Postmaster General Jesse M. Halderson reports that the postal deficit this year will reach $50 million dollars. This is a record for postal deficits. The deficit is due to the practice of increasing salaries without any reference to the volume of income. The only remedy, the Department sees, is to increase the postage rates. The danger in this is that rates are sufficiently increased so that postal business will fall off.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

Washington, D. C., July 23, 1949.—The House this week defeated a so-called trial run of the Brannan plan for agriculture. In brief, the so-called Brannan plan is a plan to place a floor under the price of all agricultural commodities without controlling production or prices to the consumer. Secretary Brannan, an honest and sincere individual, has insisted that his plan would assure cheap prices to the consumers, while guaranteeing high prices to the producers, i. e., the farmers. A majority of the members of the House have regarded this plan as impractical and unworkable. Most members have feared it meant an extension of the expensive potato program to all perishable commodities. Again, to have guaranteed to the producer of hogs a price of approximately $20.00 a hundred pounds, with no other controls on hogs, would probably have resulted in increasing the number of hogs in the country three-fold within one year. To my mind, a sound agricultural economy is essential to a sound national economy. Some farm program is unquestionably necessary, since the farmer as a rugged individualist cannot survive in a highly organized, highly competitive economy. As one who grew up on a farm, and whose parents still live on one, I am always keenly sensitive to farm problems and welfare. However, I am not sold on the Brannan plan, and voted against it. We have substituted for the Brannan plan a simple extension of the present program, pending further study.

On Monday of this week, the Yankee politicians will again bring before the House, and will probably pass, a so-called anti-poll tax bill. This bill is a part of the so-called civil rights program. It is a gratuitous insult, a slap in the face to the seven Southern States that still retain the poll tax. For years, Yankee politicians have pointed the finger of scorn at the South and have accused us of being a backward and benighted area in which minorities are persecuted. They have held themselves up as great liberators. The bill which they seek to pass, if enacted into law, would not only be a serious blow to States' rights, but would also be a serious blow to the Constitution itself. One of the clearest provisions of our Constitution is that the question of voting is a matter of State jurisdiction, and for State determination. The founding fathers explained this clearly when they sought ratification of the Constitution. The Courts of the land have uniformly so construed the Constitution.

The Texas Legislature, just adjourned, submitted an amendment to the voters to repeal our poll tax law, and for the substitution of a registration system. This is clearly a question for Texans to decide and not one with which Congress should meddle. As a matter of principle, a number of us Southern Congressmen will fight this legislation as best we can. However, principle and policy will undoubtedly be defeated by political chicanery and by political demagoguery insofar as this matter goes.

A number of us are still working hard in an effort to find some solution to the problem caused by large imports of foreign oil. Thousands of oil rigs are now being stacked in independent refineries are going out of business, and hundreds of workers are losing their jobs because of the curtailment of oil production in this country. In the State of Texas, State revenues have already fallen around $30,000,000 because of reduced production. This will probably mean a special session of the State Legislature and the imposition of new State taxes. Furthermore, the problem may get worse instead of better. Gigantic new oil fields have been discovered in Canada. We are told that within 18 months Canadian oil will start flowing into the United States. In the Middle East where there is no such thing as proration or conservation, the major oil companies have large fields from which they can produce oil at only a fraction of the cost of producing oil in the U. S. A. Again, in Venezuela, the country from which most of our foreign oil now comes, oil is a glut on the market. Instead of there being a shortage of oil, there is now, and perhaps will continue to be, a great surplus. Again, if we permit the domestic industry to be seriously crippled from foreign competition, we would certainly suffer in the event of war. Both our peacetime economy and our wartime economy is seriously involved in this problem.

I have just read a long letter from a friend who states that he keeps a box of "pet peeves." He then enumerates all the things that he has in his pet peeve box. I am advising him to throw the box away and forget it. Keeping such a box seems to me to be exceedingly bad psychology. If one is to be a collector, he should collect something more pleasant than "pet peeves."

