General Rain Falls Over County; Crop Damage by Floods in Lanier Building

Foard County has received the greatest downpour of rain within the past week that has visited this area in the past two years. The rivers and creeks have been up to a high point and dirt tanks for stock water have been filled to overflowing. The rain was much heavier in some communities than in others, especially in the Vivian community in the west part of the county, Margaret in the northeast part and Thalia in the east part. The moisture which fell in these communities was estimated from five to eight inches. Rain recorded at the Crowell State Bank in Crowell was .52 of an inch on July 4th and 5th, one inch Sunday afternoon and 2.87 inches on Monday night.

Crops were damaged in the flooded areas. Rain at this time is a wonderful benefit to wheat land.

Home Nursing Classes Operating in County

The Home Nursing classes sponsored by the Foard County Chapter of the American Red Cross are going to total twelve in number when the project is completed on August 9. Five of these are Crowell classes and seven are classes conducted away from the county seat.

The Vivian class began this week with the following members: Mesdames Eunice Bowley, Gwendolyn Rasberry, Rebecca Rasberry, Mollie Haskey, Maybelle Everson, Ardie Everson, Odessa Peaty, Clara Mae Fish, Cora Cooper and Miss Glenda Mack Self. The chairman of this class is Mrs. Eunice Bowley. Meetings are held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 3 to 5 p. m.

Thalia will meet with Mrs. Mack Edens on July 24 at 3 p. m. Because there are few homes that escape illness or accident at some time, it is wise for everyone to have some understanding of the principles of good nursing care. For this reason, other members of the family will have an opportunity to attend the achievement day program which will be held in the district court room on the evening of August 7. At this time, class members will demonstrate some of the skills they have learned in simple nursing procedure.

Vacation Bible School at Baptist Church

The Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church which began Monday, July 9, is now well on its way. Each day there has been a good attendance and much work is being done. Every child seems to get much enjoyment from it.

This school is not for Baptist children only, but all children are just as welcome. The only purpose is to win the lost to Christ and teach the children more about Him. All are encouraged to send their children as they can learn more about the Bible in these ten days of study than in one year, at any other organization of the Church.

There are plenty of workers who are ready and willing to make this school a good and interesting one. The work is planned so that each student gets as much from the school as the other.

The school begins at 9 o'clock. The children march in from the front in two lines, one following the Christian Flag bearer, and the other following the American Flag bearer, the two bearers following a Bible bearer. After pledges are given and a flaming torch story told, each goes to his department where he remains until 12 o'clock. During this time he is served refreshments.

TRUSCOTT BAPTIST CHURCH

Fiftieth Anniversary of Beginning of the Ministry of Truscott Baptist Pastor Observed in All-Day Meeting

Rev. Joe W. English, pastor of the Baptist Church at Truscott, preached his fiftieth anniversary sermon on Sunday morning, July 8th. Fifty years ago, he preached his first sermon, as a boy preacher, at Bailey, Texas, using as a text the words, "Rejoice Evermore," recorded in 1 Thes. 5:16. The entire chapter was read, with brief comments, at the fiftieth anniversary service.

Mrs. George Brown, with appropriate expressions of love and appreciation, presented Rev. and Mrs. English with a beautiful bouquet of red roses, in behalf of the congregation. Rev. English responded with remarks of thankful appreciation in which he said that he would rather have one rosebud given to him as he tried to preach, than to have a wagon load dumped on his grave when he was dead.

The sermon which followed was an unfolding presentation of the text—the same chosen half a century ago. As is the custom of Rev. English, the thoughts stayed close to the Gospel, for he claims that preaching is getting across to the people the words of the Savior of men.

Truscott Baptist Pastor Finishes 50 Years in Ministry

Rev. English was the first pastor of the Oak Cliff Baptist Church, in Dallas, which was his first full-time position as a Baptist minister. Under his leadership the first unit of this internationally known church was built. He has held three pastorates in Dallas, and has been pastor at Glen Rose, where he and his wife still have a home. Elms, W. Va., Gentry, Ark., and Knox City, Texas. He has also preached and held meetings in many states, including Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and has missed very few engagements.

Rev. and Mrs. English have eight children. Rev. English does some writing during the passing of the years and has recently been notified that he was voted to honorary membership in the International Mark Twain Society for his contribution to literature. The personnel of this society includes many notables in the writing world and others, as well.

According to Superintendent Grady Graves the entire faculty for the Crowell Public Schools has been engaged for the 1945-46 school year. There will be only two changes made from last year's roster of teachers. "It Must Be The Vitamins In Ful-O-Pep!"

Yes, calves raised on Ful-O-Pep Calf Starter are bounding with energy and bubbling with health because Ful-O-Pep is such an appetizing, nourishing energy-giving feed for calves. And best of all, Ful-O-Pep Calf Starter is cheaper to feed than whole milk, because one pound replaces up to 10 pounds of whole milk in feeding calves. Many dairymen save up to 75% of the milk formerly used in feeding calves; a saving in cost of as much as $25 to $30 per calf, by feeding Ful-O-Pep.

World Security

The success of the San Francisco conference in framing a charter for a world security organization marks a turning point in world history. If this movement is successful in preventing war, it will be perhaps the greatest blessing ever given the American people. It will affect every home, and remove from our families the fear that their men will be called to go to war.

