Crowell Wildcats Smash Matador Bullfighters, 33-0

The Crowell Wildcats fought back an over-rated Matador team here Friday night, October 1, by a score of 33-0. Early in the first quarter the Wildcats launched a powerful ground attack. Archer made several line plunges. Jay, substitute back, took the ball on a reverse and set up a Wildcat touchdown. Archer carried the ball over for the tally. In the second quarter the Wildcats began an aerial bombardment with an Archer to McDaniel combination. The second Crowell touchdown was made on two very well executed pass plays. The first play began on the Crowell 45 yard line. Parkhill, left end, took the ball from Archer and passed down field to Gobin, who in turn lateraled to McBeath. The play was complete for 40 yards. The touchdown play was a pass from Archer to McDaniel, who went over standing up. The same combination clicked for the extra point. After a long march, the Wildcats failed to go over from the Matador 5-yard line. However, their stand in the shadow of their goal posts was of no avail for Cox, Crowell guard, blocked a Matador punt and recovered the ball over the goal for a safety and two more points. Again in the second period McDaniel, with good blocking, toted the pigskin 35 yards to the four yard marker, where he carried the ball over on the next down. In the third quarter the Bullfighters came back to life and intercepted two Crowell passes. This was the most eventful period of the game. The only score made in that period was a punt blocked by Cox again. Gobin caught the ball in the air and ran it over for another Wildcat touchdown. With nearly an entire substitute Cat team, Archer again carried the ball across the double stripe after Sandlin and Jay alternately drove the ball to the four yard line. Much of the game was played by the Crowell substitutes because the Bullfighters did not live up to pre-game expectations. The key man in the Bullfighter offense as well as the defense was their 170-pound fullback, Campbell. While the work on the backfield is usually the most sensational looking to the fans, yet, the work of the Crowell line was one of the main features of the evening. Many times the linemen tore through the Bullfighter line of blockers and broke the Matador plays apart before they regained the line of scrimmage. Throughout the contest the Wildcat line held, never letting the Matador team penetrate the Crowell 40 yard line. Another of the features of the game was Crowell's down field blocking. Without it the ball toters would never accomplish their feats.

Total Amount of Bonds Sold in Foard County During Third War Loan Drive Was $175,411.45—$17,711.45 Over Quota

Foard County oversubscribed the quota of $157,600 which was its part in the Third War Loan drive to the amount of $175,411.45. The drive came to a close last Saturday night but Foard County had bought more than its assessed quota before that time. The total sale of bonds amounted to $175,411.45.

Practically all the large non-resident land holders of the county, bought generously of bonds which was a great factor in the successful attainment of the quota. The Santa Fe Railroad, the West Texas Utilities and the Halsell Telephone Co. also were very generous in their allotment to Foard County of their increase of bonds.

The individual buyers who were cooperative to the extreme, and many people bought to the point of sacrifice, all of which made it possible for Foard County to attain its quota and to go over it by several thousand dollars.

Deep appreciation is extended to each and every person who had a part in the undertaking by those who had the campaign in charge.

The final report of the Foard County drive follows: Crowell, with a quota of $67,000, sold $89,771.45, making an over sale of $22,771.45.

Foard City, with a quota of $15,000.00, sold $15,605.50, making it over by $605.50.

Good Creek, with a quota of $8,500.00, sold to the amount of $8,507.50, over $7.50.

Thalia, with a quota of $28,200.00, sold $30,350.25, over $2,150.25.

Total, quota $157,600.00, sold $175,411.45, over to the amount of $17,811.45.

Of Series E, $129,341.45 were sold; of Series F, $8,448.00; of Series G, $25,190.00; of Series C, $24,000.00; 2 1/2 per cent TR bonds, $2,000.00; 4 per cent Cert. Int. Bonds, $2,430.00.

This reduction in the contract rate of interest will affect about 80 per cent of the land bank borrowers in this area, according to Mr. Thompson. Prior to 1935, he said, loans were closed at 4 1/2 to 6 per cent, depending upon the cost of money in the bond market at that time. All land bank loans have been made at a contract rate of 4 per cent since March, 1935.

"The action of the board of directors of the bank in effect guarantees that the rate will not go higher than 4 per cent for the life of the loan," Mr. Thompson said.

"This voluntary reduction of the contract rate of interest is made possible by the successful operation of the Land Bank System of co-operative credit which is designed to make available necessary farm credit at low rates and on long terms."

Federal Land Bank Interest Rate Is Lowered to 4 Per Cent

J. C. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Crowell National Farm Loan Association, has received information that the Board of Directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston has authorized the lowering of the interest rate on a new issue of $10,000,000 Land Bank bonds, maturing through national farm loan associations that now bear interest rate at above 4 per cent per annum, effective July 1, 1944.

This reduction in the contract rate of interest will affect about 80 per cent of the land bank borrowers in this area, according to Mr. Thompson. Prior to 1935, he said, loans were closed at 4 1/2 to 6 per cent, depending upon the cost of money in the bond market at that time. All land bank loans have been made at a contract rate of 4 per cent since March, 1935.

Agriculture Preparing for 1944

Easing of the rationing restrictions on farm machinery, increased production of new farming machinery, and a campaign among farmers to "Keep Your War Equipment Fit and Fighting" are indication of plans now being laid by the War Food Administration to meet increased production goals for 1944. Suggestions for expanded wartime production have been sent for consideration to State Agricultural War Boards and other farm representatives. State boards have been asked to set 1944 goals. The national program calls for a record-breaking 380 million acres in crops. Problems relating to labor, machinery, supplies, conservation practices, and prices will be considered at 48 state meetings of state groups with representatives of WFA during October. Potato Prices Specific ceilings for white potatoes of the late 1943 crop have been set by month for October, 1943, through June, 1944. These prices continue the general price level set for the spring crop of potatoes at the country shipper and intermediate seller levels with allowances for graduated monthly increases to take care of storage charges. Because of the large crop this year, it is expected that potatoes generally will sell substantially below the retail ceilings.

