Crowell Wildcats Lost First Practice Game to Heavier Floydada Whirlwinds in Crowell Stadium Last Friday Night

The Crowell High School football team lost the opening practice game of the season to the Floydada Whirlwinds by a 6 to 0 score here last Friday night. Both teams looked exceptionally well for an early season game. The Wildcats were playing without the services of their all-district end, Joe Mason, who has been ill with typhoid fever for several weeks. O. C. Wharton, fullback and captain for the Crowell team, saw very little service in the game, due to an arm injury. However, the Wildcats came very near scoring in the second quarter when they were held for downs on the ten-yard line. The ball was carried down the field on a well-couted pass play from Kendrick Joy. J. L. Brock, who in turn lateralized to A. G. Wallace. The Whirlwinds used their big weight advantage of the "T" formation to work the ball down field on hand-off plays through the line in the third quarter until they reached the thirty-yard line at which point Melvin Robertson, quarterback for Floydada, handed the ball off to Garland Carmack, right halfback for the Whirlwinds, who scampered inside Crowell's right end to cross pay dirt for the only score of the game. Dean Jones, fullback for Floydada, failed on the attempted kick for extra point. Floydada threatened to score again in the fourth quarter by reaching the Wildcat's fifteen-yard line, where Joy intercepted a pass to take over for Crowell.

Work of American Red Cross for Storm Victims Finished

Three years and five months ago, Crowell experienced one of the most devastating tornadoes that had ever visited the southwest. The American Red Cross immediately moved in to rehabilitate those who needed it. After spending some $47,000.00 and two months' hard work, they assigned to the local Red Cross chapter, the duties of continuing the storm rehabilitation work. Many people thought that when the workers from the National Red Cross left Crowell, their work had been finished. But this was not the case. G. D. Self, then County Chairman of Red Cross, states that these people left about ten cases to be handled by the local chapter.

Some of these cases were worked out in a very short time, but others took something like a year. Hospital and doctor bills were paid by the Red Cross to many who needed it, some of them being in a far western state, while many were scattered throughout Texas.

Mr. Self states that the American Red Cross paid its last grant to a storm victim who resides 300 miles from Crowell, recently. With the paying of this grant, the work of the American Red Cross for the storm victims of the Crowell tornado came to a close. This is another example of the thoroughness and efficiency with which the American Red Cross operates. The citizens of Crowell will ever remember the many things done by the Red Cross and by its neighbors, when it was most needed and will ever be grateful.

Revival Meeting in Progress at Methodist Church

The revival meeting in progress at the Methodist Church is well under way and excellent preaching and singing is to be heard at each service. Rev. H. C. Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church at Big Spring, is giving two sermons daily of old-fashioned gospel truths. His manner is pleasing and much good is being accomplished by his messages.

Rev. W. M. Culwell, pastor of the Moran Methodist Church, is a singer of outstanding ability and, as well as being a talented leader, he is an eminent soloist. He lends much to the evangelistic campaign by his messages in song. Rev. Culwell meets with the children at 4:30 each afternoon and with the Young People at 7:45 each evening. All children and young people of the town are invited to attend these services.

Youth Canteen Idea To Receive Consideration

The subject of a Teen Canteen for the youth of Crowell has been discussed pro and con by many for several months. The following was given to the News and we are glad to publish it:

"What is more important to our future than our youth? They make the future of our entire nation. Let us consider their needs.

"There is not a community club house nor any sort of place where our young people can assemble for clean, wholesome recreation and it is time that something should be done towards providing a place for them.

"How many citizens are interested in this project? Many of our neighboring towns have already supplied their young people with a Youth Canteen and Crowell can do as well.

"In short, a Youth Center assists in many ways, reduces juvenile delinquency, and also the parents would be grateful to have a properly chaperoned place where our children could have the right sort of recreation. If you are interested in forming a center, with the parents and the business people backing it, please call or contact Mrs. Grady Magee and a time and place will be appointed for a meeting."

Treat Seed For Highest Production

The highest acreage yields of small grains also is a high economy in the business of farming. Maximum yields demand no more seed and labor than minimum yields. Every seed put into the ground should produce, but seed which is contaminated by disease becomes a total loss not only in the grain it should yield, but of the soil it occupies.

E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. & M. College Extension Service, believes that Texas farmers, now on the eve of fall sowing, should give thought to these facts. Wheat, oats and barley are subject to fungus diseases called smut. The infected grain may carry the disease from the field where it grows to the succeeding crop if the disease spores come into contact with grain to be used for seed. This can happen easily. During threshing, Miller explains, diseased kernels pop open and the spores are distributed over the healthy grain. The proved method of control is to treat the seed with a chemical preparation before planting. Unless the seed is disease-free there is loss from reduced yield and further loss from dockage when the infested grain is marketed.

Wheat is affected by two types of the disease, known respectively as stinking smut and loose smut. Control of stinking smut is simple. Clean the seed grain thor-

Funeral Services for Harley Capps Held Wed., Sept. 12

Funeral services for Harley Capps, who passed away suddenly on Sunday, September 9, were held on Wednesday morning, Sept. 12, at 10 o'clock at the Church of Christ in Thalia, Oliver Holland, elder of the Thalia Church of Christ, W. D. Starr, pastor of the Thalia Church of Christ, and Rev. C. B. Hudson, pastor of the Thalia Baptist Church, conducted the services.

