I'm sure you'll like Ford's new 4-Speed Transmission. Maybe you enjoy slow farming... but there's no money in it. If I can show you faster farming... with no more work, you'll be interested, won't you? All right, just take one feature of the Ford Tractor, the 4-speed transmission. On the road I'll give you up to 12 1/2 miles per hour. In third speed (top field working speed), I'll give you 6 miles per hour. And so on down... each speed, even the reverse, is faster. Saves lots of hours in a year. Won't you let me demonstrate this Ford Tractor (and its Dearborn Implements) on your farm? I have something special in parts and service, too.

I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.—Psalms 34:4.

"If I were running this country," a local man said yesterday, "I'd deport every Communist to Russia where he belongs. The Communists tell us that we can't do that under our democratic form of government. I think we are woefully and criminally lax in this country when we permit Communists to remain here and seek to build up sentiment by lies and misrepresentation for the purpose of overthrowing our government. If we had termites in our home we would take immediate steps to rid the place of them before they destroyed the sills and floors of the building. Wherein are Communists any different? They are in truth termites working insidiously to destroy the foundation of this government. We fought a war once to put an end to slavery in this country that had bound in chains the black man. Are we going to stand dumbly by and watch the Communists slowly and insidiously bind the white as well as the black in the chains of Communist slavery, or are we going to fight, and if so, are we going to begin to fight now or wait until our whole system is honeycombed with this insidious poison. It's later than a lot of our people think. It's time to wake up."

Short as it was the month of February had five Sundays.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

It is easy to be a second guesser, but it seems to me, in view of what has happened since the war, that we of the United States were too trusting, and too generous during the war. We stood ready and just about gave our shirt away to every European country that asked for a piece of it. We acted like a big blubbering uncle with a nice competence tucked away in the banks of the country, who went out and hunted for some one to give it to. As a result every country that needed help or thought it needed help got it and got it generously. We loaded it to them by the shovel and basket full. We gave men and money and machines without stint. We were like the old village banker who went soft and loaned money to everyone who came to him with a hard luck tale. Everything was lovely, everything went along fine, everyone was his friend until he started to collect. When this happened his friends fell away like locusts before a blighting frost. We went to the aid of Russia. Except for the aid given Russia by this country she would have been defeated in a few weeks. Those in touch with affairs know that for two years we sent a steady stream of planes daily to Russia. They were flown to a northern point in this country where they were taken over by Russian fliers and flown to Russia. Every week immense convoys of merchant fleets left our harbors for Russia loaded with supplies of war and food. Over ten billions of aid was given Russia. The same thing was done on a smaller scale with every other country in Europe. After it was all over and the Japs and Hitler were licked, did Russia thank us? She did not. Did she say: Gentlemen, as a measure of our appreciation for what you have done for us we want to help you establish a condition of peace in Europe? She did not.

Not only has no cooperation been shown on the part of Russia and the Russian government, everything possible that could be done to block the peace has been done. With a few minor exceptions Russia has vetoed every move we have made for the formation of a world peace organization. In our every act toward Russia we have been open and above board, we have shown a willingness—almost a simple childlike willingness it seems now, to cooperate and help her, but this has not been met in kind. Russia's every act has shown that she does not trust us. She has used us to her fullest purpose and needs our help no longer in a war weakened Europe. If this country had every shown a disposition to grab onto more territory there might be some reason for Russia's distrust and we might say hate.

An old banker I once knew said that a loan was collected when it was made—or it was never collected. That is the way I would extend aid and food and money to all foreigners in the future. It would be on the basis of some definite understanding and I would settle on that basis or—forclose. I would quit playing Santa Claus. I would be just and fair to others in need but I would be equally just and fair to this country and this country's people. I would collect the extension of my beneficence when the deal was first made. I wouldn't be caught standing hat in hand at the gates of an unappreciative foreign nation asking apologetically for my rightful deserts. I'd be a realist first and last also.

The Christian Science Monitor drops this one into the discussion. In one year Americans spent $8,700,000,000 on liquor, $2,500,000,000 on charity. In one year they spent $6,000,000,000 on races and $2,500,000,000 on education.

