President, on Tour, Stops at Bremerton

During a two-week coast-to-coast inspection of the nation's airplane and shell-producing plants, and army, navy and marine centers, President Roosevelt covered 8,754 miles. Throughout the entire period both press and radio withheld news of the trip, in compliance with a White House request. Photo shows the Commander-in-Chief giving a hearty handshake to a smiling sailor during his visit to the Bremerton navy yard, near Seattle.

Crowell Wildcats Defeat Holliday Eagles, 20 to 0, in Football Game at Wildcat Stadium Last Friday Night

The Crowell High School football team defeated Holliday by a 20 to 0 score here last Friday night to win its first conference game of the season. The Crowell boys played as a unit, and it would not be fair to mention any stars of the game. The defense of the line aided by the line backing of Archer and Smith held the Holliday boys to two first downs; one of these coming after a five yards offside penalty and the other on a completed pass late in the game after several substitutes had entered the game for Crowell. The Wildcats produced some excellent blocking to make all kinds of plays click; reverses, double reverses, spinners, laterals and passes. Perhaps the most sensational plays of the game were those when Clifford White came back from his right end position to take the ball from Arnold Smith, quarterback for Crowell.

Harold Huckleberry Killed at Barstow, Calif., October 2

Harold Huckleberry, 33, son of Mrs. Mabel Huckleberry, 1714 East 11th St., Pueblo, Colo., former Crowell resident, was killed in a train accident at Barstow, Calif., on Oct. 2, according to information furnished The News by Mrs. L. J. Hayworth of Pueblo. Mrs. Hayworth was reared in Crowell and was Miss Irene Campsey. The Huckleberry family moved to Crowell from Childress in 1923 when the late P. R. Huckleberry was pastor of the First Christian Church in Crowell until 1924. The oldest daughter, Mildred, a member of the Crowell High School graduating class, died here on March 9, 1924. Rev. Huckleberry passed away while the family lived in Vernon in August, 1926, and was buried in the Crowell Cemetery. Survivors include his wife and two children; the mother; four brothers, Paul of Denver; Floyd of Los Angeles; Ralph of Long Beach, Calif.; and Robert of the U. S. Army at Camp Bowie, Texas, and one sister, Mrs. Edna Rader, Los Angeles, Calif.

West Texas Business Men Urged to Prepare for Peace Problems

This month, West Texans are sponsoring a historic document. This is the Atlantic Charter, drawn up at sea by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill, Aug. 14, 1941, as the basis for an enduring peace promising freedom and equality of economic opportunity to all the world.

From the West Texas chamber of commerce all affiliates have received a 12-plank program and work program in which 200 directors in 175 towns are voting as a part of the organization's referendum convention in substitution of the 25th annual general gathering. The No. 9 plank relates to the Atlantic Charter and the need for each community to begin now to plan its economic life in the after-war period. Houston Hart, San Angelo, as chairman of the W.T.C.'s postwar economy committee, is recommending the plank's adoption. In a letter submitted it for directors' balloting, he wrote: "I think it's fine that this business organization should pioneer in wanting to do something about the treaty which will have to be signed at the end of this war."

The plank proposes that West Texas business men, through their chambers of commerce, create community postwar economy committees in readiness to meet the problems of peace. Because, says the committee recommendation, "To avoid such a catastrophe as followed the last world war, there will be much to do in co-operating in future nationwide rehabilitation measures and in preserving our own economy. In this gigantic program the work of business must be heard, and we might as well start now getting organized."

"As victory approaches and as peace comes, these postwar problems will start unfolding, but there is something we can do now for our postwar economy. I refer to starting the education of our people on the meaning and significance of the Atlantic Charter as the basis of worldwide peace. Some of these Atlantic Charter principles were enunciated by Woodrow Wilson as the basis of peace after the last war. Had they been adopted, there are many who think this war would have never occurred. The principles were defeated because of the lack of understanding and of the selfishness and greediness of the people. The same thing again will happen to the Atlantic Charter."

Breakfast on Wednesday Morning, Oct. 21, Will Open Annual Campaign to Secure Funds for Boy Scout Work

Arle Cato, who is Finance chairman of the Foard County Boy Scout movement, announces that the annual drive for funds with which to further the Boy Scout work in the county for the next year will be held on next Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 21 and 22. A troop from Truscott is included in the county plans.

According to the outlined plan which is being successfully used over the county, the county has been divided into four ranches, each ranch having its foreman who will have other workers under him. The foreman who have been named by Chairman Cato, are Dwight Moody, I. Fisch and Guy Todd. Each of these foremen will use four bosses to assist him. Each boss, then has three additional workers.

On the morning of the first day, Oct. 21, there will be a kick-off breakfast in Crowell, which is to be furnished by the local Boy Scouts, at which all workers for the drive, will be present. At the breakfast, there will be short pep-talks, and plans for the drive will be perfected.

According to reports from the various camps of Foard County, approximately 7,000 bales of cotton have been ginned up to the present time. Cotton picking has been going on at a rapid rate until the rains Wednesday stopped the work in several localities.

Showers at Rapland, also light rains at Thalia throughout the day hindered the picking but the gins operated so that they could catch up with the ginning which has been going on day and night. However, in the late afternoon of Wednesday, heavy rains fell with considerable wind accompanying it.

A writing pad will be provided at the front of the office, and if you are in a hurry or if the force is busy, the name and address can be written there. There will be a box there, also, and the name can be dropped in that. The addresses change so often that it is impossible for us to furnish all of them.

A. Stovall, secretary of the Farmers & Business Men's Ass'n., Tuesday.

Office space for these men will be located in the district court room, Mr. Stovall stated.

Red Cross Mercy Fleet Sails Alaska's Hazardous Waters

Ketchikan's Alaskan traffic problem—perilous waterways instead of perilous highways—has been answered by a mobile sea unit made up of floating Red Cross First Aid stations set up on small boats and manned by trained personnel, states the American Red Cross News Service, the organ which gives to the world the news of the Red Cross organization.

