Soil Conservation News of District

Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Lower Pease River District Board: W. C. Howard, Grady Halbert, O. T. Holmes, O. H. Brandon, H. L. Ayers.

"Neighbor Group" Speed Up Soil Conservation Work

By cashing in on one of the most fundamental qualities in human nature, soil conservation districts throughout the United States are speeding up the application of our national soil conservation program to a degree which should become even more marked as time goes on.

In modern times the family group survives, diverse to the contrary, but the tribal group has been replaced by others more complex. In rural sections, farmers may become neighbors because they like each other, are interested in the same things, belong to the same church, or for a variety of other common reasons. These natural groups of neighbors exist in every part of rural America.

Recognizing this fact, soil conservation districts throughout the country are turning to the neighbor group as a means of speeding up their program. In every neighborhood are men who because of their personalities or their natural qualities of leadership, exert an important influence on their neighbors. For, it is human nature, not only to want companionship, but also to follow patterns of conduct established by an individual in whom you have confidence.

There are now more than 2000 soil conservation districts throughout the United States. And the average district must rely for its technical assistance on about two soil conservation technicians. These men are supplied by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. For help in their educational programs, the districts lean heavily on county agents and other representatives of the State Extension Services. When only two technicians attempt to assist 2,500 farmers in the average county-wide district on an individual basis, progress is necessarily slow.

It is for this reason that district governing bodies throughout the country are turning to the neighbor group approach. Although the average SCS planner is paid for only 40 hours a week, he usually works overtime, at night or before and after usual working hours. Even so, the limited number of farm planners available to districts have been unable to keep up with demand.

But by cashing in on the human desire for neighboring, districts can now give assistance to 10 or 12 farmers simultaneously through the neighbor group approach. All of the preliminary stages of farm conservation planning can be done on this basis before individual assistance begins. In eight middle-western states, for example, farmers in nearly 6,000 neighbor groups were already working with their districts on the neighbor basis by late summer of 1950. A general speed-up in applying a national soil conservation program, seems likely as a result of this new approach.

The infestation of thrips on flowers and many ornamental plants is particularly heavy this year in many sections of the state. They are hard to see and often are unnoticed until damages caused by them begin to show up. They suck the sap from the plants and cause the affected parts to take on a dried up appearance.

WHY I AM FOR G. C. MORRIS FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

I have known him for the last fourteen years. Very closely associated with him for the six years that I served in the State Legislature. Morris worked with me just as loyally as our own beloved Senator Moffett.

He was always for the rural schools, farm-to-market roads, for rural electrification, rural telephones, farmers co-op's, and last of all, he was always a sober man, a Christian gentleman, a great statesman.

There are twelve men in the lieutenant governor's race. If you do not have some one that you are directly interested in, then I would appreciate you giving State Senator G. C. Morris due consideration.

G. C. Morris was president of the Senate when Governor Jester passed away. When Lieutenant Governor Shivers became Governor, G. C. Morris became acting Lieutenant Governor and served in that office until the next Legislature met. G. C. Morris is a good man for the Lieutenant Governor's place and he would make a great governor, should anything happen to our Governor.

I will appreciate your consideration of My Good Friend and Great Statesman, G. C. Morris.

JESSE OWENS
FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

Governor Shivers appointed Jesse Owens District Judge of the 46th Judicial District to serve the unexpired term of the late Judge Welch. His appointment was recommended by most of the lawyers, who practice in this district, as well as by many other prominent citizens.

Judge Owens gave up a good law practice to accept the appointment and at the end of the present term he will have served as District Judge seventeen months. Has he served you well? If so, does he deserve longer time in this office?

Jesse Owens was elected County Judge of Foard County, Texas, two times and served in that capacity from 1923 to 1927.

He was elected District Attorney of this District two times and served in that office from 1937 to 1941.

He was an Assistant Attorney General of Texas during the Administration of the Honorable General Mann and the Honorable Grover Sellers. He served as a trial lawyer in that office from January, 1943, to January, 1946.

He has been engaged in the practice of law continuously since January, 1927.

Jesse Owens will appreciate your vote and influence in the Democratic Primary to be held July 22, 1950.

NEW CHRYSLER IMPERIAL

Newest addition to the Chrysler line is the luxury-styled Imperial sedan shown here. The long, low appearance of the new model is accentuated by the massive wrap-around "Clearbac" rear window, first introduced in the Chrysler Division's "hardtop" models. Rich interiors combine with stylish body lines to give the car special distinction among 6-passenger sedans.

Chrysler Imperial, New Model Now in Factory Production

The luxury-styled Chrysler Imperial sedan now has been put into production. It is announced by Joseph A. O'Malley, general sales manager of the Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corp.

Distinctive exterior lines and ultra-smart interior trim of the new model are designed to make the Imperial sedan the most exclusive and beautifully-appointed 6-passenger sedan in the industry, according to Mr. O'Malley.

Highlight of exterior styling is the massive wrap-around "Clearbac" rear window that provides a maximum of rearward vision and accentuates the low, sleek lines of the vehicle. The "Clearbac" window has previously been available only in Chrysler's Newport models.

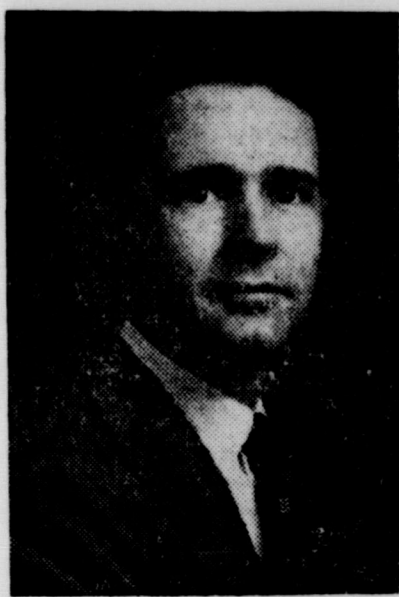

"The Imperial's interior trim is of the finest quality possible, provided particularly for those discriminating persons who appreciate and desire the ultimate in motor car luxury," Mr. O'Malley declares.

