Foard County Citizens Will Donate Blood for Plasma in Wichita Falls, August 1; Applications Taken Now

The second blood donation for Foard County will be on August 1 in Wichita Falls, between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Seventy-five donors are needed from the county this time and Mrs. Mack Edens, chairman of the Red Cross Blood Plasma Drive, asks that those who wish to donate blood on this occasion, contact their community chairman instead of waiting for a chairman to ask them. Everybody who reads and understands the importance of giving plasma ready at all times during the past month, the need has been greater than ever before on account of the great number of casualties during the heavy fighting on all fronts. Gordon Self of Thalia writes his family that, if it had not been for the immediate use of plasma when he was wounded recently, he probably would not be alive. Many instances might be related amounting to the same thing, attributing life to the use of blood plasma. It surely is not necessary to cite more cases, for blood plasma is as definitely a part of the necessary war equipment as the guns and ammunition. The chairmen of the various communities follow: Crowell, Mrs. A. Y. Beverly; Thalia, Mrs. Fred Brown; Margaret, Mrs. Bax Middlebrook; Vivian and Texaco, Mrs. T. W. Cooper; Rayland, Mrs. J. H. Roberson; Riverside, Mrs. Cap Adkins; Foard City, Mrs. Grady Hubert; Black, Mrs. J. J. McCoy; Four Corners, Mrs. Zeke Bell, and Good Creek, Mrs. Maggie Stinebaugh. These ladies may find it difficult to contact each person of their community, so, if anyone can go to Wichita Falls for this purpose, they are asked to make it known to the chairman and they will receive an appointment card.

Daughter of Local Lady Receives Advance in Battlefield

Mrs. W. L. Callaway of Crowell has received notification that her son, Sgt. Arnold Webster Smith, has received a battlefield promotion to the rank of second lieutenant in recognition of exceptional service with his 45th "Thunderbird" division, 81 military mortar platoon. Mrs. Smith was notified of his appointment at 10:30 one night and he was sworn in at 10:30 next morning. He then returned to the mortar platoon in action on the Anzio front in the Anzio sector. Lt. Smith has received numerous other citations since he has been in the service. He has three brothers in the service and one sister who is in the W.A.C. His wife and baby daughter reside in Altus, Okla.

Texas War Veterans Will Be Assisted

The War Veterans Relief Association, 912½ Main Street, Dallas, has prepared a Complete Envelope Military Medical and Employment File which contains information about all Government benefits for Veterans of both World Wars and their dependents and twelve affidavit forms needed to corroborate a Veteran's claim for Service Connected Compensation. It was pointed out that many Veterans after returning from World War I neglected to keep a record of the wounds they received, the hospitals they were in, the officer doctors, who treated them, the kind of sickness or disability they had in the service, and above all, their exact physical condition just after they came out of the service, and ten years after this war this information will be very valuable to the Veteran and his dependents after his health breaks down. At present writing on April 30, 1944, there were 338,413 Veterans of World War I, drawing Service Connected Compensation and 154,956 Veterans of World War 2 were drawing compensation. For information and service write War Veterans Relief Association, Veterans Hall, 912½ Main Street, Dallas.

Graduates from University of Texas

Miss Genevieve Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ferguson of Slaton, was graduated from the University of Texas recently with a Master of Arts degree, according to a news service report from the university. Miss Ferguson resided here with her parents at one time and taught in the Crowell High School several years. She is here now visiting in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. S. J. Ferguson, and other relatives and friends.

Yanks Land at Normandy

Battle-equipped American troops splash ashore to the Normandy coast in initial phase of the beachhead landing. Casualties were prevented light and replacements were rushed shore after hour. Little opposition was encountered during the landing of these particular Yanks, although during landing operations at other beachheads the casualties were heavy.

In Service

Pvt. Edward Roark, who is stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., spent the week-end here in the home of his father, H. C. Roark, and family. He returned to camp Sunday afternoon.

A-S. John Clark Long has been transferred to the U. S. Naval Base Hospital in New Orleans, La., for a period of training.

Pvt. G. W. Clark Brown, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Foard City, has arrived at the Infantry Replacement Training Center at Camp Wolters to begin his basic training as an infantryman and has been assigned to a battalion stressing heavy weapons, it has been announced by the public relations office.

Sgt. Melton R. Dunn, son of J. D. Dunn of Thalia, has recently been promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant, according to the commanding officer of the Fourth Air Force Replacement Depot at Lemore Army Air Field, Calif. Sgt. Dunn was inducted into the Army on Dec. 1, 1941, at Fort Sill, Okla., and reported to Lemore Field on Jan. 16, 1942. He also has two brothers in the service.

Kenneth Archer, air student at Williams Field, Chandler, Ariz., is in the hospital with valley fever. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Archer.

A release from Italy sends a picture of Sgt. Jesse M. James and the following story of his achievements: "15th AAF in Italy: Because the skies above important enemy targets still contain plenty of Nazi fighters, Sgt. Jesse M. James, 22, Crowell, Texas, readies his nose turret 50 calibre machine guns before taking off on the 15th Air Force bombardment of the rail yards at Munich, Germany. Sgt. James' Liberator bombardment group has seen plenty of action in the Italian campaign. They took part in the bombing of German-held airbases and military installations in France, Germany, Austria, Rumania and Hungary. Sgt. James entered the Air Corps on January 7, 1943, and received his gunnery training at the Army Air Base, Ft. Myers, Fla. He has participated in 24 combat missions over enemy territory and has been awarded the Air Medal and one Oak Leaf cluster."

