The order does not prohibit individuals from selling vehicles to wreckers but it encourages wreckers to retain serviceable parts for resale instead of passing them along to steel mills in the form of scrap. Thirteen Cents Reduction in County Tax Rate Will Be Made, According to Commissioners Court Announcement

After analysis of approximate valuations for the next year, it was announced by the Commissioners' Court that the tax rate for county purposes would be reduced thirteen cents on the one hundred dollar valuation, which announcement bears out the truth of the assertion by the Court in a previous issue of The News to the effect that the fifteen per cent increase in valuation would mean little, if any, increase in taxation to the ordinary taxpayer in the county.

As to the necessity for the increase in valuation, the court has endeavored to explain such thoroughly to those who appeared before the board of equalization, but for the benefit of those who did not appear before the board.

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 7, Emphasized the Word "Prayer"

Boston, Mass., June 7.—The Christian Science Board of Directors today placed "prayer" at the top of the list of defensive and offensive weapons that free-thinking peoples are counting upon to win the global war against oppression and suppression.

In a statement to the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., the Directors first emphasized the word "prayer," then followed with the term "miracle of deliverance," which is to be accepted, they said, as the logical answer to righteous prayer.

Thus, deliverance from the hand of the oppressor was seen by the Directors to be no miracle at all, but rather a simple witnessing to the fact that power springs from the prayer of understanding.

"A praying people can never suffer defeat," summarized the Directors' remarks to several thousand Christian Scientists assembled in The Mother Church.

Because of the gasoline and transportation shortages, the attendance was more localized than it has been for many years. But the reports heard from the broad field of Christian Science activities indicated that demands for spiritual enlightenment were as universal as ever, only growing more and more pronounced under the stress of world conditions.

From the armed services and along the home front, the reports revealed unusual demands for church literature, hinging upon an increasing effort to bring prayer to bear upon the crucial tests of the times.

"Battles are not won," the Directors said, "through trust alone, but through intelligent, scientific preparation and skillful execution. As we reach out to God through understanding prayer, the human footsteps to bring our deliverance from this cruel warfare and all evil will be revealed."

"Yes, the demands of the hour are crucial," the statement said, "they are imperative; they call master in the art of spiritual strategy. "She leads us, not through self-assertion, but by spiritual animus and example. On this point we have her own words: 'The little that I have accomplished has all been done through love—self-forgetful, patient, unflinching tenderness.'" (Miscellany, p. 247).

In this decisive and final conflict, the speaker stated, determining the immediate future of the world, "how exceedingly blessed it is to belong to this valiant army of those who are working, both defensively and offensively, for civilization and Christian ideals. The outward organization of the Christian Science movement, sacred and important as it is, is but the outward and visible sign of that Unseen Army comprising all the great and good of the earth, both past and present."

The retiring President pointed out that it is not people who are waging the present world conflict but "forces of evil working through people to destroy the very foundation of true Christianity." This form of human domination, she said, would attempt to force upon mankind a Godless system in which "there is no Christliness, no love." She concluded with the exhortation to those on the battle front to realize their protection in the presence of God and His truth, and for those on the home front to keep their minds filled with the spirit of godliness "which giveth to all men the right of individual salvation."

A. Warren Norton, Manager of The Christian Science Publishing Society, reported an increase in the circulation of all Christian Science publications, including The Christian Science Monitor. The exigencies of war have been met in part, he said, by the reduction in size of some of the periodicals. The circulation of the Christian Science Sentinel, reduced to pocket-size, was reported at the highest in its history.

Emphasis was placed by Mr. Norton upon the public recognition of merit won by the Monitor during the past year for outstanding editorial and news content, and typographical make-up. He referred to the winning of Columbia University's Maria Moors Cabot Award for outstanding contribution in the field of Inter-American Relations, the Monitor being the first newspaper in the United States to earn this recognition. The Monitor also won the F. Wayland Ayer competition among daily newspapers for excellence in typography.

