Truscott Bank Closes After Long Service Record

The First Bank of Truscott which has been in operation since 1907, has been liquidated and its doors were closed on Saturday night, July 15. The voluntary liquidation followed the death of its owner and president, T. B. Masterson, which occurred in May.

The bank was closed and the records were moved to the Trust Department of the First National Bank of Fort Worth.

The Truscott bank was organized in 1907 by Potts and Pitts of Fort Worth.

It was bought in 1909 by T. B. Masterson and Louis Chesser. Mr. Masterson sold his half interest to Mr. Chesser in 1911. In Feb. 1925, he bought back the half interest and in 1931, he bought the other half from Mr. Chesser, thereby becoming sole owner of the bank. He retained the ownership until his death.

M. L. Hughton became cashier of the bank in Dec. 1931, and has held that position since that time. Associated with him have been J. M. Chowning, Mrs. Isla Ellis and Mrs. Virginia Casey.

The Masterson family and the bank personnel wish to thank the people of Truscott and the surrounding territory for the confidence and co-operation given them during the years. Also, the people of Truscott appreciate the banking facilities furnished by the Truscott bank and the Masterson family. The severing of long-standing ties of business connections have been made reluctantly.

Respectfully submitted, N. J. ROBERTS, County Chairman.

Baptist Church to Have Two Weeks' Revival Campaign

The Baptist Church of Crowell will begin a series of revival services on next Sunday, July 23, which will continue for the next two weeks. The morning services will be held in the church at 10:30 each morning and the evening services will be at 8:45 each evening. Just prior to the evening services there will be prayer meetings for all age groups. Rev. Otis Strickland, pastor of the church, will do the preaching for the campaign.

D. C. Hamilton, of the First Baptist Church of Vernon will lead the singing during the meeting and direct the hostess band for the children each evening. Bro. Hamilton is one of the best gospel singers in this part of the state. Those who have heard him testify to the fact that he is a fine leader. He will have special music almost every service of the meeting. This means both morning and evening.

The evening services will be held under a tent, so that all may be comfortable. Comfortable benches are being made to take care of all who may attend. The church extends a hearty welcome to all and invites every one to bring his Bible and follow the preaching.

First Democratic Primary Will Be Held Saturday; Twelve Boxes Will Be Open for the Citizens of the County to Vote

Voters of Foard County will go to the polls Saturday, July 22, to cast their ballots in the first Democratic primary election. A fairly heavy vote is expected as there were 1,301 poll tax receipts issued at the sheriff and tax assessor-collector's office.

The twelve voting boxes in the county and the presiding officers are as follows:

- Precinct No. 1, S. E. Crowell, Luther Tampion.
- Precinct No. 2, N. E. Crowell, L. A. Andrews.
- Precinct No. 3, S. W. Crowell, Forrest Burk.
- Precinct No. 4, N. W. Crowell, Mrs. Ida Pearl Crowell.

Blood Donors for Plasma Will go to Wichita Falls, Aug. 1

On August 1, Foard County will furnish blood donations for plasma in Wichita Falls. The Blood Unit from Fort Worth will be there and the Foard County donors will go to the YMCA building at 1 o'clock p. m. for the donating of blood.

Mrs. Mack Edens, chairman for Foard County, states that there have not been sufficient donors offered to fill the call for 75 donors for the county. It will be appreciated if anyone who can possibly do so, make it known to their chairman so that she will not have to contact each person. The chairmen for the communities are Crowell, Mrs. A. Y. Beverly; Thalia, Mrs. Fred Brown; Margaret, Mrs. Bax Middlebrook; Vivian and Texaco, Mrs. T. W. Cooper; Rayland, Mrs. J. H. Robertson; Riverside, Mrs. Cap Adkins; Foard City, Mrs. Grady Halbert; Black, Mrs. Jack McCoy; Four Corners, Mrs. Zeke Bell; and Good Creek, Mrs. Maggie Stinebaugh.

Fourth Anniversary for Wehba's Grocery Marked This Week

This week marks the fourth anniversary of the grocery business of Fred Wehba. Four years ago this week, he opened a grocery store and market in the Self building. He moved his stock to the larger building on the northwest corner of the square in the Ringgold building. He has enjoyed a splendid business and is offering the people of this section a sale on merchandise in celebration of the anniversary.

George Moffett Will Speak Friday P. M.

Word has been received by The News that Senator George Moffett, candidate for representative to Congress from this district, plans to be in Crowell Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock to make a speech in the interest of his candidacy. He invites the people of Foard County and surrounding counties to be present and hear him speak.

Lieut. John Bowley, Reported Missing in Action, Is Alive Although He Was Badly Wounded Before Being Rescued

Notice was made in this paper of last week that Lt. John Bowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowley, was missing in action in France. A telegram received by his wife, at the home of his parents, who is here, on Tuesday informed her that he was alive and back at his base.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram of Wednesday carried the story of his experience, a reproduction of which follows:

With U. S. Forces in France, July 5: A blood-stained photo of his wife and baby saved the life of Lt. John Bowley of Houston, Texas, who was captured three weeks ago and released when the Americans overran the place where he was hidden. He was a member of a patrol party which took the wrong road and got in a fight with 20 Germans.

Bowley received seven bad wounds from grenades before his capture. He said his captors took everything he had, including his wife's rosary which he wore around his neck.

He was weak and bleeding when questioned by one German holding a flashlight in his eyes and with pistol in hand. Bowley was able to sprinkle sulfa powder on his wounds, but his captors forbade him to use his first-aid bandage.

Bowley and Lt. Cyrus Corson of Bossier City, N. C., were put in a half-truck hauling ammunition and he had been on the road five hours when an American fighter strafed them, setting off the ammunition.

He was then taken to a French house guarded by seven Germans. During the day, Bowley became friendly with a German sergeant. The German proudly showed the picture of his wife and baby and Bowley reciprocated. The babies were the same age and had never seen their fathers.

In the evening, a courier arrived with a written order that the sergeant execute the prisoners. German remnants of the shattered 77th division were fleeing southward from the American trap.

The sergeant read the orders and then let Lt. Corson read them. The friendly sergeant said that he hated to comply with the order but was a slave to duty.

Bowley appealed for his life for the sake of his baby. The sergeant wept. He said if the Frenchman who owned the house would hide the prisoners he would stick out his neck by saying the order was executed and the bodies buried. He thought it would go uninvestigated because of the confusion. The Frenchman hid the Americans under hay in the barn.

Bowley's wounds were undressed and he nearly smothered for four days. The Frenchman feared to get the village doctor but he brought the local priest, a remarkable man who had been a physician before he received holy orders.

The priest dressed the wounds and came daily, bringing champagne, cognac and a little food. Then the two were given civilian clothes and put in the attic of a nearby house and kept for 15 days.

The priest came daily. He was their only visitor. All this time, the American lines were only two miles away but the German guard was alert.

Small fragments from artillery often penetrated the attic roof. July 4th brought American soldiers flushing the houses for snipers. When the Americans entered, the two officers feared they would be shot on sight because of their civilian clothes.

"Finally, they saw a Yankee pass, his back turned. Crying, 'don't shoot,' they quickly announced their identity and an hour later, they were in a hospital."

Mr. and Mrs. Bowley received a letter from their son, Wednesday, which was written on July 12. He told something of his experiences but said that he was all right.

Because it is anticipated that the army will need the transport wounded from east coast ports to hospitals, civilians are being urged to spend their vacations at home this summer.