The girl scouts attending include Betty Barker, Bobbie Ruth Abston, Rondyn Self, Jane Bruce, Neva Lou Fotts, Mary Edna Norman and Marilyn Male. The group will be joined at San Angelo by Janet Kendrick of Winters, the daughter of a college friend of Miss Kirkpatrick. The group went on the Santa Fe train.

Capture One-Man Submarine Crew

TOP: This 21-year-old man was captured off Peter Beach, Anzio beachhead area, when he was discovered by an American officer in his one-man torpedo submarine. He had been in service only 6 months.

BOTTOM: The one-man submarine is examined by United States soldiers. The tube on the left is the torpedo, and the other is the driving compartment, housing one man. The torpedo tube is shackled to the driving tube and can be released, allowing the pilot to return safely. Ordinarily the torpedo is underneath the drive tube.

President Elected for Texas Tech

William Marvin Whyburn, chairman of the department of mathematics of the University of California, Los Angeles, has been elected president of Texas Technological College at Lubbock to succeed Dr. Clifford B. Jones, resigned. Dr. Whyburn will assume his duties between Sept. 1, and Sept. 15.

Dr. Whyburn is a native Texan, born at Lewisville, Texas, Nov. 12, 1901. He was associate professor of mathematics at Texas Tech in 1925-26 and received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Texas. He taught in the schools of Texas for several years.

Dr. Whyburn became assistant professor of mathematics, University of California, Los Angeles, in 1928. He was made associate professor in 1930, which position he held until 1939 when he was made a full professor. He is now completing a government mission, for which he has been on leave from his duties.

Dr. Whyburn has the following to say in connection with the announcement of his election as president of Texas Tech: "I am grateful indeed for this opportunity to return to my native state and to the staff of Texas Technological College. The great progress made by this college in its relatively short life and the unlimited possibilities for its future development are beyond comprehension. "The loyal interest of the people of Texas, the strong support of the Board of Directors, and the whole-hearted co-operation of the faculty cannot fail to yield unprecedented growth for the college. It is my happy privilege to become a part of this development and I shall make every possible effort to provide the leadership associated with the office with which I have been entrusted."

Foard County Citizens Buy $140,000 in 'E' Bonds in Fifth War Loan Drive; Total Sales $187,000, Quota $145,000

The Fifth War Loan Drive ended last Saturday night, July 8, and was one of the most successful ever to be held in Foard County. Final tabulations showed that every community in the county had exceeded its quota with total sales for the entire county of $187,000.00, making an excess of $42,000.00 over the quota of $145,000.00. Of this amount, $140,000.00 were of Series "E" bonds. Foard County exceeded its "E" bond quota more than 74 per cent, which gave it first place in the entire Fort Worth district, comprised of 59 West Texas counties. Foard County only lacked $5,000.00 of purchasing its entire quota of $145,000.00 in "E" bonds, which fact indicates that numbers of individuals are purchasing rather than in larger denominations by larger organizations. Purchases of "E" bonds until August 1 will be applied on the Fifth War Loan drive and it is expected that Foard County will exceed its full quota by purchase of the "E" bonds alone. This is an outstanding achievement and the entire citizenship of Foard County is to be congratulated on its splendid co-operation. This is Foard County's answer to Hitler and Tojo, says County Chairman George D. Self. He further says that the county has subscribed whatever it was asked for in every bond drive and we want our men and women in all branches of the armed forces to know that this county is backing them 100 per cent. Much credit for the success of the drive is due the community chairmen and their helpers. The Crowell committee, composed of Alton Bell, chairman, and Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Mrs. Paul Shirley, Merl Kincaid, Miss Dula Bowley, Mrs. T. S. Hancey Hubert Brown, B. W. Self, Paul Shirley, T. P. Reeder and Claude Callaway, sold $77,530.00 exceeding its quota of $61,000.00 by $16,530.00.

Lt. John F. Bowley Reported Missing in Action in France

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowley received a telegram from their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John F. Bowley of Houston, stating that she had received a message from the Government saying that her husband, Lt. John F. Bowley, who had been in the invasion in France, was missing in action. The time he was reported missing was not stated in the telegram. Mrs. Bowley and little daughter, Betty, and Miss Alice Bowley of Dallas, arrived here Monday afternoon.

Lt. Bowley was inducted into the service at Fort Sam Houston on Nov. 4, 1941. In December, 1941, he was transferred to Camp Wallace and later in the same year he was returned to Fort Sam Houston. He then went to Fort Benning, Ga., to attend Officers' Training School, where he received a commission as 2nd lieutenant. He was then sent to Camp Blanding, Fla., and then to Camp Robinson, Ark. He left for overseas duty on Dec. 6, 1943, and has been stationed in England since that time. His wife and parents expect to hear further word concerning his welfare.

Ed Gossett to Speak in Crowell, July 19

Congressman Ed Gossett, who is making the race for re-election, announces that he will speak on the Court House lawn in Crowell on Wednesday evening, July 19, at 8:30 p. m. He invites the people of Foard County and the surrounding counties to hear him.

CEMETERY DONATIONS

The dairy industries are staging a fight to prevent the repeal by Congress of the 10 cent tax on oleomargarine, the tax on manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. Dairy men represent that the removal of the tax will result in a lowered price for butter and a reduction in the production of milk.

