Clean-Up Program Should Be Carried on During Entire Year

Austin, Texas — During the last several summers, considerable enthusiasm was shown by various local groups such as Chambers of Commerce, many Civic Organizations, and others in the arranging of a fly eradication program. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that for taking interest in this work, the responsible parties are to be commended.

However, without year-round community sanitation the ultimate result, which is so important, has not always been too successful; in some areas this has given rise to rumors that flies are DDT resistant.

"The Texas State Department of Health heartily endorses a fly spraying program, provided it includes a general clean-up program carried out during the entire year," Dr. Cox said. "For example, why spray a garbage heap that not only invites, but actually breeds flies when it should have been removed. Why spray the city dump when it really should be covered. I fear the unplanned spraying program is similar to the application of perfume or toilet water to overcome B. O. or the application of powder to cover dirt."

In a well-planned fly control program, Dr. Cox declared, all places where flies gather, such as dumps, rubbish piles, garbage piles and decaying vegetation should be cleaned up by hauling away and burying. Proper garbage and rubbish containers with fly tight covers should be demanded from all. All buildings should be screened. Then, secure a sprayer outfit, preferably with one or more hoses each manned by a skilled operator to spray the areas where flies and other insects will light. It does little good to spray the center of the street, the ball diamond or the sidewalks. Spray the surfaces where insects light or breed.

A residual spray remains active until the DDT washes off or is covered with grease, dirt or soot. This usually lasts four to six weeks. After that, a second spray is recommended provided the item of clean-up is still being carried out.

Procedure to Obtain Loan on Wheat Stored on the Farm and in Warehouses Explained by County A. C. A. Chairman

There seem to be a number of confusing rumors concerning the Government Loan on wheat, both in warehouse and on the farm storage, it was announced this week by Dwight Campbell, chairman of the Foard County Agricultural Conservation Association.

Mr. Campbell further states that the procedure to be followed by the farmers is simple and convenient. On farm-stored wheat for loan, the farmer is required to store the wheat and level it in the bin. When this is done he must notify the local AAA office, which is located in the court house. A fee of $3.00 is paid at the time application for the loan is made. Mr. Campbell adds that the wheat in storage does not have to be insured and does not have to be weighed before the loan is made. There is an allowance of 7 cents per bushel to be made on all farm-stored wheat which is delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation in payment of the loan.

On warehouse-stored loan wheat the loan will be made when the warehouse certificates are presented to the AAA office.

1949 Texas Highway Map Ready for Distribution June 3

Austin, Texas, June 3 — The 1949 Texas Highway Map comes off the presses today ready for free distribution by the Texas Highway Department. Showing 31,000 miles of completed Texas highways, over 30,000 miles paved, the map is illustrated with drawings and 30 full color pictures.

A panel is devoted this year to travel attractions in Mexico on the Pan-American Highway, with particular attention given to prehistoric ruins. This highway, which dissects Texas, north to south, now runs to Tuxtla, almost in Central America. Texas will be the gateway state in future travel on this international road.

Complete mileage tables of comparative distances between Texas cities and between state capitals outside of Texas to border points in Texas are given. Mileages from Laredo south to points on the Pan American Highway are included. A United States road map, showing major national highways, is on the back of the Texas map.

Governor Beauford Jester's message to Texas travelers prefaces the edition.

Farm Cash Income in Texas Takes Rise in April

Austin, Texas, June 11—Texas farm cash income totaled $68,176,000 in April, rising 25 per cent from March, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Cattle was the greatest source of income in April, bringing Texas farmers $33,386,000. Income from milk products totaled $10,298,000; and eggs, $4,724,000.

Heavier marketings of cattle, fruits and vegetables, and livestock products pushed April income ahead of last month in the majority of crop-reporting districts, South Texas Plains, Lower Rio Grande Valley, and Edwards Plateau more than doubled their farm income from March to April.

On the other hand, March-to-April declines ranged from 2 per cent in Red Bed Plains to 9 per cent in Northern High Plains.

The English government provides free dental service and a lot of other so-called free things that certain groups are trying to put across in this country, but the income tax rate necessary to pay for it is enormous. The word "free" in connection with any paternalistic program is a mockery. Everyone with a grain of common sense knows there is no such thing as free service. It all has to be paid for by the worker who not only pays for his own service but also, through taxes, the service for two or three others.

