SENIORS BID FAREWELL TO C. H. S.
 After 4 years of writing notes, being late to classes and occasional spells of studying, the members of the class of '50 have suddenly found themselves approaching the classic milestone of commencement. When we first entered these halls of learning, we were shy and just a little scared of the ultra-sophisticated seniors.

In our freshman year we got our first lesson on "How to be a Senior." It was all a part of our first high school football, election of our class officers, and standing as we solemnly sang "Dear Ole Crowell High." Included in our first lesson was our discovery of new friends and our participation in school activities.

As sophomores we laughed at the antics of the freshmen, and even wished that we were upperclassmen, and the next year we were. We began to be more active in our junior year. This was first year of the sophomore-junior-senior Christmas party. We were now part of the "big wheels" of the student body machinery. By the time we had finished ordering our rings, we were also through with selling magazines and entertaining the seniors at an "Old Plantation" banquet. We watched the class of '49 scurry through the last week of school, but our future duties seemed more like fun than work.

In September, 1949, we entered CHS, as poised and sophisticated about school affairs as we had once wanted to be. We know now that it isn't something you acquire when you become a senior but rather the patina of your experience. This year we have discovered that it takes work on the part of someone for the senior year to be as much fun as we want it to be, and every senior has contributed his time and efforts to the class at some time. We have been so busy that it seems graduation day has suddenly appeared out of nowhere, but it is only a week away.

We are publishing these last two editions of the Wildcat as the memoirs of the class of '50 in order that you may read our record through the last four years.

In closing we would like to express our thanks for those who have helped us these past four years including Mr. Graves, our faculty, the school board, the patient bus drivers, our swell pep squad sponsor and our class mothers and class sponsors. Especially we want to thank our class sponsor, Henry Black, who has given so freely of his time.

BARBS BY BOBBIE

"Mother is the word for God in the lips and hearts of little children..." This is one of the things I found while I was reading "Vanity Fair," one of the things I'd like to remember always.

Most people save their writings about mothers until Mother's Day but I think any day of the year a suitable one to write on "Mothers."

I had never thought about a mother in that sense, but I have stopped and thought, and now I see how true that quotation really is.

I've noticed that several CHS-ites have been wishing that they were band members. This was after their trip to San Angelo and attending Santa Rosa Roundup. Band students did not have yellow passes.

As we approach summer, it seems that we have more boys with crew-cuts every day. The girls are divided as to their likes and dislikes, but it's my opinion that there are more "dislikes."

Crowell will have a few more new students other than Fish next year. These will be from Truscott; they have been attending Benjamin High.

Next week while we are slaving over finals, the Seniors will be in Galveston acquiring sun tans. Lucky kids!

It's interesting to note that Rondyn Self is the only Senior that is going out of the state to acquire her "higher knowledge." She's going to Nashville, Tenn. Brave girl.

Joline Lanier is going to use the algebra she learned in Mrs. Davis' class to study to be a math teacher at the University of Texas.

I don't know whether the Senior class has chosen their gift to the school, but it would please all of us if they presented a water fountain that produced cold water on hot days.

This is about the time of year that we decide that we weren't so anxious for school to be out after all. It means being unable to see our classmates for about three months for some of us and it means the loss of our Seniors. I don't think the Fish are crying though.

FRIENDSHIP RANKS HIGH IN SENIOR EVALUATION

What have you gotten the most out of your four years in Crowell High?

Rondyn Self: I have gotten much more out of high school than the 19 1/2 credits I received. Although I think it is necessary to acquire a good high school education, I have learned many things that aren't in the text books. The wonderful friends among the students and faculty have meant more to me than anything else.

Clara Jones: I have learned how to work with other people.

F. L. Ballard: I have learned that my opinion is not the only one.

Montez Laquey: I received much experience in the field of work which I wish to go into when I go to college.

Bobby Lax: I have learned to enjoy sports and all kinds of higher class music, and also this past year I have learned the real value of higher education.

Bobby Stinebaugh: I found out just how much I didn't know.

Rouse Todd: I have received much training and help in sports. This and the friends I have made have meant much to me.

SENIOR ESSENTIALS FOR GALVESTON TRIP

Four more days and the Seniors will be basking on the Galveston beach, probably griping about their sunburns, and moaning about what they forgot to pack.

For the benefit of you who have memories like a certain bookkeeping student whom we know, we are printing this list of suggestions on what to take on the senior trip. It has been suggested by the H. Q. (Suggested?) that two students pack their suitcases together in order to have less luggage.

Everyone: bathing suit, bath towel, sun tan lotion, colored glasses, beach shoes of some type, tooth brush, hair brush and comb, and camera.

Girls: make-up kit, one dress-up dress, one or two skirts, 3 pair levis or shorts, blouses and shirts, costume jewelry, and an over-shoulder bag.

Boys: dress shirts and trousers, levis and sport shirts.

Be sure to take enough changes of clothing because you will be outside most of the time and the climate is very hot and damp.

Dearborn plows are quick-attaching and are lifted and lowered by Ford Tractor Hydraulic Touch Control.

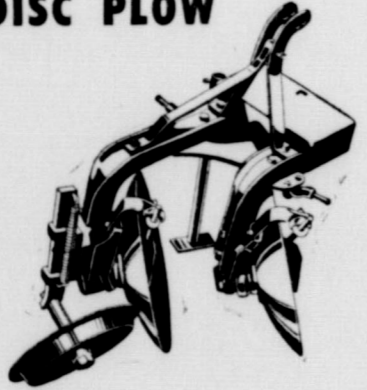

DEARBORN MOLDBOARD PLOW

No matter how much you disc and harrow you can't correct a poor plowing job. So why not get a plow that does you a good job in the first place?