Twenty boats already have been equipped to conform with the same standards as Red Cross Aid stations and mobile units on the nation's highways. Hundreds more—small fishing craft, government vessels, tugs and mail-boats—will be in service soon.

Routine life along the Alaskan coastline is hazardous even in peacetime. The war has made it more so.

An innovation of the Ketchikan Red Cross Chapter, the experiment has proved so successful that similar "mercy fleets" may be organized in other sections where waterways are prevalent. Its organization followed a request from Red Cross headquarters for information on Ketchikan.

On the afternoon before the breakfast, the Boy Scouts will call the wives of the men who will attend the breakfast, to tell them that they need not provide breakfast for their husbands, and, on the next morning, the Scouts will call the men to remind them that the breakfast is being served for them.

All donations to the Boy Scout movement are deductible from Income Tax.

Boy Scouts, it will be remembered, were active in many ways following the tornado here in the spring. Telegrams were delivered by them, telephone calls were made by them and they busied themselves in various helpful ways during the days when their help was sorely needed. Not only the local boys, but Scouts from all the surrounding towns, served faithfully.

The Boy Scout movement, in order to operate, must be properly financed, and it is now the time for the citizens of this community to show their appreciation by making a success of the drive.

6,805 Bales of Cotton Ginned in Foard County Since Beginning of Season; Light Rains Hinder Gathering of Crop

Ban Lifted on Sale of Rubber Boots

Rubber boots and other rubber footwear no longer are frozen but now may be purchased by persons who obtain the proper rationing certificate from the local War Price and Rationing Board. C. E. Seale, chairman of the Foard County War Price and Rationing Board, said this week.

Merchants are required to file their inventory reports on rubber footwear with the local War Price and Rationing Board by midnight of October 15. Mr. Seale said.

"During the week ending Oct. 10, merchants who have these inventory forms in their possession may sell rubber footwear to certificate holders," he explained, "but after that date no merchant may handle rubber footwear without the proper authorization."

In general, he said, the eligibility requirement for persons who obtain purchase certificates is that they be engaged in some occupation that contributes directly to the war effort or to the public health and safety.

Merchants are allowed 60 days from October 5 in which to adjust their stocks of rubber footwear to the new rationing program. During that 60-day period merchants will be able to buy replacement stocks of rubber footwear or obtain delivery of goods already on order, if they provide the jobber or manufacturer with the merchant's authorization certificate number. At the end of that 60 days, however, replacement stocks will be limited by the number of customers' ration certificates which a merchant can pass on to the wholesaler or manufacturer.

Byrnes has been vested with powers exceeding those of Leon Henderson, head of the Office of Price Administration, and other key governmental figures.

HISTORY
 Birthday of John Adams—October 19: John Adams, second president of the United States, was born in Braintree, Mass., on October 19, 1735. His was a notable family, perhaps one of the most notable in America. His son became president of the United States, his grandson was minister to England during the Civil War, and his great grandson was Secretary of the Navy in the Cabinet of President Hoover. Many other descendants rose to distinction in various avenues of private life. He was descended from Henry Adams, an English yeoman, who came to America about 1636 and settled at Braintree. The descendants of Henry were farmers until the birth of John in the fourth generation. John Adams graduated from Harvard College in 1755. He was admitted to the bar in 1758. He was elected to the General Court of Massachusetts in 1769. In 1774 he was elected as one of the delegates to the Continental Congress and assisted in the drafting of the Declaration of Rights. He was a member of the committee which drafted the Declaration of Independence and it was on his motion that George Washington was appointed General of the American Army. On November 28, 1777, he was elected Commissioner to France returning to the United States in 1779. He was engaged for a time in several diplomatic missions. In February 1785 he was appointed minister to England returning in 1788. On his return he was elected to the House of Representatives but did not take his seat as he was elected vice president with Washington as president. He was elected vice president a second time, and in 1796 was elected president. He died on July 4, 1826. He was buried in a crypt in the First Congregational Church in Quincy.

30 YEARS AGO IN THE NEWS

The items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The News of Oct. 18, 1912:

Good Swimmer
 For a swimmer that is up-to-date, one who is on to all the latest licks and can pull off stunts that would make a professional take to other parts, John Roberts is it. The boy did not know that he would have an opportunity to display his swimming talents, but it came unexpectedly. John and Henry McLarty had been informed that ducks inhabited the lake south of town so they decided to see about it. Loading a couple of shotguns in a buggy they hastened away. After rowing to the middle of the tank, John saw a fine, fat duck circling in the air and thought he would get it. He squared his shoulders, threw his head back, preparatory to shoot, but, alas, he became overbalanced and into the water he went and landed on the bottom about 15 feet deep. So did the gun. It was cold and John floundered around until he got back into the boat with Henry's help. He plunged back in to get the gun but failed in the attempt.

Cotton Crop
 The gins have been running on full time for several weeks, and the cotton continues to pour in, and still they are taxed to capacity to keep up. The farmers were all surprised with the yield, having gathered more than a half bale to the acre. Crowell is receiving quite a lot of cotton from other points, being hauled here for the benefit of the good prices paid by our buyers.

The Senior Society met last Friday afternoon. A very commendable program was rendered. The declamation by Allen Vannoy and reading by Rose Hays were especially fine. Two drawings by Edgar Kinsey were exhibited.

The Titanic sank and gave a great deal of trouble. Frank Young's apples and big watermelons will bring peace and joy to any family who will try them.

Duke Wallace, formerly with the light plant here, and now with the Hamlin plant, stopped off here Monday night to visit Mrs. Wallace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruckler.

Dr. and Mrs. S. O. Woods returned Monday from Amarillo where they attended the Synod. They were accompanied by Mrs. Mays and Mrs. R. E. Joiner of San Angelo.

What We Think
 (By Frank Dizon)

The coming election is, in many respects, the most important election that has ever been held in this country. Especially is this true in the matter of the choice of Congressmen and Senators.

The next Congress is going to be faced with the most difficult part of the conduct of the war. By the time it gets into action we will all have come face to face with the fact that we are in a war to preserve our existence as a government and there will have been imposed upon us burdens and privations the like of which we have not known or imagined.

