April 7 to 14 Will "Know Your Public Health Nurse" Week

The State of Texas is sponsoring to celebrate the first national "Know Your Public Health Nurse" Week April 7 to 14, as announced by President Harry S. Truman.

The purpose of the week, according to Dr. Geo. W. Food, Home Notes

USE SPUDS TO SPEED WHEAT SHIPMENTS
A timely slogan for Americans who want to help save wheat is "Reach for a potato instead of more bread." While sizable quantities of the currently bountiful potatoes are being shipped to starving Europe, such shipments are limited because potatoes are both bulky and perishable. Although nearly 80 per cent water, the potato contains some protein of good quality, starch, iron and other important minerals, as well as some of the B vitamins and vitamin C. Nutritionally, a small serving of potatoes can replace a slice of bread. The potato's reputation as a fattening food is entirely unjustified. A medium-sized potato provides about 100 calories toward the day's energy needs. About the same number of calories are in a serving of green peas or sweet corn, and lima beans have more calories. There are 100 calories in a thick slice of bread or two thin slices. It is the company that potatoes keep—generous helpings of gravy, butter or margarine—that makes the calorie totals soar.

SUGAR FOR HOME CANNING
As you know, the spare stamp number nine in your War Ration Book Four became good for five pounds of home canning sugar on March 11. War veterans, or others who for one reason or another, have received their ration book only recently, will find the sugar stamp in the single-sheet sugar ration book issued to them.

Keep your ration books, even though you may have used the last stamp labeled "sugar." Spare stamp number nine is good for five pounds of home canning sugar, and it will be good through October 31st of this year. OPA expects that a second stamp will be validated later on, possibly in late June or early July. Use the canning sugar to best advantage. And that means holding it until the fruits you want to preserve are plentiful. OPA seems to think that 10 pounds of canning sugar per person will be the limit this year.

ADJUSTABLE IRONING BOARDS AVAILABLE

Homemakers as a rule consider ironing the most tiresome household work they do, so scientists studied the ironing job in an effort to make it easier. As a result of these studies, manufacturers now are putting adjustable ironing boards on the market. Whether you buy a new one or work over your old one, make certain it is comfortable to you. There's no rule-of-thumb for finding out the comfortable height of an ironing board. That's something to work out for yourself, but women of average height generally find 31 or 32 inches satisfactory. Try sitting down to iron if you usually do the job standing. In most instances, non-adjustable boards are too low, and stooping will cause more weariness plus real muscle aches and pains. If several members of the family use the ironing board regularly, it's even more important to have one which is adjustable.

"OIL-PLATED engines... they'd better have!"

The "haulaways" are abroad in the land! Your new car is on order—or in your mind. And now here is why any car of yours should have an OIL-PLATED engine . . .

OIL-PLATING will shield your engine's insides. It saves fine-finished surfaces from lots of wear. And that's how to raise resistance against carbon, gum, and sludge.

An OIL-PLATED engine is yours for the asking. Simply insist on filling with Conoco Nth motor oil. Conoco Nth brings its added OIL-PLATING substance. This acts magnet-like . . . joins lubricant durably to metal, so as to form protective OIL-PLATING! The process is the same in any engine. Though yours may not be new, this is an extra good time to OIL-PLATE it. For it needs a Spring oil change, and simply by getting Conoco Nth you'll get oil that OIL-PLATES —at a few cents' extra cost! Few reasons why the OPA is unpopular: A Kansas City dress manufacturer appeared before the OPA to request a price increase on the firms dresses. The company employs designers to create new and attractive models of suits and dresses. The OPA ruled that money so spent was not a legitimate business expense for "things made of cotton."

It is reported that there are at the present time around 50 million employed persons in the United States. Before the war, in 1940, the number was 46 million. The number of those unemployed for various reasons is estimated at 3 million.

