Incidence of Mumps Expected As Schools Open Fall Terms

Austin.—With the opening of the school term an increase in the incidence of mumps is to be expected. This is due in part to the fact that mumps is essentially a childhood disease and the contagion factor exists before the symptoms appear.
Mumps is transmitted by direct contact with an infected person and with articles freshly soiled by the secretions or discharges from the mouth or nose of persons having the disease. It takes from 12 to 26 days for mumps to manifest itself after the infection takes place. The disease can be easily transmitted, but one attack usually establishes immunity although second attacks sometimes occur.
A virus is responsible for this infection, the characteristic symptom of which is a painful swelling of the salivary glands. Sometimes there is an involvement of other portions of the body causing disturbances in the digestive, nervous, circulatory, and genitourinary systems. The disease is usually accompanied by a temperature rise which more often than not is mild.
"The patient suffering with this disease should be isolated from other members of the family immediately upon the suspicion that mumps exists, and the family physician should be called promptly. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer advises, "In the meantime, the doctor's orders should be followed strictly. Violating his instructions can lead to serious injury which may permanently affect the individual."

OES Urges All to Plan Now for Post War Buying

Right now—before Johnny comes marching home again and before the Victory parade sweeps down Main Street—is the time to make your own post war plans. The Office of Economic Stabilization urges. Planned spending and saving will make possible post war purchases of such things as homes, household equipment and automobiles, will permit children to be given better educational opportunities, and make it possible for returning veterans and others to start new businesses. Common sense household budgeting was recommended by OES as the heart of planned saving and spending.
OES said that funds can be set aside advantageously in these days of merchandise scarcities for many types of goods that will almost certainly be better and may be more reasonable in price after the war than those it is now possible to buy. Only by working out a budget can a family or a person see all expenditures in relation to income—a necessary preliminary where it is desirable and feasible to effect economies. Putting a budget on paper encourages precise estimates, according to OES, because it facilitates the review and follow-up that are so essential to the success of planned money management.
One's estimation of a living wage depends on whether he is getting or giving it.
To determine the real value of money, just try to borrow some.

HISTORY

Birthday of James Whitcomb Riley
 James Whitcomb Riley was born in Greenfield, Ind., October 7, 1849, and died in 1918. He was one of the very few poets whose birthday was observed while he was still alive. In 1904, four years before his death, arrangements were made to celebrate the anniversary of his birth in the square of America, the big square of the first anniversary of the anniversary of the birth of Lincoln. It was the intention of the committee in Greenfield, Ind., to observe the anniversary of his birth in the big square of the city by the erection of a statue of Riley. A.S.T.P. CANCELLED AT LUBBOCK
 Lubbock, Sept. 13.—The contract with the government Texas Technological College for the Army Special Training program will be cancelled effective Sept. 30. It was notified Richard Denton by President Clifford B. J. commanding general of the Eighth Service Command.

The cancellation of the contract, first step by the school's reconstruction from a war time peace time program, was caused by two reasons. Some facilities are urgently needed other colleges are also anxious to increase their A.S.T.P. quotas.

This step on the part of the Technological College works in accordance with the War Relocation Authority. The president J. Denton said. He reported that the reconstruction of the Eighth Service Command, had exceeded plans and that the school was not satisfactory.

The tax on this form will be figured by the collector from a table that automatically allows about 10 per cent of the employee's total income for charitable contributions, interest, taxes, and other expenses, etc. Therefore, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue states, employees should not list deductions for such expenses on their Withholding Receipt. However, an employee whose expenses for these purposes exceeded 10 per cent of his total income may claim his deductions in detail.

Forming of the new form of Withholding Receipts has begun, but it may take a few months before all employees receive new supplies. The new form is being printed in duplicate. The employee or give the employe the first copy and sends the third to the office of the collector in that district. The first copy, marked "Original," may be filed out by the employe and mailed in as his return. The second copy, marked "Employee's Copy," or "Duplicate," is to be retained by the employe for his own personal records.

Will Take About Five Minutes to Make Tax Return

Approximately 30,000,000 employees will be affected by the work of computing their 1944 income tax by using Withholding Receipts for their returns. Joseph E. Kahan, Jr., Commissioner of Internal Revenue has announced. Under the new arrangements, the work of filling out the Withholding Receipt, from which the tax is computed, ought to consume no more than five minutes. Fast workers ought to be able to cut this time in half.

A Withholding Receipt, showing what wages paid and total income tax withheld during the year is required by law to be furnished by each employer to each of his employees on or before January 15. The form of the Withholding Receipt has been revised to include the necessary questions and instructions so that it will permit most employees to use it as a return.

