Buy at Least an Extra $100 Bond Today!

Foard County Citizens Had Bought Only $33,511.80 Worth of Sixth War Loan Bonds on Saturday, November 25

Total sales of Sixth War Loan Bonds ending the week of Saturday, Nov. 25, totaled $33,511.80, George Self, County Chairman of the War Loan campaign, announced Wednesday at noon.

Sales in this campaign were much smaller than in the first week of previous War Loan drives in the county. However, the rainy weather has hampered the workers to some extent, and several solicitors report bonds pledged, but not purchased.

Red Cross Needs Women to Sew on Tuesday and Thursday

Very few ladies have responded to the recent call for help in the Red Cross sewing room to make 144 utility bags for service men. One lady has been present to sew, aside from the Sewing chairman, Mrs. A. L. Davis.

Crowell Wildcats Face the Seymour Panthers As Underdogs But It is Expected to Be a Hard Fought Game

The Crowell Wildcats and the Seymour Panthers play a football game here this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for the bi-district championship of districts 11-A and 12-A.

Crowell goes into this contest as being decidedly the underdog. The Wildcats have lost two games this season and one of these was to Seymour by the lopsided score of 25 to 0.

The game will be played this (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Red Cross Calls for 50 Christmas Gift Packages by Dec. 13

The Foard County committee of the Sheppard Field Camp and Hospital Council has been given a quota of 50 Christmas packages for the soldiers who will be in the Sheppard Field Hospital at Christmas and these must be placed at the proper receiving stations on or before Dec. 13, in order that they may be taken to the hospital on time.

A few suggestions for the boxes follow: hair oil, hair brush, comb, tooth paste, tooth brush, stationery, shaving articles, bill folders, address books, non-breakable mirrors and the package should contain something to eat, such as candy or cookies.

Use of V-Mail to Navy Personnel in Europe Urged

Headquarters, U. S. Naval Forces in Europe, Nov. 28 (Delayed)—Because air-mail service to and from U. S. Naval personnel in the European Theatre of Operations has recently become less frequent, post office authorities at U. S. Naval headquarters in England today recommended increased use of V-Mail.

Air mail will continue to be slow during the coming winter months, they disclosed, because Naval flying over Northern Atlantic routes has been curtailed until better flying weather in the spring.

V-mail, always a priority item in trans-Atlantic flights, will continue to reach its destination in the normal time of five to seven days.

Radio Repair Shop on Wheels

Soldiers in the Army Signal Corps at work in one of the mobile radio service shops that holds great promise for convenient maintenance of postwar farm radios. The truck (inset) contains all equipment for every possible repair need.

Wartime development of the complete radio repair shop on wheels designed by the Army Signal Corps for rapid servicing of communications equipment in the field, contains good news for the postwar era to radio users in farm and village areas where repair of receiving sets has been a vexatious problem for many years.

Like the scissors-grinder of old, tomorrow's radio serviceman will be able to hop into his shop and head for territory rich in radios, but virtually untouched in the servicing of equipment. Most owners of farm radios either have had to carry the chassis into the nearest good-sized town for repairs or testing, or bundle it up and send it back to the maker, with consequent interruption of program reception. Mounted on a 2 1/2 ton truck chassis and built to withstand the most severe shocks, the Signal Corps radio repair shop is a veritable wonder. Equipment carried by the shops includes battery-charging rectifiers, tube testers, voltmeters, frequency meters, and dynamotor and signal testers, all mounted on a shockproof shelf above the windows on the right-hand side of the shop. Although radio servicing shops will open a fertile field for the future to radio servicemen, the Radio Manufacturers Association expects that postwar receivers for civilians, with improved parts, tubes and circuits, will require remarkably little servicing, being sturdier than the models turned out before civilian production ceased in April, 1942. The RMA emphasizes that the new sets definitely will not be "miracle" radios, but that many of the lessons learned in all-out war production will be applied to make radio listening a greater pleasure.

