Colts Born Mare on Farm

Mrs. W. S. Bell

Very rare things have happened on the Mrs. W. S. Bell farm in 1946 for the first time during more than fifty years of operation. About six months ago a pair of bull calves were born to a mare belonging to Mrs. Bell and lived and are doing well. Six days ago twin horse colts born to a mare owned by Mrs. Bell, and they reported to be growing and appearing at a satisfactory rate. It is said that it is very unusual for a mare to give birth to two horses, and still more unusual for both animals to live and be normally.

Dallas Man Low Bidder on Foard City Paved Road

Austin, June 26 (Special).—A low bid of $60,004.65 for construction of 11 miles of Farm-to-Market Roads in Foard and Hall Counties was announced Wednesday by the State Highway Commission.

The two projects combined in one contract will extend from Lakeview to Plaska in Hall County and from Foard City to 4 miles west in Foard County.

L. L. Cooper of Dallas was low bidder on the proposal calling for grading, drainage structures, base and base preservative.

It is estimated construction will begin within 30 to 60 days, provided formal contracts are approved and executed by the Highway Commission and concurrence is obtained from the Public Roads Administration. The specifications will require that the project be completed within 90 working days after construction begins.

The Foard-Hall projects are among the 35 involving 281 miles of Texas Farm-to-Market roads for which bids were received Tuesday and Wednesday. It is a part of the State Highway Department's Road Program which, together with scheduled improvements to the primary highway system, will bring 62 per cent of all Texas rural dwellings within one mile of a paved road; 74 per cent will be within two miles.

Through the June letting the Commission has asked for bids on 123 similar projects since the program was released for contracting in January. Eight of these roads have been completed and now serve the hundreds of farmers and ranchers living along them. Others are rapidly nearing completion.

The first postwar Farm-to-Market project completed in the nation was in the Texas Panhandle. The Texas three-year program of 837 Farm-to-Market projects is nearly double that of any other State.

County Committee Releases More AAA Money to Farmers

At the regular meeting of the County Committee Monday, July 1, the County Committee released more money that can be earned on any farm or ranch during the 1946 program year, according to A. V. Sheppard, secretary of the County Committee. The farm limit has been raised from $500.00 to $1,000.00, and is to be calculated in the following manner: For the first $500.00 cropland will draw $2.00 per acre and pasture or range land will draw 20c per acre. Any acreage covered by a worksheet when calculated at the above rate exceeds $500.00, the excess acreage will be figured at one-half the rate approved in the Texas State Handbook which would be $1.00 for cropland and 10c per acre for pasture or range land.

The County Committee ruled that no farm or ranch will be allowed to earn more than $1,000.00 during the 1946 program year. It is necessary that this money be earned by carrying out approved soil and water conservation practices. It is also necessary that all producers secure written approvals from the County Committee, before the practice is started, to be eligible for payment.

Rats Are a Serious Menace to Mankind

Austin.—Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of ratproof materials in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

By observing these control measures, the community will benefit not only in the eradication of a nuisance and economic menace, but in improved health conditions and the prevention of rat-borne diseases.

July Fourth Celebration

On the Fourth of July the American people have expressed their joy felt on the birthday of their government, and their satisfaction that they established their independence. This action of setting up a government of our own has brought untold blessings to our people, and contributed greatly to the development of our country.

tion to obey their parents, and usually do so. But the time comes when they are old enough to make their own decisions, and law and custom sanction them in this feeling. Some get the feeling of independence too early, but the time comes when each individual has to become his own master and be responsible for his own acts.

So the American colonies on July 4, 1776, had reached the point where they were grown up, and were entitled to make their own decisions. They felt they could govern themselves better than the British government located 3,000 miles away could do it. They had their own ideas about laws and customs, and were entitled to work them out themselves.

The independence that they finally gained in the Revolutionary war contributed greatly to the development of the country. It encouraged the country to spread out into the vast spaces of our continent, and a great growth in prosperity and power followed. So the nation owes a great debt to these old patriots who signed the wonderful document called the Declaration of Independence. They made a mighty contribution to the cause of freedom, and helped to spread ideas of democracy in all parts of the world.

