War Bond Quota for December is Doubled in County

Earl Kincaid, chairman of the Foard County War Bond Savings Committee, announces that the quota for Foard County for the month of December has been practically doubled and he urges co-operation of every citizen in buying bonds and stamps in order to attain the set quota.

Kincaid reminds us that there is just one more month in which the people may finish the buying of ten per cent of their savings for the year in War Bonds. The December quota amounts to $12,500 and a good deal has been made toward the goal but this is an opportunity for each and every person to take a part in the war effort, however small his income may be.

West Texas C. of C. Wartime Program for 1943 Released

Abilene, Dec. 6.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce organizational plan for 1943, with wartime program of 40 major activities ordered by the recent executive and referendum sessions, has gone to 176 directors in 45 affiliated towns and members of committees. Directors have received their credentials and committees their certificates of appointment.

The WTCC plan was drawn up at a meeting in Lubbock of the executive committee composed of C. Ulmer, president; Geo. A. Simmons and E. W. Hardin, vice presidents; Malcolm M. Meek, secretary; and D. A. Barden, general manager. Transmitting the plan to the members, the officers said two fundamental objectives had been kept in mind. The first was "to carry out the policies which by referendum conventions have been so liberally expressed by our constituency in the 132 counties"—referring to the 145 town meetings during October. The second was "to provide administration of the program in the most efficient and economical manner, and in tune with conditions necessitated by our all-out effort to win the war."

Commissions Created
The administrative program for the coming year calls for centralization of responsibility and leadership. Ten commissions and five staff bureaus have been created. The commissions, with chairmen, are: National Security and Defense, L. Caldwell, Abilene. Public Health, Taxation and Debt, D. Hamlin, Farwell. Rationing, G. H. McKinney, Fort Worth. Cultural and Livestock, P. G. M. Francis, Stamford. Oil and Natural Resources, Joe Clarke, Albany. War and War Industries, H. Y. Overstreet, Texico. Transportation, H. S. Hilburn, Plainview. War Economy, Houston Charter, Angelo. West Texas Charter, Chas. Davis, Stephenville. Co-operative Activities, J. S. Bridgman, Wichita Falls.

The staff bureaus will do research and planning; handle organization and finance; edit West Texas Today and otherwise publish the activities and work program; and do the detail work in the organization's campaigning.

There are 81 members of the commissions and 35 on six committees grouped under the Co-operative Activities Commission. These are the Freight Rate Ratey Federation, J. M. Willard, Floydada, president; the State Cotton Allotment Committee, G. A. Simmons, Lubbock, chairman; and the groups operating the West Texas Resource and Museum Institute, which was created by and is affiliated with the WTCC. The Institute is directed into West Texas resources, museum exhibits, area literature and art. Museum, literature and art chairmen are Dr. C. N. Ray, Abilene; Dr. R. N. Richardson of Simmons University; and D. Hamlin.

War Activities
The work program stresses the Texas, fullest participation in the war effort. The officers asserted that "although our items will not be forgotten, we nevertheless measure our efforts by standards of Texas' war contributions to the welfare." Listed as work to be done through the commissions, among many other activities, are: sponsoring the inter-communal War and Preservation contest, which will continue for the war's duration, at the end of which $1,000 prize money will be awarded. More than 100 towns are Farmers Will Vote on Marketing Cotton Quota Sat.

All farmers of Foard County engaged in cotton production in 1942 are eligible to vote in the cotton marketing referendum Saturday, Dec. 12, it was announced from College Station this week.

Not only are they eligible, but they are urged to participate in the balloting which will decide the future of cotton during 1943. Fred Rennels, assistant AAA administrative officer, declared.

If two-thirds of the farmers voting in Saturday's referendum favor quotas, then they will be in effect on the 1943 crop, but Rennels pointed out that for the vote to be truly representative of grower opinion, a large vote is necessary.

AAA regulations provide that all farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1942 as owner-operator, cash tenant, standing-rent or fixed-rent tenant, or landlord of a share tenant, or as share tenant or sharecropper, are eligible to vote, except that farmers who produce only cotton with a staple length of one and one-half inches or more in length are not eligible. Such cotton is not subject to quotas.

Rennels emphasized that the referendum would affect only the 1943 crop, and he pointed out that if quotas are rejected then no government loan can be offered on the 1943 crop. According to law, loans at 90 per cent of parity will be offered if necessary to support the price of cotton.

Annual Exhibit Day County Covered by Snowfall of About 8 Inches

At the annual exhibit of the County Home Demonstration Clubs of the county, held at Lanier's Hardware on Saturday, Nov. 28, the clubs of Vivian, Foard City and West Side had demonstrations of their projects.

The Vivian club had been designated the project of "Substitute Foods for Meat, according to food value." Mrs. T. W. Cooper was in charge of the exhibit and demonstration. She said that we were to select foods for other things than protein, for meat substitutes. For instance, whole grain cereals for Vitamin B and peas, beans, nuts and eggs for protein, Vitamin B and iron.

The club of Foard City, under the supervision of Mrs. Floyd Porchardt, had for its exhibit project, 1, food equivalent to milk in calcium value and 2, Cleaning felt hats. Four large loaves of bread or 40 large apples are equal in calcium value to one pint of milk. Also, 4 grapefruit or 5 oranges are equivalent to 1 pint. To clean felt hats, make a paste of corn meal and naphtha. Put on hat, let dry and brush off with a stiff brush or broom.

Mrs. G. H. Kinchloe, Mrs. W. L. Scott, Mrs. Clyde Cobb and Mrs. S. E. Tate, of the West Side club exhibited whole grain cereals and accessories for basic dress. Home-made collar and cuff sets, to conform to the color of the dress and appropriate costume jewelry were stressed. Food val-

Plans are under way to register during December approximately 28,000 young Texans born between July 1, 1924, and December 31, 1924, inclusive, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, announced today.

"Local boards will conduct the registration with the assistance of volunteer registrars in officially designated places in their particular areas, and will record substantially the same information on registration cards, which will be gray in color, as was required in the first five registrations.

"While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on the dates designated for his registration may register at the registration place most convenient, all registrants are urged to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion in the future. Any person who must register away from home is warned to specify his home address so that his registration card may be forwarded promptly to his own local board."

General Page pointed out that a registrant who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence, but, in making the choice, he designates the local board which will always have jurisdiction over him.

