HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Keep Canned Food on Hand.—Always make it a point to keep your larger supply with about a dozen cans of soups, meats, fruits. When an unexpected guest arrives for lunch you will then be able to serve a good meal.

Softening Paint Brushes.—When paint brushes have become hardened and stiff through disuse, put some vinegar in an old can, put the brushes in and boil for about ten minutes. The brushes will come out soft and pliable.

Ironing Unbleached Muslin.—When ironing new unbleached muslin, it irons easier and better if a bath towel is placed under the material.

But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear.—First Peter 3:15.

When we read of the manner in which Russia is acting in the matter of world peace and the rehabilitation of Europe, we can't help but remember of the solicitude and concern we had for Russia when the German army was marching into her borders. We, as a country, went all out for Russia. We kept a steady stream of planes and tanks and trucks and munitions and food flowing into Russia. Without it she could not have lasted six months against the German army. Russia, now that the danger is past, is thumbing her nose at us. Instead of helping the war torn countries upon their feet she is looting them of everything she can carry off and is even threatening a break with us because we are inclined to help these countries back on their feet. It appears a strange reward for our generosity. It causes us to wonder if in choosing those whom we wish to help we are not sometimes too impetuous and too sentimental. Our reward for our altruism is a belligerent Russia who gives every indication that she is going to be difficult to get along with. We, it appears, have traded at great cost the threat of Hitlerism for the threat of Communism.

Although every effort possible is being made for peace there is nevertheless an undercover back-of-the-scenes preparation for a possible war, going on in this country.

HISTORY

Constitution Day — September 17: The Constitution of the United States was signed by the delegates called to draft it, on September 17, 1787. The original document is still in existence. When the Constitution had been ratified by the required number of states it was taken to New York which was then the seat of the national government. Later when Philadelphia became the capital the Constitution was taken to that city, and when Congress named Washington as the permanent capital it was taken there. When the British captured Washington for a short time during the war of 1812 the Constitution was removed to Virginia. In 1921 President Harding ordered the original document removed from a vault in the State Department to the Congressional Library where it now reposes. The delegates to the convention which drafted the Constitution met in Independence Hall in Philadelphia. They deliberated in secret for four months over the draft for the Constitution which had previously been prepared and was presented to them for their approval. George Washington was president of the convention. The list of delegates included Benjamin Franklin, James Madison, James Wilson, Alexander Hamilton, Gouverneur Morris and other distinguished men of the day. The Constitution is generally regarded as the finest expression ever made of the determination of a free people to govern themselves and to protect their liberty. Considering that the declaration was made by a small group of people against a powerful England it was a most courageous declaration.

The biggest threat on the domestic peace horizon is the new labor law. Labor indicates that it will fight the law and will escape compliance whenever possible. The National Labor Board, which heretofore concerned itself with keeping employers in line by observing the law, will now be faced with the problem of keeping labor in line.

Five Red River Arsenal warehouses containing 200 lots of automotive parts and a variety of other surplus property will be open to the public next Monday and Tuesday, August 18 and 19, for a competitive bid sale. Prospective buyers will find bus transportation waiting for a tour of all inspection sites. Bids on the lots of automotive supplies, furniture, hardware, bar steel and brass as well as quantities of other materials will be opened at 1 p. m. Tuesday, August 19, and awards will continue to be announced until everything has been sold.

Further information regarding the veterans' sale of 480 automobiles at 17 Texas installations was announced this week by the WAA at Grand Prairie. All of the actual selling will take place at the Grand Prairie sales warehouse immediately following a drawing to be participated in by all veterans present at 1 p. m. Monday, August 25. Honorable discharge copies or other proof of World War II service will qualify the veterans as buyers. Veterans will continue to make their selection from the shiny sedans, station wagons and other vehicles by inspection daily through August 22, and the buying will continue until August 27, with certified veteran dealers scheduled to buy on August 28.

A farm-like expanse of everything from doll buggies to portable conveyers is greeting visitors to the air conditioned interior of the Grand Prairie War Assets Administration plant this week. The three million dollars worth of war surplus on display there for a giant bid sale August 21 and 22 covers an area of approximately 20 acres. Complete lists of the 5,000 items contained in the 1,000 lots will be posted on the lots so that prospective buyers will not have to sort through each of the displays. Inspection and acceptance of informal bids for the sale is continuing Monday through Friday and until 4 p. m. Tuesday, August 20.