Big Business A LOT of the writing and talking that's going on these days about "big" business seems to miss one pretty important point. In judging bigness solely by such things as number of employees, size of payrolls, or volume of sales, it overlooks the size of the job the particular business is required to do. After all, any business exists because there's a demand for the things it produces or the services it renders. And it must either grow to the size necessary to satisfy these demands, or else make way for a competitor that can provide what is wanted. The war has shown that America's factories and farms can meet demands that would have been fantastic in pre-war years. This is a big country; there will be as big jobs to be done in peacetime as any the war produced. It will take the right kind of "big" business to do them. And whether it operates a 100-acre farm, a garage, a bank, or an industry with 100,000 employees—this kind of big business, which serves the public satisfactorily and with integrity, will continue to be the foundation of America's strength and security, in peace as in war. What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

The election is over and we can breathe a huge sigh of relief as we look back over the past sixty days of the campaign. The people have chosen for their leader for the next four years Franklin Roosevelt. They have done so because they feel he is better equipped and better qualified to discharge the duties of president than was Mr. Dewey.

ing president that he knows how to do.

This so obviously would be the desire of any man faced with Mr. Roosevelt's opportunity that I believe it would be safe in assuming that it is his paramount desire. With his experience and intimate knowledge of world affairs he has before him the greatest opportunity of rendering a real service to his people that could possibly come to any man.

I think that most of us realize this fact. I think that few expect to see the country turn from war to peace and make the transition smoothly and without a ripple. I think that most people realize that there is going to be a big job for every single one. It is not going

Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success: The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing. In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.

87 times straight - I've been lucky!

87 times I've gone out—and come back.

When your score gets that high, they usually let you quit for a while.

But sometimes that isn't possible. You just have to keep on going—perhaps till your number is up.

Out here, you get to understand those things. There's no question of quitting—no matter how much you've done.

Back home, it's the same way about buying War Bonds. You feel good when you count up and realize what a high score you've got. You feel you deserve a rest, too.

But the war isn't over yet. And until it is, I'll make a bargain with you: You keep on buying, and I'll keep on fighting till the last Jap drops!

The 6th War Loan is on. And it's every American's duty to invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond. If you haven't bought yours yet, do it today!

Buy at least one extra $100 War Bond Today!

Although it is too soon to draw definite conclusions from these figures," said Dr. Emerson, "two theories have been advanced to explain the increased death rate in these industrial states.
One is that the threatened war-time rise in the disease is already becoming a fact and is showing first in the crowded industrial centers. We know that tuberculosis has increased after all past wars because resistance to the disease is lowered under the physical and mental strains which accompany war.

Juice Ratings

Juice drinking has become a breakfast habit in this country. Most Americans find fruit and vegetable juices pleasant appetite awakens. The many canned juices on the market are popular because they are convenient and quick to serve at the morning rush hour.

To get full value for the money spent on juices, however, their vitamin C needs consideration. The most important offering of breakfast juices to good nutrition is vitamin C in which they differ widely. Nutrition studies show that unless the fruit or juice served at breakfast furnishes a generous supply of C, it is difficult to get enough at their meals for best health. So if the breakfast juice contains little or no C, the family is likely to run short on its daily quota.

About 30 different kinds of commercially canned juices were recently tested for vitamin C at the Arizona Experiment Station. Taking top place and rating "excellent" in this vitamin were canned orange and grapefruit juice. Second place with a rating of "good" went to three vegetable juices—tomato, spinach and sauerkraut. Juices testing "fair" were pineapple, strawberry, fig, mixed vegetable, raspberry and prune.

Unfortunately and contrary to general opinion, many of the most popular fruit juices are not expensive but not even fair sources of C. The usual serving of apple, cherry, grape, peach, and pear juices contains little if any C. These fruits, even when fresh and raw, are low in C. When their juices are sweetened, diluted, and canned as nectars or fruitades, the little C they originally had is diluted.

Delicious and appetizing as such drinks are, they cannot be counted on for the breakfast C supply. If they are served, care should be taken to serve C-rich foods at other meals of the day. For example, at this time of year when many people enjoy cider for breakfast, citrus fruit or tomatoes served at lunch or dinner may make up the C needed.

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT THE

SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

AS WE MOVE closer to victory, it wouldn't be surprising if you were saying to yourself—"What's the big idea of asking for all this additional money now? Isn't the war almost over?"

No sir, it is not! Not by a long shot. Of course, for many months now you've heard mostly about the war with Germany, where our greatest effort is concentrated. That's why many people have the idea that the war's practically over.

But make no mistake about it—nothing could be farther from the truth! The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way.

Everything Costs More—in the Pacific War

The European war is expensive, but almost everything in the Pacific war will cost more. Take transport costs, for instance: Because of the longer distances, the same amount of freight costs 25 per cent more when shipped to the South Pacific than to Europe. And it takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size because turn-around time is twice as great!

