Fire Department Nine Smites Down Fergeson Drug Store

Crowell Fire Department's softballers assumed the role of giant killer on Wednesday night, July 24, as they smote down the top team, Fergeson Drug Store, 10 to 5. Coupling two hits with four walks in the first inning the fire boys gave pitcher Bill Hardin a 6 to 1 lead and he breezed through the remainder of the contest without too much trouble. Hardin issued no bases on balls and had fair support. Fergeson Drug Store played without their pitching ace, Gus Russell, as Charles Branch, Cotton Owens and Vernon Myers all tried their luck at the hurling duties. Leading hitter for the night was young J. C. Autry with three safeties. Henry Moss hit a home run for the Drugists.

ELECTRICITY IS IN GOOD HANDS!

More Power

The cutting of land by the plow, the drilling of an oil well in the ground, the use of an axe against an oak—These are the symbols of man's power. That is how the pioneers of this country fought for survival. We have come a long way since then, but we still retain the initiative that built this country—freedom of enterprise.

Now the battle with nature has changed. Business-managed, tax-paying electric companies have turned the surging tide of nature's power into work beneficial to you. Giant turbines convert power to electricity to bring greater convenience, more pleasure and better living to homes everywhere.

SEE "SPRAY-PACKING" OF USE IN FARM STORAGE

A new quartermaster method of storing weather-sensitive machinery holds promise of application to agriculture. Machinery which farmers are forced to leave in the open during long winter months. The procedure, known as "spray packing," consists of enveloping machines in a cheaper weather resistant material resembling leather and then subjecting it to four spraying operations.

To form the cover or envelope over the machinery, frame or network is built around the object. When the object is completely caged, the first spray, called the "webbing agent," is applied with an spray gun held parallel to the cage.

When the web has been formed, the first coating spray is then applied with the gun pointing directly at the surface. The spray for this operation is dyed yellow so that it can be readily ascertained that the entire surface has been covered. When the object is completely covered with the four applications, it is practically hermetically sealed within a tough, resilient container that will last, exposed to the weather, from 5 to 10 years, but which may be easily cut with a knife and readily stripped from the object.

Children Should Be Vaccinated for Smallpox

Austin.—"From a health standpoint children are not ready to enter school until they have been successfully vaccinated against smallpox," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, reminds parents who expect to enroll their youngsters in September. "Many school districts make vaccination an entrance requirement, and children who have never been vaccinated, and also those vaccinated in babyhood, should be taken to the physician for vaccination now, so that the scar will be well healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also strongly recommended for further protection. Parents are urged to have their children vaccinated with toxoid. Children who had this protection in infancy should receive a booster dose before entering school in order to maintain immunity at a high level. "These two types of protection against disease should be considered 'musts' for preschool children," Dr. Cox declared. "Any other immunizations that the physician may recommend will, of course, provide additional health security."

In addition to this protection against specific communicable diseases each child getting ready to enter school should also receive a complete physical examination by his private physician or at the nearest clinic. Any treatment or correction of defects advised by the doctor should be undertaken immediately in order that the child may enter school in the best possible physical condition.

There is a branch of the United States Employment office in this town, the editor of one of our exchanges notes. On the days which workers make applications for jobs there is only a small handful of men present, but on the days when unemployment compensation is being paid the room won't begin to hold the applicants.

We are all going to find out one of these days that prosperity does not consist of a wage of a dollar or two an hour. Prosperity will come when everyone gets to work. It is work performed that creates wealth, not the number of dollars received an hour.

The editor of one of our exchanges says that what the country needs is a return to the five B's, beef, bacon, bread, butter and bananas.

HISTORY

Birthday of Oliver Hazard Perry: It has been said that the message sent by Oliver Perry following the successful battle of Lake Erie, "We have met the enemy and they are ours," made him at once famous and held for him a place in history. The incident which prompted this brief but famous message occurred during the war with England in 1812. On this occasion he was sent to Lake Erie to superintend the construction of a fleet, the purpose of which was to drive the English from Lake Erie. By the end of 1813 he had built nine vessels. With the fleet he challenged the British and defeated them, announcing the fact to the waiting country with the message noted above. Perry was born in South Kensington, Rhode Island on August 23, 1785. He entered the Navy and participated in the war against Tripoli, following which he was commissioned as a lieutenant. After his victory in the battle of Lake Erie he received a gold medal and a vote of thanks by Congress and was promoted to captain. In 1819 he was sent to the West Indies with a small squadron to protect American commerce from pirates. Here he contracted yellow fever and died in 1819. He was buried at Port of Spain, Trinidad, but in 1825 was removed to Newport, Rhode Island where the state erected a monument over his grave. At the time of the Centennial Anniversary of the Battle of Lake Erie, a Memorial structure was unveiled in his honor at Put-in-Bay.

