Mrs. G. H. Patton Dies Suddenly Thursday Night

Funeral Services Held Saturday at Methodist Church

Death came very quietly to Mrs. G. H. Patton at her home last Thursday night, Oct. 18. She had been in ill health for several years. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, Oct. 20, with Rev. R. S. Watkins, the pastor, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. J. H. Crow, Methodist pastor at Paducah, and Grant L. Slagle, pastor of the First Christian Church of Crowell. A special song, "Sweet Peace, the Gift of God's Love," was sung by Mrs. C. W. Thompson and Mrs. T. B. Klepper, with Mrs. Paul Shirley playing the accompaniment.

Interment was made in the Crowell cemetery under the direction of Womack Funeral Home. Pall bearers were T. S. Haney, Oscar Gentry, Roy Steele, Ed Manard, Charlie Cavin and T. B. Klepper. Flower bearers included Misses Frankie Kirkpatrick, Thelma White, Florence Black and Deulah Bowley and Mesdames Doyle Kenner, Lewis Sloan and Roy Steele.

Mrs. Patton, formerly Miss Arva Virginia Neely, was born at Rienzi, Mississippi, on February 11, 1872. She moved to Marlin, Texas, with her parents, when she was eight years of age. Later they moved to Chillicothe, where she resided until her marriage to G. H. Patton of the Vivian community on December 24, 1903. Here the couple lived until 1913, when they, with their two daughters, came to Crowell to make their home.

Mrs. Patton was a charter member of the Presbyterian Church at Chillicothe, later moving her membership to Crowell. She was a faithful, loyal church member and a true Christian character. She was active in all phases of benevolent activities until her health failed. Her patient, happy disposition endeared her to a large circle of friends.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Miss Beulah Patton of Paducah and Mrs. Earl Manard of Crowell; three brothers, T. M. Neely of California, G. D. Neely of Littlefield and S. L. Neely of Houston; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Britt of Chillicothe and Mrs. T. S. Patton of Crowell and a number of nieces and nephews. Relatives present for the funeral were Mrs. J. J. Neely of Littlefield; Mrs. Virgil Ethridge of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Powell and family of Paducah.

Second Conference Game of Football Season Will Be Played Here Fri. Night, Wildcats vs. Valley View Warriors

The Crowell High School football team will play its second conference game of the season here tomorrow night with the Valley View Warriors. The game will start at 8 p. m. The Valley View team has not made an outstanding record this season, but due to the importance of the game and the fact that Crowell's last home game was played in a down-pour of rain, a large crowd is expected. This will be Valley View's first conference game for the season.

J. L. Brock, Crowell's right end, will be out of the lineup. It is doubtful whether Horace Todd, left halfback, or Larry Wood, left guard, will be able to see much service. J. C. Patton, tackle, will be eligible to play in this contest. Due to his 165 pounds weight, the Crowell line should be strengthened. The Wildcats have been outweighted in every game they have played this season. They will go to Stamford for a non-conference game next week. The probable starting lineups for the Valley View game are as follows:

Recipes of the Week

Texas homemakers who have never made summer mincemeat from late pears have a treat in store for them. Few recipes issued by the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service ever have met with greater enthusiasm, according to Gwendolyn Jones, Extension specialist in food preservation. The recipe calls for some sweetening, and either honey or corn syrup can be substituted for sugar. Corn syrup probably would be preferable. Ripe pears should be used in the mincemeat. If homemakers have hard, green pears, these may be wrapped in newspaper and stored in a cool, dark, place to mellow. A cool place is especially important, otherwise the pears may spoil quickly. Ventilated cellars or pantries would be excellent storage places. Here is the recipe: Summer Mincemeat from Pears 7 1/2 pounds pears (peeled and cored), 1 lemon, 1 apple (peel all), 1 cup grape juice or other fruit juice (not too sweet), 1 tablespoon each ground cinnamon, cloves, and allspice, 1 pound seedless raisins, 6 cups sugar or 3 cups honey and 1 cup sugar or 6 cups corn syrup, 1 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt. Grind pears, lemon and apple. Mix with all other ingredients and boil for two hours. Pack into hot jars. Seal while hot. Another pear recipe Miss Jones recommends is for pear butter. Pear Butter Peel and core one gallon of late ripe pears; put in kettle and add two cups water; boil slowly; when tender put through a ricer or colander. To every four cups of pulp add two cups of sugar (1 cup honey and 1/2 cup sugar may be used or 2 1/2 cups corn syrup, instead of sugar). Place on stove again and cook slowly until very thick. Stir to prevent sticking. A few minutes before removing, add juice of one lemon. Pack into hot sterilized jars. Leave no head space. Have lids and rubbers. How to "Perk Up" Hats For Fall Foard County Home Demonstration Club women are learning how to perk up their old hats to make them do another season, in their meetings this month. West Side, Vivian and Foard City clubs have already had their meeting. Felt hats which are tired and limp can be rejuvenated with the use of felt sizing, and excellent stiffener. Before the sizing is applied, the hat should be "perked up" with cleaning, brushing and steaming. The hat should be brushed first, then steamed in accordance with these directions: Place a small