Pall bearers were Ben Hopkins, Frank Ward, W. A. Johnson, Alton Farrar, Sam Kuehn, R. H. Cooper, Howard Bursey and Fred Main. Flower bearers were Mrs. Jody Tole, Mrs. Sam Kuehn, Mrs. Tom Abston, Mrs. R. H. Cooper, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Alton Farrar, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Mrs. Raymond Grimm, Mrs. Texas Ford, Mrs. Gordon Self, Mrs. Gus Neill, Mrs. Fred Brown, Mrs. Lee Sims, Mrs. Georgia Wood, Mrs. Oliver Holland, Mrs. Ben Rogan, Mrs. Clyde Self, Mrs. Zaril Mason, and Misses Minnie Wood and Christine Ketchersid.

Burial was made in the Thalia cemetery.

Mr. Capps was born in Archer County on June 30, 1899. He had resided in Foard County since 1910. He was married to Miss Maggie Self in 1919 and they have resided here since then. He is survived by Mrs. Capps, one son, Cpl. Harley Duane Capps, with the Army Airways Communications System in China; his mother, Mrs. H. T. Capps, of Thalia; two brothers, John T. Capps of Seminole, and S-Sgt. Havis Capps of Tacoma, Wash., and one sister, Mrs. Lee Mason of Thalia.

oughly by fanning or otherwise to remove the smut balls, then treat it either with two ounces per bushel of fifty per cent copper carbonate or one-half ounce per bushel of ethyl mercury phosphate called improved cerasan. On the other hand, loose smut cannot be controlled by chemical treatment. Miller says the best safeguard is to plant seed grown only on uninfected fields.

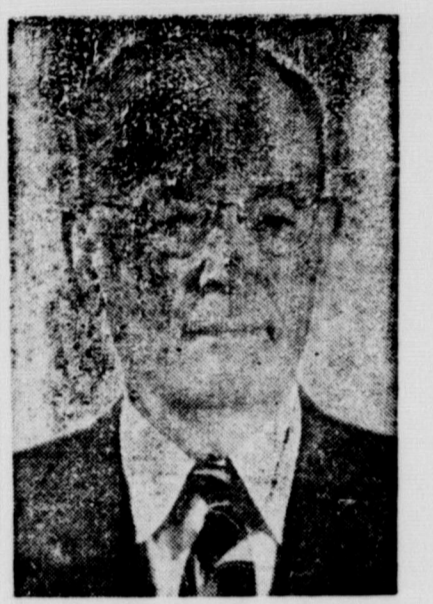

Smut in barley and oats may be controlled by treating the seed with one-half ounce per bushel of improved cerasan. A solution of one pint of commercial formaldehyde and ten gallons of water at sixty to seventy degrees temperature also is effective. This should be sprinkled uniformly over forty to fifty bushels of seed while it is being shoveled from one pile to another on a clean floor or in a tight wagon box.

See your county agricultural agent for additional information.

Navy Recruiting News Release

Many recruiting stations all over the country are initiating an all-out drive for voluntary enlistments, particularly in the Regular Navy, among men in the age group of 17 to 30, inclusive, who are now eligible by Executive Order of President Truman. This order lifts the ban against voluntary enlistments in draft ages. The Navy's recruiting drive is designed to speed demobilization of men with long war service, to reduce the Navy's call through Selective Service and at the same time to enable the Navy to fulfill its extensive responsibilities through the transition period and beyond.

During August, despite the ban on recruiting men between the draft ages of 18 and 37, inclusive, the Navy enlisted more than 16,000 men in the 17-year age group, with parental consent. Of this number 6,300 joined the Regular Navy and the balance entered the Naval Reserve.

Now that the bars are raised permitting the Armed Services to reach into the draft age group for voluntary enlistments the Navy is endeavoring at least to triple the August figures in coming months. Men who have not been in uniform as well as those recently discharged through the Army and Navy demobilization plan are sought through the recruiting drive. Navy spokesmen announced that already a number of World War II veterans are signing up for Regular Navy. It is anticipated that this number will greatly increase as the demobilization program progresses. Navy officials point out that such further services is solely a matter of voluntary action on the part of those who want to follow the Navy as a peacetime career. Many veterans have embraced this opportunity after spending long awaited furloughs and leaves at home. The term of enlistment in the Regular Navy is now reduced from six years to four. Physical standards are lowered in the light of war experience. Men changing to the Regular Navy from the Naval Reserve and men re-enlisting in the Regular Navy not only retain their rights to mustering out pay, but also are entitled to full credit for past active duty, a special cash re-enlistment bonus, and up to sixty days' leave at home.

Surplus Property to Be Sold by RFC Dallas Agency

Dallas, Sept. 16.—Seventeen plants and one undeveloped land site are being offered for sale or lease by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the government agency designated by the Surplus Property Board to sell surplus producers' and capital goods. I. B. Glidden, manager of the RFC Dallas Agency, said nine of the plants are located in New York State and one each in Massachusetts, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Nevada, Utah and Texas.

The largest plant acreage listed is 440 and the smallest is less than an acre. The largest floor space listed is 609,767 and the smallest is 10,057.

The Texas plant is that of the Humble Oil & Refining Company at Baytown. The land of the Baytown plant comprises approximately 59 acres which is occupied by 69 buildings. Included among these are a steam generating plant, mess hall, storage building, and cooling towers of steel and brick. Production machinery consists of testing and laboratory equipment, tools and furniture. All necessary utilities are readily available. A railway siding connects with the plant.