No one would have thought when we were bending every effort to send planes and supplies to Russia to help her save her country from Hitler's army that she would be so distrustful and so hard to get along with after the Hitler threat was disposed of.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

By its recent action Congress restricted the operation of OPA to the point where it became a choice of having inflation without the OPA or any form of federal control, and of having inflation with the blessing and the sanction of the law. In vetoing the bill the President chose the first of the two alternatives.

The action of Congress in the matter of its scuttling of the OPA came as a surprise, since ever since the matter of prolonging or doing away with the OPA came up, letters have poured into Congress by the basketful and the bundle and the bale asking for the extension of the OPA. The letters came from the housewives of the land, the little people of small means, and fixed incomes asking that price controls be maintained and that they not be subjected to the hardship of inflation and a rapidly shrinking dollar. Many of these people had gone through the period of inflation following the other war and knew the devastating affects of inflation when it comes to fixed incomes and the food dollar of the little people.

In spite of all these appeals Congress bowed its neck and proceeded to wreck the OPA. The thoroughly emasculated bill which was presented to the President to sign was a deception and a trap. It proposed in substance and effect to hold down the prices of all suppliers who didn't want the price of their commodities raised and to advance the prices of all of those who wanted prices on their products advanced. Under the bill the only group that could not get its prices raised was the unorganized group that could not bring to bear the requisite amount of pressure.

Immediately the bill was vetoed prices began to mount on all sides. Tenants were forced to pay rent increases up to 400 per cent or were evicted by the thousands. Food prices went soaring and practically all price lists were thrown into the waste basket and new ones written.

Merchants in all parts of the country published statements to the effect that they would not increase prices on merchandise, and would only increase prices when wholesalers and suppliers increased prices to them. It was a commendable spirit on the part of the retailers but unfortunately few retailers had much stock on hand and most of them are going to find when their shipments now outstanding come in they will show substantial price increases.

Buyers strikes have been organized by individuals and some of the big chain grocers, but the move lacks unity and organized effort, and will soon die out.

The enemies of the OPA claim that now that the OPA has been destroyed that the law of supply and demand will assert itself and production will be resumed and the prices will be lowered as the result of competition.

This may result but I am predicting that in the gap between the death of the OPA and the time when production and competition will begin to operate we are going to experience a most disturbing period of inflation. Prices on all sides are going to skyrocket and the little people and the people with a fixed income are going to see the purchasing power of their dollars dwindle before their eyes. There will be nothing they can do about it. The OPA which stood between them and upward price spirals, and which many of them unthinkingly condemned, is gone and the unrestrained blast of inflation are going to sweep down upon them in all their unchecked fury.

Surveys show that 53 out of every 100 prospective auto buyers plan to wait until 1947 or later to buy. They think prices will be cheaper and that by that time the "bugs" will be worked out of the new models.

World Not Going Down Hill

Some people get disheartened about the state of the world because of the two terrible wars that have occurred in recent years. Many fear that a new and more terrible war may eventually break out. But there are bright sides to the world picture. At least there seems a desire in all lands to avoid war, and a realization that no country profits by such conflict.

There is great hope in the steady development of humanitarian effort. The world's people are sympathetic, and they are anxious to relieve suffering. They are willing to do a great deal to help people over their difficulties, and they are keenly interested in the training and correct development of youth.

The wonderful work accomplished by the Red Cross, the superb system it has created for the relief of the sufferers from war, disaster, and many troubles, the great amounts of money which people contribute to this noble cause, are an indication that the human family is more closely bound together than ever before.

The organizations formed to give boys and girls and young people a wholesome outlet for their active natures, and to influence them by high ideals, are a splendid demonstration of modern sentiment. The results obtained by these societies in the development of fine character are most admirable. If all youngsters could become active members of such organizations, the so-called problems of youth would come near being solved.

So it is with the noble work of hospitals which accomplish such grand results in the cure of disease, and welfare organizations which help people solve their economic and various problems. One could go through a long list of such splendid efforts, and point out all the good will and sympathy and enthusiasm that gives them financial support and personal interest and effort. A world in which such noble efforts are accomplishing such grand results is not slipping down hill.