Everyone desires to live as long as possible but there is little pleasure to be found in life after one outlives his family and the friends of his younger years. When that happens one is left pretty much alone.

Safety conferences are being called in various parts of the country for the purpose of promoting an educational program tended to make car drivers safety conscious. All of this is good and it helps, but something else is needed. At the present time in most parts of the country the manner in which careless drivers are handled by the law after they are found guilty of careless driving does a great deal of the effects of the teaching. The best deterrent to wrong doing is not the severity of the punishment that may be imposed, if an offender is apprehended but the certainty of punishment. It has been found that habitually careless drivers are prone to accidents. They have one after another. The only cure and safeguard against such is a permanent suspension of the driving license. When we supplement our safety driving teaching with realistic treatment of offenders we will be on the road to effective accident prevention.

It is estimated that the 25-day Ford strike cost all those directly affected over 200 million dollars. It is not possible to compute the exact cost. Each of the 100,000 workers lost an average of at least $200 in wages, or a total of 20 million dollars. The company will have lost the production of about 80,000 cars and trucks with a total value of 160 million dollars. In addition to this is the cost of the maintenance of the fifty-one plants and the payment of the office workers during the strike which may easily run to 20 million dollars more. This does not take into account the losses sustained by 7200 Ford dealers and 3,500 supplier firms that sell directly to Ford.

The sale of United States Savings Bonds recently launched by the government comes at an opportune time and offers those with surplus funds a splendid opportunity to buy with cheap dollars bonds that will be worth more in purchasing power when normal times return. The dollar today is worth around 60 cents when it comes to the things it will buy. At the present time a U. S. Savings bond is the only thing one can buy that does not have an inflated price. The thrifty investors who put their cheap dollars in Savings Bonds are going to realize a nice profit on their investment when normal times return, and the value of the dollar returns to 80, 90 or 100 cents.

A Kansas woman was driving home her husband's tractor. In some way she disturbed a swarm of bees and they went after her. In spite of the fright and pain she brought the tractor to a stop and ran to a near-by farm house. The doctor took 80 stings out of her head.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

We hear a great deal these days about the danger of inflation. Whatever alarms that are expressed, I do not feel they are in any wise exaggerated. I went through economic conditions in this country which occurred in 1929 and I don't think it would be possible to exaggerate them. I recall that at that time we were riding along on a high wave of prosperity. Wages kept on increasing, prices kept on increasing and it seemed there could be no end to our immediate prosperity. But there was an end—an end that came swiftly and without notice or warning.

I feel when the next adjustment comes, as it will, it will come just as did the adjustment in 1929, without a moment's warning. As I recall the 1929 crack-up, no one, not even the smartest business men or forecasters of the country saw the crack-up coming, or even sensed its approach.

Notwithstanding, the memory of this disastrous debacle is still fresh in our minds, there are those who seem to think that the tide of rising prices can and will continue to rise indefinitely.

Workers whose wages are based on living costs claim to be justified in asking for the periodical increases because of the advanced living costs—yet every advance in wages is reflected in later advanced living costs.

The question naturally arises where does the vicious, endless circle start? At what point in the circle is a halt going to have to be called? Up to the present time no one seems to want to admit that he is the cause of increasing living costs. So far this system hasn't worked. So far costs of living have continued to inch up slowly but surely.

In my opinion there appears at least one good starting point. Every time an extra dollar of taxes is laid on the American people, the cost of living is going to be automatically advanced and with the advance in the cost of living, wages are going to be advanced and the trend of higher prices given a new impetus.

When it comes to the matter of reducing taxes there has been found but one successful way—that is by the introduction of economies in government—by reducing federal expenditures, by refusing to create new obligations that call for more and higher taxes.

I think that it is folly to talk of lower living costs and at the same time plan for things that call for new and heavier taxes. The two extremes cannot be harmonized.

In my opinion the government is going to have to make the first move by reducing expenses and cutting taxes. It should make this move before it is forced to do so by a tumbling economy.

I believe that such a reduction is necessary for the reason that we cannot keep on with mounting costs and mounting inflation and hope to escape disaster. Some one has to make the first move. Why shouldn't it be the government?

IN THE NEWS 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of the Foard County News of Friday, June 13, 1919:

A number of the men and boys who are in business and who are employed in town have been going to the wheat fields this week to help shock wheat, which is a fine spirit.