4-H Club News

The Girls 4-H Clubs of Crowell met at their regular meeting periods Tuesday, March 23, with the following number present in each club: fourth grade-25, fifth grade-17, sixth grade-17, seventh grade-29, and eighth grade-11. Each Club chose something to do in making plans for the county-wide 4-H Club party that is to be held April 3, at the Community House, in Crowell. The fourth grade is going to make a check of the number to be present, the fifth grade girls planned the refreshments; the sixth grade chose decorations; and the seventh and eighth are planning the entertainment.

The fourth grade girls wore the aprons they had made, and had an apron show for their program. Each girl showed her apron, told how much time she spent in making it, and how much her mother helped her. The following mothers were chosen to be fourth grade 4-H Club Mothers: Mesdames Knox, Fairchild, Wishon, Hunter, Eddy, Norris and Borchardt. The sixth grade girls arranged a skit to show: "How to Introduce my Teacher to my Mother." "How a sixth grade girl should act at school, church, show, and other public places." The seventh grade girls planned a skit, and brought dishes and silverware to club meeting to show: "How to act when dining in a restaurant with a date." The skit was cleverly presented by two groups one showing incorrect behavior, and the other showing proper conduct. After the skit the girls had a question and answer session on so-

A two year study of 217 children—one group of which had butter in its diet and the other margarine, showed no difference in the effects of the fats on growth and health according to a report made recently by three Chicago physicians. The study was made by Dr. Leichenger, Dr. George Eisenberg and Dr. Anton J. Carlson of the department of pediatrics, University of Illinois college of medicine, Chicago. The groups studied were mostly orphans or half-orphans in two separate institutions ten miles apart. "Blood studies showed that there was no significant difference between the margarine or butter groups," the investigators reported in the journal of the American Medical Association.

"Red Stallion" to Be at Rialto Next Sunday and Monday

A desperate and vicious fight between a powerful stallion and an enraged wild bear, said to be one of the most unusual and most exciting sequences ever filmed, is a highlight sequence of Eagle-Lion's Cinecolor production of "Red Stallion," the poignant and heartwarming story of a boy's devotion to a horse, scheduled to play Sunday and Monday at the Rialto Theatre. Photographed entirely on location in the magnificent Mount Shasta country in northern California, "The Red Stallion" story involves a 12-year old lad's determination to prove that his affection and loyalty to a horse he has trained since it was a colt is justified. When his grandmother's ranch is in danger of being sold, the lad decides to sell the stallion to a nearby racing stable owner, convinced that his horse can outrun any other racehorse. The first time the boy races the big red stallion, he is beaten by the stable owner's champion and the youngster realizes that his horse needs more training. The night before the day of the second competition, Big Red is attacked by a bear. Battered and bruised from the fight, Big Red takes the champion and proves the youngster's faith in him. Leading roles in "The Red Stallion" are played by Robert Paige, stable trainer; Noreen Nash, trainer of the stable's winning horse; and Ted Donaldson, 13-year-old veteran actor, as the lad who raises Big Red from a colt to a prize-winning racehorse. Jane Darwell, Academy Award-winning actress, is cast as Ted's grandmother.

Mrs. V. M. Newland is Guest Speaker at W. S. C. S. Meeting

On Monday afternoon, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church had as their special guest and speaker, Mrs. V. M. Newland. The meeting was opened by Mrs. H. E. Thomson, president of the W. S. C. S. After a short business session, a devotional was given by Mrs. T. B. Klepper, who based her thoughts on James 1:22. The song, "Living for Jesus" was sung by the group with Mrs. S. T. Crews playing piano accompaniment. Mrs. Claude Callaway sang as a solo, "I Am Satisfied with Jesus, is He Satisfied With Me?" The speaker was then presented by Mrs. Thomson. Mrs. Newland talked on the evident presence of God to the missionaries on foreign soil and gave many instances of God's presence and help to her and her family when they were serving as missionaries in Tibet and China. Mrs. Newland is herself a missionary, as well as is her husband. She was educated as one and would now be in the field but home for the family's recuperation from malnutrition while interned as prisoners of the Japanese during the war years. The speaker gave an insight into the needs of the Tibetans for the word of God and for His help in every way. Her talk was instructive, inspirational and heart-stirring. Approximately seventy-five ladies were in attendance. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed while refreshments were served by the hostess society. Mrs. J. A. Stovall poured punch from the bowl which was surrounded by daffodils and greenery. Mrs. Grover Cole and Mrs. Claude Callaway assisted in serving the punch and cookies and mints. Among those present were ladies from Thalia and Margaret. Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? He retaineth not his anger forever, because he delighteth in mercy.—Micah 7:18.

