In order to be eligible for a wheat acreage allotment on any land which had no wheat seeded during the years 1947, 1948 or 1949, the producer must make application in writing to the County Committee before July 1, 1949. It was announced last week by Dwight Campbell, chairman of the Foard County

Terraces were constructed last year on the farms of Grady Halbert, Frank Welch and Milburn Hill. A terrace outlet channel also constructed on the Halbert farm to handle excess water on terraces.

Terrace lines have been run on the following farms: R. McLean, Fate McDougle, Frank Welch in the Foard area; Avis Whitman, T. R. Daniel and D. H. Scott, in the Creek area.

These terraces are being built with a Hancock terracer. A trial of "Guar," a drought-resistant summer legume, was made on the first of last week on the farm of Joe Coufal, north of Thalia. Mr. Coufal reports that it is a good stand. There are two varieties of Guar. These varieties are compact. Attention Classing to Farmers Who Meet Requirements

Plans for handling the 1949 cotton classing and market news service available to farmers without charge under the Smith-Downey Act announced here today by J. Albritton, in charge of the Oklahoma, office of the cotton classing, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farmers should apply for these benefits just as they did last year," Albritton said. "To be eligible for the free cotton classing and market news service, farmers must meet the following requirements: 1. Self, or a group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton; 2. plant part of the acreage in the variety of cotton adapted by the group; 3. file application as soon as the cotton is planted.

Groups in this area should send all the benefits due them under this program, their group application should reach our office by July 1," Mr. Albritton said. However, application will be accepted until August 1st.

USE FOR PAPER CLIPS

Paper clips are very useful in many ways. They can be used to fasten pieces of cloth together to save from being lost. These clips are helpful to hold pleats in place when sewing and in ironing.

Dr. H. M. Burk Appointed City Health Officer

Dr. Houston Burk has been appointed the City health officer by the City Council. He replaces Dr. Hines Clark who for years served the community so well as health officer.

Dr. Burk stated that the 1949 incidence of polio in Texas is getting to be serious. And that already there are more cases of the disease than at this time last year, and 1948, he said, was a record year as far as polio is concerned.

The disease, the physician remarked, is creeping closer and closer to our community and steps must be taken to check it and every ounce of precaution at the disposal of Crowell citizens should be applied to keep polio away from any child or grown person in the community.

Dr. Burk strongly approved the decision of the City Council in declaring an emergency and establishing a regular garbage collection for the city. "The fee is small, he said, only twenty-five cents a week, to help safeguard the health of the youth and adults for polio strikes young and old alike. One cannot count in dollars and cents, when such an issue is present."

The health officer tersely remarked that the garbage collection at regular times by the city is necessary from a sanitation viewpoint. And that to leave it to one's own discretion as to when garbage should be moved is folly and unwise.

"You can't expect to wipe out in a few weeks the probable cause of polio, that has been accumulating for years," the doctor stated. "It takes a good scare to make people clean up. But we don't want the scare here in Crowell."

As City Health Officer, Dr. Burk will make regular inspections of all eating places and food dispensaries.

Observance of Traffic Signs Helps Prevent Accidents

Austin, June 27 (Spl.)—Would you drive with your head tucked under the dashboard of your car? It's as sensible to do that, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said today, as to ignore warning signs along the streets and highways. "Either one represents a case of flying blind," Greer said, "and cars aren't equipped for blind flying."

The Texas Highway Department is cooperating this month with the Texas Safety Association in an effort to impress the importance of traffic markers on motorists and pedestrians alike.

"Traffic signs and signals and pavement markings cover almost every situation that can be anticipated, yet the regularity with which they are ignored is appalling," Greer said. "A conscientious observance of traffic signs would help greatly to reduce traffic accidents."

Greer pointed out that traffic signs are easily recognized by their distinctive shapes, even at a distance that makes their lettering illegible. And he urged drivers to increase their own traffic protection by learning what these shapes are.

"Round markers are used to indicate approaches to railroad crossings," he said. "The familiar 'cross-buck' marks the crossing itself. Oblong signs indicate speed limits or other regulatory instructions. Diamond shaped signs warn of danger ahead. Eight-sided signs are used only for stop signs."