Congressman Ed Gossett Spoke Here Wednesday Night

Congressman Ed Gossett spoke here last night on the court house lawn in the interest of his campaign for re-election as representative in Congress from the 13th Congressional District. Some of the things the congressman had to say to the voters of the community follow:

"As your congressman, I have helped to pass hundreds of vital measures in support of the war effort. The chief concern of every honest heart at this time is to get the war successfully over as quickly as possible, with a minimum loss of American lives, and then to do everything humanly possible to see that it doesn't happen again. At this time, your congressman is a recognized leader in efforts to remove the greatest stump in the path of effective American participation in world peace efforts, i. e., to change the constitutional requirement of a two-thirds vote of the senate to ratify treaties. All agree this provision defeated American adherence to the League of Nations and has hampered our effective participation in world affairs.

"On the domestic front your congressman is a recognized leader in fighting for political and economic equality for the people of Texas and the South. I have fought and will continue to fight against yankee politicians who seek to break down all forms of racial segregation. I have voted to apply anti-racketeering laws to labor unions, to suspend the 40-hour week and outlaw strikes in time of war.

"I was the author of an amendment to deny federal salaries to communists and have voted to kick communists from the Federal payroll. I have worked and voted to have increased labor costs figured into farm parity. Because of these votes and my fight for the unorganized folks of the country, I have been blacklisted by the CIO and other radical organizations. My opponent has the blessing of these organizations and has remained absolutely silent about their activities. I want the people of the 13th district to know these facts."

Former Citizen Dies at Home in California

Death came to Herbert (Hub) Speck in San Pedro, Calif., on Saturday, July 1st, very suddenly as he was returning from his work in the Los Angeles shipyards. Mr. Speck was a resident of Crowell and Foard County until he and his wife went to California to make their home several years ago.

Mr. Speck was only three blocks from his home when he was seized by a heart attack. A nearby resident called for help and he was taken to a hospital immediately but death came while en route to the hospital.

Funeral services were held on Thursday, July 6, in the Chapel of the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Glendale, with burial in Forest Lawn. Rev. Warren Glover officiated at the rites.

Brooks' Grocery Store Observes Third Anniversary

Three years ago this week, J. T. Brooks purchased the grocery store of Herman Fox and started business in Crowell. His store was practically destroyed by the tornado two years ago but he started anew and is now operating a Frozen Food Locker in connection with his grocery and meat business.

He is this week giving his customers the advantage of a sale on a great many articles in the store. An ad in this issue of the paper expresses his appreciation for a good business and sale prices on his goods.

Bootleggers and Black Markets exist only where there are shortages—and a chance to make big profits by breaking ceiling prices.

There are no Black Markets in electricity, nor are there any shortages.

And far from pushing against price ceilings, the price of electricity has stayed right down on the floor. In fact, over the last 15 years, the average price to the average family has been cut just about in half. Of course, you probably have more electric appliances and use more electricity today than you did then—but you're getting twice as much for your money!

Your thanks for such a big bargain belong largely to your friends and neighbors who work with this company. They're doing a better job every year.

Before leaving the United States Wallace had "mastered" the Chinese language.

Food, Home Notes

(By Miss Elizabeth Elliott, County Home Demonstration Agent.)

Summer Care of Refrigerators

Maybe you can't air condition your kitchen for summer, but the chances are you can make it more comfortable.

It's pretty important for your refrigerator to be in a cool place—a few feet from the kitchen stove, and if possible, where the sun can't shine on it. Make certain it's level, too. Your refrigerator should be at least two and a half inches away from the wall, so air can circulate freely around it.

That holds true for any type—electric, gas or oil. It's also good to have from eight inches to a foot of open space above the refrigerator.

While we're speaking of your refrigerator... make sure the condenser coils are kept clean and free from dust. Usually these coils are located behind or underneath the food chamber. If you have an electric box, disconnect the power before you do any cleaning around the motor. A long-handled brush will do the trick if you haven't a vacuum cleaner with the necessary attachments.

Now a word about the interior of your refrigerator. One of the best possible investments is a group of covered refrigerator dishes that will fit together without wasting shelf space. Most dime stores have these, as well as moisture-proof covers. Wide mouth jars with screw tops will also help fill out your set. Whatever you have don't leave uncovered food in the refrigerator. You'll find it will dry out more quickly, and further, you'll have the problem of objectionable odors.

A small work surface within reach of your refrigerator will be a great convenience. In this way you can take out or put in several articles at a time. That saves spilling the cold out frequently as you open the door. It prevents waste of electricity, gas and ice.

Mechanical refrigerators aren't being made now, so you'd better take care of what you have.

Mending Basket Stages Comeback

Homemakers are showing renewed interest in the contents of the mending basket as a result of war-time shortages.

For small holes in a good table cloth, yarns from the same lining should be used, even if one matching napkin has to be sacrificed. This trick of matching yarns is a good one to use on curtains of lace, marquisette, and sheers usually split lengthwise before they wear out crosswise, some yarn usually can be salvaged from left-over remnants. These yarns can be woven in crosswise. An expert job rarely will show after laundering.

When wide curtains have a hole near the edge, cut off the damaged part and make a new hem. On narrow curtains the width can be added with a contrasting store and treat. Mustard, okra, radishes, spinach: Harvest when pods mature. Cut plants or pull pods in early morning to prevent shattering. Thrash dry and store.

With squash, pumpkin, cushaw, cucumber, tomato, eggplant, cantaloupe, watermelon and pepper it is important to wash the seed thoroughly with two or three rinsings to remove all pulp or other foreign matter. A small wire strainer is useful for washing pulp or residue from some types of seed. It is not necessary to wash corn, okra, peas, beans, lettuce, mustard, spinach and radishes before drying. The chief idea with these is to remove all foreign matter by wind or other means.

To store successfully seed first must be cured or dried as nearly as possible to a state of complete dormancy. Probably the most practical method is lay them in the sun in thin layers, for a day or two after they have been properly cleaned.

National Farm Safety Week

As a part of the National Farm Safety Week Program, July 23-29, the Department of Agriculture offers some simple safety rules for women and girls doing farm work for the first time. In handling machinery—read and follow instructions; stop machine for all adjustments and repairs; unhitch horses from machine before making adjustments; wear coveralls with no loose parts to catch in machine. Speak quietly to animals when going close to them. Wear gloves for rough work. When sun is hot, wear a broad-brimmed hat, dark glasses when needed and if skin is tender use skin lotion. To be sure you can do heavy work safely, get a medical check-up. Move a ladder of ten instead of stretching. In lifting, use knees and keep back straight. Cleanse slight cuts and scratches and cover with sterile material. Wear whole, clean stockings and well fitted shoes with low, level heels. Eat three well-planned meals each day. When perspiring freely use one-eighth to one-fourth teaspoonful of salt to each glass of drinking water. When hours are long and the work is hard, eat a mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack.

Guest of the Vatican Freed

Mrs. Tittman, wife of the American charge d'affaires, was among the many Americans who were given protection in the Vatican when the United States entered the war. She is shown at the gates of Vatican City as she welcomed entering Americans of the victorious fifth army. Vatican is now giving protection to Nazi diplomats caught in Rome.

Kerosene Has Gone To War

Kerosene use on the home front must be reduced wherever possible this year, the Petroleum Administration for War warns, because of the tremendous and increasing consumption of kerosene in vital war fuels. Diesel engines use a fuel a portion of which has been diverted from the manufacture of kerosene. Diesel fuel oil, made of approximately one-third kerosene fractions, powers bulldozers, Diesel trucks, caterpillar tractors, construction machinery, dock and yard locomotives, every American submarine and nearly 100,000 invasion barges. PWA calls on users to use sparingly of kerosene—also known as coal oil, range oil, lamp oil, burning oil, and stove oil.

