School Budgets and Applications for Rural Aid Prepared; First to be Completed in the District

'Last Pose'

J. C. Jernigan, new deputy State School Superintendent for this district, was in Crowell last Thursday evening late to confer with County Judge and Ex-Officio County School Superintendent Leslie Thomas with reference to the budgets and applications for rural aid for the various schools in the county eligible therefor.

I. T. Graves and Bailey Rennels were present for the meeting. Mr. Graves representing the contract schools into Crowell and Mr. Rennels in behalf of the Thalia schools. As the deputy did not anticipate visiting until late Friday or early Saturday morning, C. R. Moore of the Margaret school and Sam Billingsley of Riverside school were not available for the meeting.

Mr. Jernigan explained the reason for his early arrival as being that other schools in the district did not have their budgets and applications completed as scheduled and that the Foard County budgets and applications were the first completed ones in the district.

RARE STALK OF CABBAGE

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Franklin of the Foard City community have a stalk of cabbage that made one head last year, went through the winter and has already produced two heads and now, another head is growing on the same stalk. This is an unusual freak of nature, for, one head is usually the crop for one stalk of cabbage, and, too, it is rare that the cabbage stands the winter weather.

Many organizations will send representatives from every section of the state.

Airless Joe Makes Big News Again in 'Believe It or Not'

Believe it or not, Crowell has made an appearance in Robert Ripley's "Believe It or Not" of Monday's issue. The drawing in the famous, popular square is of Crowell's own "Airless Joe," the toad that came to life in Jan. 1940, after having been buried in a concrete block for 20 years and was brought to fame with publicity and his picture in many of the daily papers of the nation. The picture, a real photograph, was made by Henry Ashford who was at that time staff photographer of The Foard County News. The toad was brought to The News office by Jeff Todd who had discovered him when he broke apart a concrete slab which had been used for a clothes-line support and which was being changed by the Todd family. At the time, Mr. Todd stated that he was of the opinion that the slab had been placed there by W. H. McGonagle who had owned the place before the Todds bought it. The News went to considerable trouble to locate Mr. McGonagle in order to get some information concerning the toad. When he was contacted, he did remember that a toad had persisted in jumping into the hole when he was pouring the concrete and he let it stay, after trying in vain to induce him to keep out. Without a doubt, it was the same toad that was unearthed 20 years later.

When the toad was first uncovered, it was nearly white and both eyes were closed, but, after he was placed on a desk at The News office, his color began to return and he opened his eyes. His picture and a story was published at the time in The Foard County News and also, sent to Associated Press, by special request. From there, it made its way to many newspapers. It is almost like seeing the picture of an old friend to look at him from Mr. Ripley's page.

Sister-in-Law of Mrs. G. W. Walthall Died in El Paso

Mrs. Sallie Harris Walthall, 85, wife of Judge A. M. Walthall, of El Paso died at her home in that city last week. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a charter member.

Mrs. Walthall became the bride of Anderson W. Walthall, a young lawyer, at Fulton, Mo., Oct. 3, 1877. The couple was married by his father, a Baptist preacher, Rev. W. B. Walthall. They went to Breckenridge, Texas, to live in the first frame house of the town. To get there they drove in a hack from the end of the railroad at Fort Worth. They moved to El Paso in 1897 from Pecos and she had been active in the Baptist Church since that time.

A member of the church since she was 11, she had demonstrated her faith through her cheerfulness and her energy, her friends recalled. When those close to her were in trouble, her favorite saying was "My prayer for you is that your faith fail not."

Mrs. Walthall is survived by her husband, three children and six grandchildren.

Dr. W. W. Melton to Speak at Thalia Meeting Oct. 1

The Men's Brotherhood of the Thalia Baptist Church will resume its monthly meetings when it plays host to the Brotherhoods of the District in a meeting at the Thalia Baptist Church next Wednesday night, Oct. 1. The Thalia Brotherhood has held no meetings during the summer. Invitations to all nearby churches have gone out, and the Thalia church is expecting large visiting delegations of men from Crowell, Margaret, Rayland, Vernon, Lockett, O'Dell, Fargo, and Oklaunion. It is understood a delegation of men from the Red Springs Church in Baylor County plans to attend.

According to an announcement released from Thalia the first part of the week, Rev. Dr. W. W. Melton, for many years pastor of the Seventh and James Streets Baptist Church in Waco and more recently General Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, has been engaged as the principal speaker of the evening. Dr. Melton was a cowboy in this vicinity forty years ago and already has a host of friends here. Everybody will be interested in his visit to Thalia. The program committee of the Thalia Brotherhood plans in addition to Dr. Melton's address a program of interest and variety.

Refreshments will be served after the program, and all men are invited to attend the District Brotherhood meeting.

N. Y. A. Project for Young Men Is Available

Communication has been received by Judge Leslie Thomas from the Federal Security Agency of National Youth Administration that a project is now open to young men between the ages of 17 1/2 to 24, inclusive, who are interested in obtaining work experience and training in the basic fundamentals of auto mechanics, welding, and metal trades, or cooking. The resident center will be located at Canyon.

Young men assigned to this project work approximately one-half of each day in the construction line and are paid a wage sufficient to enable them to pay for their subsistence and have $12 a month for their own use. During the other half-day, class instruction and practical work experience is provided under competent supervision in one of the above trades.

A recreation program including baseball, basketball, volley ball, swimming, and other types of athletic sports, as well as indoor games and group activities, is carried on.

A youth council elected by the boys themselves participates in the management of the project. Youth participation in management, of course, is subject to the rules and regulations governing the N. Y. A. program.

A physician attends all youth workers for illness or injury. Hospitalization is provided for short-time sickness at no cost to the youth. If injured while in the performance of duty, youth employees are eligible to apply for compensation through the U. S. Employees' Commission. Each youth selected for the project must submit a doctor's statement which includes a laboratory report showing a negative Wasserman test, certifying that he is free from contagious or infectious diseases, hernia, heart or lung trouble, and is capable of doing manual labor.