Exquisite wool broadcloth fabrics in a variety of patterns are combined with the finest quality top-grain leather for upholstery and trim. All interior fittings—door handles, instrument panel, steering wheel spokes, and other fittings where polished chrome is normally used—are finished in soft, satiny butler-finished chrome. Standard equipment includes automatic electric window lifts. Also standard are seat adjustment, white sidewall tires, and chrome wheel covers. The front and back seats are provided with a double-

Announcing...the Beautiful

Chrysler Imperial a new car of unrivaled distinction

This is the Chrysler Imperial...new running mate of America's finest car...the great Chrysler Crown Imperial. With the same luxurious interiors—unmatched in automotive history! With built-in value all the way through unrivaled today! With the quality of materials, the workmanship, and engineering that put every Chrysler in a class by itself! From new Clearbac rear window to the soft, satiny butler-finished chrome of interior appointments... this car is excitingly new! Deliberately built as a challenge to all former standards of what a fine car should be... and should do for you! Come take the wheel. Then carefully compare the built-in value with what the others offer.

There's built-in value all the way through without equal... Waterproof Ignition System... High Compression Spitfire Engine... Fluid Drive... Full Flow Oil Filter... foam rubber seat backs... a Booster Brake... Chrome Wheel Covers—White Sidewall Tires... many other features that, when available at all, are extra-cost on other cars.

Here is distinction in interior decor unsurpassed in any other car, regardless of price. Aristocratic color harmonies combine exquisite wool broadcloth fabrics, top-grain leathers. Chrome is tasteful butler-finished. Window lifts are electrically operated... arm rests, front and rear, are double-width throughout.

Many Contests to Be Conducted at the 1950 State Fair

Mrs. Leah Jarrett, manager of the Women's Department at the State Fair, said two contests in each category will be conducted during the Fair. There will be hat-making contests on Oct. 12 and 19 and cake-baking contests on Oct. 13 and 20.

The hat-making contest, for amateurs only, will be sponsored by the Dallas Millinery Industries and materials and trimmings will be furnished free of charge to entrants. First, second and third cash prizes will be awarded.

The cake-baking contest on Oct. 13 will be for children 12 and under and that on Oct. 20 for adults.

A total of $2577.50 in premiums will be offered by the Women's Department in the needlework, handicrafts, foods, potted plants and antiques divisions of the show.

Thousands of dollars worth of rare and beautiful birds will be shown under the sponsorship of the Texas Bird Breeders and Fanciers Association, Mrs. Jarrett said. An added attraction will be the famous Lamont trained bird act, which has appeared in theaters and night clubs all over the world.

Great interest has been shown in Dallas schools in the expanded handicrafts division of the Women's Show, Mrs. Jarrett said. Boys as well as girls are planning to enter the wooden crafts, metal work, ceramics, weaving and plastics competitions, she said.

Cake-baking and hat-making will be the top features of the expanded Women's Show at the 1950 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-22.

A nationwide crochet contest will have categories for teen-agers, 4-H Club girls, women over 65 and men. The national grand prize fair is $500 plus a free trip to New York or Chicago with all expenses paid.

The needlework division includes quilts and spreads, pillow cases and crochets. The foods division includes canned fruits and vegetables, pickles, relishes, jams and butter, preserves, marmalades, conserves and jelly.

Premium lists and rules for all contests can be obtained from Mrs. Jarrett at the State Fair.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

Everett, Pa., Republican: "The thing that has for a long time kept the electorate behind the planners and the speechmakers has been the promise of gain without work—of something for nothing. It is nothing more than just a promise. Westerners are told that they will have new power plants, new irrigation systems and so on, all free at government expense. Farmers are given heavy subsidies, all free at government expense. New and beautiful highways, airports, harbors and so on become realities, all free at government expense. The unemployed are given relief and the aged are supported, Veterans receive huge benefits, all free at government expense. It's wonderful. But not one penny of it is free."

Crosby, Minn., Courier: "The proposed Columbia Valley Administration, a plan which Newsweek magazine calls 'a menace in welfare disguise,' would be several times as large as that of the Tennessee Valley, and would be under the direction of a monopolistic government corporation. The administration of the project would be done by directors under national, not state jurisdiction, as well as scores of workers, also exempt from state control."

"The CVA would ultimately become the owner of a great deal of land as well as be the final authority on almost every activity carried on within the radius of the valley."

Newton, N. C., Observer: "As other countries have found out, we can't surrender just a little bit of our Independence! In this world of nations, you are either grown up or you are a child. Your Government is either your hired servant—or it is your boss! It may be a kind boss at first, but there is never any guarantee, human beings being what they are, that it may not be a very severe boss later on—when it is too late to do anything about it."

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

The advocates of public power in the United States have an appealing argument. They show that it amounts to only about 20 per cent of the nation's total output, and that private companies expand as the Federal power program is being developed. They point to the heads of a few private power companies who say they can buy power from public agencies satisfactorily and retail it to their customers. Also they assert that when public power plants buy out private power companies, they do so on a fair valuation basis and that there is no difference between this and private power companies selling to each other.

The foregoing confuses the citizen who does not realize the economic change that is taking place as government monopolies displace private industry.

Advocates of public power never mention the fact that public plants are tax exempt and that when they buy out highly taxed private companies they remove valuable assets from the tax rolls and that other citizens have to make up the taxes thus lost. They never mention that government monopolies also are exempt from regulation by state public service commissions, corporation commissions and tax commissions—that they enjoy privileges not accorded to private citizens or industries.

Advocates of public power do not relish showing that they have multi-billion dollar plans underway for rapid expansion. Neither do they show that the heads of private power companies who indicate they operate satisfactorily in conjunction with public agencies, are now either wholly or partially dependent on the public agencies for the power they buy and dare say little else. Actually, power companies located in the area of Federal monopolies are today dependent on the government's willingness to sell them power and they are subject to being put out of business any time the public agencies decide they wish to retail the power instead of selling it to a private company and can persuade Congress to authorize them to do so.

As to public agencies buying out private companies on a fair valuation basis, no private concern would be allowed to force a competitor to sell under threat of building duplicate competing lines.

Advocates of Federal Power resent having it called socialistic but what else is it when a government agency puts a private citizen out of business?

Ask your friend who advocates public power whether he believes in socialism and then let him try to explain the difference between government ownership of power and government ownership of the grocery business, farming, or his own business, if he has one.—Industrial News Review.