SCHOOL DAYS ARE EYESTRAIN DAYS REDDY KILOWATT Your Electric Servant WITH the fall come shorter periods of daylight, and this calls for the use of more artificial light. Ninety-five per cent of the children enter school with good normal eyesight. On leaving school twelve years later, twenty-five per cent will be in need of glasses, and upon graduating from university thirty-five per cent will require them. A large percentage of defective vision is the result of eyestrain caused by inadequate lighting. Children give little thought to the care of their eyes. For instance, a favorite position when doing homework or reading the "funnies" is on the floor. Habits such as this should be corrected. Good light is always important. THE CASE OF THE NARROW SUPPLIES

Joe Skunkly came rushing into the English room, making as much noise as a turbo-puller pulling the green Mary. He plopped into his seat, dropping his books—wham!

Given the assignment, Joe promptly raised his hand.

"Yes," said the instructor. "You may go quietly to borrow a pencil."

After stopping around inquiring, Joe came back to his desk, raised his hand again.

"Joe, what is the trouble now?"

"Can I go to my locker and get my notebook?"

"Why didn't you bring it with you?"

"I forgot it."

"Yes, but please hurry."

WELCOME, MRS. DAVENPORT

We are glad to welcome Mrs. Otto Davenport back into the faculty of the Crowell Schools.

For the past three years she has been teaching Language Arts in Rightsell School in Little Rock, Ark.

She is now teaching in the sixth and seventh grades and American and World History in High School.

Mrs. Davenport says she prefers Texas schools because they are more advanced.

GREETINGS!

At last we have back in our home town Miss Frances Hill and Miss Mary Raftland Thompson, former teachers of the Crowell Schools. They have served during the war in the WAVES.

A PRAYER ANSWERED

Looking over her plaid flannel shoulder, she saw him coming down the hall. She stole a last over-all glance in her compact mirror before she shoved it into the pocket of her levis. By careful timing, she managed to be just starting away from her locker when he passed.

A good morning smile would be casual enough and yet makes her seem charming, she thought, so she gave out with a slow sweet smile that he had learned by observing the senior girls at work. He gave her a half smile and clattered on down the hall, his boot heels clicking.

Not much luck that try, she thought, as she went into her first period class. The rest of the period she devoted her attention between general math and thinking up witty things to say if he ever, ever talked to her.

She wondered where he was this period. Oh, for a date for Friday night! If he would only ask her! The bell rang and she sent up a silent prayer as she and the rest of the class pushed on another out the door. The three minutes between classes went by. Still no luck. She gave a heart-felt sigh and turned into the Study Hall.

Too soon the morning passed, and the noon bell rang. She raced over to the cafeteria. On the way she dropped her lipstick and had to go back for it. When she finally reached grammar school, the lunch line was several feet long.

When she took her place at the foot, she glanced toward the entrance as her name was called. She couldn't see who was calling, but no second invitation was needed.

It was Eileen, that cute blonde from Thalia, who sat behind her in English class. But what was Eileen pushing her ahead for? She glanced up, bewildered and suddenly saw who it was. So he had been the one.

Eileen smiled at her as she leaned over to whisper, "He was too bashful to call you up here himself, so he asked me to." She murmured a thanks and turned to face him. After a smile and a blush it was her turn to give Doris her lunch number.

Just as she was reaching for a glass of grapefruit juice, he said, "Would you like to go to the Hallowsen party with me?"

Someone in from of them laughed, "These freshmen!"

She glanced up and saw to her surprise that he looked as confused as she felt. But what was she to do? She had a date here of all places! A boy at the back demanded to know what was holding up the line.

With a quick smile she gave a soft "yes," and fled.

HORACE TODD

Horace Todd, an unassuming lad of Crowell High, is the type of person who makes an outstanding CHS citizen. Horace is always courteous and friendly to the students and to the faculty. He never worries about anything or anyone, so he says, but don't let him "kid" you for he must have a little worry now and then. Horace is sixteen years old, is five feet, eleven inches tall, has blonde hair and blue eyes. His favorite food is banana pudding. Horace's favorite girl friend is Doris Prescott of Vernon; so you Crowell girls better watch out! He likes aerobatics better than anything he takes; it may be because of his good teacher or because of the airplane they have. He plays halfback on our "grand old Wildcat team" and that is enough to be proud of. One of his highest ambitions is to make an A- in English IV. Maybe he will acquire that this year. Anyway wherever Horace goes, we, the students of CHS know that he will make a place for himself. He is all for CHS.

