AGRICULTURE in County

(Joe E. Burkett, County Agent)

JOIN SCRAP METAL DRIVE

Steel furnaces in the United States are in bad need of scrap metal. If there is any scrap iron or steel on your farms, the United States Department of Agriculture urges you to take it immediately to a local scrap buyer or farm machinery dealer.

Recent reports from leading steel centers show less than a two-weeks' supply of scrap metal on hand and production may drop as much as 30 per cent unless more scrap becomes available. A lot of steel is required to make tractors, combines, cultivators and plows. Any scrap from farms will help increase the production of farm machinery.

The type metal that the steel industry wants is heavy melting scrap, such as castings and other heavy pieces that are often found on farms. Since there is no organized plan for collecting scrap on farms, it must be taken to local dealers. The Civilian Production Administration has requested farm machinery dealers to accept the scrap and route it properly.

Before making a regular trip to town, look over the farm and see if you have any scrap that is no longer useful. If so, throw it in the car or on the back of the truck and bring it to town. Metal collected in this way will keep the steel industry turning out material needed for manufacture of farm machinery.

Impaired Eyesight in Children Should Not Be Neglected

Austin.—Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said this week, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyecache, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

"The eyes of any person, whether young, middle-aged, or older represent one of the most priceless of bodily possessions," the State Health Officer asserted. "To take care of them promptly and properly is a responsibility which never should be sidestepped."

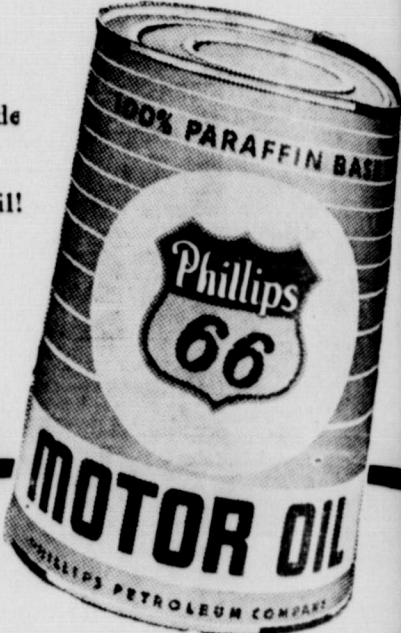

A total of 30 billion board feet of lumber is used in the United States each year. This amount of lumber would build a board walk 30 feet wide, one inch thick reaching to the moon.

FARMHOUSE FLOOR PLANS PUBLISHED

Farm families planning to build new homes can now get ideas for floor plans from the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

Extension Publication B-145, entitled "Floor Plans of Farmhouses" has been released by the Extension Service and can be obtained at local county agent's office, or, by writing to the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, College Station, Texas.

The publication contains 75 different floor plans for farm dwellings of two to eight rooms, both one and two story houses. Many plans are shown which accommodate families who plan to build small houses and add other rooms in the future.

Prints showing more details on any one of the plans in the publication may be secured either through the local county home demonstration agent or county agricultural agent, or may be requested directly from the Extension Service at College Station.

Texas Farm Bureau Supporting Good Roads Amendment

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation this week announced adoption of a resolution supporting the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment to be voted upon in the November 5th election.

"Our organization is in full accord with the amendment," J. Walter Hammond, president, declared. "Farm-to-market roads are uppermost in the minds of rural people and the Good Roads Amendment is our assurance of obtaining greatly needed improvements."

Continuing, Hammond said, "We are in dire need of better facilities for all weather roads which will benefit rural mail and school bus routes as well."

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation is one of thirty state organizations which have already pledged ardent support of the Good Roads Amendment. The amendment, last of three to appear on the November 5 ballot, assures the availability of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees for road purposes, with the exception that one of every four cents paid in gas taxes will continue to be allocated to the Available Free School Fund.

The population of the United States increased 8,000,000 between April 1, 1940 and July 1, 1945, according to estimates of the Bureau of Census.

BLIGHT DAMAGING OATS

A fungus disease of oats known as Helminthosporium blight has been reported as causing considerable damage to several varieties of oats in Texas fields.