State, provincial and national legislative bodies, were shown to have dealt fairly with Christian Science activities in the statement of Arthur W. Eckman, Manager of Committees on Publication. He alluded to the sympathetic understanding of public officials in dealing with gasoline, tire and automobile rationing. The State of Delaware, he noted, adopted a bill legalizing the practice of Christian Science. He warned against an increasing tendency, however, in legislative halls to impose blanket regulations involving compulsory sickness, disability and hospital insurance which would bring about indirect compulsion upon Christian Scientists to accept medical treatment. There are now fourteen chaplains of our denomination serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, he said; thirteen in the Army and one in the Navy. He pointed out that these vacancies in the Army remain to be filled.

Other reports revealed a continuing advance of religious education despite the exigencies of war. The Christian Science Board of Lectureship found that the purpose of its new regional system of allocating lecturers to serve the churches more acceptably to reduce the need for travel had been fulfilled in gratifying measure. Where lecturers have not been able to appear personally in some countries because of authorized lectures have been read to the audiences, it was said.

From the Trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy came the report that since the year 1913, when the Trustees were first appointed they have expended $6,400,000 in church work. Announcement was also made that the sales of Mrs. Eddy's works, including "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," had more than doubled in the last two years.

The story is told that two men were on board a ship in the middle of the ocean. One day one rushed up to the other and said excitedly, "John, the ship is sinking." His companion paid little attention to him and continued to look out toward the horizon and little white caps that chased each other before the wind. His companion became insistent and repeated his alarm that the ship was sinking. Finally the other turned to his excited companion and asked with considerable impatience, "What of it, it isn't our ship, let it sink." A ridiculous situation to be sure, but it is any more so than the individual who contributed to the sinking of his home town and his home community by spending his money in the nearby city. He thinks as did the annoyed passenger on board the sinking ship that it isn't his town or his business that is sinking, because it is being deprived of business and slowly bled to death. Why should he care? Let the owner worry about that. He forgets that in a small community the interests of every citizen are bound together in the same manner that the interests of a group of passengers on board a ship are bound together. If the ship goes down not only does the owner lose his ship but every one on board stands a chance to lose his life. The safety of the ship is the concern of every passenger. In like measure the welfare of this town is the concern of every citizen in it. Every individual either contributes to the building of the community, or he contributes to its downfall. Our town is our home. Our interests are here, our friends are here, our homes are here. Because it is such a large part of our lives we should stand united to make it and keep it strong and thriving—especially should we do so in the trying times of the present.

We do not want to see MacArthur retire from the Army when he reaches sixty-five which date is not far distant. We want MacArthur to remain in the service until he gets back to Bataan and to Tokyo. The recovery of Bataan and the defeat of the Japs have now become MacArthur's life ambition. To be deprived of that realization would amount to a disappointment and a frustration to MacArthur. He should be given the opportunity to close his military career with this victory.

People in America, when approached to buy bonds to aid in financing the war, should remember that in the enemy countries the dictators give the people no opportunity to buy bonds. They take what they want and give nothing in return.

Two of the greatest weaknesses of the human race are buying an enlarged picture from a traveling agent, or a set of books one does not want, will never read, and cannot afford.

No one appreciates honesty and uprightiness more than the man who has had occasion to do business with a dishonest and a crooked man.

Some of the biggest quarrels grow out of the most trivial things. It isn't the thing itself that makes the quarrel, but the persons involved.

The English language permits any shade of meaning one desires. For example take the two sentences. When a man breaks a date it is because he has to. When a woman breaks a date it is because she has two.

The man who buys bonds isn't giving his country anything. He is investing his money in the best security on earth today—the United States.

Facing the truth is like getting up in the morning. It has to be done sooner or later and after it has been done one feels better because of it.

The thirteen billion dollars seems like a great deal of money called for in the second War Loan but it will only pay for two months of war.

It is unfortunate when a man has the fool idea at 40 that he should have had and gotten over at 15.