Bi-District Championship in Football Won by Stamford Bulldogs Friday Night When They Defeated Crowell, 9-0

The Stamford Bulldogs became bi-district champions in football last Friday night when they defeated the Crowell Wildcats, 9 to 0, in one of the best football games played in the Wildcat Stadium this season.

The Wildcats displayed some of the best defensive work that has been seen this year in holding the defending regional champions scoreless for the first half. This was the only time this season that the Bulldogs had been held under two touchdowns in a game. They defeated Chillicothe 37 to 0 last year in bi-district play.

Boot Rogers made the only touchdown of the game about the middle of the third quarter from the one yard line. On straight line bucks Rogers carried the ball to Crowell's goal line where the Wildcats held, but an off side penalty gave him a fifth try for the score, and he plunged over for six points. Lawson's kick for extra point was wide. There was no more scoring until the last minute of the game when Lawson kicked a field goal to make the final score 9 to 0.

The Bulldogs had their big chance in the fourth quarter when Cecil Parkhill recovered a Stamford fumble on Stamford's fifteen yard line. They carried the ball to the eleven yard line where Stamford took over.

Crowell's defense was led by Gordon Erwin and Glen Taylor, tackles. Arnold Smith and Albert Bird made several nice gains, but neither could get in the open for long runs.

Stamford's offense was led by Boot Rogers. Their blocking was the best that has been seen here in several seasons. In Stamford plays Ballinger at Stamford for the regional championship tomorrow (Friday).

Delegates to the Congress will discuss further 4-H contributions to the war effort. The youth helped with wiring job on his parents' 120-acre farm. Canadians Destroy U-Boat Off Atlantic Coast

Since the outbreak of war more than three years ago coastal units of the Royal Canadian Air Force have carried on a constant patrol of the Western Atlantic, ranging far out to sea. An undisclosed number of marauding U-boats have already fallen victim to their bombs. These photos depict the death throes of one. Picture above shows how it desperately tried to dive. Only its "jumping wires" are visible. Bombs landed seconds later.

Rolling on its side, the sub wallows helplessly after being blown to the surface by the first bomb salvo. When another charge was dropped, the sub sank, leaving air bubbles and a big patch of oil on the surface. Although air crews find it difficult to make absolutely certain of the kill, it is believed that the margin of doubt in this case was extremely small.

INTERESTING FACTS OF THIS AND THAT

Juneau, Alaska, has a higher proportion of Frigidaires than any other place in the world. Thirty-five thousand reindeer are consumed annually in Alaska by the native Indians and Eskimos for food and clothing. The coast line of Alaska is 26,376 miles long. This is 2,000 miles greater than the distance around the earth at the equator. Juneau, the largest town in Alaska, has a population of 5,749. Though much is heard of the gold mined in Alaska, in the ten year period from 1915 to 1925 the value of copper mined in Alaska exceeded the value of gold mined in the same period by 70 per cent. The first reindeer in Alaska were purchased from Russia in 1891. One hundred and eighty-one animals were bought from Russia for $2,146. From this beginning the herd has increased until the native Indians and Eskimos consume annually for food and clothing 35,000 head.

TIMELY TIPS ON COFFEE

College Station. — Arguments that coffee taken black is "better for you" than coffee with cream and sugar has no basis in fact. For coffee is not a food. It can neither build and repair the tissues of the body nor provide energy for the body to run on. The cream in coffee is food, and the sugar, but not the coffee itself, says Hazel Phipps, specialist in food preparation for A. & M. College Extension Service. She says rationing will cause many people to change their food habits, and they may as well change them for the better. For example, to "stretch" their coffee allowance, many people may want to try their coffee the French way—half hot coffee and half hot milk. This is a good beverage for making coffee go farther and for getting more milk into the diet. Miss Phipps says, too, that coffee and chocolate are flavors which blend well together. So for a change she suggests a cup of hot chocolate or cocoa with a dash of coffee in it, instead of a cup of coffee. Homemakers who have any left-over coffee, can make excellent use of it provided they store it in the refrigerator. It can be used as a flavoring, especially in desserts. The specialist also suggests serving beverages which fill in the gaps where coffee formerly was served. At lunch or dinner a cup of steaming meat or vegetable broth is good. "The fragrance of that hot cup should give your appetite a lift," Miss Phipps says. With desserts, try a not spiced fruit juice. Hot grape juice spiced with cloves or stick cinnamon, or hot spiced cider go well with many sugar saving desserts.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Leftover baked beans disappear quickly as "crusty-top baked beans." Place the beans in a greased baking dish, sprinkle with grated cheese, top with buttered crumbs and bake 40 minutes in moderate oven. Grease the measuring cup before measuring sirup or molasses and it will not stick to the sides of the cup. A subscriber suggests that lemons can be kept from drying by placing them in an air-tight fruit jar. The prison system of Texas consists of a central plant at Huntsville and ten farms.

POST WAR DIETS

College Station, Dec. 7.—Americans in the post-war world will be better fed than they are now, for men in the armed forces are learning to eat and like nutritious foods and children are building better food habits in community school lunch rooms, Louise Bryant of College Station, predicted at a recent meeting of the Texas State Nutrition Committee in Dallas. Miss Bryant represents the Bureau of Home Economics on a four states post war planning committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Since the government's food rationing and share-the-meat programs are based on nutritional requirements, civilians as a whole will learn more about adequate diets as well as receiving an adequate part of the national food supply.

Other predictions on post war feeding were given to the committee by Victor H. Schoffelmayer, Dallas agricultural editor, who believes dehydrated soup mixtures will be popular after the war.

The State committee was told that the American Red Cross now has 1,243 nutrition instruction in Texas. Frances MacKinnon, nutrition director for the Midwestern states, said more than 10,000 Texas homemakers have been trained in Red Cross nutrition courses and are available for war services.

Other speakers included Hazel Bratley, regional nutritionist for the Federal Security Agency, Dr. J. M. Coleman of the State Health Department, and Grace I. Neely, Dallas, of the Agricultural Marketing Administration. Attendance of state, county and municipal workers at the meeting was nearly 100, according to Mildred Houston, state chairman and vice director of the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Christian Science Relief Committee Makes Good Report

Boston, Dec. 7. (Sp.)—The Christian Science War Relief Committee of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., which was established in September, 1940, has recently released its second annual report. This shows that it now has more than 1500 branch units active in the United States of America besides many more in Great Britain, Canada, Australia and the Union of South Africa.