We had the privilege of seeing D. P. Yoder's Wallis tractor pull a binder this week on the Best farm east of town. By way of explanation as to how we came to see the tractor at work we might say that we were shocking.

C. B. Brogden and Everett Bell, managers of the Bell Grain Co., gave the News a large order for printing this week, preparatory to handling the big wheat crop soon to be pouring into their elevator. The new elevator of T. L. Hughston is going up rapidly and will also be ready to handle its share of the crop.

Riley Self made a trip to Dallas the latter part of last week to get binder extras.

Miss Floy Haney visited her sister, Mrs. J. H. Cope, in Quanah Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Max Miller and daughter, Freda, left Tuesday for Abilene.

Mrs. B. F. Ringgold and daughter, Bevy, returned Wednesday from a visit with Mrs. Ringgold's son, C. B. Williams, and family in Clarendon.

S. S. Bell went to Wichita Falls Saturday and brought back a new Maxwell car.

Marion Hughston has purchased the J. D. Leeper home and he and his wife moved into their new home Wednesday.

L. E. Blakemore came in from Amistad, N. M., yesterday to help his father in the wheat harvest.

Business Decline in Texas Continues

Austin, Texas, June 11—The decline that has been under way for the last few months continued in most segments of Texas business during April, although consumer spending increased rather sharply for the first month, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

As a result of the rise in department and apparel stores, the Bureau's index of Texas business edged up 1 per cent to 219 per cent of the 1935-39 base. The April index was 2 per cent above April 1948. The level of general business has been declining gradually since August of last year when the index stood at 233.

Dr. John R. Stockton, Bureau statistician, said the downward trend of Texas business parallels the readjustment that has been taking place in business activity in the United States. Both the value of production and the level of prices have continued to decline, with the result that the total value of the nation's output of goods and services declined from $265 billion in the last quarter of 1948 to $256 billion in the first quarter of 1949. Although this decline had been foreshadowed in the latter part of 1948 when inflationary pressures began to ease, the decline in the first quarter of 1949 was the first important drop since the reconversion period ended early in 1946.

Statistics tell us that each person who owns an automobile works an average of three weeks a year to keep it up. On top of this it requires the savings of several years of the average person to make the original purchase of a car.

RIGBY OWEN, publisher of the offset-printed, Opelousas (La.) World, is one of the top-flight newspapermen who will speak at the 70th Annual Texas Press Association Meeting in Galveston on June 16-17-18. His topic will be: "Newspaper Printing by Offset." Owen started in the newspaper profession as a twelve-year-old carrier boy. He began going places in newspaper work from the moment he "worked up" his first route—and didn't stop until he was publisher of America's first successful offset-printed small city daily. CARD OF THANKS

It is with a grateful and appreciative heart that I attempt to express my sincere thanks to the friends who were so kind to me while I was ill in the hospital and since I have come home. The cards, letters, visits, flowers, everything done was appreciated to the fullest. "Thanks" to each one.

Weekly Sermon

The Way to Revival
by G. Coleman Luck, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

"Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground; for it is time to seek the Lord, till He come and rain righteousness upon you" (Hosea 10:12).

The book of Hosea is a stirring call to a backslidden people to return to God. If they continue in their evil course, judgment is sure to come. But if they repent and seek Him, He will yet pour out blessings. That is God's message for His people during all ages.

Here are also God's conditions for revival at any time. It should be remembered that the Hebrew people were a nation of farmers. So pictures connected with farm life are often used to illustrate spiritual truths. The above text is such an illustration. "Sow to yourselves in righteousness," says the prophet. But before sowing there must be preparation of the soil.

So Hosea continues: "It is time to seek the Lord." Israel was far from God. The same sad fact is true in our nation today. This is evidenced by such things as the great increase in crime, in divorce, in juvenile delinquency, and in other evils. Even in the Church we find modernism, dead orthodoxy, denomination alism, worldliness, lethargy, selfishness, and other indications that a revival is needed.

What is the way to seek the Lord? "Break up your fallow ground." Fallow ground is "ground once tilled but now lying waste, needing to be broken up and mellowed, before it is suited to receive grain." This speaks of the heart. Let us examine ourselves honestly to see what our true heart condition is. Then let us repent and confess our sins to God. First, "break up." He wants a broken and contrite heart. Then "sow" those things which are pleasing to Him.

