... range management is pay-off for Virgil Johnson, disoperator in conservation No. 4, located northwest of City. Virgil has been rest-pastures and rotating his pastures for 2 or 3 years. On his place Virgil has two large pastures that furnish most of his hay. Neither of these pastures have been given a summer or year-rest until about two years ago. Since that time Virgil has had less stock and could see becoming more abundant. ...

... Washington, D. C., June 17, 1949—Upon unsolicited invitation, I have recently addressed the Washington Chapter of the American Association of University Women and the Rural Women's Conference of the State of Maryland on the subject of displaced persons. In each case, large audiences were apparently unanimous in approving my views. Recently, I have been severely criticized by Time Magazine and by an editorial in the Wichita Daily Times for opposing the new Displaced Persons Act. Most of those taking me to task have not read any of my speeches on the subject and know nothing of the facts. ...

... One Texas Congressman polled 100 American officers while overseas last year on this subject and every single one of them was unalterably opposed to these DP bills which have been sponsored in the Congress by those seeking votes in Chicago and New York. I have yet to talk to an informed person, other than those affiliated with organizations sponsoring DPs, who does not agree with my views on this legislation. ...

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

Washington, D. C., June 17, 1949—Upon unsolicited invitation, I have recently addressed the Washington Chapter of the American Association of University Women and the Rural Women's Conference of the State of Maryland on the subject of displaced persons. ...

... While a great many sincere people are advocating the opening of our doors to the so-called DPs, they should also consider that every radical, every red, and every subversive organization in America is strongly in favor of doing the same thing. ...

Austin Highlights

(By Sen. George Moffett)

Austin, Texas, June 20 — This session of the Legislature has been of longer duration than usual because of the large number of important matters which deserve attention. ...

... Among them is the necessity to provide new buildings and equipment for the state's eleemosynary institutions, which include the insane asylums, the epileptic hospital, the orphan's homes, the school for feeble-minded children, the schools for the deaf and blind, the tuberculosis sanatorium, etc. ...

... As the population of the state grows, the need for additional room in these establishments grows also. Furthermore, many of the present buildings are old, not fireproof, and need to be replaced. ...

... It will require at least $20,000,000 million worth of new buildings to properly take care of the needs for the eleemosynary institutions. The problem of financing this building program is difficult and may delay the adjournment of the Legislature for some time. ...

... One disgraceful thing of recent occurrence has been the picketing of the Federal Court in New York in which a number of communists are on trial. Several hundred communists and fellow-travelers have been obstructing the Court area with their so-called picketing. ...

... I have a card from the "National Liberal League" of New York City, condemning Mr. Churchill for advocating religious training for the curtailment of juvenile delinquency. This league says religious training increases juvenile delinquency. Such league is doubtless another commie outfit that opposes and condemns all religion and morality. I am sure this league is strongly in favor of the Displaced Persons Act.

Legion Planning Welcome Boards for Crowell

According to Clyde James, post commander and Clyde Cobb, adjutant of the local American Legion Post No. 130, plans were completed this week for the sponsorship of giant "Scotchlite" welcome boards to be erected at the east and west highway approaches to the city of Crowell. ...

... The center third of the big boards which are to be 34 feet by 13 feet will carry a hearty greeting to tourists and tradesmen from the local American Legion. In the background, there will be a pictorial of wheat and cattle, depicting the natural resources of the area. ...

... Individual panels, size 5 1/2 feet by 3 and one-third feet, checker board in color on each side of the center, will be sold to merchants on a four-year contract, giving them an option for an additional two-year renewal in sponsorship of the project. ...

... The Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club and Rotary Club will be invited to be represented on the boards at no cost or charges, says Cobb and James. ...

... Heavy durable timber will be used for the framework and the entire face of the boards will be all-metal with only the best quality and "Scotchlite" used in the art work. These boards will be completed and up within approximately thirty days. ...