The Committee has assembled since Pearl Harbor over 65,000 pounds of durable clothing and bedding, in waterproof, mothproof, wooden cases, at convenient locations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, ready for instant use should emergencies arise because of local enemy action.

More than 32,800 garments have been distributed, through military distribution centers, to men in the United States forces. A large British transport vessel which had arrived from tropical waters and was being repaired at Boston received 100 overcoats for officers. Folding cots have been given to overcrowded seamen's clubs. Civilians arriving in the United States suffering because of war conditions or action have been provided with clothing and other forms of relief. Among them are refugees from the Far East, who landed in California; and merchant seamen rescued from ships torpedoed along the Atlantic coast have been similarly cared for.

This work is carried on by the Committee without regard to creed or race.

One of the most impressive branches of the work from the start, before America entered the war, has been the distribution of clothing and comforts to bombed-out people in Great Britain and to refugees from Holland, Norway, Russia, Poland, Belgium, and other European countries. Clothing has gone direct from Boston to Russia, and knitted goods have been sent there from branches of the Committee in England. One example is the preparation, within six weeks, of 1820 knitted garments for the Russians. Overseas workers have won the commendation and co-operation of local authorities by their prompt arrival on the scene of trouble. In cities heavily bombed, such as Plymouth, Coventry, Bristol, and Southampton, they have got there with food and clothing, ready to go to work, even before the "All Clear" sounded.

The wide range of the distribution is indicated in the annual report from the United Kingdom. One worker reports that an English physician, "totally bombed," was fitted out with suitable professional clothing by the almoner. A Scottish center states that Commandos who at one time raided the Norwegian islands were equipped on the expedition with comforts from Boston, and that the center provided clothing for the refugees whom the Commandos brought back.

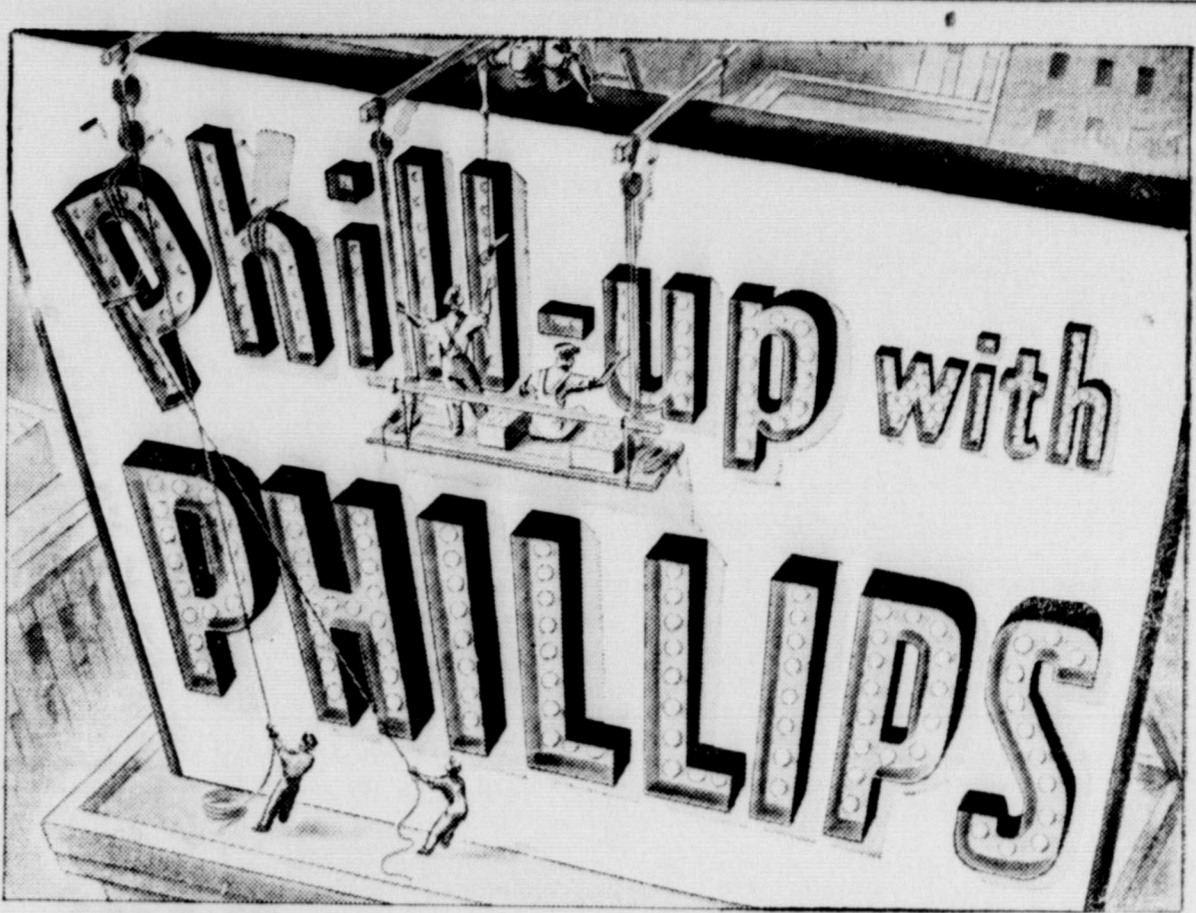

Throughout the entire Christian Science movement workers are making and collecting clothing and sending it to the depots, where it is carefully inspected, sorted and packed in waterproof cases for shipment. One of the most recent of the Committee's activities has been the sending of weekly food packages to British prisoners of war in Germany and Italy. This can be done according to the Geneva Convention. Only an occasional package has gone astray. Correspondence has been started with many of the prisoners and with their families in England. Some packages have been sent to civilians in Occupied France. It has been possible to reach prisoners in the Far East.

Figures presented for the two-year period ending the first of October, this year, include over 1,600,000 pounds of clothing and bedding sent to the British Isles, more than 8,700 pounds to Russia, and more than 10,500 pounds to Finland, previous to that country's alliance with the Axis.

The yearly shipment to England from the Boston depot alone has totaled between 4,000 and 5,000 crates, each containing about 200 garments. The loss in shipping has been negligible. During the first year of the Committee's operation at least 30,000 people in Great Britain received clothing, food or other comforts, and about 240 were assisted financially. In addition to shipments from the four depots in the States—at Boston, New York, Los Angeles, and Portland, Ore.—crates have gone forth from Christian Science workers in Canada, Australia, and South Africa. In Great Britain alone 300 almoners have been at work distributing relief.