WHARTON GALLOPS 103 YARDS AT HOLLIDAY

The Crowell Wildcats chalked up one victory on the Conference scoreboard Friday by defeating the tough Holliday Eagles by a score of 7-6.

This was the Wildcats' first conference game and was one of the toughest games the Wildcats will play in this district.

The Wildcats' lone tally was made by Captain O. C. Wharton after intercepting an Eagle pass and racing 103 yards for the touchdown. Wharton, defensive linebacker for the Wildcats, intercepted the wild pass thrown by Holliday's Dale Whately standing behind Crowell's goal line and outran two Holliday players. Joy made the extra point.

They were individual stars as all eleven boys showed up exceptionally well.

Holliday's score was made by Moulton.

The Wildcats play Valley View this week in the second conference game. The game will be played here.

SOME FUN, EH!

Many students have told interesting tales about how they spent the summer.

Horace Todd and V. Bond are experienced ranchers since they spent the summer "rounding up" cattle, building corrals, and exploring canyons on the Bar Circle Ranch.

H. A. White, Carlos McBeath, Larry Dan Campbell, Kenneth Ownbey, Clay Dunn, J. L. Brock, Hardy Sanders, Ed Thomas and C. D. Campbell are tractor and combine men, for they gained valuable experience working in the harvest here and at various points on the Plains.

Joyce Jones worked in Myer's Drug Store at Truscott.

Sharon Hanes, De Alva Thomas and Betty Seale had fun when they went to Fort Worth to see Billie Billington.

Jack Brown worked on his father's ranch near Truscott.

Ruth Barker visited Phoenix,

Ariz., and was impressed by the Indiana and beautiful theatres.

Ira Mae Hardin took a trip to Seattle, Wash., where she liked the waterfront and to Victoria, Canada, where she visited the parliament buildings.

Jo Ann Meason journeyed to Houston where she spent most of her time on the beach, to Galveston where she enjoyed sea food, and to Austin where she saw the Capitol and Governor's Mansion.

Robbie Ralshack worked in her father's store at Thalia.

Geraldine Davis worked at Woody's Radio Shop, Oklahoma City, for two months. She learned to build radios.

Virginia Bell hauled oats for her father.

Bobby Cooper and Bobby Gloyne drove a tractor on their father's farms.

A. G. Wallace hauled wheat during harvest.

Bobbie Lee McDaniel worked at Ferguson's Drug Store.

Anna Laura Payne attended Will Roger's Rodeo at Amarillo.

Ruth Cauthan worked at the Liberty Cafe.

Miles Neill drove a truck for the walnut sprayers in Los Angeles, Calif.

Larry Wood visited Miles Neill. They went to many interesting places. In Hollywood Larry liked the bright lights and the Paladium, largest dance pavilion in the world, where Less Brown and his orchestra were playing; in Los Angeles he saw stage shows at the Orpheum where he saw Martha Raye. He also liked Louis Jordan and his band and Count Basie and his band.

Milton Hall made a trip to Fort Worth. He enjoyed the zoo at Forest Park.

Helen Marts attended Methodist Assembly at Abilene.

Betty Seale made a car trip to Floydada and to Ruidosa, N. M. O. C. Wharton helped in the wheat harvest at Walsh, Colo.

Kendrick Joy made a trip to Raysona, Mexico. He saw the market, attended a bull fight, and ate Mexican food.

Joe Harris Seales fell in the ink barrel at The News office.

It will be nice when winter greets Milton Hall and that red sweater of his. It will make the coldest winter days seem brighter.

Speaking of blondes, Vera Lee and Mary Helen Payne are two of the girls who make boys prefer blondes.

Mrs. Wilkinson's dramatic class does many things that would amaze a mere passer-by. If you happen to pass by and see Berthene and Janet standing on top of a desk, they are practicing good posture.

Why does Danny dash to Locker 147 between periods?

Sharon is grieving because of James' sprained ankle.

Johnny seems quite happy because his uncle has two cars now. It gives him a better chance to see Evie.

Brock has a hard time keeping his eyes on his locker between periods because Betty's locker is across from his.

What is the first thing De Alva and Booty ask when they get home in the afternoon? "Did I get a letter?"

THE CAT'S WHISKERS

Howdy, Everybody! Gee, lots and lots happened over the week-end. "Spousing" we see just what did.

Seen around town Saturday night were Travis Vecera, Virginia Monkhouse, and our old steadies, Brock and Betty.

What's this we hear about Berthene Hardage and Joe Bond?

