Year's Peach Crop Finest and Largest in 10 Years

Americans this year have the privilege of enjoying the finest largest peach crop in the last decade. Unlike war-torn Europe, America is not suffering from a shortage of needed foods—but is suffering from under-consumption. More than 40 per cent of our population actually under-eat. It was announced here today by Wynn S. Goode, area supervisor of the Surplus Market Administration.

In making this statement, Mr. Goode added that a co-operative spirited educational campaign sponsored by the Peach Producing Industry and Food Canners Industry in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture is now under way to increase the consumption of fresh peaches by everyone.

During the period July 24 through July 30 all housewives in the area and the South are urged to serve more fresh peaches, and to reserve through home-canning adequate supply for year-round use.

Mr. Goode said, "Very few people know the importance of peaches in nutritional and dietary values. It is not generally known that peaches are rich in valuable minerals, calcium, iron, phosphorus and potassium, needed to build up the body structure, protect the blood, enrich the blood, regulate its functions, and make clear complexion.

The abundance of valuable factors in peaches, scientists include Vitamin A, which promotes growth and vitality and is the first line of defense against diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; Vitamin B, needed for strength and health, increases appetite, stimulates digestion, and aids in protecting the body from disease; Vitamin C, needed to keep the body in good condition, aids in resistance to infection, and stimulates growth, and Vitamin G (B2), vital to nerve and maintenance of body weight, as well as helps to maintain normal skin complexion."

A large number of visitors from Scott, Gilliland, Benjamin and Macab, and representatives of well garages and filling stations attended a meeting here last evening in the rear part of the Texas Natural Gas Co.'s building when Sealed Power parts for automobiles and power machinery were demonstrated by factory representatives. The demonstration was sponsored by Owl Auto Supply, local dealers.

Next Prather of Dallas and the Fabian of Fort Worth, representatives of the Sealed Power Corporation, conducted the program and gave away over $100 prizes of Sealed Power parts. Following the program refreshments were served to the large group present by members of the Owl auto supply firm.

Vivian Women Are Hosts at Banquet Friday Evening

The Vivian Home Demonstration Club prepared and served a fried chicken dinner Friday evening at the Vivian school house to a large number of men and women of Crowell and the Vivian community, many of whom were members of the Farmers & Business Men's Association.

Following a short talk by Howard Ringgold, president of the Farmers & Business Men's Association, Mrs. T. W. Cooper was selected as toastmaster and conducted a very interesting program, many of the numbers being impromptu.

A quartet composed of Misses Rosalie Fish and Thelma Beatty, Mrs. R. S. Haskew and Mrs. John Sandlin rendered two numbers with Miss Neoma Fish as accompanist. Other vocal numbers were given by Mrs. Henry Fish with her own guitar accompaniment, and vocal solos by Sharon Sue Haney and H. E. Ferguson without accompaniment. Misses Thelma and Lilla Faye Beatty also rendered two vocal duets. Short talks were made by almost every person present in which the fine feeling of fellowship existing between the Vivian and Crowell communities was expressed.

Fifty-One Patients Treated at New Foard County Hospital Since Its Opening on May 1

Should Use Care in Calling Men for Military Training

General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service director, this week again urged Texas' local boards to make certain that no man is called for direct military training who is more useful to the national defense program in his civilian occupation.

Stressing the need for the careful selection and the necessity for maintaining an adequate reservoir of professional and technical specialists, General Page said: "While the selection of men for service in the armed forces is essential to the national defense, it is equally important that there be no interference with the production of defense supplies and materials. We must feed and clothe the military forces, as well as preserve the morale of the civilian population by protecting public health and general welfare.

"There are hundreds of places where the hand of man is needed to produce arms, munitions, tanks, trucks, and airplanes. Vitally important is the fact that from our mines we must produce the minerals from which a mechanical army fashions its weapons. According to a recent survey made by the Office of Production Management, the supply of manpower in the field of engineering, including trained technicians and specialists in mining and metallurgy, is at a 'dangerously low' level.

"We must make a careful and intelligent investigation of every registrant to be sure in each case that a call to military training will not interfere with equally important civilian work for national defense. Local Boards must give full weight to the provisions of the Selective Service Regulations dealing with the claims for occupational deferment of 'essential men' engaged in activities necessary to the national defense, including those necessary to defense production."