HISTORY

Arbor Day—April 22: The first formal observance of Arbor Day as a time for planting trees was in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. It came about as the result of a resolution adopted by the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture on motion of J. Sterling Morton, a member of the board. The resolution was prompted by the fact that Nebraska, a great plains country, lacked trees. J. Sterling Morton saw in trees a means of conserving moisture in the soil and also providing protection from the winds that swept across the state's prairies. On the first Arbor Day over a million trees were planted. During the next fifteen years over 600,000,000 trees were planted and within a brief space of twenty years over 100,000 acres of waste land had been planted in trees and converted into forests. Arbor Day was observed in Nebraska for a time on the third Wednesday in April. In 1885 the state legislature designated April 22, the anniversary of the death of Mr. Morton, as Arbor Day in the state and made it a legal holiday. The Arbor Day Memorial Association erected a monument in honor of Mr. Morton on the grounds of his home north of Nebraska City. The Morton estate after Mr. Morton's death was turned over to the state and is maintained as a park and a Memorial. Thousands visit the old home each year which is kept up just as it was when its owner lived there, and the many hundreds of papers and letters which Morton received from men well known and famous in American history are displayed in glass cases for the visitors to see. The idea of planting trees to conserve the moisture originated in Europe where the custom had been followed for years. The custom of observing Arbor Day spread rapidly throughout the country until today nearly every state observes a day dedicated to the planting of trees. The dates of necessity vary. In the northern states it is later in the spring than it is in the southern states. In Florida, for example it occurs on the first Friday in February. In Vermont it is observed the first Friday in May.

Those who make a study of such things are of the opinion that prices will continue to rise during the next two years. A rise of from 20 to 25 per cent is predicted on all manufactured items. Most any item of common use can be bought cheaper today than it can be bought any time during the next two years.

The only lesson that we seemed to have learned from the war is that we have to stay armed and prepared. There seems to be as much selfishness in the world as ever. Each group is out to get all it can regardless of consequences or the rights of others. This, it seems, was the thing that caused the war.

Everyone except the strike promoters is getting fed up on the strikes.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

President Truman has asked the people of this country to cut down upon their eating that from the saving thus effected we can feed the starving people of the world. It so happens that there is not a sufficient surplus of food stuffs in this country to supply the barest needs of the hungry people of other nations and still maintain the full diet to which the people of this country are accustomed. For this reason, if we are going to supply others in need any considerable quantity of food, we, of this nation, are going to have to cut down upon our own diet.

I think the President's suggestion a good one. It is thoroughly sound and it is to be hoped that a considerable number of people of this country will take it to heart and co-operate in the program.

The suggestion is a good one in my opinion, for two reasons. First, most people eat too much. Half the people you meet are carrying excess weight and wondering how they can get rid of it. Millions more are eating too much, and while it does not cause excess weight it is revealed in inferior health, digestive disturbances, physical weariness, mental sluggishness, muddled perceptions, and a generally disturbed system.

Because of the fact they have loaded their digestive machinery with too big a job they are suffering reduced efficiency. They lack the pep, and the vim and the sparkle that would be theirs if their food intake was more nearly in line with actual requirements.

We have even reached a point where we strive to whet the appetite with contrasting tastes in dishes and serve them in the most attractive form—all for the purpose of tempting the appetite that we may be induced to eat more and still more.

Thus in the interest of our own health and efficiency we should eat less.

The second reason why we should co-operate with the President's request and eat less is that there are in the world today thousands and millions of people who do not have the simple necessities of life. They wake up in the morning hungry and they go to bed at night hungry because they cannot secure enough food for the minimum body requirements. They are suffering from the ills that come from physical malnutrition. There is not one of us, who, if a hungry dog come to our door, thin and maddened because of lack of food, would not take something from our tables to feed it. We would do it cheerfully and gladly and experience a thrill because of the feeling of having helped a creature in need.

In my opinion we of this country need to make a sacrifice at this time for our own souls good. We are still the wealthiest nation in the world. Our standard of living is the highest the world has ever known. We as a nation sit down each day to the rich man's table and dine sumptuously from our abundance. We need to have awakened within us the thought for others. We need to have that wholesome, that transforming and uplifting experience that comes from the feeling of having made a sacrifice for a fellow man in need somewhere in the world.