Britain expects to spend $37,000,000 in India during the next 15 years to double agriculture production.

Pegging a Strike at a Jap Pillbox

A Jap pillbox has been located on Bougainville Island, and Sgt. Charles H. Welverton of the 57th division sticks out his tongue as he takes aim before letting a grenade fly to its target. There are two of the soldiers who beat back Jap counterattacks in the Empress Augusta Bay area in March, taking a toll of about 7,000 Jap dead.

ROTARY CLUB

Herbert Edwards, new president of the Crowell Rotary Club for the coming year, presided at the Wednesday meeting of the club at the DeLuxe Cafe. Two new members, Grady Graves and Richard Ferguson, attended as new members for the first time. Visitors at the meeting were Miss Elizabeth Elliott, county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Isla Mae Chapman, district home demonstration agent, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Long and Mrs. T. B. Klepper. The program was in charge of Virgil Smith and the book, "Barma Surgeon," was reviewed in an interesting manner by Mrs. John E. Long. Before she began her review John Raser sang as a solo, "On the Road to Mandalay." Miss Mary Hughton playing the accompaniment. M. A. Wilkins, proprietor of the DeLuxe Cafe, was elected to membership in the club.

INJURED IN ACTION

Pvt. Eldred A. Collier, brother of Mrs. Doris Gentry of Crowell, was injured in action during the invasion of France and is now in the U. S. Army Hospital in England, according to information received here by Mrs. Gentry.

Rialto to Show Broadway Rhythm

George Murphy, dancing; Ginny Simms, singing; Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra playing, make "Broadway Rhythm," showing at the Rialto Sunday and Monday, about tops in musical comedy entertainment. Some of the top-notch supporting stars in Hollywood have been added to the cast to make the story of at least a "B" with no grade lower than a "C" on work done during his last semester on the campus. Miss Traweck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Traweck, is a senior at the Denton college with home economics as her major.

ON "DEAN'S LIST"

Denton, July 10.—Miss Anita Traweck of Foard City, a summer student at North Texas State, is one of 235 students whose names appear on the summer "Dean's List" at NTSTC. Only upperclassmen with high scholastic averages are eligible for inclusion on the "Dean's List," which provides exemption from class absence penalties. To be named on the list, a student must have an average of at least a "B" with no grade lower than a "C" on work done during his last semester on the campus. Miss Traweck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Traweck, is a senior at the Denton college with home economics as her major.

The U. S. Senate's special Post-War Planning Committee, headed by Senator George, reported that industry can provide jobs for 10,000,000 new workers after the war, if, and only if, there is a "minimum of government interference."

AGRICULTURE (D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

Grasshopper Invasion Subsiding
There has been a reduced demand for grasshopper poison bait at the mixing station here so we conclude they are letting up. They have about reached the adult stage at which time they usually disappear.

In some isolated spots they have entirely cleaned up crops. In most instances where poisoning has been done they have been able to control them.

Where care was used in the distribution of the poison, and where fresh mixture was put out morning and evening the kill was satisfactory.

There has been about two tons of bran, six tons of sawdust and 400 pounds of poison used here in the county.

This is the third week of the infestation, and farmers report, in a few instances, new outbreaks where limited poisoning will have to be done.

Those who began early report the hoppers have about quit feeding on their crops.

They have occurred mostly in pasture areas where farmers were near or partially or completely surrounded by pastures.

As the pasture vegetation toughened, and ripened, they sought the fresher and greener farm crops such as cotton and feed.

Cotton Flea Hopper Appearing
We have examined a small number of cotton crops, and find only a very limited number of these insects. Much of the cotton has not advanced sufficiently for these insects to operate.

On some farms there is no infestation at present existing.

This insect attacks the very small squares just as they are forming and the insect and small dead squares can be found in the top buds of the plant.

They may occur in parts of the cotton field and not appear in other parts.

It is well to be on the lookout for these pests so that control measures may be used. They can be controlled, but it is only practical where the infestation is serious.

Should the dry hot weather continue there is less danger from this insect than when we have rain at frequent intervals.

Last year we had quite an outbreak of these insects, but it soon passed as the dry season prevailed.

They may be controlled by the use of sulphur as a dust at the rate of eight to twelve pounds per acre, depending on the size of the cotton.

Should boll weevils appear a little later, calcium arsenate may be added to the sulphur at the rate of three to five pounds per acre and effect a control of both insects.

Outlook For Farm Equipment

Here's your chance to be brought up-to-date on the outlook for farm equipment and supplies.

If you're needing a new farm radio battery, we can't give you much hope. The War Production Board is notifying hardware merchants that to produce more now would affect military production, so naturally there won't be any increases. Just now, war requirements exceed production of batteries by about 30 per cent.

Now for a bright spot. Authorities can foresee an increase in galvanized ware for civilians. That means more garbage and ash cans, wash tubs, boilers, and coal stoves on the market. These are articles which have been extremely short in many sections, and they'll be of good construction, too. The WPB says this increase will in no way interfere with war production.

Within the last year, about two hundred thousand farm-type wheel tractors were manufactured in this country. That represents quite an increase over war-time levels.

Now for final good word. There is more ammunition coming, not for pure sport, though. Along with the authorized buyers such as officers of the law and defense plant guards, farmers and ranchers can obtain more small arms ammunition for the control of predatory animals.