Foard County's Wheat Crop for Year 1940-41 Reaches 375,000 Bushels

According to an estimate made by a close check of the number of bushels of wheat delivered to grain elevators of Foard County, the total amount of wheat saved from the 1941 crop in this county is around 375,000 bushels. Over 350,000 bushels have been received at the Foard County elevators and it is conservatively estimated that wheat farmers have at least 25,000 bushels stored in granaries.

In the early part of the season it was thought that Foard County had a million-bushel wheat crop, but the heavy and continuous rains, winds and hail, made the loss more than fifty per cent. The yield per acre was from nothing to as high as thirty bushels. The damage was so great that some fields were never touched with a combine.

Since the dry weather has set in most of the wheat land has been plowed and is being prepared for fall sowing.

Although the Foard County Hospital was opened for inspection during the Golden Jubilee Anniversary Celebration, it was not until May 1 that its doors were thrown open for official business and the first patient received. Since opening, a total of fifty-one patients have passed through the hospital, hospitalized from one to twenty-six days; eight births have occurred therein and twenty-four operations have been performed.

The hospital from the beginning has been under the capable management of Mrs. L. E. Tackett as superintendent, and Mr. Tackett as technician. The board of directors include C. B. Graham, president; Howard Williams, vice president; A. W. Barker, secretary, and C. P. Sandifer, Joe L. Orr and F. A. Davis.

The Hospital Division of the N. Y. A. project is now in operation at the hospital and at the present time there are six girls assigned to this work. Their periods of work and hours during the day are so arranged that the best possible service can be rendered to the hospital.

The aim of the hospital management is to make each patient's stay in the institution as pleasant as possible, it was announced Tuesday by County Judge Leslie Thomas. To accomplish this objective, it is necessary that everyone co-operate to the utmost extent. In any institution there must of necessity be certain rules and regulations promulgated for the guidance thereof. In accordance therewith, the following rules and regulations were set up and established by the hospital board:

1. While hospitalized, the medical care of the patient, of course, is under the supervision of the attending physician.

2. Financial arrangements are to be made in advance upon admission. This rule and regulation is not meant to cast any aspersions upon the financial ability, nor honesty and integrity of any patient or his family, but is an essential one in order that the best interest of the hospital may be subserved to the end that first class service may at all times be rendered to the patients. It is hoped that the hospital will be financially stable enough that a business manager to attend to all of these details may be employed, however, until such time it is earnestly urged that the people will co-operate with the hospital in this matter.

3. Visitors are welcome when allowed by doctor's orders at the following hours: 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.; 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. This rule and regulation of visitors is made necessary in order that sufficient time may be allowed for rest, medical care, cleaning, bathing, etc., of the patient and co-operation in this will be greatly appreciated.

4. Critically ill patients may have one member of the family in constant attendance.

5. Post operative patients should have no visitors except immediate family until after the second day following surgery.

This hospital belongs to the people and it is the sincere desire of the management and board of directors that all should feel that

Relatives of Local People Seriously Hurt in Colorado

Mrs. Lillian C. McClellan of Lubbock, sister of Mrs. D. R. Magee of Crowell, was critically injured Saturday in an automobile collision on the Colorado Springs-Pueblo Highway near Colorado Springs, Colo. She suffered fractures of both legs, arm and jaw and is in a Colorado Springs hospital and her condition is reported to be serious.

Mrs. McClellan's husband, Elmo McClellan of Lubbock, brother of Mrs. E. Sparks of Foard County, and Lee Bedford, also of Lubbock, were cut and bruised and were taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mrs. McClellan is the daughter of Rev. E. A. Tharp, pastor of the Ralls Methodist Church, Rev. and Mrs. Tharp left for Colorado Springs immediately after the news of the accident reached them. Mr. McClellan's employer, Joe Nislar of the Lubbock Implement Co., also went to Colorado Springs, returning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Decker Magee and daughter, Ada Jane, and Mrs. Douglas Buchanan and daughter, Frances Lee, of Wichita Falls, went to Lubbock Saturday night to be with another sister of Mrs. Magee and Mrs. Buchanan, who is ill in a hospital, returning Monday. Mrs. Buchanan and daughter returned to their home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. McClellan were returning home from their vacation in Colorado when their car met in a head-on collision with another car that had darted around a truck and was on their side of the highway.