The appeal to eat less is not an empty gesture. It is not a play for popularity. It is a matter that reaches deep into the very fundamentals of life. It is an opportunity that the people of America cannot, must not, miss for the well being of their physical selves and for the good of their own souls.

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett, 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—This week's news letter is not a news letter. It might be called a philosophical discourse on pessimism. Someone said a pessimist is one who feels bad when he feels good, for fear he'll feel worse when he feels better. The pessimist says my glass is half empty; the optimist says my glass is half full.

Some of the philosophies now being ballyhooed throughout the world reminds one of the Greek era. The third and fourth centuries before Christ saw the rise of stoicism, cynicism, and epicureanism. The cynic, Diogenes, you remember, went about looking for, but never found, according to him, an honest man.

Recently in France two intellectuals or philosophers have published long discourses preaching philosophies of pessimism and fatalism. One of these schools, the Existentialists, believe that life is an unhappy accident, which must be borne with dignity and forbearance. Another school known as Dolourism, feel even worse about it all than do the Existentialists. They contend that life is fraught with pain and evil, and is a matter of inescapable melancholy.

Among other notables who have joined the defeatists and the pessimists is the great English writer, H. G. Wells, who now says, "Home sapiens (man), as he has been pleased to call himself is, in his present form, played out. The stars in their courses have turned against man and he has to give place to some other animal, better adapted to the fate that closes in."

All of the defeatists, fatalists, and pessimists who contend that the world is growing worse, that there is no escape from ever greater catastrophe, should read their histories. Smart men in every generation have cried out in anguish that their's was the worst and perhaps the last of the human race. A few quotations are in point.

In 1806 Archbishop Wilberforce said, "I dare not marry. The future is so dark and unsettled." In 1827 Queen Adelaide of England stated, "I have only one desire to play the role of Marie Antoinette with bravery in the coming revolution." Then in 1849 the great Prime Minister of Britain, Disraeli, declared, "In industry, commerce, and agriculture there is no hope." In 1851, just before his death, the Duke of Wellington remarked, "I thank God I will be spared from the consummation of ruin that is gathering around." And in 1875 another great Prime Minister, William Pitt, said, "There is scarcely anything around us but ruin and despair."

In Harpers Weekly in October, 1857, there appeared the following: "It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—no man can read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time."

"In France the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe, while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with its disturbed relations in China. It is a solemn moment, and which, happily, no man pretends to feel—in the issue of events."

"Of our own troubles in the United States, no man can see the end." Certainly all of these prophets and philosophers of doom in all the ages, repudiate all Christian doctrine. If one searches he may

 Mrs. Grady Hays and six-months' old baby daughter, Sallie Ellen, of Dallas visited for a short time in Crowell Tuesday afternoon, en route to their home after a visit in the home of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Saunders, of Childress. They were accompanied by Miss Ernst of Dallas. Mrs. Hays' husband, Dr. Grady Hays, passed away in a hospital in Dallas on Dec. 16, 1945, after a short illness. He was well known in Crowell. Mrs. Hays was Miss Pearl Saunders before her marriage to Dr. Hays.