This Dearborn Moldboard Plow can be attached to a Ford Tractor in one minute, lifts and lowers by the tractor's Hydraulic Touch Control. Even depth and clean, well-turned furrows assured, with a selection of sizes and bottoms to fit every soil condition.

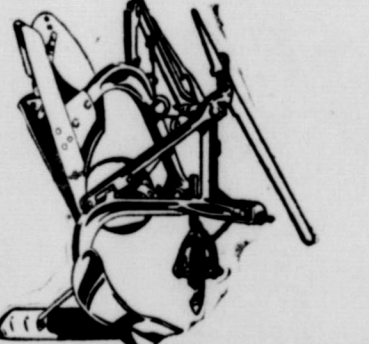

DEARBORN DISC PLOW

The large heat-treated discs of this plow do a job in land where penetration or scouring is a problem. Works fine in hard, stony, root-filled, sticky, waxy or abrasive soil.

A good plow for soil conservation... leaves some trash in furrow to resist blowing or washing. Can be attached to Ford Tractor in one minute, lifts, lowers by Ford Tractor Hydraulic Touch Control.

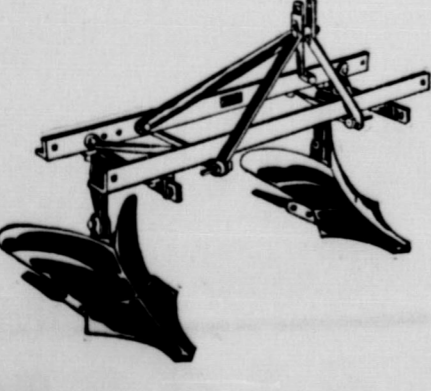

DEARBORN TWO-WAY PLOW

Here is that sturdy two-way plow you need for irrigated land, contouring, strip cropping and odd-shaped fields.

Bottoms change automatically as you lift plow and turn... so all furrows lie same way. Useful for ditching, too, with both bottoms down. Quickly attached to Ford Tractor; lifts, lowers by Ford Tractor Hydraulic Touch Control.

DEARBORN MIDDLEBUSTER

Wherever crops are listed or bedded, the Ford Tractor and Dearborn Middlebuster are out there doing a great job. And the Middlebuster helps control blowing and washing... fine for soil conservation.

Can be attached to Ford Tractor in one minute; lifts, lowers by Ford Tractor Hydraulic Touch Control. Space one, two or three bottoms as desired, add planter attachment if you wish. Fried according to attachments wanted.

WILDCAT BAND COMPLETES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

By Rondyn Self

This summary of CHS activities during our four years here could not be complete without telling something about the Crowell Wildcat Band.

The Wildcat Band was organized in September of 1948 under the direction of Miss Mary Close but did not do any marching until the fall of 1949. The band, the first in several years, has grown from 30 pieces to a 49-piece band in only two years time.

The band members ordered their uniforms in the spring of 1949, but since they did not arrive in time for the beginning of the football season, the Wildcat Band played at two games, once at Paducah and once at a home game, without their uniforms. The black and gold uniforms arrived on the day of the Holiday game and were the cause of a great deal of excitement at CHS when they were delivered. It was at the Holiday game that the Wildcat Band, resplendent in its new uniforms, presented its first between-halves performance.

The first parade in which the Band participated was one held in celebration of the opening of the Childress Fair. Soon afterwards, the Wildcat Band marched in the Chillicothe Homecoming parade, which preceded the Crowell-Chillicothe football game.

In October our band, with fifty others, marched through the gaily decorated streets of Wichita Falls which was celebrating Hardin College's Homecoming Week. After the parade the band members were the guests of Hardin College at the game between Trinity University and Hardin College.

In these parades and at all between-halves performances the band was led by drum major Jerry Culbertson, who wore a gold and white uniform and a gold and white sash. The majorettes, Tommie Meason and Violet Rummel, wore short white satin skirts with matching gold trimmed white satin jackets and Juliet caps of gold sequins.

This April the Wildcat Band attended Interscholastic League contest in San Angelo where they did very well. On May 1, the Band represented Crowell High School by marching in the Santa Rosa Roundup parade at Vernon.

The Crowell Wildcat Band attended the Olney Band Roundup on May 9 and will finish its season with the annual spring concert on the night of May 12.

THE CROWELL F. H. A. CHAPTER

The membership in 1946 was approximately 44 students. The average finally came up and now in 1950 we have a full membership of 65 students.

The number of senior girls, who are members of the F.H.A., are relatively small this year. They number only seven. We seniors must take up for ourselves, so that we will name the officers that seniors hold. Secretary, Montez Laquey; historian, Clara Jones; officers of the committees are the following: posture, Joline Lanier, social, Rondyn Self.

The emblems of membership are the key, torch, scroll and red rose. Our colors are red and white while our flower is the red rose.

Our sponsor, who is very capable in this work, is Mrs. Ruth Kenner. While on the other hand we have some "swell" room mothers. They are Mrs. Gordon Cooper, Mrs. R. H. Cooper Jr., Mrs. Geneva Potts, Mrs. Elmo Todd, Mrs. Fern McKinn, Mrs. Clint White and Mrs. Merl Kincaid.

The time of our meetings are the first Tuesday of every month at 7:30 p. m.