Each worker is responsible for keeping himself, his clothes, and his quarters in clean and sanitary condition and will be expected to contribute such time as is necessary to keep the project in good condition.

There are a number of young men in this district who could very materially benefit from this program and Judge Thomas is extremely anxious that the young men of Foard County avail themselves of this opportunity for it is not only an opportunity for employment but it is an educational advantage which many young men would not be able to participate in were this project not available. It is an opportunity to learn an avocation or trade with which the young men may earn throughout life. All young men coming within the limit, who are interested, are asked to contact Judge Thomas at his office in the very near future.

Special Session of Legislature Adjourns 6 O'Clock Friday

Following the suggestion of Senator Coke R. Stevenson, the Legislature hurried through special session and went home two weeks were up, having had the road bond servicing the business for which the law was called. Final technical signing of the bill were completed last Friday, according to representative Grady Roberts, with Mrs. Roberts returned to her home in Monday last.

Many quarters considered the an extraordinary harmony gathering of lawmakers. It seemed that the members of the legislature had accepted the Governor's challenge to "Democracy can work."

Finally enacted, the bond bill does this: It allocates one cent of State's 4-cent gasoline tax to payment of debts incurred in constructing roads later became a part of the highway system. This is a part of a policy initiated in 1932.

It divides the surplus in this fund—the difference between the income derived from the one cent and the amount to service the bonds—50 percent between the Highway Department and the counties. For the year just past, the counties all this surplus, and it was the Senate that the bill was to the Highway Department, which led to the deadlock consequent failure of the legislation to enact a road bond law.

It changes slightly the effect during the last biennium, as to the manner in which counties are to spend their share of the surplus. The new law is mandatory that the counties (1) to service all other road debts, if any then remaining, it may be used as the counties see fit in the construction of lateral, or farm-to-market roads. The counties call upon the State Highway Department for supervision of the construction. Under the old law mandatory use was served right-of-way debts.

You know it's tough to tell oil quality by looking at it. You can't even test it very quickly.

That is why, when you are buying a lubricant to protect your motor-car investment, it is so important to rely on the good name of the oil and its maker.

Millions of motorists know from experience that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is a lubricant with a good name, backed by a great name.

Our Weekly Sermon

By William M. Lessel, Assistant to the Director of Mailing and Service Bureau, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Our Hands Text: "Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it." Psalm 90:17.

How important are our hands in our daily work. Almost every task we do calls for some movement of the hands. From his very beginning on earth, man has done things with his hands.

First, let us think of toiling hands. These are represented by those of the farmer. They are bronzed and calloused, for they belong to a healthy, hard working man. They are busy, useful hands toiling hands, alone, however, do not receive favor with God. The story of Cain makes this plain (Gen. 4).

He brought the fruit of the ground as an offering to the Lord, and his brother Abel brought of his flock. Cain had toiled long and hard with his hands, but his offering did not please God, while Abel's offering did, for God deeded a consecrated and devoted heart. No matter how hard we toil, we cannot obtain salvation. Salvation is a free gift of God.

In contrast with toiling hands we find idle hands. With idle hands go idle bodies and idle minds and idle tongues. We read in I Timothy 5:13: "And whilst they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not." Let us keep busy, serving the Lord; then there will be no time for the sins of idleness to creep in.

Then, there are strong hands. We see these pictured in the story of David and Goliath. The huge Philistine came with a sword and a spear and a shield. But David came with the strength of the Lord in his hands.

In contrast with strong hands we find weak hands. In II Chronicles 15:7 we read: "Be ye strong Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath.—James 1:19.

Both parties are guilty of it, but we have always felt that a filibuster in Congress is, in most instances, unconstitutional. Under the present law if the opposition to a measure desires to prevent it coming to a vote a speaker may keep the floor as long as he can talk. He can speak as long as he can think of anything to say and then read from any book he chooses. If he becomes too tired to carry on he may yield the floor to another obstructionist who can follow a like procedure. The only purpose of a filibuster is to prevent an issue from coming to a vote by holding the floor until the time for adjournment has passed.

The aluminum collected in the recent drive was sufficient to build 2,800 planes. It was a good project even though the country might not have needed the aluminum. It gave millions a definite part, small though it was, in the defense program, and, from the economic standpoint, it gathered up from the four corners of the country little scraps of aluminum that in themselves, and by themselves, had no value and would have been thrown, perhaps, in the waste refuse pile and lost. By gathering them all together they made a total sufficient to build 2,800 planes—truly a saving worth making.

Under the present law any dealer or converter who has a larger supply of needed metals than his needs may require can be forced to give up part of his stock to other industries needing the same materials. Another phase of the present law is that a plant that has the equipment necessary to turn out a government defense order, cannot refuse to do so.

It is much more difficult to sit and listen than it is to talk. The listener always wears out first.

It is conceded that because of the demand by defense industries for certain materials, chiefly metals, that industries supplying domestic wants and using these same materials will be forced to close within the next two months. If these shops and industries are equipped to handle defense work they may secure subcontracts. These subcontracts, will, in each instance, be secured through the regional OPM office. No advantage, it is stated, can be secured by going to Washington in an effort to secure contracts. The regional office can accomplish everything that can be done by Washington.

The administration is trying to make the wage-hour law apply to all types of business wherever located. This is wrong. It is wrong to attempt to apply the same rule to a struggling little industry in the agricultural sections and the nonindustrial sections, that is made to apply to the large industry with its trained workers, its assembly line, and conveyor belt, and volume production. It works an unfair handicap on the little business.

The practice of society of engaging in periodical wars that consume its resources and bring it to the verge of moral and financial bankruptcy, is not unlike that of the man who works hard and saves his money and periodically indulges in a drunken, gambling spree that dissipates his resources and brings him back to work again broke and shaken in health to begin the vicious circle again.

There are two kinds of friends; the friends who are friends because they like you and enjoy your company and the friends who are your friends because they want something you have, either your help or material substance. The last variety is as big a nuisance as the first type is a blessing. The friendship that has to be fed with favors is never worth the value of the favors.