The total value of material in clothing distributed is estimated at $1,533,300. In addition to this money, gifts have been sent to China and other needy countries, and three motorized canteens have been sent to England; they are located in London, Sheffield, and Rochester.

The Committee is ready to aid in relieving human suffering caused by war wherever it can, and it co-operates with many other officially recognized relief agencies when sudden needs arise, readily contributing whatever of its supplies are available.

WAR changes a famous slogan

FOR THE DURATION, a famous and friendly slogan goes into retirement.

With gasoline being rationed to lengthen the calendar life of your tires and thus conserve the Nation's wartime stock-pile of rubber, we no longer invite you to Phillip-up with Phillips.

But you are still as welcome as ever at any Phillips 66 Service Station. The Phillips man is anxious to get and hold your business, even though your gasoline purchases are greatly reduced.

If anything, he is more anxious than ever to give you those pleasant, friendly services which make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. That is his way of showing his appreciation for your business. And more, he has pledged himself to "Keep 'em Rolling", as a patriotic duty.

In the meantime, hundreds of Phillips research workers and many thousands of production employees are speeding up their good work for victory. With Phillips vast resources of raw materials, their efforts have made the company one of the largest suppliers of 100 octane aviation gasoline to the Army Air Corps, the Navy, and the United Nations' air forces; have made the company an important participant in the U. S. synthetic rubber program.

Remember these facts, and drive in where you see the Orange and Black 66 Shield. That's where you get Phillips 66 Poly Gas and Phillips 66 Motor Oil... two famous products which are everything you can expect in times like these, when the needs of Uncle Sam's fighting forces naturally come first.

P.S. In place of our slogan at the bottom of this advertisement, we have placed a slogan that is yours, ours, and every American's.

The cause of the meat shortage in this country is not that we do not have a normal supply of meat but for the reason that while our production is 24 billion pounds a year, the largest on record, some 27 1/2 billion pounds are needed for our soldiers, our allies and for home consumption. For this reason every person has been asked to cut his consumption to 2 1/2 pounds a week including home butchered beef and pork. It may be necessary to reduce this ration still further. Fish and poultry are not to be included in the ration.

Whooping Cough Is Hardest of Children's Diseases to Control

Austin.—Commenting today on the control of communicable diseases, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said that whooping cough is one of the hardest of the so-called children's diseases to control. This is because it is a highly contagious disease which begins as an ordinary cough and is often not recognized until the child has exposed other neighborhood children. Whooping cough is contagious during the week or ten days preceding the easily recognizable symptom known as the "whoop." Even when the disease has been recognized, often a physician is not called and children are allowed to play with others when they are known to be sick.

In children under the age of three years, whooping cough can be very dangerous and is often fatal. Frequent spells of coughing and vomiting weaken the child to such an extent that he easily becomes a victim of some complicating disease such as pneumonia. Whooping cough complicated by pneumonia is so dangerous to

HISTORY

Aviation Day—December 17: This date marks the anniversary of the first flight of heavier than air machines, made by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C., on December 17, 1903. In 1934 the Secretary of the Navy directed that all available planes should take the air at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and remain in flight for a half hour. As the airplane comes into more general use, this anniversary date may become more generally observed. It might be interesting to review briefly the history of the development of the airplane. While preliminary exploratory work in the creation of heavier than air machines had been done by Sir Hiram Maxim, of England, Otto Lillenthal, of Germany and S. P. Langley and Octave Chanute of the United States, Dayton, Ohio, were the first to devise a heavier than air machine that could lift itself off the ground and remain in the air of its own power. They first experimented with gliders to which the power was applied by towing. In this manner they discovered the principles of mechanical flying. Their first powered machine was equipped with a sixteen horse gasoline engine. At a test near Kitty Hawk, N. C., on December 17, 1903, four flights were made. In one of them the machine with one passenger rose by its own power, remained in the air fifty-nine seconds and traveled a distance of eight hundred and fifty-two feet. This test demonstrated for the first time the possibility of mechanical flight by man. On October 5, 1905, with a new machine the Wright brothers made a flight of twenty-four and one-half miles remaining in the air thirty-eight minutes and three seconds. The speed in this test was thirty-eight miles an hour. The development of the plane proceeded slowly until the World War in 1914, when unlimited money became available for its development. From that time on the development of the plane has been rapid. Although a high degree of efficiency has been reached, so rapid is the progress of development, that planes a year off the assembly lines are now classed as obsolete. The development of the plane has been the most rapid, and startling, and spectacular of man's achievements.

Some fellow with nothing better to do has figured out that there are 293 ways of making change for a dollar.

PUSH HARDER!

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

The long looked for, long demanded, long clamored for second front is now a reality. It is here. North Africa has been chosen as its scene of action. It was stated by President Roosevelt the other day that the plans for the second front were begun as long ago as two weeks after Pearl Harbor. The raid on Pearl Harbor was made December 7. That would mean that before January, 1942, plans for the second front were being made. Now that the second front has been launched it is interesting to note some things in connection with it. First perhaps, is the element of surprise. Notwithstanding the fact that the Army and the Navy and the administration have been hammered over the back by the Allies, and by many in this country, in their repeated and insistent demands for a second front, those who have had it in their direction in charge have been able to keep it a complete secret to the extent that not a whisper has leaked out as to where the second front might be launched.

Many moves were made which served to throw completely off the scent any speculation as to where the second front might be launched. Chief among these was the massing of American troops in Northern Ireland. No where else that they could have been put would have served so well to conceal the real intentions as to where a second front would be attempted. Naturally everyone thought that this force would one day cross the English channel and invade Europe. This is what the American strategists wanted them to think. The fact that this concentration gained general acceptance made the surprise all the more complete.

Now that the plan has been revealed it is clearly obvious to everyone that North Africa is by far the most strategic point for the second front. It is even more strategic than an invasion of occupied France would have been. Once the American forces are secure in North Africa they can control the entire Mediterranean. The control of the Mediterranean makes possible the supplying of English and American troops in India, Australia and China, the Suez Canal, by far shorter route than around the southern end of the African continent. It also opens a southern route to aid Russia—a route far less hazardous than the route to the northern port of Murmansk.

