Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. —Galatians 5:1.

One of the difficulties we are going to encounter in dealing with Russia is that the Russian leaders think that every one will respond the same to autocratic Russian authority and bulldozing the same as does the Russian mind. It is incomprehensible to the Russian dictators that any person or nation should presume to think at variance with Russian orders. In Russia people don't do that. If they do they are removed and liquidated as persons dangerous to the Russian government. For this reason it is going to be difficult for the Russians to understand why we refuse to accept such a mandate and in defiance of orders from the Kremlin do as we, not the Kremlin thinks best.

One of the strangest things in the news this week was the announcement that the English labor government was sending 1000 troops to break a strike among handlers of food products.

Some years ago the dollar bill was made smaller. The change at that time did not affect the purchasing power of the dollar bill, but something has happened since, that while it hasn't changed the size of the dollar bill, has cut the purchasing power down to just about one third of what it used to be.

The adding machine and the calculator and the comptometer were made to keep man straight in the matter of his addition, subtraction and multiplying, but no machine has or ever will be devised to keep man straight in the matter of his judgment and in doing always the right and the fair and the just thing.

One of the radio commercials assures us with a good deal of emphasis that men are more fun than mice. It is a trifle disconcerting to think that assurance of such a fact, after all these years, should be necessary.

Veterans, state and local governments and non-profit institutions have only four weeks left to claim preference in purchasing surplus personal property. Existing priorities will be eliminated, by order of Congress, on August 31. War Assets Administration will, however, continue to accord prior claim rights to federal agencies, particularly those having to do with national defense.

Top Texas sale for veterans and others before the priorities are abolished will be an offering of about $25,000 worth of merchandise at the Amarillo Air Base. Included will be 11 vehicles, to be sold on a bid basis to veterans only. Other lots, which all buyers are invited to bid on, will consist of steel cots and bunk beds, gas ranges, nuts, bolts and screws and numerous small miscellaneous items. Sale will be held the morning of August 5, with inspection the day before.

Now is the time for people who need surplus housing to get bid forms and mail in their offers to War Assets Administration. Currently, buildings at both Camp Bowie, Brownwood, and Camp Swift, Bastrop, are up for sale by the sealed bid method. Arrangements for inspecting the various structures may be made with camp facility managers. Letters should be addressed to WAA's Office of Real Property, Box 6030, Dallas.

Another sizeable offering of surplus materials will go on the bid block in Houston August 5. Office furniture and machines, scrap steel and lumber, vehicles and general miscellaneous products will be grouped for veterans and other bidders. Inspection may be completed August 2, 3, and 4. The spot bid awards will be made at the WAA Warehouse 6, 4600 Clinton Drive, Houston, starting at 9 a. m.

Buildings, fixtures, and utilities of two former army air fields in Texas are being placed on the market by WAA. At the Pampa Air Field, water and sewage facilities, the above ground gas system, and various types of GI buildings are offered on a sealed bid basis, with priorities to expire August 16 and remaining property going to the general public. At the Abilene Air Field, one large recreation building is available to government agencies and non-profit institutions only until a cut-off date of August 10.

Believe it or not, some people working for the government don't like government red tape either. One War Assets employee, Robert F. McDonald of Dallas, decided to try to do some slashing by submitting a recommendation that numerous record forms be combined into a single pending case form to consolidate and keep surplus property transactions up to date. This week his idea won $20 in an employee suggestion campaign and some words of praise from his boss, WAA Regional Director Karl E. Wallace.

VETERANS' QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Will the Government deduct money it paid on the guaranteed portion of my loan or the payments made for schooling and subsistence allowance from any future bonus that may be authorized by Congress?

A. No. Q. May a veteran, who is receiving disability compensation, receive (at the same time) subsistence allowance under the G-I Bill?

A. Yes. Q. I am a World War II veteran and I desire to purchase a car to go to the coast and get a job. Will Veterans Administration guarantee a loan for the purpose?

A. No. VA will guarantee a loan for a car only when the vehicle is to be used for business purposes.

Q. How can I show that my parents are dependent on me for support?

A. Dependency will be held to exist if your parents do not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and members of their family under legal age, or members of the family otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical condition.

Q. I cashed the compensation check that VA sent me. Does that mean that I am satisfied with the rating given me?

A. No. The fact that you cashed the check does not waive any rights you may have in claiming greater compensation or pension than that which was awarded you.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

Nothing that has been injected into American politics since the Civil War has raised quite the storm of protest and violent difference of opinion that has been caused by President's Truman's championship of his civil rights bill. The bill provides, among other things, for the abolishment of the poll tax, anti-lynching, and that no preference shall be shown between members of the white race and members of the black race in the matter of employment or in the advancement of employee to positions as foreman or other executive jobs.