The disease has particularly hurt types of oats developed by cross breeding with the Victoria variety, such as Ranzer, Rustler and Fultex, reports E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. The blight does its damage by weakening the oat stems, especially near the joints, affecting the plants very much like stem rust.

"As a precaution to keep this disease under control," Miller continues, "crop rotation should be practiced and all oat seed treated with one-half ounce of New Improved Ceresan per bushel before planting. A good method is to treat the seed in an oil drum or barrel that has a tight fitting lid and arranged so that it can be revolved on an axis.

The agronomist also recommends the same seed treatment to control smut of oats, and emphasizes the importance of treating other winter grain crops, including wheat and barley to prevent smut, seed rots and seedling blights. Seed treatment should be considered good crop insurance, Miller says, because it protects the plants against seed borne diseases and often makes possible better germination.

"Partners in Time," Loves and Early Days of Lum 'n' Abner

Lum and Abner's younger days when they began their careers in Pine Ridge, Arkansas, are revealed in the famous radio comedians' latest screen offering, "Partners in Time." The picture is as full of homespun sentiment as it is of typical Lum and Abner humor.

Although the opening scenes of the film take place in the present, the story quickly goes into past tense when Lum and Abner, seeking proof of their title to the Jot-Em-Down Store exhume data of their early days in the Ozark village.

Without their familiar whiskers and squeaky voices, the two favorites are seen for the first time on the screen as they really are, between alternating to their elderly characterizations.

Lum (Chester Lauck) and Abner (Norris Goff) are revealed as having been each in love with the same village belle. Which one is to win her, provides the suspense.

The featured cast includes John James and Teala Loring in the romantic leads of a young couple who go to Lum and Abner for advice. Also seen are Dick Elliott, Dan Duncan, Pamela Blake and Grady Sutton. Miss Blake plays the early love interest of Lum and Abner.

"Partners in Time" is a Jack Wm. Votion production for RKO Radio release, directed by William Nigh. At the Rialto Theatre, Tuesday, October 22, only.

In normal years the United States consumes 30 billion board feet of lumber a year. One half of this goes into buildings and homes and the other half is used for manufactured articles, boxes, furniture, matches, mill work and toys.

Persons below the age of 16 are not permitted to fly alone under Federal regulations though children as young as eight years have learned to fly planes.

Armistice Day—November 11: Armistice Day marks the time when the hostilities in the first world war ceased. It has been observed each year since its institution as a memorial day honoring those who gave their lives in the first world war and those who gave their services in the same cause.

News print in the past few years has advanced 122 per cent. That means that the price of the white paper on which this paper is printed costs 22 per cent more than twice as much as it did a few years back.

A few years back and the runs in this country were confined to the stores on the banks. Usually one of them cleaned up the bank and forced it to close. In their place have come the runs on the grocery stores and the meat counters and the hosiery counters.

While we have done a lot of talking on the prevention of inflation, inflation has crept upon us. It is here in full force. If you don't believe it check prices with the normal prices of a few years back.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

I was talking to the editor of our local paper the other day. He had a lot on his mind about the OPA and its program and especially that part of it which had to do with the control of prices on printing equipment.

I gave his version in the following paragraphs: Two years ago I ordered a piece of printing equipment. It was priced at that time to me at $165. There was a provision, however, that in the event shipment should be delayed that the price to me would be the price at the time of shipment.

I have been reading in my daily and various other publications how American industry has been hampered and hamstrung by the OPA. I have been led to believe through these things I have read that industry lay torn and bleeding and broken upon the rocks while the OPA, heedless of its cries and moans for pity and mercy, persisted with ruthless malevolence and blind heedlessness to apply screws, in the effort to extract the last drop of warm blood from the quivering mass of torn and bruised flesh.

So persistent has been this representation that my heart bled for industry. I was even worried over the dire possibilities of the results of such malicious persecution. In my more spiritual moments I have even thought of organizing a crusade of selfless souls to march upon Washington and before the gates of the ivory palaces there plead the cause of persecuted and dying industry in the hope that it might be granted relief.

I have had a complete change of heart. I cannot help but think how narrowly I escaped making myself ridiculous in the impetuosity of my concern. I do not think that industry has been the one that suffered. It is I and thousands of others like me who have been pleading its cause while it maneuvered into a favorable position on the screws.