A new book, "Slash Those Taxes" by Daniel E. Casey and William P. Helm, states that there isn't a man living who knows just how much he pays in taxes. For example the authors say when one buys a pair of shoes he pays more than 400 separate little taxes. Every worker, the authors say, works three months out of every year for the tax collector. Approximately 25 cents out of every dollar earned by a worker goes to pay the wages and salaries of government employees concerned with the collection of taxes and every nine privately employed persons support a public servant. In April 1947 the authors disclose, the government employed one civilian employee for every two men in uniform; at the same time for every three men in Navy uniform there were two civilian employees in the Navy Department. The annual tax bill amounts to more than twice the basic price of everything produced on every farm in the U. S. A.

Veterans News

Veterans needlessly take the chance of losing their money and their insurance protection when they mail cash to pay premiums on National Service Life Insurance policies, the Veterans Administration warned.

A number of NSLI policyholders continue to send cash to the VA Branch Office at 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas, for premium payments. Early this month, an eastern VA Branch Office received an envelope with $1,700 in $100 bills to be applied to the veteran's insurance account.

VA pointed out that a veteran, making his insurance payments in cash through ordinary mail, has no way to prove he made the payment in the event it fails to reach VA. Failure to receive the money leaves VA no choice but to lapse the policy.

Veterans are urged to use money orders, postal notes (with the reverse side filled out in full), or checks for NSLI premium payments, and also to use the yellow envelopes furnished by VA in mailing the payments to the Insurance Service in the Dallas Branch Office.

Housing costs must be reduced if builders hope to continue serving the veterans' market, Thomas B. King, director of the Veterans Administration loan guarantee service, has informed the National Association of Home Builders.

"The variance between the prices currently being paid by veterans' families and the prices which can be afforded on the average" indicate that "the bottom of the barrel is being approached," he said.

Nearly one-third of all patients in Veterans Administration Hospitals take part in sports activities, many of which have been adapted to the limitations of veterans' disabilities.

Mrs. A. G. Magee Entertains with Luncheon Wednesday

Mrs. A. G. Magee honored Mrs. U. L. Wille of Matador, state chairman of Citizenship of the Federated Women's Clubs, with a luncheon at the DeLuxe Cafe, Wednesday, March 24, preceding the Columbian Club tea at which Mrs. Wille was guest speaker.

The centerpiece for the table was a crystal bowl filled with jonquils. Each guest was presented a corsage of white carnations tied with gold ribbon, thus observing the Columbian Club's colors of white and gold.

Colors were laid for Mrs. Wylie, the honoree, and for the club officers: Mrs. Grady Halbert, president; Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin, secretary; Mrs. Hines Clark, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. N. Kenner, executive board member; Mrs. Pearl Carter, parliamentarian; Mrs. M. O'Connell, critic and the hostess, Mrs. Magee, who is vice-president.

SEW-N-SEW CLUB

The Sew-N-Sew Club met on Thursday, March 25, in the home of Mrs. Glen Shook. Twelve members were present and engaged in handwork during the afternoon.

Refreshments of sandwiches, individual cakes and lemonade were served in dainty Easter baskets to the following guests: Mrs. Eugene Owens, Mrs. Hughston McLain, Mrs. Clarence Garrett, Mrs. Howard Ferguson, Mrs. Kenneth Halbert, Mrs. Harry Trauwek, Mrs. Bob Myers, Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. J. C. Rader, Mrs. Delmar McBeath, Mrs. R. J. Owens and the hostess, Mrs. Shook.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Delmar McBeath on Thursday, April 1.

FOARD CITY WSCS

On Monday, March 22, members of the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church for the purpose of making out quarterly reports. Mrs. Virgil Johnson led the group in singing "Help Somebody Today." Mrs. Howard Ferguson reported on the meeting of March 8 and it seems that the men enjoyed the refreshments which they served themselves at their night meeting. Several dresses and articles of clothing for foreign relief were brought and Mrs. Allison Denton, secretary of Christian Social Relations, urged that more magazines be turned in.

The devotional was brought by Mrs. Johnson who based her talk on the incident at Jesus' trial when Pilate sought to avoid making a decision, to escape assessing the penalty desired by the people in the court. In trying to sit on the fence, so to speak, he lost the greatest opportunity to historical fame and immortality any man has ever had. Not Pilate, not any one is able to walk a middle path where Jesus is concerned. One is either for Him or against Him.