duce a lot of livestock and livestock products for special war needs. Now, however, grain is needed for human food. Compared to demand, feed supplies are short.
 USDA officials are asking farmers to: Feed less grain to hogs and beef cattle, cull poultry flocks closely, raise fewer chickens and turkeys this year, maintain milk production without wasting feed, avoid "overfinishing" meat animals, and market grain supplies promptly.
NEW GRASS SPRAY PROMISES THREE JOBS
 A grass spray that promises to kill weeds, fertilize the grass and small grain and protect the grain or grass from attack by fungus disease is in process of development at the USDA Research Center at Beltsville, Md., according to K. Thornton, Agricultural Chemist for the A. & M. College Extension Service.
 The new spray combines a solution of the highly-selective weed-killer 2, 4-D with the fertilizer urea, which contains nitrogen, and with the well-known fungicide Fermate.
 This more economical spray combination came about from experiments at Beltsville to overcome some of the drawbacks to the use of 2, 4-D. That chemical, which has proved so effective against weeds without permanent injury to the grasses, does have a tendency to slow up the growth of grasses for a time, says Mr. Thornton.
 To offset this slowing-down of growth, USDA investigators hoped to make the grass grow faster later by adding grass fertilizer to the weed-killing spray. Then they tried adding the fungicide to see if it would make the mixture bad for the grass.
 They report the weed killer, 2, 4-D, is no worse for the grass when used along with the fertilizer and fungicide than when used alone, and is just as bad for the weeds. In their experiments, one spraying killed the weeds, in a few days made the grass a strong green color, and boosted the yield of grass.
 More experiments to further test the fungicide value of the combined spray will follow, but at present it looks as if, for practical farm and home use, something new has been added to the weed-killer, 2, 4-D.
A MILLION GARDENS AGAIN
 A goal of one million home gardens for Texas in 1946 has been announced by C. R. Heaton, horticulturist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.
 The million home garden goal is an upward revision from the figure previously set, three-quarters of a million, and points out the need for home production of vegetables at a level equal to that of the war years.
 The appeal to Texas home gardeners to plant an additional 250,000 gardens came after M. L. Wilson, director of the federal Extension Service, called upon Dr. Ide P. Trotter, Texas director, to again put into effect wartime policies of home food production.
 Dr. Trotter has instructed all Texas county agricultural and home demonstration agencies to make home gardening a major activity. He said recent developments in the world food situation are such that food will be as critical an item, if not more so, than during any year of the war.
 During the war home gardening was a patriotic activity, Heaton pointed out. Now it is a practical matter. Much of our food will be diverted to Europe. That doesn't mean, he says, that we will be short of food, especially if we continue doing all we can at home food production. It does mean that while food is a matter of life and death in many parts of Europe, it may be a matter of considerable convenience here getting the kind of food we want when we want it.
 And a million home gardens in Texas, Heaton adds, means that a million Texas families will have an ace in the hole during 1946.
HENS NEED MINERALS
 Hens cannot lay eggs with proper shells on them unless the poultryman supplies his hens with sufficient minerals in the diet, says County Agent D. F. Eaton. Calcium is most important, but phosphorus and manganese also are needed.
 By withdrawing calcium from their own bones, hens may keep turning out good shells for a short time even when they are not getting it in their feed. But by the time they use up about a fourth of the calcium in their bones, they begin laying thin-shelled eggs, and finally stop laying altogether.
 Usually the laying hen has about twice as much calcium in her blood as is found in the blood of roosters and immature pullets. But even so, that amount and reserves in other parts of the body are soon used up without proper calcium in the feed.
 The diets Mr. Eaton recommends for laying hens contain about two and one-fourth per cent calcium and three-quarters of one per cent phosphorus. Those for growing chickens contain about one per cent calcium and two-thirds of one per cent phosphorus.
 Such feeds as bone meal, meat meal, alfalfa meal and milk by-products may supply as much as one-half the calcium needed by laying hens. But these feeds need to be supplemented with extra calcium in such forms as crushed limestone or oystershell.

AGRICULTURE
 (D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)
LESS GRAIN FOR LIVESTOCK
 With dire need for more grain for human food abroad, animal husbandmen for the A. & M. College Extension Service, urge farmers to cut down on feeding grain to livestock.
 They point out that hogs marketed recently have averaged about 20 pounds heavier than a year ago and heavier than any other year of record. A bigger share of the cattle are coming to market highly finished. Milk cows are being fed grain and concentrates at record or near record rates. Hens are laying more eggs per hen than ever before. And the average weight of turkeys and broilers has run heavier than usual. This is all clear evidence of heavy feeding.
 During the war, the prices of livestock compared to the prices for feed enabled farmers to pro-tries to produce food for themselves were described recently in a report issued by the USDA office of Foreign Agricultural Relations.