It is going to take a Congress with the utmost freedom from partisanship, a Congress that can think straight and look far ahead into the future, a Congress with the courage to do the thing that is best for the whole people for all time, rather than the thing which appears expedient at the time or which may be selfishly proposed for the benefit of the members of some pressure group.

The members of this Congress may be called upon to have a part in the determination of the policies of this nation, and of the world in the world that is to be after this war.

This being true, the voter should consider the matter of his vote in the coming election, especially as it applies to members of the Congress and the Senate, with more care than he has ever exercised in the past.

How successful we wage this war, and what the world of tomorrow is going to be, is going to depend a great deal upon the type of leadership that the voters send to Congress in the coming November election.

In my opinion it is impossible to overestimate the importance of this responsibility or the gravity of the situation. We have reached a point in our history as a people, when we need, as we have never needed it before, wise and discerning leadership if we are to win this war, and having won it do not throw away the opportunity for a better world that such a victory will bring.

When the war is concluded this nation is going to emerge from it the greatest nation in all history.

Into our hands and keeping is going to be placed the responsibility for setting up a new order—an order that will make impossible the periodic wrecking of civilization by war such as this generation has witnessed. The democratic way of life, strong though it may be, cannot continue to survive, if periodically, its economic back is broken by war, brought on by mad dictators on the loose.

The world has appealed to us to save it. We are meeting that physical challenge and will meet it in full. The world of tomorrow will call us with another challenge to save it. We must meet this challenge also with the finest leadership that we possess. We must not fail in this, for truly it is our rendezvous with destiny.

PRINCIPLE VS. EXPERIENCY

In these times, it is difficult to think beyond the war. But some day the war will end—and some day there will be a peaceful post-war world. And the economic policies we adopt now will have an immense bearing on what kind of a world that will be.

Taxation is a case in point. Our first job is to raise the money to pay for the war. That means that all individuals and all industries must pay far heavier levies than ever before. But, at the same time, we must remember that unwise taxation could destroy our whole economic structure—and make the restoration of our traditional kind of government and our traditional kind of economic system impossible after the war.

Today, for instance, most of our basic industries are in war business of some sort. Due to the abnormal demands of war, they have more orders than they can fill. The government provides them with money and credit when necessary. But when the war ends, those industries must make the immensely difficult change back to production for peace. There will be a period when vast sums of money will be needed for making the change over. If government programs that money in times of peace, will be hell-bent for socialism, free enterprise is to live, free enterprise must provide the money—and it can only provide it by our tax laws permit it to build up adequate financial reserves against the exigencies of the future.

To permit industry to build up such reserves would have still another salutary effect. That money would go out of circulation. It would not add to consumer purchasing power. It would be spent until the war was over. And so, it would be anti-inflationary.

Summing up, we must not think entirely in terms of how much money this or that tax bill can raise. We must also think in terms of what any tax bill would do to the American system for which we are fighting. Expediency must not be permitted to overshadow principle. — Industrial News-Review.

WORKER AND FARMER

In the long run, public pressure will force the adoption of a real anti-inflation program. And that program will involve strict ceilings on the wages of labor as well as the profits of industry and the income of farmers.

There has been much senseless talk about farm prices being primarily responsible for the high cost of living. Farmers are not asking for favored treatment. They are asking, instead, for equitable treatment. They are pointing out that the farmer can't be made the goat in the fight against inflation. If the prices he receives are to be limited and perhaps reduced, the wages received by labor must be given the same treatment.

Although the government reserves the right to call into active service at any time all members of military reserve units, the Army, Navy, Marines, and Air Forces want students to receive as much college training as possible, 2,500 University of Texas men students were told by a five-man military commission recently.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Ralph E. Stewart, Associate Director of WMBS, Chicago.

How Can I Know I'm a Child of God?
How can I know if the great miracle of the "new birth" has taken place in my life? How can I know if I am a child of God?

In two ways. First, by God's Word. Let us read John 1:12, 13: "But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: which were born... not of the will of the flesh... but of God." That is our part—to believe on the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. It is God's part to see that we are born again, born from above.

A second test to know whether I am God's child is my own experience. Let us look at our experience through the Word of God.

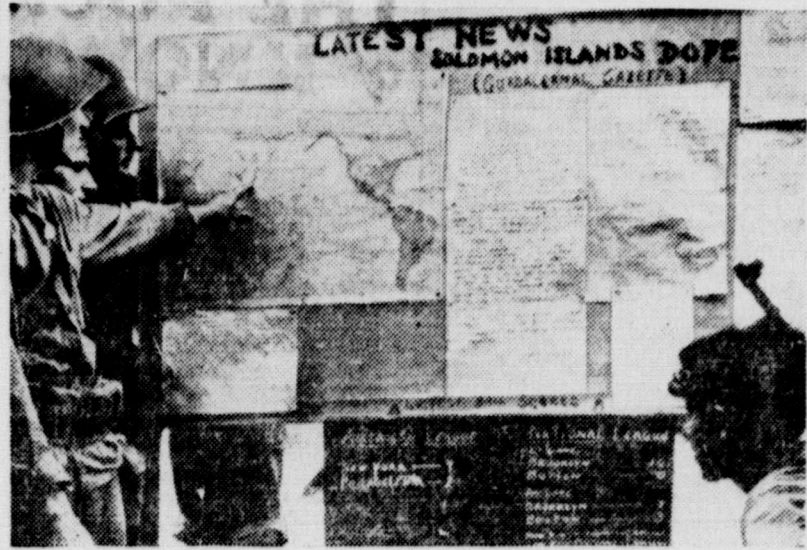

1. Do I believe that Jesus is the Christ? "Whoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God" (I John 5:1).
2. Am I overcoming the world? "Whoever is born of God overcometh the world" (I John 5:4).
3. Am I practicing sin? "Whoever is born of God doth not commit sin" (I John 3:9). The present tense of the verb denotes progressive or continued action. It does not teach that the one begotten of God never sins in a single act, but that he does not make a practice of sin.