Purposeful Youths

It is remarked concerning G. I.'s who have returned to schools and colleges, that they are as a rule very purposeful and disposed to make the best of their educational opportunity. Their war experience has helped them to take a serious view of life, and their return to educational institutions is a sign that they fully realize the value of education and want to make the most of these opportunities.

What can be done to instill a more purposeful spirit into the minds of some young people who do not concentrate so well on their studies? Some old folks who criticize such ones might realize that if they were young again and were confronted with the pleasures and enjoyments of modern life, they might show a similar lack of concentration.

The world today is a fascinating place for boys and girls. The pleasures offered are one reason why some do not concentrate as they should on their education. There is something tremendously fascinating about the sports in which they engage. Many are thrilled by the idea of acquiring skill at these stunts, and winning the wild applause of the crowd and the admiration of the public.

Then there are the fascinations of the movies and shows and many pastimes. The young people get interested in the opposite sex, and there is the joy of dancing and the pleasures they have with their automobiles. Somehow the mind of youth has to learn not to devote its principal attention to these delights, but to concentrate on preparation for life. Young people no doubt are more serious than they were before the war. Recent experiences have made them more purposeful. Most of them realize the need for making the best of education, and get a good training for the work they have to do in the world.

Q. May a veteran pay off a guaranteed loan before it becomes due?

A. Yes, the regulations give the veteran that right.

Q. Can a guaranty be obtained if the proceeds are to be used by a minor or a person under legal disability?

A. This can be done only if the loan and liens are valid under the state law governing the transaction. Many states have enacted statutes removing disability of veterans and for the wives of veterans who are minors to enable them to make such loans.

Q. May widows or children of deceased veterans obtain guaranty of loan?

A. No. The privilege is limited to veterans. A guaranty on a loan may continue, however, after the veteran's death.

Q. If a loan is for farming purposes, must the veteran live on the farm?

Q. Is there any limit on the size of the loan?

A. No. The limit is on the amount which may be guaranteed or insured.

Q. May funds from a guaranteed loan be used to pay operating expenses on a farm?

A. Yes.

Q. Must a veteran put any of his own money into a business, a home, or a farm in order to get the guaranty?

A. No. This is not a requirement for guaranty or insurance. It is a question which is settled with the lender. The only bearing it has on the guaranty or insurance of a loan is that in the case of a farm or a business it may affect the likelihood of the veteran's success in the venture.

Final USO Drive to Be Put Over in Texas This Fall

In typical style Texans are accepting their responsibility to put the state over the top in the next and final USO drive, Governor Coke R. Stevenson, general chairman, said this week.

Texas' share of the $19,000,000 quota is $800,000. Stevenson added, "We are particularly pleased with the manner in which Texans are accepting the responsibility of leadership in the counties throughout the state. These leaders are providing the backbone of the organization necessary to make this drive a success."

Stevenson pointed out that there are still approximately 125,000 Texans in the service and we certainly cannot overlook our responsibility to them. He said, "We cannot overlook our responsibility to these men who are helping in the peace. Moral problems are greater now than ever before and I feel that we owe as much to those in uniform now, as those who served during the combat phase of this war."

Those who have accepted leadership in the drive are Carl L. Phinney, Dallas attorney and former staff officer of Texas' famous 36th Division, as Campaign Chairman; Robert L. Thornton Jr., Vice President of the Mercantile National Bank, as State Treasurer; and J. O. Newberry, formerly Director of the War Finance Committee of Texas, as State Director.

Colonel Carl L. Phinney said, upon accepting his appointment as Campaign Chairman, "I have seen what the USO contributed over here and over there and now I am more than glad to serve in this capacity and help those who are still in uniform." He added, "The continuation of USO through the year 1947 comes about through urgent requests from both the Secretaries of War and Navy and the head of the Veterans' Administration." The program for this final year of operation will be to serve veterans in hospitals, men on occupation duty overseas, and those in training, or in transit, here at home. In keeping with the National USO policy of terminating its services where the need no longer exists, the number in operation has already been reduced from 85 to 26. At the same time, however, USO is expanding its operations overseas. Since VJ day eleven clubs have been opened in the Philippines; three in China; and seven or eight clubs have been opened in Japan to date.

R. L. Thornton Jr. said, "USO furnished us the only entertainment we had on Iwo Jima and Saipan and it still furnishes the only entertainment in many remote places where wholesome entertainment is greatly needed."

JESUS AND THE SABBATH

Lesson Text.—Exodus 20:8; Mark 2:23-28; Matthew 12:9-13. Memory Selection.—This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.—Psalm 118:24.

'The Sabbath was made for man,' and was ordained of God for the good of man's body and soul. It was intended to be a day of glad fellowship with the Lord.