More Work Clothing

More civilian work clothing for men and boys is indicated by a War Production Board order requiring manufacturers of work clothing to produce during each quarter beginning July 1 at least 90 per cent of the number of garments manufactured during the third quarter of 1942. Items to be produced are bib overalls, dungarees, work shirts, one-piece work suits, pants, overall jackets and blanket-lined coats. In line with recent national legislation, manufacturers prices for the basic construction of denim (used widely in manufacture of overalls) have been raised one cent a yard, the Office of Price Administration announced.

More Calls For Nurses

A call for qualified nurses to work in Veterans Administration Hospitals to help provide adequate care for disabled veterans has been issued by the Veterans Administration. Hospitals are classified in three groups—General Medical and Surgical, Tuberculosis and Neuro-Psychiatric. Nurses work an eight-hour day, six days per week, with rotating shifts and additional compensation for overtime. Living accommodations may be obtained at the hospitals. Interested graduate nurses from recognized schools who are registered should write to Medical Director, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C. A campaign to recruit 8,500 nurses for the Army and Navy—at the rate of 1,000 a month for the Army and 500 a month for the Navy—has been announced by the War Manpower Commission. Nurses in the Army now have the full authority of their officer rank.

OPA Price Actions

Prices for the 1944 crops of a number of fresh food items have been set by OPA. Potato prices will be the same as for the 1943 crop except that for July there will be increases in the F. O. B. shipping point prices of 20 cents a hundredweight in Nebraska and 30 cents a hundredweight in Kansas, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia—states in which adverse weather caused decreased yield. Retail prices of 1944 sweet potatoes—with a national average of about 10 cents a pound over the 12 months—will be lower than for the 1943 crop, OPA says. Retail prices for the 1944 red sour cherries for table use or home canning will be about 17 cents a pound with stems and sold in containers and about 15 cents a pound without stems and sold in containers. The F. O. B. shipping point prices for these cherries in containers will be 11 cents a pound with stems and 9 1/2 cents a pound without stems. Sold in bulk without containers the price is two cents a pound less than the container prices. Highest prices for fresh peaches for table use should range from 14 1/2 to 16 cents a pound, OPA says, as these peaches are now under price control for the first time.

Make Chain For Farm Uses

To provide necessary chain for farm uses, the WPB has issued instructions to chain manufacturers on filling orders for suppliers and dealers serving the farm trade. Chain that the WPB expects to keep available includes harness chain, wagon chain, cow ties, tie outs, halter chain, log chain under one-half inch and repair and tap links.

Calls For Shipyard Workers

Fifty thousand additional shipyard workers are needed to meet the ship construction needs for European and Far Eastern operations. Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, Chairman of the United States Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administrator, announced. "Every man or woman who is able to work in a shipyard, and not at present employed in essential war work, should report at once to the nearest United States Employment Service office for enrollment in this most essential work," he said.

Round-Up

USDA says—in all states, farmers who need lumber for essential maintenance and repairs on farms may get preference ratings AA-2 or AA-3, as high as those assigned to any other civilian use. . . . Civilian butter supplies for the last half of this year will be shorter than for the first half, inasmuch as production during the next six months is expected to be lower than during the corresponding months last year and purchases for the armed forces are behind schedule.

OPA says—because sheepherders living for long periods in isolated areas eat large quantities of cereal foods and need more sugar than regular rations provide, they may get supplemental rations of one and one-half pounds a month. . . . Sales of major canned fruits and vegetables by home packers whose output in any calendar year does not exceed a specified amount—500 to 1,500 quarts—are exempt from price control.

Your Horoscope

July 17, 18.—You are a clear, sound reasoner, and generally of a good disposition. Your likes and dislikes are very strong. You are appreciated by those who understand you. Although you are sometimes considered cold and indifferent it will not swerve you from what you consider your strict line of duty.

July 19, 20, 21.—You are apt to have a little vanity and conceit, which may cause you some anxious moments but you will overcome this in time. You are a fluent talker, studious and fond of good books, but do not always return those you borrow. You have a desire to always do what is right.

July 22, 23.—You are impulsive, full of energy and always looking for some new sensation. You have many true friends who think none the less of you even though you are sometimes combative and fiery. You demand absolute faithfulness and honesty from others but you do not always give it yourself.

FOR THE HISTORY BOOKS

It is worth remembering that the freight traffic on the railroads of the United States in 1943 was nearly that of the peak year of World War I in 1918, while passenger traffic was more than twice as great. The 1943 record was handled without the prolonged congestion and delays of the first world war period.

And, mark this down: The 1943 job was done with one-third fewer locomotives, one-third fewer passenger cars, one-fourth fewer freight cars, and with 500,000 fewer men.

Back of it also was twenty years of improvement in plant, equipment and operating methods resulting from more than $10,000,000,000 in additions and betterments.

Back of it also was twenty years of planning and organized co-operation between carriers, employees and users of transportation, both private and government. This is an example of practical planning by a private industry to meet an emergency when it occurred. It did not draw on the Federal Treasury for support. Instead, it paid in 1943, $1,870,880,000 in taxes to support government, as compared with $229,533,000 in 1918.

Such a record deserves recognition and commendation. — Industrial News-Review.

Chairman, Railroad Commission of Texas.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

I have put forth an effort to make a house-to-house canvass of the county before the primary election, however, due to present existing conditions it is almost impossible to see and talk to each voter personally which was my intention and desire.

I trust you will consider this as a personal visit, and give my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer your careful consideration, and your vote will be greatly appreciated.

I do not have an income from any source or other means of making a living only the work I get to do.

The Voters of Foard County:

I tried to make a house to house canvass; but I was a few through oversight and a number at home. I am trying to see each of you before the primary election, Saturday, July 22nd; but I earnestly solicit your vote for County and Clerk.

I came to Foard County in 1908 and have lived here. I graduated from Crowell High School and two years in college, and have taught school in this county. I worked one year in the judge's office. With my experience, I feel I am competent of discharging the duties of this office. It is necessary that I must assist in the support of my family. I am seeking this office as a means of doing this, and if elected, I assure you I will render efficient service possible.

to the People of Foard County:

In my campaign for County Treasurer, I have exerted every effort to see each voter personally, but, in the event I have failed to do so, please consider this a solicitation of your vote and support in the coming election on July 22nd.

I am fully qualified for this office by virtue of my business training and experience in dealing with the public. I was employed by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas for two and one-half years, and since that time, have been employed by various concerns, and for three years I was employed by the State Department of Public Welfare in Foard County.

Should you elect me as your County Treasurer, I shall perform the duties efficiently, and endeavor to merit the trust that you have placed in me.

Infantile Paralysis Occurs More Often in Hot Months

Infantile paralysis is expected to occur more frequently during the next three months, declared Dr. Geo. W. ... State Health Officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months."

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscope. The first symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irascibility and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness; but in more severe cases, the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of various controlling one, or more, groups of muscles. Some remarkable recoveries have been noted."

"Flies, as other insects, while under suspicion, have not been demonstrated to play a part in the spread of this disease. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets attending coughing and sneezing. Children and young people that are healthy may be carriers of the germ. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is apt to suffer an attack."

Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that are affected. If parents note any symptoms of illness in their children, the family doctor should be consulted at once.

OIL INDUSTRY STATES CASE

"The oil industry has been handicapped in the past three years in its search for oil through a scarcity of skilled field manpower and a scarcity of equipment," says J. Edgar Pew, chairman of the American Petroleum Institute Committee on Petroleum Reserves. "Nevertheless, the industry has met the unprecedented requirement for its products and at the same time been able to maintain a favorable reserves position with little or no diminution."

"The only way this situation can be continued is through the discovery of new pools, or increases in the amount of oil in pools already discovered, resulting from deeper drilling, extension of producing areas, better techniques in production, more extensive secondary recoveries, and an opportunity for development of vast new areas so far untested and undeveloped. The history of the industry demonstrates that adequate oil supplies can be obtained in this manner at a fair price level."