George Moffett Issues Platform Statement

Senator George Moffett of Hardeeman County, candidate for reelection, has submitted the following statement relating to his platform and candidacy:

"I pledge every possible assistance to our Country's preparedness program in the current crisis." "The need for economy in government spending daily becomes plainly more necessary." "I will vote to meet our needs, but not to waste our money." "I served as an enlisted man in World War I, and as a member of the State Senate in World War II. I am familiar with the problems that will face us if another world struggle comes. Such men will be needed in the Texas Legislature, for there, as anywhere else, there is not substitute for experience."

The fact that few candidates for state offices are getting much of an audience these days indicate that the voters are not much interested in public speeches.

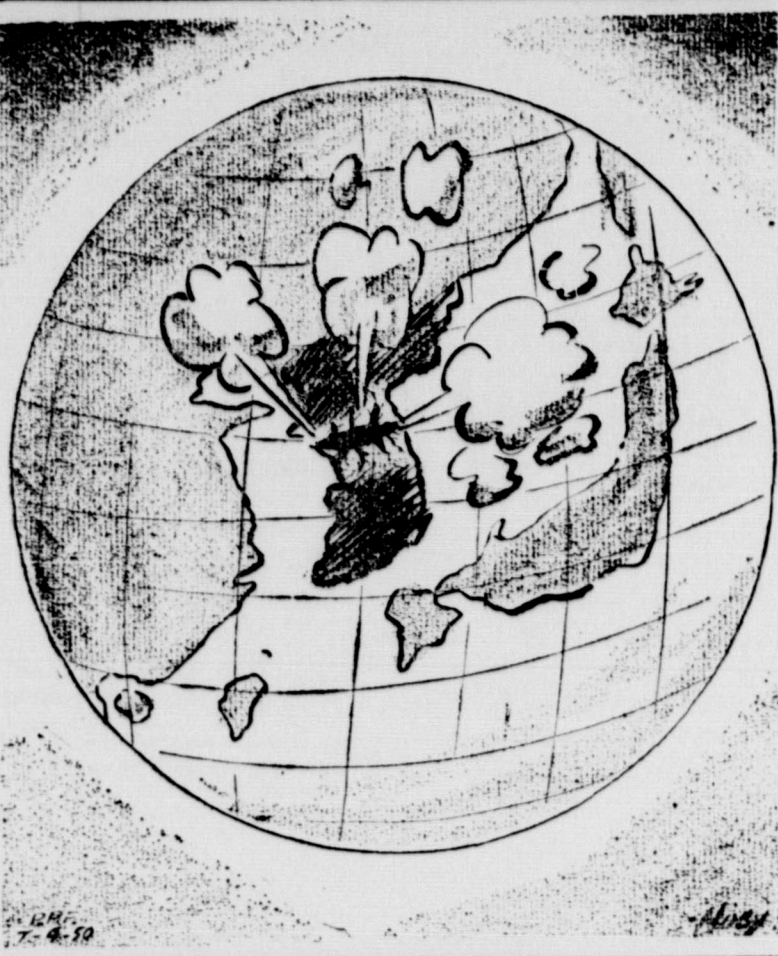

A candidate's promises to the people are not worth much after election, but at that they are worth as much as the people's promises to the candidate made before election.

Most people who become impatient over the manner in which this country handles the Communists matter will approve of the forthright action of General MacArthur on the occasion of the outbreak by the Communist outlaws in Japan.

An exchange contains an account of that community's effort to secure an industry. All the community has to do is to build a $75,000 building to meet the needs of the industry and then rent it to the industry at half what the building is worth.

Due to the carelessly drawn-up law the unemployment compensation law is both unfair and unjust. It appears to have been especially designed for the loafers and the shirkers.

HISTORY Pioneer Day in Utah, July 24—The arrival of Brigham Young and his followers in the great Salt Lake Valley on July 24, 1847, marks the beginning of the history of Utah as a political community. Following the murder of Joseph Smith by a mob at Carthage, Ill., on June 27, 1844, the members of the church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, which he had founded, decided to seek a part of the country far removed from the civilization of that day where they could worship as they chose without interference. Accordingly a company of one hundred and forty-four men was organized to search for such a place in the West. The company set out in 1847 and reached the Great Salt Lake Valley a month later. The group formed a settlement which was fortified by log houses arranged about an open square. The first years were years of great hardship. By hard work and careful planning the group prospered and in 1849 a great celebration was held in thanksgiving for the success of the venture. This anniversary has been celebrated every year since 1849. It was made a legal holiday by the Territorial legislature in 1882. The site of the first camp of forty log houses later became Salt Lake City. Pioneer Day, as it is called, is celebrated with parades and pageants which portray the early life of the founders of the city and the important events which marked their course through the years. Oklahoma is the only state whose capital, Oklahoma City, bears the state name.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Austin — When a state health authority says there is no such thing as a natural resistance to impetigo, parents of small children know exactly what he means.

POLIO AND DREAD DISEASE POLICY Poliomyelitis Scarlet Fever Smallpox Tetanus Spinal Meningitis Encephalitis Leukemia Diphtheria. PAYS ALL MEDICAL EXPENSES UP TO $5,000.00 PER PERSON. Hughston Insurance Agency

Although children are unusually susceptible, impetigo can be found in any age group, Dr. Cox said. It is most prevalent during the summer months, but has been known to occur at any month. Impetigo, according to Dr. Cox's explanation, is a purulent skin infection. It isn't too serious, except in new born babies.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FOARD COUNTY, TEXAS: During the time that I have served as your County Judge and Ex-officio County School Superintendent, I have endeavored to do so in a manner that would best subserve the interests of the people of the entire county. I have never forgotten that this office belongs to the people and is one of public trust and the duties thereof are to be discharged for your betterment and advancement. Your County Judge occupies a place of great responsibility in your county; not only is he the presiding officer of your Commissioners' Court but he also presides over the Probate court which court grants and supervises the probating of wills; issues letters of administration and of guardianship and supervises the duties of the appointees thereunder; and provides for and controls lunacy and non compos mentis proceedings. Civil and Criminal matters within the jurisdiction of the county court are also heard before the County Judge; in addition, he is your Ex-officio County School Superintendent. In discharging these multiple duties I have made use of all the knowledge I possess as a licensed attorney and business man toward the goal that Foard County might be wisely and judiciously served, yet had it not been for the genuine spirit of co-operation as manifested by you, the people of the entire county, my efforts would have been in vain. The confidence reposed in me and the co-operation afforded have made possible many accomplishments that otherwise would have been futile and fruitless; for such confidence and generous co-operation I shall ever be grateful. Economy has played a major role in my administration yet I have always looked toward the advancement and progress of the county commensurate with its economic index, as evidenced by our farm to market road program and our proposed hospital addition. You, the people of the county, know me and know the kind of administration I have endeavored to provide for the people of the county; if it has been such as to merit your continued support and co-operation, then I earnestly solicit your support and influence on Saturday, July 22nd, and should I be re-elected I again pledge you that I shall continue to exert my every effort toward discharging the duties of this office in a safe, sound, progressive and economical manner. Sincerely, LESLIE THOMAS (Political Advertisement)