Summer Tomato Troubles

One of the commonest troubles with tomatoes now and later into summer is shedding of blooms. It is caused generally by blossom sterility or lack of proper pollination, says J. P. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Considering ways to control this condition he suggests that pinching off all suckers up to the first cluster of flowers will provide more moisture and plant food for blossoms. This, too, will cause them to stick better, as well as increase the size of the fruit and hasten ripening 10 days or two weeks.

Spraying or sprinkling tomato plants with water in the late afternoon each day or two to lower temperatures and raise humidity seems to have some value in halting shedding. Providing lattice shade, or covering the plants with paper or similar material in the hottest part of the day also has helped in some instances.

Although it is late and difficult to arrest blossom shedding on plants with paper or similar material in the hottest part of the day also has helped in some instances.

Although it is late and difficult to arrest blossom shedding on plants now blooming, Rosborough suggests that summer plantings should be made with varieties known to be tolerant of excessive heat and low humidity. The Porter variety is one well adapted over a wide area of Texas. Other varieties which have shown outstanding resistance to shedding are Bison and Danmark.

Holding Up Summer Milk Yield

Hot weather usually brings a slump in milk yield. Don't let the situation get out of hand.

E. R. Eudaly, dairy husbandman for the A. & M. College Extension Service, says that the slump may be due to insufficient grass or other roughage; lack of materials; lack of shade for the cows; or insufficient or unpalatable drinking water.

Experience teaches that to produce at maximum, dairy cows

World's Greatest Customer!

G. I. Joe

EVERY HOME FRONT SHORTAGE stems from the needs of our Armed Forces . . . now in action or ready to fight in 65 different countries or islands around the world.

Symbol of our millions under arms, G. I. Joe is the world's greatest, most-deserving, high-priority customer.

As evidence of his tremendous consuming capacity, consider the fact that every day, 60,000,000 gallons of petroleum products go to our Armed Forces.

Let the figures sink in: 60,000,000 gallons a day! No wonder there is concern not only about current supply, but also about the nation's petroleum reserves.

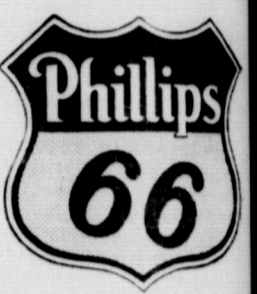

With the same initiative and energy, which prompted its long peacetime research for new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum, Phillips is now actively engaged in speeding up production and discovering new sources of crude supply.

At every well, in every refinery, in every production unit, the spirit is: "Leave nothing undone which might contribute to an earlier victory."

Twenty-four hours a day, Phillips best efforts are devoted to the production of petroleum products for the war effort: gasoline, lubricants, fuel oils, 100-octane, butadiene, and other synthetic chemicals.

That is why we say, every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips great refineries are gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

To the People of Foard County

I was appointed District and County Clerk by the Commissioners' Court to fill the unexpired term of J.A. Stovall, who resigned April 1, 1944. I am doing my very best to render courteous and efficient service in this office.

Seven years prior to my appointment to this office, I was employed in the office of the County Judge and Ex-Officio County School Superintendent; two and one-half years preceding my employment in the County Judge's office, I was employed as Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector of the County.

I finished high school at Crowell and received a business education at Draughon's Business College.

With my business education and experience I feel that I am competent to perform the many duties in the office of District and County Clerk.

I am exerting my efforts to see each of you personally, but, in the event, I should fail I earnestly solicit your vote and support in the coming election.

He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail.—I Samuel 2:9.

Pawn brokers in cities near war production plants report the biggest business ever. In the winter many of these receiving high wages at the war plants buy expensive furs and fur coats. When warm weather comes they pawn them along with their jewels for money to pay their debts. Many of them live the same hand to mouth existence that they lived back in the old home town when their weekly wage was but twelve dollars. The situation is but evidence that one's financial condition very often depends more upon good management than it does on big wages.

Time used in any other than the very best advantage is time wasted. Time is life measured in hours and minutes. To waste time is to waste life and life is far too short to waste any of it.

HISTORY

First Successful Atlantic Cable

July 27: One of the most important events in the history of this country at the time it took place was the laying of the Atlantic cable on July 27, 1866. Because ocean transportation was slow and the radio and airplane had not yet come into being the sending of cablegrams to England under the sea was the first step in a long procession of steps that reduced distances in the world, and have, as we say, made the world smaller. The project to lay a cable across the bottom of the Atlantic to Europe was promoted by Cyrus C. Field. It was on July 27, 1866, that his efforts, extending over a period of 12 years, were finally successful. In May of 1858 he organized the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company for the purpose of connecting the two continents with a telegraphic cable. In 1857 and 1858 two efforts were made to lay the cable starting from the Irish coast. Both attempts were unsuccessful due to the fact that the cable broke. In July, 1858, another attempt was made. This attempt was partially successful but while England and America were celebrating the event this cable broke. Because of the fact that the panic of 1857 forced Mr. Field into bankruptcy and the advent of the Civil War, the effort was postponed until 1865. At this time with a much heavier cable and the Great Eastern, the largest steamship afloat another effort was made. After 600 miles of cable had been laid the cable broke again. Another attempt was made on July 13, 1866, and fourteen days later the cable was landed on the coast of Newfoundland on July 27. Many cables have been laid since the first until all parts of the world are reached by modern cables, but the original cable, considering the time it was laid, and the facilities available at the time, and the wonder of rapid communication in those days, ranks as one of the world's historic achievements.