More Planes . . . Tanks . . . Ships . . . Oil

In addition, we shall need more of everything. More B-29 Superfortresses that cost $600,000 each. More P-47 Thunderbolts that cost $50,000 each. More M-4 Tanks, with bulldozer blades, that cost $67,417 each. More amphibious tanks—more aircraft carriers—more supply ships—more gasoline and oil than it took for the invasion of Europe!

Care for the Sick and Wounded

And lest anyone forget, we shall need more battalion aid stations—more clearing stations—more evacuation hospitals—more convalescent hospitals—more hospital ships.

For many, many years the sick, wounded, and otherwise disabled veterans will require medical attention and care. That's the least Uncle Sam can do in appreciation of what they've done for us.

Maintenance for Millions

Did you ever stop to think how much money it costs to maintain the 11 to 12 million men and women in our army and navy? Whether the men are actually fighting or not, they must be fed, housed, transported from one training center or battle area to another, cared for in a hundred and one different ways. That all costs money and will continue to until the last man demobilized is back in civilian clothes.

In addition, millions of dollars will be required for mustering out pay, for various benefits and services voted by Congress to help the boys get started in civilian life.

These are reasons enough why patriotic Americans will want to buy heavily during the Sixth War Loan. But here are still more—

Winning the Peace—for Your Country

If we're to win the peace as well as the war, the cost of living must be kept down and the purchasing power of money preserved. A reckless inflation that would necessarily be followed by the catastrophe of deflation—with its unemployment, bankruptcies, misery and heartache—must be prevented at all cost.

Let's make no mistake—a dangerous period lies ahead. The American people have nothing to fear, however, if they show in the future the same common sense they have shown in the past, and continue to put every penny over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of more and more War Bonds.

Winning the Peace—for Yourself

Want another important reason? Yourself! There isn't a better or safer investment in the world today than War Bonds. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Never in our entire history has it been so necessary to save as right now. We'll need money, individually, for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—and we'll need a lot of it.

As you can see there are many reasons, important reasons, why our Government must have the financial support of everyone, and have it for many months to come.

Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.

THANKSGIVING

As we approach another Thanksgiving, I pause, and ponder if we think of what Thanksgiving really means. Do we think of it only as a gay, festive occasion, or do we think of the first Thanksgiving, so many years ago? Our forefathers paused in their work to give thanks to God. "Do I really have anything to be thankful for in this torn world?" True, we have men and material, and it is a certainty that we will lose more, but we have freed many oppressed countries and have started on the long road to victory and we have kept our freedom. I want to reiterate the Four Freedoms outlined by Churchill and Roosevelt in the Atlantic Charter:

- Freedom from want.
- Freedom from fear.
- Freedom of religion.
- Freedom from hunger.

It is only right that every American pause on this Thanksgiving day and give thanks to God.

CROWELL WILDCATS SLAM CHILLICOTHE EAGLES, 61-7

The Crowell Wildcats defeated the Chillicothe Eagles by a large score Friday night to become winners of District 11-A. The Wildcats scored on almost every type of play. McDaniel in the early part of the first quarter drove over for the first score. A Joy made the next touchdown on a pass from Joy to Mason, who lateraled to Tamplen. Joy made the extra point.

Chillicothe made their only score in this period on a pass from Skipworth to Boone, who went across the double stripe standing up. Skipworth made the extra point.

In the second quarter, McDaniel again scored. Joy made the extra point. The next score came from Joy to Carter. The Wildcats scored again shortly after this on a double lateral to Tamplen, who went over for the score. Joy again made the extra point. The Wildcats were still going good in the second half. Joy passed to Tamplen over center for the next score. The next score again came from Tamplen on an end run. Joy made the extra point. The next score came from McDaniel on a double reverse, and Joy again scored the extra point. The final score was 61 to 7 in favor of the Wildcats.

This week the Wildcats will play the Seymour Panthers for the bi-district title. The Panthers have been undefeated this season, having defeated the Wildcats early in the season. Since that time the Wildcats have shown remarkable improvement. The game is Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Anyone who likes to see a good, hard-fought football game will certainly want to see this game.

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY

Here is a Senior. He is five feet, five inches tall. He has short, brown hair, green eyes. Football is tops with him. His favorite show is a Western, his favorite food is chicken. Maybe so this boy is Travis Veceera.