"The Prince of Peace" Showing at Rialto Thursday and Friday

Church leaders and Christian people are certainly agreed that the benefits to the world of the spiritual message of the new cine-color film, "The Prince of Peace," will be lasting and the first local audiences to witness the picture, which starts an engagement at the Rialto Theatre today will fully approve and share these opinions. The Lawton Story of "The Prince of Peace" is a moving drama of the life of Christ preceded by an interesting and informative screen story of the Little Minister, Rev. A. Mark Wallock, who for 24 years directed the great religious pageants at Wichita Mountain, near Lawton, Okla., which form the background of the film.

This picture marks the first time in more than 50 years of motion picture history a producer has "gambled" with casting veteran actors and actresses along with amateurs. Hollywood's young Ohio Associate Producers J. S. Jossey and Neil E. Bogan, must be given credit for doing it—and successfully. Using a Hollywood cast intermixed with four citizens of Lawton, Okla., they have told the story of the Little Minister interestingly, entertainingly and to a finish with a mola. And in telling it they take the audience to the famous "Holy City" of the Wichitas where one sees portrayed the Story of Jesus by an all-amateur cast of over 3,000. Millard Coody as Jesus and Darlene Bridges as the Virgin Mary are stand-outs in the more than 100 speaking parts of the Bible sequences. Coody is a Lawton bank-teller in real life and Mrs. Bridges a housewife and mother.

"The Prince of Peace" also serves as the introductory vehicle for a new 6-year old child star, Ginger Prince. This youngster gives a most creditable first-picture performance and besides displaying some fine acting talent and handling some difficult lines well, she sings with an ease and freshness that wins her audiences immediately.

Ginger sings three new songs—"Down in Oklahoma," "Right Under my Nose," and "The Turtle"—as well as "Holy, Holy, Holy." In her first starring role she combines rare poise and natural sweetness. Forrest Taylor performs excellently as the little minister, Mark Wallock. Ferris Taylor is properly cast as the sinister Jonathan, and Maude Eburne provides comic relief as outspoken Henrietta. Beautiful Gwyn Shipman is Mark's sister and Ginger's mother.

The film will be at the Rialto through Friday, with a matinee at 2 p. m. on both days and evening shows at 7 and 9 p. m.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Austin — State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has turned the bright light of optimism on the heretofore dark picture of polio in Texas.

Observing that the state's 1000 cases of polio since the year's beginning has occurred among a population of seven and one-half million people, the health official Thursday deplored "the attitude of hysteria that polio creates in a community."

"That didn't mean people should not be concerned, the doctor commented, for a case of illness in any form is good reason for great concern."

"I'm talking about the fear that keeps a person or a whole community from thinking straight. Of course each case of polio is an individual tragedy for the family involved, but wholesale public panic simply is not justified."

He doesn't want to encourage complacency either, the state health officer said, adding: "Every clear-thinking effort must be made to keep every home, every community, every vacation camp consistently clean and sanitary. Briefly, elimination of fly and insect breeding places, personal cleanliness, and getting milk, water and food from safe, approved sources will aid in preventing a number of communicable diseases."

National statistics, Dr. Cox asserted, show good reason for optimism in most cases of polio. According to the figures, from 40 to 60 per cent of all victims recover completely and can do anything they choose.

From 25 to 40 per cent recover with only minor disability, and can, within very wide limits, lead perfectly normal lives. From 15 to 20 per cent are more severely handicapped, and 5 to 10 per cent terminate fatally.

"It all goes to show that polio is actually a minor cause of illness, and an even less significant cause of death, "when compared to certain other communicable diseases," the health officer concluded.

IS CVA "SOCIALISTIC"?

A recently developed Administration strategy is found in the attempt to rid certain highly controversial proposals of the "socialist" label. Such schemes as the Columbia Valley Administration, spokesmen argue, aren't really socialist at all, and are so branded only by reactionaries and greedy interests.

In a case of this sort, expert opinion is desirable—and on the subject of socialism Norman Thomas, six-time Socialist party candidate for President, is certainly an expert. Mr. Thomas has come out strongly for CVA, and he obviously regards it as consonant with socialist principle. Years ago, in this connection, Mr. Thomas said that TVA, which forms the basic pattern for all the proposed valley authorities, is a fine example of socialism in action.

Mr. Thomas is a highly regarded citizen, and he enjoys the respect of many people who disagree violently with his views. This is partly true because of his evident ability and sincerity—and also because he does not hide under camouflage. He is a socialist by conviction and he is proud of it. But what are we to say of lesser men who, pretending to believe in free enterprise and pretending to be anti-socialist, are trying to sell the country on measures which represent an extreme of socialism?

As for CVA, Senator Morse of Oregon, who is regarded as one of the most "liberal" of all the Republicans, has said that it presents the danger of "bureaucratic paternalism, a bureaucratic monopolistic policy." He added, "If we are going to keep democracy strong in this country, we must insist that people who are going to be directly affected by the policies of the government have a voice in making the policies." CVA would do much to destroy that philosophy. — Industrial News Review.

"THE FOLKS BACK HOME"

One of the healthiest current signs is the growing concern of the people over excessive government spending, deficit-financing at a time when the national income is running at record levels, and the depressive effects of present-day taxes. But it is also apparent that a great many people are not putting the blame entirely where it belongs.