A BOGUS "GUARANTEE"

There is no basic division of opinion between modern industrial leaders and truly liberal political thinkers on the respective rights and obligations of capital and labor. They recognize that our capitalistic system must be preserved if this country is to go ahead as the great producer and pioneer of a higher civilization. They also recognize that the era when human labor could be treated as machinery is dead. Industry cannot expect to hire a thousand or ten thousand "hands" and remain completely free of social responsibility. Those "hands" have families. So far as is humanly possible, their jobs must be stabilized. The best brains in industry are working on this problem.

In this new era labor can no longer be the hell-raising, capricious child. It too has responsibilities—to capital. It cannot enforce impossible demands. It must turn in real work for real wages.

The War Labor Board, for the first time, has ordered that a "guaranteed" full employment clause be inserted in a union contract between a large chain shoe store and its 300 salesmen. In other words, the employer in this unprecedented case is bound to furnish employment at specified wages to a specified number of people for 52 weeks—come what may.

While this order applies to only one retail organization having many stores, its implications are so far reaching that they affect business in the nation. Every forward-looking employer is in favor of providing continuous, year-round employment to workers to the fullest extent possible. But employers will not agree that an agency of the Federal government should have the power to tell them they must "guarantee" work to so many men, regardless of conditions.

No order to "guarantee" full employment in retail trade will "guarantee" the buying habits of consumers. A store under such an order might well be forced to limit its employees rather than seek to give fullest possible employment at all times.

Full employment cannot be "guaranteed" by orders forcing employers to subsidize labor for which there is no work, thus increasing cost of production and distribution.

Art of Salesmanship

Salesmanship is considered one of the modern professional arts, and people who contemplate any kind of selling job should study its principles. An enthusiastic manner is a help to any salesperson. If such people show enthusiasm about their goods, and speak of how popular this or that article is, it helps to convince the customers that it is a good bargain.

Good salesmanship does not seek to over-persuade people, or to induce them to buy things they do not want and are not likely to like after they get them. Perhaps an extensive knowledge of the most effective salesmanship is goods one is selling and ability to talk about them. If a person can give facts and figures about merchandise and give a fair picture of their merits, he helps people to decide on the thing they want.

The time has again arrived for the annual War Chest drive for funds to keep going some of the most important phases of war activities. Because the war has come to a close, some people may get the idea that many of the soldier's and sailor's services may not be needed and that we may begin to think of other things and forget some of the things that were uppermost in our thoughts and plans this time last year.

For problem, must be kept going. USO-Hospital Circuits which bring entertainment to thousands of bed-ridden wounded in military and naval hospitals throughout the world, are as necessary as they ever were. For these and many other reasons, the War Chest drive is fully as important as it has ever been. So, when you are called upon to subscribe to this worthy cause, please give it your best thought and make your subscription as much as possible.

HISTORY

Columbus Day—October 12:—The anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus was first celebrated in New York City on October 12, 1792, three hundred years after the landing of Columbus in this country. It was planned and carried out by the Society of St. Tammany, or Columbian Order. The program consisted of a dinner with appropriate addresses. A monument was erected in the headquarters of the society as a part of the decorations. This is believed to be the first monument erected to Columbus in this country. Later a monument was erected in Fairmont Park in Philadelphia, financed by contributions from Italian citizens, in 1876. There have been few celebrations of the anniversary in this country. In 1892 special recognition was given the day in the form of an international exposition held in Chicago. This was financed by a federal appropriation. Because of inability to complete the buildings on time the Exposition was not held until 1893. On June 29, 1892, Congress passed a joint resolution directing the President to observe the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America on October 21, 1892. The Legislature of New York passed a law making the day a legal holiday. The bill was signed March 23, 1909. Other states passed similar laws and the day is now ob-

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

With the war over the question as to who is guilty of what in the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, again comes up. Ever since the raid nearly four years ago there has been an impatient curiosity on the part of the people of this country to discover the truth.

As is usual in such cases, while there is on the one hand an insistent demand as to the identity of the guilty parties, there is at the same time a well defined effort to pass the buck and place the blame on some one else.

My opinion, like that of every other person who has not had access to all of the information and the events that led up to the attack and the reasons why it was such a complete surprise is based on such information as has appeared in the daily press and over the radio. Naturally, if there are pertinent facts that have not been released to the public any conclusion that an individual might arrive at would not and could not be final.

Out of all the mass of charges and counter charges one central factor emerges. That is that the garrison at Pearl Harbor was caught flat-footed and wholly unprepared. They were as ineffectual as a group of unarmed civilians would have been. This fact is evidenced by the report that not a single American plane got into the air. All of them were destroyed on the ground. It is also an admitted fact that an alert did not exist on the battle-ships in the harbor. No one was available to call the men to their battle stations and the Japanese planes during the hour which they spent over the area did not meet any resistance. This despite of the fact that a warning—several warnings had been sent them from Washington regarding the tenseness of the situation.

While I admit that the people of this country were very slow to see the coming war and the Congress had to be literally clubbed into submission by President Roosevelt before it took a single step toward defense, I do not believe the blame should be laid first at the door of the people of the country as President Truman indicates it should be.

In my opinion the blame lies first with the officers in charge at Pearl Harbor, second the Congress was to blame, and third, the people of this country.

I place the responsibility in this order because the officers, Naval and Army, at Pearl Harbor, were stationed there to guard against just such a thing and for no other purpose. Their reports show that not even peace time military alertness and caution was employed by them. Second, Congress was to blame because Congress knew many of the facts that the people as a whole did not know. It should have been more alert.