THE CROWELL F. F. A. CHAPTER

The membership in 1946-47 was 42 students, in 1947-48, 46; in 1948-49, 42. The membership in 1949-50 is 58.

The number of senior boys in the class is very small since most students take V.A. during the first three years of high school. They number only three. The seniors are Billy Johnson, Lewis Hunter and James Weathers. The only senior holding office is Billy Johnson, who is president of the chapter.

The emblem is significant and meaningful in every detail. Upon the face of the emblem appear five symbols: the owl, the plow, and the rising sun, within the cross section of an ear of corn, which is surmounted by the American eagle. Upon the face also appear the words "Vocational Agriculture" and the letters F. F. A. Our colors are corn gold and national blue. Our capable adviser in this work is Mr. Marvin L. Myers.

"Only one more day of volleyball in dear ole CHS gym" is a remark overheard during third period gym.

The juniors will surely miss our senior volleyball girls who have shown much skill during the past few years. The senior girls are as follows: Myrtle Bartley, Joline Lanier, LaVerne Owens, Evelyn Kajs, Letha Marlow, Betty Brock, Tommie Meason, Anna Jo Lankford and Laverne Poynor.

We wish them all good luck in the future and hope that one of them will attend college and major in physical education.

STINEBAUGH VALEDICTORIAN OF MID-CENTURY CLASS

Bobby Stinebaugh is the valedictorian for the class of 1950. He has an average of 94 for the years 1946-1950. He was salutatorian of his eighth grade class of Crowell Elementary School. Montez Laquey, salutatorian with a 92.5 average, was also salutatorian of her Truscott eighth grade class.

Honor students must have an average of 90 or above. Honor students other than the two named were Joline Lanier, 92.3; Clara Jones, 91.6; Evelyn Kajs, 91.3; and Rondyn Self, 90.

SIDE SPLITTERS

Coach: Tell me something about the men who signed the Declaration of Independence.

Laverne Shultz: They're all dead.

Bill Graves: You've been growing, Daddy, haven't you?

Mr. Graves: I don't know. Why do you ask that?

Bill: Your head is coming thru your hair.

A hillbilly sitting before the fireplace with his wife labored over a piece of paper with a pencil. Suddenly the man let out a whoop that rocked the countryside. "Hey, Ma!" he shouted. "I just learnt how to write."

"What does it say, Paw?" the wife asked.

"Don't know yet," he said. "Now I guess I gotta learn to read."

Stranger: Only twelve o'clock? I thought it was much more than that.

W. C.: Around here, stranger, that's all it ever gets, then we start all over again.

Small boy: Is you sister spoiled? Little Boy: No, that's just the perfume she's wearing.

 Nothing makes a woman unhappy than seeing her husband or someone else in the family missing an expected job promotion because the boss favors some fair-haired youngster with family or social connections.
 Fortunately for our dispositions, most industries and business no longer use such short-sighted policies of promoting on the basis of family connections. The right people and not

 The oil industry, for example, which has certainly been up to the minute in its technical developments—like synthetic rubber—has also been a pioneer in the business of making people contented on the job and seeing that hard, loyal work pays off.
 If you look over the list of top men in the oil industry today and check back on how they started, you'll find, among many others, a former service station hand, a warehouse worker, the son of an Iowa farmer, and a refinery worker. Mainly men work up from the ranks of the progressive industry. Recently we heard about the son of one of the industry's highest men who is pumping gasoline in a service station. He is trying to work up from the bottom like anyone else.
 One company with a forward-looking personnel policy is typical of many. It carefully prepared for its employees a booklet appropriately titled "So You Want a Better Job." It set out in easy-to-understand language a few basic thoughts on how to advance on the job. Oil firms have definite standards and requirements for their junior and senior executives. Ability and results are what determine oil industry job promotions. That's one of the many reasons why the oil industry has won such a reputation for progressiveness.

TEXAS COTTONSEED

Austin, Texas, May 6—A total of 163,614 tons of cottonseed were received at Texas mills in February, as compared with 69,678 in January and 16,787 in February 1949, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Despite a 13-per-cent decline from January, cottonseed crushings in Texas were 45 per cent above a year earlier. Stocks at the end of February were more than 4 per cent below a month earlier and more than twice as high as a year ago.

MEDICAL MARVEL

The May issue of Coronet magazine carries an exceptionally important article called "Meat: A Medical Marvel," written by one of the country's outstanding writers on scientific subjects, J. D. Rateliff. The gist of it is found in his first paragraph: "We don't think of a slab of juicy steak or a chop as medicine. Yet the proteins they contain have as many accomplishments to their credit as any miracle drug."

Back of that lies a dramatic story. The proteins — which are found in a complete state in a limited number of foods, including meat, fish and milk — used to be regarded with considerable suspicion. Meat, for instance, was thought to be particularly dangerous to people with kidney disease, and to presurgical patients. At one time cases of ulcers were treated with a starvation diet. Old people usually avoided the so-called "heavy foods" which are rich in protein content—tea and toast, the theory went, provided most of the nutriment grandmother and grandfather needed.

Recent discoveries, backed by a huge mass of actual practical experience, have almost completely reversed these outmoded theories. To quote Mr. Rateliff again, "Proteins are reducing the hazards of surgery, cutting complications of pregnancy, giving newborn babies a better chance at life. With one disease formerly regarded as being universally fatal—cirrhosis of the liver — proteins are changing the picture from despair to hope. In sum, a dietary revolution is under way. The glamorous vitamins are giving up the spotlight to the even more glamorous proteins."