Four Per Cent Interest On Land Bank Loans

Action taken recently by 12 Federal Land Banks will substitute a 4 per cent interest rate for higher rates on 98 per cent of the loans made by the land banks prior to June 24, 1935. "The Land Banks' 4 per cent rate is the lowest at which farmers generally ever have been able to obtain long-term mortgage credit," A. G. Black, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration said. Easier To Get Pressure Canners Pressure canners may be bought for individual home use under liberalized regulations now followed by the local Agricultural War Boards. School buses may not be used to transport students to athletic games, state or county fairs, or similar events, the Office of Defense Transportation has stated. To Prepare Engines For Winter Anti-freeze used last winter and saved for re-use this winter should be tested. In time anti-freeze loses its strength and its non-corrosive properties. Nearly all manufacturers of permanent types of anti-freeze have made up acid and rust inhibitors for restoring resistance of used anti-freeze. In adding new material, it is wise, the Office of Defense Transportation says, to use the same brand used in the first place. A free pamphlet entitled "Cooling System, Cleaning, Flushing, Rust Prevention, Anti-Freeze," that tells about the care of water-cooling systems in engines used in automobiles and farm equipment, will be sent to those who request it. New Tire Rulings

Eligibility for new passenger tires (grade 1) has been restricted to "C" book drivers with a mileage of 601 miles or more per month. All "B" drivers and some "C" book holders will now be eligible only for used and recapped tires. The number of new passenger tires available for rationing in the October quota will be reduced by one-fifth, the OPA recently announced. Quota for farm tractor and implement tires for October is 59,800 as compared with 73,600 in September.

About 4-H Club Livestock Sales

Livestock produced and sold under the auspices of 4-H Clubs is governed by the meat rationing regulation the same as other livestock, according to OPA. This means that the only persons who may obtain custom slaughtered meat point free are livestock producers. However, OPA permits such recognized boys' and girls' farm organizations as 4-H Clubs to sell their livestock at a fair, exhibition, or an animal show at premium prices, as money from such sales usually helps provide educational funds for Club members.

Germany Far From 'Collapse'

The German Army has nearly three times as many combat divisions in the field today as there were when the attack on Poland began four years ago, Major General George V. Strong, Assistant Chief of Staff G-2 (Military Intelligence) declared recently. Discounting any likelihood of an early collapse of either Germany or Japan, General Strong disclosed that the Germans had replaced the 20 divisions lost at Stalingrad last winter, and that the German Luftwaffe was larger now than in 1939. He said also that the weapons the Germans are making are in some cases better than any which the United Nations have.

Ammunition Prices Set

Ammunition for civilian use will be sold at or under prices prevailing in March, 1942, according to OPA ceilings which become effective October 7. Retail ceilings on boxes of 25 shotgun shells are $1.38 for 12 gauge and $1.32 for 16 and 20 gauge. Retail ceilings on boxes of 50 rim fire cartridges are 34 cents for .22 long rifle and 21 cents for .22 short, regular. Poultry Price Changes

Reductions of 3 1/2 cents a pound at retail in maximum prices of quick-frozen eviscerated poultry and 1 cent a pound on drawn poultry, and an increase of 1 cent a pound on dressed poultry have recently been announced by OPA. One Question Quiz

Q. Why are point values so high on canned pineapples, vacuum-packed whole kernel cut tomato catsup, and other items? A. OPA says that the point value of each item is figured on the basis of its supply and the amount that can be moved in consumption from month to month without draining the supply to a low level. Any item which moves faster than its scheduled movement is increased in point value. If it moves below schedule its point value is lowered.

I am the guarantee to the American way... to the way of liberty... to the way of equal opportunity... to the way of free enterprise... to the divine way and the true way for national well-being and upward advancement.

Daily and weekly I go into your home... in winter, in summer, in spring and fall.

HISTORY

Alaska Day—October 18: October 18 is the anniversary of the transfer of Alaska from Russia to the United States. It is observed as a holiday in Alaska where it is known as Alaska Day. The articles of agreement transferring the territory to the United States were signed in Washington on March 30, 1867. American Commissioners were then sent to Sitka, the capital of Alaska where former surrender was accepted, and, on October 17, 1867, the Russian flag was lowered from the flag pole in front of the Governor's residence and the flag of the United States raised in its place. For a number of years an army officer and troops represented the United States in Alaska. After some years the troops were withdrawn and a naval officer was stationed at Sitka representing this government. After some years this was discontinued and Alaska was without civil or military government. A civil government was set up in 1884. This was followed in 1912 by a territorial government, organized in the usual form with a delegate in Congress. The capital was then moved to Juneau. Alaska was purchased by the United States from Russia on March 30, 1867. Because of the price paid the purchase of Alaska was referred to by critics of the administration as "Seward's Folly." The discovery of gold in Alaska and the development of its resources later not only silenced the criticism but even caused the purchase to appear to be a most advantageous one.

Some one has discovered that Benjamin Franklin in spite of all his maxims about thrift was overdrawn three days of every week. In justice to Franklin we would suggest that but for his practice of thrift he would have been like many of the rest of us overdrawn at his bank the other four days of the week.

New General Freight Agent for Santa Fe Recently Appointed

The appointment of Matthew A. Murphy as general freight agent of the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Company, with headquarters in Amarillo, effective immediately, was announced today by H. C. Vincent, traffic manager. He will succeed to the duties formerly handled by H. H. Nye, recently retired.

Until the present appointment, Murphy has been general agent for the Railway at Minneapolis. He was first employed by the Santa Fe as stenographer in the general agent's office in Detroit, Michigan, in April, 1925. He became city freight agent at Peoria, Ill., in 1925, and was promoted to the position of traveling freight agent at Boston, in 1937.

He continued to serve in this latter position until May 1, 1939, when he was appointed general agent at Minneapolis.

As general freight agent of the P. & S. F., Murphy's duties will embrace freight traffic activities in Texas and areas of New Mexico served by the Santa Fe. He is expected to arrive in Amarillo next week.