In addition to this it makes accessible the very vitals of the Axis partners. Italy lies but a few miles distant from Bizerte and Tunis, from which points American bombers can blast Italy's land and sea at will. Italy cannot defend her land or her ships from these raids, which once American air bases are established, are going to increase in tempo and intensity.

This choice of a second front will also put a heavier burden on Hitler than would have resulted from an invasion from England. It now becomes necessary that he keep guarded not only the coast along the English channel but also the coast along southern France, Italy and Greece. Strong though his force is, it must now guard not only the 1,200 mile Russian line, and the English channel, but the Mediterranean coast as well.

A FAIR REQUEST

The railroads hope that they will receive authorization to purchase vitally needed equipment—for moving the materials of war. But they are not going to get any more coaches or Pullmans. This, together with the fact that millions of troops are being moved by rail with full priority over civilians, is producing a pinch in travel accommodations. Railroad managements have asked the co-operation of the public in meeting this problem. It should be given wholeheartedly.

Don't travel unless it is absolutely necessary. If it is necessary, the railroads will get you where you want to go. But you should acquire complete information about train schedules so that most efficient use can be made of available passenger equipment. The local passenger agent will aid in selecting the most direct route, making reservations, getting tickets in advance, and advising what day of the week is best for travel. If a trip is called off, reservations should be cancelled immediately. You should travel light and check personal baggage through to destination except that which is needed in transit. When ever possible, purchase a round-trip ticket. It saves time all around. The railroads are serving more than twice as many meals in dining cars as last year, and more diners, like more Pullmans, are unobtainable. Therefore, don't linger over meals. Above all, remember the job the railroads are doing in this emergency, and be tolerant of inconveniences.

Public co-operation can go far toward solving the problem of wartime civilian rail travel. That is why the railroads have requested it. Failure to co-operate will simply result in more regulation, more restrictions, more rationing—measures which, though often necessary, are still obnoxious to the average citizen.—Industrial News-Review.

FOUNDATION OF FREEDOM

Most people think of war industries as those which actually turn out the finished products. But in reality, the plane, tank, ship and gun factories are the vital middle men in a production chain that starts deep in our coal and metal mines, our forests, and in our vast oil fields where the pumps and refining plants work night and day to furnish lubrication and fuel by the billions of gallons to keep the wheels of industry and of war turning.

Natural resources are the key to victory. This country has those resources. Moreover, under efficient management, they are imparting raw materials in quantities that stagger the imagination. The genius of the men who operate the natural resource industries, is second only to the greatness of the resources themselves. Together, they are an unbeatable combination. In the peace to come, they will be the starting point of a new world, just as they are now the starting point of our entire war effort. When the last shot has been fired, our basic industries, like free enterprise in all other fields, will turn again to the sole task of creating a fuller, more comfortable life for all.

That is why we must preserve free enterprise. It is the key to a better civilization. It guarantees both political and economic freedom to the individual. And the natural resource industries are the foundation of free enterprise, just as our natural resources are the foundation of our existence as a sovereign nation.—Industrial News-Review.

FIRE CAN BE FINAL

Millions of people will soon have to walk to their offices and their grocery stores because the United States is desperately short of rubber. And yet in a single fire we allowed one-tenth of our total crude rubber supply to go up in smoke! We allowed carelessness to do the work of an enemy bomber. We allow the same carelessness to destroy hundreds of millions of dollars in property and thousands of lives every year. The taxes we pay to support fire departments, cannot protect us against our own carelessness. Nothing can protect us except a final realization that uncontrolled fire is a deadly menace. Once we realize that, the problem of fire can be solved.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has published a booklet entitled "Fire Prevention Education." It is written expressly for the use of teachers, community leaders, fire chiefs, public officials, Scouts and civilian defense aides. It applies to home and factory alike. For example, it points out that 40 fires a day in the United States are due to careless use of the electric iron; the bill for this particular piece of equip-

Most of these fires could be eliminated merely by the use of an automatic temperature control switch which prevents the iron from attaining excessive temperatures.

And so it goes. The bulk of our annual fire loss could easily be averted. All that is necessary is a little individual effort, something that too many of us fail to exert until it is too late. And then we never get a second chance because fire is very often like death. It can be final.—Industrial News-Review.

STREAMLINED MERCHANDISING

Over a million and a half retail stores are striving to meet the demands of heretofore pampered consumers, in the face of widening gaps on their shelves, chaotic prices and other operating handicaps. Retail merchants are existing in an economic no-man's-land.

The part that they have played in helping to hold price rises to reasonable levels during the present emergency, is too often forgotten—just as they too seldom receive credit for merchandising methods. The fundamental characteristic of modern merchandising is mass distribution. The chain stores and the organized independent merchants are the nucleus of this system. They buy and sell on a quantity basis. As a result, the spread between producer and consumer can be held to a minimum. Consumers are enabled to purchase more goods as well as a wide variety of goods, and the general standard of living is strengthened. The smallest merchant, if he is efficient, can take full advantage of the lower wholesale prices brought about by mass distribution. And experience has shown that when he combines this with personalized service, he can more than hold his own with any competitor.

It is not pleasant to contemplate the chaos that would beset the country if we were forced to depend on the retail distribution methods of twenty years ago. They contrast as sharply as the horseless carriage and the modern automobile.—Industrial News-Review.

Farming is the principal activity of the Prison System of Texas, with more than 45,000 acres in cultivation. It also includes cotton mills, brick plant, canning and other foodstuff factories, print shop and a plant which manufactures all auto license plates distributed by the State Highway Department.

1943 WILL BRING CHANGES

College Station.—During 1943 homemakers can expect to buy many foods in bulk which they formerly bought in more convenient cans. Sauerkraut is one food, for example, which likely will be sold only in bulk during the year ahead, says Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Planning meals by the week and taking war-time adjustments into consideration will increase the homemaker's efficiency, the specialist believes. She predicts that before the end of 1943 housewives may make their soup at home or buy it at her neighborhood grocery store and take it home in a jar or bucket. Manufacture of canned soups has been curtailed because of uneconomical use of tin cans.

Miss Bryant says eliminating the frills in packaged foods and other household articles may be expected, too. Soap will have fewer wrappings, and there will not be as many types and sizes of containers on the grocer's shelves.

Looking at adjustments in the clothing field, Miss Bryant says consumers need not expect many major changes in 1943, but 1944 may offer many problems. In the year ahead homemakers will find fewer cottons on the market, less rayon and wool goods, and more "blends" of wool and synthetic fabrics. Articles such as goloshes must be "duration goods," that is, they must last for the duration.