"But the industry cannot discharge its responsibility to the public of giving assurance of adequate supplies for the future if it is required to continue depletion of its known reserves at a price based on costs which are less than the cost of replacing such reserves. A fair price level would be not only an incentive to the replacement of existing reserves, but it also would act as a spur to the development of synthetic oils derived from distillation of coal and shale which we have in abundance. "It is my opinion that the oil industry, with an adequate and fair price for its products, will be able to meet this nation's requirements for oil products from these sources of supply for many generations to come. In giving such an assurance, and assuming such a responsibility, the industry should have maximum freedom of opportunity to operate in the national interest."—Industrial News-Review.

WE WERE PREPARED

The progressive peacetime activities of this country laid the strongest foundation on which to build the most up-to-date war machine in the world when occasion arose. Nowhere has this been better illustrated than in the preparation of the American medical profession. The rapid progress of private medicine in the United States during the past generation outstripped government dominated medical systems of the nations we thought were so well prepared for war.

When American doctors were asked to staff an army of 10 to 12 million men, they provided a service unequalled in world history. They were ready with new medicines and new techniques. The doctors have been with the soldiers in combat as never before. The rapid attention to wounds, and hospital treatment has been marvellous. As one wounded soldier returning from the Channel front, said: "The medics are doing a terrific job on the beaches."

The American medical profession is as far ahead on the fighting front as it is on the home front. It maintains a personal relationship between the patient and the doctor that no regimented, socialized medical system could ever attain.—Industrial News-Review.

ATTENTION, VOTERS

As you know the time is drawing near for the first Primary and there are quite a few people who live out of town that I'm not going to get to call on personally. I had intended to go to every home but I've had so much car trouble that I realize now that I'm not going to get around, therefore I'm taking this means of soliciting your support.

I just want the people of Foard County to know how much I appreciate the trust they have shown in me and the support they have given me in the past. I can't begin to tell you how much this job has meant to me and my family and I don't think I could ever thank you enough.

There were a few people who were led to honestly believe that I wasn't qualified to hold this office the first time I was elected, but an examination of my records will prove to you that I was. I have done every thing in my power to make you a good Treasurer and if you see fit to elect me again I'm sure I can serve you better as experience always makes us better qualified for anything we are doing.

I want to thank you again for giving me this opportunity of serving you, and solicit your support on July 22nd.

To the People of Foard County

I was appointed District and County Clerk by the Commission Court to fill the unexpired term of J.A. Stovall, who resigned April 1, 1941. I am doing my very best to render courteous and efficient service in the office.

Seven years prior to my appointment to this office, I was employed in the office of the County Judge and Ex-Officio County School Superintendent; two and one-half years preceding my employment in the County Judge's office, I was employed as Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector of the County.

I finished high school at Crowell and received a business education at Draughton's Business College.

With my business education and experience I feel that I am competent to perform the many duties in the office of District and County Clerk.

I am exerting my efforts to see each of you personally, but, in the event I should fail I earnestly solicit your vote and support in the coming election.

What about travel conditions?

Travel conditions are different than they were in pre-war days.

Let's look at the facts: Throughout the land, tens of thousands of men and women of our armed forces are now traveling across the country by rail.

The families of our fighting troops are taking trips to "see the boys" before they shove off for overseas.

Executives and war workers of essential industries are traveling between various plants on important missions.

It all adds up to this: More passengers than ever before are crowding the Santa Fe trains.

We are required to handle this unprecedented volume of passenger traffic with practically the same equipment we had in 1941.

Building new passenger equipment has not been permitted since Pearl Harbor.

Our government has issued instructions to the railroads under Interstate Commerce Commission Service Order No. 213, effective 12:01 am June 27, to displace or remove any passenger in any accommodation upon any train, in order to provide necessary space for sick or wounded service personnel, and their attendants, transported pursuant to a medical certificate. We hope there will be little of this.

We of the Santa Fe will do our best to carry all the passengers we can, as quickly and comfortably as we can, but we ask this before you plan a trip this summer:

Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to carry you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?

When post-war plans are being considered we hope that our leaders will remember that whatever plans are made and whatever part this country is to have in them that it will be remembered that America must be kept strong. We must be strong in financial resources and in industrial resources and in the spirit of Nationalism. We must have a strong army, a strong air force, and a strong navy. Never again must we permit ourselves to be lured away from these obviously desirable and necessary things by the unground theory that being prepared makes for war, and being unprepared is an insurance against war. We have had two tragic examples of the fallacy of such a doctrine. We must not only have a good army and a good navy and a good air force, we must have the best. And finally as the preacher says, we should discourage the idea as un-American and false to our tradition and ideals, that Americans should not fight for liberty and right and against aggression.

The cost of the Rome to Naples offensive has been estimated at $6,700,000 and the cost of taking the Marshall Islands has been estimated at $6,000,000,000. These are a few of the reasons why it is necessary for Americans at home to buy bonds.

A captured Jap zero plane recently flew all over this country in an exhibition tour to boost war bond sales, and wasn't recognized as a Jap plane by air raid warning set-ups in any cities it visited, according to the War Department.

It is reported that General "Electric Whiskers" the Italian leader who was captured in North Africa, is a psychopathic patient in a U. S. prison hospital and has twice tried to commit suicide.

Dee Day Edwards was the name of a girl born in Norfolk, Va., on D-Day. In Dallas, Texas, Mrs. Walter Renfrow named her baby girl born on the same day, Invasia.

Waste paper shortage has become so acute that the army has promised to collect and return fiber cartons and other paper containers from two combat zones.

Plans for the production of civilian automobiles are expected to be announced in July or August. The first cars will be similar to the 1942 models.

HISTORY

Fulton's Steamboat—August 11: Every student of history is familiar with the story of Fulton's steamboat the "Clermont" and its trip up the Hudson River from New York City. Although Fulton was not the inventor or originator of the steamship, he is given the credit for having made steam navigation commercially successful. The "Clermont" sailed up the Hudson River on August 11 from New York City and within a month was making regular trips between New York and Albany. Previous to Fulton's exploit a steamboat had been built by John Fitch of Philadelphia who operated it on the Delaware River for several weeks in 1788. The enterprise proved a failure, due to lack of financial support. Fitch's boat was the first steamboat in America. Fulton was born in Little Britain, Penn., in 1765. He was early apprenticed to a jeweler in Philadelphia. While still engaged as a jeweler he painted portraits and landscapes. In 1789 he went to London to study painting under Benjamin West. His love for mechanics, however, asserted itself and he abandoned painting for mechanics and invention. In 1795 he went to Paris where he lived for a number of years. While in Paris he invented a submarine which he sought to sell to the French Government without success. In 1803 he built a small steamboat which operated on the Seine River. On his return to America in 1806 he turned his attention to steam navigation and the next year made the famous trip up the Hudson. In 1814 he built a steam frigate for the United States Navy. He died in 1815.

Congressman Dies has announced that he expects to retire. If he does the chances are that the Dies committee set up to investigate un-American activities will pass out of the picture. We believe that such a committee is a good thing. Even though it may not roll up a big record of arrests and convictions the existence of such a committee has a wholesome effect on those who are inclined to go too far. The American people are inclined to think in the security of their Democracy, that everything is all right, and that even those engaged in acts unfriendly to the government mean all right. Such a condition is an ideal soil for the planting of the seeds that grow into the sort of ideology that weakened France behind her Maginot line, and lulled England to sleep while a few miles away Hitler forged the guns and built the planes that were designed to destroy the British empire. It is important that we of this Democracy be on the alert and on guard always.

The severance of diplomatic relations with Finland and the sending home of the Finnish minister by the United States government occurred two days after the payment by Finland of $148,445.06 installment on her World War I debt to us.