It is with no small degree of comfort that we note that those supposed to be in the "know" predict that no food shortage is in sight in this country. Prices will be higher on a few items but no scarcity is in sight.

One or two more reports by Hitler as to the number of Russians he has slain and taken prisoner and census figures regarding the population of Russia will have to be revised radically upward.

Roger Babson figures that the cost of crime in the United States each year would pay all the taxes. Mr. Babson offers no report on this phase of it, but some of the taxes are crimes, too.

In the event no one has yet reminded you, we would suggest that the forehanded persons should do their Christmas shopping early.

Costly as it is, it is cheaper to furnish Russia and England the guns and let them fight Hitler than it would be for us to fight him.

Business is getting gun shy of government—too much social gains.

NOT TO BE NEGLECTED!

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

Periodically, throughout the history of the world, wars have come, endured for a while and then ceased. In each instance the war has continued until one or the other of the belligerents has accomplished his objectives or has become exhausted as to resource and man power and has been forced to terminate the war. In every instance the war has left one or both participants with greatly depleted resources, extirpation of the reaction and deflation moral relapse.

It is also noted that each war has become more costly, more exhausting, more devastating, and more disastrous to the participants than the one preceding. Especially is this noted in the later wars in which costly mechanized equipment was and is being employed.

The World War all but bankrupted every nation that engaged in it and would easily have done so had each been called upon to pay in full its debt to this country.

It is but fair to count as a part of the cost of a war the depression and recession of prosperity that follows a war. This sometimes amounts to more than the cost of the war itself, as was the case in the World War, and will no doubt be the case in the present war.

The present war, although but well on its way, has already run up enormous costs. A debt faces this country and England that even the most optimistic are becoming concerned as to how it will be paid.

As is always the case, the evil effects of the war on the economy of the country will not be felt until after the war is over, and the tide of the reaction and deflation begins to set in.

At the close of the World War, men, seeing the disastrous effects of modern warfare, attempted to set up an organization known as the League of Nations. Because of fear and distrust and petty jealousy it was never fully entered into by all the nations, hence there is no evidence that such an organization might or might not succeed, if it received complete co-operation on the part of the leading nations of the world.

It appears to me that the war problem is not going to be solved through such human organization unless the organization is able to bring about a change in the hearts of people, that they will have a will to make them work.

This, it seems to me, is going to be the responsibility of the Christian people of the world after the close of this war. It is not likely that there will be another war of such major proportions for fifty years. This should be time for the present generation to look squarely at the problem, realize its responsibility and its obligation to future generations and set about building in the hearts of people a greater brotherhood, and tolerance, and love for one another.

Two Minute Sermon
(By Thomas Hastwell)

When the Master Says, "Well Done," I was visiting with the editor of a weekly newspaper recently. Among other things, we discussed employees and the manner in which they did their work. In the course of our conversation he told me the following story:

"A young woman applied to me one day for a position. She said that she had never had any experience as a printer but knew she could learn if I would only give her a chance. She was a frail creature and would not weigh a hundred pounds, but I thought I saw in her eyes the light of faith in herself and I heard in her voice the note of determination and will and high purpose. I put her to work. Step by step she mastered every duty in the office and was proficient in all of them. I have employed many people during the years that I have been in business but none with the unflagging zeal, the energy, the sincerity of purpose that this wisp of a girl had. I shall always remember the excellence of her work. It was an inspiration to everyone else in the office. After a time she married and moved away from the community and in a few years later died." I thought as he talked how like life. Some approach it thoughtlessly and indifferently as though it meant little. Others approach it as this girl approached her task with a consecration of mind and strength and purpose. They create of it a worthy thing. I have no doubt that this girl answered the final call, that she received, as she deserved to receive, the Master's approval, "Well done." That, it seems to me, is what we all should work for. This is the kind of a life that Christ wants each of us to live—a life of which it may be truly said, "Well done."

The Christian Home Orphanage of Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a National Home for children; it is located in Iowa, but it is supported entirely by the voluntary contributions of people from all sections of the country. It receives no appropriations of any kind, and employs no traveling agents, but depends upon the free will offerings of charitably inclined people for its support. The work of caring for homeless children and training them to become Christian men and women, is the most outstanding work of today. The Christian Home Orphanage is doing this work, but it cannot do it without your gifts and your co-operation. This is a work in which all can take part.

The Christian Home Orphanage is unique in its work. It is not like an ordinary institution. The children are not institutionalized, but are like normal children from happy homes. Uniforms are not tolerated at the Home, but the children are dressed just as you would dress your own little ones. Even their clothing is given to them by the loving friends of the Home throughout the land. Through faith in God a devoted band of friends of the Home, are scattered over the length and breadth of our fair land.

For information in regard to this remarkable Home, write to the Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and literature will be sent to you. All contributions sent to the Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa, are duly acknowledged, and credited in the official publication, "Christian Home," in which all financial reports appear, a copy of which will be mailed to you.

FEDERAL OLD AGE INSURANCE
Persons 65 years of age or over who may be entitled to Federal old-age insurance should immediately communicate with the nearest Social Security Board office when they are separated from their jobs. Roscoe L. Surles, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the board, said last week. "Otherwise," the statement continued, "they may lose benefits merely because of their delay in filing a claim. This applies to all persons who have been working in employment covered by the Social Security Act for a sufficient period of time to qualify for benefits."

It was explained that old-age insurance payments are not retroactive; payment cannot begin prior to the month in which a claim is filed. For instance, a person aged 65 or older who was separated from work on January 1, 1941, but who files his claim in March, will receive benefits beginning with the month of March. He loses the benefits he would have received in January and February had he filed his claim in January.

Surles explained further that an individual eligible for old-age insurance payments does not have to be retired permanently in order to receive such benefits upon reaching 65, but he may receive them for any month in which he does not earn as much as $15.00 covered wages, even though he is receiving unemployment insurance and plans to return to work later.

"It should be noted," Surles said, "that the survivors of a ceased wage earner have the months in which to file their claims. In the case of a wage earner who dies in March of a year, the survivors who are able to receive monthly insurance payments at that time may receive their claims as late as June and receive benefits beginning March."