As the boys in the service see it, there is no justification for a strike of any kind in this country. The government has provided other means for workers to secure relief from inequalities. Every strike called today builds just that perch more anti-labor post war sentiment. Every soldier who did not get the supplies and equipment on the front line when he needed them is going to remember when he gets back that while he occupied a fox hole in an advanced position that was being strafed by enemy machine gun fire and waited for needed supplies and equipment to come, some worker back home, living in safety and comfort with his family and drawing good wages and eating good food and sleeping in a clean bed struck and quit making implements of war because he received a few cents less an hour than he thought he should have, or because he did not like the color of the foreman's necktie.

The Moslem women who go about wearing a heavy veil and cumbersome raiment must get a tremendous thrill from the American nurses who enjoy the freedom that is apt to give the Moslem maids ideas.

It is estimated that it requires about $6,000 of plant machinery and equipment to provide one person a job in the average industry.

Some men appear to spend the first half of their lives creating habits that shorten the other half.

On the Heels of the Invaders

These men belong to the civil affairs group, made up of hand-picked officers and enlisted men of the British and American armies, which will follow hot on the heels of allied invasion forces to restore free government in liberated areas and do the actual governing outright in Germany. At top left is Maj. John C. Diggs, public works officer; top right, Capt. Allan Westervelt, communication officer; lower left, Maj. Benjamin Scheinman, legal officer; lower right, Lieut. Stephen Ware, assistant legal officer. These men, most of whom are especially qualified by former occupations, are now in Great Britain.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

Even a casual glance back over the path we have come in the war, will, I think, convince anyone that the Allies are fighting a well managed war.

To clearly comprehend just how well managed this war is from the American angle of it we have but to go back to the time a few years ago when the dominant sentiment of this country was to remain out of the war and to have nothing whatever to do with it.

All of us will recall that even while the black war clouds were rolling up in Europe, and it became obvious to many that war could not be avoided, there was a large group of people in this country who opposed the repeal of the Neutrality Act, and who later opposed the Lend-Lease Act, and who up to the hour of Pearl Harbor insisted that this was not and could not be our war.

It will be remembered with what opposition the demand met to enlarge our navy and army and our air force. It will also be recalled by many how pitifully small was our navy and how wholly inadequate was our air force. It numbered at that time about 2,000 planes, most of which were obsolete or worn out. Our army was all on paper. Not a single barracks or camp had been built, not a blue print was in existence for a plane, or tank, or gun, or battleship. Nowhere in the country was there a plant tooled and equipped to build guns, or tanks, or planes, or any of the munitions of war. Even the rifle that the foot soldier was to carry was not yet in production.

This was our state of preparedness when we were suddenly brought face to face with the fact that this was our war and that contrary to all our previous beliefs we were going to have to fight.

To further complicate matters our enemy had spent the better part of twelve years preparing for his conquest of the world. Unmolested he had built the greatest war machine the world had known up to that time.

Hitler thought his war machine was perfect. He thought that it was invincible and unconquerable. As a matter of fact he did not make a single move of any kind until he and his advisers were certain they had completed to the last detail an invincible war machine. With it he confidently believed he would destroy one nation after another on his march to world supremacy and dictatorship.

The Allies suddenly found themselves brought face to face with this Hitler super-machine practically unarmed and unprepared.

The transition from a nation of peace to a teeming work shop for the God of War is familiar to everyone. It stands and will continue to stand as one of the greatest industrial achievements of all time. Not only have we seen a peace loving nation turn as one man to beat its plows and pruning hooks into swords for freedom, but we have also seen the hearts of the people changed and become united in the great cause of world liberty. Today there is no doubt about the outcome. The threat to world liberty is being gradually beaten into the dust by an aroused people.

We have made some mistakes to be sure, but reviewing the picture as a whole this nation has every right to feel proud of the manner in which it has managed this war and the thoroughness with which it has handled the Herculean task of preparing for it. It deserves to be classed as the greatest achievement of all time.

The U. S. Army Forces has more than 75,000 airplanes of all types, of which approximately 34,000 are combat aircraft. More than 17,000 of the combat planes are overseas.

IN THE NEWS

30 YEARS AGO

Items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The News of Friday, July 10, 1914:

Ross Woodall, formerly of this place, but recently of Govee, has been employed as pharmacist at the Owl Drug Store to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. S. Hart, who will take a vacation and much needed rest. The News is glad to know that Mr. Hart will remain a resident of this city.

Leonard Pyle, well known in Crowell and an employee of Swift & Co. at Lawton, Okla., and Miss Johnnie Studebaker, an accomplished young lady of Lawton, were married in that city at 8:30 p. m., Saturday. They are visiting with relatives in Crowell.

Since our last issue, Crowell has had about half an inch of rain. In other parts of the county, however, the rainfall was much heavier, some saying that the rainfall exceeded an inch, and would insure an abundant feed crop.

Rude Magee, candidate for county treasurer, is said to be running some. He started out electioneering one day last week, and on arriving at a place near the home of D. M. Shultz, he met Mr. Shultz, who told him that his baggage was on fire. It was not necessary for Mr. Magee to investigate, for the flames were flashing up in his face. They put out the flames, thus preventing the buggy from being consumed. How the fire got started is not known, unless it was from friction, for Rude declares he was going some, and he just has been.