It is hoped that the hospital will be financially stable enough that a business manager to attend to all of these details may be employed, however, until such time it is earnestly urged that the people will co-operate with the hospital in this matter.

3. Visitors are welcome when allowed by doctor's orders at the following hours: 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.; 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.; 7:30 to 9:00 p. m. Out-door Meeting, Barbecue Feature Visit of District Governor to Crowell Rotary Club Wednesday Evening

An outstanding event of the Rotary year is the visit to the club of the District Governor. This occasion was celebrated Wednesday evening with the Crowell Club when District Governor Cal Farley, his daughter, Gene, and two other young ladies, Vesta O'Dell and Marilyn Cornelius, of Amarillo were guests of the local Rotary Club in a delightful meeting at the Club Hut at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Revival Meeting Will Come to Close Tomorrow Night

The revival meeting that has been in progress at the First Methodist Church will end with the service tomorrow evening and the visiting preacher, Rev. Carl Clement, and the singer, Rev. O. B. Herring, will return to their homes at Stamford and Lockney, respectively.

Large crowds have been attending the services each night and much good has been accomplished by the excellent sermons delivered by Rev. Clement and the work among the young people by Rev. Herring. The pastor, Rev. H. A. Longino, and the two visiting preachers have visited in many homes of this community and report that they have met with encouraging success on each occasion.

Everybody is cordially invited to visit the hospital and the patients therein at the proper time, and they are assured that courteous treatment will be afforded to each individual at this institution.

In an interview with a News representative Tuesday Judge Thomas gave out the following plea for full co-operation: "Let's work together for the betterment of the hospital, not only because it is of great benefit to us and our families, but because it is ours and it should be something of which we should be justly proud. Let's make it so."

Law Enforcement Officers of Texas Will Mobilize

Law enforcement officers throughout Texas were called upon today to join in a statewide mobilization for national defense.

A complete inventory of police personnel and equipment is being made in every political subdivision. It was announced by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., State Police director and chairman of police mobilization for the Texas National Defense Committee.

Sheriffs, chiefs of police, city marshals and constables were asked in letters from Garrison to report their personnel strength, transportation and communication facilities, special equipment such as arms, gas guns and masks, portable light generators, horses, boats and airplanes and jail capacities.

This information will make it possible for police authorities to cope with any situation that might arise," Garrison said. "The state will be divided into 14 districts, and should a planned disorder or other emergency arise, additional qualified law enforcement officers would be asked to go to the affected area to assist the local officers."

This, he pointed out, will be merely an extension of the age-long practice of officers helping each other.

"Co-operation is strictly on a voluntary basis," Garrison said, "and no department is compelled to carry out the various phases of this plan."

Colonel Garrison also revealed that a comprehensive survey is being made of all Texas defense projects and industries essential to national defense, and the plans are being drawn for their protection against sabotage.

TIME TO END MIX-UPS IN LEGAL RELATIONS IN AMERICAS, SAYS WIGMORE

The simple matter of endorsing a check is but one of the ways in which legal customs of the Americas differ, writes John H. Wigmore, dean emeritus of the Law School of Northwestern University, in the current Rotarian magazine. In South America your signature alone means nothing. You must add the date.

Because of the increased interest and growing trade within the hemisphere, a change has come, however, for an Inter-American Bar Association has recently been organized to help with untangling the misunderstandings of various laws. A survey by the Judge-Advocate General of the legal profession in the United States revealed, according to Jacob M. Lashly, president of the American Bar Association, that only 42 out of 170,000 lawyers were familiar enough with Spanish and Spanish law to practice it in that language.

Inheritance laws make settling of estates that involve several countries in the Americas a veritable nightmare for all concerned. Children born of United States citizens in certain South American countries are citizens of those countries—yet may be citizens of the United States, too. Reciprocal laws could avoid many of these legal complications.