Is Asking Aid For Chinese Children

L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Education, has been appointed Chairman of the United China Relief Committee for Texas. He will work with State Chairman Nathan Adams and Governor Coke Stevenson, vice chairman in the drive to raise $200,000 in Texas to aid sixty million unfortunate and suffering war victims in China. Money given by Texas school children will be used to aid the children of China, millions of whom are homeless, destitute and starving as the result of Japanese invasion. Chairman L. A. Woods urges that every school in Texas make a collection for United China Relief without delay and forward the money to Nathan Adams, president of the First National Bank in Dallas. The money will be sent overseas to aid the little Chinese children who are so badly in need of help. Every student and every teacher is asked to subscribe to this humane cause.

Government Aid to Dependent Children Started on Sept. 19

The State Department of Public Welfare announced last week that it would start accepting applications for aid to dependent children at its local offices throughout the state, beginning Friday, Sept. 19. Although this date represents the opening of the program, it is not mandatory that all applicants apply on September 19, as arrangements will be made to accept applications on subsequent intake days, which will be announced for each locality.

Parents or relatives of dependent children should call at the State Department's local office in the county in which they reside and talk with the worker who will be prepared to explain the eligibility requirements and assist in filing the application. It will not be necessary that the children be brought to the office as the local worker will later make a visit to the home at which time the children may be seen.

For a child to be eligible for aid to dependent children under the laws of Texas, the child:

- (1) Must be a citizen of the United States.
- (2) Must have resided in Texas at least one year preceding the date of application; or must have been born within the state within one year preceding the date of application provided the child's mother had resided in Texas at least one year preceding the child's birth.
- (3) Must be under the age of fourteen.
- (4) Must be deprived of parental support, or care, by reason of one of the following factors: (a) death of a parent, (b) continued absence from home on the part of a parent, (c) physical or mental incapacity of a parent.
- (5) Must be living with his father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, step-father, step-mother, step-brother, step-sister, uncle or aunt in a place of residence maintained by one or more such relatives as his or her home.
- (6) Must be in need. This is defined as not having sufficient income or other resources to provide a reasonable subsistence compatible with health and decency.

The department called particular attention to its item 4 in explaining that the program was not designed to provide for all needy children but only those whose need is due to their being deprived of parental care and support by virtue of one or more of the specified reasons. The department gave the following explanation of some of these reasons.

Death of a parent is interpreted literally, except that it cannot be said that a child is deprived of parental support if the surviving parent has re-married and the child has one natural parent and one-step-parent.

Continued absence from home is interpreted to include absence that might be due to imprisonment, desertion or abandonment, or divorce.

The physical or mental incapacity of a parent is interpreted to mean an incapacity that restricts the occupational activity of a parent to such an extent that the parent is unable to provide support. The parent's condition must be of such chronic nature that it can reasonably be anticipated to incapacitate the parent for a period of at least six months.

The Constitution of Texas, Article III, Section 51D, restricts payments in such a way that no more than $16.00 can be given for one child in an eligible family, and no more than $24.00 can be given for two or more children in an eligible family. The constitutional amendment also restricts the total expenditure of state funds for the ADC program to no more than $1,500,000 yearly, which means that the total amount available, including federal matching funds, cannot exceed $3,000,000 yearly.

H. G. Wells Offers New Bill of Rights For a Lasting Peace

There are eleven basic rights of men in the Declaration of Rights that famed author H. G. Wells offers in the current Rotarian magazine. These, plus the tried and tested institution of a consolidated opposition, "dovetail into the plan of creative political action I am putting before you," he writes.

First is the right to live, "with in the measure of these (natural) resources and without distinction of race, color, or professed beliefs or opinions, to the nourishment, covering, and medical care needed to realize his (man's) full possibilities."

Second is the right of protection of minors. The third "right" is a duty—a man's duty to the community within his beliefs and capabilities. "To perform no social duty whatsoever is to remain unenfranchised and under guardianship."

The next five rights in the declaration are the right to knowledge, freedom of thought and worship, the right to work, the right in personal property, and freedom of movement. "A man may move freely about the world at his own expense... So long as by his movement he does not intrude upon the private domain of any other citizen... he shall have the right to come and go wherever he chooses."

Personal liberty, so long as one does not forfeit it by illegal actions under the other rights, is another inalienable right under this declaration. So is freedom from violence. And lastly, in man is the right of lawmaking.

"The fount of legislation," concludes Wells, "in a free world is the whole people, and since life flows on constantly to new citizens, no generation can, in whole or in part, surrender or delegate this legislative power which is inalienably inherent in mankind."

Flood Protection of Santa Fe at Friona Started on Monday

Work on the flood protection project of the Santa Fe Railway at Friona, Texas, will start next Monday, J. A. Gillies, general manager of the Santa Fe Western Lines, Amarillo, announced today.

The project will entail dyking and bridging including approximately 200,000 yards of grading. Necessity for the protective measure developed during last season's heavy rains which rushed through Friona draw, flooding railway property and the town of Friona and causing considerable damage, Gillies said.

Upon the basis of surveys recently completed by railway engineers bids were invited by T. A. Blair, chief engineer, Western Lines, and the contract awarded this week to Cook and Ransom, Ottawa, Kans., who were the lowest bidders.

The construction centering around Friona Draw is to be under the immediate supervision of J. G. West, assistant engineer on Blair's staff. Under the proposed plan the dyking and bridging will serve as protection of the railroad property against flood threats which seriously hampered operations last season. It will also tend to serve as a protective measure for private and public properties in the vicinity.

The project is scheduled for

EDITORIAL

Editorials are hard to write. First you have to choose a good subject. There are very few good subjects left in the world so some body has to write on the worse subjects. It is one of these worse subjects that I am going to endeavor to write on.