30 YEARS AGO IN THE NEWS

News items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The News of Oct. 10, 1913:

Messrs. Stephenson & Hampton have been hauling timbers this week for the derrick of the big oil well that will be sunk on the Furd Halsell ranch about 13 miles from town. An independent company is doing the prospecting and is asking no bonuses from any one, so we are informed, which appears as if something might be done.

Heavy rains have fallen over Foard County since our last issue, and everything looks more promising than it has in many years. Old settlers say that there is more moisture in the ground than there has been at any one time before in six or seven years. A large acreage of wheat is being sown this fall, and there are hundreds of acres now up and looking well.

The News man had the pleasure of interviewing Mr. Cyrus Edwards, representing the big California syndicate that is now preparing to sink a well in this locality. The company has resources almost unlimited and last May sent experts into Northwest Texas to search for likely oil bearing structure. After exploring 1,000 square miles, these experts decided that the southern part of Foard County and the northern part of Knox County to be far the best of any territory over which they had investigated.

Last Sunday just as J. E. Bray and family arrived at church, it was discovered that Mr. Bray's house was on fire. The fire was not discovered until it was about to break out through the roof and was doomed before any one arrived.

In the proper column in this issue will be found the announcement of W. O. Miles of Precinct No. 3, as a candidate for the office of treasurer of Foard County.

Reports reached here early Thursday morning that a heavy hail had fallen in the Thalia locality Wednesday night. Cotton was knocked from the bolls and beaten into the ground.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

A great deal is being written and said concerning what is called the post-war world. It has furnished the theme for editorials, addresses, radio discussions and even meetings of party and national leaders.

Most people think when plans for the post-war world are mentioned that they refer only to something that is going to be done in a world wide or a nation wide way.

It is true that the set up of the post-war plans will include the world wide and the nation wide plan, but they should also include plans for the state, county, city and individual. Not all post-war planning is to be done by world leaders and national leaders and state leaders. A part of it, and no small part of it, must be done by individuals, each of whom must put his own house in order and prepare himself for the thing that common sense teaches him is bound to come.

Most of us feel that in the world plans something must be worked out that will make impossible in the future, wars such as we are engaged in at the present time. Just what that plan will be few individuals are competent to say. Most people, except the extreme isolationists, believe that the United States in conjunction with other great powers is going to have to exercise a police power throughout the world to keep under control nations that may show an inclination for various reasons to go to war. Most people have come to feel that the only war that the world wants to see is the war that may be necessary to keep peace in the world. Most people have come to the conclusion after several costly lessons, that force, a great and strong force, is the only thing that can accomplish this. This force is going to have to be stronger than the outlaws it seeks to control. The old pacifism that do not believe in armies and navies and a strong air force is gone, at least in the minds of all realistically thinking people. In its place has come a pacifism based on force. This is as sound and sensible as the custom of protecting society from social outlaws with a police force strong enough, and armed, if necessary to kill. We have no objections to the rule of force here and should have none in the matter of world peace.

This is going to bring new problems as responsibility always does. The power must not be abused. It must be used for the welfare and the advantage of everyone alike.

From the national standpoint plans for the post-war will be concerned with the readjustment at home, the converting industry from war time to peace time pursuits and the problem of employment. These are problems that are going to require the best thought and the most careful planning that the best leadership of the country can give. We have not only to win the war and the peace in a world wide way, but we also must win the peace at home, by winning the peace. I mean successfully converting our nations and our people from war time to peace time economy with a minimum of economic loss and delay.

YOUR MONEY OR HIS LIFE!

Los Angeles Examiner U. S. Treasury Department

As to the individual in his post-war world. Each individual should begin now to prepare himself for the period between the end of hostilities and the return to normalcy. This will require a cash reserve if one desires to avoid greater sacrifices later. This is the part of the post-war planning that every individual in this country should be thinking of now and putting into action. We know the war will be over one of these days, whether it is next year or the next. When it is over the readjustment will have to be made. How well the individual is prepared to make this readjustment will depend on how intelligently and how wisely he has planned and prepared for his own post-war world.

The OPA announces that glass or plastic tokens will be issued about January 1. These will be used in conjunction with ration books.

West Texas C. of C. Buys $10,000 Bond

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is actively promoting the war effort not alone through its inter-community War and Preservation contest in which more than 100 area towns are entries, but with hard cash. During the Third War Loan campaign the organization bought a $10,000 bond to bring to $20,000 its holding of the nation's securities.

Announcement of the all-cash purchase was made at Midland by M. C. Ulmer, president of the regional chamber, in his address to the annual convention of West Texas county judges and commissioners. The $10,000 check was delivered to Ulmer by WTC Manager D. A. Bandeen, following a Lubbock meeting of the organization's officers committee at which the purchase was authorized.

The WTC's initial $10,000 bond purchase was made in May, 1941, at its Mineral Wells convention, seven months prior to Pearl Harbor.

In connection with National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1 to Oct. 8, the following editorial by Dean Kenneth E. Olson, Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University, is being produced:

The Italian people had no heart for this war. They were dragged into it by a ruthless, ambitious dictator. But to bend the nation to his will this dictator first had to take from his people their most precious right—a free press. As early as 1922 Mussolini began destroying newspapers which dared oppose him. By 1925 his control of the Italian press was complete.

Italians probably did not realize what they had lost. But soon they found that all their other individual rights were dependant upon his right. Once the press, representing the voice of the people against government oppression, had been stifled they found that freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, all personal liberties had gone with that key freedom. Now they were lied to, browbeaten, made slaves of a dictatorial state. Today in abject defeat, their country torn in battle between their oppressors and their deliverers, Italians are probably the unhappiest people in the world.

To most Americans this right of a free press is something we just take for granted. We "cuss" our newspapers as we "cuss" the weather and figure that freedom of press is just something that publishers rant about.

But freedom of the press is not a special privilege bestowed as a divine right on American publishers. They are but the trustees of a right that belongs to the whole people—the right of every American to know of those happenings which may affect his welfare.