I hope that my resentment does not carry me past the point of sober thinking but I have come to the conclusion that the concern which has exacted a 52 per cent bounty from me has had the warehouse full of machines for the past two years and has been holding them until the prices got right for the kill. The OPA, badgered to total blindness, has not had the time and the manpower to search the warehouses and the hiding places of the land. They have listened to the sob choked pleadings of industry and with eyes blinded by tears of compassion and pity have granted increases that are going to make a new crop of millionaires.

I find myself wondering if all this complaint we have been hearing from the ranks of industry and its mistreatment by the OPA has as little to justify it as the case of the manufacturer of this piece of printing equipment. I think some advance in price of all manufactured items is justified. The general inflation through which we are now going would make it necessary, but I also feel that nothing that has happened justifies a 52 per cent increase.

The result is that in the future when I hear that the OPA is hindering conversion by holding down prices to the point where industry cannot profitably operate I will get out my letter from the printing equipment concern and read it again—and know better.

Effect of Verdict on Nazis

What will be the effect of the verdict of the International Military Tribunal, in condemning a group of the most powerful Nazis? It may not have occurred to these condemned leaders, when they backed up and supported the atrocious warmaking regime that ruled Germany during the war.

Many leaders in Europe's past history have started wars of conquest and probably most of them escaped any personal punishment, unless they lost their lives in battle or revolutions.

Now a warning is issued to all who contemplate starting aggressive wars in future, that their action will not be tolerated, and that they may suffer themselves if their war proves a losing one. That knowledge should have a very healthful effect on future leaders who contemplate such acts of aggression.

Home Town Thoughts

People often say that they enjoy living in what they call a nice neighborhood. It makes neighborhoods still nicer if people keep improving and beautifying their home places.

Wonderful elements of happiness can be found in one's own home town, through cultivating friendships and interesting activities.

When a concern advertises, it gives the public information that people want, and a great many are induced in consequence to visit the store that gives them this information.

War Department Has Announced Plan for Universal Military Training for Army If It Is Approved by Congress

Washington, D. C., October 14.—The War Department has announced a plan for Universal Military Training, which will serve as the bases for further and more detailed planning relative to this subject by the War Department, General and Special Staffs, and the Army as a whole, so as to be prepared to put Universal Military Training into effect, should it be approved by the Congress.

The purpose of the program is to promote the national defense of the country by providing a large reservoir of men trained as individual specialists and as members of teams in order that: a. Mobilization and training of the nation's wartime Army can be completed rapidly in an emergency.

30 YEARS AGO IN THE NEWS

News items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of the Foard County News and Crowell Index of Friday, Oct. 29, 1916, Martin & Kinsey, publishers:

There was a family reunion of the Patton family at the home of Grandma Patton in the Vivian community last week and a part of this week, all the sons of Grandma Patton being present. Her daughter, Mrs. Will Terrell, of Erick, Okla., did not get here on account of the muddy roads.

Col. Frank Witherspoon, probably the first white man to ever set foot upon Foard County soil, was here this week visiting his brother, J. G. Witherspoon, and meeting old friends among shippers and stockmen. Mr. Witherspoon came to this country in 1879 and had a camp over on Good Creek. He was connected with the old U. L. A. Ranch for a number of years.

Mrs. Pet Billings of Quanah is here this week visiting relatives and friends.

Diamond ring and gold watch for sale or trade for young mules, mares or cattle, good notes or cash. See me at once.—C. P. Sandifer.

Miss Eva Hallmark has returned from a visit of several weeks in Colorado.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Arthur Bell and Miss Ellie Graham which will take place at the Baptist Church in this city on Oct. 31st.

Mrs. C. W. Andrews has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Ferguson Bros. drug store.

Now that the light plant is again in good condition, it is my aim to put the light business on a business basis, and will ask all customers to install a meter soon as possible, as there will be no more flat-rate service. With our new engine, we can give the people a 24-hour service, and we would be glad to do so, if the patronage will only justify.—C.P. Sandifer.