Amendments

In this issue of the News there are ten amendments to the Constitution of the State of Texas and at an election to be held on September 24, the qualified voters of the State will have an opportunity to approve or reject them. These amendments will be printed for four issues so that every voter may read and study them and when election time comes will be able to cast an intelligent vote. No doubt all of these amendments are good and should be approved, but it is up to the people of the state to decide whether or not these changes in the Constitution shall be made.

Some one is authority for the statement that thirty per cent of American families spend more than they earn. Our guess is that fully half of the remaining 70 per cent makes less and saves more than the thirty per cent who are unable to manage their business and who are always running behind. Results show that whether a family saves money or operates in the red depends more on management than it does on the amount of the earnings. Savings and living within one's means is a matter of good management and discipline more than it is a matter of the amount of money one earns. The amount of money one earns or receives may be the result of a break or a chance, but the amount of money one saves is the result of good management and sustained effort.

One of the most abused laws in this country is the unemployment compensation law. It is said that hundreds of people from New York and other eastern cities spend their vacation in Florida each year wholly financed by the unemployment compensation. One of the bad features of the unemployment compensation law is that the honest workers pay the bill while the loafers and the idlers collect the benefits. The second bad feature about this much abused law is that neither Congress nor anyone else seems disposed to do anything about it. Some day we may wake up and make the law foolproof. Under the present law not enough men with backbone to do the right thing can be found to administer it. In the meantime the dishonest idlers and chiselers are reaping a harvest.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

At the peril of seeming to be unable to forget it and turn to something new I am again going to call attention to the fact that the administration from the President down to the lowest cog in the whole machine there is a disturbing indifference to the fact that this country is faced with a great debt which has not been appreciably reduced, and for which, at the present time, there is no plan for its reduction.

Rather there is a lot of things on the program of the administration which if carried out, will increase the debt by increasing the deficit and put the day of settlement farther and farther off.

To some it may seem foolish to worry about the national debt. This group seems to think that regardless of what is done it will somehow take care of itself. The honest facts are, this is not true. It will only be paid when this country adopts a program that will finally result in its being paid.

I realize that in this day and age of big wages and free spending it isn't popular to mention economy or curtail spending. Such persons are scoffed at as pessimists and are open to ridicule. They are old fogies. They are out of step with the modern age.

Let's see if they are. At the present time we are 252 billion dollars in debt. The most of this was caused as a result of the war. Let's face the fact and suppose that in the course of the next 25 years we drift into another war. This is both probable and possible. There is no way of estimating what it would cost.

Add the new bill to the present debt and we have a sum, the interest requirements of which alone might easily be a millstone about the neck of future generations. I will illustrate what I mean: A young man starts out in business. The business has a net income of $3,000 a year. Suppose the young man has big ideas, as this country seems to have today, and obligates himself for new buildings, a new home and a car to the extent that the interest requirements and his living costs take more than the $3,000. It requires no expert to see that this debt will one day sink him. There is nothing he can do to escape bankruptcy.

I do not contend this country is on the verge of bankruptcy, but I do contend, and it is a conviction with me, that we are on the way to that point where the interest requirements on our national debt are going to weigh down in such a way that we will have too small a margin on which to operate.

I am predicting—and it is a thoroughly sound prediction, that unless we wake up in this country and put into effect economy and efficiency moves—unless we get over the idea that it is smart to waste money we owe for things we can get along without and can't pay for, we are going to discover too late the fallacy of our present course.

We are going to discover that the more the government takes from you and me in taxes, the less we are going to have to spend of the money we have earned. We are going to have less upon which to live, less with which to build homes and businesses and make improvements. We are going to have less upon which to do business and less to save. When the cost of living and taxes begins to cost more than individuals earn, then we will have produced a depression. Then we will have learned that there is no such thing as spending our way into prosperity. We will have learned too late.

COST OF COMMON COLD

When the average person comes down with a cold, he stands a good chance of being away from his job for three days, recent surveys show. The cold will probably cost him $25 in lost earnings and medical expenses. On a national basis, that economic loss is estimated at two billion dollars. It includes one hundred million dollars spent annually for cold remedies and two hundred million dollars spent for vitamins. While $25 seems like a high price to pay, those who can return to work in three days are actually getting off easy. Many more pay a much higher price. Colds often leave resistance low and the door open for pneumonia, tuberculosis and other severe secondary infections.