Moreover, the scientists have found, a high-protein diet has a beneficial effect on mental health and morale as well as physical well-being. So, if you feel like a juicy steak, eat it! It's good for you.

ONE UTILITY'S TAX BILL

In mid-April in San Francisco, an executive of a privately-owned, publicly-regulated electric utility handed the city tax collector a check for $1,578,317.94. The payment was the second installment on the company's total city property tax bill of $3,177,597. That sum, incidentally, represents more than five per cent of all the property taxes assessed in the city and county.

This same utility's total tax bill — Federal, state and local — will exceed $40,000,000 this year.

Commenting on the tax payment the utility representative said: "These figures emphasize the importance of . . . a taxpaying business enterprise contributing to the support of local government."

schools and special districts.
 "Contrast this company's position with that of the tax-free, government-owned utilities. They pay no taxes, while our tax bill in 1949 was one and a half times the dividends paid to 160,478 stockholders."
 "This is just one utility, albeit a large one. All over the country power and light companies of all sizes are among the largest and most stable taxpayers that government has. The only exceptions to that are the regions where the power comes from government-owned systems, which are tax free, which are unregulated, and which live on public subsidies that constitute a substantial part of every tax bill."

When the tax factor is brought into consideration, it is usually the case that free enterprise supplies power cheaper than the socialized systems. The propagandists for socialism at any price can find small comfort in the actual, unvarnished facts. — Industrial News Review.

A unique experiment to be conducted in the town of Mosinee, Wisconsin, the purpose of which is to demonstrate to the citizens of the community how lucky they are to be living in the United States, instead of a Russian dominated country. The plan, which was handled by the American Legion, put the town and its people under Russian rule for one day. Legion and civic officials posted pictures of Josef Stalin, hung out hammer and sickle flags, and took over as communist leaders of the town. Residents were asked to surrender all normal liberties voluntarily. Clergymen and town officials were arrested and placed in custody for the day. The town newspaper published a special propaganda edition. Merchants were asked to ration food during the day, selling only to persons who have "permits" from the state. The local editor is chairman of the committee which made arrangements. Mosinee has a population of 1400.

Most people will approve of the selection of John Foster Dulles by President Truman as special consultant to Secretary Acheson. Dulles is a Republican and one of the nation's best known experts on foreign policy. Mr. Dulles, a New York attorney, has long been the Republicans' advisor on foreign affairs. In addition to creating real bipartisanship in foreign affairs, the appointment adds to the State Department one of the country's best informed men on foreign affairs and relations.

When we heard Russia's reply to the note of our State Department regarding the shooting down of an unarmed American plane over the Baltic, a local man said yesterday, I could not help but remember that during the war we went all out for Russia and shipped her thousands of planes and trucks and other war supplies to save her from Hitler. Second guesses are always best but I catch myself wondering whether it wouldn't have been better if we had let Hitler take Russia and then dealt with Hitler. As I look at it, I wouldn't flip a coin for the difference between Hitler and Stalin. I am fed up with the foreign crowd and am against any kind of a deal with any of them in the future. They are all alike—long on the asking, and quick to turn on us once they are out of danger.

After a long and costly trial which finally resulted in the conviction of Harry Bridges, West Coast labor leader on charges of conspiracy and perjury, it develops that this country cannot deport him to his native country of Australia. The reason: Australia won't have him. Strange as it may seem this government has no way of deporting an undesirable alien if the alien's country for any reason doesn't want him. In other words if a foreign country once gets a spy or any organizer into this country we have no way of ridding ourselves of him. Until he is actually caught red-handed doing traitorous acts he is free to go where he pleases and gain all the information, secret or otherwise, for his government. It sounds silly and indefensible but it is true.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

I live in a state, which until last year enjoyed prohibition, although a lot of people who seem to think that whiskey is necessary for a full rounded existence, didn't see it that way and voted to make the state wet.

I am not a crank about liquor, but I expect to live long enough to see my state regret very keenly that it ever gave up the fight and permitted a liquor store to be set up in every country town. It is going to find out that in the end, liquor not only stings like an adder and biteth like a serpent, but it is also going to see the living standards of many families reduced because of the legalization of liquor.

I recall that one of the campaign slogans was that the liquor was being drunk under prohibition and no more would be drunk when it was legalized and besides the state would have the revenue. An indisputable repudiation of this is that the receipts of city police increased six to ten times what they were before the state voted wet. All of the additional receipts come from the arrests resulting from drunkenness.

The good people of my state learned a lesson in politics, or I hope they did at the election which voted in liquor. Though the large majority of the people of Kansas are not in favor of the sale of liquor in the state, they stayed at home on election day, while the friends of liquor all got out and voted. Although the virtue of voting at every election had been preached for years, these people did not realize until the day after the election what they had done. They learned that under the democratic form of government such as we have in this country, one doesn't have to join a Communist party or set up a scheme to betray the government and run the risk of being exposed and punished. All he has to do is nothing. And in the case of the good people of my state all they had to do was stay at home on election day.

The situation did not call for one to head a torch light parade and make speeches to amused, and entertained and cheering crowds on street corners defending the cause of sobriety and abstinence. All it called for—and all such situations ever call for in this country, is for the voter to go to the polls and cast his vote for the candidate and the proposition, which in his conscience, he honestly believes to be the best for his country, his town and his state. This, the good people of Kansas failed to do. This the good people of other states have failed to do on other issues many times. In this respect sins of omission are equally as great as the sins of commission.