When the war ends, America will own the greatest fleet of commercial vessels in history. The tonnage will equal more than half of the world's prewar tonnage.

LET'S LEAD THE PROCESSION

Surveys are being made over the nation for the purpose of determining post-war demands for air express and air freight. When one looks at a map showing the design for America's worldwide air routes, the importance of such preparation and co-ordination of the facilities to be offered the public becomes self evident. According to post-war plans now on paper, the United States expects that its international airlines will fly 140,000 miles, 606,000 of those miles over new routes. Where, before the war, passengers were the principal load, it is expected that air express and freight will add tremendously to the future cargo of the airlines. Just as an example to illustrate the possibilities, air express handled through La Guardia field during May, averaged more than 1,800 shipments a day, a 27.8 per cent increase over May, 1943. For the five-month period, January to May, at the same airport, express shipments increased 23 per cent over 1943. Fortunately, the United States has express facilities in almost every hamlet, which, under a co-ordinated pick-up and delivery system, are rendering universal service that can be extended to meet any future air transport requirements. As usual, private enterprise in our country is one jump ahead of demand. We can never afford to be the tail-end of the procession in future air developments for either passenger or cargo shipments, as this war has so dramatically demonstrated. — Industrial News-Review.

Mrs. Frieda Hittle, volunteer War Fund worker for the Sublette County, Wyo., chapter of the Red Cross, traveled 250 miles by horseback to cover her territory. Another worker, Mrs. Ted Dew, made her rounds on snowshoes. . . Mrs. Oswald Freitag, New Glarus, of the Green County, Wis., chapter, 81 years old and totally blind, has made 25 sweaters and several scarfs and helmets for servicemen. She drops marbles in a glass jar to keep count of the knitted rows.

It may be that this thought will persist throughout the convention in spite of the whiplashes of the cheer leader, the parades, the voting, the nominating and seconding speeches, and the conferences of a party leaders, yet when each one leaves the convention for home he has caught a concept of certain victory that he carries throughout the campaign, until he goes down fighting gloriously in the big November drive. Although every student and analyst of conditions has known all along what the result in November would be, our delegate walks up to a realization of the truth of what has been going on the country over for the first time the morning after election. He is amazed to discover that what he thought would be a landslide of votes for his candidate turned out to be merely a sprinkling.

Political conventions, though there is much about them that is juvenile, and even pure bank, are a good thing. They offer a valuable release of emotions, and the months that follow give the party leaders and the party members something to take their minds off the real, and the stern, and the uncomfortable things of life.

Miracle of Today

Simply, in a voice devoid of emotion, William Furber, San Diego, Calif., describes a miracle of the 20th century. He had been blind for 30 years.

Flak Is Now Happy

"Flak", a black cocker spaniel, is pictured in his Denver home with his new mistress, Mrs. Jesse Bell, after his plane trip from England which was authorized by General Arnold, chief of the air forces. Flak was the pet of Mrs. Bell's son, Sgt Robert K. Bell, 23, who was killed when his bomber crashed in England.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

This is the year of the National political conventions. It is the year when sober and reserved and dignified men, normally sharply circumscribed by convention, numerous inhibitions, attitudes of conservatism, and dignified reserve, gather together in crowded convention halls and swelter in the heat of June and July temperatures, while they go through the prescribed American process of nominating a presidential and a vice presidential candidate.

At such times men become boys again. They cast aside all dignity, all conservatism, forget the world, the business back home and of nominating a presidential and become in spirit, at least, carefree boys again.

They march up and down the hall, cheer without restraint and applaud to the point of physical exhaustion every statement made by any speaker that is designed to take a poke at the opposition.

It is at the national convention that would be embryonic and time tested orators have their one mad, wild fling. It is the one time that they may appear before a microphone with a nation wide hook-up, beat their breasts and thunder forth the pent up eloquence that often must cause the orators of old to shift uneasily in their crowded quarters.

There is nothing in all the world that even remotely resembles a political convention unless it is a meeting of the cheering section of the home town high school on the occasion of one of the decisive games of the conference, when the cheer leaders resort to every known trick—even to startling and violent gymnastics, for the purpose of putting the fright into the home team, and the home folks. The only difference is that a national political convention costs more and reaches more people. From the standpoint of personal frenzy developed and determination to completely and utterly destroy the enemy, there is no difference.

I think that if I were to use one expression that would come nearest in my estimation to describing a national political convention it would be that a political convention is a gathering of men in which inhibition is completely lacking.

The psychological effect of a national political convention is a remarkable phenomenon. Men, whole delegations of them, journey long distances to attend a national political convention, though each one may have a firm conviction in his heart that he is battling a lost cause and a forlorn hope.

IN THE NEWS 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The News of Friday, July 17, 1914:

The handling of the big press and other machinery of The Foard County News last week caused considerable comment. The big press weighs nine thousand pounds, and had to be torn down to the floor, moved to its new quarters back of the Allee-Henry store, and rebuilt. We are now in our new quarters where we have one of the finest country offices in this part of the state.

W. R. Parrish of Rayland and Miss Hattie Kinchloe of near Vernon were married last Monday at the residence of Amos Wampler, brother-in-law of Mr. Parrish. The couple will live on the excellent farm owned by Mr. Parrish in the Rayland community.

Supt. T. A. Taggart and family are now in Crowell, and Mr. Taggart is busy these days doing preparatory work in the way of creating an interest in school work on the part of both parent and pupil. Mr. Taggart's ambition is to make Crowell the center of education in Foard County.

Burk Burnett of Fort Worth spent Sunday evening here, being on his way home from his ranch in King County. Mr. Burnett is one of the few cattle barons that are still left in Texas, and has several other distinctions. Last year he branded over 80,000 calves, and holds in fee simple 400,000 acres. Besides owning three oil mills, and stock in numerous banks, he is the largest individual money lender in Texas. — Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Although there will be hundreds of cars needed to take care of Foard County's big wheat crop, there has been no car shortage to date. Our accommodating agent and other railroad officials, have been able to supply our local dealers with all the cars necessary to take care of the great volume of wheat that is daily coming into Crowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Russell and a few friends gave a lawn party on last Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lauderdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wither- spoon came in Tuesday from Elmer, Okla., where they had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. F. George.

Fred Riethmayer was here from Margaret one day last week and renewed the News man with a renewal of his subscription.

"Destination, Tokyo" at Rialto Theatre

"Destination, Tokyo," starring Cary Grant and John Garfield and showing at the Rialto Theatre Sunday and Monday, is the portrayal of the United States submarine warfare in the Pacific against Japan. Supervised and approved by our Navy, the incidents pictured in this exciting drama are based upon actual submarine experiences. The picture is even more timely today than when released almost one year ago following the devastating raids our subs are making on Japanese ships.

In accelerating refining, marketing and transportation facilities of the war-greased petroleum industry. This huge sum does not include the incalculable other millions of dollars spent by the companies for stepped up exploration, development and wildcatting to assure the prodigious petroleum production was made necessary.

A country of freedom like the United States has the edge over any nation whose people are dominated by rules with no faith in the intelligence of their fellow citizens. People who are dominated must be led. When war came the people of this country did not wait to be led by government authority. Industries such as oil went ahead on their own initiative with the result that the armed forces have plenty of oil and everything else they need.