The subject is studying. Now, if you don't think that studying is a hard subject, try it sometime. People study in many different ways. A happy-go-lucky person studies, one brain cell on his lesson while another brain cell is remembering Friday night's football game. A serious person almost always has deep concentration on his subject or lesson. A lazy student reads his lesson for one minute then he leans back and rests for four minutes. A naturally smart person reads his lesson once then remembers all he has read. A dumb person reads his lesson ten times and remembers nothing at all. A person who doesn't care opens a book. An interested person reads and studies until his eyes become weak. A person who knows-it-all is trying to cover up what he doesn't know. Studying is important, try to do it right if you do it at all.

nose when he talks. Why doesn't Clonita Russell put her hair in pig tails for a change? It would be cute, too!

Shorty Roark was rather pale around the gills after the ball game. Could it be that he was afraid of the hugs promised the football boys by the pep squad if they won?

Confidentially it would be enough to make Tyrone Power shake in his boots, though, from what yours truly saw.

THE FRESHMAN PICNIC

Eighteen freshmen gathered at the "Cub Hut" last Thursday evening at 7:30. This was their first social event of the year. A number of the class reported the following, quote:

We played games in the following order: "County Meet," "Coose, Coose, Caboose," "Tag," "Electricity." After playing, we enjoyed a picnic lunch. Thanks to our class mothers, sponsor, and all the committees for a grand time. Unquote.

And the freshmen really had a good time, too. In fact, some of the sophomores were planning to raid the party, and the freshmen boys managed to take the sophomore girls home from the party. That oughta teach some sophomores a lesson.

F. H. T. CLUB

The F. H. T. Club had its first meeting Thursday morning, Sept. 18, in the Home Economics room. The new officers were introduced as follows: Joyzelle Tysinger, president; June Billington, secretary; Yvonne McLain, treasurer; Jane Roark and Evelyn Edwards, reporters; Marjorie Young, parliamentarian; Margaret Claire Shirley and Evelyn Flesher, historians; Jean Seales and Wanda Evans, song leaders; Lealys Gilliam, pianist; and Jean Orr, assistant.

Joyzelle Tysinger made a short talk on the aims of the club for the next year. The meeting was adjourned until the third Thursday in October.

SOPHOMORE PICNIC

The sophomore class enjoyed a delightful weiner roast last Thursday night at the North Pocket Park. Games were enjoyed, these being led by various ones. The food consisted of roasted weiners, bread, pickles, mustard, potato chips, punch and tea. This was prepared by the class mothers, Mrs. Frank Cates and Mrs. Vance Favor, and also the sponsor's wife, Mrs. G. C. Foster. The class is looking forward to their next social event which will be Halloween.

NUMBER TWO

The Crowell Wildcats chalked up their second victory as they upset the Paducah Dragons last Friday night at Wildcat Stadium.

The scoring started early in the game as the Wildcats crossed the Dragon double stripe after a sustained drive of sixty-five yards. Paducah fought back desperately under the able leadership of Sandlin, Paducah's ace quarterback, but they were unable to hold the C. H. S. eleven. The final count was 32-0.

SUBS VS. SCRUBS

Another football game was played last week between the "Subs" and the "Scrubs" with the "Subs" winning by a small margin. No wonder that it was a close game though since the "Scrubs" had the dynamic half-pint, Kenneth Nelson.

THE CAT'S CLAW

Well, students, it seems that there's been a lot of date making taking place in Crowell High for the last few days. I guess you know the reason why. Well, it's because of the picnics that are going to take place tonight. It appears that Paul Vecera is going to take Evelyn Flesher to the Junior picnic.

Bill Owens rushed up to Mary Edwards this morning after he received word that Lowell Campbell had not yet made a date.

Ray Davis is treating his brother right by keeping the other boys from Wanda Evans. Could there be something else in this besides brotherly love? I believe there is.

Albert Bird appears to be taking Dorothy Greening to the junior picnic. Do you think there is anything to this?

Gordon Erwin seemed to have changed his plans all of a sudden and no definite girl can be named.

From all reports Mary Evelyn Edwards and Margie Davidson had a grand time in Lubbock Sunday. We hear they had two good looking boys showing them the town. Their names could not have been Douglas Hardy and Allen Andrus could they?

JOKES

 Mr. Foster: Why should a bachelor have any troubles?

Ray Davis: Anyway, Congress hasn't put a tax on brains.
 Miss Cogdell: Well, generally speaking, the revenue wouldn't be worth while.

Coach Graves: Have you a book called "Man, The Master of Women?"
 Sales Girl: Fiction department in the basement, sir.

Mrs. Sloan: Charlie, you have misspelled almost every word in your composition.
 Charlie Thompson: Yes, ma'am, I'm going to be a dialect writer.

Two boys were discussing athletics.
 "How high can you jump?" asked one.
 "Just over four feet," explained the other.
 "How far can you jump?"
 "Five feet," his friend replied.
 "How about the long jump?"
 "Just about ten feet," said the first.
 "What's your time for the half mile?" By now the other was a little suspicious.
 "Five seconds, better than yours," he replied.
 Mrs. Jones: Sponge cake, dear, I sponged the eggs from Mrs. Brown, the milk from Mrs. Holmes and the flour from Mrs. Smith.

Judge: Gentlemen of the jury, have you come to a decision?
 Foreman: We have, the jury are all of the same mind—temporarily insane.

Miss Motley: If you were lost on a desert island and could have one book, what book would you choose?
 Travis Vecera: That's easy, "Ship Building for the Amateur."

Private: I say, sergeant, this meat's as tough as leather, and the knife's dull.
 Sergeant: Then why don't you strop the knife on the meat?

PEP MEETING

Wednesday morning a pep meeting was called. Officers were elected for the coming year. June Billington was elected president; Margaret Claire Shirley, vice president; Betty Jo Zeibig, secretary-treasurer; Margie Davidson, reporter. Also pep squad leaders were elected. Jean Orr, Margie Davidson, June Billington and Virginia Thomas. A few yells were given and the meeting was adjourned.

At one point the Bering Straits between Alaska and Russia are but 56 miles wide.

New 1942 Chevrolet Will Be on Display at Borchardt Chevrolet Company Friday and Saturday

New massiveness, contributing to the smartest styling ever designed for the nation's No. 1 sales volume motor car, characterizes the Chevrolet offering for 1942, according to company engineers. The new car is presented in three lines ranging from an economy model that incorporates unusual refinements to a luxury line surpassing all previous presentations in the lower-price field.