It seems as though three of our CHS students journeyed to Lubbock to see three old Tech slimes, (Freshman, in case you don't know), Jane Roark, "Maggie" Magee, and "Sister" Owens. You probably know by now it was "Dee," Janet and "Shaney."

Peggy Evans was seen courting Bobby Cooper Saturday night.

It seems as though Larry Wood and Doris Denton had fun Saturday night.

Our "usuals" were seen Saturday night. Kathy and Danny and Jo Ann and M. W.

Mary Jo Short is still true to her "Sawdust" Lindsey.

Ava and Alton are doing "swell."

Virginia Bell is still true to her "one and only," Jesse Moore.

From all reports "Evie" and Johnny are doing "just swell."

Miles, did you miss Janet over the week-end?

That's tough! What's tough: Three weeks exams which are just around the corner.

Welcome home, Bit!

BEAT VALLEY VIEW

Virginia Hammonds is still "toting the torch" for Glen Swan.

Tell us more—Oh—V—Tell us more. We mean about Vernon.

"Sonny" Johnson is still flirting with Bobbie Smith.

This is strictly a personal for Mrs. Davenport: Welcome home!

BEAT VALLEY VIEW

"Booty" is still true to her sailor boy, "Prune."

Kenneth Ownbey has been seen talking a lot lately to Edna Lee Dunn. Why, Edna Lee, what about Ray?

What's this we hear about Larry Wood and Paducah?

A special notice to "Fish." You had better be extra good, because Halloween is just next door and the upper classmen might not like it if you were not.

That's all there is.

And wasn't it "swell!"

Okey, kids.

So it sounded like—!

See ya next week—

Army Pigeons Will Be Sold to Civilians

Thousands of Army homing pigeons, veterans, veteran "G. I." message carriers of good breeding stock, are now being offered for direct sale to civilians, according to the Office of Surplus Property of the Department of Commerce.

The war birds, all Army bred and bred for message carrying and other military purposes, may be purchased in 5 pair lots at $25.00 a lot by any person on application to the Department in Washington, D. C. The pigeons are from one to five years of age.

Bird fanciers, 4-H Club members and breeders on the lookout for exceptional stock are invited to write to the Office of Surplus Property, General Products Section, for full information.

Of exceptional lineage, the birds are descendants of some of the country's finest homing pigeon breeding stock and were presented to the Government at the start of the war by pigeon fanciers to aid in rapid formation of large flocks of message carriers.

Buyers of the lots of five pairs of pigeons will receive certificates of service from the army for each bird. This will provide evidence of ownership of the birds which wear Army leg bands. The Government does not furnish information, however, regarding strain, sire, dam, or racing records because of the work involved.

Although pedigrees are not provided, many prospective buyers may be attracted by the chance that because of the exceptional breeding of the birds, a lot of five may contain one or more birds with championship potentialities.

The story of bravery, courage and reliability behind the "Doves" of World War 2 is well known. Many amazing and amusing anecdotes of their achievements have already been published of their dramatic service in rescue work, in apprehending enemy agents, in indicating locations of disabled craft, in conveying warnings and getting other vital communications through with dispatch when human and mechanical methods fail.

Like the K-9 dogs of war, Army homers were put through special training. Some were taught to fly at night, overcoming their urge to perch at sunset.

Certified check, cashiers check, bank draft or money order made out to the Treasurer of the United States covering the amount of the purchase should be addressed direct to the Office of Surplus Property, Department of Commerce, General Products Section, Washington, D. C. All shipments are made in the buyers crates by Railway Express, collect.

Hallowe'en Doings

The American people have a way of making a joke out of nearly everything. The way the youngsters have observed Hallowe'en is one illustration. Hallowe'en is the evening before All Saints day, which comes November 1, and which was probably constituted originally to honor a great company of holy men and martyrs for whom no commemoration on some special day had been provided. Somehow the idea got around that on the evening before this festival, the spirits of the dead were wandering around, together with witches, devils, and mischief making elves. It was the one night, according to ancient superstition, when supernatural influences most prevail. So the idea became common that tricks could be played, and that if people complained, they could be told that the spirits did these things.

Today the observance of Hallowe'en is mostly confined to the youthful element. So the kids scamper through the back yards, some of them cut clotheslines, some slam window blinds, they tip over ashcans, and perform many similar tricks. One annoying stunt is to mark up the windows of stores with some waxy substance, which makes work for the store people. Firemen have been annoyed in some cities by the habit of ringing in false fire alarms, a very troublesome trick which might do serious harm if a real fire occurred at a time when the firemen had been called out to a false alarm.