There has always been a rather steady demand for army used and new clothing. Wool overcoats, coats and gloves in sizeable quantities will be offered through the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration until August 27, it has been announced. This clothing, which has been used, is stored at Camp Hood, at Killeen, and at Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot. The bidding is open to everyone and the clothing will be sold in lots.

A sealed bid sale of automotive truck parts has been announced by War Assets Administration and will be offered in a catalogue sale until 11 a. m., August 26, the Grand Prairie WAA office has announced. Among the automotive parts are main bearing shells, fuel pump links, suspension springs and top assemblies. The majority of the material, located at the Red River Arsenal, near Texarkana, is unused. A complete listing may be obtained from the Customer Service Center at Grand Prairie.

LET'S MAKE THIS DREAM COME TRUE

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

In my opinion even the most casual reader of the newspapers these days must be impressed with the need in this country for flood control, especially in the agricultural middle west.

The damage from floods this past spring was conservatively estimated to be in excess of $500,000,000. All of this represents a loss of property and wealth, by those in the flooded area, that is wiped out and gone as completely as though it were destroyed by fire or swallowed up in the ocean.

As is always the case, in estimating damage of this kind, but a part of the actual damage was figured. Such damage could not be accurately estimated.

The part about it that seems foolish is that the very people who have had their all wiped out by this year's floods will, as soon as the waters recede, begin to clean up their homes, and put things in the best shape possible and begin to get ready for next year's operations which in all probability will suffer the same fate.

For years the federal government and state governments have followed a program of flood control that has been and can never be anything else than a partial success. Most of the effort at flood control, until quite recently, has been confined to building levees and dredging channels of rivers. They have not prevented floods and never will.

Logically as long as people persist in building homes and towns and cities in the channel of old man river the only sensible control measure lies in the construction of dams that will hold back the flood waters and permit them to be discharged into the channels of the stream as the normal channels can handle them.

The obvious and only way that this can be done is by a series of flood dams that will hold back the flood and permit it to be fed into the streams gradually.

Anyone who considers the problem objectively and on its own basic merits will admit the wisdom of such a plan. While there have been objections to such a plan no one has ever contended that it would not be effective.

The complaint has been made that such a system of dams would result in many acres of rich soil being covered with water and thus taken out of production. This is true, it would, but at the same time other acres, producing crops, would not be flooded, and the crops growing on them would not be destroyed. As a result the sum total of crops would not be reduced but would remain the same or might even be increased. Not only this, the water would be conserved and the valley lands would escape much of the devastation caused by erosion. The complaint has been made by the power companies that such dams might be used as power projects for the generation of electricity.

This is true, they might be, though it is not likely with a strictly flood control dam, since the water, except where it could be used for irrigation, would not be held in the dam but would be released as soon as the danger of flood was past.

There are so many things to be said for the control of floods at their source that it is difficult to understand why we have not long ago given this method of flood control a trial.

"Dead Reckoning" Full of Crackling Action at Rialto

Millions of Humphrey Bogart fans are looking forward with keen relish to seeing Bogey and his newest screen light o' love, beautiful Elizabeth Scott. Teamed in John Cromwell's "Dead Reckoning," a Columbia production coming Aug. 27 and 28 to the Rialto Theatre, they're said to be an explosive combination of man and woman dynamite.

From advance Hollywood reports, the fans are assured of a typical Bogart film—and that means plenty of crashing action and reckless romance. The action is really rugged with Bogey called upon to take and administer terrific physical punishment. The love between Bogart and Miss Scott, as unpredictable as a sultry summer's day, will have the fans gasping.

Governor Endorses College Amendment

Austin.—Before leaving for Guatemala, Governor Beauford H. Jester cast an absentee ballot in the election on the College Building Plan constitutional amendment. The Governor voted "FOR" the amendment.

He said: "Adoption of this amendment will provide an orderly and proper way for meeting the pressing demands upon our higher educational institutions for increased facilities for veterans and other students. The plan has been carefully worked out, approved by all higher educational institutions, adopted by a two-thirds vote in both houses of the Texas Legislature, and is generally approved by all students of the problem. It can be carried out with no increase in taxes. In my opinion, every voter in Texas should favor the Amendment."