It is a matter of common knowledge that President Roosevelt led the fight for preparedness—sometimes it seemed almost single handed. Certain members of Congress, as did the Congressman from my district, fought preparedness every inch of the way and even voted against selective service. What could the people of his district be expected to do when their representative in a position to kiss, fighting every foot of the way. I know, as everyone else knows, who is interested in the facts, that the President asked for the fortification of Guam. It was defeated. My Congressman voted against it and urged his district speaking against preparedness.

In light of these facts which are the only ones made generally available I believe the responsibility lay first with the officials at Pearl Harbor—second with the people of this country.

The Cordial Manner

A warm and cordial manner is one factor in success, whether in business or social life. The person who greets his friends and acquaintances with enthusiasm, who seems genuinely glad to see them, is very warmly welcomed. There is something magnetic about him. People feel pleased to think that he seems so interested in them, and that he is glad to hear the news of what they are doing, and what their families are up to.

The cordial manner is a very great asset in business. It has helped many persons in politics to get elected to office, and it helps men and women to get elected to business success. A salesman who has this manner builds up a circle of friends who like to do business with him. If they have anything to buy in his line, they are very likely to go to his store for the pleasure of trading with him.

What Labor Does

The observance of Labor Day is a reminder of what the country owes to its workers, those who perform the necessary services that supply our daily wants, whose toil has produced the weapons and materials with which America has won a victory over terrible foes, and all who work with hands or brains or perform any kind of useful service.

Work is the foundation of our life. It builds cities and towns and transforms wildernesses into happy communities where people can gain the fruit of their toil. It creates industry that employs the people, and provides the means by which they can earn money to buy the comforts and necessities and luxuries of life.

The country is indebted to its workers for their effort and toil. There is an obligation on the country to provide workers so far as possible with the chance to labor. A condition where many millions cannot find any employment, is a reproach to modern civilization. The country should do its best to see to it that no such situation develops.

Every form of useful labor is honorable, and is to be prized and rewarded. The community benefits from every task well and faithfully performed.

Labor day was originally instituted to honor workers, and specifically to help them organize in such a way as to obtain just compensation for their effort, and good and reasonable working conditions. There has been a great improvement in the condition of the workers since this observance became general. Today there is special need for harmonious cooperation between capital and labor, and a general disposition on the part of all parties to be fair and reasonable.

Formal Surrender

The act of the Japanese government in formally surrendering to the United Nations brings to a dramatic end the tremendous career of conquest on which the government of that country had entered. The American armed forces, backed by the resolute work of our people and our splendid scientists at home, have been the principal power that has stopped this career of savagery and barbarism. The courage and persistence of our fighting men are entitled to the admiration and gratitude of the world. Japan started on its career of conquest in 1931, when it took possession of the Chinese province of Manchuria. The crowning act of infamy came in 1941, when its forces treacherously attacked Pearl Harbor, which was followed by the swift conquest of the greater part of the Pacific islands, including the Philippines. This career of conquest was in direct opposition to the principles of peace and justice which humane sentiment all over the world should rule the affairs of this planet. Terrible barbarities and savage cruelties toward conquered populations were committed by the Japanese in their stolen empire. It is reported that in order to secure special favors from the butchers during rationing of meat, a number of housewives have followed the practice of tipping their butcher. As a result those who did not tip either received no meat or at most the least desirable cuts. might have come to destruction. The Japanese are getting terrible punishment for their attack on civilization and the lawful management of the world. Their actions nerved the democratic peoples to fight with furious determination, convinced this time that nothing but unconditional surrender could end this menace to the peace and safety of the world. We can be deeply thankful that the fighting is all over, and that this proud and arrogant government is to have the lesson it so sorely needs.

OATS! OATS! OATS

Last year, many of our customers had oats in their wheat, and dockage to us on delivery to the mills run from one per cent to five per cent and nothing back for the oats. The oat weight was a total loss to us.

We are asking our customers to bring your seed wheat in and let us run it over our cleaner to take the weed seeds and very small, bad berries out of it, then run over our separating or oat machine to remove the oats from your seed.

The price for the two cleanings of your seed is 10 cents per bushel.

SMUT

To those of our customers who have smut, we are going to do our best to treat your wheat for smut, but we cannot sack it. We can run it loose in your trucks only. The price is 10 cents per bushel for smut treatment.

We will have the Corona 50 per cent plus copper carbonate in five-pound packages to sell you for smut treatment and, if possible, treat your own wheat, as our elevator will be busy almost to capacity delivering seed wheat.

Combatants at Chess

The American people feel that they are far ahead of the Russians in civilization and progress. At least in one field, the Russians have made an excellent showing, and that is in the game of chess. In an international four day radio match at chess a few days ago, a Russian team defeated a United States team, by 15 and one-half to four and one-half.

The game of chess is played by a large number of enthusiasts in this country, and it develops people's ability for concentrated thought and planned activity. The star chess player sees many moves ahead, and plans his campaign with long foresight. Many college students play chess, and find these complicated moves and elaborate campaigns a fascinating study.

EDITORIAL

Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of the letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to roguery, and their literature to lust. It means, on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercise and hungry continence of their bodies and souls. It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by kindness, by watching, by warning, by precept, and by example.—John Ruskin.

SENIORS GET RINGS

Could someone tell me what all the excitement was about Friday afternoon? Oh, the Seniors got their class rings, and they are beautiful.

We are so happy about our rings; everybody we see we show them; our rings, however. Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors, don't be discouraged, for you will be a Senior some day, and can show your ring around.