Our founding fathers had had bitter experience with a tyrannical government rule which suppressed colonial papers that dared speak for the people. They knew that their new experiment in democracy could succeed only if there was a free press which could inform the people and warn them whenever their rights were threatened. And they wrote that right into the constitution as an inalienable right of the American people.

For 160 years this free American press printing facts and reflecting the thinking of the people, daring to oppose government leaders wherever necessary has given the American people the information which has enabled them to act in their best interests.

The purpose of National Newspaper Week is not to laud the American press but to stop for this one each year to reflect on this right which has enabled our democracy to endure and which has made our nation great and strong.

Today the American people know more of what is going on in their own country and on every battle front than do the people of any other nation. And they are strong in that knowledge for they know what they are fighting for. A free press and a free people are an unbeatable team.

Oct. 1 to Nov. 3, Period of Referendum Convention of WTCC

The 1943 referendum convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in the period from Oct. 1 to Nov. 3, inclusive, says announcement from the organization's headquarters office. It says that for the second consecutive year the WTCC will, as a wartime travel conservation measure, substitute the referendum-by-mail plan for the large general gatherings of the past years.

Starting October 1 the WTCC's 200 directors throughout West Texas began presiding at meetings in their towns at which the 1943 policies and work program, as recommended by various committees were being considered and voted upon. The proposed policies and all procedure for the referendum are contained in a 12-page document that has gone out from WTCC headquarters to all directors and chambers of commerce in the affiliated towns. The directors are doing the voting, counseled by their local groups, and results of the 11-point ballot will determine the regional organization's policies and program of work for 1944. New officers and directors—both district, assistant district and local—also will be elected.

It is expected that around 150 town meetings will be held around the territory during October. Following these, a windup clearance session composed of the officers, directorate, past presidents and committees will be held at the WTCC headquarters office on Wednesday, November 3. At that one-day all-business meeting the referendum ballots will be canvassed, results announced and the program set up.

Plans for the 1943 referendum were made by the officers' committee in a recent meeting at Lubbock. Present there were President M. C. Ulmer, Vice Presidents G. A. Simmons and E. W. Hardin, and Manager D. A. Barden.

GLITTERING (?) STARS

While gazing here and yon among the many bright faces of CHS students, a thought strikes me. Here in our very midst are some exact replicas, (or reinforcements)—it depends on which word you choose—of famous "movie" stars. This true, believe me! Have you ever taken time to notice? If not, this article is for your benefit. And now to proceed:

If Maria Montez were to accidentally meet Betty Johnson on the street, she'd feel sure that she "hadn't gotten over the night before."

It doesn't seem humanly possible that we could have a student so much like Sydney Greenstreet so much, but I suppose miracles are still happening. Naturally I'm referring to Gordon (Puss) Erwin.

Lo and behold! Lana Turner and Mrs. Johnson, (Billie to most of us), must be twins!

If only Alton Griffin went around in a wheel-chair, he would make a perfect Lionel Barrymore.

And whom do I choose for Bette Davis, the "queen" of actresses? None other than Janice Ward, a new student from Thalia.

As for Sheila Ryan, (you remember her, the one that dances with the Jiving Jacks and Jill's that's always so cute and rather "loud"), I'll have to choose Bestie (Shortie) Gamble. Don't you agree?

Maybe she doesn't look so much like Jane Withers, but Edith Enevens would be a "swell" substitute!

Oh, yes! We mustn't leave out that female heartthrob, Dennis Morgan. (Don't forget girls—he's married!) We'll have to let Craig Sandlin fill this space.

And Charles Boyer, that great lover of the screen, Oh! Although he doesn't look like him so much, he has several of Mr. Boyer's characteristics (if you get what I mean). Who? Why, Billy Fred Short, of course.

Well, that's all for now. If you enjoy reading this article, and would like for it to be continued, just let it be known by writing a note saying so in Locker 41. Hope to write again.

Nosingly yours,
"Kitten."

JOKES

Gordon Erwin found $10 (that is a joke within itself), and he had always wanted to send a telegram; so he did. After thinking a long time he wrote, "Waffal, waffal, waffal, waffal, waffal, waffal." Then he gave it to the clerk, who after reading it said:

"You may have one more word, then is the limit."

Gordon: "Yes, I know, but what could it be?"

Clerk: "Why not another waffal?"

Gordon: "Heck no, that would sound too silly."

A. G.: "Paw, if I saved you a dollar, would you give me 50¢ of it?"

Mr. Wallace: "Yes, I guess so, son."

A. G.: "Well, I saved it for you. You told me if I passed my three weeks' exams you would give me a dollar, and I didn't pass!"

The following are some answers given on those "darling" ("I'm kiddin'") three weeks' exams:

WANTED: 250 SAFE DRIVERS

In the United States statistics show us today that there are more casualties caused by automobiles than the number of American casualties in this global war. Does it mean anything to you to know that 65 per cent of the casualties were caused by speed and reckless driving? Now that there is a shortage of labor, America has called upon its younger citizens to lend a hand. Therefore, a greater number of youths are drivers today. Inexperienced drivers (and we belong in that group), must drive with more caution and care. Since many cars are put up for the duration, children of grade school age have become careless in crossing streets. Be patriotic by slowing down to save tires. Stop! Look! Listen! at crowded intersections.

WHAT'S BUZZIN'

Dig me, Jackson, I'm solid in the groove. Hello! Hello! Hello! To all you male and female students of "Dear Ole Crowell High," I have some "simply divine" reading material for you this week; so catch this column if you want in on some hot stuff.

Miss Sharon Sue Haney, one of our many female students, seems to have dropped relations with one M. W. Wagon, and started to work on James Browning. Better grab one and hang on, Sharon, they are getting scarce.

Another one of our dashing freshmen, Bill (Superman) Breedlove, has been seen with two different girls. Who is it going to be, Brother Bill, Laverne or Leta Jo? You must be a ladies' man, huh, Bill?

Ah! ha! A new romance is brewing on the stove; it is none other than Kenneth Archer and Janice Ward. Here's hoping Janice's jance won't mind.

Your reporter is in wondering about Elmer Boykin since Ruth got married. How about it, Elmer? Who's your gal?