The Highway Engineer emphasized that every sign has a meaning and a purpose, and is installed for the protection and guidance of the people only after study by traffic engineers has established its advisability.

POULTRY PRECAUTION

Owners should burn the carcasses of poultry that die of infectious diseases.

COTTAGE CHEESE

A cup and a half of cottage cheese furnishes the same amount of calcium as a cup of milk.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

Washington, D. C., June 24, 1949—Among those who listened to my recent speech delivered to a Conference of Rural Women of the State of Maryland, was a German Countess by the name of Eltz. She is one of a group of 60 Germans brought over here by our military government to study American life and habits. Recently the American Military Government has inaugurated a program of bringing groups of Germans here to learn of American ideals. If trying to Americanize Europeans is a good thing, this seems to be a better way than sending Americans over there for such purpose.

However, our point is this: Following my speech, Countess Eltz came to my office to commend my views and to tell me more of the terrible problem of the expellees. At the Yalta Conference in February, 1945, Mr. Roosevelt had as his confidential adviser, Mr. Alger Hiss, now on trial for aiding communists while a member of our State Department. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Stalin at that time entered into a secret agreement authorizing the expulsion of German people from areas occupied and controlled by the Russians. This agreement was later ratified and confirmed in Potsdam, in August 1945, by Mr. Truman. Had Mr. Roosevelt been in the vigor of good health, he would not have listened to such bad advice at Yalta. Had Mr. Truman not been so new in the game of international diplomacy, he probably would not have agreed to the Yalta compact at Potsdam.

At any rate, as a result of our agreement, the Russians and their satellites behind the iron curtain forcibly drove out and expelled from their homes approximately 20 million German people. Most of these people were farmers. In many instances, the lands from which they were driven had been in the hands of their folks for a thousand years. They were driven from Yugoslavia, Rumania, Hungary, Poland, East Prussia, Czechoslovakia, and the Baltic countries. Bear in mind this was done after the shooting was all over. Most of it occurred in the winter of 1945. Around 5 million of these people died in a few months, of starvation, disease, and from freezing to death. Trains manned by Russian and Polish troops, and by satellite mercenaries were often in route for weeks, with people crammed like sardines in every available car. Soldiers would go through the trains and throw the bodies of frozen children, and others, through the windows. There are still around 14 million of these expellees who were dumped into the American and British military zones in which one-third of all the housing had been destroyed. They live in caves and hovels, under indescribable conditions. In the vast majority of cases, the only crime of which these people had been guilty was that of being of German-Ethnic origin. Under the IRO Constitution, people of German-Ethnic origin cannot be classified as displaced persons.

The Morgenthau plan announced about a year before the war was over, was also a colossal blunder. It, too, was sold to an ailing President who was not aware of its disastrous effects. The Morgenthau plan was one to destroy all German industry and to reduce Germany completely into an agricultural state. Some think the announcement of the Morgenthau plan prolonged the war many months and cost many American lives. When you add to the Morgenthau plan, the Yalta agreement and the terrible problems in Central Europe at this time, under the Morgenthau plan, thousands of German factories have been completely torn down and moved into Russia. Now, we are trying to rebuild some of these industries as a means of providing a livelihood for people we cannot continue to feed and also as a means of combatting communism.

Following my Maryland speech, I received a letter from a student in the University of Maryland who is a Lithuanian and a veteran of World War II. He, too, agrees with my views that we are rewarding many undesirable persons while ignoring many desirable ones. He points out that many Lithuanians in our DP camps were members of the Nazi SS, and carried out mass pogroms against the Jews. Says he, "They are not communists but war criminals who are not wanted back home." He is supported by abundant evidence.

We continue to listen to sob stories and to shed crocodile tears about a half million so-called DP's whom we continue to feed, clothe, and house. No one tells the story of the expellees.

The second largest wheat crop on record is still in prospect, according to the U. S. Agriculture Department. Its second forecast of the year put the presently growing crop at 1,921,476,000 bushels. This is about 1,790,000 more than was predicted a month ago. The estimate raised the possibility of a wheat surplus that might lead to government production controls in the 1950 crop.