The proposition of formulating such an agreement was a very formidable one. The small nations have interests quite different from those of the great ones. The small nations cannot raise any great forces to use against an aggressor. They have to assent in a large measure to the measures considered necessary by the great nations, which will have to take the worst of any war burden. Then there is the difficulty of reconciling Russia, organized on a Communist basis, with the democratic nations, which have different ideals.

Overhanging all these difficulties is the fear felt by all nations that some aggressive country will begin preparing for war and will start a new struggle on a great scale. There are elements in Germany which already appear to be laying their plans for such preparation.

The fear of such a development binds the nations of the World Security organization together. They have this in common, that they fear the aggressions of the warlike powers. They have seen how Germany rose from defeat in 1918 to become an extremely powerful military power. They fear the same thing may happen again. They realize that unless the nations that want peace unite in measures to prevent war a third world struggle could very well happen.

So in all probability the charter of the new World Security organization will be ratified by the peace loving nations, and one can only hope that they will give it loyal support.

Some Work For All

A community might be compared to any army or a detachment of soldiers, in which there is some duty for all to perform. If some portion of the force neglect their duty, the morale of the force is lowered, and it is more difficult to accomplish its aims.

The first thing for everyone to do is to put energy and thought in planning into his own work. If everyone's work is well and thoroughly done, the business of the town is done in an attractive and efficient way, and people are attracted to come to the town that does things in such a satisfactory manner. In some homes the job for some to do is to clean up disorder. The result is to improve the streets and neighborhood. There is a job for a great number of people, in maintaining the organizations of the home town.

Navy medical officers estimate that 25 per cent of the wounded on Iwo Jima were saved from death by the 14,000 pints of whole blood flown to the field of battle from West Coast Red Cross blood donor centers.

Falls and burns are the chief sources of accidents in farm homes. The annual death toll is around 7,000.

Cruisers cost the U. S. Government an average of $12,500,000.

They Knew When They Had Enough

These sons of the Risler sun had enough of the war. Coming out of hiding in the rocks and bushes of Kermita Retto when that island was taken by the Americans, they signaled a navy LOPP picket boat offshore. Obviously far from dillitute, they looked healthy and carried money, razors, dials, tooth brushes, photographs and clothing over their heads.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

Junior's Bumble Bee. The story is told of a mother, an undisciplined and spoiled young son, a young maid and a bumble bee. On the day in question the maid was having a particularly difficult time with Junior. He appeared to be at his worst. She had been reproved several times by the mother because of Junior's actions, but by moral suasion. Suddenly a bumble bee flew into the window and alighted on the sill. Junior reached for it and the girl attempted to restrain him. He at once set up a howl louder than usual. "Why don't you give that child what he wants?" the mother said angrily. "Because," the girl replied, "it is a— " "I don't care what it is," the mother said, "let him have it this minute." There was a moment of silence followed by a squall louder than the rest from Junior. "Mary," shouted the mother, "give Junior whatever it is he wants." "He has it," Mary replied, "it's a bumble bee." "I think grown-ups are very often like Junior. They want what they want when they want it. They are heedless of good advice as to what is best for them. Let him have it this minute." There was a moment of silence followed by a squall louder than the rest from Junior. "Mary," shouted the mother, "give Junior whatever it is he wants." "He has it," Mary replied, "it's a bumble bee." "I think grown-ups are very often like Junior. They want what they want when they want it. They are heedless of good advice as to what is best for them. Let him have it this minute."

Taking In, Paying Out

It is a vital principle of business paying out money in order to keep paying out money in order to keep taking it in. There is such a thing of course, as running a business in an extravagant way. Within reasonable limits, business is rewarded if it spends money to serve the public better, and particularly if it spends a reasonable amount of money in advertising, so that the public will know what it has to sell, what its principal bargains are, and what these things cost.

The stores that advertise constantly show by their sales policy that this plan pays them good dividends, and that they get back the money they spend in advertising and a great deal more of it also.

Each of the 7,000,000 farm families in the United States has almost one chance in five of suffering from an injury to some member of the family in 1945 unless extra care is taken at work, in the home, at school, and on the highway.

There will be four eclipses during 1945; two of the sun and two of the moon.

Flames raced through many American farm buildings to cause a fire loss of nearly $90,000,000 last year. Leading causes of farm fires are careless smoking, dirty or defective stoves and flues, flammable roofs, careless handling of gasoline or kerosene, spontaneous ignition of hay, and lightning.

State Medical Ass'n. to Oppose Bills Now in Congress

Fort Worth, July 9.—The State Medical Association of Texas will actively oppose passage of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bills now before Congress on the ground that these measures would socialize American medicine and impose a needless burden of taxation on the public. "The bills, which include a compulsory health insurance program for 125,000,000 people would undoubtedly destroy the private practice of medicine throughout the United States," says Dr. H. F. Connally of Waco, President of the State Association. "Relationship between doctor and patient would be made a cold matter of law and the entire medical profession would be regimented. Physicians would become subordinate to Federal bureaus in Washington. The individual could no longer expect to have free choice of doctor nor the doctor the free choice of patients."

"These bills provide pay roll taxes of 8 per cent on all wages and salaries up to $3,600, half to be deducted from the pay envelope and half to be paid by the employer. Self employed people must pay 5 per cent of their incomes up to $3,600. This taxation would produce the staggering sum of $3,142,000,000 annually. These vast funds would be administered by a single man, the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service. Thousands of Wagner-Murray-Dingell employees in all parts of the United States, exercising power over human life and health could well constitute a tremendously powerful political machine.