It is not news to know that Cecil Parkhill and Clarine are going together.

Say, girls, if you would look around in your classes or study halls, you would probably see one Craig (Babe) Sandlin. If you're smart, you will try to hook him. Mary Jo Hogan was with Gordon Erwin Sunday afternoon.

Your reporter has found that Bill Bruce's heart-beat is none other than Carolina Jones.

Do you think it could be said that Floyd "Doc" Wisdom is slipping with Polly Davis? This couple hasn't been seen together in sometime. What's wrong, Doc?

That "handsome boy" Rasor, was courting none other than one Mary Jo Hogan from Thalia. We wonder if he has given up with Helen Jo, or is it just the "spice of life?"

Gaylon Parris seems to be giving De Alva Thomas the "rush." We wonder if this could develop into something? Or what does J. L. Gobin have to say about this? We wonder!

Just to let you know that Roy Joe Cates and Doris Breedlove have a case. It could be serious the way I see it.

Seen at the Junior picnic Tuesday night were Cecil Parkhill and Jenny Mabrey, Pat McDaniell and Ada Jane Magee, and the usual couple, Bobby Cooper and Frances Ann Ayers.

John Carter was stepping out with Betty Johnson, nice couple, eh? Boys.

Z. D. Shaw seems to be coming back into circulation with Clarine Roberts. They were together Saturday night.

Billie Morrison was with Alton Anston Saturday night. I don't seem to find this couple's name on the record; so I guess it's new.

Say, boys, while I am thinking about it, why not call up your favorite girl friend and ask her for a date to the Senior box supper? Girls, don't fail to be there.

Who was J. V. Cunningham with Friday night? He really needed a car.

Johnsons and Roarks seem to agree all the way on courting problems. Now it's Walden Johnson and Janette Roark, or it could be this "brotherly and sisterly love."

Girls, Glen Taylor plays football. You girls may have the privilege of going with him.

Was Ada Jane Magee with Martin Jones Friday night?

Tommy Eaton was with Ray Burrow Saturday night, but this is nothing new.

Thanks, for the news in Locker 44 this week.

The Cuzzins.

The Junior Class enjoyed a picnic at the Country Club Tuesday evening. Food, food, and more

AGRICULTURE

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

Soldiers On The Home Front
Texas farm boys who went off to the war left heroes behind. These are their 'teen-age brothers—4-H Club members—who took up the job of planting and harvesting the vast food, feed and fiber crops required to assure victory for their fighting brothers. This, in addition to their 4-H demonstrations.

These boys, in constantly increasing numbers, are assisting in holding the production line on the home front, 41,000 of them in Texas, and 125 here in Foard County in 1943.

Not only are these boys doing their bit toward "Feeding a Fighter," but they are carrying a large part of the burden on the labor front. Four of these boys assisted in keeping the state office informed by sending in weekly reports of insect development and injury here in the county through the summer. These boys have received special recognition from the college for this service.

They are now busy completing last year's projects and reporting results and in reorganizing their clubs and getting the new year's program under way. These boys develop their own organization and assist in shaping their program of work and study from month to month.

They engage in helpful demonstrations of care and feeding livestock, culling poultry, controlling insects and parasites of all livestock, a study of native grasses, protection of and conservation of wild life, engage in growing livestock, farm crops, poultry and any other farm activity.

In carrying on their own meetings they get training in leadership and parliamentary practice. They become acquainted with each other through meetings, tours, camps, and trips.

They exhibit their products and livestock in shows and fairs where they have the opportunity to see and compare types of products and livestock.

What they have is theirs which gives them pride of ownership and trains them in the wise use of funds. They learn to do by doing, thus gain experience in actual life.

However, in all this he must have the co-operation of his parents and teachers if he is to make the best progress. This, however, has been cheerfully granted in most cases for which we are thankful.

Silage Fills the Gap
Recently we stopped by the Halbert farm and found Grady Halbert dishing out some silage to a bunch of steers and, believe me, they were eating it and crying for more.

It developed that his pasture and summer grazing had run short because of dry weather, so he was fortunate to have a trench silo that had never been opened, although the silage had been stored for three years in this trench.

This very thing often happens in this section. I mean a shortage of summer or temporary grazing, and we know of nothing more reassuring than to have a surplus of good feed stored away where nothing can harm it.

This leads me to say that there is still some grain sorghum in the county that would make good silage. Even though we realize late fall grain sorghum is a good feed as it is, however, any surplus could be stored in a silo.

In our trips over the county we found two more stock farmers who have silage still stored in trenches—O. H. Nelson and Mrs. J. B. Rashberry. So far, they have not opened their silos but with the present shortage of roughage they probably will later in the season.

We found Mr. Nelson following the practice of planting a large acreage of sudan and grain sorghum for temporary pasture during the summer. He has had his entire herd of cattle on these crops food, was the theme of this gala affair. There were sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, fruit and cookies in abundance. Games of "Flying Dutchman" and "Three Deep" afforded recreation. An enjoyable picnic ended with a sing-song. We thank our class mothers, Mesdames John Carter, Decker Magee, Frank Mabe, Ben Hogan, Gordon Cooper and Leo Owens, for an enjoyable occasion.

STUPENDOUS!

Yes, that must be the word to use. About what? Why, the Senior box supper which is scheduled for tomorrow night, October 8, of course. The Seniors are in the process of developing an interesting program, a little from those "lowly classmates," the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen. It is assured everyone that if you do decide to come, (and we certainly do hope so), that you will not be "let down." And so, we want to extend to everyone a cordial invitation to be present tomorrow night. Come as you are, and girls, bring a big, pretty box; and boys, bring a pocketful of green, juicy currency!

Oh yes, we must not forget to remind you of our Popularity Contest which is "raging" at the present time. At the last count of votes, the Senior nominees, Gordon Erwin and Helen Callaway, were in the lead with a very small margin. So come on. Vote for whom you want to win. There will be a ballot box at the door tomorrow night in case you want to vote then.