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has announced a 9 per cent cut in the wholesale prices of all paints, varnishes, enamel and paint brushes. This firm is the first major producer of these items to cut prices. The cut as applied to exterior house paint amounts to 85 cents a gallon retail. E. D. Peck, general paint manager of the merchandising division, said in explanation for the slumping sales at the consumer level indicate the purchasing public is stalling on its buying needs in anticipation of lower prices.

J. FRED BAYLESS

New Pastor of Christian Church to Preach Sunday

J. Fred Bayless, new minister of the First Christian Church, and Mrs. Bayless, with their two children, David and Anne, are arriving in Crowell this week to begin their first duties with the church. Bro. Bayless will bring both messages Sunday.

Mr. Bayless comes from successful Kansas ministries at Eureka and Medicine Lodge. Formerly an instructor in Johnson Bible College of Kimberlin Hgts., Tenn., Mr. Bayless has taken a prominent part in the work of the Christian Church in Kansas, and has been a leader in various young people's activities there. He was recently elected secretary to the board of trustees of Dallas Christian College, a new school now being established for the training of Christian workers at Dallas.

Mr. Bayless comes to the local church well recommended as a earnest Christian worker and able gospel preacher. He succeeds Vernon Newland who, with his family, is leaving Crowell to take up his new duties as president of Dallas Christian College.

The new pastor and family will occupy the newly-acquired, and larger and better parsonage which the church has recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Lyman L. Jackson.

Even though it is mid-summer it is the desire of the Christian Church leaders to have at least 100 present at Sunday School next Sunday. All members and friends are urged to be present Sunday at 10 a. m. The special summer arrangement of services permits the morning worship service to be concluded at 11:30.

1950 Wheat Allotment for Foard County Announced by Chairman of Agricultural Conservation Association

The wheat allotment for Foard County will be 76,763 acres, according to information received by the Agricultural Conservation Association of Foard County, states Dwight Campbell, chairman of the association. Mr. Campbell points out that this is only a 15% reduction from the 4-year average (1945-48) of 90,257 acres. Mr. Campbell adds, however, that there will probably be an additional 3% withheld for new growers and appeals, making a total of at least 18% actual reduction. As yet there have been no restrictions regulating the use of land diverted from wheat with the exception of crops on which allotments have been declared, such as peanuts and Irish potatoes. The land may be sowed to pasture, including a mixture of wheat and other grains, with the exception of oats or vetch, neither of which may be seeded with wheat for pasture.

BEGONIAS NEED STAKES

Staking is important for begonias because you'll get such luxuriant growth from well-handled tubers. Stakes should be set early—while a 12-inch stake still is twice as high as plant. Half-inch stakes split from cedar shingles or bamboo do better at holding heavy bloom stems than do small wire stakes. Only one stem should be allowed to develop from tubers one and a half inches or less for the biggest flowers. Tie with half-inch strips of cloth, raffia or a very soft cord. Knot this on the stake first, then loosely about the begonia stem about five inches from the soil. Make another tie before flowers develop.

Expired Drivers' Licenses Can Be Renewed Without Test

Austin, July 25 (Spl.)—Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a temporary relaxation in the policy of renewing expired drivers' licenses. Pointing out that the action is being taken because of inadequate field and office personnel to handle the procedure in the normal manner, Colonel Garrison stated that the temporary measure, which becomes effective immediately, will preclude excuses on the part of motorists for not having obtained a renewal of their licenses.

This should come as good news to a half million Texas motorists since the records indicate that there are three and one-half million drivers in the State and only two and one-half million current licenses are on file. Estimates show that of the one million drivers who do not hold presently valid drivers licenses about half have had one at some time but have failed to renew them. The other half million have either moved from the State, ceased driving or died since the records were compiled or have never possessed a license to drive.

Under the new program, Colonel Garrison outlines the following steps for obtaining a renewal of expired Texas drivers' licenses. First: if you have a license that was issued since January 1, 1944, you may secure a renewal of same by mail from the Department of Public Safety, without examination. Second: if you have a license that was issued prior to January 1, 1944, you may renew same by presenting the old license to a Drivers License Examiner in your locality and executing an original application. License in the latter case will also be issued without examination.