"There are some new mixtures, fibers and articles on the market," Miss Bryant says, "but they are still in the experimental stages, so don't believe all the claims made for new articles and materials on the market."

EDITORIAL

A year ago last Sunday, Pearl Harbor was suddenly attacked by the Japanese. That was the day the United States entered the war. We have now been in that war one year. During this time much progress has been made. We're turning out more airplanes, ships, guns, ammunition, etc., than anyone could ever have dreamed of. Our boys are now all over the world. They're in England, Iceland, Hawaii, the Philippines, the Solomons, Australia, India, and Africa. They're all fighting for their freedom and our freedom, and what they know is right.

We're on a long journey—and the path is forever going upward—a long hill to climb. There is much that still must be done before we win this war. We are helping every day by buying war stamps and bonds, and doing the many other things to help the Red Cross that we are capable of doing. We must win this war at no matter what cost; however, we believe the same as President Roosevelt does when he said, "With confidence in our armed forces, with the unbounded determination of our American people, we shall gain the inevitable triumph, so help us God."

DEFEAT

The Crowell Wildcats were defeated Friday night by the Stamford Bulldogs. The Bulldogs liked to have gotten their cars chewed down the first half. The game went nip and tuck all the time. The Stamford Bulldogs have lost one ball game in two years. This game they lost to the Throckmorton Greyhounds last year 6-0. The Wildcats gave them something to remember. Erwin Taylor, Veronica Archer and White led the Wildcats' defensive attacks on the Bulldogs. Rogers, with the best blocking this sports writer has seen in Class A football, ran quite a few first downs. The Bulldogs had very tricky plays. But this didn't win the ball game for them. They just had the best team. If the Wildcats play football next year, they are out for revenge, and they know they lost to a good clean team.

THE TRANSOME PEEKER

Duck, here comes another snow ball—Hasn't the snow been wonderful? From all reports, another snow is due here tonight. So-o looks like we will get our fill of snow and snow ice cream.

We are open for suggestions as to what a girl can give her boy friend for Christmas—and vice versa. The following suggestions have been received:

- From girl to boy:
 1. Shoe strings.
 2. Bubble gum.
 3. Nail file.
 4. Mirror.
- From boy to girl:
 1. A sweetheart bracelet.
 2. Watch.
 3. Luggage.
 4. Radio.
 5. Brains!

(The reader will probably be able to decide for himself that these suggestions were sent in by a girl).

Polly Davis Ideal Boy Must:

- Dress nicely.
- Like frosted cokes.
- Have perfect manners.
- Be a good dancer.
- Be very patriotic.
- My, how these Freshmen get around—Seen at the ball game together—Kendrick Joy with Leta Carroll and Hardy Sanders with Billy Jo Scott.

Saturday night, Bill Owens and Paul Vecera and dates were taking in the town in their "open air" car. Whew! Kinda chilly, wasn't it girls?

Craig Sandlin was having trouble last Saturday night. Seems that his girl friends had all gone to bed—or something!

Seen at football game Friday night—Lee J. Stout and Betty Owens, as usual; Cotton McNeese and Wanda Ketchersid. (This is getting to be an everyday affair.)

We haven't seen Evelyn Flesher's name in this column in a long time. All we can say about her is that she is still true to the Coast Guards.

We've heard rumors that Rita Callaway has a new boy friend in the Army. Anything to it, Rita?

Shame Virginia Mabe couldn't go with Clarence Orr Friday night. It would have made him very happy. (What about her?) Well, well, Ann Favor and W. P. Hord are "clicking" again—so it seems.

Billy Fred Short and John Calvin Carter seem to have made quite a hit with some twins at Quannah. S'matter, Polly, and Ada Jane? Losing out?

The fair little city of Crowell was favored with a visit by Joe Wells from Weinert. Hurray! Only 13 more shopping days until Christmas.

John Rasor was seen with Evelyn Crosnoe again Friday night. Sammy Jones had a visitor over the week-end, Weldon Reynolds. Well, Sammy, best you let us in on this.

Has anyone ever noticed Wanda Cobb's hands? They are really pretty.

Just think (if possible) it is only ten more days until all the Extras will be home. Boy, will this town be alive then!

Jim Riley Gafford: Do you suppose that name means anything to anyone in High School? A teacher, maybe?

Ruth Diggs denies all charges against her. She says (quote) "I was not in Quannah Sunday afternoon—though I wish I might have been."

B-r-r-r, Gosh, it surely is cold! I'm dreaming of a white Xmas. Whoops—pardon me, I forgot. This is only the first of December, isn't it?

Say, Ruth, how do you like Elmer? (Ruth has now legally adopted her theme song—"Where's Elmer?")

Say, Kids, don't forget the box supper tomorrow night. All you girls come and bring a box of something good to eat, and all of you boys bring lots of money. Remember, the Juniors have to make lots of money for the Junior-Senior banquet; so help them out, because, after all, you'll be a Junior (or Senior) some day.

Must be sisterly love! Wanda Ketchersid and her little sister, Patsy. I call you don't know what I mean—call I know-it-all—for further information.

There went my last claw! That means no more news because I must rest while my "weapon" grows back.

Yours in distress—(yesterday I was in a different dress).
 The Transome Peeker.

JOKES

Mrs. Manard: "Do you think paper can be used effectively to keep people warm?"

A. G. Wallace: "I should say so! The last report card I took home kept the family hot for a week."

Bill Owens: "My brother had a big scare; a lizard ran up his stocking."
 Paul: "That's nothing. My brother has the sewing machine run up the seam of his pants."

Mr. Todd: "Why were you kept in at school?"
 Perry: "I did not know where the Azores were."
 Mr. Todd: "In the future, just remember where you put things."

Weldon: "I knocked them all cold in English today."
 Helen: "How's that?"
 Weldon: "I got zero."

A parasite is a guy who goes through the revolving door on your push.

Miss Motley: "I asked you to write about the funniest thing you ever say. Why have you handed in this blank paper?"
 Pat: "The funniest thing I ever saw was too funny for words."

Bill had a billboard. Bill also had a boardbill. The boardbill bored Bill, so that Bill sold the billboard to pay his board-bill. So after Bill sold his billboard to pay his boardbill; the boardbill no longer bored Bill.