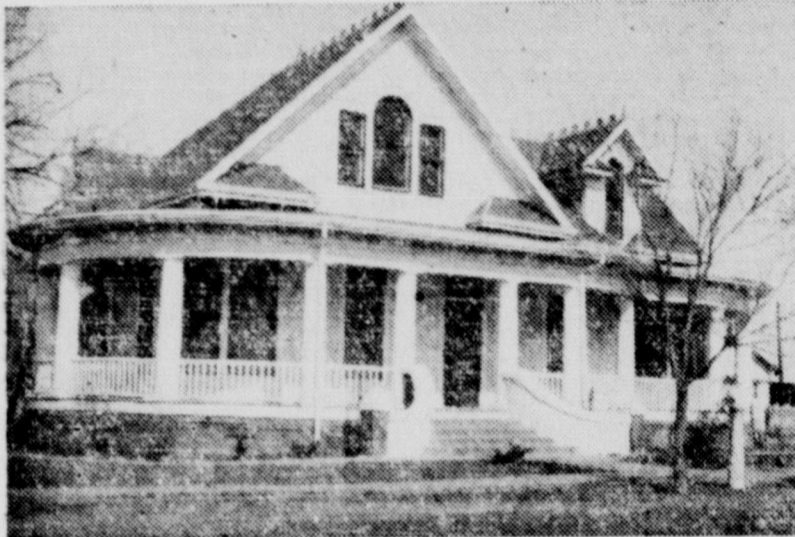

Some of the minor stunts, like rigging up in outlandish clothes, and parading with jack-o-lanterns, are harmless, and give the youngsters an outlet for fun spirit.

When they do things that make real trouble, it is a poor display of community spirit. They should be told that such stunts are now playing the game of good citizenship.

HISTORY

Armistice Day—November 11: Armistice Day marks the date of the cessation of hostilities at the close of World War I, on November 11, 1918. The move toward the armistice had its beginning Sunday when a peace delegation from the German Army called upon Marshal Foch, the Allied commander at Spa, and asked for mercy. The delegation was informed that a protocol had already been prepared which if signed would bring about peace. The delegation was authorized by the German Chancellor to sign. The document was signed Monday morning at 5 o'clock and the order was sent out to all armies to cease firing at eleven o'clock. The announcement was received with great rejoicing in this country and other parts of the world. Parades formed and marched about the city streets for hours. On November 11, 1919, President Wilson issued a proclamation establishing Armistice Day on November 11. The first Armistice Day was observed with parades, by public meetings and religious services. The practice has continued with members of the American Legion generally in charge. The day has become a memorial to the men who lost their lives in World War I. Because many soldier dead had been buried without identification it was deemed proper that a tomb be erected to the Unknown Soldier. The remains of an unknown soldier was brought to this country and buried in Arlington Cemetery beside an appropriate tomb. Each year services are held at the tomb and a wreath is deposited upon it. A similar tomb has been erected in London and in Paris. In 1926 Congress adopted a resolution directing the President to issue an annual proclamation calling upon the people to observe the day. The day has become a legal holiday in twenty nine states. In the other states it is observed in response to a proclamation by the governor.

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett,
 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—For the first time in some 16 years the House of Representatives this week passed a bill reducing taxes. Under the Constitution revenue bills must originate in the House of Representatives. They are written by the Ways and Means Committee of the House and are usually presented under a "closed rule" which means they are not subject to amendment. This prevents each one of the 435 Representatives from trying to write in his own particular idea of who should be taxed in what amount. The bill just passed would drop some 12,000,000 million low-income persons from the income tax rolls. The bill allows $500 exemption for each person and for each dependent. In other words, a man and wife with two children would be allowed an income of $2,000 before any taxes are paid. The bill now goes to the Senate Finance Committee of which Senator George is chairman. Senator George has expressed strong objections to the bill as passed by the House, and it may be considerably changed before finally enacted.

The House Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments, of which I am a member, is continuing hearings on the Murray-Patman so-called "full employment" bill. While we should do everything humanly possible to see that all returning soldiers have an opportunity for suitable and useful employment, many think the government cannot possibly guarantee jobs for war workers and everyone else in the United States. We have always had some unemployment. It is generally agreed that the proposed "full employment act of 1945" is an illusion.

One of our greatest generals, who cannot be quoted, when asked about this bill said that we have just finished a war against such a system, that Hitler had full employment. One of my Congressional friends who has just returned from Russia, where he talked with Stalin, observed in conversation that Russia has full employment, and that he did not see a smile on the face of any person in the Soviet Union. In the Communist constitution is found this language: "Citizens of the U. S. S. R. have the right to work, the right to receive guaranteed work with payment for their work in accordance with its quantity and quality."

Hitler told his followers: "We shall banish want; we shall banish fear. National Socialism is the revolution of the common man." The sawdust Caesar, Mussolini, once said, "It is only when private enterprise is inadequate that the State intervenes."