Officers Elected for Crowell Cemetery Association at Annual Meeting Held on Friday Afternoon, June 17th

The annual meeting of the Crowell Cemetery Association for the election of officers was held at the Christian Church Friday afternoon, June 10, with Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president, presiding. The following includes the list of officers elected to serve for the coming year:

Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president.
Mrs. R. R. Magee, vice president.
Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin, secretary.

Leo Black, treasurer.
Trustees are R. R. Magee, Oscar Boman and A. Y. Beverly. The executive board consists of Mike Bird, Ray Shirley and J. M. Crowell.

President's Message
Mrs. Roberts, who has served faithfully as president of the cemetery association, issued the following statement concerning the management, upkeep and financing of the cemetery:

"Annual meetings of the association are given front page publicity in our local paper, numbers are reminded of the meeting over the telephone, and at times announcements are made from the pulpits, yet these meetings are poorly attended.

"Surely it isn't from a lack of interest. When one attends one of these meetings and learns of the multiple problems that are connected with the cemetery care, it's easy to see why the 'let George do it' attitude prevails. Surely no one is satisfied with the way our cemetery is kept. These meetings give opportunity to those who have suggestions to offer.

"A treasurer's report is always given. We have two means of raising funds, one is voluntary gifts, which amounted from June to June to $597.00. The other is from lot sales which have been too cheap, and at this meeting we voted to raise the price of lots.

"Earl Eubanks is our sexton. He is paid by the month. We voted at this meeting to see that his salary will be $100 per month if the grave digging does not bring it up to that sum. All grave digging over that amount is his.

"We pay for the water which runs from $2 to $5 per month. Our house insurance runs around $25 per year. This May, again, we had more gravel hauled to our streets. This was $108. There are also tools to buy. The house roof had to be repaired.

"Now Earl needs a lawn mower. He is trying to operate with a hoe and a rake. We want to wire the house for electricity. This will not only add convenience to the occupants, but will enhance the value of our property. We want to open up a lane along the west fence, this will require a new gate and another graveled street.

"The center of the cemetery would provide the nucleus for a beauty spot if some group would assume the responsibility.

"We have that perennial problem of haphazard laying of copings. Find your corners from the sexton and don't lay yours wrong because your neighbor has. Some day they will have to be moved. Be on hand when a stone is set.

"The sexton is there to take care of the general upkeep. You pay us and we will pay him." The contributions since the last report was made are these:

Mrs. R. T. Owens	$2.50
Mrs. R. L. Kincaid	$5.00
Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin	$5.00
E. Kenner	$5.00
Mrs. Emily Girsch	$5.00

Plans to Continue Clean Up Campaign Talked at Meeting

Further steps were taken Tuesday night at a meeting of all the civic and study clubs in the City of Crowell to make the city safer from the threat of polio and other summer diseases prevalent in some Texas communities.

The meeting was opened by Jack Seale, general chairman, who stated that the first step taken in the clean-up campaign was the washing of the business streets by the Volunteer Fire Department and the Lions Club, and that the Highway Department had followed this up by sweeping the streets.

Mr. Seale announced that the spraying of Crowell had taken place as an emergency precaution against polio. Each club was then assigned a designated number of streets to inspect and to contact property owners, where necessary, to have weeds cut on the lots.

Mayor Hubert Brown told those present that the city would cut weeds from all property owned by the city and a mower that had been ordered would cut on private property at a very reasonable price.

The Adolphian Club was assigned the streets starting at East Commerce and running along North First to Fourth street.

The Columbian Club was assigned North A. Main and over to First Street.

The Business and Professional Women's Club was to inspect from Fourth to Seventh Street.

The Garden Club has from North B. Street and north.

The Lions Club will take care of everything east of South Main and East Commerce Streets; and the Rotary Club each street west of South Main and East Commerce.

Alton Bell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, told the group assembled that the chamber staff and facilities were at the disposal of the clubs for the drive for cleanliness and that anything that could be done by the chamber to help in the clean-up campaign would be done.