Look at this, gals. He's tall, very tall, and oh, so good looking. He's a sophomore and has nice blue eyes. His interests range from basketball to typing, anyway basketball. This fellow dislikes flirts and his name happens to be M. W. Waggoner.

Freckles—freckles everywhere. Once a very cute kid beneath. A freshman whose highest ambition is to be "Teacher's pet." For the benefit of those who don't know "Sawdust's" real name is Wayne Lindsay.

A WOULD-BE TYPIST

Peck, peck, peck went a dozen typewriters as I stepped into class that first time in my life. I felt just like stepping right out again. Mr. Wilkinson began by saying, "Sit up straight, chest out, hands in correct position, don't look at the key board." He then told us that we could start typing.

He added that we must feel for home base and should never look at our key board at all so I closed my eyes and started in pursuit of the typewriter. I groped about for a while, but no typewriter was to be found. I began to think someone was trying to play a joke on me and had moved the thing, so I cautiously opened one eye to see. "Don't look at your typewriter, Percy," said Coach Wilkinson from somewhere across the room. "Golly, he can see like a hawk." I quickly closed my eyes again, and with determination started out to catch that typewriter this time or else.

"Oh, here it is. Now to find the home base. Let's see, it's on the second row of keys. The left hand starts on the end and the right the second one down; and after feeling around a while I was sure I had finally found it."

"Now," said Mr. Wilkinson, "peck at the keys quickly as though they were hot irons." I glanced down my spirits hit the bottom, for I was on the wrong row after all.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

This is in response to the previous letter about hall traffic and I quote from an ex-CHS student:

Dear Complainer:

The halls of Crowell High School may be a bit crowded during a change of periods, but I believe you should stop to think what you're saying before you address another complaint to the editor about such a trivial matter as that. How would you like to be forced to keep always to the right in the halls of your own school? If you would keep your eyes open you would not be bothered with running into people. If you had to follow a strict army routine for a while, marching everywhere you go, you would get so sick of routine you would welcome the sight of a crowded hall in good old CHS.

Keep this in mind the next time you decide to write a letter to the editor.

Yours truly,
 A Disgusted Reader.

HOME MAKING II CLASSES MAKE WITH THE FOOD

Last week the different divisions of the second year Home Economics girls entertained friends and relatives with informal dinners. These dinners were served in the Home Economics room by the members of the different classes.

One group invited friends and another had their mothers for guests. The entertainment for these two socials varied.

THE CHS LOSES WHILE THE ARMY GAINS

The student body regrets the loss of another student. This is Perry Todd, who has recently been inducted into the armed forces. He was a member of the senior class. The entire school will miss him greatly. Perry, we all wish you good luck in the army.

Also a number of ex-seniors left for the army last Tuesday. They were Albert Bird, Billy Nichols, and Dan Pechacek. We wish them the best of luck in the army.

It's pretty swell to have a weekend in which to recuperate over those horrid six weeks' exams, isn't it? Well, have a Happy holiday—and don't eat too much turkey.

And speaking of Holiday—Tommy, Helen, Sharon, Janet, "Booty," and Bessie were seen with representatives from that fair city Thursday night.

We wonder about the Eddy and Woods deal! At the present it seems to be "tottering."

Say, dopes—er, we mean boys—take a look around. You might wake up to the fact that Evelyn and Benny stay home lots. And you females might take heed to Glen Taylor and Ray Tamplen.

As a gentle reminder—let's BEAT SEYMOUR!

Say, tell us who were the good lookers that were visiting Sister? Did you notice all the lights shining brightly at her house Saturday night?

We just learned something—we seem to have an old romance between two of our freshmen. They are Jimmie and Carol and we think you'll agree that they are plenty cute.

Guess everybody has seen Leta Jo and Warren.

Let's all back our team and BEAT SEYMOUR!

Did you see Kendrick and Janet? We definitely approve of this Joy boy.

Sharon and James seem to be out again. Poor Bill.

What is this we hear about Bobby Ruth and Floyd Carl Borchardt? This freshman and sub-freshman seem to be getting places.

Speaking of hearing things—let's all show the Wildcats how proud of them we are—while they BEAT SEYMOUR!

JOKES

Silliest story we ever heard Lon Laquey looked wistfully at the doctor and asked, "Do you think I'll ever have use of my hands again?" "Certainly," replied the doctor, encouragingly. "Do you think I will be able to play the piano?" asked Lon. "I'm sure you will," replied the doctor. "Gee, that's swell," beamed Lon. "I never could before."