IN THE NEWS 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of the Foard County News of Friday, June 20, 1919:

There are a number of Foard County people who are improving their breeds of hogs, as well as of other stock, but perhaps there are few who are more enthusiastic over the hog business as J. L. Orr of near Margaret.

Material is now being put on the ground for a third elevator for Crowell to be built by J. W. Allison and B. W. Self.

There have been no general rains over the county for some weeks but there were some very heavy showers on spots last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Southwest of town Friday afternoon it rained a flood, especially on F. C. Borchardt's place.

Jack and Lewis Ballard, Frank Arr and Arthur McMillan came in on the Tuesday train from Camp Bowie. Elbert Seales came up with them and got off at Vernon.

What looks to be a portion of a mesquite stake but which is assuredly a rock was picked up on the prairie recently near the home of L. G. Andrews.

Leo Spencer was the only applicant from Crowell in the examination at Childress Wednesday for the post office here, which means that he will be the next postmaster.

While Mrs. A. W. Keller, who has been living with her brother-in-law, Walter Carr, near Thalia, was visiting relatives in Crowell last week, her husband, who had been overseas with the A. E. F., came in unexpectedly.

The school board of the Crowell Independent School District has employed D. W. Cook of Denison as superintendent for next term.

M. F. Crowell is the first to thresh wheat this year. On nine acres at his home place north of Crowell he made 21 bushels per acre and it tested 58.

Weekly Sermon

Choose Ye This Day

by Wayne Christianson, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Former students of a small college in Iowa will recall a certain elderly professor of mathematics who frequently would stand near the door as members of the class entered the room. Then, as the final bell rang, he would carefully sight across the threshold. A student halfway or more inside the room when the bell rang would be marked "on time." Those less than half way were marked tardy.

We used to laugh at the professor, but we understood his little object lesson. And we remembered that being almost on time was not good enough in his class. God's requirements, likewise, are absolute. Every living person—man, woman and child—is at this moment on either one side or the other of God's great, invisible line. On one side are those reprobated forever from the awful consequences of sin. On the other are those for whom judgment is as certain as death.

But see the great mercy of our loving, seeking God! Not one of us who has turned his back on God, insulted His Name and broken His laws need remain on the judgment side of the eternal dividing line except by his own choice. Jesus, the Son of God, has Himself paid the awful penalty for our sins that "whosoever will" may cross the line on the basis of Christ's own payment. God's invitations are still, "Come—receive my Son as your Redeemer, and enter immediately into the peace and joy and eternal security He bought for you on the cross."

Here are Jesus' own words of promise in the fifth chapter of the Gospel of John. Read them in your own Bible. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life (right now), and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed (immediately) from death unto life."

Have you crossed the line? Will you cross it now? "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

The first U. S. patent for phosphorus matches, filed in 1828, was in France in 1780. This was a sealed glass tube containing a phosphorus-tipped waxed string. The user broke the tube and the inrush of air caused combustion.

The instantaneous light bottle, consisting of a container of sulphuric acid and splints tipped with potassium chlorate, sugar and a gum arabic, was used for 40 years in America and Europe, beginning in 1805. A box of 50 cost $2.

DON'TS FOR GROOMING

Do you follow basic principles of good grooming in selecting your wardrobe? Just as a reminder: if you are tall, don't wear vertical stripes or single colors that give you that "long drink of water" look. (And don't slump about the waist!) If you are thin, don't emphasize it by wearing black and drab colors, and don't choose square necklines. If you are short, don't wear wide, colorful belts, hold plaids or vivid prints. If you are stout, don't use square or rounded necklines, shiny finish fabrics, full skirts, puffy sleeves and bosomy ruffles.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove finger marks on the door way, use a cloth dipped in kerosene and then use a wrung out of hot water. To remove marks caused by dishes on your table, make a paste of salad oil and salt. Lay on table where mark is. Leave hour or two, then rub off. When washing colored material a teaspoonful of Epsom salt each gallon of water will preserve even the most delicate shades running.

