"Trouble Shooters" of West Texas Utilities Co. Will Get Orders by Radio, District Manager Announces

Effective Sunday, July 31, "trouble-shooters" of the West Texas Utilities Company, Quanah District, will get their orders by radio.

The work of linemen, installation servicemen, emergency repairmen, power dispatchers, and substitution operators will be directed by two-way radio. According to an announcement by Earl Morley, district manager, the West Texas Utilities Company has received authority from the Federal Communications Commission covering the operation of a two-way, high frequency, FM radio system. The FCC license was issued on the basis of "public welfare."

"The new system will materially help the WTUCo. in its efforts to maintain and provide uninterrupted electric service," said Mr. Morley.

The system is authorized a 250-watt central station, which is located in a frame structure in Quanah. The antenna extends 6 feet above a 200 foot antenna tower; total height being 206 feet.

This central station, which has been assigned call letters KKA481 and which according to FCC regulations will operate on regulated frequency of 37,700 kc with a maximum variance of .01% from assigned frequency allowed, cannot be heard on standard radio receivers. Only receivers designed to use this frequency will be able to pick up signals from this station.

A dispatcher located in the WTUCo.'s district distribution office at Quanah district office operates the central station by remote control. The dispatcher maintains two-way communications with the operators of mobile units which are being installed in service and line trucks operating in the Quanah district. These mobile units have a range of from thirty to sixty miles, depending upon the surrounding terrain. They can communicate with each other as well as with the central station.

In case of disaster, public need, national emergency, or in instances when existing means of communication fail, these mobile units and this fixed station can, by relaying from station to mobile unit to other mobile units, provide emergency communications with all communities of the surrounding area.

Recent surveys conducted by WTU engineers under FCC experimental license show how this system can aid the company in rendering better service to the public by speeding the handling of many orders, varying from routine to emergency switching orders.

Irish Potatoes Now Available for Livestock Feed

The Production and Marketing Administration will have Irish potatoes available for livestock feeders for the next thirty days, according to an announcement received in the Foard County AAA office this week.

Anyone who is interested, and eligible as a feeder, may order these potatoes at the AAA office in Crowell. Livestock feeders from all parts of the Panhandle have reported excellent results from feeding potatoes. Many dairy farmers have put up enough potatoes in silage to last through the winter. They report that when mixed with tame or prairie hay, feed, Johnson grass, or sudan, potatoes make the best silage they have ever fed.

The world's first oil well is going back into production again, but only for tourist attraction. The famous old Drake oil well named for Col. Edwin Drake will soon be put on the pump. It will not, however, be pumping its own crude oil since this was exhausted some years ago. The casing has been sealed off and filled with purchased crude oil which the well will pump over and over again for the attraction of tourists. The well is being reconstructed to give it its 1859 appearance and true flavor.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 22

proposing an Amendment to Article V, Section 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Judge of the District Court shall conduct its proceedings at the county seat of the county in which the case is pending, except as otherwise provided by law; providing for election proclamation and submission to qualified electors of the State.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 7 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

"Sec. 7. The State shall be divided into as many judicial districts as may now or hereafter be provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a General Election, a Judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall be licensed to practice law in this State and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a Judge of a Court in this State, or both combined, for four (4) years next preceding his election, who shall hold his office for the period of four (4) years, and shall receive for his services an annual salary to be fixed by the Legislature. The Court shall conduct its proceedings at the county seat of the county in which the case is pending, except as otherwise provided by law. He shall hold the regular terms of his Court at the County Seat of each County in his district at least twice in each year in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power by General or Special Laws to make such provisions concerning the terms or sessions of each Court as it may deem necessary."

"The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of District Court when the Judge thereof is absent, or is from any cause disabled or disqualified from presiding."

"The District Judges who may be in office when this Amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on November 8, 1949, at which time all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment providing that the District Court shall conduct its proceedings at the county seat of the county in which the case is pending, except as otherwise provided by law;"

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment providing that the District Court shall conduct its proceedings at the county seat of the county in which the case is pending, except as otherwise provided by law."

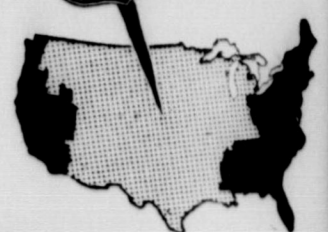

Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed Amendment. In counties or other subdivisions using voting machines, the above provision for voting for and against this Constitutional Amendment shall be placed on said machine in such a manner that each voter shall vote on such machine for or against the Constitutional Amendment.