The Inter-American Bar Association, started in 1940, held its first session in Havana, Cuba, a few weeks ago. Dean Wigmore was among the officers elected there. Committees were appointed which will make recommendations at the 1942 session, which will be held at Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Cheese production in the United States reached a total this year of 846,000,000 pounds, an increase of 70,000,000 pounds over last year. A factor in the increase is the fact that importation of cheese from Europe has been cut, because of the war, to one-tenth pre-war levels. Secretary Wickard got a rise out of the Dairy Associations of the country when he urged Americans to eat less cheese that more might be shipped to England. The cheese industry of Wisconsin, which spends a million dollars a year to increase consumption in the United States, objected through the state's congressman to Secretary Wickard's plea stating that if the government would subsidize the dairy industry as it had other defense industries it could make enough cheese to supply both the United States and Great Britain. The present per capita consumption of cheese in the United States is about 6 pounds. The per capita consumption in Britain is about 9 pounds in Switzerland 17.7, and Holland 14.7.

German occupied countries of Europe have been robbed of their entire population is on a starvation diet.

SCIENCE HAS JUST BEGUN FAST WONDERS WILL BE EXPLORED, ASSERTS COMPTON

"Science is freeing man from drudgery," writes Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in the current Rotarian magazine. "In the political sense also, science has contributed to liberty. Science has likewise contributed to liberty of thought. But does science add to man's happiness?"

In answer to his own question, Dr. Compton points out that obviously, science has added to the material things—movies, radio, automobiles, but it has complicated many of the other things that make for the complex state of affairs that we call "happiness."

Yet the combinations of new technologies and discoveries are one by one, removing the bars to the greater happiness. Science is not only giving us more things to enjoy, it is giving us more time to enjoy them. Science bids to remove the need of war between the haves and the have-nots. Synthetic processes are replacing raw materials with commonly found and widely distributed things.

With all our progress, we have only started, Dr. Compton assures us, and in that lies the hope of the future. "In the face of a devastating war and an impoverished world following it, science offers us a proved means of creating new wealth and international stability."

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value only to its scarcity. It becomes cheap as it becomes vulgar, and will no longer raise expectations or animate enterprise.—Samuel Johnson. As the Greek said, many men know how to flatter; few know how to praise.—Wendell Phillips. It takes a great deal of grace to be able to bear praise. Censure seldom does us much hurt.—Spurgeon. Think not those faithful who praise all thy words and actions, but those who kindly reprove thy faults.—Socrates.

The great increase in aid to government financing by the life insurance companies of this country is shown by the rise in their total holdings of U. S. government bonds over the years: 1916, $1,500,000; 1920, $800,000,000; 1934, $1,800,000,000; 1938, $5,000,000,000; 1941, $6,000,000,000. The first national forest was created in March, 1891, when President Benjamin Harrison withdrew from entry 1,250,000 acres of public lands in Wyoming. While Texas has produced over six and one-half billion barrels of oil so far, it still has at least ten billion barrels more which is unproduced. The remainder left in the dryer to complete the process. Fruit thoroughly dried has a "rubbery" texture. When fruit is taken from the drying trays it should be "conditioned"—that is, it should be placed in deep containers and stirred each day for 8 to 10 days. Then before it is stored, the product should be heated for 30 minutes at a temperature from 150 to 180 degrees. All containers for storing dried foods should be sealed or closed tight, the specialist says. Further information about home-drying of foods can be obtained from county home demonstration agents.

Texas Babies Being Saved by Intelligent Parental Care Austin.—"The lives of thousands of Texas babies are being saved this summer by intelligent parental care during hot weather. However, many more infant deaths could be avoided if parents would have a keen realization of the value of simple common sense precautions," states Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. Records of the State Health Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics show that 2,506 babies died of diarrhea and dysentery during 1940, many of them occurring during hot weather. The infant death rate for diarrhea and dysentery in Texas is too high, as can be seen from the above mortality figures. Public health officials cannot solve the problem alone; parental co-operation is the real key

At the present time the annual rate of consumption of rubber in the United States is 871,000 tons. The Russian territory occupies one-sixth of the earth's surface. Salmon always spawn in fresh water returning after the spawning season to the sea. Each year at spawning time they return to fresh water streams. Louisiana was named in honor of Louis XIV of France. DRY PEACHES, TOO