Most of the labor trouble that has beset the nation and bogged down the reconversion program has been developing the past twelve years. The Roosevelt administration was friendly to labor and under it labor practically had its own way. Labor leaders being human and subject to the same selfish impulses to which others are subject are demanding more and more and are even willing to bog down the economic program to get it. It is a wise labor leader who knows when to soften up on his demands and do a little giving instead of constantly taking.

Remember when we were urged to eat one more slice of bread a day to help relieve the wheat surplus?

BABE IN MEXICO . . . Babe Ruth, Sultan of Swat, is shown here zooming one across during an exhibition game between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. An overflow of Mexican fans turned out to see Babe. Reports are that he will join organized baseball in Mexico as the "Judge Landis" of baseball in the southern republic.

Every child should learn to swim. The thousands of deaths by drowning that occur each year because the victims did not know how to swim is tragic evidence of this. Children take to water naturally, and, given the opportunity, will soon learn to take care of themselves in the water. If a community does not have natural facilities for swimming it can make no better investment than a good swimming pool. Swimming, besides affording some insurance against death by drowning, is the most healthful exercise in which a child can indulge. It helps a growing child to learn to coordinate the use of muscles and handle the body gracefully. It is also a sport in which young people engage eagerly. It requires no urging to get a normal boy or girl to go swimming.

The young people of any community reflect the community. If a community has a group of well behaved young people it is that kind of a community. If it has a group of young people whose actions are a reproach and an embarrassment it is that kind of a community. It is the attitude of the people of a community, their daily lives and their concept of conduct that determines what the conduct of the young people will be. Adults may conceal and cover up their real selves but the young people do not. Their good conduct or their misconduct is more open, hence is a splendid barometer of the concept of a community on the worth while and fundamental things.

The OPA is a necessary and a desirable institution. The difficulty lies in the fact that it was not supported as it should have been. Those who should have been active in its support knifed it in the back by patronizing the black market. Pay day for scuttling the price control is coming. The unfortunate feature of it is that the patriotic people who gave it their support are going to suffer the same fate as the black marketeers.

A fire, always a disaster, is more so at the present time because of the scarcity of materials with which to rebuild. Time was that following a fire in the business district plans for rebuilding were gotten under way before the ashes were scarcely cool. That isn't the case now. It requires weeks and months to assemble material to do even a small rebuilding job.

WORLD BANK AIDE . . . Harold D. Smith, Michigan, former director of the budget bureau, who recently accepted appointment as vice president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development

A report of the U. S. Treasury shows that during the past five months the people of this country have purchased a little more than $2,000,000,000 worth of government savings bonds. During the same period holders of Series E bonds have cashed in approximately $2,600,000,000 of bonds. The result is that some $600,000,000 has been put into circulation to buy scarce goods and to contribute toward inflationary trends. The best contribution the average citizen can make to prevent inflation is to continue to invest in savings bonds. This is not the time to buy, it is the time to save. If every one saves now they can buy to a better advantage when normal production is reached. If savings are spent now—inflation will be encouraged, and under inflation the purchasing power of savings will be greatly reduced.

Petitions are being circulated in Nebraska asking that a "Right to Work" amendment be voted on this fall. If carried, the amendment would prohibit the "closed" shop in Nebraska and would be an attractive invitation for industries to locate in the state.

Postal workers have been given an increase totaling $16,000,000 a year. Apportioned among 40,000 workers the increase will be around $400 a year.

There are millions of farmers who could use a shorter work week, a bigger income and a free hospitalization fund who have not gone out on a strike in an effort to get it.

The reason why some fellows who are their own boss, never get anywhere is that they are too kind and too easy going with the help.

The nature lovers tell us to stop and listen to the singing of the birds. Some say their wives or children are talking so often that they get little chance to hear those birds.

They talk about breaking in the young horses to wear a harness, but it is not probably as difficult as breaking in some of the human colts to good orderly conduct.

The face of a coin is called its obverse side.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

I do not like to take a gloomy view of things. I only do so when I am forced to, and when the odds seem all against any other course. In the present situation in which the country has been brought by what I feel is the failure of Congress to properly function, anyone except the blind devotees of Pollyannaism is justified in a measure of discouragement and disgust.

Ever since the end of the war, some eleven months ago, Congress has floundered, displaying a degree of clumsy ineptness unusual even in that blundering body.