Don't forget, tomorrow night at 8:30! A grand time awaits each and every one of you.

for several months and has sufficient to run until frost or until his small grain comes on for grazing. He, like many others, is finding that a wise combination of livestock and farm crops is profitable and takes less labor.

This combination for summer and winter grazing crops, a year round program, is well worth considering. This program is being followed by many 4-H Club boys in Texas now; rather than a system of dry lot feeding but a combination of the two. They like it and find it profitable.

How About That Winter Pasture?

Now that it has rained, we hope no one will overlook this important task, as it is still early enough for small grain to make a lot of pasture with favorable season.

The need for temporary grazing has never been more pressing than it is this year. This is one way to meet the acute shortage of protein feed and the only economical way.

Some few have grain up and others have dry down, but many have not drilled in their grain because of dry weather, but all can do so now.

Small grain pasture, such as wheat, oats and barley, is a satisfactory substitute for standard proteins like cottonseed meal or soybean or peanut meal. Besides green grazing is the cheapest source of protein now available. On a dry basis, small grazing crops in their early stages of growth analyze at least twenty per cent protein. The higher the protein in the forage, which may be pasture, silage or hay, the less will be needed in the grain mixture. With twenty per cent in the roughage, ground ear corn or grain sorghum heads, which analyze about eight per cent protein, would readily supply the remainder without resort to cottonseed, peanut or soy bean meals.

It is a good idea to have one acre of small grain per cow at least and on poor land more will be required. A lot, of course, will depend on the weather and rainfall. However, the earlier the grain the better the pasture as a rule.

Falls Down Bluff

After she fell down a 350-foot bluff in Palo Verde, Calif., Mrs. Lee Gloria Snuck lay on a narrow cliff edge for a day and a night before these soldiers and coast guard rescuers reached her.

Prevent Farm Fires

While there was a ten per cent decrease in fire loss last year, yet this hazard is too costly and everything possible should be done to prevent them. The damage done by farm fires is costly in food and feed losses as well as tragic in household and personal property.

Only recently thousands of acres of grass was lost in this county by grass fire on our range. This results in the reduction of meat and feed. Farm homes, barns, poultry houses and other buildings have burned to ground consuming feed, equipment, household goods and as a result the loss of the buildings.

Much of this could have been prevented by observing a few simple preventative precautions many of these are found in a pamphlet entitled "Prevent Farm Fires" which is available for free distribution from this office. The pamphlet contains a farm check sheet which will indicate the hazards about the place. Suggestions are given for guarding homes, pastures and improvements.

In this state last year over 250 persons lost their lives to fire in rural communities and many were injured incurring heavy hospital and doctor bills. The annual toll of farm property destroyed by fires is about six and one-half million dollars. This waste of life and property is tragic. It is a patriotic duty to prevent waste of this kind.

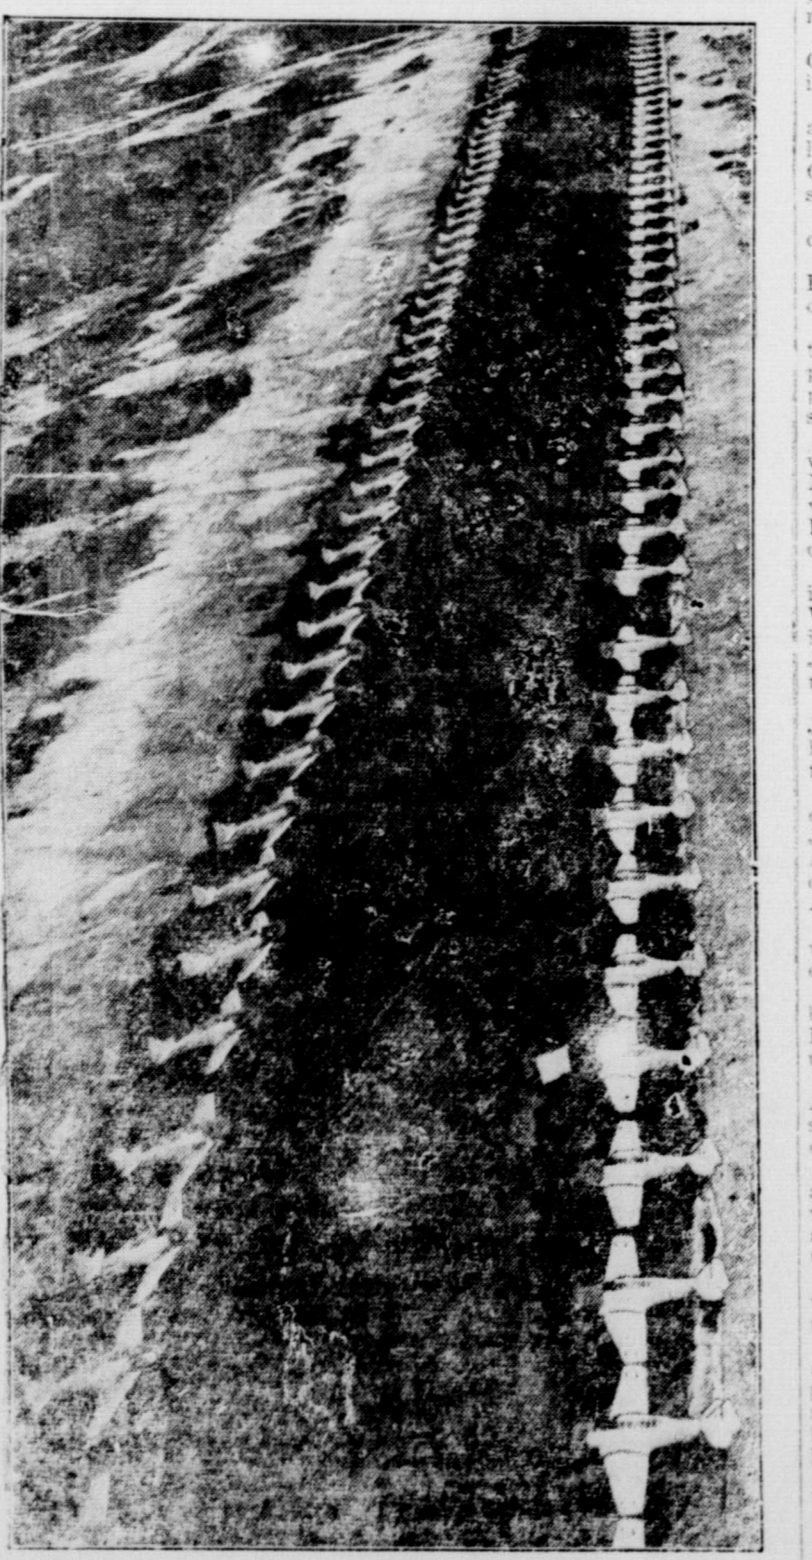

President Roosevelt observed that "This fire loss to the nation is just as real as if the destruction had been wrought by enemy bombers over America or by our own people."