Mayor Brown stated that the City Council had declared an emergency and ordered a city-wide garbage collection once a week in the residential section and daily in the business district. Chamber officials present thought that the Council had acted wisely in this matter.

Members of the civic committee of the chamber of commerce were assigned to work with each of the following clubs: Adolphian, Garden, Columbian, and Business and Professional Women.

CAUSES OF SLOW MILKING DETERMINED BY ECONOMISTS

Poorly trained cows were found to be the chief cause of slow milking in a survey of typical New York dairy farms by agricultural economists at Cornell. Another reason is failure of the operator to remove the machine when milking complete.
 Records were taken on 22 farms with herds ranging in size from 11 to 38 cows. Machines were used to milk 87 per cent of the cows.
 Light was shed on how much time it takes various farmers to do the milking. The range was 3.85 to 8.50 minutes per cow, and the average a little more than 6 minutes.
 The average time to milk a cow by hand was about 6.50 minutes. Part of the cows were milked by hand on all but five farms, according to R. G. Murphy of the Cornell staff.
 The specialists were particularly interested in why machines were left on cows more than 7 minutes. Prolonged machine stripping was found to be one of the main reasons. In some instances the milking was completed but the operator had not removed the machine. Stripping the cow by hand was the most common job interfering with the removal of the machine.
 Shorter milking time for many cows could be attained, the economists concluded, by reducing the machine-stripping time and eliminating or reducing the amount of hand-stripping.

ENEMIES OF STUCCO

Rain, snow, ice and sleet are natural enemies of stucco. In the winter, rain or snow settles in the cracks in the surface, freezes and enlarges the cracks. As this continues, sooner or later bits of the stucco are forced off and the house becomes unsightly. Proper painting with suitable colors and materials would keep the cracks sealed, the rain, snow and sleet out, and would give character to the house at one and the same time.
 Miss Marie Spangler, California, who won $26,000 in prizes on a radio program recently, has been told by the Bureau of Internal Revenue that she will have to turn over 20 per cent of it or $5,000 to the government. In as much as she received no cash, Miss Spangler wants to know if the government will settle for a $3,000 gold-plated lawn mower, one of the prizes. She says she doesn't have a lawn and thinks the lawnmower would be just the thing for the revamped White House.

NURSING, ANCIENT PROFESSION

Lowly hot water bottle was in use 2,000 years ago, reports the American Nurses' association. In the form of a bladder filled with hot water, it was applied for the relief of pain by early Greek physicians, at least one of whom, Rufus, who died about 117 A. D., mentions it in his writings. Medical science is thousands of years old, and nursing goes back to the dawn of the human race, but modern professional nursing, the ANA points out, did not develop in this country until 1873.
 A new process has been announced whereby it is possible to can cream without preservative, as milk is now canned, and store it indefinitely, with refrigeration. It is even promised that there will be no change in the taste of the cream. At the present time the canned cream is being shipped to tropical areas in South and Central America, where the purchase of fresh milk is very difficult. A Wisconsin firm cans the cream for the Dairy Dream Farms, Inc., of New York. At the present time two types are canned—an 18.5 per cent butter fat type for coffee and breakfast foods, and a heavy whipping cream. The canned cream requires no refrigeration even in hot climates until opened.

RABBITS IN ATOMIC WORK

A pair of English lop-eared rabbits is the newest addition to the animal collection of the Atomic Energy project of the University of California at Los Angeles. The rabbits get their name from their large (8 inches long) floppy ears, which have a minimum of cartilage and which the rabbits are unable to raise. The structure and size of the ears make them valuable for general cardiovascular (blood vessels and heart) research. The Atomic Energy project will use the animals specifically for studying the effect of radiation on capillaries, which are readily observable in the rabbits' long ears.

CITRUS BLACK FLY CONTROL

Control of the citrus black fly has been given campaign status in Mexico. A national committee, supported by regional committees, will direct the effort. In the three states infested by the fly (San Luis Potosi, Tamaulipas and Nuevo Leon) two special taxes are being imposed to finance citrus fruit growers to pay 10 centavos per tree a year, gasoline users to be taxed 1 centavo per liter. The citrus black fly, a native of South Asia, appeared in Mexico several years ago. It has become a serious pest in some areas, sapping the strength of infested trees and reducing their yield.