When we do this, notice the wonderful result God promises: "He will come and rain righteousness upon you." If we do our part, He will do His—He will provide the "rain" so necessary to the production of the harvest. "Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. . . . Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He shall lift you up" (James 4:8, 10).

FARM HOMES IMPROVED

Farm families have used their larger incomes to improve their houses, says the bureau of agricultural economics. The number of farm houses with modern bathrooms more than doubled from 1940 to 1947 and more than a million were supplied with running water. Much remains to be done. In April, 1947, two-thirds of the farm houses still had no running water and four-fifths were without modern bathrooms.

Explains Operation of New Veterans' Land Program

By BASCOM GILES
Commissioner of the General Land Office

The Veterans land program is now a reality.

The idea was born in the hearts of the veterans themselves while they were overseas and thinking about home. Their letters to my office asking how they might obtain a farm or ranch home if and when they returned, inspired me to put the machinery of this program in motion.

Last week Governor Jester's signature made the Veteran's Land bill into formal law. The bill was sponsored in the upper House by Senator John Bell of Cuero and in the lower House by Representative Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba.

The legislation grew out of a Constitutional Amendment adopted by the Citizens of Texas in a special election in November of 1946. At the following session of the Legislature the necessary enabling legislation failed to receive final consideration in the Senate.

The 51st Legislature, promptly and without a single negative vote in either House carried out the mandate of the people, making it possible for Texas Veterans of World War II to own a farm or ranch home of their own choosing by making a small down payment with the balance financed by the State at a low interest rate.

The Legislature has placed the administration of this program in the hands of the Governor, Attorney General and the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Here briefly are some of the outstanding provisions of the new law:

The Board may issue up to $25 million in bonds to finance the program.

Land may be purchased from an individual, from the State, or Corporations for re-sale to veterans at cost. (This provision will be more fully explained in a separate article.—Editor's Note.)

Veteran may select land which he desires to purchase subject to the approval of the Board.

The maximum purchase by each veteran shall not exceed $7,500 to be financed by the State.

Veterans disabled by combat service connected disability have 90 days preference right to purchase.

Lands may be purchased for a minimum of 5 per cent down payment with 40 years to pay the balance at 3 per cent interest. (This indebtedness may be retired sooner if the veteran wishes.)

All money received during the six remaining years of operation shall be used to pay interest on bonds and to purchase additional land for re-sale to veteran. The purchaser shall not transfer or sell lands purchased for a period of 3 years from the date of purchase. The veteran will not be permitted to make more than one purchase. The veteran is not required to reside upon the property.

All applications should be addressed to Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Austin, Texas.

ARTIST-SPEAKER—At the age of 18 John Bindrum won an art award at Wanamakers in New York, and proceeded to build an outstanding reputation, both as a commercial artist and an exceptionally fine water colorist. For the past 16 years he has been with Metro Associated Services in New York. When the Texas Press Association holds its 70th Annual Meeting in Galveston, June 16, 17 and 18, Bindrum will be on hand to give Texas newspaper publishers some pointers on planning effective advertising for their merchants. He is also an instructor at the Brooklyn Museum Art School.

AD ARTIST—Texas newspaper publishers will be given tips on advertising layout and illustrating at the Texas Press Association's 70th Annual Meeting in Galveston on June 16, 17, 18. Fred Spigel (above) will show the publishers and admen how to help their local merchants by planning more effective advertising. Spigel has been art director for Metro Associated Services in New York City for 18 years. He received the Treasury Department's Medal for illustration work performed in behalf of the war effort during World War II.

More than 250,000 women have invested in plastic dress forms for the purpose of making their own dresses. Molded in warm plastic directly on the customer, the form is an exact reproduction of the customer's figure.

Slot machines are outlawed in 46 states.

ELMER WHEELER, nationally known public speaker and writer from Dallas, will address the Texas Press Association's 70th Annual Convention in Galveston, June 16, 17 and 18. "Sizzling Salesmanship" is Wheeler's topic. "Sizzling Salesmanship" gets its name from Elmer's selling slogan—"Don't sell the Steak. Sell the Sizzle," and is salesmanship with jet propulsion. Wheeler flunked public speaking in school; then, in true Horatio Alger tradition, he not only "came through"—but went all out and became one of America's most dynamic speech-makers. Last year Wheeler addressed more than one million people.