Formerly, those applicants for renewal who had allowed their licenses to expire were required to stand a re-examination. Now, under the temporary set-up, you may restate your permit to drive without taking the test, regardless of how long it has expired, provided it is not now suspended or revoked.

HOG-TIED RAILROADS

Fortune has published an article called "The Coming Crisis in Transportation," which deals with many facets of the complex common-carrier problem. In one section, it says that government and labor must stop treating the railroads "as the monopoly they no longer are. It means that they must be allowed to abandon hopelessly unprofitable operations. It means they must be allowed to market their product—to set rates quickly and boldly. . . . All this means nothing less than a radical revision of the Interstate Commerce act, which for a half century has hog-tied and hamstrung the rails with its intricate windings of restriction and protocol."

In an editorial based on the Fortune piece, the St. Paul Dispatch says, "There is logic in the argument that the railroads should have greater freedom in adapting themselves to a completely changed situation." The underlying trouble with our whole transportation policy is that it is as obsolete as the ox-cart. In its fundamental principles, it was designed for the era when the railroads were the only form of land transportation of any consequence. Their only competition was water shipping, which was slow and uncertain, and was confined to a few canals. With the development of both commercial and private transportation by highway and air, the change has been revolutionary.

The ideal is a modern transportation policy, based on the obvious realities of the present, which will allow every kind of carrier to perform maximum services under the same kind of conditions and regulations and laws. That's a large order, and it's high time Congress got to work on the job of filling it.—Industrial News Review.

TVA AND INDUSTRY

According to a recent analysis, based on government figures, the Tennessee Valley Authority has performed miracles in promoting the industrial development of its region is largely eye-wash, and is not substantiated by the facts.

Tennessee is served almost entirely by TVA. During the eight years from 1939 to 1947, the number of production workers in manufacturing in the state increased by 46 1/2 per cent. During those years, the number so engaged in the nation as a whole increased by 52 1/2 per cent. In Tennessee's neighboring state, Arkansas, the increase was 61 per cent and in Texas it was 94 per cent.

The annual wages of Tennessee production workers increased a little more on a percentage basis than the average for the entire country. However, in 1947, their dollar incomes were still very substantially under the national average.

These figures, of course, do not tell the whole story. But they do pretty well explode the myth that TVA has attracted industry as a lamp attracts moths. In most industries, the cost of electric power is a very small part of the total overhead, and cannot be compared to wages, taxes, and other such expenses. Furthermore, when an industry goes to the TVA area because of the power rate, it means that its electric bill is being partly subsidized by the taxpayers of all the rest of the country. TVA pays only small sums in lieu of taxes to the states, and the money it needs for expansion comes out of the public treasury — interest free. TVA, despite all the phrases of its friends, is a parasite on the economic structure of the industrial News Review.

A point is one-seventy seconds of an inch because up to the middle of the 18th Century very little had been done to standardize type sizes and then an arbitrary measure was chosen for a scale, divided into 72 parts, and the divisions were called points.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

On July 7, 1949, in compliance with the provisions of the Gilmer-Aiken school law (Senate Bill No. 116) passed by the 51st Legislature, the County School Board consolidated a number of rural school districts with the Crowell Independent School District.

This necessitates an election for assumption of outstanding bonds by the new district and for setting up a uniform maintenance tax rate.

An election has been called for this purpose and will be held in the office of the School Tax Collector, in the Foard County Courthouse on August 6, 1949.

Resident tax-payers (qualified voters) of the former school districts are eligible to vote in this election and all will vote at the one voting box in the County Courthouse. Districts specifically, as follows:

Crowell Independent School District (Orig. before annexations)

- Four Corners No. 1
- Gambleville No. 4
- Margaret No. 6
- Black No. 8
- Vivian No. 9
- Foard City No. 13
- Claytonville No. 14
- Good Creek No. 18
- Cottle County Line (Old Fish No 5)

The tax rate ($1.25 on the $100.00 valuation) to be voted upon is the same as has been in effect this past year in the original Crowell School District and most of the former contract and transfer districts.