College Station, July 24.—With peach growers, consumers, grocers, and governmental agencies intent on distribution and consumption of Texas' bumper peach crop, homemakers will likely turn their attention to drying as a safe, economical means of preservation. Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation for the A. & M. College Extension Service, says in one of her publications, that most foods, if stored in a cool, dry place, will remain in a good edible condition for a year or more. There are two methods which may be followed in drying peaches—drying in the sun or in a ventilated glassed-in box. The latter provides a higher temperature and can be made a protection from the rain, while there is little control of temperature in the sun drying method. As a rule, the specialist says, sliced peaches dry in three to eight hours; halved fruits in eight to 24 hours; and whole fruit in 18 to 36 hours. Often some pieces will dry before the rest, and in this case the thoroughly dried products should be removed and

This Week In Defense

Acting Secretary of State Welles said present Japanese activities directed toward Indo-China endanger "peaceful use of peaceful nations of the Pacific... jeopardize the procurement by the United States of essential materials such as tin and rubber... necessary for our defense program..."

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference events in the Far East are bringing to the American public a greater awareness of the danger of the whole world situation. But as yet, he said, the public is not sufficiently cognizant of the perils of the situation, any more than it realizes the dangers of war in the West.

The War Department said Army expansion has progressed faster in the past year than the manufacture of modern weapons, but it is more important to know how to employ a weapon tactically rather than to know how to fire it, "little training value is lost by the substitution of a stove pipe for a mortar or an oak bough for a machine gun."

The War Department said it is giving four types of tests to discover a trainee's ability and to help find his "right" place in the Army. Selective Service Headquarters announced that 752,572 twenty-one-year-olds registered on July 1.

Congress passed a $320,000,000 defense highway bill for construction of roads and experimental airplane landing strips, and to pay states for damages from Army and Navy maneuvers. Aid to Britain Federal Loan Administrator Jones announced the RFC has authorized a loan of $425,000,000 to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland to pay for war supplies Great Britain ordered before the Lend-Lease Act was passed.

OPM Director General Knudsen named J. A. King, OPM Power Consultant, head of a special power unit to assure an uninterrupted supply of electrical energy by reducing consumption in non-defense industries, and, if necessary, by rationing power where shortages are threatened.

Mr. King said vast "power pools" will be created to insure adequate supply of electricity for aluminum and magnesium plants now under construction. He said one has already been formed for aluminum plants in Tennessee and others are being considered for Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, the southern sections of Kansas and Missouri, and for the Northeastern section, including the New England States, New York, eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Defense Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes requested a voluntary cut of 33 1-3 per cent in motor fuel consumption in the Atlantic Coast States to avoid rationing. Congress passed a bill authorizing federal aid to private firms in constructing interstate pipelines, and Mr. Ickes recommended that the petroleum industry construct a $70,000,000 pipeline from east Texas to the Atlantic coast with a daily capacity of 250,000 barrels. He also asked the industry to construct 40 to 50 large, high-speed oil tankers in addition to 239 now on order.

Civilian Supply Price Administrator Henderson announced a tentative program to cut production in the automotive, domestic mechanical refrigerator and mechanical household laundry equipment industries to make more materials available for defense. He said the cut will be offset by defense work these industries would undertake. OPM Director General Knudsen said the proposed shift should coincide with increased defense orders to the industry to avoid unemployment.

Labor President Roosevelt established a committee on fair employment practice in the Office of Production Management to prevent discrimination against defense workers or Government employees because of race, creed or national origin. The six members represent the CIO, AFL, the newspapers and radio, and include two Negroes.

OPM Associate Director General Hillman announced that 800,000 AFL building trade union members have reached a stabilization agreement with the Government calling for no strikes on defense projects for the duration of the emergency and no stoppage of work because of jurisdictional disputes "or any other cause."

Labor Supply Mr. Hillman told railroad officials and labor executives in Chicago that the 100,000 unemployed, skilled railroad workers could be shifted to defense work under a "voluntary labor priority" plan. Mr. Hillman said an estimated 1,000,000 workers will be needed by the aircraft industry by July, 1942, as compared with the 200,000 employed today. He said 555,600 will be needed by next July in the shipbuilding industry where 375,000 are now

Christian Science Services "Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 3. The Golden Text is: "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will have, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing" (Zephaniah 3:17). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him" (1 John 2:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are located and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, matter is then submitting to Spirit" (page 239).

Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. M. A. Darroch, Director of Christian Workers Bureau, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Following Christ Nine times in the record of His earthly ministry our Lord used the command, "Follow me!" In these nine instances there are three different meanings.

A rich young ruler came to Jesus one day, and asked how he might have eternal life. The Lord replied, "If thou wouldst be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me" (Matt. 19:21). But the young man loved the things of this world more than heavenly things, this life more than eternal life. He refused to follow Jesus.

We read of these other men who, in response to Christ's command to follow, said they were willing (Luke 9:57-62). But the first had not counted the cost; the second, while willing, wanted to put it off, and the third turned back. On another day, however, Christ met a young man and said, "Philip, follow me," and Philip replied, "Lord, I will," and he did.

After the call of salvation comes the "follow me" of service. The Lord said to Peter and Andrew as they were seated in their fishing boats, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." When Matthew heard the call we read, "He forsook all and arose up and followed him" (Luke 5:28). Very soon we see him making a feast and inviting his ungodly friends to meet Jesus.

The third "follow me" is one of glorification. Our Lord is telling His disciples of His resurrection and ascension. "Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards" (John 13:36). Then follow the marvelous words of John 14:3: "If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself."

We shall never know the blessing of "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," unless first of all we have followed Christ in salvation, and followed Him in service. To follow Him is not just a sweet, sentimental impulse expressed in smooth words and religious formality. It is a vital, virile, sacrificial faith which leads the true follower to the willing not to die, but to live for Christ. Let us put away those insipid imitations of Christianity masquerading under the name of discipleship, and give up and give all to Him.

The average oil well in Texas today costs $25,000 to drill compared with $15,000 in 1922.

Goodness! As Bad as That

Consumers Should Know— Who Is the Big Boss of Business?

August 1941, Advertising Federation of America

Who is the last in a series of six prepared by the Bureau of Research and Education of the Advertising Federation of America in response to the increasing interest of consumers in questions of advertising and business? Everybody has a boss. In fact, the higher your position the more bosses you have. In business the boss of all are the customers. With every purchase they make a vote, and from their decision there is no appeal.

Customers no longer passively accept its doors must be open. There is a continuous parade of companies going out of business because the customers decided against their products or their methods. During the last thirty years, an average of more than 1,000 companies a month have had to go out of business. New enterprises take places and the competitive goes on.

Every month is a tremendous rate of commercial failure. This figure may not be any more to brag about, but it does demonstrate the power of consumer verdicts. The business that goes wrong certainly knows its boss.

Successful business continues only so long as it is able to hold the approval of its customers. When public taste changes, those who make and sell goods have to step lively to keep in tune with the times. If they don't, they are left by the wayside. It is impossible to buck the tide of public preference.

There is an interesting story about stiff collars and ex-soldiers. When our doughboys came home from the World War, they didn't like starched collars any more, although every civilian gentleman was supposed to wear them. So they bought soft shirts with collars attached. Their friends who had never worn army shirts took up the idea too and pretty soon there was a terrible drop in the sales of stiff collars. Alarmed collar makers started a big campaign. They tried to stem the tide—to persuade men that you can't be well dressed without a stiff collar. But it didn't work. The appeal fell on deaf ears and collar sales continued to drop.

One large collar manufacturer saw the light. He realized that there was no use trying to fight the customers' verdict. Being a wise merchant, he decided to heed the dictates of his consumers or bosses. He designed a soft collar; one that does not need to be starched. That was a revolutionary idea, but it took hold immediately.

With great advertising campaigns, this company persuaded the men that with the new soft collar they could be comfortable and look smart at the same time. As everybody knows, the whole thing was a tremendous success. It was a triumph for the consumer and for the wise manufacturer who worked with the tide of public taste rather than against it.

Recently someone made the mistake of trying to persuade women not to buy silk stockings. There was quite a nation-wide agitation about it and although no one came out flatfooted against it, the drive was a complete failure. Women know that they look better in silk hose than in cotton stockings and you can't get them to change unless you have a substitute that is better.