Veterans News

Automatic increases will be paid effective Sept. 1 in the minimum allowances received by the more seriously disabled veterans enrolled in educational and training courses under Government sponsorship. Veterans Administration announced this week.

The increased rates, which will be reflected in September checks received on or after Oct. 1, were voted by the last session of Congress and signed into law by the President.

VA said the law requires no action by disabled trainees entitled to the higher rates because of the automatic nature of the increases. The new law provides that a veteran enrolled in a course under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16), whose disability is rated at 30 per cent or higher, will receive $115 a month if he has no dependents, and $135 if he has one dependent. The old law allowed $105 and $115 for the same two categories; but, while these rates are supersed by the new schedules for the more seriously disabled, they will continue to apply to veterans with disabilities rated at less than 30 per cent.

The new law also raises the amounts authorized for additional dependents of veterans with disabilities of 30 per cent or more. The additional allowance for one child is increased from $10 a month to $20, and the previous allowance of $7 a month for each additional child is raised to $15. No change is made in the $14 monthly allowance for a dependent parent.

The new law does not change the basic provisions for awarding payments to disabled veterans pursuing a course of training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. These provisions are:

While a veteran is in training, and for two months after his employability is determined, he receives a subsistence allowance of $65 a month if he has no dependents, or $90 a month if he has one or more dependents, in addition to his disability compensation. In case the compensation plus the allowance do not total $105 or $115 for those with disabilities of less than 30 per cent, or $115 or $135 for those with disabilities of 30 per cent or more, an additional sum is paid to make up the difference. The sum is further increased if there is more than one dependent.

The veteran in job training may retain whatever wages are paid him, but if his salary plus his subsistence allowance exceeds the wage of a beginning trained journeyman, VA will reduce his subsistence allowance proportionately.

If the veteran-trainee is enrolled in school, his tuition and fees are paid by VA, and his books and supplies are provided by VA. If he is enrolled in on-the-job training, VA provides the necessary tools.

August Is the Time for Medical Check-Up of School Children

Austin.—School days will soon be here again. Thousands of Texas boys and girls and teachers will be returning to the schools. Each child entering school should be as free as possible of any physical defects which can be corrected. The earlier these are corrected the better chance the child has for academic progress and for good social and emotional development, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

August is the time for a complete medical and dental check-up. Eyes, ears, nose, throat and teeth should be carefully examined by the family doctor and dentist, and all remediable defects corrected. If such defects are neglected, they may result in serious damage to growth and development.

Dental corrections often take time, but a person is repaid many times over for good dental care. Healthy teeth lend attractiveness to the personal appearance, enable thorough chewing of food, and promote general good health.

In school rooms, children expose each other to many communicable diseases, especially the common cold and diseases such as measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and diphtheria. Protect the child from diphtheria and whooping cough, as well as smallpox, by safe and dependable immunization.

Parents, see that your child has complete protective treatment against preventable diseases: a clean healthy throat and mouth; the best possible vision and hearing; adequate diet, sleep and rest to build up resistance against disease. It will pay good dividends and your child will be ready for school.

WHILE most everything else has gone up, one important product has stemmed the tide of rising prices. That's B. F. Goodrich. He's the first maker to bring you these savings below prewar levels.

But price is only the first of many ways B. F. Goodrich tires cut your costs. You get more mileage than you've ever known before from the new, wider road level tread that runs flush-to-the-road giving you more road contact, equalizing wear, strain, reducing wear.

You get more safety from costly accidents because greater road contact means more rubber to grip and stop. And the scalloped, tooth-edged ribs right side-out and skidding. Finer, sturdier cords add more of them add strength to the body to resist damage from pounding and the danger of blowouts.

On top of this, you can get a big advance for your present worn tires. For instance, your old tire and $12.95 will buy you a new 6.00-16 B. F. Goodrich outwears prewar tires.

Plain Facts About Honesty

LESSON TEXT FOR AUGUST 24—Proverbs 3:3; 11:1, 3; 12:17-22; 14:5; 23:10, 11.

MEMORY SELECTION—Prove all things; hold fast that which is good. Abstain from all appearance of evil.—1 Thessalonians 5:21, 22.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

Editor's Note: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By William Culbertson, D. D., of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The Bible's presentation of the subject of uprightness of living, on plain, downright honesty in everyday contacts, is recognized by all who have given any attention to what it has to say.