OIL IN 1910

Forty years ago the oil industry was an important factor in American life. It was producing and selling products that millions of people wanted.

In 1910 kerosene was the most important oil product, and the various companies advertised reasons why their brands were better than others.

Competitive advertising of gasoline was just starting. That was also true of motor oil—one leading maker urged the buyer to order a half-barrel of his line, as it came cheaper than that in smaller quantities.

Times change, and the demand for oil in all its forms has reached a level which would have seemed absolutely unbelievable in 1910.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

Although I have mentioned this a number of times in this column, I feel impelled to call attention to it again for the reason that the matter is now before Congress and action will soon be taken upon it.

At the present time only those employed in industries and certain types of business are covered by Social Security. Millions employed in the agricultural industry, on farms as domestic help, the self-employed, the professional men and the small business men are not now covered by Social Security.

Under the present plan the highest monthly benefits now possible for a retired worker and his wife under old-age and survivors insurance is $67.80. This is made possible by a weekly contribution from the workers' pay check and a similar contribution by the employer over a period of years.

I would permit the farmer, the small business man and the professional man to create a Social Security fund for himself through the purchase of Social Security bonds at his bank or postoffice.

For domestic help, I would provide stamps procurable at the bank or post office. The housewife when she paid the maid and cook could give stamps in the required amount.

Incidentally the government could arrange to borrow the funds and pay the national debt. The savings on interest alone on the $25 billion dollar debt would finance the Social Security program without ever having to dig into the principal.

MEAT FOR YOUR TABLE

Two-thirds of all the meat consumed in this country is "grown" west of the Mississippi. But two-thirds of the people who eat the meat live east of the Mississippi.

The packing industry, however, must do a great deal more than merely turn livestock into meat for the butcher shop.

We take meat on the table for granted. But it requires a big and complex and highly efficient supply service to bring it to you.—Industrial News Review.

HISTORY

Birthday of Herbert Hoover — August 10: Herbert Clark Hoover, thirty-first President of the United States, was born at West Branch, Iowa, on August 10, 1874. He spent his childhood at West Branch. Upon the death of his parents, he went to Oregon to live with an uncle. He took up the profession of engineering, entering the first class in his branch at the new Leland Stanford University at Palo Alto, California. He graduated in 1895. Following his graduation he went to Nevada City, looking for engineering work. Finding none he took a job as a laborer in the mines. His next job was with Louis Janin, who had large mining interests. His first job with Janin was as handy man about the office. When gold was discovered in Australia, an English company which wished to employ American methods, asked Janin for his suggestion as to an engineer. Janin recommended Hoover. Mr. Hoover accepted and went to Australia. He remained in Australia two years, after which he went to China to superintend transportation for Sun Yat-sen, during the Boxer Rebellion. Until 1914 he engaged in mining in various parts of the world. At the outbreak of World War I, he was living in London. He first assisted Americans stranded in London to get passage home. He was then occupied with feeding the starving people of Belgium and later checked relief work in Germany. For a time he headed the United States Food administration. He served as Secretary of Commerce under Harding. He was nominated for President at the Republican convention of 1928 and was elected over Alfred E. Smith of New York. He was nominated to succeed himself in 1932. He was defeated by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Hoover makes his home at Palo Alto, Calif. He recently headed a commission to study the U. S. government and make recommendations for streamlining the government in the interest of economy.

A departure from the usual free hand system of granting unemployment pay to strikers occurred in the case of the 70,000 Ford workers who struck recently because of a speed-up in plant production. Under a Michigan state agency ruling, unemployment compensation was denied. This is a departure from the practice in most states where strikers may leave their jobs, proceed to the unemployment office and begin at once to draw unemployment compensation. However, 7,600 strike-tied war veterans forced out of work because of the strike, were awarded unemployment compensation. A difference in interpretation of the state and federal laws figured in the decision, the commission said. The agency said Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey had recently ruled similarly.