"The State Medical Association of Texas believes that adequate health, medical, surgical and hospital service can be secured by the individual through the many non-profit and commercial insurance plans for such services now existing. The Association's committee on Medical Economics has recommended that insurance organizations now operating in Texas and providing such services, be listed for public approval after investigation of their financial responsibility and methods of operation.

"Texas Congressmen will be asked to vote against these socialistic measures in order to best preserve and safeguard the public health and to maintain free practice of Americanized medicine under which great scientific advances are being made.

The earth's axis continually points in the same direction.

For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of Him that sent me.—John 6:38.

There is a general desire for some form of military training after the war, in which all youth, upon reaching a certain age, would be required to participate. As might be expected a considerable number of people are opposed to anything like peace-time military training. Each side has its reasons for its position. In our opinion the setting up of any such program should be postponed until the men in the service return home. They are the ones who are going to run this country for the next twenty or thirty years and unless they should favor such a plan it would have little hope for success even though Congress and the War Department might get together on a plan and set it up. What is true of the military training program is true of any other long time program which the Congress or the administration might set up. If the men in the service don't like it when they get home they will toss it overboard and put in its place something of their own choosing.

It takes a smart man to know when to stay put where he is and when to strike out for new fields that look so green from a distance. The spirit of conservatism urges that a man stay put and work out his destiny where he finds himself, but history is filled with instances of those whose fortunes came because they had the courage and the spirit of adventure sufficient to take them to new fields where their talents and genius paid a larger return.

HISTORY

Creation of the War Department—August 7: The War Department was the second executive department of our government to be set up. It was organized under an act of Congress passed August 7, 1789, during the first session of the first Congress. Until 1798 the War Department had jurisdiction over both the Army and the Navy. At this time the Navy Department was separated from the War Department and set up under another department head.

Birthday of Izaak Walton—August 9—Izaak Walton was born August 9, 1593, in the Parish of St. Mary, Stafford, England. At the age of eighteen he went to London where he became an ironmonger. He is best known for his book "The Complete Angler or the Conemplative Man's Recreation," which appeared in 1653. It immediately became popular and during his life time five editions of it were published, a most unusual thing in those days. Since his death the book has been republished over one hundred times. As a result of the book and its wide distribution fishermen everywhere refer to themselves as disciples of Izaak Walton, and throughout the country may be found groups of fishermen organized under the name of the Izaak Walton League.

A great deal is being done by the armies of the Allies toward repatriating the scattered population of the countries of Europe invaded by the German armies. All are anxious to go back home or the place where home used to be. The Ninth Army alone has repatriated 120,000 French, Dutch, Belgian and Luxembourg nationals within recent days. During the last week the daily turnover has reached 10,000. In addition to these the Ninth Army has listed 280,000 Russians and 15,000 Poles besides many from the smaller nations of Europe. These are being hauled as rapidly as possible in Army trucks to points near their homes. Incidentally we believe this is one of the best ways to rebuild the invaded countries of Europe. Get the people back home and they will be able to resume their normal life. It will contribute greatly to peace and stability, reduce the burden of their support, and leave the Allies free to deal more adequately with Germany.

As we see it there is still a lot of work to be done in Argentina before she becomes a neighbor to whom we can point with any degree of pride.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

We hear a good deal these days about shortage of this and shortage of that caused by the war. A good many well poised individuals perhaps I should say all well poised individuals, have chosen to accept the situation as they find it, use such substitutes as are provided and do without where no substitutes are provided. Not only are they doing this but they are doing it with a smile and with the best of grace. They consider it an inevitable result of the war and realize that their part in the picture is a gracious acceptance of conditions.

On the other hand we have in every community those die hards who refuse to give up the things to which they have long been accustomed. Every call for sacrifice brings from them a prolonged howl. They maneuver around in every manner possible to circumvent the rationing program and to get, in spite of shortages and everything else, their full requirements, even though by so doing they may deprive several other persons of their small share. I was talking the other day to a restaurant man of my town. Their ingenuity is being taxed in order to secure meat enough to satisfy their customers. Some people who have no meat at home and can't get any except when they go to the restaurant to be served meat, war or no war, scarcity or no scarcity. Regardless of how much other good food they may have they don't think they have had their money's worth unless they have had meat of some kind.

I have given up, the restaurant proprietor said, of attempting to serve meat except as a seasoning in meat stretcher dishes. By using meat stretcher dishes I have been able to make my allotment of meat reach fairly well. Some of my customers protested at first but I find them coming back just the same. They apparently have developed a liking for the meat stretcher dishes. They are tasty, wholesome and filling and give the diner the feeling that he has had an ample, satisfying meal. In other words he goes out of my place of business filled up. Ten minutes after he has eaten he cannot tell from the way he feels whether he has had a meal of roast beef and brown gravy and mashed potatoes, or a bowl of mush and milk. He is filled up and satisfied.

I think the restaurant man has found the solution to not only the problem of conducting a restaurant but also of making the scarce ration points reach at home. We have been used to plenty of everything and do not stop to realize that even in our rationed condition we have a great deal more meat than the people of many countries have under normal conditions.

Any housewife can whip together meat stretcher dishes that are wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. The family, once they have become accustomed to them, will develop an appetite for them and will not miss the steaks and roasts.

Meeting the situation gracefully is our responsibility. Instead of complaining about it we should be glad that we can contribute our part to the war effort with no greater sacrifice than that of giving up a few steaks and roasts.