HISTORY

Father's Day—June 20: The setting aside of a day to honor father by special services in the churches began independently in several parts of the country in different years. A general agreement was finally reached in which the third Sunday in June was selected. Credit for making the first suggestion is generally given Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Washington. Mrs. Dodd conceived the idea as a tribute to her father who reared a family of children after the death of their mother. She suggested that the third Sunday in June be set apart for the honoring of fathers and wrote to the Spokane Ministerial Association to the effect: "The association approved the proposal and the first observance of the day occurred in Spokane on June 19, 1910. Sons and daughters were requested to wear a red rose if the father was living and a white rose if the father was dead. Due to the fact that Father's Day was observed in a number of places independently through the country, the date of the third Sunday in June was selected. There is some difference of opinion as to the exact origin of the starting of the movement, and a number of towns claim the honor. For a number of years effort was made by a number of organizations to establish the day and make its observance a regular custom. Gradually the day selected by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Wash., came to be accepted as the day. As the confectioners and florists have found mother's day profitable by offering special packages and special bouquets, haberdashers and tobacconists have featured neckties and special tobacco packages to be presented father by sons and daughters. In spite of all the effort put forth Father's Day has never received the support and measure of observance accorded Mother's Day.

TIME TO INVESTIGATE

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

An experiment was begun last week in my town which I am going to watch with considerable interest. It is a recreation center for high school boys and girls which has been opened in a vacant business building by the high school Parent Teachers Association. The project will be financed by each boy or girl paying a small sum per month toward the upkeep of the building, the payment of rent, lights and for the purchase of music. The Girl Scouts, of which there is an active group in my town, will handle all the concessions.

While the project is sponsored by the high school Parent Teachers Association the government is in the hands of the high school students with the Parent Teachers Association exercising at all times a final veto power.

As stated above I am watching the outcome of this experiment with more than the usual interest. My interest arises from the fact that I have long believed that there is a need for such a recreation center by young people of high school age in my town which is a typical midwestern county seat town. I feel that if the project proves practical in my town it should prove practical in every town in the country, because young people are pretty much alike wherever you find them.

I believe the set up for the government of a recreation center of this kind such as is planned in this project is the ideal one. It anticipates in addition to the points noted above parent chaperones at all times that the place is open. This, I think, is the key to the success of any project of this kind. Contrary to what some may think, the high school boys and girls of my town have no objection to parent chaperones. They welcome them.

I think this is but natural in a community where a Parent Teacher Association is as co-operative and liberal and broad minded as is the Parent Teacher Association in my town. In this I think our Parent Teacher Association has been most wise.

I am predicting if the project continues to be properly chaperoned and wisely managed it will be one of the most helpful influences on the young people and the parents as well. I believe it has remarkable possibilities and for this reason I am hopeful that the energy and the vigilance and the interest of the sponsors will not tire or abate.

There are those who will contend that the young person's place is at home. If the parents spend their time in the home and make an attractive home for the child no place could be better, but if the parents are continually absent from the home they cannot expect the young people of the home to have any desire to spend their evenings there, either.

Of recent years the beer parlor, with too often many undesirable features, has established itself in the small communities and the club room and the recreation center of the young people. I believe the young people for the

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Well Managed Life: The problem faced by every operator of a business is one of management. It makes no difference whether the business is a big one or a small one its success depends upon the degree of intelligence with which it is managed. There must be the proper distribution of effort and the division of time that no phase of the business will suffer for lack of attention and thus destroy the beneficial results achieved from the more favored departments. The same thing is true in the matter of a human life. The success of a life depends upon the wisdom and intelligence and the direction that goes into its management. Too many lives are lost because many individuals devote too much time to some phases of life and neglect others equally important. The result is that the sum of the life represents a less than its time for work, for culture, for diversion and for worship. Every life should be so managed that its time is wisely and properly budgeted. If it is not life is losing much of its value. We must work, we must play, we must add to cultural and spiritual life, if we are to enjoy a well managed life.

AGRICULTURE

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

Grasshoppers Appearing

We have just returned from the west end of the Margaret community where we find a rather extensive outbreak of grasshoppers. These insects are doing some damage and are just coming in from the pastures onto the fields. Arrangements are being made to secure a supply of poison from Quana. This material will be supplied by the government and the plan of handling it will be explained later if the infestation grows serious. Only three farms are involved in the present outbreak. Poisoning should be done as soon as the hoppers appear. The poison bran mash should be spread thinly over the infested areas. If you think there is danger of having trouble with this pest let me know so that arrangements for the poison may be made in time to be effective.