While the situation that faced a nation just emerging from the war was one of the most critical that this country has faced, when it comes to its own domestic policy, and while the situation offered Congress an opportunity to rise to the level of high statesmanship, it has, in my opinion, missed the mark in a most distressing manner.

Three or four bills of almost minor importance sums up the work that has been done. The final act before the close of the session, it appears, will be the crippling of the price control bill to the point where it will be still less effective, and productive of still greater confusion, distrust, and opposition.

Congress has revealed itself as incapable of meeting the reconversion situation and handling it in an orderly manner. In the face of an almost overwhelming demand on the part of the people of the country that the price line be held it has not lent its efforts and its support to this program. In the face of the greatest strike threat that has faced the nation in its history, Congress has not taken a single step toward an obviously needed program for handling differences between labor and management, to the end that the public be not made the victims of long drawn out bickerings and quarrels over working conditions and pay.

I feel that had Congress taken even the initial step toward the handling of labor disputes that would have afforded some relief from the inequities of the lopsided Wagner Act it would have shown some evidence of service to the nation.

I also believe that Congress should have shown a more friendly and a more co-operative spirit in the matter of price control. Instead of this it has been openly hostile and openly non-co-operative.

In view of this situation I am, as I stated in the beginning of this article discouraged regarding the future. I am predicting that because of the seeming inability of Congress to meet the situation, a rapid rise in prices all along the line. This will be followed by more strikes and other price rises. The fruit as I see it, the inevitable fruit of such a course is going to be another crack up such as the country experienced in 1929. Economists generally are agreed on this. Their only point of difference is the severity of the crack up. The optimists hope it won't be quite as bad and the pessimists

INSURANCE General Lines of Fire, Windstorm, Casualty, Life, Sickness and Accident It is always the unexpected that happens. See us and protect yourself before it happens. Hughston Insurance Agency believe that it will. However that may be the fact still remains that Congress has not met and coped with the needs of the reconversion period. It is still blundering through it.

HISTORY

Frontier Day in Cheyenne—July 25: In 1897 the people of Cheyenne, Wyoming, instituted an annual event to be known as Frontier Day. The purpose of the day was to keep alive the sports and interesting features of the pioneer days of the community. The celebration has grown with the passing years until it is known throughout the nation, and each year thousands of persons journey from all corners of the country to witness it. The program has grown until it now requires four days and is participated in by over three hundred persons consisting of expert horsemen, cowboys and cowgirls.

The events of each day open with a parade around the half-mile track of Frontier Park participated in by mounted cowboys and cowgirls, Indians in costume, covered wagons and other features reminiscent of pioneer life. The program each day consists of riding, steer roping, calf roping, bulldogging, bareback riding, relay races, and many other sports. During the years that the show has been held a code of rules and regulations has been formulated which governs the contests of bulldogging, calf roping and other events. In addition to these events the Burnt Thigh tribe of Sioux Indians present native Indian dances in costume. Each year a queen is chosen who presides over the celebration. She is known as Miss Frontier.

Home Town Thoughts

What makes a town go ahead? The answer is that it is energy and hearty co-operation and public spirit and activity of its people.

The pride which people take in the products of their community, and the enthusiasm which they feel in the products they sell at retail, help to spread the reputation and business of a town.

The well advertised store is constantly reminding people of its existence and of the goods it sells, so that when people want anything in its line a great number of them resort to that place of business.

J. Edgar Hoover in a recent report states that the crime increase in the United States last year was the greatest in the fifteen year period that his organization has been tabulating figures.

The increase is 12.4 in the cities and 8.4 in the rural areas. Rape increased 5 per cent, murders 10 per cent, burglaries 17 per cent and robberies 23 per cent.

A substantial portion of major crimes, says the report, were committed by persons under voting age. Age 17 headed the list with age 18 a close second.

Hoover places the blame for the sharp rise in juvenile crimes on the break up in home life and regrettable lack of parental responsibility.

THE LAW IN JESUS' DAY

Lesson Text — Deuteronomy 6:4-9; Matthew 5:17-19; Mark 10:17-22.

Memory Selection—Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets; I come not to destroy, but to fulfill.—Matthew 5:17.