 In Europe, says the report, the farmers are straining every energy to grow more food this year than they were able to grow last year, when yields were pitifully small. Besides farmers, city people, too, are working, in some cases co-operatively with the farmers. Everyone who is able to acquire the use of little plots of ground outside of cities and towns, will grow gardens this year as they did last.
 At prevailing inflation prices, many workers in offices or other non-farm capacities normally do not receive nearly enough salary to buy food, even if it were available. The only way for such workers to secure food for their families is to get out of their places of business and into the country to help produce it.
 Because of the shortage of draft power and equipment, it has become the practice in many areas for farmers to pool or share horses, oxen, and even a hoe or a plow. European farmers also will face the obstacles of lack of transportation facilities, scarcity of fertilizer, and insufficiency of feed grains for livestock and poultry.
 In India, there can be little food production activity until the seasonal rains begin in June. Then everyone able to do so will strive to stave off threatened famine by helping to grow grain and other foods.
 Following the precedent of generations, far Eastern people now are cultivating every available patch of land.

GRAVES GIVES ADVICE

A student's choice of a college depends entirely on the course the individual student intends to take," Supt. Grady Graves said. "Each graduating senior should seek help from someone who knows about the different colleges in deciding upon a college that he would be satisfied in. Which one he attends should depend on the individual."

Sixteen credits are required for graduation from Crowell High School. Four of which must be in English, three in math, two in social studies (one of which must be American History) and two in science. The rest may be elective.

The established courses, English, math, social studies, are credited because the State Board of Education has set up a credit system which is used by every school in the State of Texas.

"In this way a student coming from a school in Texas to another in the same state would not have trouble in getting his credits recognized," continued Mr. Graves.

There are some high schools whose students must take an entrance examination before being allowed to enter a college, because the high school doesn't have a standard credit system.

Since Crowell High School uses this credit system, graduating seniors will not need to take the entrance exams.

Seniors, Please Note!
 If any graduating seniors have questions about graduation, colleges, credits, etc., which they are in doubt about and would like information, please write the question on a piece of paper and bring it to room 106. The question, plus the answer, will be printed in the next issue of The Wildcat.

STUDENTS WIN RIBBONS

Many students of CHS went to Seymour Friday and Saturday to enter in the various contests at the district track meet. Some came home proudly wearing red and blue ribbons.

Martha Schlagal won a light blue ribbon which said "First Place, Girl's Tennis Singles." Not to be outdone by a girl, Billy Dean Brown and Kendrick Joy also won first place in tennis doubles. De-Alva Thomas and Evelyn Barker won second place in Girl's Tennis doubles, while A. C. Wallace was second in Boy's singles. Howard Bursley got first place in Junior Boy's tennis.

We're proud to say that we have the best ready writer of the district right here in CHS, namely Joyce Jones. Also in CHS, Morris Johnson was second best in the declamation contest. Typewriting was represented by Irene Pechacek and Betty Seale.

Bill Chumbley won first place in high hurdles and second in low hurdles.

The six students who won first place are qualified to go to Dallas and represent our school at Regional.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Seniors are sponsoring a rummage sale March 7 in front of Welba's Grocery. If you have been spring house cleaning and have any old clothes and what-nots lying around that you would like to get rid of, just phone the high school and a Senior will be by your house to pick them up.

HERE'S LOOKING AT—

"Smart" is the word for this ambitious blue eyed, sixteen year old senior girl whose favorite subject is Algebra. She thinks English isn't so bad either.

Horseback riding, swimming, and baseball are her favorite pastimes. In her spare time she also likes to hear that hubba, hubba program, "The Hit Parade" or attend a movie to see Van Johnson or Betty Grable.

Ah! yes, like most girls, she has a definite "dream man." Her particular one is tall, friendly, sweet, and well-mannered. Brunette hair and striped socks add to the picture.

I suppose you have guessed by now that it is that happy, dignified senior, Lois Hinkle. Lois reads the funny papers a great deal, and her favorite author is Janet Lambert.

If you are ever looking for Lois, just find Imogene Porter, and you will probably find Lois as "Ima" is one of her best friends.