Section 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and Laws of this State.

THESE ROLLING DOLLARS
It seems to be widely believed that the stockholders of successful corporations are about the luckiest people in the country. During the last few years the money has been rolling into industry's coffers in a golden stream.
What is often forgotten is that the money rolls out just about as fast, before the owners can get their hands on a share of it to keep.
Here, for instance, is what happened last year to the income of a middle-sized corporation engaged in the business of processing fabrics.
Its total revenues came to $17,460,000. Nearly half—$8,350,000

Labor came in for the next biggest slice—$6,330,000. The tax collector took almost $1,300,000. About $734,000 was retained in the business for plant expansion and working capital.
A trifle under $750,000 was left. This amounted to 4.3 cents

NOTICE OF ELECTION
On July 7, 1949, in compliance with the provisions of the Gilmer-Aiken school law (Senate Bill No. 116) passed by the 51st Legislature, the County School Board consolidated a number of rural school districts with the Crowell Independent School District.
This necessitates an election for assumption of outstanding bonds by the new district and for setting up a uniform maintenance tax rate.
An election has been called for this purpose and will be held in the office of the School Tax Collector, in the Foard County Courthouse on August 6, 1949.
Resident tax-payers (qualified voters) of the former school districts are eligible to vote in this election and all will vote at the one voting box in the County Courthouse. Districts specifically, as follows:
Crowell Independent School District (Orig. before annexations)
Four Corners No. 1
Gambleville No. 4
Margaret No. 6
Black No. 8
Vivian No. 9
Foard City No. 13
Claytonville No. 14
Good Creek No. 18
Cottle County Line (Old Fish No 5)

The tax rate ($1.25 on the $100.00 valuation) to be voted upon is the same as has been in effect this past year in the original Crowell School District and most of the former contract and transfer districts.

A number of car passengers have lost an arm in the wider new cars. Riding with an arm hanging out of the window, a passing car or truck has passed so close to the body of the car that the arm has been crushed or torn from the body. In the older models of cars the running board offered clearance which the wider new cars do not have.

It is hard to believe that the United States, as a nation, is only 173 years old. No other people in all of history have accomplished so much as this country has in a like period of time.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

My memory goes back to the days before circuses were motorized. In those days all circuses traveled on the railroad. The larger circuses required as many as three trains to haul them.

In my opinion the circuses have lost their chief attraction to many people with the coming of the trucks. The new equipment has made unnecessary the horses, and the horses were the chief attraction to many people even out here in the middle west, where horses, before the event of the automobile and the truck, were plentiful.

In those days the circus train usually arrived in town around five or six o'clock in the morning and the job of unloading began. The loading and unloading were the best part of the circus to me. I think this was because of the extensive use of big horses. I recall as many as eight and even twelve big Percheron horses attached to a single big wagon. I remember as a boy with what fascination I watched the driver with each hand filled with as many lines as he could hold, and with what perfect timing and precision the great horses responded. They needed no urging. They threw themselves into the collar as one. There was no seessawing back and forth. At the command of the driver the multiple team sometimes as many as six swung into action and the heavy loaded wagons moved forward as though propelled by an irresistible force. The horses were well kept and well groomed, and the harness was resplendent with shining brass and brightly colored plumes.

The first wagon to the show grounds was the cook tent, and it was the dining tent. This was set up and ready for business almost as soon as the first loads of the tent material arrived. I recall that even as a boy I had but slight interest in the managerie and the great hulks of elephants. My interest was in the horses and I am still so, even after the lapse of many years, their splendid performance with the heavy wagons. I think that the circuses used the heaviest wagons built in those days. The heavy wheel hubs made a clunking sound as the heavy loads jolted across the city streets to the show grounds.

When it came to the parade all of the big draft horses were called into service and what a sight they made. The heavy tent wagons, emptied of their load, were put into the parade with from four to six horses hitched to them. Because they were empty the driver had to keep his foot on the brake to keep the wagon from running over the team, but an empty wagon with six such horses drawing it was a sight worth going miles to see. Nothing that has been introduced since the circuses have been taken over by the trucks will ever begin to equal them. To me and I think to all who saw them in my day, the trucks have taken most of the glamour out of the circus.

Mounting costs have forced the circuses to adopt the newer methods which call for the use of trucks. Perhaps the younger generation which has never seen eight to twelve big Percherons or Clydesdales or Normans drawing a heavily loaded circus wagon, do not know the difference and consequently do not miss the great horses. My guess, however, is that if they should ever see such a sight they would vote unanimously for the old fashioned circus with its wonderful horses.