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett, 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—Complaints of the sugar shortage continue to flood this office. Last year per capita civilian consumption in America was 84 pounds. This year only 70.8 pounds per capita is available. A sugar expert has given me the following figures, for which I cannot vouch. We buy all of the sugar produced in Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Cuba and the Dominican Republic. 1945 production estimates are: Puerto Rico 900,000 tons, Hawaii 800,000 tons, Dominion Republic 450,000 tons, Cuba 3,850,000 tons, U. S. sugar beets 1,000,000 tons, U. S. sugar cane 450,000 tons. From this supply the following deductions must be made: certain allotments to the British Empire which before the war received all the Dominican sugar and one-third of Cuban production; 1,200,000 tons to the military. Sugar shortages occur as follows: 500,000 tons in U. S. beet sugar production, 50,000 tons in U. S. cane sugar production, 100,000 tons in Puerto Rican production, 50,000 tons in Hawaiian production. This normal civilian supplies are cut over 3,000,000 tons.

Some reasons given for these shortages are OPA price limitations, Commodity Credit Corporation's restrictions on subsidies, labor and machinery shortage, etc. We have no acreage limitations in this country at present, but much acreage has been diverted from sugar production to more profitable crops. It seems proper foresightedness on the part of War Food Administration and OPA should have averted this situation.

Some of us this week tried unsuccessfully to strike from the 38 billion dollar Army supply bill a provision that none of the money should be spent to purchase oleomargarine. The dairy lobby continues to be successful in placing politics above principle in such discriminations against this beautiful, wholesome palatable product made largely from cotton seed oil.

SUNNY SQUIBLET

Some people complain that their home town is quiet. The attempts of some to create excitement have involved them in difficulties with the police.

Happy people are sometimes said to "walk on air." All right to do that, but some aren't satisfied unless they also heat the air and distribute it to the public.

What shall be said to a boy who falls in love with a girl because she has a pretty face? Might be a good idea to suggest that he live for a week on the eats she can cook.

Some girls fall in love with a boy because he is a good dancer. Might be well for them to ask if he could dance around the work-bench well enough to support a family.

Some girls ask if they are really in love with their men friends. If they can eat three square meals a day and sleep well nights, some doubt may be felt about it. When people are in difficulty, they are said to be "on the spot." If it is a ten spot or bigger that they are on, they are usually pretty well satisfied.

Some folks say it is a great advantage to forget the past. At least some seem able to forget the bills they owe.

Someone asks if it is safe to go to walk with a nice girl in the moonlight. Might be all right if you keep the conversation on such subjects as the history of the United States and the prospects of the Security conference charter.

The girls who are getting the super sun tan should look out that they are not taken for Indians and shipped off to some reservation.

It is remarked that many city people do not exhibit good manners when they visit the country. They may be able to behave all right if they read the etiquette books every day for several months.

Truscott in Italy, says he is the finest officer in the American Army, and but for him the Anzio beachhead would never have been held.

By the way, the old saying that generals die in bed is false so far as this war goes. To date we have had 15 generals killed and have lost 11 admirals.

Two dramatic bits of world pageantry occurred this week on opposite sides of the earth. On June 24 in Moscow the Russians held their Victory Parade. 640 German battle flags, captured by the Red Army and headed by Hitler's personal standard, were dragged around the Red Square and in appropriate setting, and with great ceremonial, hurled one at a time into the gutter in front of Lenin's tomb. In San Francisco on June 26, 50 nations affixed their signatures to a world charter designed to make obsolete future celebrations such as occurred in Moscow.

Incidentally, a curious angle to the San Francisco conference is the survival of French as the language of diplomacy. All documents, to be official at the conference, had to be transcribed in both French and English.

Private Durely B. Davis Jr. of Henrietta, who spent four months in a German prison camp, came to see me this week. He was liberated by the Russians and thinks them great people. He is proud of a fine camera given him by a Russian lieutenant. Technical Sergeant Chadwick E. Wilson of Electra, just back from 24 months overseas, is now in the office. We are trying to help him get transportation for his English wife and baby to America.

The Needs of a Town Every town has certain needs which should be provided for if possible. Some of them would be costly, and would be beyond the financial ability of a community to provide. Yet some are within reach of the community, and could be accomplished. The difference between a live town and one that is asleep, is that the live town is always thinking about these needs, and about how these objectives can be accomplished. All that is needed in some cases to get such things accomplished, is active leadership. If some energetic group of people would take hold of these movements, they would get support, and it would be possible to accomplish these aims. Popular inertia stops a lot of progress, but live people can wake up that inertia, and turn it into enthusiasm. The General Electric Company has completed plans for the construction of a vast laboratory near Schenectady, N. Y. The laboratory will occupy a 219 acre tract and cost $8,000,000. The Research staff will be increased from 540 to 800 persons.

IT'S GREAT TO GET BACK FROM NATURE

POISON IVY, mosquitoes, ants, sunburn, rain—Roughing it on a camping trip is great stuff. For a week or so. Then you begin to long for the comforts of home. A good light to read by... a hot shower... your electric razor... an electric range... and, of course, your radio. It's surprising the number of every-day conveniences made possible by electricity. You take them for granted—until you have to get along without 'em. The big reason why you forget 'em is because electric service is so good and cheap. Electricity is still available at low pre-war prices. There have been no shortages. And you can be sure there will be plenty of power for the post-war electric era—thanks to the practical experience and sound business management of America's light and power companies.