The high ethical standard demanded by the Word of God is another evidence of its divine origin. We men to evolve a moral standard of their own, it is quite evident that that standard would not be very much higher than their own attainments; in fact, the probability is that the standard would be lower than the attainment of some. However, the Bible allows for no deviation from the standard.

We who by nature are the children of wrath have undoubtedly failed when we measure our lives against God's pattern. How needful is God's work of providing and effecting salvation. Those who have been born of God are then confronted with living a life that meets the divine standard.

I. A Plea for Honesty (Prov. 3:3).

How good it is when the Christian has a reputation for integrity in all his dealings. However, that outward manifestation is possible only if there is inward reality. Therefore, we move in order of emphasis to the greater truth at the conclusion of the verse. Truth is to be written upon the tablet of the heart.

Here is the plea for heart honesty. It is not enough by plausible argument or by feigned conduct to appear honest before men. It is necessary rather to have motives so sincere, to have a heart so honest, that all we do and say will reflect a character that is honorable.

It is out of the fullness of the heart that man speaketh. As the heart is, so is the man. Let us give attention therefore to this word from God.

II. A Factual Presentation of Honesty (Prov. 11:1, 3; 12:17-22; 14:5).

These passages of Scripture bring to our attention the consequences of dishonesty as well as the rewards of honesty.

For example, we know that dishonesty is an abomination to God (Prov. 11:1; 12:22); that perversity of heart has its own reward, in that the perpetrator of evil is sooner or later ensnared in his own sin (Prov. 11:3); that a lying tongue may be victorious, but that victory is short lived (Prov. 12:19).

On the other hand, the rewards of honesty are also made apparent. For we are told that probity of character is God's delight (Prov. 11:1; 12:22); that the very integrity of the upright shall be a guide to them (Prov. 11:3); that blessings to others flow from the tongue of the wise (Prov. 12:18); and that the lip of truth shall be established forever (Prov. 12:19).

III. God and the Life of Honesty (Prov. 23:10, 11).

The reference here to the ancient landmark has to do with the removal of such evidences as would prove the claim of individuals to certain property.

We are to respect the rights of others. Honesty involves more than correctness of speech, it implies rightness of life. No subtlety of reasoning can lead us to the conclusion that we may have God's approval if by unfair means we take that which belongs to another.

Particular attention is given to the fact that we are to have regard for the fatherless. The Word of God constantly gives special attention to the fatherless and the widows. It would seem that God will particularly mark as amiss any unfair advantage taken over these individuals. In fact, this text stresses that God as their Redeemer will plead their cause against anyone taking advantage of them. Of course, there can be only one result when God opposes, and that is disaster to the individual who occasions his wrath.

Perhaps it is that very sense of helplessness that makes the fatherless depend upon him. It is certain that until we feel our need of God, we shall go on in our self-sufficiency without him. When our own lack of strength becomes apparent, then it is that we turn to him, and then it is that he is willing to be our Redeemer.

Let us dare to face the implication of these texts. Unless we commend our God to men by our upright lives, we shall have to suf-

Thos. Burke Bell Weds Miss Tessie Nichols of Quanah

In an impressive double ring ceremony Saturday, August 16, at 3 p. m., Miss Tessie Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nichols, became the bride of Thomas Burke Bell, son of Mrs. Robert W. Bell of Crowell, in the home of the bride's parents, 806 King Street, Quanah.

White gladioli caught with white satin streamers and interwoven with maiden's hair fern outlined the double arched doorway beneath which the couple stood for the recitation vows. At each side of the archway were branched caudleholders holding tall white tapers which were lighted by Mrs. J. A. Nichols Jr., who was attired in an aqua crepe afternoon dress with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white gladioli.

ceremony against a soft musical background of "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

For her wedding Miss Nichols chose a dressmaker suit of powder blue gabardine with which she wore brown accessories. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of white orchids and tube roses caught with a sweetheart bow of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Bell was a member of the graduating class of Quanah High School in 1933, and is employed as service representative of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The groom attended Crowell High School and was graduated from Texas A. & M. College prior to entering the U. S. Army where he served four and a half years in the 104th Finance Department. He is now in the Quanah office of the Memphis Production Credit Association.

Following the wedding the couple was honored with a reception also in the home of the bride's parents.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was placed on a round reflector at one end of the damask-covered refreshment table. The centerpiece was white shasta daisies and greenery flanked by white tapers burning in crystal holders. A crystal punch service completed the table appointments.