Jesus Christ is the believer's final authority. He is both our Saviour and our Lord. He is our teacher, our guide, our pattern in all things. It is therefore of the highest importance that we know his attitude toward the Old Testament laws, and that is just what we are to consider in the lessons of the next three months under the general title, "Jesus Interprets Old Testament Laws." Our introductory lesson tells us of the origin, interpretation and application of the law, then we go in later lessons to consider the Ten Commandments in the light of the teachings of Jesus.

It is appropriate to point out that, far from being outmoded, the Ten Commandments are really the basis of all moral law. They need a diligent restudy and re-emphasis in our day of disregard of moral standards.

I. The Law—Given by God (Deut. 6:4-9).

Our God is the one true God who is to have the complete and constant devotion of all. The fact that so many men have ignored him explains the awful depth to which the world has fallen.

This one and only true God has given through his servant, Moses, the fundamental moral law for the government of man, and he is to give diligent attention to it at all times.

Religion in the household (v.7) should include the teaching of the Word, and the easy natural discussion of spiritual things in all the varying circumstances of home life. Blessed are the parents who make it easy for children to talk about the things of God as naturally and unaffectedly as they discuss the other phases of life which in-

Texas' Oldest Voter

Senator Allan Shivers, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, of Port Arthur, Jefferson County, Texas, receiving a check for his father from Capt. Roderick Donald Steele, Texas' oldest voter. In presenting the check, Captain Steele, representing the citizens of Port Arthur, expressed the voters' appreciation for his 12 years faithful service to the district and reminded him that he was the youngest senator to take the oath of office when first elected to the Senate. (Shivers is now dean of the Senate).

Captain Steele for many years has refused to tell his age, but old-timers say that he is now 106. He still works daily as a marine surveyor, climbing over ships to inspect their cargoes.

target them. The law of God should go with his people into their daily occupations (v. 8), not in any formal or stilted way but as the normal expression of their love for him. It should be evident to all who enter the home that the Lord is loved and honored (v.9).

II. The Law Fulfilled by Jesus (Matt. 5:17-19).

The law of God is eternal, never to be abrogated, never set aside. Christ himself, although we might properly say that he was in reality the lawgiver and thus had power and authority over the law indicated his purpose in coming to be that of giving the law its full meaning, not of destroying it.

One could wish that those who profess to be his servants might have the same measure of regard for God's law. If they did, they obviously would not be so ready to ignore it, so quick to change it or explain it away, and far more ready to accept with their Master every "jot and tittle"; that is, even the minutest detail of his Word.

It is a mark of greatness "to do and teach" the law of God (v. 17), and of pathetic smallness to break his commandments and to teach others to disobey God. Some of the supposed great men of this world are mighty small when they are measured by God's yardstick.

The one who recognizes Christ as the fulfillment of the law will go on in consistent living. In his strength and by his grace we are to obey every moral precept.

III. The Law—Applied to Man (Mark 10:17-22).

The moral law, which is God's law, is good and in its keeping man finds guidance for his life. Apart from Christ, however, he finds himself unable to keep the law.

The gospel of the grace of God in Christ Jesus takes us a step beyond the law, and it is a great step for here we meet and follow the one who is greater than the law, the giver of eternal life.

Obedience to the commandments brings a man up to the very entrance upon that life, but to enter in he must have more than the "things" of the law; he must have the person who is "the door" to eternal life.

The young man who came to Christ was rich. His mind was obsessed with things. He had made it his business to observe the law, and had done well (v. 20), but his soul was not satisfied. He thought of one more "thing" that he could do would accomplish his purpose.

The general attitude of the man was commendable. He sensed his lack of the vital something which would remake his life. He came to the right one—the Lord Jesus—with his question.

His failure to go beyond the things of the law to a faith in Christ, however, showed that he loved his possessions more than he desired to follow the Lord.

Idaho and Maine Are "Sold" on Ads To Sell Potatoes

Idaho Falls, Ida. — Newspaper advertising in the major market centers of the United States sells Idaho's and Maine's potatoes.

In the past nine seasons, Idaho has sold its potatoes for a total of more than $163,000,000, while Maine has marketed its shipments for $210,000,000, records of the Idaho Potato and Onion Shippers Association, which maintains headquarters, show.