Mrs. J. L. Strickland, 62, departed this life shortly after 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist Church at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Willie Young, well known here on account of having attended Crowell school last year, fell from a load of wheat near his home in the Vivian locality last Thursday morning and sustained a broken bone in his right leg just below the knee.

J. H. Copess of Altus, Okla., a former resident of this place, is spending some time in the city. He is representing a well known life insurance company.

John Thompson was here from Pease River Monday, and not being content with a joke he "rubbied it in" by telling The News man that he had another crop of hawks almost ready for delivery, and if he wanted another "eagle" he would send another by parcel post.

Percy Ferguson has accepted a position in the depot at Knox City and left Monday for that place.

D. E. and J. B. Todd of Thrall returned to their homes the latter part of last week after being here for a week to assist their father east of town in taking care of his big wheat crop.

J. H. Minnick and son, Jimmie, returned from New York Saturday. Mr. Minnick buys and ships polo horses, making a semi-annual trip to the big city. Mr. Minnick was accompanied home by his friend, Fred Stone, of the well known firm of Montgomery & Stone, and is also a brother-in-law of the novelist, Rex Beach.

Today, 3,657,000 U. S. soldiers are overseas striking or preparing to strike victory-winning blows against Germany and Japan by land, from the sea, and in the air.

To the People of Foard County and the 114th District:

You have been so extremely nice to me that it makes me feel ungrateful indeed, for the fact that I have not made any campaign at all. However, I feel quite sure that I have done just as you would have me do under the circumstances. Therefore, I want to take this method of expressing my appreciation for the co-operation that you have given me, and to solicit your support for re-election as your representative.

If elected, I will do my very best to live up to everything that you expect of me.

Sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Nichols left Monday for Los Angeles, Calif., after visiting for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nichols, of the Black community. They will visit relatives in Los Angeles for a short time before going to Fairbanks, Alaska, to reside. Mr. Nichols is connected with the Weather Bureau, U. S. Department of Commerce, and has been located in Washington, D. C., for the past year. In Alaska he will make weather forecasts for Army flights, as well as other weather forecasts that come under his supervision.

Mrs. Crockett Fox is visiting in Vernon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Daniels.

Fred Wehba made a business trip to Oklahoma City this week. His sisters, Mrs. Sam Thomas of Gary, Okla., and Mrs. Albert Thomas of Oklahoma City, who had been visiting here returned to their homes with him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cope, and their daughter, Miss Marjorie Cope, of Lubbock and their son, Ensign Bob Cope, who has recently graduated from Flying School in Corpus Christi, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hancey last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Cope and Miss Cope had attended graduation exercises at Corpus Christi when their son and brother received his wings and his commission. They went to Dallas Friday where Ensign Cope continued the trip to Deland, Fla., where he will be stationed.

As the politicians get government deeper into electric power production, they lose the campaign thunder of their attacks on private enterprise.

It is interesting to note the criticism of public power management in Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Oregon and other states. Sooner did politics gain control of public power districts in those states, than the fun started. Communities affected, which had previously enjoyed electric power service without public debt, found themselves loaded with interest-bearing obligations. And worse yet, they had brought into their community a tax slacker—a property claiming exemption from many or all of the taxes levied against other businesses and individuals.

Then came labor troubles—it seems that workmen have the same problems about wages whether they work for a public or a private plant, only it is harder to get action from public plants because they claim exemption from many laws applying to private industry.

And when it comes to rate adjustments or complaints about service, the people are helpless because public power projects refuse to submit to state regulatory laws which check the affairs of private companies; hence the users of public power have no place to air their grievances except to their political power bosses.

Publicly-owned power districts in all parts of the country are finding themselves at the mercy of political managers who are not power experts. They are in debt for properties which they formerly enjoyed without debt. They have lost regulatory and taxation authority over the public projects. Many communities are slowly awakening to the fact that the American way of regulated private enterprise is far superior to the foreign doctrine of state socialism—and that's all public ownership of the electric industry is, no matter how you try to guide it.—Industrial News-Review.

Two Minute Sermon
(By Thomas Hastwell)

Look Ahead, Young Man: One summer while on a vacation in Minnesota, we drove for considerable distance through one of the large National forest parks of which there are a number in the state. A narrow, winding road led through the closely set trees which came up to the edge of the road, hemming it in on both sides.

It was necessary, because the forest was so dense, to approach the turns in the road, of which there were many, very cautiously to avoid collision with travelers coming from the opposite direction. At no time through the extended trip could the driver see very far ahead. I thought of that trip the other day when a young man of my acquaintance just out of high school accepted a mediocre job which allowed time for leisure and amusement, rather than a position which, though it paid a little less, taught him a good trade, something that would prove useful to him in after life, and might even turn out to be a career or life's vocation. Like the driver in the Minnesota forest he can't see very far ahead. He isn't taking a very far look ahead. He is throwing away an opportunity to learn something useful and worthwhile because of a short sighted view.

A former Illinois farmer, a Sergeant, solved a transportation problem for his Marine buddies on Saipan, the Navy Department reports. It was impossible to haul much-needed ammunition up the rugged, steep hills by trucks and carry the wounded back. As the Sergeant suggested, a detail of Marines, who as civilians had handled live stock, were sent out to catch stray oxen. Within two hours they had a regular service into the hills using hand-made native two-wheel cars drawn by the oxen. "The only trouble so far has been the oxen don't understand our language," the Sergeant said. "I'll bet they only

Food, Home Notes

(By Miss Elizabeth Elliott, County Home Demonstration Agent.)