While George Graham was digging a well in this city last week, he found under three feet of shale, and at a total depth of 16 feet, a live snake. How it ever got that distance under ground and managed to live for an indefinite period without food, water or air, is a mystery.

be maintained at the highest level during peace due to prior intensive training of enlistees. Young men will enter the Universal Military Training Corps for training only. They will not be available for combat or other operational requirements which may arise during peace and upon completion of training except for those who voluntarily enlist in one of the reserve components for training and service; they will revert to full civilian status.

Trainees will not be subject to the Articles of War, but will be governed by a specially drawn Code of Conduct, adapted to their youth and circumstances administered by a specially provided trainee tribunals for misdemeanors and by civil courts for more serious offenses. The Army will be responsible for determination and execution of all policies affecting their military training under the Army as well as for development and maintenance of the proper standards of military conduct and discipline.

A civilian advisory board appointed by the President will be established, which will be charged with furnishing advice and counsel to the President on the formulation of policies pertaining to Code of Conduct, recreation, moral and spiritual welfare, and certain non-military phases pertaining to trainees while undergoing Universal Military Training.

Every male citizen who has attained his 17th birthday and has not attained his 20th birthday, will be required to register on the date fixed for the first registration. Thereafter, each male citizen will register on attaining his 17th birthday. All registrants will enter training upon reaching the age of 18 years or upon graduation from secondary school, whichever occurs later, but will be subject to induction for training prior to attaining their 20th birthday.

It is estimated that approximately 726,000 mentally and physically fit trainees would be available for training by the Army annually under the Universal Military Training Program. The balance of the mentally and physically fit young men would be trained by the other services.

There will be no exemptions from training, except for personnel who are unfit for military service and those men who are serving or have served honorably in the Armed Forces for an adequate period of time.

Trainees will be inducted in approximately equal increments on quarterly induction dates.

The period of training shall be for one year, divided into two equal parts. The first six months will be devoted to such phases of training as may be required by regulations to be given to all trainees in the Ground and Air components of the Program. The second six months, subject to quota limitations and standards of qualification will be devoted to the completion of one year's continuous training in the Program or to one of the following alternative programs:

- a. Enlistment in any of the Regular Services.
b. Enlistment in the National Guard.
c. Enlistment in the Enlisted Reserve Corps and assignment to a fully organized unit.
d. Entrance into one of the service academies.
e. Enlistment in the Enlisted Reserve Corps and entrance into a college course approved by the War Department with such Government aid as may hereafter be provided including ROTC training, accompanied by an agreement on the part of the Trainee to accept a reserve commission (if offered) at the completion of the course and to perform active duty as a reserve officer for a

SUNNY SQUIBLET

The world is told it should be more restful. Some parents will say their boys seem pretty restless while they are doing work around the home place.

People should not fall in love so violently, that they fall down on their jobs.

It used to be a great stunt to cut the Gordian knot, but the knot that many people want to cut now is the matrimonial one.

One sort of food which many people seem unable to digest, is the food for thought that is constantly offered them.

The hearts of some young men go pit-a-pat when they meet the girl they are in love with. The heart should not pit so fast that they can't think of the pat thing to say.

Many people are said to come out in life about as they do on a fishing expedition, in that the big ones get away. The small ones are usually very good eating.

Peace of mind is a grand objective, but all that some people get is a piece of mind of their wives or husbands.

The Bible tells us to travel on the straight and narrow way, but it does not suggest such a high rate of speed on it that there is danger of collision if you meet someone going in the opposite direction.

Also the Bible says that broad is the way that leads to destruction, and the traffic is so thick there that many get smashed up before reaching their destination.

Slot machines are outlawed in all states except Nevada and Idaho. Despite this ban there are 170,000 slot machines in daily operation in the United States. Kenny Infantile Paralysis Campaign Set Nov. 18-Dec. 7

Dallas.—Plans for the 1946 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis campaign, which will run from November 18 to December 7, are proceeding rapidly, according to George C. Francisco Jr., Houston, state chairman. The Texas quota is $150,000.

The state campaign is being conducted by counties, with a separate quota for each county. Chairmen are now being selected for the individual county campaigns.

Funds from this campaign will be used to send nurses to Minneapolis to train as Kenny technicians, and to eventually build a Kenny clinic in Texas, so that Texas victims will have access to the best known treatment of this dread disease.