4. Am I practicing righteousness? "Every one that doeth righteousness is born of him" (I John 2:29). "Be assured that the man who habitually acts righteously is a child of God" (Weymouth).
5. Do I love all other Christians? "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God" (I John 4:7). Love here is not mere emotion, but that genuine desire for another's good that leads to sacrifice for him. This love is the supreme result, evidence and test of the new birth.

The new birth must come from above. The mineral cannot force its way into the vegetable kingdom, but the wheat may reach down to incorporate into its texture the metal of the rich soil. The vegetable cannot force its way into the animal kingdom, but when the cow feeds in the meadow it can incorporate the grass and lift it into its own organism. The animal cannot force its way into the human kingdom, and yet, as in the intimacy between its owner and an intelligent dog, there may be a kind of uplift into the human level. So the human being cannot force his way into the divine kingdom, but the divine can stoop to our fallen level, uplift and incorporate us so that we may become partakers of the divine nature.

Peter says: "His divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who has called us to share in his own glorious character" (II Pet. 1:3, 4).

Goodyear Announces Wide Base Tractor Tires for Farmers

Program providing for the use of wide base tractor tires for replacement of conventional rear tractor tires, enabling dealers to supply renewal tires to their farmer customers when their present conventional tires are worn out, is announced by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

The company's conversion program, another first in the industry, grows out of the current situation in the farm tire replacement field. There is a scarcity of conventional rear-size tractor tires—in some sizes few if any are left in inventory. There is, however, a large inventory of wide base tires on hand built for use on new tractors, the production of which has been stopped by WPB order. Realizing that implement dealers face a problem in supplying farmers with renewals, where their tractors are equipped with the conventional types of rears, Goodyear has worked out its conversion program, details of which are now in the hands of tractor and implement dealers.

This program makes possible continued operation of many a farmer's tractor, which might, because of inability to replace worn out conventional tires, be laid up. Thus the farmer can have his rear wheel equipment converted to wide base tires and rims and be assured of having modernized wheels and tires, similar to those on new model tractors before their manufacture was discontinued.

Important to remember is that this changeover plan does not apply to making changeovers of steel-wheeled tractors, which is not allowed by OPA tire rationing regulations. Several years ago Goodyear developed and adapted wide base tire equipment for new tractors because it supplied more tread design in contact with the ground, giving it more stability in service and more traction, making it handle better on turns and also reduced the amount of tire bounce. Though inflated to similar pressures, the new tires have more air volume, through the widening of tire body.

Wide base rim tires are made in a range of sizes to replace majority of all conventional or older sizes of rear tractor tires. Booklet, available October 1, from any Goodyear tractor tire dealer, gives complete details of the conversion plan.

Wings of Victory

Electricity helps make America's war planes some of the world's most deadly weapons. Here are a few of the ways in which G-E equipment serves in the air.

1. Lamps are the eyes of the plane at night, ranging in size from pocket lamps no larger than a pea to landing lamps of more than half a million candlepower.

2. Radio combines the voice and the ears of the plane, allowing communication between the pilot and his squadron, and the ground and sea forces.

3. Instruments are the sensitive brain that relays messages to the pilot from all parts of the ship and helps him to control the plane in its flight.

4. Superchargers are the lungs of the plane, pumping extra oxygen to the carburetors, giving our planes the altitude so necessary to modern warfare.

 REPORTERS..... Monty Balcorn, Jane Roark and Roy Joe Cates

EDITORIAL

I was reading an article some few days ago which seemed quite interesting and, to me, seemed worthy of appearance in our high school paper; therefore, I am writing, below, what I believe to be the most important points stressed in this article:

It seems that the name of the article is "The Sweetest Drug." This sweetest drug is day-dreaming. Never before had I thought of day-dreaming as being a drug, but it seems that it is one of the most harmful drugs known. There is no way for anyone, other than the user, to prevent a person from using this drug, since it is manufactured in one's mind.

The day-dreamer may be some person who might have become famous had he not sat around during all his spare time building air castles in his mind. Some boy or girl may have a great deal of skill in some profession which, if developed, might some day lead him or her to success. If that person begins to sit around during spare minutes imagining that he has made a success in his profession and is now rich, he will soon become so affected by this drug, day-dreaming, that he will no longer have any interest in anything but day-dreaming; and he will never make a successful person of himself.

One should never build air castles in his mind unless he has bound himself in honor to take active steps toward their realization.

THRIFTY!

ONE-A-DAY Vitamin A and D Tablets

EACH tablet contains 2 1/2 more than minimum daily requirements of these two essential Vitamins. Insufficient Vitamin A may cause night blindness, may lessen resistance to infection of the nose, throat, eyes, ears and sinuses.

Vitamin D is necessary to enable the body to make use of the calcium and phosphorus in our food. Insure your minimum requirements of these two important Vitamins by taking a ONE-A-DAY Vitamin A and D Tablet every day.

Economical—50¢ - or less - per month.
 Convenient—you take only one tablet a day.
 Pleasant—children actually like the taste—and so will you.
IMPORTANT—when buying Vitamins, compare potencies and prices. Get them at your drug store.

What's this we hear about Jo Favor and Horace Todd? Could this be the beginning of an "affair" or is it just "puppy love?"

Goodness, doesn't anyone know good scandal? If you do and want it printed, just put it in locker 44 and we guarantee to put it in the paper. Come on, kids, lend a hand.

Dorothy Hall has changed boy friends again. This one is from Lorenzo. Say, Dorothy, what happened to Johnnie Ray?

Hey, you guys! Open your eyes and take just one look (that's all I ask) at Geneile Nelson and you won't need any further instructions... she is a honey!

Ruth Diggs was sporting a certain boy from Quannah last Friday night, whose name, if you haven't already heard, was Donald Davis. What happened to Buddo, Ruth?

Coach Graves bought a Comics Book Sunday afternoon. My, my! aren't you a little too young yet, Coach?

We wonder if C. J. Marts was with Mildred Marlow last Saturday night? From all reports, she was. What's the matter, Garret, another girl?

Personal to W. P. Hord: Too bad, too bad.