It is all very well to criticize Congress and the Administration for their fiscal sins. However, the forces that make for wasteful government are right at home in the grass roots. Virtually every chamber of commerce, every civic organization, every industrial council, farm organization and labor organization constantly pounds the drums for more tax money for their special benefits. Economy is okay for the other fellow, but the more money the Treasury pours out in their direction the happier they are. There are honorable exceptions to this, but they are too few in number.

This is also true of a great many businessmen—who, of all people, should know better. They are the first to point to the need of economical government as a bulwark to the national security. Yet, time and time again, as members of the various civic groups, they are at the forefront of those who demand that endless amounts of Federal tax money flood into their regions, as pure political handouts.

The members of Congress are only human. They generally follow the wishes of the "folks back home" who pack the votes. We will have sound, stable and economical government when, and only when, the people demand it.

Hunting Rules to Be Observed in the Panhandle Area

Austin, Texas — The Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission recommended a straight 45-day waterfowl shooting season beginning November 10. An earlier request for a zoning season to benefit Panhandle counties has been placed before the Federal Game and Wildlife Service as has a proposed bag limit of eight ducks per day and eight in possession instead of the four ducks per day and four in possession allowed last fall.

The Commission authorized a nine-day antelope season west of the Pecos to be patterned after the 1948 special season in which 702 permits were issued to bag male antelope. The number of 1950 permits to be issued has not yet been determined.

Game and fish season for the newly created regulatory authority in the new twenty-eight county Panhandle area also were approved. They call for a deer and turkey season from November 17 to November 26 for all Panhandle counties excepting Armstrong, Randall and Briscoe. The limit will be one buck deer and two turkey gobblers for each hunter. The 3 counties were exempted because of recent restocking activities by the Game Department.

The Commission approved a whitewing dove season for September 15, 17 and 19 beginning at 4 p. m. and lasting until sunset with a limit of ten birds a day and ten in possession. The Commissioners voted for a statewide dove season of 45 days, beginning October 20 and lasting until December 3 in the south zone and beginning September 1 in the north zone, with a daily bag limit of ten and a possession limit of ten.

The Panhandle area was granted a quail season from December 1 to January 16, which are the same dates as the general state law, but the bag limits for the new regulatory area were cut from 12 per day to 10 per day and the possession limit was cut from 36 per week to 20 in possession at any one time. The Commission abandoned plans for open seasons on antelope, prairie chicken and pheasants in the Panhandle because of insufficient data and a policy of "playing it safe" until more information on these species could be obtained.

For the regulatory area west of the Pecos, the Commission authorized a deer season and quail season similar to 1949. In this area, El Paso and Terrell counties were eliminated from the antelope shooting regulations.

The statewide deer and turkey season as well as the quail season are set by law and are not affected by the latest commission action. Deer and turkey seasons for the state at large run from November 16 through December 31, inclusive, with a limit per hunter of 2 buck deer and 3 gobblers. The quail season is from December 1 to January 16, inclusive, with a bag limit of 12 per day and a possession limit of 36 per week.

The Commission, after a lengthy hearing, authorized an increase in the quota of commercial fishing boat licenses from 1550 to 2325. It also approved experimental studies in connection with authorizing issuance of licenses for 14 additional mehaden seines, to be used until September 1.

Other action concerning the new Panhandle regulatory area include, squirrel season, May 1 to July 1 and from October 1 to December 31, with a bag limit of 5 per day and a possession limit of 5; trapping season on furbearing animals, December 1 through January 31, except muskrat, which will be December 1 to December 28; limiting crappie bag to 15 per day and 30 in possession and similar provisions for channel cat, with black bass limited to 6 per day and 12 in possession, and no bag limit for sunfish, perch, bream, blue cats and mud cats; restricting each fisherman to one trotline of not more than 20 hooks and an aggregate of not more than 20 hooks of all kinds for each fisherman; limiting a fisherman to possession of 200 minnows and putting a 20-ft. limit on minnow seines.

The Panhandle regulatory district comprises these counties: Randall, Potter, Oldham, Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Motley, Cottle, Dallam, Hartley, Childress, Hollingsworth, Sherman, Hansford, Moore, Wheeler, Donley, Hall, Hutchinson, Carson, Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Palmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Lipscomb and Ochiltree.

R. E. A. Annual Membership Meeting in Tipton on July 21

Friday, July 21, promises to be one of the biggest days in the history of the Southwest Rural Electric Association, Inc., when over 1,500 people arrive in Tipton for the annual membership meeting.

Not only will the Association welcome the large crowd, but the town of Tipton will extend the welcome mat. Members of the Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the decoration of the town, and will also assist in serving the noon-day meal which will be held in the Tipton City Park.

A musical entertainment will be the first feature of the big day's program followed by a business session which will include annual reports on progress of the cooperative and discussions of plans for the future.

U. S. Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and Congressman Ed Gossett of Texas will be the principal speakers on the program.

The Southwest Rural Electric Association, Inc., serves thousands of members in the two-state area of Oklahoma and Texas. Included in Oklahoma are Tillman, Jackson, Greer and Kiowa Counties. In Texas, lines extend to Wilbarger, Foard, Wichita, Archer and Hardeman counties.

J. M. Maddox is manager of the Tipton Cooperative, having assumed the responsible duties on July 1, 1948.

The Board of Trustees include J. W. Kamp, president, Tipton; B. H. Owen, vice president, Vernon; C. D. Wearmouth, secretary and treasurer, Frederick; J. F. Shivers, Vernon; V. H. Culvahouse, Roosevelt; C. G. Freeling, Oklaunion; Clark T. McWhorter, Blair; Elmer Campbell, Tipton; F. B. Schnorrenberg, Altus.

It was in December of 1938 that the first lines of the Cooperative located at Tipton, were energized. Through the years it has grown until today it has 2,100 miles of power lines, bringing electricity to more than 4,500 rural consumers.

Through the years, many have heard about "area coverage." The cooperative has reached this point in its building program, and is among the first in the nation to reach this goal. Every family which wants electricity has been served with the exception of current applications, and these are being cared for promptly.

New Substations

On July 3, Clark T. McWhorter of Blair, and president of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, threw the switch on the new substation at Altus. On the same day, a substation at Mt. Park was energized, with J. W. Kamp handling the switch. These two substations have a combined capacity of 1,750 KW, and will replace the small substation north of Tipton. They will draw their power from Public Service's 66,000 volt lines.