I am using this case to illustrate some of the dangers to which this country is subject through the failure of those who have a concept of what is for the interests of our country. We should remember that we can lose a good cause by failure to support it and defend it, quite as easily as we can by joining the ranks of its enemies and openly oppose it. When the good citizens stay at home on election day they give the corrupt element in politics the opportunity that it seeks. This element knows that nearly one-half of those qualified to vote will not vote. As a result all that the leaders have to do is to get out all the vote of those whom they control. Their organization makes this an assured fact in many sections. Thus it is the good people of many communities really elect corrupt men to office, and by their indifference, defeat men of character and principle.

The progress that has been made by Russia toward the development of the atomic bomb is due largely to the traitors within our own borders, a local man says. The situation makes clear one fact, he says, and that is that this country is going to have to keep itself prepared. If another war should be forced upon us and there is that possibility, we are not going to have time to prepare for it after it starts. The secret of success in atomic warfare is that we not suffer a surprise attack. Two or three properly placed atomic bombs would destroy completely our factories devoted to the production of atomic bombs. There won't be any breathing spell next time in which we can get ready, as happened the last two wars. It will be a touch and go affair.

Early Season Control for Cotton Insects

Records prove that early season control of certain cotton insects is both effective and profitable, according to Joe Burkett, County Agent. Early season control insures early fruiting in areas where thrips, aphids, fleahoppers and boll weevils, alone or in combination, cause damage every year.

In addition to the crop fruiting, he says it insures earlier maturity of the crop and better grade; reduces boll weevil hazards; makes possible earlier harvesting; and under favorable conditions yields will be increased.

Burkett points out that the early season control program for cotton insects will be more effective if it is carried out on a community or county-wide basis, however the individual farmer can expect considerable benefit if he carries out a good program.

The first application of the insecticides should be made when the cotton plant is in the four leaf stage and this is usually about chopping time. Burkett says from 2 to 3 applications are usually necessary but this will depend upon the infestations and weather conditions. He says that regardless of the number of applications, the last one should be made before blooming time or 30 days before the bollworms usually appear. This is very important and the final results of the control program may well hinge on the stopping time. This period of time is needed to allow the population of the beneficial insects to develop as protection against bollworms.

Cotton farmers, he says, should remember that boll weevils emerge from the winter hibernation and begin feeding on the young cotton plant soon after it is up. Later, they start laying eggs in the squares. If they can be controlled before the eggs are deposited, their numbers will be reduced and later control will be easier and less expensive.

He points out that even though the early season control program may have been highly successful, later applications of insecticides may be needed. This will depend upon weather conditions and the extent of later infestations.

He reports that in the case of bollworms, the earlier maturity date made possible by early season control, has in some cases actually matured the crop before normal bollworm time and no control was necessary. Bollworms are not attracted to mature cotton plants.

and Senator Claude Pepper has attracted national attention. Many of the capital smart boys thought that Senator Claude Pepper could not be defeated. A great many of us were quite pleased that Congressman Smathers won by a substantial majority. Senator Claude Pepper is an able and distinguished Senator. However, he is a leader in the so-called "liberal camp" and is an exponent of the FEPC, the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, etc. He had the powerful financial and political backing of the Political Action Committee of the CIO, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and most, if not all, of the radical societies in the land.

While the House continues to debate the multi-billion dollar appropriation bill, they did take time out on Thursday to listen to an address of the Prime Minister of Pakistan, Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan. The visits and addresses of foreign potentates and dignitaries have become so common around Washington that members of Congress no longer get excited about them. There is no longer any rush to get a front seat.

Pakistan is the largest Moslem country in the world and the Ali Khan is counting on substantial financial help from the Americans. Almost half the people in the world are either Moslems, or are subject to Moslem influence. They, and those in racial or religious affinity with them, occupy almost one-half of the world's surface. We offended them deeply when we subsidized and underwrote the creation of the sovereign nation of Israel. In fact, a prominent Arab was in my office a few minutes ago bitterly complaining that more than 800,000 Arabs still live in caves and hovels as refugees from Jewish terror and persecution. Our State Department has been resorting to many expedients in order to win back some of the affection of the Arab world. This is one of the reasons why our State Department is so bitterly opposed to any restriction on oil imports from Saudi Arabia and other Arabian countries in the Middle East. The Ali Khan will probably get a substantial loan from Uncle Sam.

I have regretfully and reluctantly been compelled to reject a number of cordial invitations to make speeches in our District during the next several months. A trip to Texas for a speech not only takes me away from a heavy schedule of important work here in the Capitol but it also costs several hundred dollars which the Gossetts can ill afford to spend. Unless one exercises a little thrift, he ends up the year in the red. However, since I serve on the Judiciary Committee of the House, I have felt compelled to accept an invitation to address the State Bar Convention of Texas on July

8. One of the interesting bills which our Judiciary Committee this week tabled was H. R. 2444. This bill proposed to pay Messrs. Martineau and Lewinson, Los Angeles attorneys, an additional fee of $100,000.00 for representing the government in a civil suit against the estate of the late Edward L. Doheny. The case grew out of the Teapot Dome and Elks Hill oil scandal. These gentlemen were hired by the Department of Justice to prosecute the civil suit. They were given $25,000.00 for their services. They were very successful and settled the case, with out trial, for three million dollars. Officials in the Department of Justice have since insisted that Congress should appropriate an additional sum as compensation to these gentlemen. The claim has been pending in the Congress for almost 15 years.

WHY ARE YOU SICK?