Maine is the nation's leading tuber producing state. Idaho is second.

The campaign on Russets is conducted by the Idaho Advertising Commission, which the Cline Advertising Service of Boise serves as counsel. Weekly and bi-weekly metropolitan newspapers in September and continue through March, or until the bulk of the crop has been marketed. Stressing nutritive value and keeping quality of Russets, a late maturing crop, the advertisements have been credited with materially increasing sales east of the Mississippi River.

Newspaper advertising is supplemented with magazine advertising, dodgers and cafe promotion. Field representatives of the Advertising Commission contact the trade to demonstrate best methods of displaying potatoes in stores.

Sturgess Dorrance, New York, chairman of the board of Brooke, Smith, French & Dorrance Advertising Agency and merchandising and advertising counselor to the state of Maine, told members of the Shippers Association recently at Boise that it appears Maine's shippers may voluntarily suggest an additional one cent a barrel tax on themselves to promote an even more intensive advertising program. He suggested that Idaho shippers might do likewise. Idaho growers now pay one-half cent per hundredweight on potatoes that are marketed to finance the advertising program.

Marketing programs of both Maine and Idaho were carried on during the past nine seasons "at the exceedingly low cost of less than two mills per dollar of income to the growers," Idaho Advertising Commission members reveal. During the 1944-1945 season the advertising of California Sunkist lemons amounted to 5 and 3-10 cents on the dollar, Florida grapefruit one cent, and California Sunkist oranges 1 and 8-10 cents.

Maine is furthering its advertising program with research. Idaho is doing likewise.

Maine is popularizing the state-owned trade-mark names of Super-Spuds, Chef's Special, Thrift Pack and Cut-Tatoes. Maine receives a premium from the trade on these special packs.

"But the main thing is to put quality in a bag," Mr. Dorrance said. "A housewife isn't sold on a product unless she asks for it a second time."

Loyalty to the Home Town

People feel a certain sentiment of loyalty to their own families. If they hear anyone criticizing some member of their own families, they are likely to defend the relative thus blamed, and say that justice has not been done to that person.

A similar sentiment of loyalty should be felt to the community in which we live. If people speak too slightly of its achievements and advantages, there should be a strong desire to see that the town is given the credit to which it is entitled. People should speak warmly of life in the home town. Criticism of its faults may be legitimate if it will help to correct those faults. As a rule the idea of applauding the home town makes people feel happy in their

Upset Stomachs Yield Inches of Gas and Bloat

Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise Inner-Aid to the sky."—This is an actual testimonial and we can verify it. INNER-AID is the new formula containing medicinal juices from 12 Great Herbs; these herbs cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Wendell P. Loveless, Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Consider Christ

First, consider Christ as Saviour. He always has existed; he never began to be. Our blessed Lord is as eternal as God the Father and God the Holy Spirit. "These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said . . . Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was" (John 17:1, 5).

He was born of a virgin (Luke 1:26, 27, 31). He died as the offering for sin (Isa. 53; 1 Pet. 2:24). He arose again out from among the dead (Rom. 4:25). In the second place, consider Christ as producer of joy. The world, with all its activity, its allure, its tinsel and show, offers joy to those who are willing to walk in its paths. But the apostle John warns, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him" (1 John 2:15).

Self, with its subtle attraction, offers joy to those who will pander and indulge it. The Lord Jesus said, "If any man come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me" (Luke 9:23). Self says, Gratify; Christ says, Crucify.

Money and possessions, in themselves, cannot produce real joy. They are wholly temporary. Our Lord declares that "the deceitfulness of riches choke the word" (Matt. 13:22).

Circumstances, however favorable they may be at times, cannot produce genuine joy, for they are uncertain at best, and an hour may see them completely change. But Christ never changes. He is "the same yesterday, and today, and forever" (Heb. 13:8). In John 20:20 we read, "Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord." This is the secret of Christian joy.

Finally, consider Christ as the eternal certainty as compared with a life of worry and anxiety. He never changes. He is the Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. He is already our tomorrow, for "the goeth before." Since he is eternally sure and has pledged himself to care for his own, is it not a sin to worry and fret and be anxious for one moment?

