Supplementary Cotton Program, payments of cotton stamps will be made to farms on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1941 is reduced below the 1941 allotment of the 1940 planted acreage, whichever is smaller. The stamp payment will be at the rate of 10 cents per pound on the normal cotton yield for the reduced acreage. A farmer interested in only one farm may earn a maximum of $25 in cotton stamps, except that an operator with two or more tenants or sharecroppers may earn up to $50. A farmer interested in two or more cotton farms also may earn up to $50, but not more than $25 of this amount can be on any one farm. Payments are divided in the same way as the agricultural conservation payments are divided.

Equally as important as the stamp payment is the opportunity the program offers to offset nutritional diseases and poor health conditions among low income farmers by encouraging cotton growers to produce more vegetables, fruit, dairy products and meat for home consumption on acreage taken out of cotton production, Mr. Halbert declared.

To encourage the production and storage of food for home use, an additional payment of $3 can be earned by farmers co-operating with the Supplementary Program, the chairman said.

Harmony Club Gives Family Night Program Tuesday Evening

The Harmony Club members and their families spent a pleasant evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clint White Tuesday evening with Mrs. White and Mrs. Charles Ferguson as hostesses.

The occasion was designated as "Family Night" and each family rendered a musical number, thus making the program, which was presided over by Miss Mary Ragland Thompson as leader. The numbers consisted of piano solos, piano duets, violin, cornet and vocal numbers and a reading and a magician's trick.

The refreshment committee, composed of Mrs. W. B. Tysinger, Mrs. J. R. Beverly and Miss Cora Carter, served a salad course to about fifty guests.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. George Wesley on April 12.

Katherine Browning to Speak on Batik Dyeing Process

Lubbock, April 1.—Miss Katherine Browning will speak on batik dyeing process at the Friday afternoon session of the ninth annual Home Economics Open House at Texas Technological college. The two-day exhibit, which will open April 4, will feature the theme "Our First Defense—The Home."

Over 3,000 people are expected to visit the program. More than 2,500 registered at last year's show. The Engineers' show and the district three interscholastic league meet will also be held at the same time.

Katherine is also a member of Las Chapparitas social club and the Home Economics club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Browning of Truscott.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

Mrs. Gus Patton was hostess to the West Side Home Demonstration Club at her home March 26. An interesting hour was spent discussing setting out of a screen planting. Plans for the club's taking part in the parade for the Golden Jubilee were made. Seven club members were present. Mrs. Tom King is the next hostess on April 9.

ROTARY CLUB

Visitors at the Wednesday meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club were Rotarians C. H. McClellan of Wichita Falls and Frank Wendt of Quanah, and Miss Mary Hughton, Miss Paula Plunkett and John Thomas Rasor. Charlie P. Sandifer was also present as a member after several weeks absence.

The program was in charge of Hugh Longino and was conducted by John Rasor. It included a reading by Paula and a declamation by John Thomas who, also, rendered two vocal duets. The accompaniments were played by Miss Hughton. This program will be put on for the entertainment of Quanah Rotary Club today in connection with a trip to Quanah by Crowell business men to advertise the Golden Jubilee celebration.

War Correspondent Speaks At Quanah Tuesday At 8 P. M.

Unless the United States is willing to be reduced to a third class power, there is no alternative for her but to go into the war, according to H. R. Knickerbocker, famous war correspondent and roving European reporter for the International News Service.

Mr. Knickerbocker, who will speak in Quanah on April 8, at 8 p. m., under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, will explain how in his opinion the United States' own interests makes it necessary for her to go to Britain's aid. He believes that the sooner we enter the conflict the better because England, our ally, is stronger now than she will be after a winter or another six months of hattering from the Nazi hordes.

Mr. Knickerbocker has just returned to the United States from England via Lisbon, Portugal, where he witnessed the blitzkrieg throughout the summer months and the early autumn. He was also in France during the Nazi's invasion months and the early autumn. He was also in France during the Nazi's invasion of the Low Countries and when they swept into French territory.

Mr. Knickerbocker's interpretation of international events are based upon his personal experiences as the International News Service's chief European correspondent. He has spent the past eighteen years abroad, covering the outstanding news events in Europe, Africa, Asia and Australia. He has also travelled widely in Latin-America.

He was in Paris when the war broke out with the invasion of Poland last year. He remained on the Western Front, virtually commuting back and forth between London and Paris covering the important diplomatic developments. He came back to America during the winter months but was back in England again when the Nazis invaded the Low Countries. He accompanied the British Expeditionary Force to France and remained there until the French were defeated, when he went back to England.

Cotton Loan Equity Information Given

"If you sell your 1940 cotton loan equity, be sure to get all its worth," was the advice Grady Halbert, chairman of the Foard County AAA committee, issued to cotton producers today.

"The relatively high domestic demand for cotton resulting from the defense program and the recent substantial increase in the price of spot cotton have made it possible for cotton producers to dispose of their 1940 cotton equities at substantial profits," the chairman declared.