We wonder which girl Thos's heart belongs to. Take pity Johnnie, and tell us.

A brand new couple were "sporting" out Friday night after the ball game. None other than Lee J. Stout and Betty Owens! Well! This is the best news we've heard in a long time.

Ah! Big "doings" at Margaret this week. Of course, you have all heard about the big social affair by now. Some of the most prominent couples were there: Jane Roark and Paul Vecera; I thought Jane had staked her heart on a Truscott claim; Edwina Ross and Bobby Jo Hunter; Betty Johnson and Weldon Moody were double-dating with Weldon Young and Helen Jo Callaway.

It seems that these two couples got bored with the party and left before the party was over—maybe Betty or Helen Jo had to go home early. Do you suppose?

ONWARD MARCH THE CROWELL WILDCATS

WHAT OUR SENIORS OF LAST YEAR ARE DOING

Texas Tech seems to be a popular school this year with our seniors. John Clark Long, Truman Taylor, Joan Solomon and Jean Orr are all attending Tech. From all reports they are carried away with the place. Here's wishing them the best of luck during the rest of the year.

Mary Ellen Haynie of Truscott, is employed in the telephone office at Munday.

Billie Nichols of Truscott, is working for Carman Grocery in Truscott.

I'M THE GOOPETTE

I'm the Goopette that always completes my make-up in class. I'm not saying that the average girl does, but all of the Goopettes do. A long time ago boys were shocked to see girls powder their noses in public, but now I can't even get a rise out of them when I'm attempting to improve my already perfect looks. They say it's bad manners to pluck your eyebrows in public or even to apply make-up, but I do have to look beautiful every single second.

And, oh yes, the nerviest boy asked me the other day if I didn't have time to dress at home just because I was fixing my face during roll call. Recently, at a basketball game, I broke a fingernail in my excitement. I was fling it down so it wouldn't tear off shorter or snag my dress, and the boy that took me thought that I was cleaning my nails. Was he angry! I really wasn't, but he was so used to seeing me "dress in class," but I shall probably keep on doing so because, after all, I'm only a Goopette.

THE TRANSMOM PEEKER

Hi, Chick, what's cooking? Well, here I am again, kids—your "Transmom Peeker," who sees all, knows all, and tell more than he knows.

Repeated: Saturday night—Betty Johnson and John C. Carter; Billy Short and Ada Jane Magee. Looks good.

Mary Edwards has been hearing from a young man at A. & M. quite frequently. Oh, does she rate!

Well, girls, take off your fighting clothes. It seems that Helen Callaway has won. Of course, we are talking about Weldon Young.

Miss Ferguson, this suspense is killing us. Have a heart, please!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This year, as every year, the Juniors have the responsibility of giving the Seniors a banquet. This is one of the outstanding social events of the school year for these two classes. If one takes into consideration all of the expenses of this banquet, he will find that they will run over one hundred dollars. We Juniors should appreciate all of the publicity given in regard to our various sales. We believe that you will understand our position and will co-operate.

Yours very truly,
 Bill Bruce.

Dear Editor:

I think the student body of CHS should be a little more orderly when going to the auditorium. Just suppose the State Inspector came by unexpectedly and saw everyone rushing down the hall. I wonder what he would think? He might think the school was on fire. From now on let's try to be more orderly, not only when going to the auditorium, but when changing classes, too.

Yours truly,
 Ann Favor.

Dear Editor:

I think there should be some recognition of how nice the floor of the Study Hall looks at the close of school. Every day the eighth period the Study Hall teacher, Mrs. Manard, has the wastepaper basket passed and the students pick up the paper around their desks. Mrs. Manard picks up all the paper around empty desks and against the walls herself. This makes the floor look much neater and the school more attractive. Students, let's try to keep the paper off the Study Hall floor each period.

Sincerely yours,
 Jane Roark.

HOES. HOSE, HO'S!

According to Webster a hoe is a metal implement used in cutting weeds and other plants. Of course, this is true, but there are many other kinds of hoes. Take for instance the type of hoe that is made of nylon, silk, or rayon (or at least they were before the present situation). This type of hoe is part of a ladies' wardrobe. A few months ago they were considered very important, but now we have found that we get along without them very nicely... well, we get along without them! Then there is the type of hoe that is made by wrapping a piece of rubber, (if you can find it), around a piece of air or a hole (??). This hose is used to water the weeds that you are going to cut with your hoe.

Next comes the type "ho's" that are very familiar to everyone, especially you jitterbugs and hepcats. This type was made famous by Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Kay Kyser, and many others. Naturally, I am speaking of the "hi-de-ho." This is probably liked better than the first or third type of hoe.

Well, I think I hear Mother calling me to cut some weeds, so I guess I will go and "hi-de-ho-e." Yours in a foolish fantasy, Flossie.

WAR BONDS

The home room classes are co-operating nicely in buying War Stamps and Bonds. Everyone is eager to do his part. The following is a report from the different classes:

- Miss Ferguson's $1.40
 - Mrs. Sloan's 1.70
 - Mrs. Graves' 2.00
 - Miss Patterson's 20.05
 - Mr. I. T. Graves' 5.40
- Congratulations to all, and let us have even a larger report next week.

JOKES

A Scotchman, inviting a friend to his wedding anniversary, explained how to find him in the apartment where he lived.

"Come to the seventh floor," he said, "and where you see the letter 'D' on the door, push the button with your elbow and when the door opens put your foot against it."

"Why do I have to use my elbow and my foot?" asked the friend.

"Well, for heavens sake!" exclaimed the Scotchman, "you're not coming empty-handed, are you?"

Writer: "Spoon, Miss?"
 Boy Friend: "Say, whose party do you think this is?"

The barbers still hold the theory that two heads are better than one.

Anne F.: My boy friend is as comfortable as an old shoe.
 Betty J.: I can't say that but, I prefer a tight squeeze, anyway.

Weldon Young: Sweets to the sweet.
 Helen Jo Callaway: Thanks for the candy, have some nuts.