Production of penicillin "crops" can be stepped up through X-ray treatment of the molds in a new process patented recently. Doses of 50,000 to 150,000 roentgen units are applied to mold spores. Though most of the spores are killed, those remaining are newly induced, mutated strains which produce larger "crops."

Uncle Sam Says

Ten years can make a big difference. That youngster, now in pig-tails, will be grown up and ready for college in 10 years. Or you may be ready to tackle that pet project of yours, a new home, retirement, or starting a small business. Yes, 10 years can make a difference in many things. Money, for instance. If you go about it right you can make today's money grow, right along with those plans for the future.

Figure, today, how much you'll need in 10 years. Then put aside the amount in U. S. Savings Bonds each week, enough to equal the total you have in mind, always remembering that for every three dollars you invest today, you will receive four dollars in 10 years. If you are on a payroll, join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. If you are self-employed, enroll for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your own bank.

Section 3. The places of wholesale accumulations, such as killing and dressing plants for fowl, wholesale fruit and vegetable houses, storage and other places, where the daily accumulation of kitchen garbage, trash and rubbish is more than ordinary quantities, are not included in the service furnished by the City Garbage Department and such places are required to remove same to the city incinerator at their own expense, in the manner and by the method directed by the official designated by the governing body of the city.

Serious Outbreaks of Typhus Fever in Texas Kept Down

Austin, Texas—The people of Texas have been fortunate in escaping any serious outbreaks of typhus fever this year, the total number of reported cases so far being 133. This is a gratifying decrease in the incidence of this disease, but at the same time, it is well to warn that only continued stringent rodent-control measures will hold this disease in check.

This is the advice of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says that "typhus is one of the most debilitating of all diseases, and the long drawn out illness results in such loss of time that this factor is usually even more expensive to the victim, than his doctor and hospital bills."

Inasmuch as typhus fever is transmitted to man by the rat flea, the control of typhus depends almost entirely upon ridding ourselves of rats. No garbage should be left exposed where they can get to it to feed. Granaries and feed houses should be rat-proofed so that rats are starved out. All rat harborage such as trash piles, piles of old lumber, accessible quarters in the walls and foundations of buildings and other suitable living quarters should be denied them. Houses and business buildings can be effectively rat-proofed at a comparatively low cost, and the expense is always much less than the damage that can be done by rats, and the sickness they can spread.

"When the rat is gone, typhus fever will go also," Dr. Cox said. "Keep building out, starving out, and killing all rats, and typhus fever will no longer menace the health of our people."

BUSINESS FAILURES

Austin, Texas — Business failures in Texas are almost three times greater in 1949 than they were in 1948, Dun and Bradstreet reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research showed.

Fatalities in Texas for the first five months of 1949 numbered 71 in comparison with 27 for the comparable period in 1948.

A total of 14 Texas businesses failed in May, 17 in April, and 5 in May a year ago. Liabilities per failure averaged $20,000 in May, as compared to $21,000 in April, and $51,000 in May 1948.

UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE NEEDS REGULAR CLEANING

Proper care of upholstered furniture begins with its selection. Fabrics should be suitable to family use, and when small children are in the family group, the homemaker might well select some of the new plastic upholstery which can be wiped clean. Slipcovers preferably washable, help protect upholstered furniture and insure longer wear.

Clean upholstery carefully each week with the proper vacuum attachment. Go over crevices and tuftings and both sides of loose cushions.

Always remove spots as soon as they appear, provided the entire covering is not soiled enough to make the cleaned spots conspicuous. Regular dress cleaning fluid may be used satisfactorily.

At least once a year, before the upholstery becomes too soiled, shampoo your upholstered furniture, using any of the foam shampoos available.