Illinois farmers produced last year thirteen of every 100 bushels of soy beans grown in the world, and thirty-five of every 100 grown in the United States.

The Eagle Pitcher Mining and Smelting Company which operates the mines and the refining facilities in the country's greatest lead and zinc producing sections in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, has closed down operations for an indefinite period.

Company officials state that it is not possible to carry on operations profitably at the present price of lead and zinc. Before closing the mines they asked the miners to accept a reduction in pay. The miners refused—hence the shutdown. The mine owners have asked for a government subsidy to make up the difference between what it costs to operate the mines and the amount received for the required lead and zinc.

In four months the price of lead concentrates has dropped from $291.92 a ton to $148.62 and zinc has dropped from $110 a ton to $50. The industry employs around 4000 men. Many small mines in the area which depend on the Eagle

Total government looks people in the same manner a keeper looks upon his bees, people and the bees must provide for the bosses in order to have a living, of a sort, and a shelter. But the government and the keeper get the honey. The reason people do not under the beekeeper plan is because they are individuals, demand more than the price of producing for political lords, at the expense of their profit and freedom.

Many revolutions and civil have occurred over resentment of a dictatorial government acting a keeper of the people's labor. Eventually men will balk government that plays the part of the beekeeper.—Industrial Review.

Library Service Free to Texans

College Station, July 25—One hundred and fifty of Texas' 254 counties have no public library, and 3,500,000 Texans are not getting adequate library service, says Wayne Rohrer, assistant professor, department of agricultural economics and sociology of Texas A. & M. College. It is assumed that a large number of these are members of farm and ranch families.

Rohrer gives two suggestions that should be helpful to those families who are interested in better library facilities. He says the Texas State Library, Austin, will loan books to any person who lives in a county that is not adequately served by a free public library. As many as six books may be borrowed at one time. The borrower pays the postage to and from the library and agrees to return the books within three weeks from the mailing date. Time extensions will be granted if asked for before the deadline date. This plan, continues Rohrer, is known as the Service to Individual Borrowers.

The other plan is known as the Family Library Service plan. It is a continuous and automatic service. Families registered for the service may receive at definite intervals a collection of books selected to meet the particular interests of each reader in the family and books may be kept for as long as two months. Rohrer says more than 50 different subjects are listed and they range from sewing and house plans to farm machinery, histories and special books for the younger members of the family.

The Texas State Library makes it easy for the farm family to borrow books. The fact sheet that is filled out by the family shows the age, grade in school and the interests of each member of the family and this information is used by the librarians at Austin to help them make the best possible selections for the family. Rohrer adds that the family may

Retail Sales Lag Behind in Fourth Consecutive Month

Austin, Texas, July 25—June dollar sales of Texas retailers lagged behind a year earlier for the fourth consecutive month, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Retail sales in Texas slid 7 per cent from May to an estimated $395 million in June, dipping 1 per cent under June 1948.

Durable goods stores presented a 3-per-cent gain over last year's sales in contrast to a 5-per-cent decline in nondurable goods store sales. From the previous month, June sales slipped 2 per cent in durable goods stores and dropped 11 per cent in nondurable goods stores.

Motor vehicle dealers recorded the biggest June-to-June rise among both durable and nondurable goods stores with a sales increase of 21 per cent. Smaller gains over June 1948 were turned in by general merchandise stores, 4 per cent; florists, 3 per cent; and filling stations, 2 per cent.

Jewelry stores turned in the heaviest reduction of sales in comparison with June a year ago, their sales falling 20 per cent. June sales of lumber and building material dealers fell 16 per cent during the 12-month period; farm implement dealers, 14 per cent; office supply stores, 11 per cent; select the kind of service it desires; that is, they can get another collection of books each time they return a collection or they can write for a collection when one is desired.

This is an excellent service and it gives rural people the advantages of a conveniently located free public library. Here is a tax-supported service that is waiting to be enjoyed by anyone who is interested enough to write to the Texas State Library, Austin, for complete details of the two borrowing plans, Rohrer concludes.

men's and boys' clothing stores, 11 per cent; women's specialty shops, 10 per cent; grocery stores without meats, 9 per cent; and shoe stores, 7 per cent.