We can't create Utopias by adopting beautiful statements of hopes and principles, and seeking to guarantee them with money from the U. S. treasury. To be opposed to unemployment is like being opposed to sin, and to eliminate it completely would perhaps be almost as difficult as to eliminate wrong-doing. In the case of the full employment bill the medicine might be worse than the disease.

Military Affairs and Commerce sub-committees of the Senate are now meeting jointly to consider several proposals for the establishment of national scientific research programs. A report of October 1, 1945, by the Director of War Mobilization and Reconstruction recommended the establishment of a federal research institute for the following purposes:

1. To promote and support fundamental research and development projects in all matters pertaining to national defense and security.
2. To promote and support research in the basic sciences and in the social sciences.
3. To promote and support research in medicine, public health, and allied fields.
4. To provide financial assistance in the form of scholarships and grants for young men and women of proved scientific ability.
5. To co-ordinate and control diverse scientific activities now conducted by the several departments and agencies of the federal government.
6. To make fully, freely, and publicly available to commerce, industry, agriculture, and academic institutions the fruits of research financed by federal funds.

All will agree that the two billion dollars we spent to develop the atom bomb and the radio proximity fuse was a cheap investment in saving American lives and bringing the war to an earlier end. If by spending a like sum

The government tax collectors received 20 per cent of the gross receipts for the World's series baseball games. The gate receipts at the first game were $220,394. Twenty per cent of this would be $44,078.

Don't let go now—when the battle against rising prices is almost won. Now is the time to hang on to your War Bonds, to keep buying new Bonds, to plan your spending and plan your saving.

Here is why. Prices are high today. Goods are scarce. Competitive buying of scarce commodities bids prices up, makes our dollars buy less.

So, plan your savings now—buy Victory Bonds, add to your bank account regularly—for that big purchase you will want to make in the future, a home of your own, perhaps. Later, in a more abundant time, this institution can supply you with the credit needed to buy what you most want—if you save the down-payment now.

Directors Assembly of W. T. C. C. at Abilene to Be Monday, Nov. 5
The West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced Monday it was advancing by two days from Wednesday, Nov. 7, to Monday the 5th—its 1945 Directors and Referendum assembly, to be held at the Abilene headquarters, according to a news release received by The Foard County News.

The change, explained WTCC President E. W. Hardin in letters to affiliates, was made necessary by the discovery of a conflict in dates with a large church group. The Northwest Texas Methodist Conference months ago arranged to hold its annual meeting in Abilene for five days beginning Nov. 7, preceded by committee sessions on the 6th. In consequence, Hardin said, "rooms in Abilene hotels for our WTCC delegates would have been impossible to obtain during that midweek. In order not to discommode the delegates the Officers Committee has

According to authorities the fly menace to stock and to people can be completely whipped within a few years by the use of the new insecticide, D. D. T. The cost of ridding a herd of cattle from flies is estimated at about two cents a head for an entire season. Experiments have proven DDT to be 100 per cent effective in the elimination of flies from herds of cattle ranging in size from a few to 2,500.

In his new book, "Germany is Our Problem," Henry Morgenthau states that American soldiers are not fitted to rule Germany. They are, Morgenthau says, too kindly and too easy going to give Germany the kind of administration it needs and should have.

Facts About Texas and Annexation

(By Dr. E. C. Barker, Professor of American History, The University of Texas.)

(The first of a series of articles on the Texas Centennial of Statehood. Next week, the international aspects of the annexation of Texas will be discussed.)

Though the precise date at which the Republic of Texas was merged with the United States is of no practical importance, it is a topic of intermittent popular discussion and antiquarian interest. Puzzlement arises from the fact that the process of annexation is confused with the dramatic ceremony that accompanied the transition of the government from republic to state.

Briefly, the congress of the United States passed the annexation resolution on February 28, 1845. President Tyler approved it the next day and instructed Andrew Jackson Donelson, American minister in Texas, to present it to the Texan authorities and urge its prompt acceptance.

President Anson Jones called a special session of the Texas Congress to meet in June and a convention of duly elected delegates to assemble at Austin on the 4th of July. Both Congress and convention formally accepted the terms offered by the United States, and the convention proceeded to frame the first state constitution.

The constitution was ratified by popular vote in October, and was accepted by the Congress of the United States on December 29, 1845. By this Texas became the 28th state of the Union.

Following the admission of Texas, it was necessary for the people to elect state officers. This being done, the legislature assembled on February 16, and on February 19, 1845.

President Jones, in an impressive ceremony, delivered the government to Governor J. Pickney Henderson and declared, "The Republic of Texas is no more." Calling attention to the happy merging of the two republics, "not by violence and disorder, but by the deliberate and free choice of its citizens," he closed his speech with an eloquent peroration.