Nit: "There is an advantage to having wooden legs."
 Wit: "What is it?"
 Nit: "You can hold up your socks with thumb tacks."

Miss Motley: "John, define the subject and predicate."
 John: "The subject is what does the predicate. And the predicate is what the subject does."

Mr. Graves: "This exam will be conducted on the honor system. Please take seats three seats apart and in alternate rows."

Mrs. Manard: "Can you tell me any important use of water?"
 Hardy: "Yes. It enables us to reach islands."

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Good of Mankind; The other day in a group, the members of which were discussing the world situation, an expression of discouragement for the future of the race was voiced by one member of the group. This party thought, that because of the war and other conditions, the future for the race looked hopeless. He felt that civilization was on the way out, that everywhere people by their neglect of worship and their indifference to the teachings of Christ were sealing it's doom. I do not feel that this is true. No doubt there is much in the world that needs correction, much that will have to be corrected if the race is to continue to survive. I feel that these corrections will be made in time. I believe that there is enough of the will and the spirit of Christ in the world to save it from any disaster. I believe that we are going to continue to grow better and better and to develop higher and higher spirit values. To believe anything else is to believe that God's plan for mankind has failed. When I look back over the long way that man has come to his present high state I cannot believe that anything is going to stop, for long, the march toward the goal of the Kingdom of heaven on Earth.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The "Stovepipe," as the 60-millimeter trench mortar is commonly known, is used by our infantry for close-in fighting. It fires a 24-pound shell at the rate of about 35 a minute.

The mortar fires its projectile in a U-shaped arc and for this reason may be successfully camouflaged behind an obstruction. It costs about $500. You and your neighbors, joining together, can buy many of these effective weapons for use of our army. Investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday will do the job. The Golden Text is: "In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God" (Psalms 62:7). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength" (Isaiah 40:29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God never punishes man for doing right, for honest labor, or for deeds of kindness, though they expose him to fatigue, cold, heat, contagion, ... The spiritual demand, quelling the material, supplies energy and endurance surpassing all other aids, and forestalls the penalty which our beliefs would attach to our best deeds" (pages 384, 385).

Weekly Sermon

By George S. Schuler, Member of Music Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. The Escape A few weeks ago, the American public was shocked at the news of the jail break of members of an infamous gang. What added insult to injury was the fact of their easy getaway. Now civil authorities find themselves extremely embarrassed; the warden has resigned, the bewildered public mocked, while the convicts enjoy their ill-gained liberty. What a different story we face, however, when God deals with the condemned. And who are the condemned? We read in Romans 3 that "there is none righteous, no, not one... there is none that seeketh after God... there is none that doeth good, no, not one." Therefore no one is justified in God's sight, and all the world is guilty before Him—"the wrath of God abideth" (John 3:36) on them. What folly to attempt an escape from God's law! Do not even dream of mocking God, for the 23 per cent of the total female population—are now rainfully employed, 4 million of them in war jobs. The office estimated there will be 18 million women in paid employment by next year—6 million of them in war industries. Germany as early as 1939 had 37 per cent of her women working. The WLB announced the number of man-days lost from war industry strikes decreased from 318,892 in September to 167,865 in October—the lowest since last January. Transportation The Public Roads Administration said its surveys show the average speed of passenger cars on rural highways since the institution of the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit has been reduced to 37 miles per hour and trucks to 36 miles per hour. Another survey showed that in 12 war plants in six states the majority of the employees travel to work by automobile. Office of Defense Transportation Director Eastman recommended that buses and street cars space their stopping places in cities at distances from 600 to 1,200 feet. He said any distance less than 500 feet would be wasteful of rubber, gasoline and equipment.

Co-Laborers' Class Has All-Day Meeting

The Co-Laborers' Class of the Methodist Sunday School met on Friday, Dec. 4th, at the home of Mrs. T. B. Klepper for a covered dish dinner and social meeting. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Klepper for the occasion were Mrs. A. Y. Beverly, Mrs. Lewis Ballard, Mrs. Henry Ross and Miss Dixie Mitchell.

The day was dreary and rainy, but there were twenty-two members present for the program.

The hostesses invited the ladies to be served cafeteria style at the noon hour and places were found at quartet tables.

Mrs. Fred Webba gave a beautiful devotional on the Christ Child at the afternoon session, which followed the transaction of business. Mrs. Chas. Thompson directed the diversion which involved a song. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in conversation and hand work.

Those enjoying the day were Mesdames Arnold Bracewell, Claude Brooks, Will Erwin, Oscar Gentry, Herman Gentry, Doris Gentry, R. R. Magee, Ruth Maris, Sam Mills, Tom Russell, Chas. Thompson, Clint White, Fred Webba, Jeff Bruce, Grover Cole, Thos. Hughton and Paul Shirley.

Gentlemen's Evening Observed by Adolphian Club

The Adolphian Club members entertained their husbands on Dec. 2, at 7:45 in the evening with a turkey dinner to which were added all the accessories which were needed to make a delightful meal.

The club members have, through the years, tried to make this event an outstanding one and it is looked forward to with pleasure from one year to another. The dinner was served in informal buffet style, the central table being decorated with a gorgeous bouquet of delicate pink chrysanthemums. The floral decorations of the living room were provided by red roses.

After participating in the delicious spread, the hostesses prepared twelve tables for games of "42." The score cards conformed to the autumn motif. The games were entered into with zest and enthusiasm and, at the close, high score prize was presented to Mrs. Vance Favor for the ladies and the men's high score favor was given to Lee Black.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Henry Borchardt, S. S. Bell, Merl Kincaid and H. C. Brown, to whom the guests gave expressions of appreciation for a delightful evening.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Mrs. W. A. Dunn was hostess to the Adolphian Club Nov. 25, when an interesting program was held by Mrs. A. Y. Beverly with the subject of study, "Uruguay."

Mrs. Clint White bounded Uruguay on the map and told of its place as a social laboratory among the Latin Americans.