Ben Barker Weds Miss Yvonne Clifton Wednesday, June 15

Miss Yvonne Clifton became the bride of Ben Barker in a single ring ceremony performed by Rev. N. B. Moon, pastor of the Crowell Baptist Church at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon, June 15, at 4 o'clock.

The bride was attired in a white tulle suit with which she wore corsage and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Her maid-of-honor was Miss Mary Ruth Jones who wore a two-piece dress of white waffle pique. Her accessories were in tan and white and her corsage was also of white carnations. Jess Whitfield served the groom as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker left immediately following their marriage for a short trip to Dallas and other points. Upon their return, they will make their home in Crowell.

Mrs. Barker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Clifton and she attended the Crowell Schools. Recently she has been employed at Shirley-Youree Drug. Mr. Barker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barker, is a graduate of Foard City Schools and served in the recent World War in the European Theater. He is connected with his brothers in the implement business in Crowell.

"Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes!" was a command given in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Co-Laborers' Class Is Entertained at Delightful Breakfast

Mesdames A. Y. Beverly, E. R. Roland, E. W. Kidd and C. S. Bartley were hostesses at one of the high points of the year's calendar of the Co-Laborers' Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church, a breakfast given at the Adelphi Club House on Thursday morning, June 16, at 8 o'clock.

At the head table and at six quartet tables, 52 guests were seated for the delightful breakfast which featured two courses. Beautiful seasonal flowers were used in decoration of the breakfast table. The breakfast consisted of grapefruit juice, bacon, scrambled eggs, jelly, butter and hot biscuits, served with coffee.

Following the meal, an informal program was directed by Mrs. Beverly when the names of secret pals were revealed. At the head table were seated Mrs. C. P. Sandifer, Mrs. T. L. Hughston, Mrs. M. S. Henry, Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Mrs. Claude Brooks and Mrs. T. B. Klepper, all former and present teachers of the class and Mrs. R. M. Bowen and Mrs. Van Brown of Truscott. Mrs. Sandifer and Mrs. Hughston made talks concerning the progress of the class through the years.

As a climax to the program, Mrs. Bowen gave a splendid review of the book, "The Big Fisherman" by Loyd C. Douglas, which was intensely appreciated by those present. Mrs. Beverly presented her with a gift in the name of the class.

Attending were Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Browning, Mrs. G. C. Walker of Dallas, Mrs. Maggie French of Woodboro, Miss Dine Mitchell, Mesdames Grover Cole, Lewis Ballard, Fred Wehba, W. E. Wells, Leo Owens, George Carlie, Herman Gentry, Will Erwin, Jim Shook, Geneva Potts, W. B. Tysinger, D. R. Magee, S. S. Bell, Clint White, R. R. Magee, Thomas Hughston, C. W. ## Suzette Love Is Honored with Party on 3rd Birthday

Suzette Love was honored with a birthday party on Tuesday, June 14, by her mother, Mrs. Flodet Love, and her grandmother, Mrs. Shelby Wallace. Suzette was three years old.

After she had blown out the candles on the birthday cake, refreshments were served to the following: Suzette, Kenneth Perkins, Betty, Dean and Barbara Vessel, Sue and Ray Aydelott, Jimmie Lee and Beverly Jo Thompson. Pictures of the group were made and games were played. The honoree received many nice gifts.

Childress Wedding of Interest Here

A wedding in Childress of interest to friends in Crowell was that of Mary Hankins Faulkner of Childress to John V. Payne, also of Childress, which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hardin on June 8th at 7 in the evening.

The marriage vows were exchanged at an improvised altar before the fireplace. White gladstoles and white candles were used, the candles furnishing a soft glow for the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. E. E. White, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Childress. Shasta daisies were used throughout the house.