So strongly does President Truman feel in regard to the matter that on the eve of the election he has gone all out for the measure, and by his act, has alienated the support of many of the Southern voters as well as people in the North who formerly lived in the South.

It is obvious that President Truman has accepted the advice of no one in his espousal of this cause at this particular time because even the novice in politics knows that a Democrat must have the support of the South to be elected to the office of President and he also knows that he cannot contend for this bill and receive the support of the South.

While it is desirable that the people who live together and work together in a state and a nation should enjoy a measure of equality in the matter aimed at in this bill is not the major need of this country today. There are other questions of equally great if not greater importance to the well being of America to which attention could well be directed and to the support of which most of the people would rally.

By his vigorous and uncompromising attitude on this matter, President Truman has defined to a narrow limit the issues of this campaign. True, there are other issues most of which are more important than this, but they are going to be dwarfed by this issue of lesser importance.

There are a great many people who have no pronounced prejudice against the colored man. They want him to enjoy all the privileges that come to citizens of this country but they realize, and sensibly, too, that there are some things that cannot be changed by law or edict. They can only be changed as time yields its molding influence and does away with prejudice. This is a process which most people believe cannot be hurried and cannot be forced. The people of the North before they can break down an attitude of mind that is a hundred years old in the South, must get the viewpoint of the South. Until and unless they do they cannot assume to take from it what it has come to feel is its right and ruthlessly outlaw it and expect love, and tolerance, and forbearance, and lack of vindictive reprisals in return. Human nature just doesn't work that way.

They feel that in view of the many needs of the people, the many issues that have to do with the welfare of the people as a whole and upon which there is more or less agreement it is unfortunate that this matter of such highly controversial nature should have been selected. As desirable as its purpose may be the matter of attempting to bring it about could easily retard rather than advance its realization.

Building Permits in Texas Decline

Austin, Texas, July 31—Building permits in Texas declined 8 per cent from May to June, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

The Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index rose 11 per cent in June to 521 per cent of the base period (1935-39). Compared to June 1947, building permits stepped up 14 per cent.

Many substantial increases were reported. Cities whose building permits more than doubled from May were: Kerrville, Lockhart, Del Rio, Texas City, Wichita Falls, Marshall, Victoria, Brownsville, and Plainville. On the other hand, a number of cities turned in decreases for June. Paris permits fell 86 per cent; Big Spring, 70 per cent; Brownwood, 63 per cent; Childress, 57 per cent; and Denton, 56 per cent, for the greatest declines over the month.

The most outstanding gains over the year occurred in Lockhart and Kerrville. Lockhart permits increased seven-fold; Big Spring, five-fold; Pampa, four-fold; and Brownsville and Victoria, three-fold, from a year earlier.

The greatest decreases in permits in the June-to-June period were registered by Cleburne, 84 per cent; Texarkana, 62 per cent; Bryan, 61 per cent; Texas City, 51 per cent; and Nacogdoches, 50 per cent.

Dallas led the State with $6,120,881, followed by Houston, $5,179,980; Fort Worth, $3,567,453; and San Antonio, $2,191,735.

Infantile paralysis cases so far this year already exceed the total for a comparable period in 1946—second most polio on record. Experts agree however, that it is too early to predict what 1948 will rank as a major epidemic year. At the last count the United States Health Service listed more than 2000 cases. The greatest outbreak of polio cases was in 1916 when the number reached 30,000.

RARE SNAKES
 Austin, Texas. — Two rare snakes, a Band Tail pigeon and a yellow-nosed cotton rat were among the 150 species of vertebrates found by University of Texas zoology students who recently completed a five-week field course near Marfa.
 The Davis Mountain kingsnake and the Texas lyre snake, both very unusual, were caught by the students.
 Under guidance of Dr. W. Frank Blair, the 22 students also identified and prepared 2,500 specimens of vertebrates. They made a survey of population density of native rodents; studied the food habits and life histories of the rock squirrel and antelope ground squirrel.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union Sunday School Lesson
 By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.
 SCRIPTURE: Jeremiah 28: 1-9; 18.
 DEVOTIONAL READING: Matthew 25:31-46.

Ebed-Melech, The Ethiopian
 Lesson for August 8, 1948

ARE you ready for a real story? Then turn to Jeremiah 38, and read on to verse 18 in the 39th chapter. This interesting story reveals a hero, Ebed-melech, by name, which means "the king's slave." This may have been his official title rather than his personal name. Anyway, he is the hero of our story, and a very admirable hero, indeed.