Austin Highlights

(By Sen. George Moffett)

Austin, Texas, June 13—One of the bills passed by the Legislature at this session and already signed by the Governor which the voters will undoubtedly want to know more about is the so-called secret ballot bill. This bill is the result of a lot of work by several organizations and was brought about by the fact that in many parts of Texas, principally South Texas, there has not been much secrecy about how people vote. It is thought that this condition ought to be remedied because it is believed that better government would result if people could vote their honest conviction without their vote being made public information.

A group of civic organizations, after thorough discussion, wrote the new bill and caused it to be introduced in the Legislature. It was amended several times where improvements were needed and is now the law. It provides that each ballot shall have a detachable stub bearing the same number as the ballot itself. When the voter enters the polls the ballots are supposed to be spread face down on a table so that no one can see the numbers on same. The voter selects one, votes his choice, tears off the numbered stub, writes his name on the stub, and puts it in a separate sealed box from the ballot. This sealed box containing the stubs is the only source of identification as to who voted the ballot with that particular number. In case of an election contest the judge may order the stub box opened and a recount made after checking the stubs and the actual ballots. Otherwise, the stub box is not to be opened, and at the end of 60 days the district clerk will burn the stubs in the presence of the county judge.

This is certainly a new system in Texas. Several other states have followed a similar system for some years. Those who sponsored it in this state believe it will work satisfactorily. We all hope so.

Next I will explain a new state fishing license law which certainly will interest many people. This new law provides that after September 1, all persons over 16 years of age using artificial lures must have a $1.65 license to fish anywhere, including their home county. All persons over 16 years of age using live bait only must have a $1.65 license to fish outside the county of their residence. Persons using cut bait and worms need not purchase a license.

Formerly persons fishing with artificial lures were the only ones required to have a license. The new law brings Texas into line with the fishing laws in most other states. The way it finally works out, if you buy a $1.65 license, you can fish with any kind of bait anywhere in Texas. The special licenses at Possum Kingdom, Eagle Mountain Lake, etc., have been abolished. There is still a special license required at Lake Texoma because that does not lie entirely within Texas. Efforts are now being made to secure a cooperative agreement with Oklahoma to abolish this special license.

The license laws in Texas are more lenient to fishermen than almost any other state.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

Washington, D. C., June 10, 1949—Except for office work and committee work, this has been a comparatively quiet week in the Congress. Therefore, we again devote our newsletter to the subject of political philosophy. The cold war now going on throughout the world is a war of ideals and beliefs, usually referred to as ideology. It involves the question of what people think they owe to the state and what they think the state owes to them. We get volumes of material each week on different phases of this debate. Much of it is plainly propaganda—some good and some bad, and some designed to inform and some designed to deceive. This week's newsletter from Mr. Thurman Sensing, director of research, Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tenn., seems to me to be worthy of reproduction. Mr. Sensing writes:

"I have just returned from an eight weeks visit to Great Britain, where I studied at first hand the results of a socialist government in action and observed its effects upon the freedom and the economy of the people.

"After four years of peace, I found the people of Great Britain still suffering under rationing and price control. Even so, prices of staples are relatively high and luxuries are out of the question. Their diet is even worse in some respects than it was during the war. Goods in the shops are scarce and quality is poor. The cost of living continues high. Taxation has reached a point where it is almost unbearable, and if continued will inevitably ruin the Nation. Production in the factories per man hour is low. The cost of manufactured goods is such that they cannot compete in the markets of the world on a price basis. The people, in effect, are prisoners on their own 'tight little island,' only a limited number being permitted to travel abroad each year, and each of this number only being allowed to spend a maximum sum of $140 for the purpose.

"The present predicament of that once proud nation is unquestionably the result of state control imposed upon the people by the Socialist Government when it came into power four years ago. The wastefulness and bungling and inefficiency of the Government in operating the key industries which it has thus far nationalized have resulted in enormous losses which have had to be paid for out of the taxpayers' pockets. The political entanglements fought on through bulk buying by the Government in the markets of the world have also cost the taxpayers enormous sums of money, and have at the same time resulted in less food for the people and higher costs for raw materials for their factories. The 'free' welfare benefits promised the people by the Socialist Government through a policy of 'soaking the rich' have cost far more than was 'planned.' The 'free' health service, for instance, was planned to cost $680 million the first year; it actually cost $1,040 million.

"A friendly welcome always in all classes and services."

Great Britain was in no position to afford any such benefits, and they could by no means have been provided without aid from the United States—aid, by the way, that was created by private enterprise.