Navy Needs More Skilled Workmen for Repair Work

"Twelve admirals headed by Nimitz and 13,000 officers of the Navy are from Texas," said Mrs. Inez Spencer, secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board at the Crowell post office yesterday. "The number of Texans now in the Navy," she continued, "is greater than the entire Navy of pre-war days."

"Every message, be it from admiral or able seaman, tells how vicious Jap attacks are, how 'kamikazers' dive by the score, hoping one of the lot may get to bomb or crash-explode on a ship. Most of them die without even getting near a ship."

"Even when a ship is hit, it often manages to survive, and aided by sister ships, fights back and then limps home nursing its wounded and burying its dead at sea. When it reaches a Navy Yard, be it Pearl Harbor, Puget Sound, Hunter's Point or Mare Island, the crew hands it to civil service repairmen."

"Then begins the race to repair it and hand back a ship in fighting shape to a fighting crew. Here we show our fighting spirit back of the firing line. It is the machinist, the sheet metal worker, the electrician in these Navy Yards that make possible the victories of the Navy. We need more of these men."

"Those who would rebuild the ships that will win the war can learn where to be hired at this post office, or the U. S. Civil Service in Dallas or New Orleans. Men hired in accord with WMC rules will be sent with meals and travel paid, to the Navy yard of their choice where living quarters will be reserved for them. The Navy needs action. And now!"

Peaches Add Variety to Summer Menus

With prospects bright for a big peach crop this summer, home-makers can add variety and interest to their meals for the next few weeks by use of fresh peaches in their menus.

These peaches are not only delicious, but they also furnish a fairly generous amount of Vitamin A. All peaches contain some Vitamin B and compare favorably with strawberries, cantaloupes, pineapples and pineapples in Vitamin C content.

It is desirable to serve at least two fruits in each day's meals, and peaches particularly lend themselves to simplicity in serving. One of the best ways is to wash them, arrange them in a bowl and serve them as a beginning course or as a dessert. For summer, serve them in a peach trifles pie made with corn syrup. Peach crisp is a quick, easy dessert, and peach cobbler or short-cake are old and favorite recipes. Warm up serve the family frozen peach salad, or cottage cheese salad mold with peaches.

Here is an excellent recipe for a cottage cheese salad mold with peaches: Soften one envelope gelatin in cold water. Place bowl over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Mash two cups cottage cheese very fine, add one-eighth teaspoon paprika and three-fourths teaspoon salt for seasonings, one-half cup cream or milk and the gelatin. Turn into true mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Chill. When firm, unmold on lettuce. Use as little water as possible so that the foundation will not become wet. Work quickly and wash a small area at a time and let each new area overlap the last one a little. Place furniture in an airy place to dry, but not in the sun.

If fabric has a nap, brush it after it is thoroughly dry so that the threads will be in the right direction. Leather covered furniture can be washed with suds in much the same way.

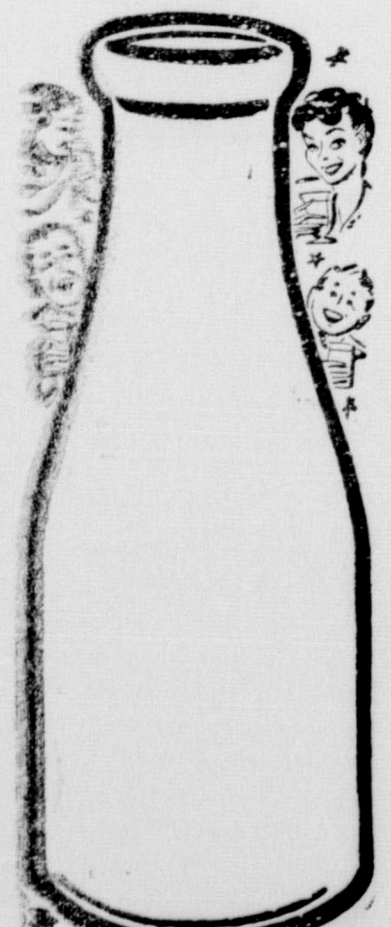

Refrigerator Freezing

For garden peas, beans or greens get ahead of family appetites now and then, a small quantity may be held over in the freezing compartment of the home refrigerator.

For best eating quality, garden vegetables must be gathered when they reach just the right stage of maturity and tenderness. Such as the garden beyond this stage, they lose flavor and food value and become tough. Gardeners will be wise to pick all vegetables when they are just right, even if there are more than the family can use on that day. The extras may be frozen and kept in the refrigerator for meals a few days ahead.

Wash and prepare the vegetables as for cooking. Put them in a cheese-cloth bag and dip in boiling water for the length of time recommended for freezing in lockers—approximately two minutes. Then cool immediately by dipping in ice water. Drain and place vegetables in cellophane bags, seal with hot iron and place in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator.

HOT WEATHER SEASON IS NOW ON! USE PASTEURIZED MILK

Vegetables frozen this way will be ready to cook in just a few minutes. Never try to hold them longer than a week or two in the refrigerator.

Give the Furniture a Shampoo

Upholstered furniture should come in for its share of refreshing when housecleaning time comes, and for this job try dry suds, which work like magic. The method is simple and effective, and the results satisfactory.

To make the suds, dissolve 1.0 cup of neutral soap flakes, beads, chips or bar soap shaved in small pieces in one quart of hot, soft water. To test the soap to see if it is neutral, put a bit of it on your tongue, and if neutral it will not bite or sting.