When you are well, you rarely stop to consider what it is that is keeping you well.

Obviously, something is. Chiropractic proves that it is a LIFE ENERGY, with a measurable electrical frequency—startlingly similar to common ordinary electricity. This LIFE ENERGY flows over a marvelous net-work of human electrical wires direct from the BRAIN POWER HOUSE to the tissue call receiving sets.

Everywhere and anywhere flows this current to bring life, motion and function to all of your internal mechanisms.

Suddenly you find yourself ill because some part of your body mechanism has failed to function normally.

If you want to find the cause of this failing function you must reason:

First: Function fails because current fails. Second: Current fails because something has interfered with its transmission over the nerves.

The one place you can find this interference is in the spine from which branch all the ENERGY carrying nerves of your body.

Your spinal cord is a rope of tiny nerves and cells. Your spinal cord is inside your bony spinal column and branches of nerves pass between the joints.

Pressure upon the cord or its branches changes the electrical frequency which causes function to fail or be altered in the organ or tissues receiving the electrical frequencies of LIFE ENERGY. This failure produces symptoms of illness.

If you want HEALTH again, you must reason:

First: Find the cause of the interference. Second: Remove the interference so current does not fail.

Third: Function and motion will not fail when current is normal. Fourth: Normal function means HEALTH.

Control of Pecan Nut Casebearer Outlined by Agent

The pecan nut casebearer, sometimes called pecan worm or pecan borer worm, is a small gray worm that bores small holes in the base end of pecans and feeds within the nut. It occurs in Texas wherever pecans are produced and feeds only on pecans. The nut casebearer is the No. 1 enemy of pecans in Foard County and may cause from ten to fifty per cent reduction in yields and often destroys the entire crop if not controlled, says Joe Burkett, County Agent.

If the grower knows the life history of the nut casebearer, and thoroughly applies the spray with good equipment, satisfactory control can be obtained. A single spray applied at the right time in the right way will do the job. The casebearer has four stages of development: egg, larva or worm, pupa (changing from worm to moth), and moth or miller, which is the adult stage. Only the worm feeds on the nuts.

The worms come out of their winter hibernation or winter quarters when new shoot or twig growth starts in the spring. The worms bore in the shoots and feed within them until they are fully mature. Then they go through a pupa stage from 12 to 14 days and emerge as moths or millers, which are about the size of a clothes moth. By the time the moths emerge, the tiny pecans are beginning to show on the trees. After a few days, the moths start laying eggs. The small, bluish-white eggs, laid singly on the tip end of the small pecans, hatch in five to seven days. The eggs can be seen with the naked eye.

After hatching, the worms move down the twig to which the nut cluster is attached and start feeding on the second or third bud below the nuts. After feeding for four or five days on the buds, they move back to the nut cluster and enter the pecan through a small hole which they eat out at the base.

It is during this period, when the eggs are laid and the time that the worms are feeding on the buds (10-12 days) that the spray should be applied and no other time.

After the worms enter the nuts, spraying will not control them. In general, the spraying period for Foard County will be between May 5 and May 20. At this period, the pollen catkins will have shed from the trees and small clusters of nutlets will be conspicuous at the end of the new growth on the trees. The end of these little nutlets will be brown.

As stated, proper timing of the spray is essential, but equally important is proper spraying of the trees. Each limb, from the bottom to the top, must be thoroughly wet with the spray.

Good equipment is essential in properly spraying pecan trees. Large trees can not be sprayed properly unless you have power equipment capable of putting out spray at 400-600 pounds pressure.

Any one of the following spray mixtures will control casebearers if applied properly at the right time:

- 1. Three pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder, six to eight pounds of wettable sulfur per 100 gallons of water. Both mites and aphids may become a problem after the trees are treated with DDT. The sulfur should keep down the mites. DDT-treated orchards will be safer for the grazing of livestock than orchards sprayed with lead arsenate. 2. Six pounds of lead arsenate per 100 gallons of water. Do not graze livestock in the orchard for six to eight weeks after spraying. Aphids may be a serious problem in orchards sprayed with lead arsenate. 3. One pint of black leaf 40, three quarts of summer oil emulsion per 100 gallons of water. Aphids are not likely to be a problem when this spray is used. It is as effective for casebearer control as lead arsenate, and it will be safe to graze livestock in the orchard.

If the right varieties of pecans are growing on good fertilized pecan land, then the nut casebearer is the only thing that will keep the trees from bearing a crop of pecans every year. Other insect pests will sometimes lower the pecan yield, but usually do not destroy the entire crop.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Austin, Texas—Heart disease is the number one killer in Texas and last year there were 18,003 deaths from diseases of the heart, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

What kind of a heart have you? The periodic check-up with your physician will tell you. The Tuberculosis Survey in the state conducted by the Texas State Department of Health has brought to light many non-tuberculosis abnormalities, some of these have been heart conditions.

The three present major forms of heart trouble are: rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease. Rheumatic heart disease, the most common type of early life, occurs as the result of one or more attacks of rheumatic fever. It is a public health problem for which very little has been done, yet with early diagnosis and proper medical care during the acute and convalescent stages, children who develop rheumatic fever can be largely spared from rheumatic heart disease in later life.

Another major cause of heart trouble is high blood pressure, or hypertension. This is the most common heart disease of middle age. There is a great deal that is not known about this disease, but we do know that it is most common in people who are overweight, and that it is associated with long, continuous nervous strain, high tension and constant worry. Treatment of high blood pressure is fairly successful in the majority of cases.