Reports have reached the county office, however, that certain abuses have developed in the disposal of the equities, particularly in the use of Commodity Credit Corporation Form R, which is provided by the CCC to be used to record the transfer of the producer's interest in the loan to the buyer.

"In some instances," Mr. Halbert said, "producers are not receiving the full value of their equities without properly executing the form. The buyers then carry the forms for weeks, awaiting a rise in the market price, and then transfer the forms to a third party without actually ever possessing the cotton."

Common abuses are: failure to date the document at the time of the sale, failure to insert in the form the exact amount the producer receives for his equity, failure of the first purchaser to sign the document, and failure to leave with the producer the green

Another Old Issue of The News Sent in by Mrs. J. L. Klepper

The News is in receipt of an old issue of the paper printed Aug. 26, 1898, when Albert Barkley was editor and proprietor, sent in by Mrs. J. L. Klepper of 5701 Brynhurst, Los Angeles, Calif. This issue contains a writeup of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Klepper 43 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Klepper have their plans completed to return to Texas and attend the Golden Jubilee in Crowell April 28-29, and expect to arrive here about April 22.

The news item concerning Mr. and Mrs. Klepper's marriage and other items of interest to old-timers follow:

Married—At the residence of the bride's parents in Crowell on Sunday the 21st inst. at 6 o'clock p. m., Mr. J. L. Klepper and Miss Alma Westbrook, Rev. R. A. Walker officiating. Mr. Klepper is one of Foard County's prosperous farmers and has a good home six miles northwest of Crowell, and now that he has captured one of Crowell's fairest and most intelligent daughters and made her queen of his heart and home, nothing seems to be between Joe and happiness. The wedding was a private one, only a few friends being present. Joe and his charming bride have many friends who wish them long and happy lives together.

Ben and Jack Meason left Wednesday morning for Greer County to be gone two weeks on a pleasure trip.

M. F. Bowley is wearing a smiling countenance these days over the arrival of a bright baby girl at his house, born on Saturday, the 18th.

J. W. Cheek went to Quanah Sunday to take his sister who has been visiting here for some time, returning the same day.

Jim Bratton and family, who left Foard County two years ago for the eastern portion of the state, returned this week and will likely remain some time visiting friends and relatives.

play and Alton Roark, end, booted the extra point. The Wildcats soundly outplayed their opponents but were denied several touchdowns.

On Tuesday evening, a team composed of all-stars and reserves won over the Wildcats 24-13 in a game which saw Bird and Harold Canup, regular tackle, out of the lineup. Junior Haseloff, who received much notice last season while playing an end position for the Wildcats, accounted for two of the all-stars' touchdowns on running plays, and Glendon Russell, Wildcat of two seasons ago, ran a third score over. The last score was made by Bill Owens, reserve, who took a pass from W. D. Hudgeons, wingman of last season. Rudolf Halenack, half-back, tallied the Wildcats' first score with a 10-yard dash through the center of the line, and the second was made on a pass from Charles Nelson to Alton Roark. Roark added an extra point from placement.

Reserves Showing Up
Ever since the opening day of the training season, the boys who are now on the reserve eleven have been working hard for positions and their playing has been outstanding this week. They are Bill Owens, back; Bobby Jo Hunter, guard; Gordon Erwin, tackle; and David Parkhill, center, who received an injury Wednesday which might not allow him to report again for practice until next fall.

There are 328,797 American men who, as volunteer leaders, serve the youth of the nation through the Boy Scouts of America.

Two Scrimmages Feature Week's Work for Wildcats

The third week of the spring training period for the Crowell High School Wildcats will close with the workout this afternoon. Practice for Friday will be dismissed as a number of the football boys will compete in the events at the district interscholastic league meet to be held in Childress Friday and Saturday.

Scrimmage Tuesday
Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Wildcats will scrimmage a group of all-stars from Thalia. This will be the highlight workout of that week of practice.

Breaks Leg
David Parkhill, promising reserve, suffered a minor break of the large bone in his left leg Wednesday afternoon. He was carrying out a blocking assignment and in some manner twisted his leg under him in falling. A cast was placed over the break at a local physician's office and it is expected that he will be up on crutches within a few days.

Two Scrimmages
The Wildcats have played two scrimmages during the past week, winning one and losing one.

The first practice fray was played last Thursday with a team composed of high school boys who are ineligible for further interscholastic football competition and the Wildcats were victorious by a lone point, 7-6.

The team of ineligibles made their touchdown when A. Y. Olds quarterback last year, got loose down a sideline and covered many yards to pay dirt. Albert Bird, 1941 quarterback, turned in the Wildcats' score with a running carbon copy which he should have. Producers desiring to sell their equities in loan cotton should investigate to make certain they are receiving full value; also, they should be certain that Form R is filled out properly and that they are given their copy.