Mrs. Kenneth Halbert had an interested audience for her discourse on the life of a rural family in Tennessee. Education, according to the account of Pilot Knob,

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

More than 80 communities throughout the length and breadth of Texas now have surplus chapels purchased through the War Assets Administration. In the state, a total of 109 churches, schools and veteran or charity groups received the chapels. Awards were approved by the office of Chief of Chaplains at prices ranging from $271 to $3100 per building. Top on the list for number of chapels received were Dallas and Abilene, with six buildings each. Other towns receiving more than one included Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Grand Prairie, Waco, Brownsville, Brownwood, Belton and San Antonio. The chapels came from 36 military installations in every section of the state.

Although priority claimants submitted purchase offers on all buildings for off-site use during a recent sale at Laughlin Air Field, near Del Rio, these claims were allowed on only 144 buildings of the total offering. A public sale scheduled at the site was cancelled due to the belief no buildings would be left for non-priority buyers. But, following the awards to priorities including 87 school districts, there were 310 buildings remaining to be sold. So War Assets Administration will hold a location sale at Laughlin Field on these buildings April 14 and 15, open to all buyers on an equal, informal bid basis. The inspection period for this sale will run from April 1 through April 13.

As the larger war surplus installations are cleared of consumer goods in the current series of War Assets location sales, additional smaller locations in North Texas and other places in the southwest will be the scenes of emergency clearance sales. The WAA advises that due to the large number of these small sites and the small amount of property, only limited advance notification of these sales will be possible. It urges prospective buyers to watch local newspapers for such announcements.

One of the major site clearances of the region will take place in a few days at Tinker Field, Oklahoma. With veterans and others accorded preference according to the sequence of buying, $1,750, worth of surplus will be sold by spot bidding April 8. The inspection will be April 5, 6, and 7. Among the hundreds of items will be four trucks, 12,000 raincoats, storage batteries, 500 auxiliary light plants and office furniture. About a hundred lots will be in the offering. A final clearance of the New Orleans Consolidated Vulture plant is also being planned.

Cities and towns with airports a-building will have the opportunity to acquire some airport buildings and equipment ready-made at Camp Swift, near Bastrop. The WAA has various airport buildings and equipment for removal and use off-site for public airport purposes. The cut-off date on proposals from priority groups will be April 16. Details are available by contacting the Grand Prairie office of real property disposal, Box 6030, Dallas.

Part of the Oklahoma Ordnance Works at Choctaw will go into peace-time production as the result of action by War Assets Administration this week. The ordnance plant's power unit and water system was sold to the Grand River Dam Authority of the state of Oklahoma for $3,500,000. These facilities will be connected with an electric power system supplying electrical energy to four states. Transfer of title was made at the national capital between Jess Larson, WAA head, and Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma.

GAMBLEVILLE CLUB

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Milburn Carroll March 19 with an all-day meeting. Each member brought a covered dish for lunch and some sewing to do. Mrs. Earl Davis demonstrated her button hole attacher on the sewing machine. She made several button holes for members of the club.

In the business meeting at 2 p. m. Mrs. Earl Davis served as president. Roll call was answered by "a remodeling change I would like to make in my home."

LOVELY TEXAN TELLS COTTON'S FASHION STORY

Blonde and beautiful Matilda Nail of Ft. Worth, Texas, the cotton industry's 1948 Maid of Cotton, has begun a 35,000-mile cotton goodwill tour which will carry her to more than 49 key cities in three countries. She's pictured here in three of the 1948 cotton creations which are included in her glamorous all-cotton wardrobe. On the left, Matilda wears a romantic evening gown done in cotton chambray and organdy by Dorris Varum. In the center, she poses in a sophisticated cotton suit with the new slim-skirt done by Herbert Sondheim. And on the right the Maid of Cotton shows a modern version of the Gilson girl blouse and skirt in white cotton batiste and black poplin from Alice Stuart. The Maid of Cotton tour is sponsored by the National Cotton Council, Memphis Cotton Carnival, and the Cotton Exchanges of New York, Memphis, and New Orleans.