Harvesting Machinery Needed In Some Sections

Several inquiries have come to this office concerning harvesting equipment and labor. If those who operate harvesting machinery will call at this office we will be glad to pass this information on to them. Inquiries have come in from areas where equipment and help are needed as well as those seeking areas where they may operate their harvesting equipment.

A Trip Worth While

Recently a high army official suggested as a reward to 4-H Club boys a trip to some nearby camp where a group of boys might observe the planes and other interesting features of airplane operation and field activities. So today we had a notice to bring the boys down to Sheppard Field, June 19. Each of these boys has grown more than a year's requirement of beef for a soldier. It is in recognition of this record that they are to become the guests of the army camp for a day. The names of the boys with a statement of their production will be announced later after we have arranged the details of the trip. There will be around thirty boys make this trip from this immediate area. It is important that these boys have this recognition in their Victory production effort for they are doing a good job. This has no connection whatever with army service on the part of the boys.

Source of 1942 Income

We pass on the following information from C. E. Boles of A. & M. College Extension Service for what it is worth. Texas farmers obtained one-third of their 1942 cash farm income from cotton and cottonseed. Specifically, cotton seed produced 4.7 per cent of this, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture figures. Compared with other crops, the revenue from cotton

RUBBER DAY

Heading a delegation of prominent industrialists, William O'Neil, president of The General Tire & Rubber company, will come to Texas June 28, to take part in the ceremonies planned in connection with the General operated synthetic rubber plant at Baytown. "Texas from here on in will be a vital factor in the solution of the rubber problem. Texas will be particularly important in the making of tires because Texas produces—under the American Made rubber program—not only rubber but cotton and sulphur, the three most important components in tire manufacture." O'Neil will be accompanied by L. A. McQueen and T. Spencer Shore, vice presidents of his company and will meet H. Stuart Hotchkiss, chairman of the board, and Warren MacPherson, director, of the General Latex and Chemical Corporation, whose company is associated with General in the Baytown plant.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Women at War today are saving for Women at Peace when the War is won. They are buying War Bonds as thrifty housewives, saving to buy those handy, convenient and necessary electrical appliances when their Bonds mature.

seed exceeded that received from wheat, more than the combined income from fruit, truck and vegetables, and four times the amount received from other oil-bearing seed crops, such as peanuts, soybeans and flaxseed.

Proceeding with a breakdown of farm income sources in 1942, Bowles says that beef cattle contributed 18.8 per cent; poultry, eggs and turkeys, 7.5 per cent; milk, 7 per cent; sheep, wool and mohair, 5.7 per cent; government benefit payments, 5.7 per cent; and hogs 4.4 per cent. Income from sale of hogs was more than double that of 1941, and revenue from eggs was 63 per cent more than in the preceding year.

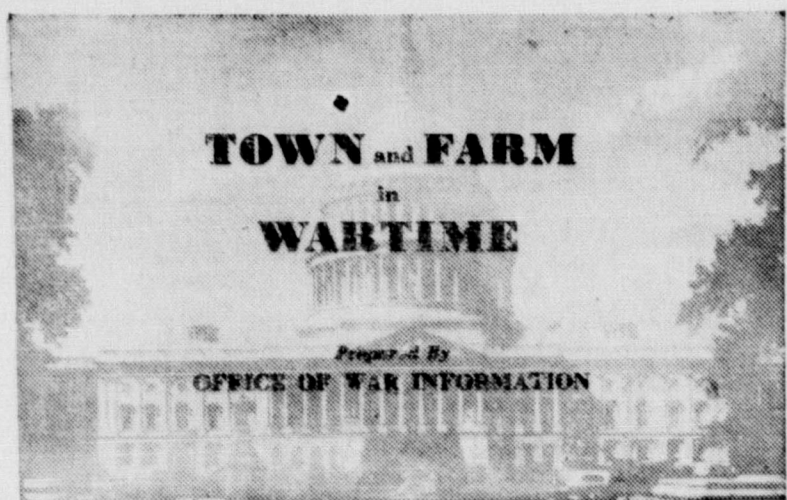

A 12 per cent increase in crop and livestock production, along with prices averaging about 25 per cent higher than those of 1941, account foremost of the rise in income. Income trends during the first four months of 1943 bear out predictions of USDA economists that farm incomes will be somewhat larger this year. But scarcity of certain feeds and soaring food prices may be expected to slow down expansion of livestock.