CUSTARD AS A DESSERT

Custard has had a long and honorable career as a dessert for young and old, but its possibilities as a hot main dish often are overlooked. This cooked combination of egg and milk, minus sweetening and plus seasonings and other nourishing, flavorful ingredients such as cheese makes an economical, different main dish as an alternate for meat. And cheese is now in plentiful supply. Individual cheese custards, hot from the oven, turned out on a platter and surrounded with tomato sauce, make a colorful main dish. The recipe for a family of five or six calls for the following ingredients: three cups milk, one tablespoon flour, one-half pound sharp flavored cheese, shaved thin, three-fourths teaspoon salt; three eggs; five drops table sauce.

Weekly Sermon

SEEING REALITY

by Paul Allen, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Do you think seeing is believing? It isn't.

The Lord Jesus Christ stood in a judgment hall one night, charged as an impostor. The leader of all organized religion in the nation rose from his judgment seat and looked down from the dias on the Lord.

"I adjure you by the living God," he cried, "tell us if you are the Christ, the Son of God."

The Lord, who stood before the high priest in the body of a man, with his wrists shackled behind him, answered, "You have said so. But I tell you, hereafter you will see the Son of man seated at the right hand of Power, and coming on the clouds of heaven."

The high priest ripped his sacred robes in fury as he screamed, "What further proof do we need of blasphemy?"

No seeing God is not believing. Even when He took the form and flesh of a man, the religious leaders of His nation crucified Him—the Deity.

But man, if he wills to believe, may recognize and know God just as easily as His disciples learned to know Him. God is just as physicists say this paper and ink in your hands is really intangible energy, and not tangible matter. So God is a reality more basic than the apparent reality of the universe. As the Scriptures say, "In Him we live and move and have our being."

The way to God is through reversing the old formula. Believing God is seeing Him. Stop ignoring reality. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved . . ." Acts 16:31.

RESIDENTIAL FIRES

Thirty-eight per cent or 252-458 of the 657,642 blazes in 1947 were residential fires—most of which could have been prevented. Smoking and careless use of matches continued to be the chief causes of home fires, accounting for 17 per cent of the total. Improperly constructed or old deteriorated chimneys, flues and stacks combined with sparks on roofs, accounted for 14 per cent notwithstanding the fact that there are literally hundreds of products available to the homeowner for preventing fires of this type. Many of these items are made from clay, the part of the earth itself that has resisted every deteriorating factor. Clay just won't burn.

To bear injuries, or annoying and vexatious events, meekly, patiently, prayerfully, and with self-control, is more than taking a city.—C. Simmons.

SHAKESPEARE WROTE VERSE TO HELP GUARD REMAINS

Historians have discovered that the four lines carved on Shakespeare's tomb are a warning—and not an epitaph.

G. E. Bentley, well known Shakespearean historian at Princeton University, explains in an article written for the new World Book encyclopedia that the verse is another example of Shakespeare's rare insight into the customs of his day.

The author relates that Shakespeare is buried in the chancel of Holy Trinity church. In English churches, people were buried under the floor of the church, year after year, for centuries, and space began to be a problem. When all the available burial facilities were exhausted, the sexton removed the remains of those who had been forgotten and tossed them unceremoniously into the carnal house, where dead bodies and bones were kept.

When Shakespeare selected his final resting place, he noted that the opening for the carnal house was only a few feet from his future grave.

Relying on the superstition of the sexton—and having a firm desire to rest in peace—Shakespeare requested a verse be placed on a flat stone over his grave. In modern English, it reads:

Good Friend for Jesus Sake Forbear,
To Dig the Dust Enclosed Here;
Blessed Be That Man Who Spares
These Stones,
And Cursed Be He Who Moves
My Bones.

SPECTACULAR EXHIBITION TO BE STAGED BY BRITONS

The largest and most spectacular exhibition since the New York world fair of 1940, will be held in London in 1951.

Every village and town in Britain is being invited to go gray during the 1951 festival, which will last from May to September. It will tell the story of British life—in work and play, in discovery, invention and design. It will present a coherent and imaginative picture of British achievement—past, present and to come—and of its contribution to the world in science, technology, culture and industrial design.