The rings are gold with a pink gold center. The "C" in the middle is mounted on black, so that it may be seen better. On the left side there is a 4, and on the right there is a 6. On the top there is a star standing for the "Lone Star State." At the lower end there is a small "H. S." for high school. All in all, this ring makes us feel proud that we have made the title, "Seniors of Crowell High School."

NOTICE!

Which magazine do you want to buy? You want it for three weeks? Oh, yes, we can renew your subscription! Say, that is just the magazine you need for that perfect Christmas gift!

These are words floating around this week—yes, you guessed it—the Juniors are on the go, selling magazines! So buy now. You get the magazine, we get a large percent of each sale. The money is to be used for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

The sale ends Monday, September 24. If we should fail to see you, please phone or contact any member of the Junior class or its sponsor, Mrs. Manard.

CROWELL SCHOOL TO RECEIVE PRIMARY TRAINER PLANE

The Pre-Flight Aeronautics students of Crowell High School will soon have a real plane, all their own, for use in their class. The plane is being given to the school by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for ground instruction only. We feel that it will contribute much to the practical side of the Pre-Flight class.

We are to receive the plane from the Sales Depot at Vernon, Texas, as soon as final "Red Tape" is completed.

WILDCATS DROP OPENER

The Crowell Wildcats lost their opening game to the Floydada Whirlwinds Friday night, 6-0. Running from a fast T-formation, the Whirlwinds pushed the ball over the goal line in the third quarter. Carnack made the touchdown, running around left end for 22 yards. The Whirlwinds failed to convert. Crowell, early in the second period, threatened the Whirlwinds' goal line, but the drive bogged down on the 12 yard line. Brock and McBeath stood out for Crowell in the line, while Joy stood out in the backfield.

IMPROVEMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDING

The appearance of our school building has been greatly improved during the past summer months. To replace the hedges along the front, we have a nice new side walk. The campus is covered with a carpet of green grass, that has had excellent care by our janitor. Inside, the floors and desks have just been refinished. The lockers have all been cleaned inside and out.

POSSUM FLATS . . . FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

These improvements, and perhaps others, have been made for the convenience of the students. Now that everything is in good condition, let each of the students of CHS do his part in keeping it that way.

C. H. S. PEP RALLY

The high school rocked Friday morning as the voices of the students of CHS rang loud with pep yells and songs. The commotion was a pep rally which was a real success, for all of the football boys and every other student attending left the auditorium with that cheerful attitude and assurance that it takes to win a game. (This we almost did.)

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The entire student body assembled in the auditorium Monday morning, September 17, 1945. Rev. E. S. Watkins introduced Rev. W. M. Culwell and Rev. H. C. Smith, who are holding a revival meeting at the Methodist Church. Rev. Culwell led the group in singing "America." He then sang as a solo, "Follow the Gleam." Rev. Smith made a short talk which was enjoyed by everyone. The young people were urged to come to the Young People's services at 7:45 each evening at the Methodist Church.

THE CAT'S WHISKERS

Greetings Gates—Let's Co-Operate and put more scandal in Locker 35. To begin with let's see just what has happened the past week.

Much to everyone's sorrow we lost the game, but nevertheless, our boys played a "swell" game. This really looks like a four-some: Marion Ford, "Kathy" Eddy, James and "Shaney." They were seen together Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Betty and "Brock" were seen about town Saturday night.

My, my, these Roark, Thomas and Barker women! How they do go places. Speaking of Saturday night.

Dang that flat anyway, Johnny Frank. Evelyn will be waiting next time, too.

Seen driving around Saturday night was Bev, Gray and Anna L. Payne. Why, Bev, the last we heard you were looking for Bobbie McDaniel.

Seen Friday night were Jo Ann Thompson and Jimmie Johnson. From what we hear, this is definitely a steady.

The next thing you know the boys of CHS will be wearing skirts to school. After all, Friday, several girls did wear levis and plaid shirts.

Buy magazines from Juniors! Seen Saturday night were Burr McBeath, Ralph Huggens, Jessie Moore and Glen Swan. They were having quite a time, as it looked.

Some certain Thalia boys seemed to have had fun at Hill Crest in Vernon Saturday night. Tell us more, boys!

Buy magazines from Juniors! We wonder if Bobby Hammonds likes Robbie Railsback. He seems to do quite a lot of time talking to her in the 7th period study hall.

We wonder why Weldon James makes those "goo-goo" eyes at Janet Roark in the 7th period?

Buy magazines from Juniors! Could it be love? Virginia Monkhouse and Ray Tampin—could be!

Well, this is all for now until next week so "so long." Purring off till next time. "The Cat's Tail."

JOKES

Coach Wilkinson: Say, M. W., where does this road lead to?

M. W.: Don't know, Coach. Well, does this road lead to the next town?

M. W.: Don't know, Coach. You're kinda crazy, aren't you?

M. W.: I'm not lost.

H. A.: J. C., I thought you were working.

J. C. Thompson: I was, but I quit because of illness and fatigue.

H. A.: What was wrong with you?

J. C.: It wasn't me. The boss got sick and tired of me.

Bill Irvin (talking over fence): How old are you?

Johnny Mitchell: Er a-let me see.

Bill: You mean you don't know your own age?

Johannie: I forgot.

Bill: Say, there's not much difference between you and a fool, Johnny: Nope, just a fence.

As Mrs. Sloan ran a red light in Plectra, a policeman pulled up beside her and gave her a ticket to come to court at 10 o'clock the next Monday. Instead of going on, she just turned around and went up to the judge's house, showed him the ticket, and told him to go ahead and fine her because she couldn't be there next Monday since she was a school teacher. The judge said, "So you're a school teacher, eh? Well, you're just what I have been waiting for, for ten years. Go over to that table and write 'I ran a redlight' 500 times. She did, too."