Canada Keeps Them Flying

MORE than 100 Harvard advanced trainers—built in Canada—await "fly away" on the quiet airfield of one of the Dominion's largest aircraft factories where 8,000 men and women are employed. Canadian aircraft program is now concentrated on four types of service planes, and four types of training planes, as well as a general utility and transport aircraft, the Norseman, of Canadian design, which is being manufactured in the same plant as the Harvard for both Canada and the United States.

Prior to the war Canada's aircraft industry made about 40 planes a year. Today production has been increased to several hundred a month. Canada employs more than 97,000 men and women in its aircraft plants.

Right at the Flip of a Switch!

MOST people take electric service for granted... We expect that when our fingers flip the switch, the lights will flash—instantly! AND THEY DO!

The same is true of power for the lathes, punches, riveters and other machines that make our war weapons, power to light our factories for night shifts, power to take workers from their homes to their jobs, and back. It's always there, right at the flip of a switch.

HOW DID IT GET THERE? That's another story—much more complicated, but very interesting. It's the story of a people who saw a job to do, and rolled up their sleeves and did it. Call it initiative—call it free enterprise—it's the spirit that has made America great!

The people in our company have that spirit. Years ago they saw the need for electricity that was more plentiful and dependable than ever before. Transmission lines extending into many territories in West Texas, bringing economical electric service to both large and small towns—that was the answer to that need they believed, AND IT WAS! They built the lines and the power plants.

Today, we have an interconnected system of steam power plants, each independent of the other, yet so linked together that power is automatically switched from one region to another in event of mishap.

It's the most dependable system the world has ever known.

It's yours—all at your fingertips—right at the flip of a switch!

Two Minute Sermon

Who Chooses His Future Life on Earth? I was talking to a man the other day about material things. "I can't picture a future life," he said. "I can't picture a God who is supposed to be a kind and just and loving Father punishing a man from heaven because of the sins and misdeeds of his life on earth. A kind and loving Father, such as God is pictured to be, could not do such a thing. It is not God who banishes a soul from heaven. It is the soul itself. To better understand this we must think of heaven as a spiritual world devoid of any material thing. We must think of the streets of gold and alabaster walls as figures of speech. Heaven is a spiritual world in which will be gathered the spirits of those who have lived their lives on earth in harmony with Christ's teachings. Whether a man's spirit goes

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 10.

The Golden Text is: "I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 30:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If Christian Science takes away the popular gods, - sin, sickness and death, - it is Christ, Truth, who destroys these evils; and so proves their nothingness" (page 347).

First of all we find that the origin of the gospel is in God. It was God's plan even before the foundation of the world. After Adam and Eve sinned God was not like a big policeman, chasing them out of the garden, as many seem to think. The Bible says He took them out of the garden in order that they might not eat of the tree of life and live forever in their sins. But before He took them out He told them of the gospel: "The seed of the woman shall bruise the serpent's head" (Gen. 3:15).

Second, the design of the gospel is "to glorify God." Have you ever asked yourself the question, Why am I here? "Pat digs the ditch to get the money to buy the food to get the strength to dig the ditch." Keep house, bring up children, work, work, work! What is it all for? The Bible plainly teaches that man's chief end is to glorify God. God is looking for showcases through which He can display His wares.