 "God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 3.

The Golden Text is: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth" (Genesis 1:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world" (Acts 15:18).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Principle, or Spirit, comprehends and expresses all, and all must therefore be as perfect as the divine Principle is perfect" (page 518).

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Warren Filkin, Ph. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Four Fears Wasted

After the church service, one Sunday, a fourteen-year-old boy came to me with a request for a quiet talk. In the meeting I had described my conversion, and he said that his experience was something like mine.

I had told how I had gone to Sunday school from early childhood. When ten years old I joined a church. But some years later, when a chum in high school asked me about my soul's salvation, I came to see that God had never provided for the salvation of a high school boy on the basis of a boy's good works.

I was shocked as I realized that while I was a good moral boy and a member in good standing of a prominent church, I personally had never met Jesus Christ and had never accepted Him as my Sinner. Instead, I was trusting in a number of good things for my salvation, but things which could never save me.

Finally, I came to see that Christ died for my sins and salvation was not a work to do, but a work to believe. Jesus did the work on Calvary, and all I needed to do to be saved was to trust His finished work on the cross. This I did. I also soon came to see that if Christ loved me enough to die for me, then I should in gratitude and love give my life, regardless of what it might cost, in service to Him.

This fourteen-year-old boy had been interested in my story because he also was a good moral boy, but he had come to the conclusion that he, too, had been trusting in his own works to save him rather than upon Jesus' work on Calvary. Together we went through a little booklet called "Four Things God Wants You to Know," and he signed his name on the last page, acknowledging that

I asked you if you were reared in a barn.

"That's just it," sobbed the other man. "I was raised in a barn and it makes me homesick to hear a jackass bray."

I never could understand why a fellow should not be allowed to have more than one wife.

Well, after you are married you will realize that the law protects those who are incapable of protecting themselves.

Love makes a man think almost as much of a girl as he thinks of himself.

Miss Sammie Jones Weds in Fort Worth Saturday Nov. 25

Mr. and Mrs. Ah Jones announce the marriage of their daughter, Sammie, to Kenneth Morrow, of Fort Worth, which took place in Fort Worth at 8:30 a. m., on November 25. The bride has lived in Foard County all her life, was graduated from Crowell High School with the class of 1943-44. For the past several months she has been employed in Fort Worth.

Mr. Morrow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morrow of Nocona and was reared at that place. He is now employed at Consolidated in Fort Worth and the couple will reside in that city. They are in Crowell this week visiting in the home of the bride's parents.

H. D. Council Met Saturday

The Home Demonstration Council met Saturday, Nov. 25, at 2:30 o'clock in the office of Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Foard County Home Demonstration Agent. Mrs. S. E. Tate, vice president, presided.

A prayer was given by Mrs. T. W. Cooper to open the meeting. Mrs. H. L. Shultz gave a report on the year books for 1945. Mrs. Henry Ross gave a report on exhibits. Mrs. Glenn Shook gave a report on expansion; Miss Elliott, on marketing; Mrs. W. J. Garrett, on recreation; Miss Elliott, on 4-H Club work.

The council voted to not have Achievement day this year. The next meeting of the council will be the third Saturday in December, Dec. 16. This will be a Christmas program and each member is asked to take a gift for the tree.

Officers for the coming year were elected, as follows: Mrs. Earl Davis, president; Mrs. S. E. Tate, vice president; Mrs. G. H. Kinchee, secretary-treasurer. A discussion on how to reach new members and ways to gain interest in club work brought the meeting to a close.

Social Meeting of Sunday School Class Held Thursday

Mrs. Frank Fletcher, Mrs. A. Bracewell and Miss Dine Mitchell were hostesses to the members of the Co-Laborers' Sunday School class of the Methodist Church at the home of Mrs. Fletcher Thursday evening, Nov. 23. Mrs. R. R. Magee was leader of the program and talked on the "Three Marys of the Bible." Mrs. Claude Brooks played "Souvenir" as a piano solo.

The hostess served a lovely Thanksgiving plate to members and one guest, Mrs. Wm. E. Wells, of Chicago, Ill., a former member of the class.

Thalia Service Club Will Meet Friday Afternoon

The Thalia Service Club will meet at the club room on Friday afternoon, Dec. 1, at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of filling the Christmas boxes for the service men.