As Mrs. Wilkinson was putting on one of her plays before the student body one day, there was a scene in it where Larry Dan (the Devil) came up out of a trap door and grabbed Carlos as if he were taking him to Hades. As they got through the first trap door and had started to open the second one to make their final exit, they found the door to be stuck very tight. There was just enough room for them to stand in, and none to spare. Larry Dan tried to close the first trap door but couldn't. About that time Ed jumped up out of the audience and said: "Hurrah! I'm saved, Hell's full at last."

PASTE THIS IN YOUR HAT

Writing in Newsweek, Ralph Robey states a few facts that every private citizen should paste in his hat, and this goes double for every public official having authority to spend tax dollars. Almost every day some new plan is proposed for spending a hundred million, 500 million, or a billion tax dollars of the people's money. Mr. Robey suggests that we stop and think where all of this money is coming from—certainly not from the men in the legislative bodies who propose spending it. He points to twelve years of depression after 1929 and asks the question, "Are those the years in which we accumulated the great riches we now propose to deal out so lavishly? . . . For the nation as a whole those were years when we had to draw down, not increase our backlog of wealth."

"We have produced an incredible amount of goods. But it has been, or is in the process of being largely destroyed. A nation does not become wealthy by destroying wealth. Wherein, then, do we get the idea that we are now so rich that we no longer need to think a second time about spending a few billions here and there? The answer really is quite simple. It is to be found in the fact that we have not paid for the war as we went along."

In other words, we are in debt up to our eyes.

The billions of dollars of bonds and deposits and paper money we now have for the most part represent goods which no longer exist. If they are worth anything in the future, said Mr. Robey, it will be only because they are validated by new production. That's what the politicians and the people must remember, when they talk about spending more billions for peacetime public projects which are not absolutely necessary. We are coming out of this war a much poorer nation and we can afford much less today than we could ten years ago. Government should offer every possible encouragement to individuals and industry to produce and save and create new wealth, and cut its own expenses to the bone.

Paste this in your hat, for you will need it.—Industrial News Review.

WE HAVE NO CHOICE

The reason the citizens of every nation should insist that world peace be established on a sound foundation this time, is made evident by the casualty figures released by the British Commonwealth and Empire. And it is well to remember that the atomic bomb had not added its toll to the figures recorded. If Germany had been able to use it, London would have been a barren waste and New York a city of skyscraper skeletons.

As it was, the total British casualties were 1,427,643 killed, wounded, missing or prisoner of war. These figures included 532,233 dead or missing. Civilian casualties were 60,585 killed and 86,175 wounded.

It is no worse for a civilian to be killed or wounded in war than for a soldier—death is as final for either. But it brings war closer home to the people and impresses on them the fact that they are responsible for government, its officials and its policies. They must take more interest in seeing that small cliques and groups of men are not permitted to endanger life and property to gratify personal greed and ambition.

The agencies of destruction perfected in World War II, to turn loose upon the world, indicate that if another war is permitted, it will be the civilian populations that are wiped out. Therefore, it is up to the people themselves to prevent such a catastrophe.—Industrial News Review.

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

Rides Prize Bull Calf on Farm

This farm boy in North Carolina believes in energy conservation, and with his patent bride, manages to utilize one of his father's prize calves to serve as his "pony." Not only does he drive the cattle to pasture and back at night, but he finds his "mount" useful in a great number of other summer chores on this North Carolina farm.

IT'S not even too far to hobble, when you're leaving the blank walls of a hospital room for a brief while, on your way to a place of laughter and song and play.

Here, at the house of smiles, war-shattered veterans escape that hospital routine, from the smell of ether and disinfectants. Here they enjoy their favorite phonograph records, today's newspaper, the checkboard that you gave them when you gave to your County War Chest.

AGRICULTURE

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.) 4-H CLUBBERS BECOME ACTIVE

4-H Club meetings will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, setting in motion again this phase of youth work.

Several boys have gotten their calves and now have them on feed. Gordon Wood Bell has two calves now on feed and the following boys have one each: Jimmy Rastberry, Jimmy Harper, Billy Abston, John Allen Greening and possibly others have gotten their calves.

These boys are our future rural and urban citizens and we believe this work will help to inspire and inform them in practical agricultural practices.

COTTON PULLING AND PICKING CEILING SET

The following telegram was received late Saturday evening by this office. We quote, "Texas USDA Wage Board in view of administrative policy as stated in President's message to Congress recently, and after review of testimony, has recommended and received approval of two dollars twenty-five cents for picking and one dollar thirty-five cents for pulling per one hundred pounds of seed cotton."

This action came upon the request of growers in the area involved after hearings held at Sweetwater and Vernon. The regulations will be administered by Roger O. Evans, Vernon, in co-operation with an advisory board of five cotton growers.

SUNNY SQUIBLET

Too many girls, it is complained, have to sit around without partners at the dances. Might be a good idea to give the girls the privilege of giving the invitations half of the time, and then some of the guys at least would remember them a little better.

The men are told they should try to make their families happy. Back before the war in many families that would have required several automobiles, with the gas tank always kept full by Pop.

Extremely few people have any idea of how the atomic bomb works, but the fact that a person has no idea about it does not prove he will not attempt to explain it.

The atom is said to be the center of extremely swift motion, so that a good many people would seem to be composed of something else besides atoms.