Anyone wishing to help in this campaign is asked to contact the Texas Headquarters, Driskill Hotel, Austin, Texas.

Army Recruiter To Be in Crowell

Sgt. James Hendrick of the Army Recruiting Station in Childress announced this week that a representative of the U. S. Army Recruiting Service will be in Crowell every Friday hereafter from 10 a. m. until about 3:30 p. m. to interview applicants for enlistment or re-enlistment in the Regular Army.

The GI Bill of Rights is still good, according to Sgt. Hendrick, and will continue for the duration of the emergency. Young men seeking higher learning in college, trade school, or on-the-job training can still get a limited amount of education under the GI Bill even though the October 5th deadline is gone.

The Recruiting Service is again authorized to accept Negro applicants between the ages of 17 and 34 if they are mentally and physically qualified for enlistment.

Sgt. Hendrick has found that many veterans in this area did not know that they could receive their old rank back even though they had been discharged more than 90 days. He says that they can be given grades up to and including T-5, depending on their grade at time of discharge, their MOS, and time spent in MOS. When applying for re-enlistment they should bring their WDAGO form 100.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education of Crowell High School is making it possible for every student who passes through the halls of CHS to have the most thorough education possible.

Each year new courses are introduced; the most capable teachers are selected. This year very interesting assemblies are presented to us by Southern Assemblies. Our sports program is full, and the atmosphere of the school is pleasant.

Through the endless efforts of the School Board, co-operating with the superintendent, we have an excellent school system for a town the size of Crowell.

We owe a debt of gratitude to that group of men who receive no compensation, but are willing to give their best for the education of the youth of America.

THE LIBRARY

Do you students appreciate the service rendered by Betty Brock, Elizabeth Jay, Verna Smith, Jolene Lanier, Edna Lee Dunn, Doris Jones, Glenna Self, Wanda Crisp, Betty Williams, Ronyne Self, Doris Cox, Martha Johnson, Betty Smith, Marlem Mason and Irene Pechacek? This is our able staff of librarians of CHS.

The library is kept neat and clean, and the books are kept in good condition by these girls. Let us back them by doing our part and abiding by library rules.

Believe me, this is no small service, and we should be appreciative of these girls, and the library sponsor, Mrs. Davis, who is a "swell" one. This training is a valuable experience for each girl.

Many thanks to these people who make our library possible.

BURSEY PREFERS TENNIS AND GRABLE

Charles Howard Bursery is a senior, fifteen years old, who resides at Thalia, Texas.

Bursery's favorite actors are Bing, the favorite of many girls, and Grable, the favorite of many boys. You can tell that Bursery is concerned with matrimony because his favorite song is "The Girl I Marry." We wonder when he sings this song if he is thinking of that pretty gal he writes those "shorten" page letters to during his spare time in his study halls.

He is handsome, girls! Some-one hurry and beat her time before it's too late. We suppose his letters may be getting rather mushy by this time, especially such long ones.

Bursery likes CHS and dislikes teasing. When he graduates, he plans to attend Hardin at Abilene and do a little tennis playing there because his favorite sport is tennis.

When I asked him what his favorite subject was he said, "health and safety." Then suddenly he said, "No, make that plane geometry, I like them both."

HELP YOURSELF WHILE HELPING OTHERS

Reach in your pocket, pull out a dime, and contribute it to the Birthday Calendar. Do it because you know it is a good habit to contribute to worthwhile projects of your school. This one is going to help buy a long needed Frigidaire for the Homemaking Department.

If we would realize the close relationship between the departments of our school, we would be more interested in helping each other. Remember that almost every year the H. M. girls entertain the football boys.

Help yourself and help others by putting your name on the birthday calendar.

VETERANS DRAWING DISABILITY PENSIONS OR COMPENSATION

The number of veterans receiving disability pensions or compensation practically doubled during the first year following the surrender of Japan, Veterans Administration officials reveal. In August of 1945 there were 1,103,000 on the disability compensation rolls. One year later, the Veterans Administration was paying disability claims to 2,073,000. This increase is shown graphically above.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF TEXAS WEEK

Governor Coke Stevenson of Texas has declared the week of Oct. 20 through Oct. 26 as our Future Homemakers of Texas Week! He has issued a proclamation so designating it, and our state president, Raye Virginia McCreary, was in Austin to be with him when he signed it.