Figs For Civilians

Most of the dried figs from this year's crop will go to civilian markets, according to the War Food Administration. Out of an estimated pack of 29,800,000 tons of dried figs, some 28,546,000 tons have been allocated to civilians. The armed forces will take more than a third of the canned figs but not many of the dried.

Breadbox In Summertime

To prevent mold keep the breadbox in a cool, dry place, and wash it at least once a week with soap, water, and dry thoroughly in the sun or oven, if possible. The box should have openings at either end, such as small nail holes, for ventilation. Neglected seraps of bread left too long in the box attract mold. Collect these every few days and dry them in the oven for crumbs. Cool all freshly baked bread before putting it in the breadbox. Wrap bread that is to be kept longer than a day or two in waxed paper and store in the refrigerator. Ready sliced bread is especially subject to mold. Dispose at once of any bread that molds and wash, scald and sun the box to prevent the spread of mold to fresh bread.

Sirup Supplies

Corn sirup supplies on retail markets this summer are expected to be about as large as last summer—and somewhat larger in the early fall, the War Food Administration reports. Mothers who have been worried about the sirup for the baby's formula will be reassured to know that production of corn sirup has continued the same during the past year, in spite of the heavier demand for corn for special war uses. Late this summer even more corn sirup is likely to be manufactured.

WFA has eliminated restrictions on acquisition and use of organic nitrogenous fertilizer materials such as tankage, fish scrap, bonemeal, processed manure, peat and humus. Restrictions remain on edible oil-seed meals.

For Vets—16,000 Hospital Beds

Sixteen thousand additional veterans' hospital beds in buildings to be constructed in 20 states have been recommended by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. Under this largest building program ever requested by the Veterans' Administration, the new beds would be located in hospitals in New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Delaware, Virginia, Florida, Michigan, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi or Alabama, Kansas or Missouri, Montana or North Dakota, Colorado, California, Texas, Washington, New York, Georgia, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois. Addition of these beds would bring the total of 121,000 available to veterans.

Three Out of Four Will Can

Three out of four women expect to can fruit and vegetables at home this season, according to a nation-wide survey reported by the Office of War Information. Canned peas, tomatoes and asparagus were restored to rationing by OPA after supplies on hand had sold rapidly, making room for the new pack. Civilian supplies of peas, tomatoes and asparagus are expected to be 20 per cent smaller during the current pack year than during the pack year ended July 1. To help pack the current fruit and vegetable crop, 700,000 full-time workers must be recruited, the War Manpower Commission says. Because of the dependency of overseas service men on canned fruits and vegetables it is imperative that these foods be made available to them.

Swap Help Across Border

Farmers are used to swapping help, but this summer two countries, the United States and Canada, will swap grain harvest help back and forth across the border, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces. With border crossing formalities suspended, Canadian threshing outfits will help harvest the western great plains crops until September 15, and American machines and crews later will reciprocate in the Canadian prairie provinces until December 15.

Round-Up

Under new OPA instructions, the amount and type of gasoline rations issued to individuals after June 30 are now available to the public or newspapers upon inquiry to local Rationing Boards. OPA has removed now inner tubes from rationing, thus helping conserve tires, inasmuch as good tubes properly inflated prolong tire life. ### Scientific Application of Music To Industry Helps Reduce Lateness and Absenteeism

BACH, Beethoven and Brahms, Barrehouse, Boogie Band and the Blues are doing their bit for victory on the production lines of more than 60 Canadian factories in a plan that combines the talents of the great masters and the Tin Pan Alley boys under scientific direction to better factory efficiency and boost industrial output.

While the use of industrial music has been increasing throughout the last 20 years as it impetus to rate as a major production factor.

When American factories changed to wartime schedules, music was introduced into many of the plants with varying results. Professor Harold Burris-Meyer, director of sound research at the Stevens Institute of Technology, made elaborate tests which brought definite knowledge on the effect of music on industrial and office workers.

The Burris-Meyer experiments were extreme in some cases—to get definite answers. In a Philadelphia laundry a worker burst into tears under a barrage of loud, fast-tempo music and ran home. Other don'ts which Burris-Meyer stresses are: hymns slow production to a stop; so does music like Brahms' Lullaby, Deep in the Heart of Texas prompts workers to clap hands and let work go; vocal refrains distract, don't stimulate; music during the last half hour of the work day is likely to be taken as a sign to pack up and go home.

Music is played from a central control room, over high-fidelity reproduction apparatus which cuts through the roar and whine of machinery. The newcomer can't hear the music at first; after a couple of days he doesn't notice the machinery's din and the music cuts through to make working a pleasure.

A sample scientific program calls for:

First hour—workers are strong, but distracted; strong rhythm is stressed: One Dozen Roses, Ain't Misbehaving, Margie, Good Morning.

Second hour—workers settled down; quiet, in step, entertaining, bright music: Wedding of the Painted Doll, Kiss the Boys Good-bye, Elmer's Tune.

Third hour—workers slightly fatigued; familiar, rhythmic tunes, sparklingly played: Nola, Dearly Beloved, Moonlight Masquerade.

Fourth hour—workers fatigued, bored and hungry; relaxed, soothing music to relieve tension: Tea for Two, Lovely to Look At, All the Things You Are.