Miss Ferguson: Remember, plenty of men that are a success started at the bottom.
 Bill Bruce: Maybe I could learn to swim like that.

Short: I could dance on like this forever.
 Ada Jane: Don't be silly, everyone improves with practice.

Mary E. Edwards: I don't see any point in this joke.
 Joke editors: Your readers will. They're smart.

THE ONLY PANACEA

A man who has been a member of one of the principal old-time labor unions for 26 years, and who is now serving in the Army, recently protested some of the current comment on labor. He said that some writers are "laboring" and observed that the public mind about labor, called only one strike in a generation. That was called to obtain the 44th week and was won by the

This man has a case. He is unfortunate part of the labor racketeering has a dark shadow over the labor movement. There are unions, of course. There are unions which have done tremendous service. There are unions which fully realize their responsibility to the country in war or peace, they have made the decisions of official action bodies. But other, irresponsible unions have made a few labor leaders large the entire union movement the same brush.

The union man in question hoped that some one would "panacea" for the wrong ideas being formed in the mind about organized labor. Only possible panacea is for unions, all labor leaders, to unite upon the vast public responsibility which confronts them today. Industrial News-Review.

ROUND up your scrap metal—it's needed to make steel. Steel for armor plate to protect him from bombs and bullets. Steel for weapons to help him do the job that must be done before he can come home again.

You don't want production figures. It's enough to know that 50% of all new steel is made of scrap—that our steel mills now have only enough scrap in sight to last another 30 days at the most!

What happens after that depends on all of us. If production falls and you have not done your part, will you rest easy?

October 5th we're starting a collection drive—to build the biggest stockpile of scrap metal you've ever seen. Then when the mills need it, we'll have it—because you came through... for his sake!

WEEK of the WAR

...ing passage by Congress Second Price Control Act, Roosevelt ordered ceiling over wages, salaries, farm prices and rents, and Supreme Court Justice F. Byrnes as Director of Stabilization with the developing a national economic policy.

Byrnes resigned from the post to accept the new post of Director of Economic Warfare in the War Relocation Authority. He will have authority to direct all government agencies in the economic field and will be replaced by a four-member Economic Warfare Board composed of eight agency heads and four citizens.

Minimum Prices and Rents immediately following the executive order. Price administrator Henderson imposed a 90 per cent of the food budget under rigid control. Previously only 60 per cent was controlled. Under the first time are butter, evaporated and condensed eggs, poultry, flour, dry potatoes, fresh and canned fruits and juices, dry edible cornmeal and mutton. Food wholesalers, manufacturers and processors are affected and processors' price is frozen at highest level he charged five days September 28 to 2, inclusive. The permittances later may entail price reductions, Mr. Henderson said.

Administrator Henderson also issued new orders freezing all rolled urban and rural levels of last March. He ordered the Office of Price Administration to prevent evictions resulting from rental property, a practice which in many cases has become a device to avoid the rent control. Previously rent control was limited to approximately 400 designated residential areas.

Stabilization of Wages President's order had the effect of freezing all wage rates of time being until the War Labor Board has a chance to act in individual cases. Rates may not be changed without the approval of the NWLB. The Board has just wages "to correct maladjustments or inequalities, to meet standards of living, to correct gross inequities, or to effect the prosecution of the war."

...ies in excess of $5,000 a year may not be increased without the approval of Stabilization Byrnes unless an individual has been assigned to more than one job. Director Director was given power to place a 3000 limit on salaries after but with due allowance for insurance premiums and fixed costs previously incurred.

... Prices and Production Roosevelt ordered prices and processed agricultural commodities "stabilized, so far as possible," at September 15 and in conformity with the orders laid down in the new price control law.

...the floor" under cotton, wheat, rice, tobacco and other commodities. The floor to be established by means of loans. The floor may be held down to 85 per cent, however, on corn and wheat for feeding livestock and poultry.

said agriculture in wartime must be limited to "producing only the farm products which are absolutely essential." He said farm production for 1942, nearly a record, might not be exceeded for years, and future production might not be sufficient for all needs at home and abroad. "Next year we will need a farm production even greater than this year's... (but) I am not at all sure that total production will be even as large."

The War Front

The Navy announced that U. S. Army troops, "covered and supported by units" of the U. S. Navy, have recently occupied positions in the Andean region of the Aleutian Islands. Occupation was effected without enemy opposition. This chain of some 24 islands stretches for 240 miles and the largest of the islands is about 275 miles from Japanese-occupied Kiska and is well adapted to use as an air base. The Navy said U. S. heavy bombers and fighter craft are already operating from air fields in these islands.

During a week of heavy fighting in New Guinea, Gen. MacArthur's ground forces drove the enemy back some 40 miles from a point 32 air miles from the Allied base of Port Moresby past Efoji village, last important Japanese base on the Southern side of the Owen Stanley Mountains. Gen. MacArthur's Headquarters reported October 5, American Flying Fortresses based in Britain attacked a German airfield at St. Omer October 2, and returned without losses after shooting down 13 enemy fighters. U. S. submarines operating in far eastern waters sank five enemy ships and probably sank two more, and damaged another. Army, Navy and Marine Corps fliers

From September 25 to 28 destroyed 42 Japanese aircraft and damaged three others in the Solomons, without combat loss of any U. S. planes, and hit two enemy cruisers, damaged another ship and probably sank a large transport. The Navy reported the 8,378-ton naval transport George F. Elliott and the small transport Gregory were sunk in the Solomons but most of their personnel was saved. The Navy announced October 5 that the 1,526 ton submarine Gruen has been overdue in the Pacific for some time and "must be presumed to be lost." The normal complement of the vessel would be 65 officers and men. The torpedo sinking of four more United Nations merchantmen was announced.

War Production and Small Businesses

Following an 8,754-mile two-weeks tour of the Nation—kept secret as a special wartime safeguard—President Roosevelt said the War Production Program is going, on the whole, extremely well, allowing for a normal small percentage of lag in a program made a bit higher than human ingenuity could carry out. He said he thought the production program would be achieved to the extent of 94 or 95 per cent of the goals outlined by him last January. The President said the war spirit he found in all parts of the country was in excess of the war spirit in Washington, and the people of the country are ready to sacrifice for the war effort to a greater extent than any steps yet proposed in Washington.