We have prepared to celebrate it next week with a meeting Monday night at 7:30. All Home Economics members are urged to attend. We will have a lot of fun. Sunday we will visit a church for a Sunday night service.

It seems quite interesting that Governor Stevenson has set aside a week for us, and we will try to make it worthwhile.

WORK OR PLAY ON WEEK-ENDS

Bob Edwards, Junior: There is nothing much to do on a week-end. I get up early on Saturday morning and work at the store. Saturday afternoon I play baseball. Saturday night I go to the show. I go to Sunday School when I get up early enough on Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon I go to Thalia to play baseball.

Wayne Lindsay, Junior: During the week-end the days seem shorter than school days because on Saturdays I usually have to do some kind of work, such as plowing, pulling cotton, and sowing wheat. On Sundays I always try to go to church and if I don't go, I have a good excuse for not going. Therefore, usually I make good use of my week-ends.

Louis Pyle, Senior: My most enjoyable week-end would be to attend some kind of a ball game on Friday night. On Saturday I loaf around in our home town, and Saturday night attend a movie with my date and on Sunday I attend church in the morning and go horse-back riding in the afternoon. I think that would be my most typical week-end.

Doris Cox, Senior: Over the week-end I have more fun than I do the rest of the week. (No school). On Friday nights I go to the football game, at which I usually get hoarse from yelling. After the game the gang usually goes to town where we enjoy a good hot dog and argue about the football game (if we didn't win.) On Saturdays I sleep late and help mom clean house. Then I usually go to town at night, when I see some other kids. Sunday mornings it is Sunday School and church, if not to sleep. In the evenings I usually stay at home or go to the show. There is very little studying done.

Betty Williams, Junior: My ideal week-end would be to see a good ball game on Friday night. Then I "galavant" around town doing nothing in particular. Saturday morning I usually help clean house and all that kind of stuff. Naturally Saturday should be most fun. Just anything with a bunch of kids is O. K. A date with a "certain somebody" is what I'm dreaming of for next Saturday night. Sunday I always go to Sunday School and church. Personally I "lurve" week-ends.

WILDCATS CHALK UP SECOND CONFERENCE VICTORY

The Crowell Wildcats defeated the Valley View Warriors, Thursday night 33-0 win, in a conference tussle at Valley View.

The Wildcats scored a few minutes after receiving the opening kickoff and kept up this strong offense throughout the first half. Joy, Brock, Ballard, Laquey and Todd led the offense with some excellent blocking from Schlager, Campbell, Thomas, Patton, Wood, Bond, Tاملين and Yoeham.

The half ended with the Wildcats leading 26-0. After seven more points were added to this total early in the second half, Coach Louis Purvis used reserves throughout the remainder of the game.

The Wildcats have a very important game this week with the Seymour Panthers which will be played at Wildcat Stadium, Friday night.

Management and Labor Must Work Together for Safety

Industrial safety is a field in which management and labor recognize a common interest and work together for their mutual welfare, according to James Tanham, vice president of The Texas Company. Speaking before the National Safety Congress and Exposition in Chicago, he declared that management can make a great contribution by showing a personal interest in safety. "This country has been torn with industrial strife for well over a year," Mr. Tanham said. "The outlook for peace in this field is not promising. Some say that labor in this country is young, inexperienced, and has not achieved maturity. Others feel that we will not have labor peace until we have governmental regulations of unions. A third school of thought contends that no new laws are needed but that management and labor will gradually learn to get along together by discovering and developing a basis of mutual interest. The subject of safety offers one area of non-controversial, mutual interest between management and employees. I have often thought we would whittle away some of the causes of industrial strife if we could find more similar areas of mutual interest and approach them with the same consideration on both sides as we do in our safety discussions." Tanham recently served as advisor to the employer delegate to the International Labor Organization conference in Montreal. He is former chairman of the industry members of the National War Labor Board.