When the soap solution has cooled to a jelly-like consistency, beat it with a rotary egg beater until it looks like cake icing. When suds die down, rebeat them. Remove the dust from the upholstered furniture with a vacuum cleaner or whisk broom. Before shampooing the fabric with dry suds, test in an inconspicuous place to see whether it is washable. If so, then apply the dry suds to a small area with a brush, sponge or cloth. Use a light circular motion. Scrape off the soiled suds with a spatula. Rinse with a sponge or cloth wrung from clear, lukewarm water using a circular motion. Rinse several times. Be sure no soap remains in the material. Use as little water as possible so that the foundation will not become wet. Work quickly and wash a small area at a time and let each new area overlap the last one a little. Place furniture in an airy place to dry, but not in the sun.

If fabric has a nap, brush it after it is thoroughly dry so that the threads will be in the right direction. Leather covered furniture can be washed with suds in much the same way.

Give Your Rug New Life

Putting new life into rugs is a process which can now be done successfully at home, and though this particular task is not often necessary, there come times when rugs wrinkle easily, become limp and without body, and are hard to keep straight on the floor. The re-sizing process requires the right glue, which may be purchased in a hardware or department store.

Plan to do the re-sizing in a room where you can leave the rug to dry thoroughly, at least 24 hours. Lay the clean rug—nap side down—on the smooth floor. Tack it at intervals so it will stay straight.

Make a half-gallon of the re-sizing mixture by adding two quarts of boiling water to a quarter pound of flake glue. Dissolve the glue well, and apply to the back of the rug, either by sprinkling it over the back surface, or brushing it on with a brush. A whitewash brush, a paint brush or a whisk broom will serve this purpose. Use the glue sparingly, for if it penetrates through the back of the rug it will stiffen the pile.

With this home process, the rug will take on new life and look like new.

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

Worldly fame is but a breath of wind that blows now this way, and now that, and changes name as it changes direction.—Dante.

No true and permanent fame can be founded except in labors which promote the happiness of mankind.—Charles Sumner.

Let us satisfy our own conscience, and trouble not ourselves by looking for fame. If we deserve it, we shall attain it; if we deserve it not, we cannot force it.—Seneca.

More Japs Surrender

One of the remarkable characteristics of the Japanese in this war has been the fact that so very few of them have been taken as prisoners. Most of them have preferred to die rather than surrender. Thus they carried out the teaching given to them that surrender was dishonorable.

The final fighting on Okinawa and Luzon has shown a disposition on the part of many more of these Japs to give up. There were 7,705 who thus yielded themselves in one recent week. Perhaps the truth is dawning on many of them, that they have been fed a lot of bunk by their leaders at home. The task of the Americans in Japan will be less severe, if the idea can be communicated to the Japs that they gain nothing by fighting to the death.

Remember Bill Rainey, former assistant director of First Aid, Water Safety and Accident Prevention for the Midwestern Area? Bill, now a sergeant in the U. S. Army, has just been assigned to assist Cal Bryant, national director of Water Safety, in conducting a convalescent swimming course for the Army Air Forces at Silver Springs, Fla.

Miss Jane Rogers, R. N., of St. Louis, is now in charge of nurse recruitment, replacing Miss Lucella Gardner, who is at the national Red Cross recruitment office in Washington, D. C.

Germms Carried in Milk and Water Kill Babies in Summer

Austin.—Milk is an infant's natural food; nevertheless, milk plus heat, dirt, and flies has killed many thousands of babies. The intestinal diseases that attack babies in summer are, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, largely caused by germs carried in milk and water. Unclean or contaminated water can be as harmful in causing infant diarrhea as contaminated milk.

Thousands of babies grow and keep well in Texas every year because they are given the right kind of care and the proper attention is given to the preparation of their food. The right kind of care includes keeping in close touch with the baby's doctor at all times; a regular daily schedule for sleeping, feeding, and bathing; sufficient time in the outdoor air; and carefully supervised exposure to sunshine—all these precautions can be important factors in keeping the baby well at all seasons of the year. In addition to benefiting the baby, this type of routine allows the mother more time for her household duties and much needed rest periods.

"The baby should wear a minimum of clothing and should be handled as little as possible," Dr. Cox said. "A smooth, flat comfortable bed for the baby with no pillow and with plenty of fresh air will help him to sleep and rest." The State Health Officer emphasized the importance of keeping the baby constantly protected from flies, mosquitoes, and other insects which may transmit diseases. Dr. Cox said that pamphlets outlining the proper care of the baby may be had free upon request to a health department and the State Health Department.

State's 4-H Girls To Show How To Make, Mend Clothing For V.

Intent upon following the wartime example set by 4-H Club members in "Making and Mending for Victory," rural girls in this state will enter their records of caring for, conserving and repairing family wardrobes in the 1942 National 4-H Clothing Achievement.

This is the fifth consecutive year of activity, which is conducted by the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA co-operating. Awards donated by the Spool Cotton Company's Educational Bureau comprise silver medals to county winners, National 4-H Club Congress honors to the state champion, and $200 college scholarships to 12 national winners.

Among the activity's objectives are to have participants learn how to dress appropriately, becoming and healthfully, in keeping with a well-planned family budget; to develop initiative and imagination that will enable them to use to best advantage all available clothing material, and to be of service to community organizations that are carrying on civilian or military clothing projects.