This generation should see to it that the children get the best education possible. They are going to have to be pretty smart to pay a 250 billion dollar national debt. So far the present generation hasn't been able to make a dent in it.

More people meet their death celebrating the Fourth of July each year than lost their lives in any single battle of the Revolutionary War.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

(By Congressman Ed Gossett)

Washington, D. C., July 30, 1949—Three years ago Congress passed a Reorganization Act. Among other things, this act provided that Congress should adjourn by the end of July "except when the country is at war."

Yesterday the Speaker of the House held that we were still technically at war and that such an adjournment was not required by law. Apparently this session will drag on for at least another month. The House is up with its calendar of legislation that had to be enacted, that is, appropriation bills. The Senate, however, is far behind. The House cannot complete action on measures passed by it until the Senate has acted.

In my opinion, it would be best for Congress and for the country if matters could be brought speedily to a close and Congress adjourn. It has always been my contention that a Congressman should spend not less than three months out of every year in his District. This, of course, is impossible unless Congress has adjourned for at least that length of time.

I have been selected as a member of a committee of nine Congressmen to go to Europe, leaving on August 27, for a six weeks study of immigration problems and of population problems principally in Germany and Italy. However, I have declined making the trip since I think it more important that I spend this time at home.

A number of us here have been urging the Department of Agriculture to announce a cottonseed program. Cottonseed has dropped from around $100 a ton a year ago to around $30 a ton in certain sections as of last week. Day before yesterday the Department of Agriculture announced they would support cottonseed so as to assure the farmer a return of not less than 90 per cent of parity. This will amount to around $50 per ton. While very much under last year's price, this will nevertheless be of considerable help to the cotton farmers of our section.

This week I received a sheet issued by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics showing the wholesale commodity price index during major war periods. This index shows how prices rose and fell during the Napoleonic War period of 1812, the Civil War period from 1860 to 1865, the World War I period from 1914 through 1918, and the World War II period from September, 1939 through August, 1945. There is an amazing similarity in the graphs shown. The lines of inflation and of deflation run almost parallel during these four different war periods. However, one cannot help but wonder if the deflation line of this date will continue downward on a comparative basis with deflations following other wars. The tremendous size of our national debt, together with comparatively high wage and salary schedules, may halt the deflation cycle which would normally occur. Following the War of 1812 our national debt was only $81,488,000. In 1864 our national debt was $1,518,000,000. In 1920 our national debt was $24,299,321,000. On June 30, 1948, our national debt was $252,308,770,000.

Loading a newsletter with statistics is bad policy. However a life insurance factbook, just reaching my desk, is filled with interesting data. Under a column entitled, "Life Insurance in the World," one notes that total life insurance throughout the world amounts to 275 billion dollars. Of this amount 202 billion dollars is in the U. S. A. Our closest competitor is England, with only around 20 billion dollars in force. In 1900 there were some 14 million policies outstanding in the U. S. A. Now there are almost 200 million such policies. In addition to those carrying life insurance in this country we have 79 million persons in 1948 who had wage credits to their account in the United States Social Security System. Fifty million of them were employed during all or a part of such in positions covered by Social Security. Life expectancy in 1900 for men was 48.2, while now it is 65.2. For women the figure was 51.1 in 1900, compared with 70.6 at this time. However, these figures are deceiving since the tremendous increase in life expectancy is due largely to the lowering of infant mortality rates.

One interesting sidelight on the workings of the Marshall Plan, (ECA — Economic Cooperation Administration) is the program of "Mules for Greece." ECA has promised to deliver to the Greeks, 7500 mules. The contract has been given to a Turkish importer who lives in Greece. ECA is to pay such Turkish importer $263.50 for a mule delivered in Greece. However, the top price being offered for mules in this country on such contract is $60.00 per mule. So far, few mules have been purchased at such a price. Officials trying to buy these mules say they can't pay more, because commissions and transportation will eat up the rest of the delivery price, i. e., $263.50. Perhaps a $60 mule wouldn't be worth anything when he got to Greece anyway.

According to the New York Automobile club in the time it takes for the average car driver to get his foot from the gas pedal to the foot break at 20 miles an hour, a car will travel 22 feet. It takes another 30 feet to come to a complete stop.