Offsetting increasing farm income are the highest prices in 22 years for hired labor, feed, seed, machinery and other items used in production, Bowley points out.

Chevrolet Dealers Conserving Anti-Freeze Solutions

Increased war demands for anti-freeze chemicals, necessitating government regulations prohibiting the sale of "ethylene-glycol" type, commonly known as "permanent" anti-freeze for ordinary use, are cited by Ed Hedner, Chevrolet national director of service.

In line with their Victory Service League pledge to "Save the Wheels that Serve America," Chevrolet dealers are co-operating fully with car and truck owners in conserving anti-freeze solutions, not only to save critical chemicals but also to assure future cold weather operation of motor vehicles.

By means of special factory-approved tests and inspections dealers are able to determine accurately whether or not the solution is worth draining and saving for future use.

Owners having a suitable place in which to store anti-freeze removed from their vehicles are advised to keep it in glass or earthenware containers.

AWAKENING AT LAST

Texas legislators, alarmed at the expansion of Federal authority at the expense of state rights embodied in the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority and the Lower Colorado River Authority, have passed a measure designed to curb the powers of the administrators of the authorities.

For many years the owners of the private utility industry have fought the expanding grasp of socialism and bureaucracy, alone. The rest of the country has stood by as if the controversy was strictly between the utilities and the government.

Christian Science Services "God the Preserver of Man," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 13.

The Golden Text is: "The name of the Lord is a strong tower; the righteous runneth into it, and is safe" (Proverbs 18:10). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation" (Genesis 7:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Ark, Safety; the idea, or reflection, of Truth, proved to be as immortal as its Principle; the understanding of Spirit, destroying belief in matter" (page 581).

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Harold L. Lundquist, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

What Think Ye of Christ? "What think ye of Christ?" This question, which was asked by Jesus Himself (Matt. 22:42), is the touchstone that tries men and churches, organizations and movements. The answer to it determines character, conditions, and destiny.

First, the Lord made a general query: "Whom do men say that I am?" The answer indicated that the common opinion concerning Him was a very high one. He had made an impression on the people of His time, and this has been true down through the ages. Even those who do not believe on Him admit that He was "the ideal representative and guide to humanity," or the person before whom "every one would kneel." But beautiful tributes to His character and leadership are worse than meaningless unless they lead to a personal confession of Him as Lord and Savior.

The question becomes personal as He asks, "Whom do ye say that I am?" That question no one can escape. We cannot refuse to answer. Naturalness is impossible. Whatever we do or say, or do not do or say, is a decision. Peter's answer is really the sum and substance of Christian belief. He recognized Jesus as the Messiah, the fulfillment of all Hebrew prophecy, and as the Son of the living God, the Redeemer and Savior of men, the One in whom centers all Christian faith. The cross of Christ cast its shadow over the little group of disciples as Jesus began to show what He was to suffer as the Savior of the world. The city of Jerusalem, exalted to heaven by its opportunities and privileges, was to be the place where He was to be nailed to the tree. "Where roses ought to bloom, sin has foted planted thorns." Peter, in an outburst of affectionate folly, tried to hinder Christ from going to the cross, and became for the moment the servant of Satan. He "meant well," but it is not enough to have good intentions. The cross of Christ calls for the cross of the Christian (v.24). Note well that this does not refer to little acts of so-called self-denial, but rather to the denial of self. It means that self-will is set aside and God's will becomes paramount in the life (v. 24). It means the abandonment of selfish motives and desires, and losing of life for Christ's sake. Thus only do we find the real fulfillment of life (v.25).