"If, as management, we believe that accident prevention is desired among our employees, we will implement that conviction," he said. Management, particularly higher management, must accomplish its objective through people. We owe it to these people to show our interest in them and their work. We should take time by personal contact and every available means to give them credit and encouragement to them who are actually doing the job. As a second responsibility we should provide a clear-cut organization and complete understanding of authority and duty but with or without organization nothing really worth while is ever accomplished without enthusiasm. I'll take enthusiasm with poor organization and gamble that it will out-produce good organization with enthusiasm missing."

My favorite radio program is one in which persons who are confronted with decisions that do with the happiness and well-being of their lives, come to a counsellor and present their problems and seek his advice. In many cases the remedy suggested and the counsellor is straightened out the thinking and send the applicant on his way rejoicing because the situation has been cleared and the complete facts. He covers up his own failings and only offender. The counsellor is wise enough to sense the truth and in all instances gives a fair and appraisal of a difficulty to a long start on the way to a solution. Admitting our faults and short comings is important sometimes than by so doing we place ourselves in the proper attitude to our own as well as another's.

Veterans News

Contracts with the Louisiana and Texas state medical societies to provide home-town medical care for veterans with service-connected disabilities are in the final stages of negotiation, the Veterans Administration revealed this week.

At the same time, VA, through its Central Office in Washington, D. C., is seeking contracts with state hospital associations in the Southwest on a standard schedule of hospital costs so that VA can utilize more private hospital facilities for veterans with service-connected ailments.

Signing of these contracts will enable eligible veterans to get good medical care in their own communities and in many instances will eliminate the necessity of making long trips to VA hospitals for treatment.

More than $7,000 worth of movie equipment especially designed for bed-ridden patients, has been donated to Veterans Administration hospitals in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi by the Texas Variety Club.

The organization, made up of Texans in the entertainment industry, raised the funds and purchased the equipment so that veterans confined to their beds by war injuries or sickness would be assured of entertainment at all times.

The Variety Club's gift included 22 light and portable projectors with prismatic lenses to throw movies on the ceiling or an overhead screen. Each projector is equipped with three headphone sets which enable selected patients to listen to the movie dialogue without disturbing others in the ward.

Institutions of higher education in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi are expecting a record enrollment of about 133,000 students this fall, according to preliminary reports reaching VA. Former service men and women are enrolling in tremendous numbers, these reports indicated.

VETERANS' QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. How can I arrange to have my National Service Life Insurance premiums deducted from the disability compensation checks I receive from Veterans Administration?

A. You can do this if you will go to any Veterans Administration office and fill out a form authorizing VA to make the deductions from your compensation payments.

Q. I have been turned down by a lending institution for a G. I. guaranteed loan to buy a business. Does this mean that I can't get a G. I. guaranteed loan to go into business?

A. No. If one lender turns you down, try another one. The fact that one lender is not interested does not indicate that your proposition is not sound.

Q. Before the G. I. Bill was amended, I used up my whole guarantee of $2,000 to buy a farm. Now that the maximum guarantee has been increased to $4,000, would I be entitled to an additional $2,000 loan-guarantee if I wish to purchase more land?

A. Yes. If you used part or all of your loan guarantee before the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill) was amended last winter, the amount of loan-guarantee credit used is deducted from the amount for which you are eligible under the amended bill, and the remainder is the amount of guaranteed credit which you may use in obtaining future loans.

Q. Can I change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of my National Service Life Insurance without letting the beneficiaries know anything about it?

A. Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his National Service Life Insurance at any time without their knowledge or consent by notifying Veterans Administration. For further information, the veteran should consult the nearest VA office.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:19b-22; 11:23, 26; Galatians 1:17-24.

MEMORY SELECTION—And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.—1:17-24.

All this was possible because Paul was called to a God-appointed responsibility without fear or question, simply trusting the Holy Spirit to take, transform, empower and use us for God's glory.

God never calls a man without enabling him for his task. The indispensable enabling is that of the Holy Spirit's power. Like David, we may enter upon a God-appointed responsibility without fear or question, simply trusting the Holy Spirit to take, transform, empower and use us for God's glory.

a beaten fire they carried the flame of Christianity far and wide. Thus the gospel came to Antioch, the third greatest city in the world of that day. A revival broke out and Barnabas was sent from Jerusalem to be of help.