When people say something effective, they are said to hit the nail on the head. The nail in some cases would seem to be the heads of some folks that have been hardened by too fixed ideas.

In the good old days many people were called stingy. Nowadays the only thing some people are stingy with is the amount of work they put on their jobs.

They claim the dollar has shrunk. This is not usually true of the heads, a lot of which have increased in size.

Date of Marriage of Mary K. McMillan Revealed Last Week

At a beautifully appointed formal tea, given last week by Mrs. A. F. McMillan at her home in Tyler, the engagement of Miss Mary Kay McMillan, her daughter, to Mike Thomas Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harrington of Plano, was announced.

The bride-elect, her mother, the bridegroom-elect's mother and his aunt, Mrs. Bluet, formed the receiving line. Miss Martha Ann Pickens, Miss Beverly Fraumbach and Miss Jerry Bunn presided at the serving table.

The receiving rooms were decorated with arrangements of pink and white roses and gladioli placed at vantage points. The dining table was laid with a lace-trimmed Italian cut-work cloth, centered with a reflector arrangement of white roses in a crystal bowl flanked at either end by matching branched crystal candelabra holding tall white tapers.

The engagement was revealed by the plate favors of small silver wedding bells attached to cards bearing the inscription written in silver, "Mary Kay and Mike, July 27."

Throughout the afternoon a program of piano selections was played by Mrs. John Scott Denison.

Miss McMillan is a graduate of the Overton High School and is finishing her senior year at the University of Texas, where she is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. The bridegroom-elect graduated from the University of Texas in March and is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

The wedding will be an event of July 27 in the garden at the home of Miss McMillan's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McMillan.

Beauford Jester Presents "People's Path" Platform

Folks in many sections of Texas have had a chance to see and talk to Beauford Jester of Corsicana, candidate for governor, during his tour of the state in the past two weeks.

In large cities and in small towns they have listened to him discuss the principles of his "People's Path" Platform. Jester has stated that he will stick to the principles in his "People's Path" and will make no rash promises or far fetched predictions in his campaign for the governorship.

In his tour of the state Jester urged: A long range, planned campaign to rebuild farm lands. An expanded public health educational program to reduce disease and to raise public health standards in Texas.

A traffic and highway safety campaign to reduce the steadily mounting toll of accident victims throughout the state. Pledged support for an adequate state police highway patrol.

Higher salaries and better working conditions for teachers in all public schools and colleges. The establishing of a first class medical school and other educational facilities for negroes at Prairie View University.

The building of more farm-to-market roads in all sections of Texas where roads are needed. Condemned attempts of OPA Director Chester Bowles to make a deal with labor whereby agriculture would be hamstrung by stabilized farm prices in return for which labor would agree to a one year strike truce.

Crime statistics show that during each day in this country there are twelve accidental killings, eighteen murders, thirty-one reported rapes, and 163 aggravated assaults.

In addition to these crimes against persons the crimes against property include 149 robberies, 692 cars stolen, 881 places burglarized and 2,371 miscellaneous thefts. These of course include the crimes reported to the law. There are many in all categories that are not reported. The above figures are from FBI records.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S. —despite her need for the of others. Africa does "bring a gift to Jehovah". Mrs. Johnson discussed group and Mrs. Denton punch and cookies to the ent.

On July 1, Mrs. N. A. Denton was hostess to the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service at her home. Mrs. W. L. Johnson presided and after the opening song, "I'll Live for Him," Mrs. E. V. Halbert led in prayer.

The business session over, Mrs. Johnson brought a devotional based on Philippians 4:13. She said that intolerable situations bring out latent resources which would never have been revealed had that person's life been a happy, untroubled one.

Mrs. Luke Marlow was the reviewer for the afternoon, bringing the 5th chapter of "The Area of Opportunity" from the current book study, "The Cross Over Africa." She began her discussion by saying that there is a real opportunity in Africa for advances that will be of value, not only to the people of Africa but to the world fellowship of peoples.

One of the greatest barriers to Christian development of new lands is the tendency to ask, not what is the Christian thing to do, but rather, "Is it profitable?" Africa comes as a young member into the world organization, into society, into the church; and certainly she is to be welcomed impartially for she comes not with empty hands.