God in his infinite wisdom saw that without rest man would soon destroy himself, and he made provision for one day in seven when labor should cease and man should be free for that recreation of soul and body which should fit him for the labor of the week.

God gave his people a holy day to balance up their days of labor and to bring blessing to their souls. On that day he decreed that they should come apart from their labors, turn from secular interests and turn their hearts and minds to the unseen and the eternal.

Man would become so engrossed in the things of this world that he would soon forget; therefore, God commands him to stop and worship. That should be sufficient to cause his people to 'remember' the day 'to keep it holy.'

Notice that the day of rest was to be not only for the family, but also for servants and for visitors. The employer who unnecessarily operates his factory or office on Sunday violates this commandment.

Not also that the man who is to rest on the seventh day is supposed to work on the six days. Some neglect to do both.

This matter of keeping the Lord's day holy is one which has tremendous implications in the lives of our children. Many men and women who have had built into their own characters the stalwart virtues nurtured by family attendance at divine worship have not only forgotten their own continuing need, but are destroying the interest of their children in church attendance.

It is serious enough to go astray in one's own life, but to lead one's children astray is an appalling responsibility. Let's keep the Lord's day as a holy day.

H. A. Day of Helpfulness (Mark 2:23-28).

The formalists of Christ's day, the Pharisees, had overlooked the heart of God's law and the holy living which it was intended to produce, and had bound up even the observance of the sabbath (which was intended to be a day of rest and gladness) in such a mass of technical 'thou shalt not's' that it was a day of fear.

The accusations against the disciples because they had taken and eaten grain was not on the ground that they had stolen, for the law (Deut. 23:25) guaranteed that right to the one who passed through his neighbor's field. The Pharisees contended, however, that the disciples had worked on the Sabbath in picking and hauling the grain.

God's laws are helpful laws, and it is only when men pervert them, or add to them their own traditions and interpretations, that they become burdensome to anyone who is God-fearing and obedient.

III. A Day of Healing (Matt.

12:9-13). Jesus made it clear that healing of the body (yes, and of the soul) was most appropriate on the Sabbath day; in fact, that is the very day for it.

The healing of the man with the withered arm revealed that the Pharisees' professed concern for the Sabbath was a real hatred for Christ. It is an appalling thing that in the house of worship on the very Sabbath day, these men, outwardly so religious, were plotting against our Lord.

Jesus cuts across human hypocrisy and hatred to declare that the true keeping of the Sabbath is to do the work of God. No work of necessity (like plucking the grain) or of mercy (like healing the withered arm) is ever out of place on the day of rest.

A word of caution is needed, for some have sought to interpret this Scripture as providing biblical ground for doing all sorts of things on their day of rest. That day is for man's good, not for his destruction. His greatest good is served by rest, worship, spiritual development, Christian fellowship, and the doing of deeds of necessity and mercy.

The desecration of the Lord's day in our time is a serious matter. Let us not contribute to it.

Hats Off to this Fellow...

HE fed us, our soldiers, our allies, and a lot of other people while we won a war. Now he's asked to keep the world from starving.

He's the American farmer. He deserves the thanks and appreciation of everybody. He deserves it more than most folks realize because he increased his production by 30 per cent in five years without enough new tools to replace the labor he lost.

But, American farmers are disappointed—and they have a right to be. They expected that the end of the war would bring them an opportunity to replace their patched, repaired, weary and over-worked farm implements.

Of all of our shortages, that in farm tools and implements is the most serious. Strikes have caused the shortages in farm implements—strikes in steel, strikes in coal, and strikes in the farm implement industry itself.

In the steel industry alone, the production of steel in the ten months following VJ day was 19 million tons short of expectations, enough to supply farm needs for at least five years. Most of the decline was due to strikes.

That is why the steel industry has not been able to catch up with the demand for new roofing, wire, fencing, tools and all the things of steel needed on the farm.

That is why the farmer is being penalized through no fault of his own. This nation cannot move ahead under the threat of ever-recurring labor strife.

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. Farmers can help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

Crowell Radio Team Defeats Fire Dept. Nine, 10 to 3

On Thursday night, July 18, Crowell Radio Service resumed their winning ways, outclassing Crowell Fire Department, 10 to 3. Marcus Mills turned in one of the best pitching performances of the season as he pitched shutout ball for six and two-third innings. With two men out in the last inning the firemen bunched four hits—one of the fluke variety—to score three runs. Pitcher Bill Hardin of the fire department allowed only six hits but was given little support by his team mates.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Harold L. Lundquist, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

What Were the Righteous Doing?