"The lone star of Texas," he said, "which ten years since arose amid clouds over fields of carnage, and was obscurely seen for a while, has culminated, and followed an inscrutable destiny; has passed on and become fixed forever in that glorious constellation which all freemen and lovers of freedom in the world must reverence and adore—the Americas.

Blending its rays with its sister states, long may it continue to shine, and may generous Heaven smile upon the consummation of the wishes of the two republics now joined in one. May the Union be perpetual and may it be the means of conferring benefit and blessings upon the people of all the states, is my ardent prayer."

As he ended, the Lone Star flag was lowered and the flag of the United States took its place.

FAIR TREATMENT PAYS DIVIDENDS

As the legislatures of 44 states concluded their deliberations in 1945, it was encouraging to note that few bills unfavorable to the oil industry and its customers, were passed. Oil more closely affects the existence of American families, than do most products. After five years of war, prosecution of which was dependent on the resources of the American oil industry, it is still able to meet all of our demands with better products than ever before. This is a tribute to its ability and is recognized by the people.

Legislators indicated in their caution about levying new taxes and increasing old ones, that they understood that a saturation point for fuel and motorists' taxation is near. They resisted attempts to divert gasoline and oil taxes from highway purposes to the general fund. More and more states are joining the 16 which have adopted constitutional amendments dedicating highway revenues for exclusive highway use.

Such a public attitude toward a basic industry is the surest way to assure plenty and prosperity in our nation. That policy, extended to other deserving industries, would do more to create steady employment than all the subsidies and political projects to put government into competition with business can ever hope to accomplish.

As a nation that moves on wheels, we are fortunate that oil development and production is in the hands of private enterprise, subject only to essential public regulation.—Industrial News Review.

delay" and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ricks.

Mrs. Archer, whose theme was "Burma—Gateway to China," said that the area is 261,000 square miles, slightly less than Texas; the islands off Burma are similar in beauty to those of the South Pacific. At one time, Burma was known as "White Man's Grave;" the grave diggers were malaria and extreme hot weather. Almost 10 million acres of land are planted in rice each year. The mineral wealth is found in the northern part.

Mrs. T. N. Bell told of "Many Experiences in Burma." In her resume she told of many interesting and amusing customs of the people, their costumes, marriage laws and homes. Jade is mined in Burma and shipped by way of Rangoon in peace time.

During the social hour the members were invited into the dining room where a refreshment course was served from the table, centered with a bowl of purple asters, and yellow burning tapers added to the attractiveness of the appointments.

Serving at the coffee service was Mrs. T. B. Masterson Jr. and at the salad bowl was Mrs. L. L. English of Ackerly. Mrs. Stover was further assisted in the dining room by Mrs. J. A. Stovall.

Gentleman's evening will be observed on Oct. 31, at the club house.

B. & P. W. Club Has Breakfast

Sunday morning, October 21, the Business and Professional Women's Club met at the DeLuxe Cafe for breakfast, with Blanche Hays, Sally Archer and Elizabeth Elliott in charge of the program and decorations.

Blanche Hays, master of ceremonies, introduced three guests, Mrs. Otis Strickland, Mrs. Richard Ferguson and Miss Ruth Thompson, District Supervisor of Extension Service, College Station.

The Club collect was read in unison. An interesting devotional, the story of Adam and Eve, was given by Mrs. Strickland. A violin solo, "The Holy City" was played by Inez Spencer with Ella Rucker accompanying. A reading "Renaissance" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, was given by Mrs. Richard Ferguson.

Club members present were Sally Archer, Jim Lois Bursey, Mayme Lee Collins, Gusta Davis, Elizabeth Elliott, Hazel Harrison, Blanche Hays, Ura Orr, Jean Reeder, Ella Rucker, Lottie Russell, Mae Solomon, Inez Spencer, Gussie Todd, Bertha Womack and Rosalee Kaminschne.

This year's apple crop is reported as one of the smallest ever produced, 69 million bushels against a normal 120 million bushels. Two reasons are given for the short crop. Late frosts killed the buds and excessive rains in May kept the bees from pollinating the blossoms.

Have Good Luck, But—Hunt Legally

There are some important dates just ahead for Texas hunters.

The season for mourning doves in the North Zone now is open and will be until half an hour after sunset on October thirtieth.

For quail, the season is the same throughout the state, except for a few counties where game laws make exceptions. Generally speaking it's December first to January sixteenth, inclusive.

Now for a few refresher remarks on state game laws, summarized by R. E. Callender, wildlife specialist for the A. & M. College Extension Service. For doves the total is 10 birds in a day, and you can't have in possession any more than one day's kill. For quail the bag limit is 12 a day and no more than thirty-six in a week. The possession limit is 36, too.

You can't use a shot gun any larger than 10 gauge for either doves or quail, and the gun must be plugged so it can't hold any more than three shells.