"The wealth of Great Britain has been redistributed all right, and with a vengeance, but the nation is no better off than when the policy was adopted. And now, after four years of such redistribution, the Socialist Government itself has had to tell the people there is no further possibility of tax income from this source, that any extension of benefits will have to be paid for by the individuals who receive it, by the people themselves. What disillusionment—when the people had been led to believe there was no end to the benefits they could obtain in this manner!

"Are we in the United States learning the lesson that the experience of Great Britain is teaching us? That is a serious question—and upon the answer depends the future welfare of this nation and its people. Don't tell the industrialists of Great Britain that it can't happen here! They will laugh at you. They will tell you that if anyone had told them ten years ago, or as late as five years ago, that they would now be living under the kind of government they have, they would have said he was crazy. 'For God's sake,' they told me time and again, 'don't let socialism get started in the United States of America! You are our last great hope for the preservation of freedom in the world. Don't let the socialist camel get his head into the tent of free enterprise. There's not room enough for both of them.

"We will do well to remember this warning whenever measures are presented proposing that the government do for us what we should be doing for ourselves. We should avoid the 'planned economy' and the 'welfare state' like we would avoid the plague. They may sound good on paper, but they only lead to stagnation and ruin."

Miss Peggy Pittillo Becomes Bride of Harold Thomson

The marriage of Miss Peggy Pittillo and Harold Thomson was quietly solemnized in the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Rev. Aubrey C. Haynes, pastor, officiating with the single ring ceremony.

Attendees to the couple were Miss Joyzelle Thomson, sister of the groom, and Baxter Gentry. The bride was attired in a dress of white silk with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of orchids. Miss Thomson wore a two-piece crepe frock and her corsage was of white carnations.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for a short wedding trip after which they will reside in Crowell.

Mrs. Thomson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pittillo and is a graduate of Crowell High School with the class of 1949. Mr. Thomson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thomson. He is also a Crowell High School graduate. He is now employed with Leotis Roberts, local contractor.

Oil Company Also Claiming Texas Tidelands

Attorney General Price Daniel said today the Federal Government is not the only one claiming submerged lands on the Texas coast against the State school fund. In a letter to members of the Texas Senate Daniel revealed that Kenedy Ranch Company and Humble Oil and Refining Company are claiming 36,928 acres of Laguna Madre adversely to the State.

Daniel described the Laguna area as "a great arm of the sea" lying between Padre Island and the Texas mainland and extending from Corpus Christi to Port Isabel. The disputed area lies wholly within Kenedy County and is traversed by the Intercoastal Canal. His letter urged immediate passage of H. B. 753, or similar legislation, which he described as essential for protection of the interests of the people of Texas in thousands of acres of submerged land. The bill passed the House without a dissenting vote, but its Senate sponsor, Senator Fred (Red) Harris, has had difficulty in getting enough votes for consideration in the upper chamber.

The bill would confirm the Attorney General's authority to file suits for recovery of submerged lands the same as other public lands, and would provide venue of such suits in either Travis County or the County where the land is located. The present law fixes venue exclusively in the county where the land is located. If it is not amended by H. B. 753 it means the State would have to litigate its claim against Kenedy Ranch Co. and Humble in Kenedy, which has only 170 qualified jurors, 150 of whom are reported to be employees or connected with the Kenedy Ranch, Daniel said. He said the State would not be forced to try its lawsuits locally under such conditions and that choice of venue was also necessary in tidelands areas of the Gulf of Mexico where County boundaries are unmarked and uncertain.

The bill applies only to submerged lands. Daniel said these lands justify a special statute if "the Senate wishes the State to have a fair trial" in this (Laguna Madre case) and similar cases which may arise in sparsely settled counties. The legislation was recommended by the School Land Board and submitted as an emergency by Governor Jester.

Daniel took note of heavy lobbying against the bill. He said, "Since attorneys for some of the corporations claiming against the State have diligently presented their views against H. B. 753, I deem it entirely proper for me as the State's attorney to present my views on the measure. The decision, of course, is up to you and other members of the Senate who are entrusted with the protection of this land equally as much as the executive officers of the State." "Please be assured that I do not by this letter impugn the motives of Kenedy Ranch Co. or the Humble Oil & Refining Co. in making their claim against the State or in trying to force the State to litigate with them in Kenedy County, or not at all. They have a legal theory which they are entitled to present. They have the right if it would be advantageous to them to try to keep all litigation on the subject in Kenedy County by the defeat of Section 3 of this bill. But by the same token it appears to me that representatives of the State of Texas have the right to provide by general statute that the State has a choice of counties in which to litigate when such cases and circumstances arise," Daniel concluded.