SENIOR BOY PREFERS CHS GIRLS

Now let me see? Who could it be? His hair is brown, his eyes are blue, he is sixteen, and everyone calls him George. Naturally, he's a senior. He's intellectual, too. His favorite pastime is reading, but he'll leave his book any time to see a football game, especially if good old black and gold is taking part. He likes to go to the movies, where he prefers John Wayne and Betty Grable. His favorite radio program is "People Are Funny." He says that he likes girls of any variety. (He's not so different from the rest of the CHS boys, is he?) He doesn't have any favorite subject. Do you suppose he likes them all? Now who could that be? Oh, of course, who else could it be, but George Johnson.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Tomorrow is Career Day and the Drippings are going to conform to the vocational trend. Hope that you don't mind.

My imagination is running away with me.

Milton Halls as the heavyweight champion?

Betty Seale as a farmer's wife?

Mary Edna Norman jerking sodas?

Ed Thomas as the sheriff of Crowell?

Carl Steel as a telephone repairman?

De Alva Thomas as the matron of an old ladies' home?

O. C. Wharton as a plumber?

Ina Mae Hardin as a chorus girl?

Joe Whitten as a soft shoe dancer?

Virginia Monkhouse as a tight rope walker?

Ham Tamplin as a pearl diver, Sharon Haney as a laundry maid?

Carlos as a man in high hat and tuxedo?

Did you know that CHS boys and girls already are working at careers?

George Johnson, a presser at Margee Toggery.

Betty Seale, works on special days at West Texas Utilities.

Rebecca Ross, clerk at Ben Franklin Variety Store.

Billy Roy Cooper, service man at Cooper's Station.

Ed Thomas, "Flunky" at City Cleaners.

R. L. Ballard, work at Ballard Feed and Produce.

Edna Lee Dunn, turns in orders at Reader's Drug Store.

Vera Lee, soda jerk at Readers Drug.

Johnnie Mitchell and J. L. Brock, haul gravel for construction work.

HAS ANYBODY ELSE—

Noticed this warm weather?

Wanted a date for the Junior-Senior Banquet?

Thought DeAlva was very starry-eyed since Sunday? (Ah! ain't love grand?)

Wished a few of the soldiers and sailors would get a discharge and come home?

Wondered what you made on six weeks exams?

Thought it would be nice for Joyce to move to Crowell to keep H. T. from making so many trips to Truscott?

Been hooked on April Fool pranks?

Looked on the calendar and noticed that there were only six weeks of school left?

Wished the wind would stop blowing?

Made plans for summer vacation?

Donned their summer clothes this week?

Felt very proud of our winners at district meet?

Been glad to see Bill Bruce around the campus?

Noticed the girls sitting on the campus acquiring a sun tan?

SIDE SPLITTERS

Boy Scout: "May I accompany you across the street, madam?"

Old Lady: "Certainly, sonny. How long have you been waiting for someone to take you across?"

Senior: What are you doing with your socks on wrong side out?

Soph: My feet got hot, so I turned the hose on them.

All girls are angels, for three reasons, if not more: girls are always up in the air; girls are always harping about something; and girls never have an earthly thing to wear.

She was only a stableman's daughter, but that girl could stall.

THE CAT'S WHISKERS

Hello Brainstorms! How's the weather at your desk? Could it be a shade warm—could be!

Let's see, who shall I tell of on first? How about De Alva? It is said she has a new flame from over Truscott way! Now, how did that ever happen?

More fun last Wednesday night! C. D. really had a swell dance. Everybody was there, and I don't mean maybe! I heard that Betty found the floor wasn't so soft.

Track meet was lots of fun, but the kids played hard to win, and they did. Congratulations, all of you!

"Shaney" and "Kathy" seem to have had a wonderful time Saturday night. Do you want to buy a fur coat, girls?

Seen all in one car Friday night were Doris and Carlos, Joan and Larry, "Booty" and Bobby, Janet and Miles. This bunch has more fun!

Charlene Lankford has been seen dating quite a lot. Come on, Charlene, who is he?

Brock looked lonesome Saturday night. I wonder why?

All the girls seem to be getting

HI-HO SILVER—AWAY . . . Kenneth Hayes, 6, New York City, going to town on a galloping horse in bronco-busting style at the 43rd American Toy fair. The largest show ever held, is showing 100,000 models made of rubber, steel, plastics and other products.

nervous because of no date for the banquet. Cheer up, girls. Have the CHS boys ever let us down?