V. S. S. The various corps of Volunteer Special Services right now are getting a good work-out—and doing a grand job—in disaster relief operations. Feeding centers are being staffed by Canteen Corps, Motor Corps and providing transportation and even carrying food and other supplies. Staff Assistants are giving information and doing the registration job. Gray Ladies and Nurse's Aides are helping in hospitals and shelters. Production Corps are providing clothing, and Home Service Corps assist with handling welfare service. While most of the other corps are called upon during the emergency, Home Service is one which is needed principally during the rehabilitation period.

TAKE A QUICK LOOK AT A "VANISHING AMERICAN"

This car may have disappeared by the time you finish reading!

Every 17 Seconds (much less time than it takes to read this ad) another vitally needed car breaks down—so far beyond repair that it is gone forever.

This wouldn't be so serious if all of us lived within walking distance of our jobs. But we don't. And all you have to do is look at the acres of cars parked outside any big war plant to realize how much America's war effort depends on automobile transportation!

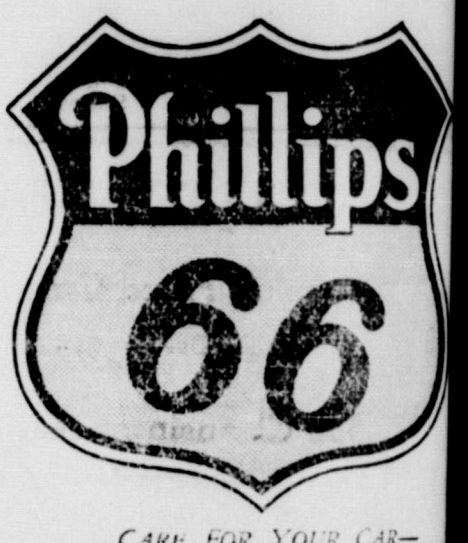

That's why, with 5000 cars a day going into the scrap heap, all of us have plenty to worry about. That's why Uncle Sam says, "Care For Your Car For Your Country."

And it's not hard to do—especially with your Phillips 66 Service Man standing by to help you. Because he has a special Tire-Saving and Car-Saving Plan for motorists like you. If you'll take your car to him regularly he'll check your tires—look out for cuts, bruises, and nails; warn you when re-capping is necessary; see that the air-pressure is right.

He'll take a regular look at your battery, cooling system, and air filter. He'll help discover the little troubles before they become big ones. And your Phillips 66 Service Man will tell you it's a mighty good idea to have a complete lubrication job done regularly—for it's often those unseen parts of a car that cause trouble.

So for complete car-saving service, stop at your nearest Phillips 66 Shield... the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil. PHILLIPS PETROLEUM COMPANY

Canada's Navy Prepares for Pacific Action

NOW that the war in Europe has been brought to a victorious conclusion, Canada is turning toward the Pacific and preparing to take a full share in the final phase of World War II—the defeat of Japan. The first western nation to declare war on Japan (Dec. 7, 1941), Canada has made it clear that not until Japanese aggression has been completely wiped out will this country lay down arms.

Canadians of the Navy, Army and Air Force will re-volunteer for duty in the Pacific. It is to be remembered that of the more than 1,000,000 men and women who entered Canada's armed forces during the five years and eight months that Canada has already been at war (since September 10, 1939), over 90 per cent enlisted voluntarily. The switch-over from Europe to the Pacific will be a gradual process that will hinge mainly on the availability of shipping space. It has been pointed out that it may take considerable time to transfer naval and air force units to new bases and train army forces for a new type of warfare. Advanced units of Canadians are already in the Pacific theatre of war preparing the way for those to follow.

Seven months ago Canada's Navy Minister stated that the Royal Canadian Navy would send to the Pacific "a good deal more than a mere token force." As soon as the situation in the North Atlantic permits, it is intended that Canadian Naval forces will be transferred to the east to co-operate with the British Pacific fleet.

As the Canadian Navy was built up primarily for the purpose of North Atlantic convoy, its greatest strength was in corvettes, frigates and other small ships for escort and patrol duty. The British Fleet Air Arm, Canada has no similar branch service. Some Canadians who have trained for Air Arm service it is expected that many of them will see action on Canadian aircraft carriers.

Canada's first cruiser, UGANDA, manned by Canadian sailors, is now at battle station in the Pacific fleet. It will be shortly by a sister ship, ONTARIO, which has recently

The Beauty of the Lord Man, when originally created, must have been beautiful because he was made in God's image.

Nevertheless, God in His infinite mercy longed to restore man to his lost estate—and God found a way. My friend, God will always find a way if you will trust Him.

District Agent Joins North Texas State College Faculty

Mrs. Isla Mae Chapman, district agent on leave from the Extension Service for graduate study, has resigned to join the faculty of the North Texas State College, Denton.

According to an announcement by President W. J. McConnell of the Denton institution, Mrs. Chapman will be in charge of the home management units of her college and will teach household equipment courses. Since September, 1944, Mrs. Chapman has been working on her master's degree in that field at Iowa State College, Ames, and was resident manager of the home management house on the Ames Campus.

Mrs. Chapman has served as county home demonstration agent for Parker and Lubbock Counties and for four years was home industries specialist on the Extension headquarters staff. Between 1940 and 1944 she was district agent in charge of home demonstration work for 20 counties in North and Northwest Texas in which Foard County is located.

Knox County H. D. Council Met July 6

In the assembly room at the court house in Benjamin, Friday, July 6, the Home Demonstration Council met in regular session with Mrs. T. B. Masterson Jr., presiding.