Fifth hour—workers have eaten, are refreshed, relaxed, interested; pleasant, non-rhythmic music: I've Told Every Little Star, Down by the Old Mill Stream, Yes, My Darling Daughter.

Sixth hour—workers resigned, slightly bored, catching second wind; moderately rhythmic selections: The Very Thought of You, Parade of the Wooden Soldiers, Ciri-Biribi.

Seventh hour—workers bored, fatigued; bright effervescent, "lift" music: Smiles, Anything Goes, Whistle While You Work.

Final hour—workers impatient, clock-watching; combination of relaxing and rhythmic selections: Shine On Harvest Moon, Among My Souvenirs, March.

The monotony of an inspection line in this Canadian factory is broken by music keyed to the hour. Above: a medley of lively tunes are selected to pep up that "seventh hour" drag.

But, music experts explain, names of the tunes are not so important. It is the musical treatment itself which counts.

This correct musical treatment has straightened out the production graph-lines, keeping each production at a uniform rate. It does much more than that. Less in the morning and at return from lunch is drastically reduced. Absenteeism, always an industrial bugaboo, is cut appreciably. This is particularly true of Mondays.

Cpl. McBeath is Honored with Picnic

The Thalia Service Club honored Cpl. Sherman McBeath, who has returned from overseas duty, with a basket picnic which was held on July 4th at the Shultz park and was enjoyed by the Thalia community.

Among those present to meet and talk with many friends was Cpl. Elmer Patterson. The highlight of the enjoyable program was a patriotic and inspiring talk by Judge Leslie Thomas.

The picnic served as the July social meeting of the club. The regular business meeting will be held on July 21.

All members of the club are asked to write to J. K. Mason and Gordon Self, who have been wounded in action.

AND SOME WOULD CHANGE OUR SYSTEM

In reviewing the record of production reported by the War Production Board up to May 25, last, the world has evidence of an industrial miracle wrought in the United States. B. M. And the American system has outproduced the world."—Industrial News-Review.

Sellers Moves To Oust Loan Sharks

Dallas, July 10.—"Texas must be purged of the loan sharks," declared Attorney General Grover Sellers in the radio speech which opened his campaign for his first elective term to that high position.

In his address Mr. Sellers was highly critical of the filibuster in the Senate against passage of the loan shark bill.

"Now that the courts have sustained the injunction law, passed by the last Legislature, my office is going to make it miserable for those heartless usurers who have grown rich at the expense of thousands of our unfortunate citizens," Mr. Sellers declared.

When Gerald C. Mann resigned as attorney general in 1943, Mr. Sellers was Gov. Coke Stevenson's choice to fill the vacancy. He had served as first assistant to Mr. Mann for almost four years when he was appointed to the place.

Thousands of books are thus circulated weekly among the young, and sometimes older, folk in Edmonton.

Children Should Be Immunized Against Diphtheria Early

Austin.—Few conquests of science have been as spectacular and complete as those relating to diphtheria. Science has firmly established the value of serum treatment in both its preventive and curative phases. However, toxin-antitoxin, or its successor, toxoid for immunization and antitoxin for cure, are sera of which the general public is even yet not fully aware.

According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent usually employed. However, three or four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At that time the Schick test can be applied to determine the results of the preventive treatment.

Dr. Cox urges that children receive diphtheria immunization as early as possible, preferably as soon as they are six months old. The necessity for this immunization is apparent when it is realized that two-thirds of all deaths from diphtheria occur in the age group under six years.

"It cannot be too strongly emphasized that to deprive children of this protection which science had made possible is to subject them to unwarranted and unnecessary hazards that can easily turn into a tragedy," Dr. Cox said. "Parental interest in immunization must be more widespread if the Texas death rate from this disease is to be eliminated as a cause of death."

"When a child has been stricken with diphtheria, antitoxin is the only treatment that will save his life. Also, to be effective, it must be given early in the illness and in large doses. Delay is usually caused by parents failing to realize that any sore throat may actually be diphtheria. It is always safer to immunize against the disease than to risk curing it."

ATTENTION, VOTERS

As you know the time is drawing near for the first Primary and there are quite a few people who live out of town that I'm not going to get to call personally. I had intended to go to every home but I've had so much car trouble that I realize now that I'm not going to get around, therefore I'm taking the means of soliciting your support.

I just want the people of Foard County to know how much I appreciate the trust they have shown me and the support they have given me in the past. I can't begin to tell you how much this job has meant to me and my family and I don't think I could ever thank you enough.

There were a few people who were led to honestly believe that I wasn't qualified to hold this office the first time I was elected, but an examination of my records will prove to you that I was. I have done every thing in my power to make you a good Treasurer and if you see fit to elect me again I'm sure I can serve you better as experience always makes us better qualified for anything we are doing.

I want to thank you again for giving me the opportunity of serving you, and solicit your support on July 22nd.

Sincerely, RUTH MARTS TATE

A NEW ANGLE

It is difficult to discuss many OPA rules now affecting business without becoming lost in a maze of incomprehensible regulations, penalties and "special" court procedures.

"After talking with a considerable number of congressmen," says a retail authority, "I can understand somewhat better why some of them are very hesitant to place restrictions and prohibitions on the acts of people in major administrative government positions. Just as they do not want the President, as chief executive, to assume the functions of legislation,