A full attendance is desired for the meeting.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Columbian Club members enjoyed a nice meeting in the home of Mrs. D. F. Eaton on Wednesday, Nov. 15. "East and West of Suez," was the enchanting subject for study.

Mrs. J. B. Harrison was leader for the afternoon and located the Suez Canal and explained the geography and spoke of its influence on the world and its part in World War 2. Mrs. Grady Halbert gave a description of the people, their background, their proud heritage and the difficulties in dealing with them.

Mrs. T. L. Hughton discussed their Rule of Destiny and their future in the family of nations after the peace is made.

This ancient country is very interesting and has played a checkered part in civilization from the beginning of time. Here the shepherd kings led their flocks; here the early caravans laden with the wealth of the East wended their way to markets; and here the Christ walked the paths of

National War Fund Drive Made Good Progress in Texas

Austin.—Texas led all other states in the number of counties "over the top" during the first week of the National War Fund drive now under way, and was third in the nation in percentage of its goal reached, Wayland D. Towner, general manager of the United War Chest of Texas, announced this week.

A National War Fund report showing progress of the campaign from its official opening on Tuesday, October 10, to the first report date of Saturday, October 14, revealed that 26 Texas counties had surpassed their goals, and that the state as a whole had marked up 41.74 per cent of its 1944 quota. The only states ranking higher than Texas in percentage of goal reached were Delaware and Utah, each with quotas of less than $410,000.

Texas, with a quota of almost $5,000,000, was first among "big quota" states, the report revealed.

"Our reports of Saturday, October 21, show that our outstanding progress in the drive is continuing in all regions and in most counties," Towner declared. "I am confident that the final report at the end of the national campaign will find Texas near the top of the list."

"The true goal of the drive is not merely the quota, but an all-out contribution by every Texan."

Texas Plan For Nation-Wide Bible Reading Proclaimed

Governor Coke R. Stevenson has issued a proclamation calling on the people of Texas to participate in the Nationwide Bible Reading observance from Thanksgiving to Christmas, sponsored by the American Bible Society and two National Sponsoring Committees formed for this purpose.

The goal is the "floor" of giving, not the "ceiling."

As general manager of the Texas campaign, Towner supervises the nation's largest war fund drive, conducting 261 simultaneous county and community campaigns in a territory bigger than that of the Eastern Seaboard states which operate under 18 separate war chest organizations.

and the people at home will join in simultaneous reading of the same daily passages, selected by a nationwide poll of chaplains and pastors as being most helpful in times like these.

This Bible reading program on a scale never before attempted in our country, is a result of the national attention drawn to an earlier Bible reading movement in Texas, emphasized by a proclamation from the Governor and sponsored by the churches and the American Bible Society.

Texas is represented by three members on the National Sponsoring Committees: Grace Noll Crowell, poet and author, of Dallas, Dr. Charles L. King of Houston, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and Dr. Pat M. Neff of Waco, President of the Southern Baptist Convention.

A special V-Mail form is being supplied with the list of daily passages printed on a portion of the form and leaving space for a personal message, to be sent by families at home to members in the Armed Forces overseas.

The text of the Governor's proclamation follows:

Whereas, news reports by press and radio indicate a continued and increasing interest in Bible reading by members of the Armed Forces and a strong desire that their families and friends at home shall join them in their reading in order to create a spiritual bond which knows no limits of distance, and

Whereas, the citizens of Texas, in response to an earlier proclamation from this office calling on our people to "Keep Faith by Daily Bible Reading," have heartily participated in a home front emphasis on Bible reading, sponsored by the churches and the American Bible Society, and

Whereas, the national attention drawn to this Bible reading movement had led the American Bible Society to sponsor a Nationwide Bible Reading observance from Thanksgiving to Christmas, in which members of the Armed Forces and the people at home will join in simultaneous reading of the same daily passages, selected by a nationwide poll of chaplains and pastors as being most helpful in times like these.

Now, Therefore, I, Coke Stevenson, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby call upon the people of this State to join wholeheartedly in the Nationwide Bible

Reading from Thanksgiving to Christmas. As an evidence of our gratitude to Almighty God as an essential part of keeping faith with the sacrifices being made for us by our men on the fighting fronts, let every person of every creed go to the Holy Scriptures for renewed and strengthening contact with those eternal truths and divine principles which have inspired the true greatness of our State and Nation.