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER An attempt is being made by the OPA to "roll back" retail prices of many necessities. This does not mean retail distributors have been guilty of seeking excessive profits. It simply means that the inexorable spiral of inflation has forced the government to take drastic steps. Prices are being reduced even though subsidies may be paid to processors of some commodities to enable them to sell to retailers at prices that will keep both in business and at the same time keep the cost of living within the family budget. Modern retailers adhere to a system of operation which is the antithesis of the old maxim of "charging all the traffic will bear." It was introduced by the chain stores and is rooted in the now proven theory that mass movement of goods to consumers at minimum prices is sound merchandising technique. It benefits merchants and consumers alike and contributes substantially to a higher standard of living. Under such a system, profiteering

BAD NEWS FOR GERMANY

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE squadrons overseas are contributing in increasingly large measure to the mounting fury of the aerial onslaught on Germany and Nazi targets in occupied territory. Recently Royal Canadian Air Force bombers were over Germany every night for a week and the "old reliable" of the raids on Germany is the twin-engined Wellington, dubbed "Wimpy" by the Canadians who fly them. In addition the Canadian bomber squadrons are flying the big four-engined Halifax bombers which can carry an 8,000-pound bomb load to Germany.

May Still Reduce Points

Retailers may lower the point values of rationed meats and fats which are in danger of spoiling until July 31, OPA has decided. These emergency reductions must be accompanied by a cut of at least 25 per cent in the established ceiling price of the item.

Ice Boxes For Civilians

A total of 239,575 ice boxes are to be produced in the next three months for civilian use, according to a new order of WPB. Despite limited factory capacities and scarcity of materials, the production rate is expected to reach about 75,000 units a month.

Now To Get Farm Supplies

According to a new WPB priority regulation, a dealer must furnish farm supplies if the farmer signs a certificate stating: "I certify to the War Production Board that I am a farmer and that the supplies covered by this order are needed now and will be used for the operation of a farm."

Butter Price Reduced

A reduction of five to six cents a pound in the retail price of butter will go into effect Thursday, June 10. The OPA intends to effect the roll-back with a minimum of financial loss to the dairy industry, from the farm through the retailer.

Replant Flooded Gardens

Victory gardens destroyed by excessive rains should be replanted immediately, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture in urging gardeners to replant with "late," rather than "early," crops. Crops that can still be planted in flooded areas include tomatoes, snap beans, lima beans, peppers, eggplant, sweet corn, and beets.

Funds For Flooded Areas

Credit to aid farm families in the midwestern flood area and to bring flooded cropland back into wartime food production will be available from a fund of $235,000 set up by the Farm Security Administration to provide emergency food, are authorized to make small grants, usually $50 or less, to distressed families for emergency needs.

to offset the effect of recent unfavorable weather conditions.

Flooded Cotton Lands Cotton acreage allotment provisions have been modified to relieve cotton planters whose seedlings have been destroyed by flood. All or any part of the acreage allotments for the flooded farms may be apportioned by the county agricultural conservation committee to other farms.

Shoe Prices Regulated

Shoes, chiefly women's models, which are made with such sole materials as plasti-felt, wood, combinations of wool and cotton, cord and friction belting and some other fabric and synthetic substances, are now under ceiling prices. Fabrics used for the uppers include linen, gabardine, faille, "imitation leather," and other types of cloth.

Army To Help Farmers

The Army is going to help repair flood-damaged automotive farm machinery. The War Department has announced that mobile automotive repair units of the Army Service Forces are standing by in the recently flooded areas of six central states ready to give farmers such help in the repair of damaged automotive equipment used for farm purposes as is possible without interfering with necessary military training.

Typewriter Renters

Persons renting Class A typewriters (standard size machines made since 1934) will be given until June 30 either to purchase the machines or to return them to their owners, OPA has announced.

Report Shows Traffic Drop

Throughout the nation, 479 automatic counters on rural roads in 38 states recorded traffic in April as 56 per cent of pre-war normal. Motor-fuel tax collections in 28 states in April totaled $38,209,000 and were three-fourths of pre-war normal, according to reports from state motor vehicle administrators.