Individual independence is the secret of the American production miracle. The Axis leaders cannot understand this as our tanks and planes by the tens of thousands blast them out of their ill-gotten empires. — Industrial News-Review.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Victory Garden of Life: I want to say to you that the ground was not working in my garden the other day. Because of freedom it was not easily worked, a good many weeds had grown up in the garden and in some places threatened to choke out the rows of growing crops. The situation brought out the fact that weeds and gardens cannot occupy the same place at the same time. The soil will produce either weeds or crops. It cannot produce both. If we desire to produce crops we must hoe or pull up the weeds and other foreign plants that rob the soil of its fertility and choke out the crops. Given a chance and cultivated the crops will soon reach the point where they can produce the fruits of their kind. I thought as I worked the human life is a lot like a Victory garden. Unless some definite plan is followed and care and cultivation and selection exercised, it becomes like a garden filled with weeds. If we want to develop desirable traits, and culture, and knowledge, in our lives we have to work diligently to the end that the common and less worthwhile things do not crowd them out. No life can support both. It will have one or the other. It depends upon the individual whether his life is filled with useful fruits and flowers, or worthless weeds.

Soil Conservation Meetings Planned

Quite a nice group of farmers met in the court house Saturday to consider and plan for the convention which will consist of Foard and Hardeman Counties.

They have arranged to have Paul G. Haynes, Soil Conservation Specialist, here and at Thalia, August 4 and 5, to discuss this proposition with the general public. Paul is with the Extension Service of A. & M. College.

A meeting will be held at Thalia Friday night at 8:30 p. m. at the school house, and one here at Crowell at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday in the district court room.

The purpose of the two meetings is to give every farmer in the county an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the soil conservation program.

The election will be held Saturday, August 12, and there will be four voting places in the county, at Crowell, Rayland, Thalia, and Foard City.

The state election law will govern the election and only land owners, men and women can vote. You can vote at any one of the boxes indicated.

Women are invited and urged to attend the meeting scheduled above, and to vote in the election the following Saturday.

The Care of Pullets

Now is a rather critical time for summer pullets that will come into laying in the next three months. In the first place it is best to grow them out completely before they begin laying or they may never get their flock worth.

During this hot, dry season it will be difficult to have green feed for them and since they are a dead expense until they begin to lay they absorb a pretty stiff feed bill, so we are inclined to reduce their feed to less than their absolute needs.

It is also important that they have an abundance of good, cool water available at all times as well as adequate shade, and that they are not crowded on roosts at night.

If they could be provided a good out-door shade, wired in so that you could force them to roost in it, it would be a fine place to keep them.

To insure them against fowlpox vaccinate them between 8 and 12 weeks of age. This disease is usually prevalent here in the county and vaccination will prevent it.

Cull out weak and unhealthy birds. It costs too much to feed them as they would be late layers. Rid them of external insects and if wormy, treat them before they begin to lay. Avoid if possible any molt among them.

Care of Laying Hens

Now is the time to cull your poultry flocks, especially hens that have been laying for the past season.

Many of these hens will be completing their production period and will be going into a feather molt. These hens should be taken from the flock as they will not lay any more eggs until they have completed the molt and have recovered their body vigor.

They will consume a lot of high cost feed and will give nothing in return.

These hens will show shrunken and pale combs, heavy molt and the yellow color will begin to return to their beaks and shanks. A little later they will be the best looking birds in the flock with their new coat of feathers and will be in good flesh.

The old faithful hens will be ragged, with bright red combs and no color in their beaks and shanks, but still delivering their goods.

The lazy non-producers will stay in the poultry house a lot of the time while your good layers will be out hustling. These ragged looking late moulters are your most vigorous and best hens.

Occasionally a good layer, either of the following three organizations, the Veterans' Employment Service, the U. S. Employment Service, or the War Man Power Commission.

If referred to the latter and the veteran is interested in some phase of agriculture, he then is referred to the Extension Service for council and advice.

The service here in the county will have a small committee composed of farmers and ranchmen who will act with the County Agent in assisting the veterans.

They will council with him as to the types of farming, amount of capital required, source of credit, size of economic unit needed for his maintenance and as to sound operating policies.

He may obtain a twenty year loan up to $2,000.00 and if he has an agricultural background, he is eligible to operate under the provisions of the tenant purchase farm plan.

He may also continue his educational efforts and for which he may receive around fifty dollars per month, and if married, seventy-five dollars a month for his maintenance. He may also enter some phase of production as a worker.

READY WHEN NEEDED

There is no better barometer of the progress of a nation than the activities of its industries. No nation is better prepared to meet an emergency than are its industries. This was dramatically proved in the preparedness of private enterprise in the United States to implement the war demands of our government. Even in the extraordinary things, American industry prepared. For instance, how do people think of the inflexible organization required to aid in the vital Red Cross blood work? Rapid movement of precious fluid from the centers to the processing factories is as imperative as the blood. This problem was in the hands of the industry, as part of the day-to-day collection and delivery facilities every corner of the nation uses specially equipped motor containers for containers the transportation under the temperatures required. A recent survey shows that in 1943, approximately 2,875,000 pints of plasma were poured into dry plasma containers after donation by the public.

While our country was not overlooked the fact that the strength was in the alertness and initiative of free enterprise compared with the stunted and lack of incentive in government-owned activities in the lands.—Industrial News-Service

Somewhere in England—21 missions over Europe started thinking," admitted the young gunner to the Red Cross ambulance girl. "But one thing I know if I go to heaven, I'll see angels wearing Red Cross forms."

The Liberator bombers cost the government $100 each. Earlier in the war the bombers cost $238,000.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Victory Garden of Life: I quent rains and an extended period of wet weather the ground was not working in my garden the other day. Because of freedom could not be easily worked, a good many weeds had grown up in the garden and in some places threatened to choke out the rows of growing crops. The situation brought out the fact that weeds and gardens cannot occupy the same place at the same time. The soil will produce either weeds or crops. It cannot produce both. If we desire to produce crops we must hoe or pull up the weeds and other foreign plants that rob the soil of its fertility and choke out the crops. Assistance to War Veterans

Plans have been made to render assistance to returning war veterans that are being released or will be discharged in the future.

It may not have occurred to you that Foard County has now more than 500 individuals in the armed services.

REMARKABLE RECORD

An interesting report on incendiary and arson has been released by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It shows that notwithstanding the increase in the aggregate fire loss and the increased number of arrests and convictions, there has not been any increase in fires set for profit during past year. Universal employment and high wages, and high prices for commodities have eliminated the usual motives for arson.

During the greatest war in history no enemy directed sabotage, nor in fact, any serious sabotage of any kind involving property loss from fire has occurred. There have been a few incendiary fires attributable to war conditions. For instance, fires have occurred in a meat packing plant ordered closed for violation of OPA regulations, in small grocery stores, fill-stations and roadhouses whose proprietors have had to respond to the calls of Selective Service, or whose businesses have been lessened seriously by the restrictions on gasoline and tires.

One serious fire of incendiary origin doubtless was due to a change in the rulings of the War Production Board with reference to the use of restricted materials which made obsolete by the manufacture of them. But the remarkable part is that destruction by fire due to enemy action has been non-existent.

Fire prevention activities have been effective in holding down losses which otherwise could have been staggering in the enormous war plants hastily constructed and with much combustible material stored in all parts of the nation.

While there is nothing dramatic about preventing fire, the benefit resulting therefrom to our nation and the Armed Forces is infinitely greater than from putting out a spectacular blaze. Preventing and extinguishing fires are inseparable and must work hand-in-hand, and never makes the newspaper headlines.—Industrial News-Review.

EFFICIENT RETAILING STABILIZES PRODUCTION

In no other nation in the world has the average citizen been so well served with the necessities of life, and even luxuries, during the present terrible war, as in the United States. There is a reason for this—no nation in the world has had as many free and independent business men seeking to supply the needs of the people, as has the United States.

War restrictions on production and distribution were inevitable. Hastily drawn as they were, many of them have been confusing and of them actually damaging to maximum production and distribution. Nevertheless, American business adjusted itself to the rules and regulations and kept the supply stream going to consumers.