Good and spiritual man that he was (Acts 19:23, 24). Barnabas did nothing to hinder this work of God, but admonished the people to "cleave unto the Lord;" that is, to follow him closely. Would that all spiritual advisers had such a spirit and such sound judgment.

He was also wise in sensing his need of help. So he went after Paul, the very man to teach these young Christians and to lead them out into a radiant and abundant life for the Lord. Here it was that the beautiful name of "Christian" was first used.

All this was possible because Paul was called to a God-appointed responsibility without fear or question, simply trusting the Holy Spirit to take, transform, empower and use us for God's glory.

for he had David ready. Samuel the prophet was still grieving over Saul's failure. When men, even of our families or circle of friends, persist in rebellion against God, we must not let our grief hold us back, but move on with the man of God's choice.

David might well have wanted to be at the place of sacrifice and the feast that day, but someone had to care for the sheep. A man like that, hard at his work, is well worth seeking when something important needs to be done.

The Holy Spirit, ever active in all periods of Bible history, became the abiding presence in the believer's heart after Pentecost, but during the Old Testament period he came in chosen individuals for a particular work. As David was anointed king, the Spirit came upon him for that service. In spite of his failings, David was throughout his reign a man who wanted God's will and His glory.

C. H. S. "B" Team Defeats Munday "B" Squad, 13-12

The Wildkittens, Crowell's "B" squad football team, and the Munday "B" squad like to have duplicated their first game when these two teams met on the Crowell gridiron Monday afternoon. The Crowell boys won by the score of 13 to 12. These teams tied 14 to 14 at Munday last week.

The Wildkittens scored first on a line plunge from Dalton Biggerstaff, quarterback. The touch-down was set up by a blocked punt on the 15-yard line by Ray Black, tackle, for the little Cats. Biggerstaff passed to R. L. Ballard, right halfback, for the extra point. This eventually turned out to be the deciding score of the game.

Munday scored on a pass from Jimmy Massey, quarterback for the Moguls, to Gene Brown, left halfback. The extra point was no good and the halftime score was 7 to 6.

Ray Black intercepted a Mogul pass in the third period to give Crowell another chance to score, but the Kittens lost the ball on Munday's two-yard line. Neither team scored again until the last three minutes of the game.

Munday again worked the long pass combination from Massey to Brown for forty yards and a score. The extra point failed again to leave the score 12 to 7 for Munday. The Crowell boys came right back into the lead on the first play after the kickoff after Munday's last score. Biggerstaff heaved a forty yard pass to Ballard and the other twenty yards was picked up on a nice run by Ballard after taking the pass. The extra point was wide, but the Wildcats remained in the lead by a 13 to 12 score.

Certifying Officers to Be in Wichita Falls, Oct. 22-24

Wichita Falls (Special)—Howard Knightstep, veteran's interviewing officer from the Fort Worth regional office of War Assets Administration will be in Wichita Falls Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 22, 23 and 24, to assist veterans of this county in obtaining surplus property certification.

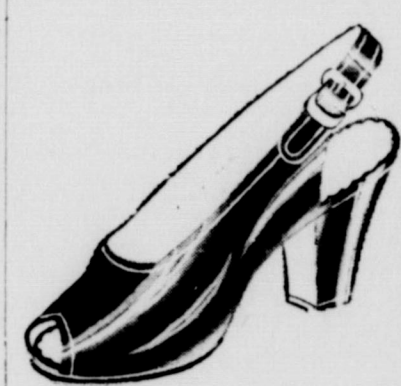

Headquarters will be in Room 407 Radio Building, with office hours from 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 each of the three days.

Ralston pointed out that many veterans who have not previously applied for certification may desire to share in the offering of considerable amounts of surplus property late in October and that by presenting their honorable discharge and making known their needs at this time, the necessary certificates can be promptly issued.

A huge "site sale" to open October 28 for veteran buying at Pantex Ordnance Plant near Amarillo will present a golden opportunity for veterans to acquire textiles, general hardware, building materials, hand tools, industrial belting, tractor parts and other surplus material offered exclusively to veterans from October 28 through November 1.

Furniture for the 2,700,000 homes scheduled under the National housing program would require the furniture industries entire output for two years and three months. Furthermore the six billion feet of timber necessary to produce the big order is not available or even in sight.