As in past years, the new car is presented in the Master Deluxe and Special Deluxe series. The Fleetline series, introduced mid-season last year in sedan only, is represented again by sedan, known as the Sportmaster, and the new Fleetline six passenger Aerosedan, said to be one of the most attractively styled models in the entire showing.

The same attention to finished detail that is apparent in the exterior of the new models is noted at once inside the car. Smart styling, fine materials, and excellent design have produced the most beautiful and comfortable interiors that Chevrolet ever has offered.

Though wheelbase on all models is unchanged from 1941, remaining at 116 inches, stylists have set the over-all length at 195½ inches, creating a long, low, sleek car that combines sweeping lines with a generally rugged appearance. Complete new front-end treatment, handled harmoniously, does much to convey an impression of greater size and increased sturdiness throughout.

A new, lower, wider, more massive grille with its heavier bars gives an instant impression of bigness, while the blunter, deeper hood, front splash shield, and more widely spaced Sealed Beam headlights contribute to that effect. Greater length is indicated at once by the new elongated front fenders, which flow back into the front doors, swinging with the doors as they are opened. The new fender design permits desirable clean, smooth surfaces. An ingenious touch is the new foot scraper at the front running board step pad, created by a triangular extension of the new

Smart Styling Keynotes New Chevrolet

Distinguished styling, characterized by a new massiveness, marks the new 1942 Chevrolet, introduced to the motoring public today. Shown above is the Special De Luxe Sport Sedan, a roomy, luxurious, six-passenger model. A new grille treatment, with integral parking lights, and smart new elongated front fender, which sweeps back into the grille proper, are design highlights and opens with the front door, are design highlights and interior appointments are in the modern mode.

Because the unusually successful Chevrolet engine developed for 1941 is retained with only minor refinements for the new year, power output remains virtually the same, assuring the same high performance characteristics so generally acclaimed last year. Axle ratios and tire sizes likewise are unchanged, insuring hill-climbing ability, acceleration, and general over-all performance at the 1941 level. Fuel and oil economy, long a Chevrolet trait, is also thus assured.

Much broader and deeper than before, the new hood extends back to the front edge of the front door, displacing the former cowl side panel and making a cleaner line. Hood side panels are integral with the hood top and are raised with it, facilitating greater access to the engine compartment. The same "driver-control" method of unlatching the hood is retained from last year. Smart simplicity keynotes the hood louvers, which appear to be extensions of the body belt molding, tapering out from that molding to a projection of about 1½ inches at the hood front.

The harmonize with other appearance units, the re-designed front end emblem is a massive shield of gleaming finish inlaid with red and blue enamel. Augmenting this striking ornament, on Fleetline and Special Deluxe model hood side panels, shining block letters announce the name. Headlamps now are 7¼ inches farther apart, with a total of inches between them. Flush parking lamps have been relocated into the grille proper.

Greater sturdiness is apparent in the new bumpers and guards for increased depth makes greater resistance to impact. Increased crown depth assures greater resistance to impact. Guards are redesigned toward more massive appearance, and added feature is the relocation of the front license plate guard spanning the tops of the bumper guards and serving as a bumper guard.

On the trunk, license light trunk handle have been re-designed in accord with the theme of sturdiness throughout. The trunk handle and its base form a shield with the license lamp on top. Projecting from each side of the shield on the Special Deluxe Fleetline models is a wide pair of wings. Just above this the license plate is mounted above that appears the Chevrolet in script. Fleetline models have the inscription on the modified that series.

On all body styles except Station Wagon appears a body belt molding of about same width as in 1941. But full length along the lower are three sharp-peaked raised and territories. Mr. Nelson said the plan will apply to financed homes selling for up to $6,000 or renting for not more than $50 a month. First preference will be given to homes under construction on September 1 and for remodeling and rehabilitation work, and then for new homes for rent and new homes to be sold.

Oil, Gasoline Defense Oil Co-ordinator Ickes said gasoline restrictions will not be lifted. Mr. Ickes said in the face of a 12 1/2 per cent drop in gasoline stocks compared to this time last year, there is a demand of 11 per cent more than last year. Deliveries to East coast filling stations were 11 1/2 per cent lower last week than the week before, and will have to be cut more, he said, unless the pipeline is built from Texas to New Jersey.

30-Day Mine Truce Defense Mediation Board Chairman Davis announced an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America to reopen strike-bound "captive" mines for a period of 30 days beginning September 22. The agreement requires a three-day written notice by either side before operations can be halted. Negotiations on the union shop demand which led to the strike will be resumed September 24. The U. S. Conciliation Service announced settlement of 37 labor disputes.

Priority Unemployment OPM Associate Director Hillman announced employers in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., have agreed to hire 1,335 power-machine operators and 200 assistants from among the 3,500 workers forced out of employment in those two areas by the silk shortage. Mr. Hillman also announced a broad "model" program of State and local co-operation with OPM to alleviate unemployment in the silk, automobile and rubber industries in New Jersey.

Prices A. C. Hoffman of the OPA Food Section speaking in Philadelphia, said farm prices have risen more than 49 per cent since the outbreak of the war and stand now at 97 per cent of parity in terms of things farmers buy. La-son Secretary Perkins said living costs at August 15 this year were 75 per cent more than two years ago.

Methodist Church

As the horrors of the war-torn world increase there is an increasing hunger for the things that the church stands for. We, as Christian people, have a very definite place in human economy in this day of stress. This is being evidenced by the fact that for the first time in ten years our churches are showing a steadily increasing attendance throughout the nation. It is hardly perceptible as yet, but the definite trend is on and we, therein, have a new obligation of making our churches so attractive to those now returning that they will find in the association that which will meet the heartfelt need. May I appeal to all church-attending people to renew your vigilance in loyalty and seek to secure the attendance of your friends and neighbors.