Roll call was answered by six clubs represented, as follows: Benjamin, Munday, Gilliland, Truscott, Union Grove and Knox City. The Knox City Club is a new addition to the other clubs. Knox County now has ten Home Demonstration Clubs helping a great number of the county's population.

After roll call and reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, the secretary read a number of communications, one from Miss Gore of Corsicana, congratulating the club members on the work they are doing in establishing a free circulating library for Knox County. There are now about four hundred books on the shelves. Books added July 6 were fifty-eight and the club presidents present checked out thirty-three for their club members and anyone who wishes to read them.

Mrs. J. E. Stover gave a report from the year book committee. Mrs. Leona Darwin reported on expansion work being done in the county, and Mrs. E. B. Sams, marketing chairman for the council, sent her report which was read by the secretary. Mrs. Sams' report showed that three hundred and forty-two families ordered pineapple this year through the council.

Mrs. R. M. Almonrode gave a report from a meeting held in Haskell on "Planning Year Books."

The menu for the annual encampment was read by the secretary. This encampment will be held in Haskell County this year. This is one time in the year when the club members of the two counties can get together, exchange ideas, relax, have a good time and forget work and worry for two days.

AGRICULTURE

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

Comparative Wheat Yield

Last season on the McLain farm Clinton McLain secured and planted three varieties of wheat in the same field.

He planted 100 acres of early Blackhull, 145 acres of second-year Comanche and 15 acres of a new wheat called Wichita. All were planted in the same field at the same time.

The yields were as follows, as reported by Virgil Johnson, who harvested the grain: The Blackhull made 15 bu. and 20 lbs. per acre, the Comanche 13 bu. per acre. All tested 60 lbs. or better.

The Wichita had a stronger stalk and ripened a few days after the Blackhull but was cut at the same time. The Comanche ripened some ten days later and was attacked by leaf and stem rust. All late maturing wheat was damaged by rust.

A further test of the Wichita will be made next year. The Wichita is one of the latest developments in wheat breeding and is supposed to take the place of early Blackhull and has better milling qualities and is supposed to be superior in some other features. The seasons were especially favorable to the growth of Blackhull this year.

We had one other plot of Wichita wheat this season which was grown by R. H. Cooper, who also planted 10 bushels on 13 acres and reported a 20-bu. yield.

It was the earliest wheat to ripen on his farm, and made a better yield than other varieties with a better than 60 lbs. test. He will also plant a larger acreage for another year for further test.

Farm Organizations

Strong efforts are being put forth throughout the state and nation to increase the membership of all farmer's organizations. There are three outstanding groups now functioning, the Farm Bureau Federation, The National Grange and the National Farmer's Union. All having nationwide memberships. Each of these organizations has a fairly strong membership here in Texas.

At present the Farm Bureau Federation is making a rather active campaign to increase its membership in Texas. The organiza-

Grasshoppers Increase Attack

The grasshopper infestation has grown more severe than at any time this season, and our records show that an increased amount of poison bait was put out last week.

The total amount for the season shows 13,500 pounds of 6% tons of mixed bait has been distributed over the county. It is going to all parts of the county. Grasshoppers are not only damaging crops, but also gardens, orchards and range grass.

Farmers report a successful kill where they have used the prepared bait, and in most instances they are controlling the invading hoppers.

We are expecting them to begin to slow down the attack soon. So far we have been able to secure supplies, but the supply of available government bran is nearing exhaustion, and because of the car shortage we may be unable to secure more this season, after we have used up what we have on hand.

Farm Safety Week Set For July 22

With fewer young men on the farm this year, with consequent further reductions in the supply of experienced workers, and with farm machinery a year older and still hard to replace, the farm accident situation may be more serious than ever before.

For that reason it is important to observe with particular attention, Farm Safety Week, set for July 22 through July 28, so that the attention of the nation may be focused on the tremendous toll taken by accidents to farm people.

Twenty-five million man-days of work are lost annually, and accidents on farms represent one of the biggest obstacles to maximum food production and to agricultural prosperity and well being. By farm fires alone, 3,500 farm people lost their lives and $90,000,000 in property was destroyed by farm fires last year.

The theme of this year's campaign will be the basic three-point formula for the avoidance of accidents:

Golf and Tennis

Two of the country's most popular sports are golf and tennis. They are wonderful games, giving the people healthful exercise and recreation. Men and women forget their troubles when they get a golf club or tennis racket in their hands.

Many communities could add to their attractions if they provided a public golf links. The small town need not feel that such a course has to be equipped and maintained in an expensive way. A short course with a few holes will be better than none at all. The players can have a good time, even if the greens are not mowed quite so often. The great majority of towns need more tennis courts, and many more people would play this thrilling game if they had a convenient place on which to enjoy it.

idents: First, learn to recognize hazards; second, eliminate as many hazards as possible; and, third, act so as not to be hurt by remaining hazards.

The American farmer is being called upon during 1945 to meet the highest crop production goals of the war years, with fewer men in the ranks of farm labor. If this all-out production of food and fiber is to be maintained, it is imperative that both manpower and property losses due to farm accidents be reduced materially.

tion is developing county unit groups over the state, and is now active in this section of the state. Their field man, Marvin Carter, is contacting small groups of farmers in each county in this area.

We held a meeting here in Crowell last week with leading farmers of Foard County and arranged with them to hold another meeting here August 3 at 8 o'clock. R. Cal McCurdy, one of the state directors, and Mr. Reymond of the National Farm Bureau Federation will meet with the group and a full explanation of the organization will be made.