With the exception of a 4-per-cent increase in hardware stores, June sales of all durable goods stores declined from 1 to 10 per cent from the previous month.

In the nondurable goods group, food stores and filling stations increased their June sales 1 to 10 per cent, respectively, over the preceding month. Other stores registered decreases ranging from 1 per cent in eating and drinking places to 25 per cent in women's specialty shops.

Texas University Engineers Making Heat Relief Tests

Austin, Texas, July 25—Does the heat in your home drive you into the cool backyard these sweltering summer days?

Small-home owners in the future may find their living rooms as pleasant as a shade tree if University of Texas engineers are successful in a project just started. The University's Bureau of Engineering Research, headed by Engineering Dean W. R. Woolrich, will try to find a formula for better livability in small homes, through relief from heat and high humidity.

"Almost all research on homes has been devoted to ways of keeping them warm," says Dean Woolrich. "We are looking for the best design for coolness."

To accomplish this goal, University engineers will search for a type of wall construction that will give the most satisfactory living conditions, supplemented by natural ventilation and mechanical aids, such as attic fans and sprayed roofs.

Several clay products manufacturers will back the building of six houses, five brick and one frame, for the project. All the houses will have the same floor plans but will differ otherwise. Temperature and humidity tests will be run without occupants in the houses.

Another phase of the project, under Raymond F. Dawson, Bureau of Engineering Research associate director, will be to develop a type of foundation that can be built at reasonable cost yet allow some movement to relieve pressure from the soil, a quality desirable because of expansive bentonitic clays.

CANNED TOMATOES

Canned tomatoes can be used to good advantage in preparing meat patties. They add needed moisture and improve the flavor. Use about three-fourths cup of tomatoes to each pound of meat. Add one-half cup of uncooked quick-cooking oats as the binder instead of the "usual" bread or cracker crumbs. This combination has a "different" flavor and helps stretch the pound of meat to serve five or six. Tomatoes are a "must" for Spanish steak. Pour about two cups of the canned tomatoes over the browned meat, and add chopped onion and green pepper. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and cook over low heat or in a low oven—300-325 degrees—until the meat is tender.

Almost any grass that is palatable and nutritious to cattle will make good silage if it is properly handled. In most sections of the state at the present time, there is an abundance of good grass. Weekly Sermon

JUST ONE WAY

by Weldon Bedell, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Throughout recorded history men have sought ways of pleasing and appeasing God. Some have inflicted punishment upon themselves, while others have sacrificed even their own sons and daughters on pagan altars. All this is the way of sinful man, but it is not the way of the heavenly Father.

In our day some still have a tendency to teach that we should do good in order that we should be loved before God. At first glance most of us would readily accept this as gospel, but what does the Bible—our only source of spiritual knowledge—say about this?

The Bible tells us that it is impossible to hope to earn our own salvation. "There is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not" (Eccles. 7:20), and "All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23), are God's comments on the righteousness of man.

No, our salvation cannot depend upon our good works. But by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast" (ph. 2:8, 9). The key to our salvation is found in the familiar words of John 3:16—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

After we accept His Son, God will accept us, and cleanse us from our sin. Then, and only then, can our good works mean anything.

Do not put your trust in your own righteousness. Accept the gift which Jesus Christ offers you today. "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12).

Beat the Heat by Serving Summer Foods and Drinks

College Station, July 25—You can't do much about the hot summer weather, but you can do many things that might make the heat a little less annoying, says Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

One way to beat the heat is to serve the right kind of summer drinks and of course this calls for iced drinks. Fruit and vegetable juices of all kinds are good, but the acid ones are especially good when used alone or in combination with the sweeter juices, adds Miss Shultz. Sweeter foods give more heat so don't use too much sweetening. Tart juices give more flavor to the drink.