American shipyards produced 93 vessels during September, a rate of three ships a day, the Maritime Commission announced. The total deadweight tonnage of 1,009,800 was the greatest record in world shipbuilding history, the Commission said, and assures the goals of 8,000,000 tons this year and 16,000,000 tons next year will be met. WPB Chairman Nelson asked Congress for immediate creation of a War Liabilities Adjustment Board to help protect the small businessman. Commerce Under Secretary Taylor also recommended establishment of a permanent agency whose task would be to "husband small business." He estimated that 300,000 retail stores face failure before the end of 1943 because of government restrictions, material shortages and the draft.

Army and Selective Service The War Department opened an intensified campaign to recruit 18 and 19-year-old volunteers for the Army. They may volunteer for the Quarter-

The Golden Text is: "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world" (John 1:29). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (I Corinthians 3:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The supremacy of Spirit was the foundation on which Jesus built. His sublime summary points to the religion of Love" (page 138).

KNOW YOUR SYRUP

College Station.—Families not fortunate enough to have their own good home-made syrup can do themselves a good turn by studying and understanding the labels on the sorghum or ribbon cane they buy. These syrups are rich in iron, phosphorus, and other minerals, so it is important to get a high quality product, according to Myrtle Murray, specialist in home industries for the A. & M. College Extension Service. She adds that studying different brands of syrup on the market in order to distinguish between adulterated and pure products is one of the objectives of the 46,000 members of the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

Here are some provisions of the Texas Pure Food and Drug Law which are worth remembering.

master Corps, Ordnance Department, Chemical War Service, Medical Department and the Corps of Military Police, in addition to the previous choices. The War Department said approximately 270,000 checks totaling $19,500,000 in family allowance payments are being mailed to some 405,000 relatives and dependents of soldiers October 1-10, including 135,363 first payments. November payments are expected to be twice as numerous as in October. Selective Service Director Hershey said he hoped mobilization for the Armed Service will reach its peak this year and will go downward with the start of 1943, but no one can make a prediction with any high degree of certainty because of world military developments.

ing: Syrup when packed for sale must bear a label consisting of the name of the product, the net volume of the contents, the name of the maker, and the place of manufacture. When the product is not a pure cane syrup, other ingredients must be listed. If there is any added preservative, flavor, or acid, that must be given on the label, too.

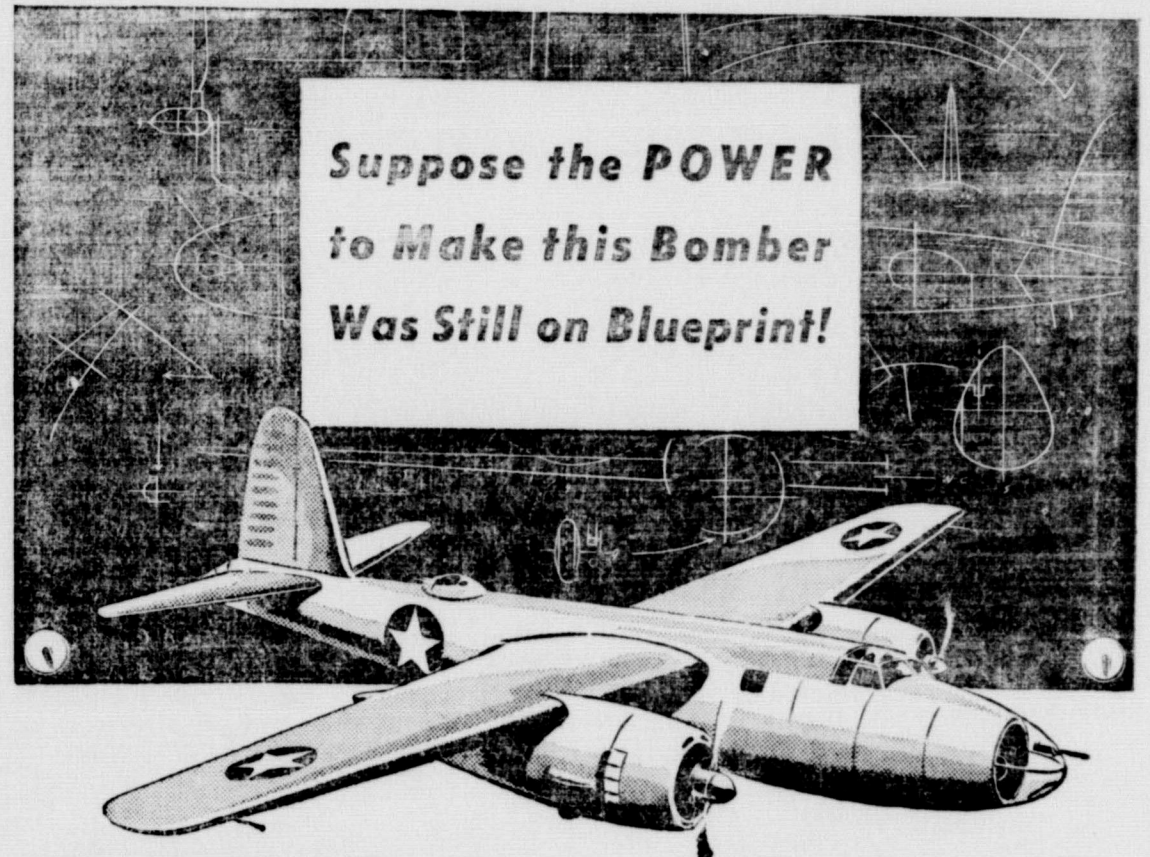

Descriptive phrases in the brand name such as "country," "open kettle," and "home made," can be used only on a pure cane syrup, Miss Murray explains. In addition, a product made in imitation of a natural or manufactured product must be labeled "imitation."

The Pure Food Law is designed to protect the consumer, Miss Murray says, and homemakers should take advantage of this protection by carefully reading the labels on containers to know what they are buying.