Rephasing of lines out of Vernon has greatly improved service in that area. At Crowell, large substation transformers have been installed to handle the greatly increased load in that area. Regulators have been installed on the lines running east of Oklaunion. Plans for rephasing of these lines are being made and the work should be completed within the next three months.

Along with this work, plans are also being rushed for the installation of circuit breakers and sectionalizers to conform to a study which has been made of the entire system.

National REA

The National REA program is moving at its fastest pace in history. Since 1945, each year has seen new records set. Last year REA borrowers brought electricity to new rural families at the rate of about 45,000 a month, or one every 15 seconds of every working day.

On the fifteenth anniversary which is being celebrated, REA borrowers operate more than one million miles of line and are serving some 3,250,000 consumers, but their job will not be finished until they have brought electricity to the million farms still to be served.

Tipton Co-Op.

In order to serve its more than 4,500 rural consumers, the Southwest Rural Electric Association, Inc., at Tipton, employs some 35 people to take care of all necessary line and office work, and has one of the largest payrolls in the area.

The building which houses the co-op headquarters, is modern in design and was completed in May, 1942. The woodwork throughout is of weathered oak, blending in with the grey-green of the walls. Floors are of hard wood and tile, while most of the furnishings are of grey steel.

In the auditorium is a seating capacity of 300, with a stage for demonstrations or other programs that might be presented.

The private offices of the personnel are most comfortable and, at the same time, homey. There is a display room, meter room, stationery room, warehouse, workshop and garage, all furnished with every modern convenience for the work to be as rapidly and efficiently done, as is possible.

Rural Electrification is making farm life more enjoyable, and a great majority of satisfied consumers will be in Tipton, Friday, July 21, at the big annual meeting which is scheduled.

FARMERS AND THE TAFT-HARTLEY LAW

The debt owed by farmers to the Taft-Hartley labor law is clearly shown in a report issued by the major producers of potash on the recent 73-day strikes at their Carlsbad, N. M., properties.

Secretary of Labor Brannan was not speaking idly when he warned the House Agriculture Committee that the strike bid fair to deprive farmers of fertilizers vitally needed for spring plantings and that production had to be resumed immediately if a serious crisis was to be averted. It was the Taft-Hartley law, vilified and hated by officials of major labor unions, that enabled potash production to be resumed.

The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, which called this unnecessary and disruptive strike, has been expelled from the CIO for allowing Communists to dominate its activities. The union sought to prevent employees in two non-striking unions from going to work in fulfillment of their contracts. It engaged in mass picketing and prevented freedom of passage to and from the plants. Its threats and intimidations were directed against those of its own members who became aware that they were being exploited and sought to return to work.

Finally, the injunctive processes of the Taft-Hartley Act brought an end to the turmoil created by the Communist-dominated union. They were applied after the fullest investigation by the National Labor Relations Board and hearings in the courts, and because of their use members of non-striking unions were able to earn wages that otherwise would have been denied them.

Let those who say that the Taft-Hartley Act is not needed study this bitter, destructive strike. They will see factual evidence to the contrary, and will find overwhelming proof that the public interest can be preserved by judicial process. —Industrial News Review.

We have unmistakable proof that throughout all past time, there has been a ceaseless devouring of the weak by the strong.—Spencer.

Home for Crippled Children Expected by Summer of 1951

Kerrville — Clusters of ranch-style bunk houses, filled with the laughter of physically handicapped youngsters, should dot the neighboring hills by the summer of 1951 if present plans of the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children materialize.

Jack Wiech, president of the League which was organized to raise funds for the construction and operation of the Melvin Jones camp for crippled children, said Wednesday he has hopes that the $500,000 camp will be in full operation by next summer.

Among the committees which he has appointed are the membership development committee, camp improvements, advisory and camp awards.

The membership development committee, under the chairmanship of J. I. Moore of Kerrville, is charged with contacting individuals for the purpose of raising funds for the construction, maintenance and support of the buildings and property at the proposed camp.

Others on that committee are C. N. Hielscher of Bryan; Joe Fisher, Jasper; J. I. Daugherty, Midland and Bryan Sparks of Cooper.

Keagan Smith of Conroe is chairman of the camp improvements committee. The five members of this group have charge of all improvements at the Melvin Jones camp and all equipment and supplies belonging to the camp.

The committee has the authority to employ a camp staff, subject to approval of the Board of Directors.

Serving on the camp improvements committee are G. S. McClellan, San Antonio; Sam Furr, Olney; Pat Jackson, Nacogdoches and Curtis Cryer of Borger.

The camp will be open to crippled boys and girls, from the ages of 7 through 16.

"No fee shall ever be charged or collected for the admission or maintenance of any children at the Melvin Jones camp," Wiech explained.

"Any person or organization interested in the welfare of any particular crippled child or children," he added, "shall have the privilege of making a contribution to the work of the League."

The camp will be constructed on a 504-acre tract of land, three miles from Kerrville, which was donated to the League by the federal government.

Children at the camp would come from various parts of Texas, selected by local Lions clubs.

Occupational therapy will be available for the youngsters, as well as regular school.

Pony carts, horses and burros will be available for treks over the neighboring hills and through the nearby Texas State Park along the Guadalupe river.

Wiech said children will be selected on the basis of their personal need for such rehabilitation, regardless of the financial ability of their parents.

The physical plant will include a large administration building, craft shops, a swimming pool, six bunk houses and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 360.

Giles to Speak Over Radio Tonight

State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles will report to Texans upon the development of the state public school and university lands Thursday at 7:15 p. m. His address will be broadcast over a special network of 22 stations.

Giles, under whose direction the two school funds have passed the staggering total of $250,000,000, seeks re-election to the office he has held since 1938.

Giles' radio report will also discuss the "tragedy of the tidelands," the fight by Texas to retain possession of oil-laden submerged lands adjacent to the Texas coast. Giles, first state official to urge Texas action to hold these valuable properties, has been in Washington often pleading the cause of the Lone Star State.

In his radio address Commissioner Giles will also report on the development of the $25,000,000 Veterans' Land Program, which he originated and sponsored, and will discuss his plan to expand the present program.

One of the few state elected officials to "come up from the ranks," Giles has spent 30 years in the General Land Office. In 1938 he made his first political campaign, winning over a strong field in a stunning upset and has never had serious opposition since. Two years ago he won easily over three opponents without a runoff.