Texas Plants Get Army-Navy Award

Patterson and Under Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal, announced they are the American Well & Prospecting Company, Corsicana, and the Lufkin Foundry & Machine Company, Lufkin.

Scrap Report Released

John A. Hulien, WPB regional salvage manager. Dealers' copper scrap inventories on May 22 were shown as 3,633,905 pounds compared to 3,009,000 pounds on February 28 this year.

Chevrolet Dealers Conserving Anti-Freeze Solutions

Increased war demands for anti-freeze chemicals, necessitating government regulations prohibiting the sale of "ethylene-glycol" type, commonly known as "permanent" anti-freeze for ordinary uses, are cited by Ed Hedner, Chevrolet national director of service, as an urgent reason why car and truck users should take special pains to conserve this fluid.

In line with their Victory Service League pledge to "Save the Wheels that Serve America," Chevrolet dealers are co-operating fully with car and truck owners in conserving anti-freeze solutions, not only to save critical chemicals but also to assure future cold weather operation of motor vehicles.

By means of special factory-approved tests and inspections, dealers are able to determine accurately whether or not the solution is worth draining and saving for future use. If the solution is to be left in the cooling system during the summer months, dealers recommend that the system be cleaned and reverse flushed; that air passages in the radiator core be free of obstruction; that hose connections and water pump be inspected for possible leaks; that the fan belt be examined for wear and that cylinder head bolts be tightened to prevent seepage of gases into the coolant, resulting in an acid condition that would accelerate rust and corrosion.

Owners having a suitable place in which to store anti-freeze removed from their vehicles are advised to keep it in glass or earthenware containers.

AWAKENING AT LAST

Texas legislators, alarmed at the expansion of Federal authority at the expense of state rights embodied in the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority and the Lower Colorado River Authority, have passed a measure designed to curb the powers of the administrators of the authorities. These authorities are similar to other government power projects. They are all part of the program of socialization of the electric industry, which has been carried on by Federal agencies who care no more for state rights than for private enterprise.

For many years the owners of the private utility industry have fought the expanding grasp of socialism and bureaucracy, alone. The rest of the country has stood by as if the controversy was strictly between the utilities and the government. Local business men and local politicians have actually encouraged the construction of power projects because socialistic spellbinders enthralled them with visions of subsidized prosperity. The fact that the local private utility was able to supply abundant power to meet community needs, was of little consequence. The principal of private ownership versus socialism was obscured by promises of power at "cost."

Noted how fairly the government negotiated for purchase of private utility companies, did not particularly interest many of the onlookers. The power socialists pleased do pretty much as they pleased. Their authority has been unlimited and their ventures into the utility business have been free of scrutiny by any regulatory agency.

The Texas law is one of the first attempts to put a halter on the expansion of centralized government and the Federal electric power socialization program. Texas alone can do little unless the efforts of her citizens are buttressed by similar action in other states. — Industrial News-Review.

Morgenthau Adopts Effective Set-Up for War Bond Sales

An Editorial from the Saturday, May 29, Edition of The Austin American.

Under the principle that it is a people's war bond campaign as well as the people's war, Treasury Secy. Morgenthau has taken an important step to bring the sale of war bonds and stamps closer to the people and more fully to utilize the valuable volunteer service of hundreds of patriotic Texans.

This move places all Texas war bond sale of bonds and stamps to individuals and corporations directly under the direction of Frank Scofield, War Bond Administrator for the state, whose record in the recent Second War Loan Drive and in the monthly-monthly sale of bonds in Texas was never outstanding recognition.

Secretary Morgenthau has announced that all the various separate war bond sales campaigns by Victory Fund Committees, War Savings Staffs and others now are united in the one organization, thus enabling War Bond Administrator Scofield to utilize the services of the voluntary committees set up in every Texas county.

The sale of government securities to banks, insurance companies and bond dealers will continue to be handled by the Federal Reserve Banks.

The sale of bonds to individuals and corporations—the great program of placing the war bonds directly in the hands of the people and mobilizing the dollars of the Texas citizens in the war effort, is unified under the leadership of War Bond Administrator Scofield, who will report directly to the Secretary of the Treasury. His organization will be responsible for the entire program of continuing sale of war bonds through voluntary payroll allotment and other plans, as well as in the special drives such as the recent Second War Loan.