He distinguished the lands involved from the old "vacancy" cases which caused transfer of venue from Travis County. On this point Daniel said, "Venue was changed from Travis County to the county of location on all State lands in 1929 in order to save people whose lands had been filed on for 'vacancies' from being pulled to Austin to try lawsuits affecting their farms and homes. 'Submerged land' suits are clearly distinguishable. No one lives on these lands, and 'vacancy' applications do not apply to them. If anyone claims them adversely to the State, he knows from the beginning that he can expect a lawsuit which would hardly be classed as a 'racket' such as some of the old 'vacancy' suits were."

Candidate

Caso March of Waco has resigned his position as professor of law at Baylor University to make his third consecutive race for Governor of Texas. The Waco lawyer has announced that he will open his campaign headquarters in Waco and hit the campaign trail in early June and stay on the road until the election, 1950. March's platform calls for the redistribution of the tax burden in Texas from the small home owner and farmer to certain natural resources; $50 a month old age pensions, rural roads, aid to institutions for the mentally sick, veterans bonus, assumption by the State of the local bond indebtedness of school districts and the preservation of local self government in Texas.

The Green Promise to Be Shown at Rialto Wed. and Thurs.

The Green Promise which is to be shown at the Rialto Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, June 22 and 23, has been endorsed by motion picture reviewers of twelve national women's organizations representing a total membership of more than ten million people. The General Federation of Women's Clubs says, "There is honesty and sincerity in this pastoral drama which deals particularly with the work of the 4-H Clubs and their influence on young farm people. An excellent cast makes the simple story real and appealing with Walter Brennan and Natalie Wood, a regular pixie of a child, outstanding. There is much that is amusing; costumes add to the naturalness of the picture. The church scenes are realistic and authentic. Moral and ethical values are high and it is well photographed and is good entertainment for all ages."

It has been declared as one of the year's most exceptional pictures and is recommended as an ideal film for the entire family. It is practically a picture of you, you and you. It is a wonderful picture about wonderful folks, their hopes and laughter, their tears and triumphs. It tugs at the heart strings, a romance on a mid-western farm, which dramatizes the 4-H Club activities in a dramatic way which makes for a heart-warming, interesting picture which must be seen to be fully appreciated.

High Blood Pressure

Hardening of Arteries, Pains in Left Arm and Side—

Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes on Feb. 20, 1948:

"Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mass.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here has taken two bottles and is much better, his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerable. This garlic works, and you are doing a fine job of producing it for the benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."

HISTORY

Father's Day—June 19: Credit for suggesting a day to honor the fathers of the country to be known as Father's Day, is generally given to Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash. The idea appealed to Mrs. Dodd as a deserved tribute to her own father who had assumed the task of rearing a family of children after the death of their mother. She took the matter up with the Spokane Ministerial Association and suggested that the third Sunday in June be set apart as an occasion for honoring the fathers of the country. The Association approved the suggestion and the first celebration was held in Spokane in June 1910. Sons and daughters were asked to wear a red rose if their father were living and a white rose if the father was dead. The idea of observing Father's Day spread slowly and for the next two or three years several cities launched a Father's Day observance, each believing the idea originated with them. In 1918 the States and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Force in France proposed, as an observance of Father's Day, that the fathers in the United States write their sons in the service in France, and that the sons write a letter to their fathers. Among the efforts to gain recognition of the day was the introduction of a resolution in the House of Representatives by J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, designating the first Sunday in June as Father's Day. The resolution failed to pass. A similar resolution introduced by Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York, also failed to pass. The observance of the move to establish Father's Day as commented favorably upon by President Wilson and President Coolidge. With all the efforts, Father's Day receives but scant attention. Haberdashers and tobacco stores attempt to capitalize upon it with suggestions that fathers be remembered with a gift, but the day has never gained the general acceptance accorded to Mother's Day.

GUY FAWKES DAY

Guy Fawkes was foiled in his plan to blow up the British House of Parliament. In 1605 Fawkes was hanged, and the English celebrated the discovery of the plot with a gay holiday on November 5th. The English children dressed up in costumes, begged for pennies, and shot off fireworks.