Coronary heart disease is a disease of the arteries which supply the heart muscle itself with blood. A majority of persons survive the first attack, and with good medical care, rest and common sense precautions, may even live a normal life span. Syphilitic heart disease can be prevented by early and adequate care of the systemic disease, a problem which has been simplified by the use of penicillin. Research in the medical sciences is constantly improving the outlook for the cardiac patient, yet each individual must assume the responsibility for obtaining the benefits of this knowledge from his physician for himself and family.

LABOR SITUATION

As was predicted, the imposition of the minimum wage upon industry has resulted in a large number of substandard workers being laid off. Employers cannot afford to pay them 75 cents an hour so they have let them go. Many are older people and common labor and will have difficulty finding a job. If times should tighten up a bit, thousands more in this class would find themselves without jobs. A wage before it can be paid, has to be earned, and merely passing a law doesn't make this possible.

Prosperity is too apt to prevent us from examining our conduct; but adversity leads us to think properly of our state, and so is most beneficial to us.—Johnson.

Weekly Sermon

A MATTER OF INVITATION

by J. Arthur Springer, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Most of us like invitations. It thrills us when we receive an invitation to a birthday or dinner party, or just to pay a visit to someone of whom we think a good deal.

Many of us can remember when we heard the invitation of the Lord Jesus: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." And some of us can remember accepting that wonderful invitation, and discovering that His promise was true; we received rest from Him when we accepted His gracious invitation. Our sins are forgiven, and we are happy. Now, we are looking forward to the day when He shall return and shall issue another wonderful invitation: "Come up hither." At that time, He will take us from earth to heaven to be with Him forever. What a wonderful day that will be!

But in between these two glorious invitations is another. When He was here on earth as a man, He said to one and another, "Follow me." To some He said, "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." To the rich young ruler He said, "Come, take up the cross, and follow me." And to Peter, on one occasion, He addressed just the one word, "Come." It was after the feeding of the 5,000. The disciples were in a boat, crossing the sea of Galilee, having left the Lord on shore to pray alone. During the night, they saw Him approaching them, walking on the surface of the water. They were frightened, thinking it was a spirit; but Jesus reassured them, saying, "Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid." Peter, in the boat, replied, "Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water."

It was then the Lord issued that wonderful invitation, condensed into one brief word, "Come." And Peter stepped out, not so much on the water, as on the word of the Lord.

He is still saying, "Come." He is still asking us to come to Him—for salvation, for peace, for power, for everything that is really worthwhile.

Texas Wildlife Back in the 1870's-1880's

Austin, May 5—The dark era for Texas wildlife back in the 1870's and 1880's is described by A. S. Jackson, wildlife biologist for the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, in the May issue of "Texas Game and Fish," soon to be distributed. His article, headed "When Game Was Plentiful," emphasizes that the doom of the once mighty herds was sealed by the advent of repeating rifles, models of 1873 and 1876.

Jackson's research yielded a Henrietta Journal item about a man "living near the Red River" killing "278 head of deer in a circumference of ten miles from his house." The San Antonio News on August 31, 1877, told about two brothers, in two weeks time, shooting 67 deer, 219 turkeys (104 in one day), 3 bears, 46 ducks and 30 quail and that they also bagged 275 pounds of wild honey." A Hardin County newspaper, on July 21, 1878, quoted venison hams at 25 cents each. A Mason County News item carried in the Galveston Daily News on August 24, 1879, reported a man killed more than 100 deer," so far this year. The article continued: "Our woods are alive with deer and other game. We hear of a number of men in this section who are following no other pursuit this year but that of killing deer (because) the skins when dressed bring a fancy price." One month later, a news report stated that a Mason man "made $112 this year from deer pelts."

The Brownsville Cosmopolite on December 26, 1880, quoted the current price of mallard and teal ducks in the local markets at a little over four cents each. The same month, the Henrietta Shield stated that "A load of wild turkey was brought to town last Sunday and sold at fifty cents apiece." But, about the same time, another quotation for turkeys was 25 cents each.

Jackson, in his graphic account of the wanton destruction, continued: "Throughout the newspaper record of game slaughters was found no note sounding the word conservation. Indeed, public opinion seems to have been asleep to what was happening."

Then Jackson concludes: "If one is sickened after reading the entire collection of notes at one sitting, he must be at the same time heartened by the changes which have followed, changes which reflect by contrast, an awareness on the part of news editors to wildlife, values and needs, and an awakened public consciousness."

Most car drivers do not realize that if any passenger in their car is injured, the injured person can sue the car driver for damages even though the injured party has requested the ride.

Pre-Historic Elephant Remains Found Near Denton

Denton, Tex., May 5 — It's a big deal for North Texas State College. The remains of a pre-historic elephant, presumed buried some 20,000 years ago, will be used in the geography classes at the college.

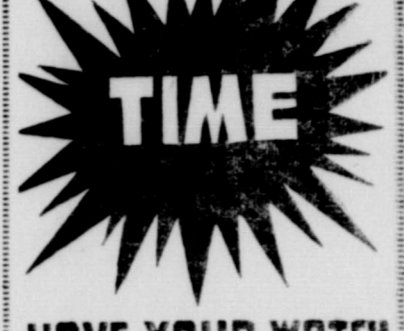

Under the direction of Dr. Walter Hansen of the NTSC geography department, a college drugging crew recently dug up bones of the pre-historic animal in a gravel pit southeast of Denton. The remains were first discovered in the pit a month ago and were turned over to the college this week.