In effect, this extends recognition to the many thousands of patriotic Texans who are giving their time and their effort in carrying on day by day the splendid Texas record of buying bonds and stamps; and it so unifies the future program that these committees, working with Administrator Scofield, will be able to find the fullest utilization of their efforts. It is a fine recognition for the Texans; and this also is a commendable and beneficial decision by Secy. Morgenthau, through which Texas' contribution to the war effort will gain direct effectiveness.

Athlete's Foot Germ Thrives Best in Moisture and Warmth

Austin.—The common disease popularly known as athlete's foot, is said to be the most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth of fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth. Therefore the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ.

To have athlete's foot, the infection must be gotten either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. Geo. H. Cox, State Health Officer. "The most common places to contract the infection are around shower rooms, baths or bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time."

Dr. Cox suggested the following as some effective measures for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot:

1. Dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.
2. Use a mild alcoholic solution on these areas after drying.
3. Liberally apply a plain, un-scented talcum to those areas and sprinkle it freely in socks, stockings, and shoes.
4. Wear socks that are absorbent but not too coarse. Shoes should be well fitting but not too tight; sufficiently roomy but not large enough to chafe and rub.

Here's the clincher for me

This is my kid. He's a pretty good kid. I always used to figure he'd get along all right in the world, the same way I did.

But a war starts you thinking.

Nobody knows for sure just what kind of a world my kid will have to grow up in. But whatever kind of a world it is, a little money behind him will help.

That's why I'm salting money away for him now.

I'm not taking any chances with his future. I'm guaranteeing it in the best way I know how.

Every pay day, nearly a quarter of what I make goes into War Bonds. Not just when I can spare it. But every single pay day—week in, week out.

It's taken right out of my pay, on the Payroll Savings Plan. That way, I hardly miss it. But it mounts up fast.

And every one of those War Bonds will pay back four dollars for three.

Pay it back when my kid may need it most.

Sure, I'd be buying bonds anyway. I know the Government needs money to win the war. And, it's the least sacrifice a guy can make for the country that's been good to him.

But the clincher with me is my kid.

Chances are, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

Morgenthau Adopts Effective Set-Up for War Bond Sales

Under the principle that it is a people's war bond campaign as well as the people's war, Treasury Secy. Morgenthau has taken an important step to bring the sale of war bonds and stamps closer to the people and more fully to utilize the valuable volunteer service of hundreds of patriotic Texans.

This move places all Texas war loan sale of bonds and stamps to individuals and corporations directly under the direction of Frank Scofield, War Bond Administrator for the state, whose record in the recent Second War Loan Drive and in the month-by-month sale of bonds in Texas was given outstanding recognition.

Secretary Morgenthau has announced that all the various separate war bond sales campaigns by Victory Fund Committees, War Savings Staffs and others now are united in the one organization, thus enabling War Bond Administrator Scofield to utilize the services of the voluntary committees set up in every Texas county.

The sale of government securities to banks, insurance companies and bond dealers will continue to be handled by the Federal Reserve Banks.

The sale of bonds to individuals and corporations—the great program of placing the war bonds directly in the hands of the people and mobilizing the dollars of the Texas citizens in the war effort, is unified under the leadership of War Bond Administrator Scofield, who will report directly to the Secretary of the Treasury. His organization will be responsible for the entire program of continuing sale of war bonds through voluntary payroll allotment and other plans, as well as in the special drives such as the recent Second War Loan.

In effect, this extends recognition to the many thousands of patriotic Texans who are giving their time and their effort in carrying on day by day the splendid Texas record of buying bonds and stamps; and it so unifies the future program that these committees, working with Administrator Scofield, will be able to find the fullest utilization of their efforts. It is a fine recognition for the Texans; and this also is a commendable and beneficial decision by Secy. Morgenthau, through which Texas' contribution to the war effort will gain direct effectiveness.

In addition the use of cards and paper is limited in each quarter to 60 per cent of the weight used in the corresponding quarter of 1942.