But with dresses there is a different story. Some years ago a smart merchandiser in a metropolitan department store saw an opportunity. Everybody was wearing dresses of silk, linen, and other expensive materials for daily wear at office, school, and afternoon visiting. Why not a smart, good-looking cotton dress? This department store had some made and advertised them attractively.

The idea was an instant success and in no time shops up and down New York's Fifth Avenue had their window models decked out in colorful cotton frocks. A summer wave of cotton swept the country and both men and women were pleased with the result. It took advertising to put it over, but the campaign was successful only because it met with genuine approval of consumers.

In the short-skirt era of the early Twenties, these same women had refused to heed the pleas of textile manufacturers who wanted longer dresses. The women knew what they wanted and refused to wear longer skirts at that time. Some years later, as a natural change in feminine tastes, sometimes we hear about tyranny of fashion dictators. But this is mostly a mistaken notion.

THE KEY TO THE CITY

Whenever the rank and file of American women don't want a new fashion note, they don't take it. There are more fops than successes among fashion adventurers, and no one knows this better than apparel makers.

Hair dresses were responsible for making bobbed hair popular, but it was only because women really liked it that they were able to introduce the mode. Since then they have inaugurated one style of hair-do after another. Some proved popular and some fell flat. One of the failures was the style called "upswept," which was given a lot of promotion and was supported by movie stars and other style setters. But the women didn't want it, and this particular style didn't get past first base.

Some of them, too, have a mind of their own. Certain manufacturers have been very much distressed about rebellious males who discarded hats and garters and refuse to listen to reason. So the hat manufacturers are concentrating on building lighter, cooler hats for summer, and the garter rebels are being appeased by a new kind of socks with elastic tops to hold them up without garters.

The big swings in public preference are often initiated by the advertising of new products. There is a dramatic story about ice boxes and refrigerators that everybody ought to know because it is such a splendid illustration of the benefits of technical progress combined with good merchandising.

When mechanical refrigerators were first invented and put on the market, they were advertised intensively and the public adopted them quickly. With rapidly increasing sales, the costs of production were reduced and selling prices went way down. With reduced prices, more people could afford to buy refrigerators and soon it began to look as though old-fashioned ice boxes would be a thing of the past.

Ice dealers were beginning to feel like the village blacksmiths did when the automobile came to town. They struggled desperately to hold their trade, but it was no

Cotton Crop Harvest Month Late Generally

Austin.—According to a careful survey made by the Dirt Farmers Congress through the facilities of the South Texas Cotton Oil Co. and just released to us, the cotton crops in the several sections of Texas are from one month to six weeks late this year.

The Rio Grande Valley expects to start picking its crop August 1st-10th, and at this time, with favorable weather conditions and effective boll weevil control the general estimates place that crop at about 55,000 bales against a normal average of 100,000 bales.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion in the Coastal Bend Section around Corpus Christi that cotton picking will start there about August 5th to 15th and that present prospects for a good crop are poor.

The Victoria area expects to start picking about the same time on a 40 per cent of normal crop. In the Central Texas area surrounding Travis and Williamson counties, and in the Hearn-Calvert section harvest is expected to start about August 20, with prospects for a good crop much better.

Connally Bill Would Increase Old Age Pay

Washington, D. C., July 23.—Tom Connally, Senior Senator from Texas, has introduced a bill to increase the Federal Government's share in old age assistance payments. The bill has been referred to the Senate Committee on Finance, of which Senator Connally is a top ranking member.

Dr. A. J. Altmeier, Chairman of the Social Security Board, testifying before a Senate Committee on Monday, approved and endorsed the Connally Bill and stated that it represented the views of the Board.

In 1939, the Connally amendment to the Social Security Act, providing for the payment of two dollars by the Federal Government to each one dollar by the State governments, passed the Senate, but was eliminated in the Conference Committee due to objections from the Social Security Board.

The present bill has been worked out by the joint efforts of Senator Connally and the Social Security Board members. The bill does not carry a flat rate to be paid by the Federal Government, but provides a mathematical formula for payments to be made in reverse ratio to the State's per capita income per person. Thus, the State, with higher average individual incomes is more able to pay its share of the pension, and the less the Federal Government will contribute, while the poorer the State, the more the Federal Government will contribute.