Southwest's First Industrial Show Set for May 30-June 6

Visible proof of the Southwest's sudden industrial expansion, which has resulted in a net gain of more than 100 per cent since 1929, will be seen at the First Annual Southwestern Industrial Exposition to be held in Fort Worth May 30 through June 6.

Conceived by Southwestern manufacturers and sponsored by eleven commercial and industrial associations in the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas, this exposition will afford the first comprehensive evidence that the Southwest is the fastest growing industrial area in the nation.

Need for a display of products made by the more than 10,000 manufacturers in the Southwest is recognized by C. W. Wofford, exposition president, who says "The recent war emergency broke the inertia of manufacturing activity concentrated in the North and East, and caused a gravitation of industry toward areas with the greatest potentialities in terms of raw materials, markets, transportation facilities, and climate."

"The Southwest has received the full benefit of this shift in the center of industrial gravity," Mr. Wofford explains, "and we are fortunate that facilities are available to stage a representative showing of goods produced in this area."

Site of the show will be the $3,000,000 plant of the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum and Auditorium grounds. Six new steel and concrete buildings used for the first time during the recent Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show will be available for exhibitors.

In addition to the 230,000 square feet of exhibits, there will be daily amusement features. Purchasing agents and wholesale buyers have expressed interest in the show, which will be open to the public. No admission will be charged.

Texas sponsors of the exposition include the Texas Manufacturers Association, Texas Association of Commerce, West, East, and South Texas Chambers of Commerce, and the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. Inquiries may be addressed to Charles E. Laney, 114 East 8th Street, Fort Worth, manager of the show.

Emphasis Placed on Reading Labels on Drugs and Medicines

Austin, Texas. "Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the need for reading labels on drugs and medicines before taking them," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Frequent reports are received of accidents, some of them fatal, affecting people who have formed the hazardous habit of taking medicines without carefully reading the labels."

Equally dangerous is the habit of taking medicine after the directions on the label have become obliterated, which many people do, thinking that they can remember what the bottle contained. Reaching for a bottle and taking medicine in the dark is another dangerous practice. It is important to remember that the law requires labels to be attached to drugs and medicines in order to protect the public.

Dr. Cox urges people to follow the simple rule of reading the label before using anything from a carton or bottle, either as food or as medicine. In brief, his advice to the public is: "Be sure you know what you are taking, and when in doubt, DON'T TAKE IT."

It is better to understand a little than to misunderstand a lot.—Anatole France.

VETERANS' QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My son was killed in action during World War II, and I would like to know if I am entitled to receive compensation?

A. You are entitled to compensation, provided dependence can be shown. Dependency will be held to exist if you do not have sufficient income to provide reasonable maintenance for yourself and your family.

Q. I am taking on-the-job training in a hazardous occupation under the G-I Bill. In case of an accident, will Veterans Administration pay my hospital expenses at a local hospital?

A. No. Any disabilities incurred while training under the G-I Bill are considered non-service-connected, but you may be able to establish eligibility for hospitalization in a Veterans Administration hospital because of your war service.

Q. My son, who is in a Veterans Administration hospital, is trying to get a pass to visit me. Will Veterans Administration pay for his transportation to and from the hospital?

A. No. All travel while on leave from a Veterans Administration hospital is at the expense of the veteran.

Q. Should a claim ever be filed by a veteran who has been honorably discharged?

A. It is always the privilege of a veteran to file a claim; but to show entitlement, it must be established to the satisfaction of the Administrator of Veterans Affairs that the veteran was insane at the time of commission of the act for which the dishonorable discharge was issued.

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

BUILDING a new country was no easy job. But there were men and women willing to turn their backs on the comfortable way of life and their faces toward new frontiers. All they asked was an even break.

Free enterprise is another way of saying, "an even break." Free enterprise is the basic American principle of vision and personal initiative. Just give an American an even break—a chance to get ahead—and he'll go on from there.

In West Texas—where the "frontier" is a little more than one generation removed—the West Texas Utilities Company is recognized as a real pioneer. It opened up an "electric frontier" when in 1915 it constructed the first power transmission line in West Texas. This first transmission line, which helped pave the way for the economic growth of the area, was built by a farseeing group of business men who believed that a tax-paying, self-supporting company could best supply the enormous amounts of electric power that the development of this western empire depends on... at the lowest possible cost.

Today, that original transmission line has been expanded into a power system of 2,833 miles of high power transmission lines... more than any other company in the Southwest... serving 322,000 persons with dependable, low-cost electric service in a 45,000 square mile area.