"When the foundations were being destroyed, what were the righteous doing?" (Ps. 11:3). This is a new version of this significant verse, and the inference is that God's people have not been aware of the process of foundation-destroying that has been going on before their very eyes.

We do not even raise our voices in protest when the forces of evil blast away at the age-old foundation stones of what we have liked to call our Christian democracy.

Others are busily occupied in building up for themselves a reputation that will enhance their own prestige.

Some are diligently laboring for their own future "economic security" to assure themselves of comfort and luxuries for the dim and uncertain future.

Comparatively few Christians seem to be deeply concerned about the progress of evil in our nation or community.

Thank God for the few who really function as "the salt of the earth" and "the light of the world." Thank God for those who not only talk the language of Zion but who are real "followers of the Lamb whithersoever he goeth."

Thank God for those souls who have the courage to lift their voices in protest against the evils of our day and who are willing, at personal sacrifice to themselves, to wage intensive warfare against the prince of the power of the air and his cohorts.

The Wonder of the Universe: I have heard it said by some that the delving of man into the world of science, the probing of keen minds into the why and the wherefore of things tended to make men materially minded rather than spiritually minded.

During 1941 Americans drank an average of 200 bottles of soft drinks per capita.

Home Town Thoughts

When a business organization of the Chamber of Commerce type is formed in a town, its activities and achievements attract people who have money to spend, and so that town grows in prosperity.

Towns are not built up by the "lone hand" idea of everyone working just for his own interest alone. To accomplish town development, many people need to get the habit of working for the good of the community.

It pays for a concern to "tell the world" by advertising what it has to sell. The world is greatly interested in this information, and it comes to see these bargains and buys them.

Miss McMillan Weds Mike Harrington in Garden Ceremony

The garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McMillan, in Dallas, was the scene Saturday evening for the wedding of their niece, Miss Mary Katherine McMillan and Mike Thomas Harrington. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. McMillan of Tyler, formerly of Crowell, and is well-known here. Mr. Harrington is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harrington of Plano. Dr. S. M. Bennett, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Arlington, read the double ring vows and a harpist rendered the nuptial music.

The bride entered the garden with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of Alconon lace and net, designed with a sweetheart neckline, basque bodice with a fitted peplum and long sleeves which came to a point over the hands. Her very full skirt, edged with lace, swept into a cathedral train and the finger-tip veil of bridal illusion was caught to a heart-shaped tiara of shirred illusion edged with orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white orchids and calla lilies.

Miss Lynette Adams of Lockhart attended the bride as maid of honor and Miss Beverly Frankback of Houston was bridesmaid. Miss Patricia McMillan, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Bennett Harrington, as best man, Johnny Mac Harrington of McKinney, another brother, Edwin May and George Taylor of Austin, James Batchelor of Plano and Thomas Hughston of Dallas were ushers. Kathleen Grady and Betty Baird were flower girls.

Receiving the guests at a reception which followed the marriage were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. McMillan and Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, parents of the couple; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McMillan and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Blewett of McKinney, uncle and aunt of the groom.

After a two-weeks' honeymoon spent on a dude ranch in New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington will make their home in Austin.

Veterans Advised to Act Slowly in Buying Homes

The Veterans Administration has advised ex-servicemen to act slowly and cautiously in buying homes on the present highly competitive market under the G. I. Bill.

W. D. Baker, chief of the loan guarantee division of the VA Regional office in Dallas, said reports are constantly coming to the attention of the VA which would indicate some veterans are entering into private deals with property vendors.

"Certain veterans, desperately in need of housing, often are willing to pay in cash to the seller the difference between the VA appraisal value and the actual sales price," Mr. Baker said. "This practice," he observed, "was not contemplated in the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944. Regulations specifically prohibit the loan guarantee division from guaranteeing or insuring a loan for property costing more than the reasonable value determined by proper appraisal. This practice defeats the intent of the act."

Another caution to veterans to make certain they are adequately protected when deposits for the purchase of real estate under the G. I. Bill, is official advised. There are instances when these deposits, the VA found, are returned to the serviceman only after much difficulty and delay when the VA for a VA guaranteed loan has been turned down.

As a protection in such cases, veterans should make certain the contract contains a clause providing that the purchase is contingent on their getting the Veterans Administration guarantee.

The loan guarantee office of the VA itself lends no money is the stop-gap between the veteran-purchaser and the seller functions to the end that the serviceman is getting a fair price for his money.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue deals with some 500,000 returns each year.