MONEY RETURNED

Money expended for life insurance always comes back tenfold. Not a penny wasted. A life insurance policy, if properly attended to, does not wear out and leave nothing but the worthless remains. It does not grow shoddy and uncouth. It does not run down and get out of repair. It does not require constant repairing. All it needs is to be kept in force, by regular payments, and it is better after 10 or 20 years than it was the day it was purchased. It increases in value with the years, while all other gifts you can give perish with using.

Another world war is being fought... a war between a group of countries (the United Nations) which believe in certain liberties for the individual and the institutions he has created, and a group of countries (the Axis) which do not believe in such liberties.

Meanwhile, a war is being waged within our own borders... an economic and political revolution, with those who believe in perpetuating free enterprise and opportunity on one side and those who favor political control and operation of productive resources on the other.

Bureaus exist within our government today that are completely disassociated from the war effort, methodically doing things to discourage free enterprise... constantly forcing the individual out of business through government subsidized projects.

This means only one thing in the end, if allowed to expand unchecked: the inauguration of government in business, or the socialized state—in plain English, the Nazified German system—at a time when the nation is fighting a second world war to prevent that very system from engulfing our American ways which have been contrary to that doctrine.

kan's preparedness in giving first aid on its highways. Miss Johnston replied that since highway mileage in Alaska is small and many of the towns are situated in islands off the mainland, the more acute problem was how to give first aid on the waterways, until completion of the Alaska highway.

More small boats equipped to administer first aid was Ketchikan's answer to the Red Cross First Aid highway program. Sam Dowles, Ketchikan Red Cross chairman, and Harry McCain, mayor of Ketchikan, co-operating with Miss Juanita Johnston, Red Cross secretary and school nurse in Ketchikan, put the plan of sea units into operation.

Ketchikan, geographically the first Alaskan town on the vast archipelago swinging out across the North Pacific, long had been aware of its position. It had begun a first aid training program long before. One-tenth of Ketchikan's 5,000 civilians already had received first aid training when the sea mobile unit was established.

First to fly the Red Cross banner was the cruiser "Kadin," owned and operated by Earl Watterworth, who completed his first aid training last winter with the Ketchikan chapter. The "Kadin," 45 feet long, sleeps seven, has a five-ton cargo hold, cruises at 10 knots and is an all-round utility cruiser which tows, packs freight, carries passengers, makes charter trips and serves as a fish-trap patrol boat.

Fedalg Island Packing Company next added three tenders to form the nucleus of the first aid fleet. These boats have on board bandages, tannic acid, sprayers for burns, iodine, traction splints, spirits of ammonia, blankets, stretchers and — most important of all — trained personnel.

Deaths from Cancer in Texas on Increase, It Is Disclosed

Austin.—A steady increase of deaths in Texas from all forms of cancer is disclosed by the fact that over 45,000 persons have died from this dreaded disease within the last ten years, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The public should be warned against cancer 'quacks' and so-called cancer cures," Dr. Cox said. "Advertising of medicines and so-called cancer doctors puts dangerous, misleading information before the public. Undoubtedly," Dr. Cox declared, "there are many persons who being thus delayed in seeking proper medical advice unnecessarily lose their lives to this disease."

According to the State Health Officer there are two ways of treating cancer: namely, surgery and the use of radium and X-ray. Treatment must be started early and be carried out by a competent surgeon. In almost two-thirds of the cases surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous growths, while X-ray or radium is used to good advantage in approximately one-third of the cases successfully treated. Frequently the two methods are combined. "The greatest defense against death by cancer is early diagnosis," Dr. Cox stated. "Every case is an emergency and it is unfortunate that the majority of those persons suffering from cancer do not seek medical advice until beyond permanent cure."

Dr. Cox pointed out that any unusual bleeding from any part of the body, any lump in the breast, or any surface sores, especially on the face and mouth, and even chronic indigestion may be symptoms denoting the presence of cancer.

"Where cancer is suspected, do not delay but consult your physician at once," Dr. Cox advised. "Self-medication, serums, colored lights, pastes, salves, and diets are absolutely valueless."

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

With Washington approval soft coal prices will go up in all mining regions on October 1.

The rationing of meat is expected to come as soon as the Price Administration can work out a system, print and distribute the ration books. It is estimated this will require three months. The weekly ration per person is tentatively set at 2 1/2 pounds. This compares with one pound the British are getting and 12 ounces per man for Germans. The reason for ration is not lack of supply which is the largest on record.

but our supply of 24 pounds must meet a 27 pound demand from our forces, our Allies and our population.

Following the President's quest for one meatless day a week, 52 Government orders in Washington, D. C. were adopted, meatless Wednesday. It is just playing smart for War Bonds during the War. The war is over the real times are going to hit the effort and it will be a mighty try to the man who has an income policy in the shape of Bonds laid by for that day.

Tung oil has in the past been imported from China. Imports in the past have run as high as 100,000,000 pounds a year. The oil is used as a drying paint and varnishes that are resistant to water, acids and alkalis. It is also used by automobile manufacturers, for raincoats, waterproofing gun carriages, airplane covers, waterproof cement, ships and other war equipment. In 1902 this country began growing its own tung oil trees. At that time 175,000 acres of trees have been planted in Mississippi. The present domestic production is about 600,000 pounds. The price is cents a pound. At this rate a good tree will produce $6 worth of oil each year and an acre of States suitable for the growing of tung oil trees, with another 600,000 acres upon which might be grown in a limited

WHEN IT RAINS
IT'S WASHDAY

FOR MINNESOTA QUALITY HOUSE PAINT

A Year or so after application this paint has a... practical quirk, shall we call it? A rainy day is its washday. MINNESOTA Quality House Paint has the important advantage of very slowly chalking through the years. When Nature showers the painted surface, the chalk floats away carrying with it dust and grime... and lo! the paint remains fresh and bright. It's a boon to white houses especially... and white is still America's top ranking favorite.

What's more, this slow chalking leaves the surface receptive for re-painting... when at length the time comes for that.