Imagination is said to be the original source of inventions. Also it is a great help to Pop when he gets home late and has to explain where he has been.

They say the older men should get out and play baseball more frequently. Ma says the kind of home run they need is one to run home nights in time for dinner.

Husbands are warned not to try to boss their wives. Most of them find it hopeless if they attempt to do so.

The people are told to be "good losers" when they are defeated in games. Anyway a good many at least lose their tempers quite completely under such circumstances.

What will people find to talk about after the war? Well, there are always the faults of the neighbors and the achievements of one's own children to dwell upon.

Some people say it is hard to get a conversation started, and they don't know what to say when they are introduced to strangers. The old idea about this time would be to ask "Is this hot enough for you?"

They say many men try to make out that they are more important than they really are. There are two people in each case whom it is difficult to mislead on that question, and that is the boss for whom they work and the wife at home.

The American people are said to have experienced a torrent of emotion since peace was declared. The word "torrent" may be defined as a swift flowing stream, and anyway there has been a swift flowing stream of words.

It is said that marriage limits people's freedom. Some men may find that their freedom to get into difficulty is limited.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Tell-Tale Mark: When I was a small boy, I, in common with the other boys of the neighborhood, used to slip off and go swimming. Sometimes my parents had other plans for the day. Either there were chores to do at home or else they felt I was overdoing the swimming and informed me in the morning that I was not to go swimming that day. In the majority of instances I did not go, but in a few occasions I yielded to temptation and the importunities of my neighborhood friends and slipped away for a few blissful hours in the old swimming hole. When my father came home at night he would look at me at the supper table and say: "I thought I told you not to go swimming today." To my credit I never denied going when I went, but I used to wonder how he knew I had gone and if someone had tipped him off. It was some years later that I learned he could tell by the condition of my hair and the appearance of my eyes caused by too much diving. I have thought often since that most of the things we do, when we disobey the rules, leave their tell-tale mark upon us. All of them are not quite so obvious as a boy's hair that has been subjected to sustained periods in the water, but the mark is nevertheless there. It tells on us.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. C. Norman Bartlett, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

What the Well-Dressed Christian Should Wear

From time to time, through the printed page and from convention platforms, stylists and clothiers boldly proclaim what the well-dressed man or woman will wear. Ensembles, elaborate and expensive, are set forth in the most captivating pictures and with a command of language worthy of a nobler cause. After these patterns the world plans its wardrobe.

However, we who bear the name of Jesus and are the children of our heavenly Father need to give more earnest heed to our personal appearance in the things of the Spirit. Undeniably we should be neat and trim, dressed in good taste—but what of our spiritual garments? What should he well-dressed Christian wear? All too few of Christ's followers are sufficiently concerned about their spiritual wardrobe. Too much thought is given to clothes of a material nature. New clothes and old sins make a poor ensemble in His sight. A new hat and an old habit, a new tie and an old lie—what a disgraceful combination in the eyes of the Lord!

Listed in Colossians 3:12-14 are some of the beautiful garments of the Spirit in which Christians should be arrayed. "Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering; forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against you; even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness."

A more devoted prayer life and daily living fully controlled by the Holy Spirit will renew our spiritual wardrobe and keep our garments pure and spotless, untainted from the world. Then indeed we will be well-dressed Christians.

Miss Sunny Bowden Becomes Bride of Lt. Banks Campbell

Lieut. Banks Campbell and Miss Sunny Bowden of Ripley, Tenn., were united in marriage on Tuesday, Sept. 11, at 4:30 o'clock in a beautiful wedding at the First Baptist Church in Ripley, with Chaplain Earl Crowe, of Dyersburg Army Air Base, performing the double ring ceremony.

As pre-nuptial music, Miss Margaret Drake played "Ave Maria," "Dreams" and "At Dawning" on the church organ. She accompanied Miss Bette Anne Paschal who sang "Through the Years" and "I Love You Truly," and also played the traditional wedding marches for the bridal party.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar formed of magnolia greenery interspersed with white gladioli. Graduated candelabra with white tapers and tall baskets filled with white gladioli formed a background for the decorative scheme. Immediately behind the marriage altar and before the organ pipes were tall baskets of ferns and other greenery. On the edge of the rostrum flowers were intertwined among greenery, forming the aisle for the bride and groom.

The bride's maid-of-honor was Miss Virginia Cloys of Ripley and her bridesmaids were Miss Theresa Rhea of Dyersburg, Tenn., and Miss E'Lane Kirkpatrick of Memphis, Tenn. Chessley L. Bowden Jr., brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. Ushers were Capt. Tate Bowden, Lieut. Roy Tyson, Col. J. W. Porter and Mr. Broadus Klutts.

The bride was attired in a lovely wedding gown of magnolia white satin, fashioned with deep yoke, a lace bertha, and round neck line. A tight fitting bodice had tiny buttons down the back and long fitted sleeves with tight lace cuffs with a lace ruffle over the hands. The very full skirt fell into a long train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held with a Mary Stuart cap with seeded pearl trim and orange blossoms at either side. The veil extended from the cap over the face. Her bouquet was formed of a white orchid and a lavender orchid and a shower of Stephanotis.

The bride's attendants wore dresses of heavenly blue, each made alight with white satin top with sweetheart neckline and pelerin over a full skirt of net in the same color. Their flowers were orchid gladioli and each wore an orchid glad in her hair.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, immediately after the wedding with the bride and groom, the parents and the entire wedding party forming the receiving line. The dining room was decorated with gladioli and Stephanotis and ribbon. The wedding cake was featured at one end of the table and the punch bowl at the other. Miss Pat Ferguson and Miss Jette Carter served at the table. About sixty guests registered.