This never could have been done, nor would government rationing and price control have been successful, except for the efficient retailing system this nation enjoys. Chain stores played a tremendous part in results that have been secured. They have been a stabilizing influence in maintaining production and distribution on an even keel.

Such stores were built up on the basic idea of a minimum profit on each sale, in order to create a maximum turnover. That policy is probably doing more to stabilize prices than any man-made legislation can accomplish in the face of rising wages and material costs.

In the post-war period, the nation will depend even more on efficient mass merchandising practices to readjust to a peacetime economy and get the ten thousand and one articles of peacetime commerce into the hands of the consuming public, thereby giving the most rapid and elastic outlet for farm and factory production.—Industrial News-Review.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is what the Scriptures declare Him to be.—Life, Truth, Love" (page 330).

FIRE PREVENTION LOWERS INSURANCE RATES The city of Hartford, Conn., in winning the 1943 fire waste contest of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, sets an example for all cities producing implements of war. The prize is a cup offered by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

In wartime the honor of winning this contest is even greater than in peacetime due to the importance of maintaining production for the Armed Forces, which would be seriously interrupted by any major fire in one of our huge war plants.

In presenting the award, Peter J. Berry, Secretary of the National Board, says that organization has worked for many years with groups and individuals throughout the country in their efforts to reduce fire losses, "so that lives will be saved, property damages reduced and insurance costs lowered."

"That fire prevention work definitely has contributed to reducing fire insurance costs," is shown by the record. Thirty years ago the average cost, country-wide, of $100 worth of fire insurance protection, was $1.15. Today, the same amount of protection, on the average, costs 61 cents.

From these figures, it can be readily seen that while the honor of winning an award is sweet, the greatest satisfaction to any community that reduces its fire losses comes from the knowledge that in so doing it is contributing not only to the saving of life and property, but to the steady downward trend in fire insurance rates. This is of direct financial benefit to virtually every family in the land.

The greater the interest in fire prevention, the greater the return to the public.—Industrial News-Review. Shiawasse County, Mich., Red Cross chapter reports that 70-year-old Mrs. William Beehler has worked 8,266 volunteer hours since Pearl Harbor, knitting seven pairs of gloves and 4 1/2 sweaters weekly despite being crippled by arthritis.

Home nurses of the Chickasaw District chapter at Blytheville, Ark., recently met an emergency at a local hospital by volunteering their services in the absence of trained nurses. In appreciation of these volunteers' services, the nurse superintendent contributed to the chapter the amount which would have been paid for professional nurses.

In May, the Army Service Forces moved a record of almost four million measurement tons of Army cargo overseas. The peak tonnage moved in the last war was 829,000 measurement tons, in November, 1918. According to the Office of War Information 70,000 discharged soldiers are entering industry each month. Most of these are going into war production plants.

Veterans at New Secret Base

Sergt. G. S. McCall of Augusta, Ga., meets two young Russian women soldiers at one of the new secret air bases in Russia being used by U. S. planes for shuttle bombing. Both women are 21 years old and veterans of the battles of Leningrad and Stalingrad. Several of these bases are now being operated by U. S. air forces in Russia.

Saved by Grace

Text: "By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God; not the works, lest any man should boast"—Ephesians 2:8, 9.

The Greek word for grace is charis. In pagan Greece it referred to a favor which one Greek did for another, a favor done out of the generosity of his heart, without any strings tied to it. He did not expect anything in return. Of course, a favor was always done to a friend, never an enemy.

But God's grace is different. God did a favor for the entire race of sinners who hated Him, who spat in His face, who cruelly scourged Him and then crucified Him. That favor was in dying on the cross for us, paying our penalty for sin, satisfying His justice so that He could righteously show us mercy. And He did it all out of the infinite generosity of His heart.

John says, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son." It is through God's grace shown in His act of dying for us on Calvary that sinners are saved. But only those sinners are saved who put their trust in the Lord Jesus as Saviour. This salvation which the believing sinner receives is a gift. Now we do not ask for a gift, nor offer to pay for it. We just take it with the outstretched hand and thank the giver. It is just so with salvation. We need not beg God to save us, nor should we try to buy salvation from Him. He offers it to everyone for the

To the People of Foard County, Texas Dear Friends: Since I have been your County Judge I have exerted my total efforts towards rendering to you, the people of the entire county, a sound, sane, economical and impartial administration. NO SPECIAL FAVORS of any description or character have ever been bestowed upon anyone. NO SPECIAL INTERESTS have ever been served. ON THE CONTRARY, my policy has always been that whatever action is taken MUST BE to the interest of the entire county. The financial condition of the county as reflected by your County Audit is excellent, such audit reflecting that all operating expenditures and sinking fund requirements have been met with nice balances remaining. I have worked diligently for the best interests of all the schools in the county to the end that all of our major schools are permanently standardized and for the current year received excellent ratings and special commendation was given to the Superintendents, Principals, Teachers and the County Superintendent for their splendid work. I have never for one minute forgotten that a public office is a public trust and that it belongs to the people who give it and I sincerely believe that my administration clearly reflects that I have never forgotten and never intend to forget this fact. I am fully aware that the success or failure of any administration depends upon the co-operation of the people involved. You have been very generous to me and have co-operated wholeheartedly in my endeavors and any success which I have made is due just as much to your spirit of co-operation as it is to my efforts, and if you see fit to re-elect me as your County Judge, I shall continue to exert my very best efforts towards rendering to you, the people of the entire county, the same sound, economical and impartial administration as in the past and shall, again, appreciate, beyond measure, your continued co-operation. I shall sincerely appreciate your vote on July 22nd. Sincerely, LESLIE THOMAS (Paid Political Advertisement)

Miss Dosca Hale Becomes Bride of Roy Copeland June 24

Miss Dosca Hale, for the past eight years Extension Specialist in Texas in parent education and child development, resigned her position on June 1, and was married to Roy Copeland of Roswell, N. M., on June 24. They will make their home in Roswell where Mr. Copeland is employed by the state highway department.

Mrs. Copeland taught home economics in the Austin public schools and served as head of the home economics department at Fort Smith, Ark., before her appointment as county home demonstrator of Foard County. She served in that capacity for several years and in 1931, was transferred to Nueces County, and was placed on the headquarters staff in College Station in 1936.

Mrs. Copeland was the recipient of a number of complimentary parties before she left College Station, among them an announcement party and a shower.

The bride has many friends in Foard County, who wish her well in her new home.

Pfc. Thos. C. Short Weds in Massachusetts

Mrs. Lucy S. Travers of Cambridge, Mass., has announced the marriage of her daughter, Lucy, to Pfc. Thomas C. (Cecil) Short, son of John L. Short of Olton, formerly of the Riverside community.

The wedding took place on Saturday, June 24, at 5 p. m., at the home of the bride, with Rev. C. Gordon Brownville, pastor of the Tremont Temple Baptist Church, officiating.

For the wedding, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white chiffon and lace and a tulle veil of finger tip length, draped from a tiara of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Lena Travers, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore pink marquisette and a matching shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Anthony Travers, brother of the bride, was best man. After a reception at the bride's home, the couple left for a short trip to Martha's Vineyard, Mass. The groom has recently returned from Italy and received wounds in action for which he was awarded the Purple Heart.

LIFE'S Little TROUBLES

CAN'T SLEEP

No need to lie in bed—toss—worry and fret because CONSTIPATION or GAS PRESSURE won't let you sleep. Be sensible—get up—take a dash of ADLER-I-KA as directed, to relieve the pressure of large intestines on nerves and organs of the digestive tract. Adlerika assists old food wastes and gas through a comfortable bowel movement so that bowels return to normal size and the discomforts of pressure stop. Before you know it, you are asleep. Morning finds you feeling clean—refreshed and ready for a good day's work or fun. Get Adlerika from your druggist today.