Dr. Newton such in charge of the king's chambers.

Zebekiah, as the story reveals, held Ebed-melech in high esteem. He was, obviously, a most honorable man. How he had come to know Jeremiah and to esteem him so highly, is a subject for profitable contemplation. The devotional reading, Matthew 25: 31-46, offers final opinion on the value of Ebed-melech's ministry to Jeremiah. The golden text, "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto men," Galatians 6:10.

JEREMIAH'S FRIEND
 Ebed-Melech was Jeremiah's friend. When he saw what the princes had done to Jeremiah, he went to the king and begged him to allow him to draw Jeremiah out of the mire in the dark dungeon. He knew that Jeremiah would soon die in this awful place and Ebed-Melech risked his life in making the request to rescue Jeremiah. The wonder is that the princes had not ordered Ebed-Melech slain. Evidently, they recognized the hand of God.

Like as this Negro servant in the long ago served God by rendering kindness to a man of another race, so may we today serve God and civilization by good will and kindly service to all races.

FREEDOM THROUGH A SLAVE
 The story of Ebed-melech's kindness to Jeremiah lifts to ennobling example the act of a slave on behalf of freedom. The world's benefactors are those who understand freedom, and cast themselves in utter self-forgetfulness into the struggle for right against wrong.

What has Jeremiah done to receive such harsh treatment. He had delivered God's message to the people of Jerusalem, warning them that the city would be taken by the Chaldeans, and how they might escape destruction. Jeremiah was proclaiming freedom—not always a popular course. For this effort to help the people, he was thrown into the muddy dungeon. This servant of the king was the only man in Jerusalem who understood the purpose of Jeremiah.

A FRIEND INDEED
 Granted permission from the king to rescue Jeremiah, Ebed-melech devised prompt methods of letting down old pieces of rope and rags, telling Jeremiah how to fasten them under his arms, and with the aid of thirty men drew him up from the mire, and brought him into the court of the prison.

And then God spoke words of great reward to Jeremiah on behalf of Ebed-melech. "But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord."

WHO SIDES WITH GOD
 Ebed-melech's noble ministry to Jeremiah lifts up a banner for every true follower of the Lord. Who sides with God must always win. That is the lesson of the lesson. We should never have known about this Negro, had he not cast his all on the side of the Lord.

"Who sides with God must always win, and no cause to him is lost."

SOCIAL PEOPLE
 It seems clear to me that God designed us to live in society—just as He has given the bees the honey; and as our social system could not subsist without the sense of justice and injustice. He has given us the power to acquire that sense.—Voltaire.

Our Creator would never have made such lovely days, and have given us the deep hearts to enjoy them, above and beyond all thought, unless we were meant to be immortal.—Hawthorne.

ONE-TOED HORSE

Austin, Texas — Whoever heard of a one-toed horse? There was such a creature back in the Pliocene age, say University of Texas geologists. That was a million years ago, and the strange horse is known as the Plihippus.

Bones of a Plihippus, an oreodon (an animal similar to, but larger than a sheep), a mastodon and camel recently were found by Texas Memorial Museum geologists in a Crosby county lake bed. Dr. E. W. Sellards, Museum director, reports.

Geologists Grayson Meade and Albert Potter found the bones, and are preparing them for exhibit in the Museum.

Assisting Mrs. Henry with hostess duties were Mrs. Hartley Easley, Mrs. Allen Sanders, Mrs. Paul Shirley, Mrs. W. B. Tysinger and Mrs. J. H. Lanier Sr.

The ladies were invited into the dining room, before the program, for refreshments. Mrs. Tysinger presided at the punch bowl, from which she served frosted punch. A variety of dainty, delicious home-made cookies and sandwiches were placed on the table, which was enhanced with a lace cover and decorated with a centerpiece of beautiful purple and white flowers, which had been gathered from the pastures of Foard County. These same flowers were used in other rooms, also pink and white carnations were used in the dining room.

Mrs. T. L. Hughton, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Maege, brought a beautiful devotional. This was begun by soft music played by Mrs. Shirley. The group sang "I Need Thee Every Hour," after which Mrs. Hines Clark led in prayer. "Near the Cross" was sung with Mrs. Shirley as accompanist.

The subject for the lesson of the afternoon was Puerto Rico, with Mrs. J. A. Stovall as leader, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Thompson. Mrs. Stovall gave a description of the small island, its beauties and its poverty and its great need. Mrs. Thompson told of the work of the Methodist Church there, the educational facilities, which are very limited and the political status. Mrs. Stovall closed the program with the reading of a poem on Puerto Rico. Mrs. Claude Brooks then gave a humorous reading.