Miss Shultz says the hostess who can serve something a little different is almost sure to enjoy a rise in popularity, and here's a tip that may help you. Keep some sugar syrup in the refrigerator at all times for sweetening drinks. It is easy to make. Mix 2 cups of water and 3 cups of sugar and boil for three minutes then you can add one and three-eighths teaspoons of cream tartar to prevent crystallization.

Don't forget the refreshing drinks that can be made from good cold milk. They are not only nutritious but are also just plain good for you. Chocolate milk is a favorite, others may prefer a milk shake or a good thick malt. Cold milk alone is hard to beat.

Your local county home demonstration agent will be glad to supply you with recipes for making summer drinks that will be enjoyed by the entire family. When you go on that next picnic, fill the thermos jug with a new chilled drink and see just how welcome it will be, concludes Miss Shultz.

Tuberculosis Is Spread by Ignorance and Carelessness

Austin, Texas — There is no more emphatic proof of the power of ignorance and carelessness to spread disease than is shown by the continued ravages of tuberculosis, which is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease.

Despite the knowledge of its cause, spread, and curative procedures, tuberculosis continues to be a grave public health problem, and today it holds fifth place among the killing diseases in this State. This fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested, if it were recognized.

HOG CHOLERA

As little as one one-millionth of a cubic centimeter of hog cholera virus can kill a hog that is at the same time protected by a dose of anti-hog-cholera serum.

These facts are disclosed by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says, "treatment of the early recognized case is essential to recovery. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more widespread appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives."

The State Health Officer added: "When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all other members of the family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility, but because it is communicable and easily transmitted from one member of the family to others."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox urges periodic examinations of all adults, including chest X-rays, frequent check-ups by physicians where active cases and their contacts are known; isolation or hospitalization of active tuberculosis cases, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

Cottonseed, used mainly for oil and livestock feed, now has another use. It is a synthetic protein fiber, and can be blended with cotton, wool, rayon or nylon to give mixed fabrics more softness or elasticity.

It is easier for the generous to forgive, than for the offender to ask forgiveness.—Edward Thomson.

Charles E. Davis Weds Miss Jeanne Holloway on July 19

Miss Jeanne Holloway of Jonesboro and Charles Everett Davis of Crowell were united in marriage Tuesday morning, July 19, at the Jonesboro Baptist Church with Rev. Taft Holloway of Camadian, brother of the bride, performing the ceremony. Miss Holloway is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Holloway of Jonesboro and Mr. Davis is the son of Earl Davis of Crowell.

At the altar of the church, greenery formed a background for large baskets of white gladioli. The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Donald Orr of Fort Worth, soloist, and Mrs. Kayburn Crawford, pianist. Mrs. Orr also gave a reading of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's sonnet, "How Do I Love Thee?"

Given in marriage by her brother, R. R. Holloway of Marlin, the bride wore a dress of white organdy, fashioned as a replica of her mother's wedding dress. It was designed with a blouse waist with tucks and insertion, buttoned sleeves and a full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of double illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and heads. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Dwayne Craig of Greenville, the matron of honor, was gowned in pink organdy. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Charles Wilson of Hamilton and Mrs. Wallace, sister of the bride, of Jonesboro,

Harvey Lee Blevins and Miss Covey Wed in Dallas June 25

The chapel of the First Methodist church in Dallas was the scene on Saturday evening, June 25, for the twilight wedding of Miss Bobbye Grace Covey and Harvey Lee Blevins of Margaret. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin W. Covey of Dallas and Mr. Blevins is the son of Mrs. Bell Blevins of Margaret and the late Mr. Blevins.

The Rev. A. A. Davis of Baird officiated. Music was presented by Miss Martha Lee Henderson of Denton, and Mrs. Jack Smith of Fort Worth.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown of imported white embroidered organdy over white taffeta was designed and made by her mother. It had a fitted bodice, capped sleeves and a Peter Pan collar and was fastened down the front to the waistline with tiny covered buttons. The circular skirt was scalloped at the collar and cuffs. From a bonnet of shirred illusion edged with seed pearls fell the shoulder-length veil. She carried white gardenias atop a prayer book.