The state tax rate has been increased this year to 20 cents on the $100 valuation, but the county rate will remain the same as last year, 60c on the $100 valuation.

The campaign for the New Methodist Church building has increased to the extent that a committee composed of Rev. J. H. Hahble, D. P. Yoder, M. S. Henry, Mrs. C. P. Sandifer and Miss Emily Purcell, has been chosen to select a model. They have visited the First Church at Lubbock and also met an architect who will submit a drawing and figures on a building modeled after the Lubbock church to cost $25,000 or $30,000.

School Children Should Be Free of Correctable Defects

Austin, Texas—The month of September brings a return of school days, and thousands of Texas boys and girls will be returning to classrooms for the next nine months. Every one of these children, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, should be as free as possible from all physical defects that can be corrected, and protected against other diseases which frequently spread through classrooms.

A complete medical and dental pre-school check-up is of the utmost importance in getting the child ready for school. Eyes, ears, nose, throat, and teeth should be carefully examined, and all remediable defects corrected or placed under treatment. Such defects can lead to serious impairment of growth and progress academically, socially, and emotionally.

Defects of hearing and vision handicap a child in his class work, and often result in the false impression that he is backward and unable to learn. Such defects can be corrected, and the child is not only more progressive in his school work, but is a happier, better balanced individual as a result of being more socially acceptable. Dental defects should be corrected not only for cosmetic reasons, but because good teeth enable a child to chew his food properly and thus promote good digestion and bodily nourishment.

In addition to correcting such defects as already exist, young children should be protected by immunization against disease, when possible. Dr. Cox said, "Immunization is safe and dependable, and every child is entitled to this protection against disease."

Fight Being Made for Domestic Water Priority on Brazos

Abilene—In line with the proposal of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce that domestic water be given priority in any criteria for dam building, 25 West Texas towns on the Brazos watershed this week launched a new drive for an appropriation of more than 300,000 acre feet of water for the Bob Baskin reservoir.

The request is being filed with the Board of Water Engineers by the city of Haskell acting as agent for the other towns along the Double Mountain and Salt Forks of the Brazos.

At the same time these towns took their demands to Washington with a request for a resurvey of the project by the Bureau of Reclamation, using the same criteria developed in the proposal of the $87 million Canadian dam serving 11 towns in the Panhandle Plains area.

Manager D. A. Bauden of the WTCC, who recently prepared a report on the West Texas Water shortage damages and application of the Hoover Commission's domestic water recommendations, this week will take to Austin an official resolution from the Haskell city council, asking for the appropriation. A request was sent to Washington this week by John Couch, president of the Bob Baskin Dam Association, for a resurvey by the Reclamation Bureau. Baskin said this request was made in line with the criteria proposed by the WTCC which would give domestic water priority in all multiple purpose dam construction.

This program has been finding wide-spread approval in official circles and, according to Congressman Mahon who says, "The thinking of the Bureau of Reclamation is undergoing a drastic change. The Bureau is enthusiastically supporting the Canadian project, even though it is almost exclusively a municipal water supply project."

Letters from high officials commending the WTCC program for revision of the dam building criteria have been pouring into the Abilene WTCC office for two weeks. They include letters from Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Hoover Commission, which recommended in its report that domestic water be given first priority in criteria for multiple-purpose dam building. Other members of the commission who have written to Bauden are Arthur S. Flemming, Jos. P. Kennedy and C. J. Brown. Brown suggested that copies of the WTCC report be sent to all members of Congress.

Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, together with Congressman Omar Burleson, Eugene Worley and George Mahon, have also added their commendation to the program. Likewise letters have come from the United States C. of C. and the National Association of State Chambers of Commerce. One of the last letters Gov. Beauford Jester wrote before his death was one of commendation of the WTCC formula.

Towns joining in the water appropriation request for the Bob Baskin dam are: Knox City, Benjamin, Goree, Munday, Peacock, Aspermont, Rochester, Rule, Welton, Haskell, Hamlin, Stamford, Anson, Guthrie, Truscott, Leuders, Rottan, Jayton, Seymour, Throckmorton, Fort Griffin, Albany, Girard, Clairmont, Spur, Rhineland, O'Brien, Sagerton and Avoca.