The West Texas Utilities Company, in 1947, contributed more than $1,800,000 to local, state and federal governments... paid more than $2,800,000 in wages to employee citizens of West Texas.

There are still new frontiers in electric living to be opened... and businessmen can do the job better than bureaucrats. Believing in the soundness of the "free enterprise system," the Company will spend $18,000,000 during the next four years enlarging plants and existing facilities, and building transmission lines in an all-out effort to "open" those new frontiers.

You can CASH IN ON SCRAP

STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates—scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps—and it is needed now.

IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP

There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring—and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:

1. You make some money on what you can't use.
2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.

Scrap means savings to you—if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS International Union Sunday School Lessons By LOUIE C. NEWTON, D. D.

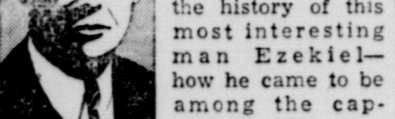

SCRIPTURE: Ezekiel 1-4; 39-19. DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 137-146.

Prophet Among Exiles

Lesson for April 4, 1948

using the Books of Ezekiel, Daniel, Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther, Haggai, Zechariah and Malachi. Sunday's lesson is found in Ezekiel 1-4 and 33:1-9.

It would be well for us to read again the history of this most interesting man Ezekiel—how he came to be among the captives by the river Chebar. He is one of the most attractive personalities in the Old Testament—a man of surpassing culture and charm—and yet enabled to "sit where they sat."

Dr. Newton

A MESSENGER OF GOD EZEKIEL could never have adapted himself to the role of ministering to the captive slaves apart from the knowledge that he was the messenger of God—the messenger of God's hope to broken, beaten

This quarter we study the Captivity and Return of the Jews, using the Books of Ezekiel, Daniel, and Ezra. God spoke to his people through Ezekiel. He speaks to his people today through chosen messengers—parents, teachers, the Bible, the Holy Spirit. God may be speaking to you today.

HEAR YE THE WORD Ezekiel's approach to the Jews in captivity was by the authority of God's direct message to them through him. Ezekiel was faithful to God's appointment and mission. He knew that what he had to say to the Jews meant their hope of release and return.

He studied their plight. He studied their mood. And then he spoke to them. But not only did he speak to them, telling them what God wanted them to know, but he moved among them. He loved them.

He had God's message, and he went in God's mood of compassion. We cannot help people until we understand them and love them.

GOD'S WATCHMAN Ezekiel reminded the people that he had been sent from God as a watchman, and he told them what terrible responsibility was upon him in warning them to repent and return unto God. Read Ezekiel 33:1-9.

If the watchmen faithfully warn the people, and they refuse to heed the warning, their blood will not be on his hands; but if he fails to warn the people, their blood will be on his hands. Here is a lesson for every teacher and preacher and parent today.

And in this same 33rd chapter, Ezekiel goes on to declare God's attitude toward all sinners. "Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live—turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die?"

A WATCHMAN UNTO EXILES "Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel," Ezekiel 3:17.

This was the explicit commission of God to Ezekiel. And grandly did Ezekiel accept and execute to the limit of his ability that commission.

The Jews were far from their beloved home. They were driven by hard masters. They could not sing the song of the Lord in a strange land. They had hanged their harps on the willow trees.

With a sensitive soul, Ezekiel comes to them with the word of hope. He reminds them of the goodness and mercy of Jehovah to their fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. He lifts their drooping spirits with clear and ringing words of promise. He pleads with them to confess their sins and claim the pardoning mercy of a loving God.

He used numerous means of gaining their attention—symbols of their former communion with God. Patiently he traced the dealings of God with them and their fathers before them.

They listened, and all who heeded the pleas of the faithful watchman were saved and restored to faith in the goodness and mercy of God.

We, too, are watchmen among exiles. Let us learn the high art of Ezekiel in our ministry as watchmen.

The churches will fail if the lessons of Sunday are forgotten on Monday and are laid aside for special observance on only one day of the week—Wayne Morse, U. S. Senator from Oregon.

Weekly Sermon

"JESUS ROSE"

by Paul Allen, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

For ten minutes there hadn't been a sound upstairs. Joey's mother had a feeling of wary apprehension as she took the creak out of the oven and started upstairs. What was that boy up to now that kept him quiet for so long? Maybe he was dressing up again in daddy's suits! Maybe he was writing on the walls in the guest room. But you'd think he'd never want to write on walls again after what had happened the last time.