Out-of-town guests for the occasion were: Mrs. Robert W. Bell, Mrs. R. L. Banister, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Rettig and daughter, Anne, all of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Nishols Jr. and Jerry Sorrels of Pasadena, Texas; and T. H. Russell of Amarillo.

Church Wedding Unites Miss Crosnoe and Donald Lind

On Sunday morning, August 17, at 9 o'clock, at the First Baptist Church, Miss Evelyn Crosnoe became the bride of Donald Lind of Los Angeles, Calif., in a single ring ceremony performed by Rev. N. B. Moon, pastor of the church. Only relatives and a few close friends attended the wedding.

The church was attractively decorated by baskets of white gladioli and carnations with greenery which formed the altar before which the rites were said.

Mrs. Moon played the wedding march as Miss Crosnoe, on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, entered. The bride was attended by Mrs. Glenn Clements of Childress, as matron of honor and best man was Clarence Barker of Foard City.

The bride was attractively attired in a fall suit of Danish green wool with which she wore brown accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Clements wore an olive brown suit and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Lind left for a short wedding trip, after which they will return to Crowell before going to their new home in Los Angeles.

Miss Billie Morrison and Karl Streit Wed at Borger, August 6

Miss Billie Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Morrison, and Karl Streit, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Streit, of Lockett were married at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Borger, on Wednesday, August 6. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride wore a lovely white wool suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds. For something old, she wore an onyx and pearl bracelet, which has been in the family for more than a hundred years.

Mr. and Mrs. Streit left immediately following the wedding for Colorado Springs and Denver and other points in Colorado, after which they will make their home in the Lockett community where Mr. Streit is engaged in farming.

The bride is a graduate of Crowell High School and attended Texas State College at Denton one term. She has recently been employed as cashier at Huber's Drug Store in Vernon.

Mr. Streit finished school at Five-in-One. He served in the Army in the Intelligence Corps during the war.

Shower Compliments Miss Evelyn Crosnoe Friday Afternoon

Miss Evelyn Crosnoe, whose marriage to Donald Lind of Los Angeles, Calif., took place on Sunday morning, August 17, was named honoree at a pretty miscellaneous shower given at the Adelphian Club House Friday afternoon with Miss Dorothy Pechacek, Mrs. Clarence Barker and Mrs. Albert Phillips as hostesses. They were assisted by Miss Laura Belle Whitfield and Mrs. Clarence Garrett.

Mrs. Barker greeted the guests who were then presented to Miss Crosnoe and her mother, Mrs. Eldon Crosnoe. Miss Pechacek presided at the bride's book and secured the signatures of the guests.

In the dining room, the pretty table was centered with a bowl of red verbenas. Crystal candle holders with white tapers were used on the table, and the punch bowl and plates of dainty cookies completed the table appointments. Miss Whitfield and Mrs. Garrett served in the dining room. Mrs. Phillips entertained in the gift room where the many lovely gifts were on display.

Dinner Party Given to Honor Mary Margaret Crews

On Monday evening of last week Mrs. Lee Crews and Mrs. Sam Crews honored their daughter and granddaughter, Mary Margaret Crews, with a formal dinner party at the home of Mrs. Sam Crews. Pictures were made of the group before the three-course dinner was served. The table was attractive with individual place settings and cut flowers and balloons. A special favor was presented to each guest.

Well planned games were played following the dinner hour. One special feature of the entertainment period was that of Mary Margaret, in costume, giving a dance and speech number. "Waiting at the Church."

The guest list for the evening included Sherbourne Male of New Orleans, La., Marcia Kincaid, Jean Hughston, Carolyn Bell, Jackie Roberts, Betsy Ferguson, Robert Kincaid, Frances Kincaid, and the honor guest, Mary Margaret Crews.

Kid's World is not new. The idea behind it all started more than a year ago when Rev. Swartzfager, "The Padre" as he is known to thousands of Dallas children, began his Gremelin Club, a club composed of a gang of boys who were beginning life in the wrong way. He straightened them out, saw the need for a huge project of this type and is now attempting to carry out these plans. "The Padre" has done much to help curb juvenile delinquency in the area.

There is no organized fundraising campaign but any donation will be gratefully received.

"The Padre" says, "I'd fight for any kid! He's worth it."