Miss Carolyn Covey was maid of honor and Mrs. Irwin W. Covey Jr. was bridesmaid. A. A. Davis Jr. of Borger was best man and Irwin W. Covey Jr. was usher. Mrs. Charles V. Strubbe and Mrs. A. A. Davis Jr. presided at the cake and bride's book during a reception held at the church.

HENRY CIRCLE MEETS

The Henry Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday, July 25, at the Methodist Church for a covered dish luncheon. The program began at 10 a. m. as the group joined in singing hymns.

Mrs. Mike Brown was devotional leader. Mrs. William Ricks discussed the character of Judas Iscariot and Mrs. Dick Davis talked on "Freedom from Worry" from the book "The Art of Living" by Dr. Norman V. Peale.

Mrs. M. S. Henry has recently been presented with a life membership to the W. S. C. S. by the members of the Henry Circle. Mrs. Henry has been a member of the society for 43 years and this gift was made as an honor for faithful service.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

The Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday afternoon, July 25, at 4 o'clock with six members present.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Allison Denton. A timely and inspirational devotional on "Bearing Burdens" was given by Mrs. J. M. Barker. Mrs. Barker stated that there are three ways of bearing burdens; bearing your own burden, helping to bear another's burden and casting one's burden on the Lord.

A new study book "The Bible and Human Rights" by Kathleen W. McArthur was begun with Mrs. Denton giving the first three chapters. The thoughts brought out were that most people are inclined to depend on the Bible either too much or too little. The large majority of the people do not even know what their rights are. It was proved, in a census, that 36 per cent had heard but did not know; 31 per cent had never heard of their rights; 12 per cent were confused and 21 per cent were fairly accurate. Our main rights are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Many are inclined to accept our rights but shun the obligations placed upon them.

The meeting was dismissed after refreshments of ice cream had been served by Mrs. J. M. Barker.

SEW-N-SEW CLUB

Mrs. James Sandlin and Mrs. R. J. Owens were co-hostesses to ten members of the Sew-N-Sew Club of Foard City and one visitor in the Recreation Room on Thursday afternoon, July 21.

New officers who took office are Mrs. J. C. Rader, president; Mrs. R. J. Owens, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. James Sandlin, reporter.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames W. L. Johnson, Kenneth Halbert, Hughton McLain, Jack Welch, Eugene Owens, J. C. Rader, Clarence Garrett, Junior Chowning and the hostesses. The guest was Mrs. M. C. Riemensneider. The resignation of Mrs. Roy Ferguson was regrettably accepted.

The next meeting will be August 4 with Mrs. J. C. Rader and Mrs. Eugene Owens as joint hostesses.

SWIMMING PARTY

A number of young people of the M. Y. F. of the Crowell Methodist Church enjoyed a swimming party at Vernon Monday evening, July 25. The following attended: Richard Male, Jon Sanders, Jim Paul Norman, Baxter Gentry, Tommie Meason, Ruth Ann Flinn, Joyzelle Thomson, Jean Hughton, James Weathers, Virginia

OWNERS RUN THIRD

The advocates of government ownership of electric light, power companies have been making a very hard fight to take over the Puget Sound Power and Light Company. The P. S. P. & L. has been after it, various towns have tried to buy parts of it, and promoters have been trying to get rich by engineering its sale to public agencies.

It is hard to see how the proposed socialization of this company could make any more money for government than government is making now without a nickel.

In 1948, tax collectors from the various divisions of Government took $2.25 in tax money for every $1.00 paid in taxes to the owners. The owners have run a poor third in the race between the tax collector, employees and owners. Employees receive $3.25 in wages and salaries for every $1.00 paid the owners in dividends.

This is the way the money was divided: Owners $1.00, Government $2.25, Employees $3.25. Industrial News Review.

The project will require four years to complete. The equipment being used will permit the photographing of stars 300 million light years distant from the earth. In light year is the distance a ray of light will travel in a year, more or less at the rate of 186,000 miles a second.