Some believe that the demand made by John L. Lewis for a three-day work week is not really intended for a temporary maneuver but merely a scheme to hedge against the day when three days a week operation of the mines will supply the nation's coal needs. Because of the frequent interruptions in the coal mining industry caused by strikes and threatened strikes, and because of the increased price of coal and the lowered price of competing fuels, the use of coal is being rapidly replaced with oil, gas and electricity. This continued falling off in consumption will one day make itself felt in the coal mining industry, if it has not already done so.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

You can make a miniature dust-less mop out of a ten cent store dish mop, by treating it slightly with furniture polish or oil. It is handy for dusting beneath stoves, along the top of mop boards and window sills. A similar mop kept in the bathroom is useful in scouring the bath tub and bowl.

A little household ammonia added to the water with which mosquito bites are washed will take the sting out of the bite.

Weekly Sermon

Christ in the Four Gospels
By Alfred Martin, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

The Lord Jesus Christ is the central Person in the Scriptures. The Old Testament looks forward to Him, and the New Testament presents Him plainly, "the image of the invisible God" (Colossians 1:15).
The first four books of the New Testament, called the Gospels, present Christ in four different aspects. There is no disagreement or contradiction, but each emphasizes one particular side of His Person and work.
With the four Gospels can be connected four Old Testament texts which set forth Christ in the same four-fold way.
1. "Behold, thy King..." (Zechariah 9:9). This corresponds to

Matthew, in which the Lord Jesus is seen primarily as the King, coming to His own people—Israel—, rejected by them, but coming again to set up His millennial kingdom.

2. "Behold my Servant..." (Isaiah 42:1). This is the picture of Christ set before us in Mark. "For the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).

3. "Behold the man..." (Zechariah 6:12). This is the presentation by Luke, in which the Lord Jesus is shown to be the perfect Man. "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost" (Luke 19:10).

4. "Behold your God!" (Isiah 40:9). This is the message of John. "These are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through his name" (John 20:31).

Of course all of the Gospels present Christ as King, as Servant, as Man, and as God, but in each one the emphasis is somewhat different. They all point to Him as the only Saviour of men. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved..." (Acts 16:31).

West Side H. D. Club Holds Mid-Summer Meeting

The West Side Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. M. O'Connell Wednesday, July 27, with Mrs. Henry Ross as hostess.

Mrs. Herman Kincheloe had arranged the program in the form of a style show in which three of the junior club girls gave demonstrations.

Donna Norris demonstrated a lovely tissue gingham dress which she has made. She told of how she cut it out and fitted it and sewed it. She gave her mother credit for helping her with some of it. Nelda Brooks next gave an ironing demonstration in which she showed the easy and exact way to iron a man's white shirt. Loretta Lyons assembled the ingredients for making icebox cookies in the living room and did it correctly. The cookies were then baked and the club sampled them and pronounced them good.

The birthday of Mrs. J. H. Kincheloe was observed with an array of lovely little gifts. The August meeting will be a picnic supper with Mrs. Herman Kincheloe as the hostess.

President Calvin Coolidge never permitted his chauffeur to drive faster than 16 miles an hour.

Those attending the party were Mary Margaret, Mary Ann Myers, Carolyn Bursey, Sue Bursey, Betty Davis, Billy McCoy, Sue Meason and Frances Kincaid.

Former Thalia Man Weds in Fort Worth

"Chicken Every Sunday" Opens at Rialto August 11

The Broadway to Hollywood change has been made by many talented actors in recent years, but rarely with the aplomb demonstrated by academy-award winning Celeste Holm. She needed only three pictures to win the coveted award, and has run the Hollywood gamut from musicals to serious drama with less than two years in the film capital.

Celeste is back in the field she likes best, comedies, with her starring role opposite Dan Dailey in "Chicken Every Sunday," the film version of Rosemary Taylor's best selling novel which opens at the Rialto Theatre, Wednesday, August 11.

But that's the way it's been all along with the talented, slender, ash-blond beauty. Celeste has always had a purse chuck-full of mad money, and as a result she could pretty much choose the things she wanted to do.

Drilling ceased the other day on the world's deepest oil well. The well which has reached the world record depth of 20,521 feet without striking oil is located near Rock Springs, Wyoming. Drilling began last July and has kept up continuously night and day by four shifts of drilling crew. Specially built machinery powered with 2,010 horsepower diesel engines is used. One hundred and ninety-two bits were worn out in the drilling. The string of shaft and the bit weighed 150 tons. The temperature at the bottom of the well is over 300 degrees Fahrenheit. The well, a dry hole, cost over three million dollars. There is much speculation as to the reason for drilling the well. One theory is that it was done to test deep drilling equipment destined for Arabia, another is that it was to discover the possibilities of oil below the 15,000 foot level.