After a short business session, conducted by Mrs. H. E. Thompson, the president, Mrs. Aubrey Haynes closed the service with a short prayer. The ladies were again asked to partake of the refreshments and also to inspect the charming new home of Mrs. Henry. There were 26 members present and one guest, Mrs. R. L. Leonard of Memphis, Tenn.

Indian Mound in Arkansas Being Investigated

Austin, Texas, July 31—Archaeological excavation of what may be the third or fourth largest Indian mound in the United States is now under way. Alex D. Krieger, University of Texas archaeologist, is director.

Excavation site is Battle Mound on the Red River, near Lewisville, Ark., owned by Mrs. Henry Moore of Texarkana. Investigation of the mound was made possible by a grant from the Viking Fund, Inc., to Krieger.

Lynn E. Howard, University of Michigan, is in charge of actual excavation, with W. W. Newcomb, University of Texas, anthropology instructor, as assistant.

"In investigating this huge mound we are trying to determine which Indians built it," Krieger said. "Although the Caddo Indians probably lived on the mound, we suspect an earlier tribe built it. The mound is 650 feet long and 36 feet high at the highest portion. Later Indians and modern farmers made good use of the mounds as a refuge in time of floods."

Glenn L. Evans, Texas Memorial Museum geologist, recently completed a contour map of the mound, to facilitate investigation. "To date a pit six feet deep has been dug below the present field, but the mound base has not yet been found," Krieger said. "The Red River has deposited a great deal of sediment in its valley since the mound was built, but we feel sure we will find the original village soon."

U. S. Oil Industry Meeting Greatest Demand in History

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 1—The U. S. Oil industry is currently refining more than 237 million gallons of crude oil a day to meet the greatest demand for petroleum products in history, according to a detailed report on supply-demand released today by the Oil Industry Information Committee.

Commenting on figures contained in the report, Fred F. Murray, Gulf-Southwest chairman of the information committee, pointed out that refining rate today is 11 per cent above that of a year ago. The report, titled "Current Facts on Petroleum Supply and Demand," is a 12-page illustrated brochure issued and brought up to date periodically by the information committee.

"Americans use about 28 times as much oil per capita as all the rest of the world combined, and

Ray Milland Hits New Stride As Star of Unique Thriller

Ray Milland, who carried off just about every acting honor extant as the tragic dipsomaniac in "The Lost Weekend," is now reported to have—in Paramount's "The Big Clock"—an even greater role in a film as far off the well-beaten Hollywood path as was the award-winning classic on alcoholism.

In "The Big Clock," which arrives at the Rialto Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, August 11 and 12, with Charles Laughton, also starred, murder, not rum, is the demon which haunts Milland and involves him in a man-hunt packed with suspense that is as unusual and daringly different as the picture itself. For "The Big Clock" times a man's search for himself—with death the reward for his success!

A complete departure from past murder mysteries, this screen adaptation of Kenneth Fearing's best-selling novel dares to let its audience in on the killing and the killer, and then proceeds to thrill and mystify as it breathetakingly unfolds a man's desperate attempt to escape the death-trap he is forced to set for himself.

Supporting Milland and Laughton in "The Big Clock" are Maureen O'Sullivan, George Macready, Rita Johnson and Elsa Lanchester.

"The demand is still growing," Murray said. "This year the industry will again break production records, and hopes to hit a peak of eight or nine per cent over last year's record production."

It is possible to walk 22 miles on the fourteen decks of the British luxury liner the Queen Elizabeth without retracing a step.

POSTAL RECEIPTS

Austin, Texas — June postal receipts in Texas rose 2 per cent above May, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Receipts from 60 Texas cities reached $3,070,006 to better June 1947 figures by 21 per cent. The Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index increased 7 per cent from May to 251 per cent of the prewar level (1935-1939).

Seguin reported June's postal receipts more than tripled for the greatest gain over the month. Other substantial increases from May were registered by Austin, May and Braunfels, 31 per cent; Gainesville, 28 per cent; Childress, 26 per cent; and Vernon, 25 per cent.

Monthly declines were reported by Kennedy, 25 per cent; Palestine, 17 per cent; Victoria, 16 per cent; and Sweetwater, 8 per cent.

Only 6 of the 60 cities showed decreases in postal receipts from June, 1947, ranging from a fractional dip in Gladewater to a 14 per cent decline in Palestine. Seguin also reported the largest gain over the year, with a doubling year-ago to Paris receipts followed, including 48 per cent; Gainesville, 47 per cent; and Bryan, 45 per cent.

The British luxury liner, Queen Elizabeth, is the greatest mass ever floated by man, 673 tons.