The central exhibition will be situated on the south bank of the River Thames, across from the Victoria embankment. Here will rise a bright and gaily colored modern city, made of fabric. The concentration of all Britain's building materials in her tremendous housing program which is making homes for the people at the rate of 80,000 families a month, will make it impossible to build permanent buildings on the 27-acre site.

The safest age, according to the findings of an insurance company, is between eleven and twelve years old. When a boy or girl passes their eleventh year, most of the hazards of childhood ailments have been survived and the chronic troubles of increasing age have not made their appearance. According to the calculations, the chances of reaching a ripe old age grow less with each succeeding year.

The Boy Scouts of America headquarters at New York, announced recently that a reduction of one year in the entrance age for Scouts had been decided upon. The new age at which a boy may become a Scout is 11 years, after September 1.

WARM UP WASHING MACHINE

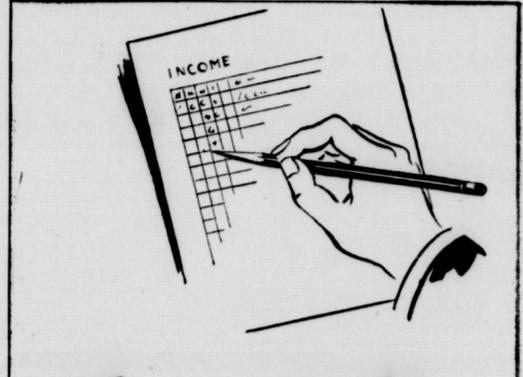

If the washing machine has been standing in a cold place, the oil or grease in an electric or engine driven machine may be too stiff to lubricate the mechanism as it runs. This will result in more wear and tear on the equipment. Plan to bring the machine into a warm room for a few hours before it is used. Or, let the tub stand full of warm water for an hour before you start washing. Do not pour hot water into a very cold porcelain enamel tub. Sudden changes in temperature may crack the porcelain enamel.

A new stupefying drug is being used in the treatment of alcoholics, it was brought out at the recent national meeting of the American Medical Association at Atlantic City. The announcement was made by Doctor Frederick Lemere and Paul O'Hollaren of the Shadel Sanitarium for the treatment of alcoholism at Seattle. In the trance-like state produced by the drug the patient can still talk. In this state is interviewed by the doctor seeking to learn the real reason why he began drinking to excess. After learning the history the doctor gives the patient strong suggestion against alcohol and toward correct habits of thinking. The report covered the findings of 3 years study and the treatment of 479 patients. The new drug is called Pentothal. The researchers reported that after three years 58 per cent of their patients were still abstaining from the use of alcohol.

Mrs. S. B. Hord, Mrs. Ernest Weaver, Mrs. Howard Williams and Mrs. Jeff Hardin were hostesses at a lovely tea Friday afternoon at the Adelphian Club House to honor and to introduce Mrs. Stantley Russell, a recent bride.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Hord, aunt of the honoree, Mrs. Brinkley, her mother; Mrs. Jim Russell, mother of the groom and Mrs. Russell, the honoree.

HENRY CIRCLE MEETS

The Henry Circle of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Moody Bursley on Monday afternoon, June 27. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Ray Duckworth, secretary of missionary education, presided.

The theme of the devotional was based on Paul's advice to Christian workers, in which he admonished them not to be negligent, in preparing for the work of Christ's Kingdom. Strength and knowledge sufficient to the task that God calls a Christian to do will be given in due season when sincere desire and prayer be made for same.

With Mrs. William Ricks playing piano accompaniment, several gospel songs were sung by the group. Mrs. Bursley spoke on Japan being chosen as the special field in missionary work for the coming year. She told of the great success of E. Stanley Jones in leading people to Christ. The thirst for knowledge and a religion which would bring peace and comfort to their weary world is an open door providing an opportunity for Christ to be established there at this critical time.

Mrs. Henry Borchardt spoke on 10 points by which to measure one's spiritual life. Following this, a round-table discussion on the subject was given.