Some very interesting services are planned for this next Sunday. It is promotion day with our Sunday School. We will meet as usual at the appointed hour, 9:45 a. m., but at 10:10 all classes will be called to the main auditorium for the promotion exercises. At the eleven o'clock service the subject will be: "Christian Preparedness." The entire evening service will be conducted by the young people in the installation of the League of officers. They have arranged a candle lighting service that you will enjoy.

Does your church mean anything to you especially? One week in the war-torn zones of China, Europe, or other countries, would make of us full believers in what the church stands for in the interest of advancing humanity. It is true that the churches of America do need the moral and financial support of the people, but the people have a deep need for what the churches have to offer. Let's get together in a forward-looking program for God and humanity.

H. A. LONGINO, Pastor. Christian Science Services "Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 28. The Golden Text is: "Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind" (Isaiah 65:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, according as this divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue" (II Peter 1:2, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All that really exists is the divine Mind and its idea, and in this Mind the entire being is found harmonious and eternal" (page 151).

Nation's Youngest Governor to Address WTCC Fall Meeting

Abilene, Sept. 20.—The nation's youngest governor, Minnesota's Harold E. Stassen, famed for his fiscal control reforms and administration, is being invited to address the West Texas chamber of commerce fall convention at Midland, on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Wednesday this week the legislature of Texas, in special session, unanimously adopted a resolution by Rep. Joe Humphrey of Abilene commending Gov. Stassen for his fiscal control policies and inviting him to speak in Texas on that subject. Humphrey was author of the Texas fiscal control bill (H. B. 42) sponsored by the WTCC, that passed the lower house by heavy majority on the regular session last May but failed to reach a vote in the senate after winning unanimous committee approval there. The West Texas chamber will renew its campaign for the legislation at the next regular session.

The invitation to the Minnesota governor to the Midland convention was wired by J. Thomas Davis, president, and D. A. Bander, WTCC manager, who said: "Collaborating with Texas legislators in unanimously passing resolutions complimenting you, we cordially invite you to address the 24th annual convention of this organization convening in Midland, Texas, November 4, on state fiscal control. This organization fostered fiscal control measure in last session of legislature and is continuing campaign for its adoption. A statewide audience of importance is assured."

Stassen was elected Minnesota's governor in 1938 for a four-year term. He was 31 years old at the time; is only 34 now. The Minnesota control and re-organization measure has cut state expenses around ten million dollars annually on a budget one-third smaller than that of Texas.

New Chevrolet

Eye-appealing color schemes have been evolved for the interiors of the new 1942 Chevrolets throughout the entire line. Upholstery in the Master Deluxe and Special series is a pleasing light gray, while a rich brown "Fleetweave" broadcloth is employed in the Fleetline models. New color treatment of the instrument panels does much to highlight the smartness of the new design, with plastics and bright-work judiciously used. The effect of luxurious styling so readily apparent in the new car's exterior thus is carried out in the handsome interior treatment.

Mechanically, only minor improvements and refinements are apparent, with the chassis for all three lines remaining the same. The stabilized front end mounting that has contributed so largely to the car's easy ride and smooth handling is retained, with refinements to allow for the new front-end design.

Chevrolet's time-proved hydraulic brakes now carry a mechanically operated stop-light switch, replacing the former hydraulic-operated device. The new switch eliminates all possibility of fluid leakage resulting from failure of the stop-light switch.

The unique vacuum-powered gear shift originated by Chevrolet and a Chevrolet feature throughout the past three years, is retained for 1942. A new two-tone color finish on the steering wheel in the Special Deluxe and Fleetline series has been worked out, with a new steering post button design.

Of particular interest in the broad range of accessories developed specifically for 1942 models, is a new wheel disc, painted white, which creates an effect said to be strikingly similar to that given by white sidewall tires.

Following are the 1942 lines and models:

Fleetline Series—Sportmaster Sedan and Aerosedan. Special Deluxe series—Sport Sedan, Town Sedan, Five-Passenger Coupe, Business Coupe, Cabriolet and Station Wagon. Master Deluxe series—Sport Sedan, Town Sedan, Five-Passenger Coupe, Business Coupe, Coupe Pickup, and Sedan Delivery.

Defense Bonds and Stamps, on sale at your post office, are a vital part of America's defense preparations.

This Week In Defense President asked Congress for $7.5 billion more for defense materials. Lend-Lease Administrator Stettinius gave power to approve aid requests; this with other changes expected to cut from 30 to 15 the period between receipt of request and actual authorization for assistance.

Roosevelt told Congress of the original seven billion appropriated six months ago, all $720,000,000 is "now moving through the successive stages of action, obligation, production and delivery." He said $246,400,000 in materials and $78,170,000 in services had been given the Axis nations.

Defense Supplies Corporation, an RFC subsidiary, contracted with Amtorg Trading Corporation, a U. S. corporation owned by Russia, for the purchase of asbestos and platinum. The agency arranged to pay half of the amount in advance so Russia could use the money to buy war materials here.

Navy Protecting Ships Navy Secretary Knox told the American Legion convention the Navy is using all methods, including dogs, to protect vessels of war carrying aid to Britain. The Navy has orders to destroy, by every means at its disposal, Axis-controlled submarines or surface craft in the waters between the Atlantic and Iceland.

Neutrality Act Interpretation State Department announced that as a result of an interpretation by the Attorney General the "United Kingdom" is on the list of belligerent nations. American ships and passengers to parts of the British Empire not designated as neutral are to be in combat.

Navy Expansion Progress The Navy reported it has contracted for 2,831 ships, including fighting vessels—every ship ordered under the seven billion dollar program to create "the greatest array of fighting ships in one flag the world has ever seen." 32 battleships, 18 aircraft carriers, 361 cruisers, 364 destroyers, and 186 submarines, a fleet of 681 ships.