She opened the door of the guest room. Empty! That is, almost empty. Finnegan, Joey's huge Irish setter, sat on his haunches in front of the closet door and cocked his head expectantly. While she watched, the door swung slowly open, revealing Joey in stately draperies made from a sheet. He wore a look of absorbed contemplation, and stepped out of the closet majestically, as a king steps out of his throne room.

"Joey!" his mother exclaimed, suppressing a giggle. The king suddenly realized he was a seven-year-old boy in the presence of a grownup, and he laughed guiltily. "I'm playing Jesus a rose," he explained after a moment.

"Jesus Rose?" Joey's mother echoed—then felt a shock as she understood the full significance of his play. She paused a moment, groping for words. "Joey," she started at last, "That's gne. Because someday you will rise, just as Jesus did."

How could she explain to a little boy the beautiful truth behind "Jesus Rose"? Somehow, she only half comprehended all of its significance herself. Those words in the Bible: "If Christ had not been raised, then our preaching is vain, and your faith is in vain. . . . But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead!" Could a child understand the great message of Easter?

"Joey," she said softly, "I think you really have something there. Being a Christian—and worshipping the Lord Jesus Christ—is useless if we don't recognize that He not only died for our sins, but that He rose again from the dead. That was the real proof that He was God's Son, and that He has the power to give us eternal life."

Her son's face had grown serious. "I know, Mother," he said. "Just like that verse I learned in the Bible: God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." He stopped thoughtfully. "Mother, I'm glad Jesus rose. . . . 'cause otherwise you and I wouldn't be going to heaven!"

FRIENDS AND ENEMIES There is one sure thing about fire: It is always waiting to strike when carelessness, ignorance and plain human laziness give it the chance.

Fire has many friends. Defective heating equipment of all kinds is one of its best. So is defective electric wiring and appliances. Smoking materials and matches are well up on the list. Inadequate maintenance of homes and industrial buildings is another, along with attics and basements and closets stuffed with burnable junk.

Fire's principal enemies are knowledge and watchfulness. Proper precautions, most of which cost little in either money or time, will prevent about 90 per cent of all fires—and save 90 per cent of the 10,000 lives that fire destroys each year. One spark can start a fire that will ruin half a city—as easily as a fire which does minor damage.

It isn't surprising that fire did nearly $700,000,000 worth of property damage last year. We have been so careless, as a people, that it's a wonder the loss wasn't even higher. And the loss will go higher, in all probability, unless we shake off our lethargy, realize the extent of the danger, understand that it is of direct and immediate personal concern to us all, and get down to the job of vanishing fire's friends. — Industrial News Review.

J. M. Hill Jr. and Miss Margaret Jane Youngblood Take Marriage Vows in Candlelight Ceremony Saturday

In a ceremony performed Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church at Vernon Miss Margaret Jane Youngblood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Youngblood, Vernon, became the bride of J. M. Hill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hill of Crowell. Dr. E. A. Reed, pastor, officiated in the exchange of vows. The vows were taken in a beautiful setting of Easter lilies, greenery and candles.

Nuptial music was presented by James Pollard, soloist; Miss Mary Jemette Babasin, violinist, and Mrs. Guy Packett, organist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin designed with a sheer yoke of illusion, a wide V-shaped neckline with an off-shoulder effect outlined by a bertha of satin, long fitted sleeves which tapered to points over her hands, and a fitted basque bodice. The full gathered skirt, worn over a hoop, swept into a formal circular train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a "Mother-of-Pearl" Testament from the Holy Land. White rosebuds and a white orchid topped the Testament. The bride's only ornament was a cameo pin which had belonged to her maternal grandmother.

Miss Mary Ann Sullivan, maid of honor, Misses Jo Anne Kimberlin of Austin, and Sherry Youngblood, bridesmaids, were their cousin's attendants. They wore dresses of a new leaf green faille taffeta and white accessories to complete her costume. Her corsage was of orchids. The couple left immediately for Las Cruces, where the groom has provided a pretty country home.

The flower girl was attired in a dress of pale green taffeta with a full skirt. She carried a white net basket filled with yellow flowers and a small flower in her hair.