The world's largest square dance was held in Santa Monica, Calif., July 13, as a highlight of Santa Monica's diamond Jubilee celebration. Eight thousand dancers participated.

Over 100,000 letters are mailed each year at the various post offices of the country bearing no address.

Brooks Advocates Economy for State

Pierce Brooks, Dallas insurance executive, and candidate for lieutenant governor, hails the Beldon poll which shows him far in the lead of all his opponents, as convincing proof that the runaway cost of state government is the number one concern of the people.

Brooks is campaigning for lieutenant governor on a platform calling for the elimination of waste and extravagance in the operation of the state government and a curb on any new taxes until the state's financial affairs are put on a sound business basis.

"Our state government," Brooks says, "is composed of 188 boards, bureaus and commissions which perform not more than 20 clearly defined functions. It is a hodgepodge of disjointed agencies lying around loose and spending all the money they can get. The whole procedure violates every principle of sensible and economical conduct of good business."

MISSING FACTS

An interesting editorial on certain phases of socialized medicine recently appeared in the Christian Science Monitor, which said, "The increase in reported sickness during Great Britain's first full year of socialized medicine has its significance for the United States. Much of the British program is embraced in the proposal of government medical care insurance which the Truman administration is promoting . . ."

"Sickness among adult Britons rose eight per cent and workdays lost through illness 22 per cent . . . Officials credit the growth of reported illness mainly to economic reasons—people now getting medical service who previously could not afford it.

"But there are additional reasons. In the experience of European countries with compulsory sickness insurance it has long been observed that when workers are taxed for medical care they often claim it unnecessarily. That is the only way that many figure they can get something back for their money . . ."

"It is also a standard part of the government insurance system to give weekly cash payments to claimants. The chance to stay at home and live for a while with the aid of state funds frequently militates against a speedy return to work."

Wilson Endorsed by Judges and Lawyers

"Men who know Will Wilson best have placed their stamp of approval on his candidacy for the Supreme Court of Texas," says Hugh Lyster, campaign manager for the Dallas candidate. "In the only two major lawyer associations in Texas — Dallas County and Tarrant County — Will Wilson was officially declared the best qualified candidate for the Texas Supreme Court, Place 1."

Wilson served as Assistant Attorney General under Gerald C. Mann and Grover Sellers. He is now completing his second term as Dallas District Attorney. He was a combat veteran in the last war, being awarded the Bronze Star for gallantry in action. He is the only veteran in the race.

"As Dallas County's District Attorney, Wilson has attracted nationwide attention for his racket-smashing," says Lyster. The candidate is stumping northeast Texas this week in behalf of his campaign.

Shivers Concludes Campaign This Week

Allan Shivers this week concluded his campaign for a term of his own as Governor of Texas by urging all citizens to go to the polls Saturday and vote in the Democratic primary.

"The final test of democracy always comes at the polling places on election day," Governor Shivers said. "The people cannot expect to have representative government unless they participate in choosing the men to represent them. The international crisis should intensify, rather than decrease, popular interest in this fundamental process of democracy, for it is on behalf of a democratic way of life that our boys are fighting in Korea."

The Governor, seeking his first elective term, has conducted his campaign without the usual political fanfare. He has made numerous public appearances at community affairs over the State but has made virtually no political addresses.

O. O. McCurdy
FOR
District Judge

On Saturday, July 22, voters of the 46th Judicial District will choose a Judge for a full four-year term. The present incumbent was appointed by the Governor, who lives in Austin, to serve the unexpired portion of the term of the late Judge C. Y. Welch. During the last illness of Judge Welch when he was unable to hold court I was appointed Special Judge. My appointment came from members of the bar, who live in the 46th District.

The present year is the regular time for electing a District Judge. The vacancy created by the death of Judge Welch was filled temporarily as prescribed by law, just as was my service as Special Judge. None of the aspirants for this position has a prior claim by custom or otherwise on this important office.

Qualifications alone should determine the choice of voters in electing a District Judge. On the basis of training and experience I solicit the support of the people of the District in which I have lived all my life. After finishing high school I attended Valparaiso and Washington & Lee Universities, receiving a law degree from the latter. I served with the U. S. Marines in World War I, including overseas duty. My legal experience includes over 20 years of private practice, four years as County Attorney and six years as County Judge in Wilbarger County. Your vote will be genuinely appreciated.

Weekly Sermon

He Lived Above Circumstances

By M. Shelton McKenzie, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Illinois

In the days of the patriarchs, when the Jewish race was at its beginning, a young man lived whose life displayed unwavering faith in God, a faith which enabled him to live triumphantly in all circumstances. This man was Joseph. Greatly loved by his father Jacob, and hated by his jealous brothers, Joseph was destined to be greatly used of God.

When a very young man, he was sold by his brothers to the Ishmaelites, who in turn sold him to Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, ruler of Egypt. Potiphar soon discovered something about Joseph. "And his master saw that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper in his hand" (Gen. 39:3).

But all did not continue to go well for Joseph. He was falsely accused by Potiphar's wife and thrown into prison. "But the Lord was with Joseph, and showed him mercy, and gave him favor in the sight of the keeper of the prison" (Gen. 39:21).

"And it came to pass at the end of two full years, that Pharaoh dreamed" (Gen. 41:1). These dreams brought Joseph's stay in prison to a close. At the suggestion of the chief butler, who had been in prison with Joseph, Pharaoh summoned Joseph to interpret his dreams. Joseph remarked, "It is not in me; God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace" (Gen. 41:16). Interpreting the dreams and predicting seven years of plenty followed by seven years of famine, Joseph suggested storing up food. Pharaoh was so pleased with the interpretation and suggestion, that he made Joseph ruler over Egypt, next to himself in power.

After the time of plenty, famine came not only to Egypt but also to other countries. Joseph's father, Jacob, hearing of the plentifulness of corn in Egypt, sent his sons down from Canaan to buy for the family. There Joseph, in charge of selling the corn, revealed his identity to his brothers, and forgave them.

With the eye of faith, he saw God's hand in it all, and could say, "Ye thought evil against me, but God meant it unto good" (Gen. 50:20).