The next meeting will be on the second Monday of July with the Pioneer Circle in a business meeting. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

GOP CHAIRMAN RETAINS POST . . . Hugh D. Scott, Jr., shown above at left, retained his position as chairman of the national Republican committee by a narrow margin after the committee voted on the issue in a meeting in Omaha. Scott discusses strategy with A. V. Shotwell, GOP national committeeman from Nebraska. Many thought Scott would lose out because of the spirited battle waged against him by Dewey foes.

HISTORY

The Founding of the Republican Party, July 6—The Republican party was founded at Jackson, Michigan, on July 6, 1854.

The party came into being because of the demoralization of the old Whig party and the dissatisfaction of the Democrats with the attitude of the Democratic party toward the slavery issue. It was believed for a time that the question of slavery had been settled by the adoption of the Missouri Compromise which forbade the introduction of slavery in any part of the Louisiana Territory north of the southern boundary of Missouri, while permitting slavery to exist in Missouri. The question, however, did not stay settled. The passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill in 1854 which permitted new states to decide whether they would be free or slave had the effect of repealing the Missouri Compromise. This aroused the opponents of slavery. The Kansas-Nebraska bill was passed on May 27, 1854. A mass meeting of Whigs, Democrats and Free Soilers, held in Ripon, Wisconsin, on February 28, had passed a resolution to the effect that if the Kansas-Nebraska bill should pass, steps would be taken to organize a new party on the sole issue of the non-extension of slavery. A local organization was formed three weeks later and the name Republican suggested for the new party. The Michigan opponents of slavery met at Jackson, Michigan, on July 6, organized a party, adopted the name Republican and arranged for the nomination of candidates for all offices. Other groups of the same mind in regard to slavery met in different parts of the country and organized themselves as Republicans. Within less than a year the new party had elected eleven United States Senators and many members to the national House of Representatives. The first National Convention of the new party was held in Philadelphia on June 17, 1856. The convention, after considering a number of names nominated John C. Fremont. Fremont was defeated by James Buchanan, the Democratic candidate. At the next election in 1860 the Republicans nominated Abraham Lincoln, who was elected. For the next twenty years for the Republican candidate for President was elected. In 1884 the Republican candidate, James

G. Blaine, was defeated by Grover Cleveland, the Democratic candidate.

FEEDING CHICKENS

Feed costs amount to about 60 per cent of the total cost of raising a pullet or keeping a hen a year. Therefore, good feeding practices are necessary for poultry to be most profitable. See the local feed agent about good poultry feeding practices.

FOR WINTER BREAKFASTS

Breakfast fruits do not necessarily have to be fresh fruits. Chilled apricot whole fruit nectar, canned cling peaches and any of the dried fruits are always available, and make excellent starters for winter breakfasts.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt receives about 1000 letters a week, most of them in foreign languages.

WASH WATER

It has been suggested that 160 degree water will wash clothes cleaner than 140-degree water. Tests at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute have yielded this statement: "A temperature of 160 degrees for wash water gives the best cleaning results, but 140 degrees is nearly as good and is recommended because it is more economical to maintain in the washing equipment. Temperature above 170 degrees are not recommended except where boiling is done to sterilize white clothes."

USE OF KEROSENE

Misuse of kerosene, or other oil, particularly in rural areas, causes hundreds of deaths each year. One common and dangerous practice is the use of kerosene to speed up a slow fire. Kerosene vaporizes when poured into a warm stove, and this vapor may explode, igniting clothing and furniture in the room. Kerosene should never be used to start fires.

VALUE OF SHRUBS

Shrubs on the farmstead are needed in abundance to provide shade foundation lines of buildings, define boundaries and screen unsightly objects. Then, too, shrubs lend themselves well in supporting landscape lines at house corners and give reasons for turns in drives or walks.

The death toll last year from motor traffic accidents was 32,200. The total number injured was 1,471,000. Many of the injured were incapacitated for life to follow their vacation.

3,320 persons were killed in the city streets of this country last year while crossing between intersections.

10,080 persons were killed last year by car drivers who at the time of the accident were exceeding the speed limit.

Last year 10,240 pedestrians were killed on the streets and highways of this country by automobiles.