Uncovered were parts of the elephant's shoulder blade, thigh, tusk spinal column and teeth.

"From the size of the bones, the elephant was apparently one of the largest of the period," Dr. Hansen said. "There were enough bones to definitely identify the animal as a prehistoric elephant," he added.

The bones are being treated and will be used in the study of pre-historic animals by NTSC geography classes.

It is estimated that the average person hears of only about one hitchhiker murder in forty, due to the fact that most of them appear only in local papers and do not get into dailies or publications of general circulation.

Bride-Elect Is Given Pre - Nuptial Compliment Sunday

Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick entertained with a delightful tea at her home Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 as a pre-nuptial compliment to Miss Nina Jo Chesshir, who will become the bride of Milton Evans of Floydada in the latter part of May.

Guests were received by the hostess and presented to the receiving line which was composed of Miss Chesshir, Mrs. S. M. Chesshir of Quanah, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. E. T. Evans of Vivian, mother of the groom-elect.

Miss Berdell Nelson was in charge of registration of the guests in the pretty bride's book. Miss Louise Jarvis of Lawton, Okla., directed the guests into the dining room where a blue and white color scheme prevailed in the decorative appointments. These are the chosen colors of Miss Chesshir.

The feature of the decorations consisted of a white base of styrofoam with blue ribbon forming squares upon it, and blue ribbon bows at the corner. On one end of the base stood a beautiful bouquet of white carnations. On the other a pretty closed blue umbrella with blue ribbon frill stood. A white carnation at each end of the umbrella simulated the knobs.

Miss Rondyn Self poured punch from a crystal bowl placed at one end of the lace-covered table. Mrs. Sarah Taylor, Miss Beulah Grace Turney and Mrs. J. E. Harwell of Lawton, Okla., assisted in dining room duties. Dainty cookies, sandwiches and mints in the party colors were served with the punch.

Miss Bobbie Ruth Abston played incidental piano music throughout the entertaining hours, during which time approximately forty guests called.

Open House Held for Juniors and Seniors of C. H. S.

Miss Rondyn Self was hostess Monday evening, May 8, at an open house honoring the Junior and Senior classes of Crowell High School, between the hours of seven and nine o'clock.

The guests were greeted at the door by George Self, Miss Clara Jones registered them in a gold and white guest book at a low table decorated with an arrangement of sweet peas.

The hostess ushered the guests into the dining room. The table was centered with a clever arrangement which depicted Crowell as a land of mesquites, the Seniors traveling on a bus and finally Galveston, the land of palm trees and a wide, sandy beach was in evidence. A boat was anchored at the Galveston port. At the side of the centerpiece, an attractive arrangement of orange gladioli was used. On the other side were crystal candelabra with tall green tapers and a matching candelabra and taper stood on the buffet with the plates.

Miss Montez Laquey, senior president, presided at the crystal punch bowl filled with lime punch. Trays of attractively decorated cookies and mints were also placed on the table. At an adjoining table, Miss Bobbie Abston served delicious layer sandwiches. Miss Maurine Youree gave each of the guests a lime napkin with "Juniors and Seniors" done in gold.

Upon leaving the dining room, Miss Youree handed miniature scrolls to each one. These were tied with pastel ribbons. Each Junior, Senior and faculty member had a different message on his scroll.

Approximately fifty guests called during the evening.

Picturesque Locale Used in "The Big Cat"

In Mood With Film

Producer William Moss and Director Phil Karlson chose the mountain site because of the beauty of the scenery and because the rugged country side was so much in keeping with the mood of the picture.

"The Big Cat," which tells of the effect that a stalking mountain lion has on a group of people in a mountain town, stars Peggy Ann Garner, Lon McCallister and Preston Foster. In the supporting cast are Skip Homeier and Forrest Tucker.

Stewart Hamblen Tells of "Biggest Thrill" at Abilene

Stewart Hamblen of Los Angeles, Calif., was a recent visitor with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hamblen in Abilene, and on Sunday, April 30, at the morning service at the Evangelical Methodist Church in Abilene he told of his conversion last year at a revival meeting in Los Angeles conducted by Evangelist Billy Graham, according to a news story in the Abilene Reporter - News. Stewart calls it his biggest thrill.

Thirty years ago the Hamblens were residents of Crowell at which time Rev. J. H. Hamblen was pastor of the Crowell Methodist Church and was superintending the building of the present church building here.

In the Reporter-News item, Stewart stated: "I've raced some of the best horses in the country and have killed more than 100 bears while hunting with some of the best dogs, so I should know what a thrill is. But the biggest thrill of all is seeing people turn from the ways of the world to hit the sawdust trail."

Since his conversion Hamblen has sold all his race horses except one and has quit his radio program on the West Coast. He has traveled more than 100,000 miles telling of his conversion and urging people to turn back to God.

"I firmly believe that unless America has a real baptism of old-fashioned evangelism this nation is going to see bombs dropped before long," Hamblen said. "We've tried bullets—now let's give God a chance." He does not preach denominationalism but only that the love of Jesus Christ can and will save people.

Hamblen was a cowboy radio star in Los Angeles for 21 years before his conversion. He still owns "El Lobo," one of the finest race horses in the country, in his opinion.

According to the story, he was one of six who recently organized the Motion Picture Prayer Meeting in Hollywood. Jane Russell, screen actress, was one of the original six. He said that at a meeting several weeks ago at the Roy Rogers Ranch more than 200 motion picture actresses and actors were present. "These people are worried by autograph hounds when they try to go to downtown churches," he said.