Circumstances and trials could not keep Joseph from trusting in God's purpose, and seeking to please Him. What a lesson in victorious living for those who know Christ as Saviour and are children of God.

ducers or retailers or any other innocent bystander. Place the blame where it belongs—on suicidal governmental economic policies. — Industrial News Review.

Economists claim that while buying is at a high peak in this country, Americans are not on a spending spree. There is a constant rise in bank deposits as well as savings are not being spent, but rather are being built up. There is no rush to convert money into goods as always occurs in time of inflation. American families are still careful in their buying and continue to be firm against unreasonably high prices. These too are factors which should prevent run-away inflation. Summed up, the opinion of most economists is that this country has embarked upon a period of reasonably high industrial and business activity for a number of years. None of them predict or see anything like the type of depression that in 1929 brought to a disastrous close a similar period of unusual prosperity.

That was the case when prices shot up after the war. In some communities consumers actually picketed retail stores, with banners demanding that the rapacious shopkeeper immediately make big cut in the prices of all manner of commodities. Here was a classic example of public confusion of cause and effect. The obvious fact is that no one has more to lose from inflation than the retailer; that no one has done more to hold price increases to the absolute minimum; that only a few cents out of each dollar spent in a store remains with it as profit for the owners, and that the causes of high prices are as far beyond the control of the retailer as they are beyond the control of the consumer.

Of these causes, government waste and extravagance are foremost. The Administration clearly holds to the idea that spending is good and saving is bad. In spite of huge tax revenues and great business activity, we are running a heavy Federal deficit, which will be piled onto our monumental national debt. This is the sort of thing that bankrupts individuals. In the long run it bankrupts governments.

If we do have more inflation, don't blame manufacturers or pro-

MORE INFLATION?

A special bulletin issued by the National Retail Dry Goods Association carries this heading: "Looks like more inflation on the horizon." The article goes on to say that the flood of government spending may force prices higher. And then it makes this interesting observation: "If we should get a substantial degree of inflation with consequent increase in prices, the first disposition of the general public would be to believe prices were rising because of the greed of retailers."

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

We Can't Ignore the Rules: Everyone has met those who seem to be always playing in hard luck. Everything they set their hand to goes wrong. They blame their luck, their fate, the stars, everything but themselves. They complain that the world is against them. They persist in going about following their own wills and their own desires and ignoring the well known rules upon which successful management is built. They persist in trying to make their own code and setting up their own rules that time has proven is neither wise nor sound. It is natural that in so doing they have become failures. In building a satisfactory and successful life it is just as important to follow the rules of the game as it is in building a satisfactory and successful business. The rules of right, and harmonious living are so clearly de-

Miss Mary Deeb and Ray Brown United in Marriage on July 6

The marriage of Miss Mary Deeb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Deeb of Graham, and Ray Brown, son of Mrs. Imogene Brown of Baton Rouge, La., and the late Travis Brown, took place on Thursday evening, July 6, in a beautiful and simple nuptial service at the Deeb home in Graham.

Rev. Dallas P. Lee, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Graham, read the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an archway of greenery flanked with tall baskets of white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white brocade organza dress - length dress which was trimmed in self-covered buttons. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli and gardenias with satin streamers. She wore the traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" and also wore a penny in her shoe.

Miss Nancy Deeb, sister of the bride, attended her as maid of honor. She wore a green organza dress fashioned like that of the bride and carried a colonial bouquet of pink gladioli and pink rosebuds with satin ribbon streamers.

Bill Klepper was best man to the groom. Mrs. Earl Garvey played the traditional wedding music and Mrs. Ben Clements of Matador presided at the bride's book which was on a table centered with an arrangement of white asters and gladioli and white tapers in branched candelabra.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home for the bridal couple, the wedding party and guests. The dining table was laid with a lovely Italian drawn work linen cloth and was centered with a low bowl of white asters. Mrs. A. H. Nance presided at the punch service.

Assisting in the serving was Mrs. Lyle Fletcher, aunt of the bride, of Manchester, Iowa. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature colonial bouquet of white gladioli and gardenias. On the buffet was a floral arrangement of white asters and white tapers in candelabra.

The bride chose for travel a one-piece imported linen dress in pink with navy and white accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of white gardenias.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Brown have returned to Crowell where they will reside. Mrs. Brown will serve in the capacity of Home Demonstration Agent for Foard County. Mr. Brown is associated with the Foard County Mill and also has farming interests.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Brown and Bill Klepper of Crowell; Mrs. Tommy Johnson and daughter, Kay, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Imogene Brown and son, Bill Brown, of Baton Rouge, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Fletcher and daughter, Susan, of Manchester, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. ## Miss Larue Graves Weds Floydada Man in Church Wedding

Miss Larue Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves of Floydada, and Marvin Standefor, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Standefor of Lamesa, were united in marriage on Thursday evening, July 6, in the First Baptist Church of Floydada, with the pastor, Rev. Earl Allen, performing the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Clement McDonald gave organ selections from McDowell and during the ceremony, she played "O Promise Me" and "Meditation." "The Lord's Prayer" was also used during the exchange of vows. The traditional wedding marches were played and Miss Molly June French sang, "I Love Thee" and "O Perfect Love."

The vows were said before an altar of feverfew, pluosus and white gladioli, in tall white basket containers. Tall white tapers burned on either side of the arrangement and the ceremony was by candle light.

Louise Herrington of Lamesa, niece of the groom, and Gordon Tom Graves of Crowell, cousin of the bride, were candlelighters.

The bride, entering upon the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a bridal gown of white marquisette, designed with long sleeves, tapering to points of the hands. A deep ruffle of marquisette framed a sheer yoke, giving an off-the-shoulder effect. A full skirt was gathered to a fitted bodice and the long train was designed with matching ruffles of marquisette. Her veil was of imported English illusion, made with three tiers, the edges scalloped and falling from a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. For her bouquet, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, centered by a white orchid.

The bride's attendants, Mrs. Perry Bell of Canyon, her sister, matron of honor; Mrs. Richard Stripling of Lubbock, Miss Betty Denny of Iowa Park, Miss Betty Buchanan of Perryton, Mrs. Lane Decker, Miss Mary Eunice Hennessee of Floydada and Miss Marjorie Oden of Dallas were gowned identically in white starched chiffon over green taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of lilac, maroons and feverfew.