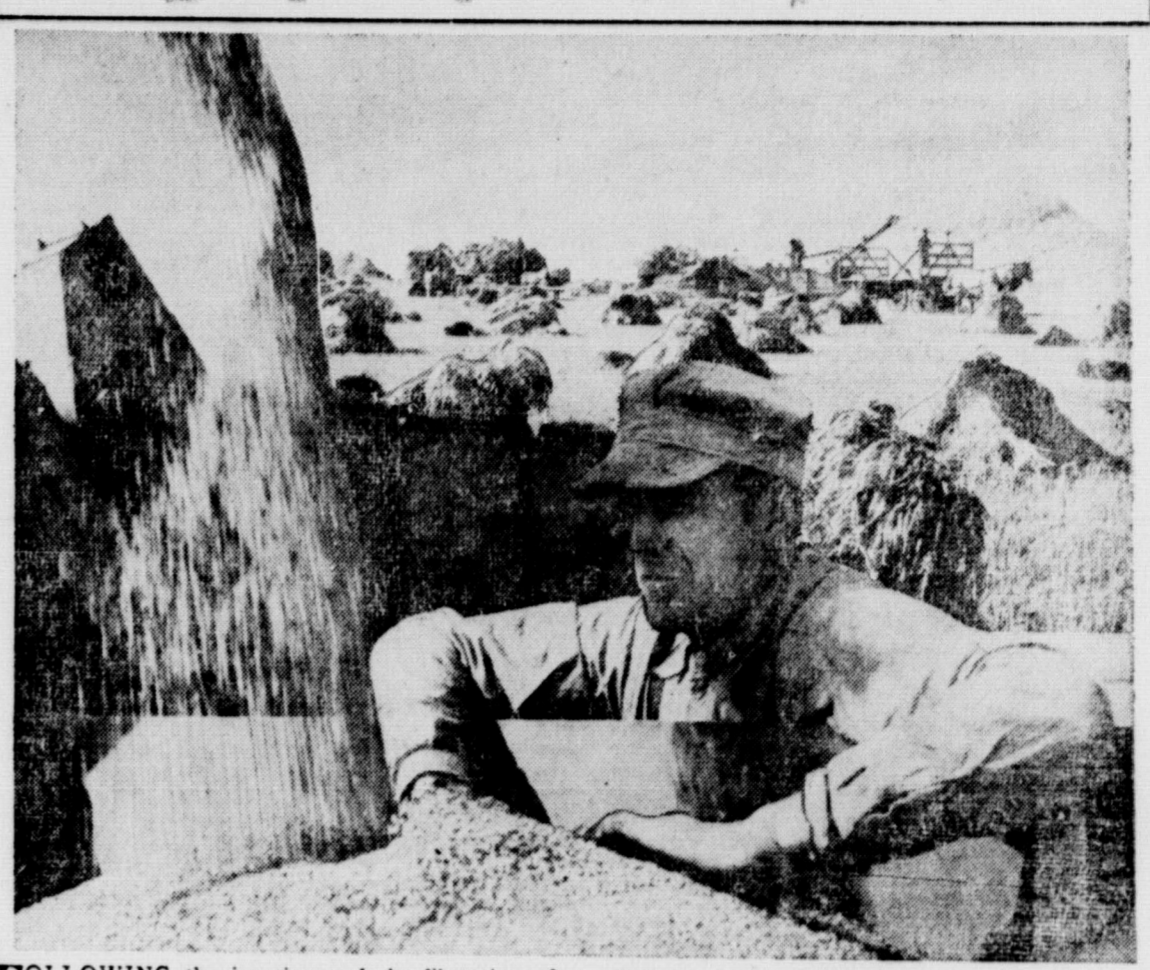

The subject of the gospel is the Lord Jesus Christ. We have eternal life because we have Him, and He is eternal. We cannot have the blessing without the blessing.

In Acts 20:24 we are told that the character of the gospel is the grace of God. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, not by any merit of our own, but only by God's grace He saves us who believe on His Son as our Saviour, Sinbearer, and Substitute.

The world's religions - and there are about 850 of them - are religions of merit and works. The man in India sits on a bed of hot coals; the woman of China offers her child to a stone idol; the man of Africa slashes himself to appease his gods; but the gospel of Christ says, "He, everyone that thirsteth, come ye, to the waters... come ye, buy and eat... without money and without price" (Isa. 55:1).

What then is the object of the gospel? "These are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name" (John 20:31). The object of the gospel is that dead men might be raised to life - spiritual life. "You hath he quickened (made alive), who were dead in trespasses and sin" (Eph. 2:1). "As many as received him (Christ), to them gave he the right to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: which were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God" (John 1:12, 13).

Wheat Will Invade Europe When Victory Comes

FOLLOWING the invasion and the liberation of Axis-held countries members of the United Nations are now setting up food supplies to feed Europe's hungry populations. Canada has already entered into an agreement with the Belgian Government in London to deliver 7,000,000 bushels or 200,000 tons of wheat on request when all or part of Belgium is liberated.

Other countries will draw upon the Dominion's huge surplus which is now close to 800,000,000 bushels as a result of the heaviest crop in Canadian history in 1942-592,700,000 bushels - and another large crop in 1941; but much wheat is needed in wartime and will be required even more urgently in the post-war period.

Canada has given to Greece 5,476,211 bushels of wheat. As a gift of the Canadian people fifteen thousand tons of wheat go regularly to that country every month. In addition, the Dominion has extended a $10,000,000 credit to Russia covering purchases of Canadian wheat and flour.

The gross value of Canadian agricultural production, estimated at more than $2,000,000,000 in 1942, has reached its highest point since 1919. The war has been the means of showing what Canadian and American farmers can do in the way of record-shattering production when given the "full speed ahead" signal.

Mrs. H. Clark spoke on the life in the army camps scattered throughout the world and what is being done to protect the health of the men and women in service and to provide for their comfort and pleasure.

Mrs. R. L. Kincaid read a paper prepared by Mrs. H. Schindler on the work of the Red Cross, especially of the Red Cross nurses and their wonderful mission of mercy on the battlefields and in army hospitals. They carry on the dream of the sainted Florence Nightingale, who opened the way for women to carry cheer and help to the wounded at the battlefield. The paper also gave a resume of the work done by the Foard County chapter of Red Cross. The quota of housewives, kits, sweaters, wristlets, helmets, gloves and mufflers as well as hundreds of garments for the orphans and refugees of the Allies. LIBRARY NOTES

"So Little Time" by John P. Marquand is the most popular novel to come out of the war so far. It is being talked about from coast to coast.

John P. Marquand is the major American novelist writing today. The book is impressive and, at the same time a delightful portrait of the present age. It pictures the American scene of the last four decades and will prove to be the best seller of the season. It is the story of some good Americans who didn't want to face the fact of total war. It is the story of Jeffrey Wilson, an ex-soldier of World War 1 and Jim, who was 19, a student at Harvard, and in love in the spring of 1940.

It forcibly impresses the fact that the nation has brought itself to the point of thinking that it does not have time to enjoy the simple things of life and misses so much of worthwhile living by rushing through the years.

The book has recently been purchased by the Library and it is now ready for the public.

According to petroleum administrators, our armed forces are using 600,000 barrels of gasoline a day. This amounts to

Sure. I'll take a Texan's Share

Your County War Fund is another "Victory weapon."

The United War Chest of Texas through war fund organizations in every county of the state is charged with the responsibility of raising $4,835,731.00 for the 17 approved war appeals of the National War Fund. The national goal is $125,000,000.

Each of the 17 participating agencies was carefully budgeted to stretch every dollar contributed before it received the approval of the President's War Relief Control Board.

Texans now are being asked to take a Texan's share in their County War Funds to aid three fronts with one gift—the Military Front, the United Nations Front, and the Home Front. Remember, President Roosevelt has said that a share in the National War Fund is a share in winning the war. Use this "Victory weapon." Give to your County War Fund.