Seen at church at Thalia Sunday night were Janet Self and Kendrick, Marlene and Edgar Spears, Hazel and Horace, "Booty" and Bobby.

Seen at the usual place Saturday night were Travis Vecera, Janet Self, Hazel Marlow and Don Wilkins.

Larry Wood and Joan Thompson are really seen together a lot. Could this be a steady?

The church goers were seen Sunday night at Crowell: Betty and Brock, Evie and Johnny, and Sharon and M. W. Good kids!

Martha really seems to miss Bobby (Vernon). "Take her back to Berger!"

Jo Ann and Ed were on the usual list of steadies Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights!

Joe Meason and Doris Denton really are a cute couple! Don't you think?

Guess what's a week from to-

We wondered why Icyephene has been so happy here lately, it's because Bobbie Jo Hunter is getting out of the service. Good deal!

Walter Cadell has been making "those eyes" at Mary Johnson. It looks as though love is blooming.

Something old: Edna Lee Dunn and Kenneth Ownbey.

Something new: (very new): Virginia Monkhouse and Wayne Short.

Some of our gals are getting "flucy." They go to Vernon for supper! Meaning Sharon, Jo Ann, Kathleen, Doris and Jenny.

Martha Schlagal is wearing Herman Athey's bracelet. What's up, kids, a new romance?

Why don't some of you girls grab C. D. V., "Bulldog," Hardy, Joe Harris, or "Acorn?" They're really eye-fulls, and in need of some sweethearts.

You know, I have a slight feeling I had better "shut up" before someone murders me.

See you in English class!

The Cat's Tail.

A BLEAK DAWN

Coal was among the first major industries of Great Britain to be converted to government ownership under the new socialist British government. People in this country should observe the result closely.

British coal miners live in tragic poverty. The mines are obsolete and dangerous. Few mechanical aids exist to lighten the drudgery. Pay is low. For technical reasons, improvement in conditions will be difficult. Miners apparently turned to socialism for help. Now beginning to find that as they receive benefits from very dubious benefits to their labor unions.

An observer in Time's office, declares that, "The government is their partner and a great threat to union membership."

"Already the union file are uneasily alive to the which nationalization progressively bring to them as unions. It is as simple as the government is their partner and a great threat to union membership."

Moreover, the troops will be called out to a strike "because a strike of socialized industry is sabotage of the government an act against the people."

Minister of Fuel and Emanuel Shinwell, says: "Nationalization is not intended to benefit the miner. The coal consumer to be the interests of the nation, port trade and all that."

The ruthless side of it is beginning to strike the people full in the face.—In News Review.

An ordinary passenger going night and day without sleep would need five-seven years to reach the moon. Same train would travel 2,000,000 years before the nearest star.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. C. Norman Bartlett,
S. T. D., Member of Faculty,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Sin Erased or Denied

"If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth;
but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves. . . . If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (I John 1:6-9).

Light transforms those who receive it.

Fellowship is an obligation to "fellowship."
As science advances through mastering the material in its particular field, so we make progress in the Christian life to the degree that we appropriate more and more the moral and spiritual light that abounds in Christ.

Walking with Jesus who is the Light of the world is prerequisite to Christian fellowship. Our fellowship with Christ presupposes and necessitates fellowship with him. The closer Christians live to their Lord, the nearer will they be drawn to one another in the bond of unity.

Walking in the light involves cleansing in the blood.

It is the "fruit and proof" of such washing. The blood of Jesus is the one and only cleansing from sin.
God who "imposes an eternal penalty for sin is the One who produces this remedy for sin at infinite cost to himself."

Sin needs to be dealt with in the light of what God says it is. To say that we have no sin is to stifle conscience and to deny Scripture. The denial of sin precludes the erasure of sin, for where there is no confession of sin there can be no forgiveness of sin.

Confession is prerequisite to forgiveness.

Let us humbly, if we have not already done so, bring our sin-stained souls to Jesus for cleansing in His shed blood. He will give absolution from the guilt of sin and purification from the filth of sin.