The bride wore a Magnin brown and blue silk frock with lizard accessories and a single white orchid corsage. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Grady Magee of Crowell, wore a two-piece Virginia Spears cotton suit in brown, with toast colored accessories and a red rosebud corsage. Best man was Delbert Wasson of Childress.

A reception was held in the home following the marriage and the 3-tiered cake was served with coffee to the guests by Mrs. Hardin. The dining room was in all-white with a silver coffee service.

Mrs. Payne is the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. M. M. Hankins, Hardeman County pioneers, and has been in the insurance business both in Quanah and Childress. She recently has been accountant with Robbins Electric Co. in Childress. Mr. Payne is in the compress business in Lovington, N. M., and the couple will make their home there.

WORM CALVES

Calves and other cattle showing symptoms of worms should be treated with phenothiazine. Give 20 grams of phenothiazine per 100 pounds of live weight. The maximum dose for animals weighing over 300 pounds is 60 grams. Do not give to dairy cows that are being milked.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

Whipping One's Problems—It is a common practice, I think, for some people to look at others with envy and say to themselves, "What a wonderful thing life would be if I had no more worries or no more problems than she does, or he does." If such could be true, life would be a most happy, pleasant thing instead of a constant battle and struggle to overcome difficulties and problems. It is always a mistake for one individual to look at another and wish that he might exchange places with him. No one knows what problems another has. The fact that he seems to pass them off lightly and take them in his stride does not mean that his burdens or his problems are any less heavy. In fact they may be heavier. It is possible that the individual we think so fortunate may have developed an attitude toward his problems that makes the facing of them easier. Instead of grieving over them he meets them with a high courage and a determination to overcome them and make the best of things. Such an attitude is the secret of a lot of real happiness. It solves many personal problems and gives to life a new zest, and a new interest, and a new satisfaction.

Improved Methods Used to Produce Wholesome Milk

Austin, Texas—In view of the fact that June has been proclaimed National Dairy Month, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges that with the more extensive use of milk, both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk is a health measure.

Local interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking advance in milk control has been responsible for the enormous saving in infant life.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods of production is a health hazard.

FARM "MUSTS"

Flushing out the weed sprayer tanks with a solution of soda ash, or using baking soda and water to prevent rusting, and draining sprayer pumps to prevent freezing and breaking are "musts."

High Blood Pressure

Hardening of Arteries,
Pains in Left Arm

Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes on Feb. 20, 1942:

"Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mass.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here has taken two bottles and is much better, his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerable. This garlic works, and you are doing a fine job of producing it for the benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."

diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, undulant fever, diarrhea and enteritis. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care.

"I Shot Jesse James" Coming to Rialto

Was it really Jesse James who was shot in the back in 1882 by his "best friend," Bob Ford?

That was the question being asked by Producer Robert L. Lippert when he started filming "I Shot Jesse James," the pretentious historical drama being released by Screen Guild and which comes to the Rialto Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, June 29 and 30, with a cast headed by Preston Foster, Barbara Britton and John Ireland.

And Producer Lippert had good reason to wonder even though Samuel Fuller, noted author who wrote the original screenplay, had spent weeks delving into research material and had come to the conclusion that it was really Jesse James who died from the bullet fired by "the dirty little coward who shot Mr. Howard."

Like everything else connected with the thrilling screenplay, Lippert's reason for doubt was factual. As factual as a telephone call—or many of them, from a 101-year-old man who claimed that he was the original Jesse James and that Lippert had no right to show him being shot. The man goes by the name of J. Frank Dalton—or he did until he decided he wanted to be known as Jesse James. And he had plenty of support for his claim, principally from Al Jennings, the 85-year-old one-time train robber, now reformed, who claims to have known James intimately. In fact, Dalton—or James, if you prefer—was visiting Jennings when all the telephoning was done.

Flushing out the weed sprayer tanks with a solution of soda ash, or using baking soda and water to prevent rusting, and draining sprayer pumps to prevent freezing and breaking are "musts."