Maritime Commission took steps of the Alcoa line after sailors refused to arbitrate their dispute. The ships are operated by the Commission's regular runs. The commission announced that on September 1, 104 ships had been chartered for a total of 788 being used for all purposes under the commission's auspices. The announcement said 14 ships will be chartered September 27 in joint ventures on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

With Mrs. M. N. Kenner as hostess, members of the Columbian Club held the first business session of the new term on Wednesday, Sept. 17. Only two members failed to answer roll-call. Several years ago, each club member answered roll call with a brief report on an assigned subject, said subject to carry through the entire term. Most interesting resumes were given on charm, landscaping, Book-of-the-Month news and various other topics at the Wednesday meeting and this plan, as scheduled in the year book, will be carried out for the current year.

Following an exceptionally interesting business meeting, Miss Joellene Vannoy aptly described the city of Bogota, Colombia, South America, and enumerated the many fruits and vegetables which are on the market the year round, due to Bogota's exceptionally temperate climate. Mrs. M. O'Connell told of Colombia's "Dry Sea," a vast stretch of almost unpopulated plains stretching to the Orinoco and the Amazon from the city of Bogota. Mrs. Jno. S. Ray described the little horses of Raquira, the loveliest toys made by the Indians of Chiquiquira, little pottery horses "in which Indian skill has embodied an ingenious thought in clay."

At the conclusion of the program, a refreshment plate was served to the members and one guest, Mrs. R. J. Moles.

Other visitors were Coach Grady Graves and the co-captains of the high school football team, Charlie Thompson and Bobbie Spears. Coach Graves gave an interesting discussion of the prospects of the football team for the present season. Merl Kincaid was in charge of the program.

Four doctors at the Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, Mich., recently announced the discovery of a new blood substitute to be used in cases where blood transfusion is needed. The substitute consists of pectin such as is used by housewives in making jelly, distilled water and salts. The discovery is regarded as important for the reason that it is often difficult to secure blood for transfusions when it is needed, and, because of its perishable nature, it is difficult to keep. Pectin is extracted from citrus plants.

Fall Gardens May Include Other Vegetables

Don't limit your fall garden to turnips and greens alone. There are other vegetables, such as carrots, beets, English peas, radishes, beans, collards, cabbage, mustard, and lettuce, that will grow as well in the fall garden as turnips and greens. Try them this year and see for yourself, stated Miss Joellene Vannoy, home demonstration agent, Wednesday.

An ounce of tender, green mustard seed will plant 100 feet of row. With proper moisture a mess of greens should be harvested in thirty days. An ounce of Purple Top or Shogoin turnip seed planted in rows will take care of another 100 feet of row in the garden. Two pounds of onion sets will plant a third row, while two or three rows or more of fall Irish potatoes will contribute further to the food supply. Twenty-five or thirty feet of radishes will add savor to the table. Scarlet Globe or White Isicle are good varieties for fall and winter.

With this done, fill an old tub or box about two-thirds full of dirt, mixing equal parts of rotted manure and loam soil. Then plant about 1/4 ounce cabbage seed, taking care not to cover more than 1/2 inch deep. When the weather cools off, the cabbage plants will be large enough for transplanting. Copenhagen Market is a good variety for most Texas gardeners to use.

Irish potatoes should be planted now. Cover the seed with damp sacks or straw until the eyes begin to sprout. Then cut the potatoes, plant the seed pieces 14 inches apart, and place the seed well down into the moist soil to prevent the seed pieces from drying out. Where it is possible to do so, follow the planting with a good watering to settle the soil and encourage early growth of the plants. Bliss Triumph is a quick maturing variety which can be used for fall planting. Small potatoes that remain from the spring harvest may be used, Miss Vannoy concluded.

gift packages to children in other countries, gave a story book transcribed in Braille to each of 4,700 blind school children, and sent gifts each holiday to approximately 50,000 ex-service men in hospitals and to about 150,000 members of the armed forces on other occasions.

Junior Red Cross members have contributed $215,000 to foreign war relief projects through their own National Children's Fund, which is maintained by children and used solely for aiding children in this and other countries. Nearly one-half of this amount has been used to maintain homes for children under five years of age in England who are the victims of air raids.

SIGHT AND STREAMLINING

The stormy petrel can travel at sixty miles an hour. Yet it took centuries to learn why he flies so fast. Engineers thought that water and air must be cut with knife-like prows to achieve high speed. They were wrong. The rounded breasts of birds, the rounded noses and tapering body of the fast fishes—man learned nothing from them for centuries.

It was a great English engineer, William Froude, who showed that knife-like prows are wrong and that nature knew what she was about when she rounded and tapered the forms of fast birds and fish. He had one British warship towed by another while he made exact measurements. Later he built a tank in which he towed models of hulls. "Sharp prows are wrong," Froude cried to the world. "Get rid of all projections. Look out for waves that up under bows and for foaming wakes. They look picturesque, but they are evidences of inefficiency." Nobody paid much attention.

Then came the Aeronautic engineers who put the word "streamlining" into the vocabulary. They hung models of airplanes in tunnels and blew wind against them. Everything was tested—wings, propeller blades, struts. At last the great lesson was learned. It was this: It is better to drive a correctly designed bulk through the air than to cut it or to rake it with projections however sharp.

Measuring instruments were connected with models in wind-tunnels to indicate the forces at play. Sometimes smoke was driven against a model. The engineers could see how the smoke piled up here and how it slipped away there. Where it piles up the resistance was bound to be high.

And now look at an airplane. The nose is rounded like an egg; the tail tapers off. There are no projections. This rounding of a form to make it part the air easily, with small bow wave and stern wake, is called streamlining.

In a word the secret of streamlining was discovered by eyes—highly trained eyes. Always they try to make the invisible visible.

113 Texas Youths Work in NYA Defense Shops at Brenham

Austin. — An additional 113 Texas boys will receive work experience in sheet metal, welding, and machine shop work as a part of the construction of National Youth Administration shop buildings, designated as special defense projects, in Brenham and Meridian, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. The Brenham project is sponsored by the Washington County Commissioners Court and the Meridian project by the City of Meridian.

Virtually all their success depends on their eyes. Even when they discover new facts about sound they translate the sound into photograph, or they cause the sound to make flames leap in revealing ways. Much of our knowledge of speech and song was acquired not through the ear but through the eye. Science is measurement. And nearly every measuring instrument must be read by eyes.