In the last five years the govern- ment has built $115,000,000 worth of housing in Texas.

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

Great political questions stir the deepest nature of one-half the nation but they pass far above and over the heads of the other half.—Wendell Phillips.

The true grandeur of nations is in those qualities which constitute the true greatness of the individual.—Charles Sumner.

The world owes all its onward impulses to merrill at ease. The happy man inevitably confines himself within ancient limits.—
Nathaniel Hawthorn.

Adversity is sometimes hard upon a man; but for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a hundred that will stand adversity.—Carlyle.

The real test in golf and in life is not in keeping out of the rough, but in getting out after we are in.—Rev. John H. Moore.

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another.—
Richter.

One of the illusions is that the present hour is not the critical decisive hour.—Emerson.

The present moment is all we can call our own for works of mercy, of righteous dealing, and of family tenderness.—George Eliot.

According to an article by Francis Wickware in Pageant Magazine, the national divorce rate in this country is now one out of every four marriages. By 1960, he says, the failure will be one out of every two marriages. A certain number of divorces are due to the war but Wickware states the divorce had been steadily increasing in this country. It is pointed out that the trend is a serious threat to the homes and the moral stability of the nation.
The condition is not the result of easy divorce laws. In Norway and Sweden where a divorce may be secured by mutual consent, the number of divorces is much less than in this country.

SAFETY TIPS

The largest accident tolls occur on holidays. If you drive on a holiday be exceptionally careful.
Your risk is much greater.

Work out a schedule of food and drink for hot weather that suits your particular needs. The discomfort of hot weather can be greatly reduced by the correct eating and drinking habits.

It is just as important that pedestrians walk safely as it is that car drivers drive safely.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Syrup too Thick Causes Fruit to Shrink.—Fruits canned in too thick a syrup shrink and rise to the top of the jar.

How To Prevent Mold in Jelly.—
If circles of tissue paper the size of the tops of jelly glasses are dipped in vinegar and placed on top of marmalade or jam, they will not mold. Cover the jam in the usual way.

Skin Plums First.—The quality of canned plums is better if the skins are removed.

In Tyler, Texas, the nation's rose capital, you see very few roses growing in residence yards.

Miss Teague Becomes Bride of Major Wm. S. Smith in Camden, S. C.

Miss Mayme Lee Teague of Crowell and Hot Springs, Ark., became the bride of Major William Gause Smith of Mullins, S. C., Saturday afternoon, March 16, in the First Presbyterian Church in Camden, S. C., with Rev. Douglas McArn, the pastor, officiating with the ring ceremony.

Decorations for the church followed a color motif of green and white, with tall baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons arranged against a background of fern and other greenery. Mrs. Douglas McArn played the pre-nuptial music and strains of "Liebestraum" were played during the exchange of the vows.

The bride was attended by Mrs. John G. Slaughter as matron of honor and Cary Hudson Smith was his brother's best man.

The bride was attractive in a semi-sport crepe dress of winter white with which she wore a petite hat fashioned of real bride's roses. She carried a satin-covered Bible topped with a white orchid. Her only ornament was a necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She was given in marriage by Howard B. Smith of Mullins.

Mrs. Jack Turner Complimented with Bridal Shower

Mrs. Magee greeted the guests and presented them to Mrs. Turner and her mother, Mrs. D. E. Todd. Miss Mayme Lee Collins acted as the dining room hostess and the table was unusually attractive with its decorations in all-white. A wide ruffle of white cellophane hung from the table, white satin bows attached the ruffle to the table, and the punch bowl was set in a mass of white flowers. Tall white tapers burned at each side of the punch bowl and also on the buffet.

There are seven cities in the United States that have within their city limits an area of 100 square miles or more.

Why? Because banks and insurance companies handle your savings—must invest those funds wisely. Now to War Bonds, one of their largest investments is public utility securities. They know that sound business management has made cheap, dependable electric power a basic part of the American way of life.

So, whether you realize it or not—your electric light and power company is not just our business—it's your business.