The form of return may be used to compute total income in 1944, was less than $2,000 in wages and not more than $1,000 in other forms, such as dividends and interest. An employer using a Withholding Receipt for his return will do it in and mail it to him with other returns of similar nature. To illustrate what is required to be done in carrying out the first step in the process, the following table for example is shown for sale.

Take for example a simple thing such as a box. First, take it to a structure. The handle is stamped and stamped and published. The metal parts are polished and bright and even machined to with beautiful accuracy or point. It looks "finished." This is done every day by an expert. It is not a job to be done by an amateur. It must be done by an expert. It is not a job to be done by an amateur. It must be done by an expert. It is not a job to be done by an amateur. It must be done by an expert.

There are exceptions to this in the industry when the industry is not in touch with the whole picture and handle the marketing of it. This exception can be advantageous and disadvantageous. It is a value and economical matter to the sales person and to the consumer. It is a value and economical matter to the sales person and to the consumer. Funeral of 'The Powerful One'

Killed by mortar fire in the town square of Florence shortly after the allies entered the city, the body of 'Il Potente' (The Powerful One), leader of the iruo division of the Garibaldi partisans, is being borne through the city while townspeople salute from the sidewalks. Entry of allies was signal for outbreak against Fascists.

New Army Medical Service Restoring Soldiers to Health

Austin, Sept. 4.—A brand new Army medical service—unheard of in World War I—is responsible for the cheerful and optimistic spirits of servicemen who have been wounded or hospitalized for other reasons.

A University of Texas physical education class recently heard an Army doctor describe the Army's "reconditioning service," barely a year old, which seeks to restore every soldier to his military unit or to civilian life "mentally and physically prepared to take up his duties with maximum efficiency."

Lt. Col. R. L. Deter, reconditioning officer at Camp Swift, Texas, told the class that this program is now in effect in every U. S. Army hospital the world over.

Reconditioning is started within 48 hours after a soldier reaches the hospital, he said. "Just as soon as a wounded man recovers from shock, or as soon as the cast hardens on a broken arm or leg."

The hospitalized soldier is kept busy throughout his working hours, "so that there will be no lying in bed staring at the ceiling and feeling sorry for himself," Colonel Deter declared.

He takes physical exercise, to work his arms and torso, if he has a leg injury, or vice versa. He takes lessons in handcraft, hears lectures on military subjects, is entertained with musical and other programs in the hospital ward, and often enrolls in correspondence lessons.

This program has been so successful that it has been possible to cut in half the period of hospitalization for certain types of diseases. It has "salvaged a tremendous number of men who otherwise would have been lost to future military service," Colonel Deter asserted.

Deter is in charge of the reconditioning program in the regional hospital at Camp Swift, under the direction of Col. A. K. Brown, hospital commanding officer.

University of Texas Making Plans for War Veterans Under 25

Austin, Sept. 4.—With the Army urging every discharged serviceman under 25 years of age to return to school or college, the University of Texas is getting ready for an avalanche of veterans before long.

To make sure that the path of these veterans is cleared of unnecessary hurdles, the University is setting up a simple but well-balanced and effective program to aid them in whatever problems—personal or curricular, that may arise.

Two University faculty members, Walter T. Rolfe, professor of architecture, and Hubert B. Jones, assistant professor of business administration, have been assigned to act as counselors for veterans.

A faculty committee, headed by W. R. Woolrich, dean of the College of Engineering, is to remain in action continuously, to study any matters affecting the veterans and to make recommendations to the University faculty or administration as needed to take care of any situation or emergency.

One change already in effect is that veterans who have seen six months' active service may enroll under individual approval—without having completed the high school work customarily required for admission—at the age of 18. Previously, a student must have attained the age of 21 to be eligible for admission under individual approval.

"We are attempting to develop a workable program here at the University that will be of real advantage to returning servicemen," Vice President J. Alton Burdine said. "It will not involve a meaningless, elaborate organization but a co-ordinated program that will seek to be of service to the veterans in finding the course of study which will meet their individual needs most adequately, and in making their adjustments to civilian, student environment easier."

RED CROSS PLANE KIT

A special American Red Cross flight kit now relieves the monotony of their trip for wounded men being evacuated by air from the Middle East to hospitals back home. Designed at the request of Col. Eugene W. Billick, chief surgeon of the U. S. Army in the Middle East, the kits contain such recreation supplies as games and magazines, comfort articles, cookies, hard candy, and chewing gum.