Announcement Made of Marriage of Mrs. House and F. Brock

The marriage of Mrs. Mollie House to J. F. Brock, which took place in Hobart, Okla., on May 16, has been announced in Crowell. The marriage took place at the Methodist Church in Hobart, with Rev. Percy W. Beck, pastor of the church, officiating.

Both parties are well-known in Crowell. Mrs. Brock will continue in her present capacity as manager of the Rialto Theatre.

Former Crowell Man Weds in Waco

J. D. Miller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Miller, residents of Crowell until they recently moved to Henrietta, was married on Saturday evening, July 1, to Miss Beulah Faye Shelton of Waco. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Shelton.

The sister and brother-in-law of the groom, Lt. and Mrs. Dan Weber of San Antonio, were the attendants of the bride and groom. Members of both families and a few close friends were guests for the wedding.

Mrs. Miller is secretary to the head of the Waco Sanitation division. Mr. Miller, who was formerly connected with the sanitation department of Waco, is at present employed in the department of vocational rehabilitation, state board of education, in Dallas, where the couple will make their home.

VIVIAN H. D. CLUB

At the opening exercises of the Vivian Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Edd Self, Thursday, July 13, Miss Alice Bowley of Dallas, sang, "Holy and Beautiful City," with Miss Marion Self accompanying her at the piano.

Miss Myrtle Fish, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting. "News about Dried Eggs" was discussed by Miss Dolores Gilbert, who stated that of the 80 drying plants in the nation, Texas has 12. She also said that eggs are being shipped in 5 ounce containers to the armed forces and to the United Nations.

College Extension Service explains that dried eggs are only one-fourth as heavy as shell eggs, and that fact alone is very important now that transportation is such an important factor.

Visitors for the day were Miss Alice Bowley of Dallas, Mrs. John Bowley and daughter, Bettie Jo of Houston, Miss Inez Brewer of Paducah, Mrs. John Marr, Mrs. Opal Marr, Mrs. Allen Fish, Mrs. J. M. Denton and daughter, Fay, Mrs. James Sandlin, Misses Bernita Fish and Genie Nelson. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bert Matthews on July 27, with the subject, "Know Your Soldier."

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

Mrs. Lula Scott was hostess to the West Side Home Demonstration Club on July 12. The subject for study and discussion was "Eggs." The members presented interesting articles on dried eggs, cooking of eggs, and why to eat an egg a day.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott gave a demonstration on candling eggs. At the business session, Mrs. Gertrude Alexander was selected as delegate to the state meeting in Austin in August. Her name was presented to the Foard County Council for election.

Mrs. Charlie Bryson, Nancy Ann Cogdell and Mrs. J. C. Kincheloe were visitors present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charlie Carroll.

MARGARET H. D. CLUB

The Margaret Home Demonstration Club met at the school house on July 14. Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Home Demonstration Agent, gave a demonstration on quality eggs.

The eggs should be gathered two or three times a day and kept in the refrigerator or in a cool place in a covered container. This keeps the water from evaporating in the egg. Never wash an egg, if dirty. Use fine steel wool or sand paper. Washing opens up the pores of the shell and the egg doesn't keep as long as when no water is used on it.

The next meeting will be held at the school house on July 28. The program subject is, "What You Don't Know May Hurt You."

Big Pull Behind Allied Push

Not far behind the Allied Fifth and Eighth armies who are pushing the Germans out of Italy come the hundreds of refugee families who are taking the road back to their homes. This family is typical. Lacking transportation, the family uses its man (and woman) power to haul its worldly possessions on a farm cart.

Bard Sworn Into Office

Ralph A. Bard, who handled the navy's labor relations as assistant secretary was sworn in as undersecretary of navy by Adm. T. L. Gatch. Left to right: Admiral Gatch; Adm. Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations; and Bard. He was the personal choice of Forrestal, secretary of the navy, and his appointment met with almost universal approval by congress.

TSCW HONOR ROLL

Denton, July 17.—Miss Mary Beth Chowning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Chowning of Denton, is among 220 students listed on the Denton's Special Honor Roll for outstanding scholastic achievement during the second semester of the 1943-44 session at Texas State College for Women. Twenty-four of the group made all A's.

To qualify for the honor, a student must have at least two and three-tenths as many grade-points as hours of credit, complete at least nine hours of work, and must have no failing or incomplete grades on her college record.

Each student on the list received notice of the honor and congratulations from Dean E. V. White for attainment of excellent scholarship.

Miss Chowning is an Accounting and Business major at TSCW.

LIBRARY NOTES

"If This Be Forgetting" by Earl Reed Silvers is a late addition to the books of the Library. Earl Reed Silvers, director of the Rutgers University Press, is the author of 27 books for young people. "Whenever I see sunlight on clean snow, I shall think of you," thus begins the poignantly beautiful love story of Red Wyck-off and Dusty Gray, poles apart in their backgrounds and ways of living but drawn together irresistibly by their abiding love for each other. It is the story of the kind of people and the types of situations which are being met with and dealt with every day.

"The Brother" is a novel of James, the brother of Christ. Any novel dealing with the life of Christ is at once challenging and compelling but in "The Brother," Dorothy Clark Wilson has used a completely new, truly fascinating approach. Here, for the first time in the history of contemporary fiction, the character and influence of Jesus are revealed through the suffering uncertainty in the heart of his brother, James.

Navy Pilot Thought His Vision Perfect—and Maybe It Was

Aboard an Aircraft Carrier in the Pacific (Delayed)—Navy pilots must have perfect vision, but Lt. Cdr. Paul D. Buie, USN, began to wonder if his eyes were deceiving him after his first experience with masthead bombing.

After enemy fighter planes had been cleared from the air over Palau harbor, some planes of the attacking force were given permission to carry bombs for use in low-level attacks against Jap shipping caught in the harbor.

Lt. Cdr. Buie, commander of a squadron, chose a 3,000-ton Jap transport as his target, came in just above the water at high speed, and saw his bomb hit the transport squarely and explode.

Then he circled to come back and strafe the ship with his machine guns.

"But the ship wasn't there," Buie complained. "It just wasn't there. I looked around, but could not find anything but a lot of wreckage and oil on the water. There wasn't a thing left to strafe."

Buie's home is Nashville, Ga., a town of 2,500 population. Buie attended the University of Georgia two years before being appointed to the Naval Academy, of which he is a graduate.

County Council H. D. Clubs Meets Saturday

The Council of the Home Demonstration Clubs of Foard County met at the office of Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Home Demonstration Agent, on Saturday afternoon with eight members present. Roll call was answered with what was done at the last meeting.

Mrs. Virgil Johnson was appointed chairman of health and Mrs. Guy Morgan and Mrs. Arthur Sandlin were placed on the committee. Mrs. S. E. Tate was elected as vice chairman of the council.

The market committee is planning to investigate the possibility of buying peaches, co-operatively. Delegates elected to attend the Demonstration Association on August 12 and 13 were Mrs. H. L. Shultz, Mrs. Earl Davis and Mrs. Clarence Garrett. Alternate delegates elected were Mrs. Gertrude Alexander and Miss Myrtle Fish.

Miss Carrie Collins, secretary of the Langlade County, Wis., Red Cross chapter, was presented with a 26-year service pin recently when she was obliged to resign because of her health. . . . The first Negro itinerant home nursing service in the midwestern area was inaugurated early this year by the Houston County chapter of Crockett, Texas. The nurse, Mrs. Gladys A. Johnson, already has four classes going with a membership of 116, and three more are being organized.

A family in Wisconsin habitually paid 50 cents to an Indian for a pair of blueberries. But one day last summer he upped the price to $1.00. "Why?" they asked. "Hell of a big war some place," was his laconic reply.—Wichita (Kan.) Democrat.