Here are a few hunting don'ts: Don't hunt out of the "county of your residence" without a hunting license. Don't hunt any game bird between one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise. Don't hunt from a car, boat or an airplane. Don't hunt on fenced land without the owner's consent. Don't shoot a gun, in, on, along, or across any public road in Texas.

Paper To Be Made From Cotton

A goodly chunk of our surplus cotton may be turned into durable paper.

According to a statement received by the A. & M. College Extension Service from the Production and Marketing Administration, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has prepared a program which will permit making paper from some of our short staple cotton. Much of the cotton which will be placed at the service of the manufacturers will be used in types of paper like War bonds, currency, photographs, maps, insurance policies, and for other uses which will need paper that must stand considerable handling, or which must last for a long time.

The statement says that the program is aimed at developing new uses for cotton and to help reduce the large stocks of short staple, low grade cotton. Other purposes are to furnish additional critically needed raw materials for making high grade paper, and to aid in making larger space in warehouses for the 1945 crop.

The greatest amount of cotton which may be used under the program is placed at 50 million pounds. In quality, it must not be less than three-quarter inch in staple, and of grades not lower than the lowest grade in the universal standards for American upland cotton, the statement says.

Purchases by manufacturers may be made either from the Commodity Credit Corporation or elsewhere.

Losses From Cattle Grubs

If you plan to market cattle during the next six months, the cattle should have been treated for grubs before shipping to avoid the losses detailed below.

Aside from the losses incurred, the cattle are more difficult to finish and lose in the production of meat or milk, aside from the annoyance caused by the heel flies in early spring.

Cattle grubs collect a big toll in money from Texas farmers yearly. Grubs also take a heavy toll indirectly from non-farm people. This is in the form of meat which the grubs make unfit for eating. It is estimated that grubs levy a tax of about five million dollars a year upon Texas cattle growers.

Here's the way it is figured: About 840-thousand of the two million Texas cattle slaughtered yearly are grubby, and these animals are discounted an average of nearly four dollars each. This is the main item of loss. But the remainder of the five million is in damaged hides, a reduction of twenty-five per cent in milk flow, the greater expense in feeding stock afflicted by grubs.

And here's what the parasites take from folks who eat the meat: An average of two pounds per infected animal is destroyed. This would be sufficient for the meat ration of forty-six hundred persons. And the leather lost because of damage by the grubs is sufficient to make about one million pairs of shoes. The money represented in the loss of meat and hides falls upon the cattle producer, but during meat and shoe rationing the consumer also has a large interest in the problem of controlling the parasite.

Rotenone and sulphur is the most effective treatment for grubs. This mixture may be applied as a dust or spray, and as dip when both grubs and lice are to be controlled. The time that the first treatment for control of grubs should be given is October 20th to December 1st in West Texas.

Planting Winter Legumes

In this area, except in the very sandy soil, planting winter legumes as a rule is not practical. However, under favorable climatic conditions, some may be planted.

On the very sandy soils we would suggest a cover crop of rye, on soils not quite so sandy or sandy loam, soil hairy vetch or Australian winter peas are reasonably safe.

By turning these under in the spring increased yields may be obtained.

To secure good growth and provide maximum protection from soil erosion, Australian winter peas and hairy vetch seed should be inoculated and planted by November 1.

"Drilling is the recommended method of planting on rolling land, while planting in rows on tops of beds usually gives better results on more level fields, Texas Agricultural Committee says.

When drilled, hairy vetch should be planted at the rate of 20 pounds per acre, and Australian winter peas at 35 pounds per acre. When planted in rows, with regular row crop equipment, only half the amount of seed used in drilling will be required for good stands.

Plowing under green stalks in cotton fields before frost also is recommended by the committee as one of the best ways of improving the condition and fertility of the soil, reducing boll weevil damage next season, and increasing the yield of cotton. Green stalks open up the soil, increase its water-holding capacity, make plant food more available, and the decomposed stalks furnish food for next year's crop. Turning under stalks before insects have migrated from the field is the best known method of reducing boll weevil infestation.

"Along Came Jones," Thriller Romance

Thrill-packed action and sparkling romance vie with gay comedy in "Along Came Jones," starring Gary Cooper and Loretta Young. At Rialto, Wed. and Thurs.

This refreshingly novel action drama gives Cooper one of his finest roles as a quivotic ranger-killer who, in order to do a favor for a lady, poses as a notorious bandit in spite of the fact that he's the world's most inept man. The earnest endeavor of various parties to kill the peace-outlaw on sight, the vindictive jealousy of the real bandit, the tangled emotions of a young girl who is trying to help the quavering escape, all make for dramatic complications that frequently have their hilarious side before the stirring climax is reached.