Mrs. Campbell is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chessley L. Bowden of Ripley and is a graduate of Sullins College for Girls in Virginia where she was a member of the Glee Club and other activities, the Mardi Gras pageant and May Day pageant. She was employed at Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Inc., in New York City prior to her marriage.

Lieut. Campbell is the son of A. D. Campbell of Crowell. He is a graduate of Texas A. & M. College, where he majored in Geology. He entered the service in September, 1942, as an aviation cadet. He received his commission and pilot's wings on February 8, 1944, and went overseas in September of that year. He was with the 2nd Bomb Group of the 15th Air Force in Italy. He had made 11 missions when he was shot down over Blechhammer, Germany, in December, 1944. He returned to the 2nd Group in January, 1945, and flew 22 more missions. He arrived in New York on August 17 and in Crowell on August 21.

Lieut. and Mrs. Campbell are here now on a visit and he will report to Fort Sam Houston on Oct. 22.

Miss Leta Jo Carroll and Warren Haynie Wed Monday Evening

Miss Leta Jo Carroll and Warren Haynie were united in marriage Monday evening, Sept. 17, at 8:30 at the parsonage home of Rev. J. W. English, pastor of the Baptist Church in Truscott. Rev. English performed the single ring marriage ceremony.

The bride was attired in a turquoise blue suit with which she wore black accessories. The couple was attended by Mrs. Marion Chowning Jr., sister of the bride and by two friends, George Nichols and Bobbie Lee McDaniel.

Mrs. Haynie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carroll of Crowell and has been reared here. She is a member of the Senior class of Crowell High School.

Mr. Haynie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haynie of Truscott. He was reared in that community and attended Truscott schools and graduated from Crowell High School with the class of 1944-45. He is now connected with his father in business.

The couple will make their home in Truscott for the present.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Twenty-eight members and one guest enjoyed a beautifully appointed breakfast on Wednesday morning, September 5th, in the home of Mrs. R. L. Kincaid with Mesdames D. R. Magee and Grady Halbert as co-hostesses with Mrs. Kincaid. This was the initial meeting of the club for the year 1945-46.

The dining table was laid with white linen and five quartet tables were laid with colorful cloths. Fall flowers decorated the reception suite throughout. Orange mint-julep was served as a cocktail and bacon, eggs, hot rolls, butter and jelly filled the dainty breakfast plate. Coffee was served as a drink.

Following the breakfast, a short program was rendered. Mrs. Sam Crews played the national airs of the Four Allies, as a piano solo. Mrs. Grady Halbert, the incoming president, brought greetings and stressed the plans for the coming year. Mrs. Charlie Thompson presented delightful excerpts from the book, "Try and Stop Me."

Beginning New Year

The calendar year begins Jan. 1, and the world by long habit has adjusted itself to that idea. Practically the year begins for the major part of people about September 1, or perhaps the day after Labor day. Soon after, schools and colleges open. Organizations start on a new program, and present to their members plans for the year. Business lays out new plans of enterprise and activity.

It would be an intelligent idea to change the calendar so that the year should begin at that time. Human nature is fixed in its habits, and the plan that the year should begin Jan. 1 is established by ancient custom and will stand for many years. Perhaps some future age, able to see life in a realistic way, may have it begin early in September.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Salting Meat.—Never salt meat until it is ready to be served. If salted before cooking it will toughen the best meat and tend to extract the juices.

Milk in Potatoes.—When mashed potatoes add a little hot milk. Cold milk makes potatoes soggy.

Tomato Salad.—When making tomato salad scrape the skins of tomatoes with the back of a silver knife instead of covering them with hot water to remove the skins. Tomatoes will not then be soft but quite firm.

THALIA SERVICE CLUB

The Thalia Service Club will meet Friday afternoon, Sept. 21, at 3 o'clock and urge all members to be present and if they desire the Service Club to remember the service men and women with Christmas packages to bring the correct addresses to the meeting.

The club asks the co-operation of everyone for it feels that the service men should not be let down this year, even though the war is over. They feel that the occupation forces should be remembered and that all who are yet in the service in any capacity, should receive letters and packages as before. A large attendance is necessary to get the project under way.

According to soap manufacturers there is no real shortage of soap. The scarcity is caused by hoarding. Soap manufacturers state that they are making as much soap as they did ten years ago. The scarcity is attributed to the fact that a rumor stated that soap would be rationed, the announcement resulted in a raid on grocers' shelves which cleaned out all stocks and has kept them cleaned out. Even those with ample supply of soap at home continue to make the rounds of the grocers adding to their hoard whenever they can find the soap. The result is that the nonhoarders find themselves out of soap and unable to secure enough to meet their needs.

Stay at Home—See Him Sooner, Advice

The quickest way to see your son or husband being returned from overseas, to be discharged from the Navy, is to remain at home.

That was the sage advice offered today by the Navy Department to relatives who are anxious to welcome their "boys" coming back to the States for release.

In the first place, if relatives travel to debarkation ports it is highly improbable that they will even see their sailors because the Navy demobilization plan calls for returning men to separation centers in their own Naval Districts. In consequence, men will not be free to visit their families at coastal ports, but will move without delay to their own districts.

Secondly, travel by dependents will only crowd the already overloaded transportation system and hamper the orderly operation of discharge.

And last, living accommodations in coastal ports are not and will not be available.