Under the present law, there is considerable discrepancy in the amount paid to the aged in the various States; this bill would tend to bring about a more equal pay to the old age pensioner throughout the nation.

Heretofore in Texas, monthly old age pension payments have been a little less than $14. On that basis, under the Connally bill, the combined payments would be $22.50. Under recent enactments of the Legislature of Texas, if funds are available, the monthly payments would amount to $18.50. Under the terms of the Connally bill, with the State contribution, the monthly payments would amount to $27.75 to each old age pensioner.

Crimson clover seed production may reach the high record of 8,360,000 pounds, clean basis, in 1941, compared with approximately 5,230,000 pounds in 1940.

DANGER! EYES AT WORK

Two workers' eyes are injured in America each minute. The cost to industry is $50,000,000 a year. So far as our imperfect statistics show approximately six per cent of accidents that affect the eyes result in a total loss of one eye. Thirty per cent of all eye accidents occur in industry—in shops and mills where metal is melted, cast and machined.

Even in ordinary life the eyes are exposed to danger. Many an amateur carpenter has lost an eye because the nails that he was trying to hammer rebounded. Each year the newspapers publish brief, sad notices of women who have accidentally touched an eye with a hot curling iron. Air rifles carelessly fired have played their part in destroying sight. Perhaps the saddest cases of all are the result of flipping pins and paper clips in jest.

Eye injuries are of two kinds. First, we have injuries caused by flying bits of steel, grit, wood, chemicals—injuries against which goggles protect. I have seen a collection of goggles that testify eloquently to sight that they saved. One pair was literally covered with molten lead that had splashed on them and solidified. The face of the man who wore them was burned, but his eyes were saved.

The second type of injury occurs because so many of us do not see well. Partly because of vanity, partly because we are not aware of a defect of vision we do not wear glasses. Fifty per cent of all workers have faulty eyesight. They cannot possibly turn out work of the best quality. Nor can they see small obstacles on the floor over which they might stumble; or dodge trouble when a machine "goes wrong."

This matter of eyes is of such importance in American defense that more and more employers pay the cost of having their workers' eyes examined periodically. And even if we are not workers in a steel mill or a machine shop we owe it to ourselves and to those dependent on us to make regular visits to the vision specialist to find out the truth about the condition of our eyes.

(This is the 9th in a series of articles prepared by Dr. W. F. Baber.)

A study of 629 Negro families in one Northwest Texas town recently revealed that only eight had home gardens. Twenty-six were home owners.

Storage Rates for 1941 Loan Cotton Are Announced

College Station.—The maximum warehousing rates for 1941 loan cotton are 17½ cents a bale per month for warehouses that do not operate compress facilities and 15 cents a bale per month for warehouses operating compress facilities. B. F. Vance, administrative officer of the state AAA, has announced.

In addition to these charges, Vance said, warehouses may not collect more than 25 cents per bale service charge for receiving, sampling and delivering, and 10 cents a bale for each service of re-weighing and re-sampling. As customary in past loan programs, the cotton producer will also pay a fee of 15 cents a bale for classing which is done by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

At the time service is authorized by the person having title to the warehouse receipts, compression charges will be made at rates specified in the warehouseman's established tariff in effect at that time but will not be in excess of the tariff rate of July 1. Delivery charges for cotton which compression charges are not collected, may also be made by warehouses that operate compress facilities, the AAA official said, but no delivery charge will be made if the cotton is delivered direct to a consuming mill within 50 miles of the warehouse.

Refrigerator Prices Reduced

The average price of an electric refrigerator 20 years ago was $600.

The average price today is $54—for a lot better product.

One thing that made this price reduction possible was that millions of people bought electric refrigerators. Volume brought prices down.

And one thing that made volume possible was advertising, which taught people to want electric refrigerators.

That's how advertising helps bring prices down.

COTTON ON THE OFFENSIVE

The cotton industry prepares for the third year of its nationwide advertising campaign to increase the consumption of American cotton through scientific research, and resistance to discriminatory legislation. Through its three-fold attack the industry expects to attain the goal of parity consumption and parity income as well as parity price.