The first unit was packed in a remodeled phonograph case, painted black with red letters, and carrying the legend, "Red Cross Air-Evacuation Kit."

Treasury officials report that they collected some $400,000,000 in over-payments on taxes on March 15. It will be several months before refunds are completed. Refunds are being made at the rate of $400,000 a week.

During the past four years the American Bible Society has distributed 4,250,843 Bibles to the armed forces.

TO BEAUTIFY CAMPUS

Lubbock, Sept. 11.—Indicating greater effort and emphasis in campus beautification at Texas Technological College, George Long, former assistant purchasing agent, has been appointed to fill the new position of superintendent of the campus grounds.

This new position has been made possible to a large extent by donations of Lubbock citizens, according to President Jones.

WELCOME

To begin the new school year with a bright and happy outlook, we extend a very cordial welcome to all in C. H. S., and especially to those teachers and pupils who are with us for the first time.

WHOSE WAR IS THIS?

We have heard this called a total war. Total means all—and total war means that all of us—every last man, woman and child—is in this war.

It means that all we own—homes, farms, savings—all the privileges we have in political and religious freedom, in the opportunity to work and live in the way we choose—all of these are at stake in this war.

And all these things that make us the present best fed, best clothed people on the face of the earth—all will be lost unless we win this war.

Total war means that every factory and farm—every tool and machine—all of them are indispensable to waging—and winning this war.

It means that all the workers of the entire nation—no matter what their jobs may be—all are in this war.

For—all the things produced by all the factories and farms of the nation are in some way essential to victory.

The evidence is all in the record—it has been written in the blood and suffering of all the conquered peoples of the world.

But thank God, we are not conquered, nor will we be.

We know now that we are fighting treacherous, blood-thirsty, fanatical enemies whose whole creed is absolute mastery through individual and mass murder.

Our life and liberty, our happiness, our whole welfare, mean nothing to such merciless savages.

The lives of all children would be regimented from birth. They would be taught only to obey a monstrous dictatorship. The pleasures of carefree childhood would be denied them, and they would be trained to hate and kill.

That is why my part in our total war effort is so important to me and mine. For in my way and in my job, no matter how high or low a job it may be, I am fighting to crush these enemies who are attacking my family, my home, my country.

I will think of these things, and by thinking of them I will stay strong in my determination to do my particular job to the very limit of my ability.

For my job, and everyone's job, somehow fits into this war, somehow contributes to winning it.

WILDCATS TAKE DRAGONS 32-7
The Wildcats opened the season with a scrimmage against the Paducah Dragons last Friday.

The reserve team played during most of the last half. The boys held their own against the Dragons, letting them score only once.

WHERE '44 FINDS IT'S CLASS OF C. H. S. SENIORS
Ah! yes! "They are gone but not forgotten." We're speaking, of course, of the Seniors who were running around here this time a year ago.

Former location: Crowell High School. Likes: Algebra. Dislikes: All Japs and some Germans.

CLASS MEETING
Senior
On Tuesday, September 5, 1944, the Senior Class met for the purpose of electing officers and a class sponsor.

girls for a ride. Some we might mention are Frances Ann Ayers, Fay Callaway, Tommie Eaton and "Sister" Owens.

Another item worth mentioning is the "affair" of John Carter and Virginia Monkhouse.

COLD DRINK STAND
On the north side of the high school building there is a cold drink stand.

JOKES
A German commentator reports that on a recent raid over Germany the Americans sent over 50 bombers, and the brave German airmen damaged all but forty-nine of them.

Pat: If there was a solid stone wall 1,000 feet high how would a horse get to the top? Mr. Purvis: I give up. How? Pat: So did the horse.

John Carter (drinking from a stream): Boy, I think I just swallowed a worm. Bobby Cooper: Well, drink some more water and wash it down. John: Naw! Let him walk.

First Rookie: I have an idea for a balloon. Do you think it will work? Second Rookie: It ought to. All the rest of your schemes have gone up.

Mr. McBeath: Son, if you eat any more of the fried chicken you'll burst. Carlos: Okay, Dad, just pass the chicken and get out of the way. Coach Wilkinson: What do you plan to be when you get out of High School? Ed Thomas: An old man.

Pvt. Gobin: Tough break for the Sarge! I hear he almost choked to death. Pvt. Archer: Yeah! He was swallowing a piece of meat he thought was beef when some one yelled, "whoa!"

A Japanese report over Station N I P "American soldiers velly cruel. Our spies report they pin-up girls." Tommy Eaton: I don't like these pictures at all. I look just like an ape. Jenny Mabe: You should have thought of that before you had them made.