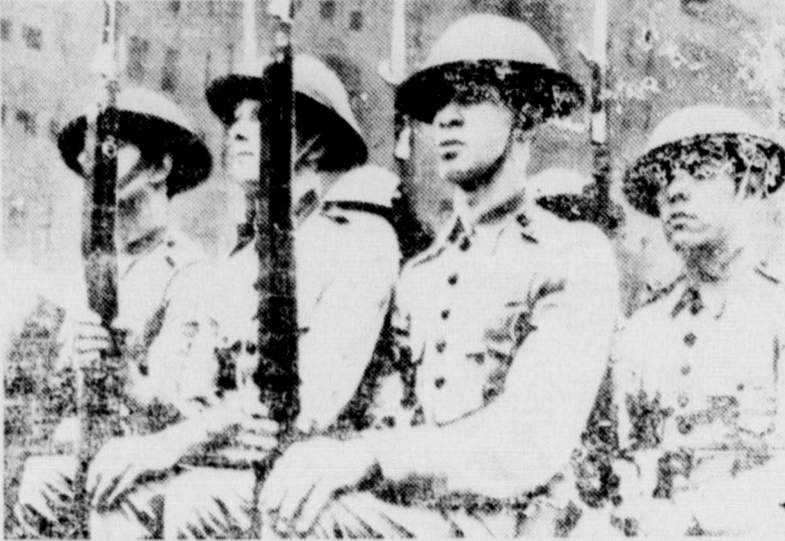

Mrs. Carrie Hart told of the beauty of the country and of its growth in political affairs.

Mrs. W. B. Johnson told of the beginning and growth of child welfare and the social insurance of the Uruguayans and compared it with reference to the same growth in the United States of America.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to the club members and one guest, Mrs. W. M. Murrell of Abilene.

Whole Grain Food Recipe Which Gives Vitamin B

The Expansion committee of the Home Demonstration Council of Foard County, which is composed of Mrs. Clyde Cobb and Mrs. Frank Cates, will submit some of the valuable information obtained by them in the work of the County Demonstrator and the various clubs, to the general public from time to time in the columns of The Foard County News.

The object of the information is to aid the housewife in preparing meals according to the Texas Food Standard. Vitamin B being the necessary building food, steadies the nerves, whets the appetite, gives vim and vigor, aids the digestion, promotes growth, aids in the forming of energy, producing sugars and starches.

Foods which contain Vitamin B are whole grains, wheat, oats and corn; muscle meats, lean pork is the best source; milk, eggs, yeast, vegetables and edible soy beans.

The daily requirement of Vitamin B, is estimated to be between 300 and 400 international units. One slice of bread made from vitaminized flour gives about 25 units of Vitamin B. Approximately 6 slices of bread or six biscuits would furnish about half of the minimum daily requirement of Vitamin B.

Evidence of the lack of Vitamin B are loss of appetite, indigestion, constipation, weakness, fatigue, skin trouble, nervous and mental upsets.

The following recipe is for home-made grape-nuts, which is a whole grain food used as a cereal:

Home-Made GrapeNuts
3 c. flour, 3 c. cornmeal, 3 c. whole wheat flour, 1 T. salt, 3 c. oatmeal, 1/2 c. sorghum.
Add milk to make dough, about 1 qt. Roll out like pie crust, bake until brown. Run through food chopper. Makes 3 qt. 2 round-tbsp are sufficient for one serving. Serve with sugar and whole milk or thin cream.

"Something old, something new" is the combination for the Cotton Bowl football game at Dallas New Year's Day. The University of Texas Longhorns will be making their first bowl appearance in history, but Georgia Tech, their Southeastern conference opponents are veterans of the business. The Jackets have previously played in the Rose Bowl and the Orange Bowl, winning both their starts.

University of Texas and Georgia Tech to Play in Cotton Bowl

Dallas.—Roy Dale McKay, the Old Man River of D. X. Bible's Southwest Conference champions, the University of Texas Longhorns, will have a prominent role in New Year's Day doings at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas when Texas plays Georgia Tech, winner of time and loser of one game this past season.

McKay, listed on several All-American selections, is considered the best all-around back to play in the Southwest in several seasons, being a unanimous choice for all-Conference honors this year. He has consistently been at the top among college kickers, passers and runners this season, leading the Conference in ground gained rushing. In addition, he plays a fine defensive game.

Georgia Tech is one of three teams which tied for the Southeastern Conference title this year, and numbered among its victims this season such outstanding teams as Alabama, Duke, Notre Dame, Navy, Kentucky and Florida.

Tech is one of the perennial powers in American collegiate football, having defeated California in the Rose Bowl game of 1928 and having won from Missouri in the Orange Bowl in 1940.

Plasma for Troops Across Furnished by Blood Donors

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—Paying tribute to the thousands of Americans who have contributed blood for the armed forces since the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Army and Navy today called on the public for even greater support of the Red Cross blood plasma project during the coming year.

Since Dec. 7, 1941, approximately 1,126,000 pints of blood have been collected through the Red Cross.

Plasma processed from blood donated through the Red Cross is with our troops in North Africa, on Guadalcanal, on ships at sea, and throughout the war zones, and has saved the lives of hundreds of men wounded in battle.

On the basis of reports from medical officers, we have no hesitancy in stating that the use of plasma for emergency transfusions is beyond question one of the greatest advances in medical history in the past century. Both the American public and the American Red Cross have a right to be proud of their record in supplying blood for the armed forces, and we are looking to them for even greater achievement during the coming year.

A total of 2,800,000 pints of blood has been requested from the Red Cross by the Army and Navy since the inception of the blood donor project early in 1941. Of this amount, 1,135,000 pints have been obtained to date, and total donations are rapidly approaching 50,000 pints a week.

The fifteen new centers opened during the past year brings to twenty-four the number of cities in the twenty-four centers and through mobile units, which visit surrounding communities within a radius of sixty miles.

Cities in which Red Cross centers participating in the Army-Navy project are located are—Indianapolis, Milwaukee, New York, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Boston, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Harrisburg, Hartford, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Rochester, N. Y., Baltimore, Detroit, St. Louis, Schenectady, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Washington, D. C.

Service Stations of Thalia to Be Closed All Day on Sundays

The three service stations of Thalia will be closed all day on Sundays, according to an announcement made Wednesday. Closing of these stations on Sunday is brought about by the rationing of gasoline.

This activity calls for creation of local postwar economy committees throughout the territory.

General Electric equipment is fighting with America's land army. From the rolling kitchen to the front line, electricity works for victory.

1. In the factory electricity stitches the seams of tank armor, and on the battlefield it controls the operation of these spearheads of modern combat.

2. In induction center and field hospital, the X ray keeps safeguarding the health of our fighting men, aiding in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

3. Far from the usual power sources, mobile power plants supply electricity for 800,000,000 candlepower searchlights by which a newspaper can be read 12 miles away.
