Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Benjamin Franklin was the publisher of the Philadelphia Zeitung, which in 1752 was the first foreign-language newspaper in the American colonies.

Austin—"Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in discussing disease common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is a treacherous and undesirable disease and the only good thing about it is that if one can avoid it until grown, the chances of never getting it are excellent."
"Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharges of nose and throat, ears, or abscesses or persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles soiled by the patient may cause the disease."
"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of this disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side."

"Top Hat and Spurs" to Show at T-O Fair

Iowa Park — Visitors to the Texas-Oklahoma Fair here Sept. 24-29 will have an opportunity to witness, "Top Hats and Spurs," one of the most colorful and fastest moving musical revues ever presented in Southwestern fair circuits.

Produced by Tex Dudley, veteran showman of Dallas, the revue will be presented in 12 acts with some of the nation's outstanding stage stars being booked for the production.

Among the star acts in "Top Hat and Spurs" will be Durward Cline's Band, Cleo Landolt, accordionist; Munde and June jugglers; Paul Beckley and Company and Christi the magician.

Presenting such dances as the hula and can-can will be the comely Texanettes and fair officials predict that visitors will agree that they are among the most lovely of Texas girls.

The show, to be presented each night for an hour and 45 minutes, will have as master of ceremonies, Don Payne, the man whose "burp" made Bugs Bunny famous. Payne is actually the man who burps for the rabbit of movie cartoon fame.

Payne, who is also a comedian and impersonator, is the voice for a number of Merry Melodies movie cartoon characters and appeared in "Hellzapoppin'" and "Reveille with Beverly." He is known in show circles as "the man with the jumping eyes."

Every County Seat in Texas Invited to Have Special Day at Fair

Every county seat in Texas has been invited to participate in the 1951 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21, with special representation and by having a special day designated in its name.

James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of the State Fair, has written a personal letter of invitation to the mayor or Chamber of Commerce manager in each of the 254 towns and cities.

The county seats are being invited to take part in the fair in conjunction with special days set aside to honor each of the 14 Extension Districts of the Texas A&M System.

The fair's fabulous "Storybook of Texas Agriculture" tells the colorful, true story of the state's agricultural economy in terms of crops raised and agricultural progress that has been made in each of the 14 districts.

In urging the county seat cities to participate in the special day set aside for their various districts, Mr. Stewart said the fair would be glad to provide facilities for presentation of special programs either on the Agriculture Building or on the steps in front of the Hall of State.

Texas Prison Rodeo Opens on October 7th at Huntsville

Huntsville—Only the toughest riders in the Texas penitentiary will be allowed to ride in the 20th Annual Prison Rodeo opening at Huntsville next month on October 7th. Likewise, only the roughest bucking stock the prison's system's vast herds can produce will be driven and prodded into the chutes in Prison Stadium when the show begins.

Right now it's round-up time in the prison system's river bottom pastures and the farthest corners are being combed for rodeo stock that hasn't seen a human being since last year's show. Driving them out of their favorite grazing haunts and loading them for transportation to Huntsville is a big job. What will happen when a wild convict cowboy gets on one's back is anybody's guess.

The original Texas Prison Rodeo, which has been called the "World's Wildest and Fastest Rodeo," has gotten a little wilder and a little faster with each succeeding year and the 20th show of the series bids fair to perpetuate the tradition. Albert Moore, director of the unique convict carnival for the 18th successive year, is putting only the best performers—inmate and animal—into the arena.

"We've got lots of new riders volunteering for this year's show," says Mr. Moore, "but only the best of them will be in the arena next month. We'll have some 'try-outs' one day before opening Sunday and they'll all have a chance to show their stuff. At the same time we'll have a chance to cull any stock that doesn't meet our standards—only sure-fire buckers will get into the chutes when the show starts." There are no practice sessions for the riders, no second chances for lethargic broncs

Iowa Park—The enchantment of the fair is felt by thousands as time draws close for the 23rd edition of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair to be presented beginning Monday, Sept. 24.

Preparation for the big six-day panorama has been underway for several weeks at the half-million dollar plant. A new agriculture exhibit wing with 5,000 feet of floor space and a permanent ticket office and turnstiles at the front entrance gate have just been completed.

New paint has been splashed on both inside and out of some of the eight buildings, new offices have been added, with a huge map of the grounds painted on the wall of the manager's office and one of the entire fair area, spotted with cooperating newspapers and radio stations on one entire wall of the newly redecorated public relations office.

The first major move toward permanent lighting was made when 38 new floodlights, carrying 1500-watt bulbs were placed at strategic points over the grounds, spotlighting walkways and buildings. Asphalt paving has been run on the independent midway; a concrete floor run in the exhibits building; arena space has been re-arranged, and a large number of smaller improvements have been made for the benefit of fair patrons.

Advance reserved seat tickets are mounting to the headline attraction, "Top Hat 'n' Spurs." Out-

OUR BAND AND ITS PROBLEMS

Vacation is over for the Band Parents too, so now we intend to strive in every way to obtain all of the money possible for the band and its many needs.

Mr. Harris, our band instructor, informs us that the band needs quite a number of new items to make our band more successful. Of course, we think that the band is one of the nicest things Foard County has ever owned, but even so, it can always be improved.

Among the needs are four new uniforms. There are four students eligible for band who cannot participate because of the fact that there are not enough uniforms. We should like very much to try to help in some way to get them. A Bellaire is needed; however, Mrs. George Self has been gracious enough to lend the band Rony's until the Band Mothers can obtain the money to buy one. This instrument, so Mr. Harris tells us, is an absolute necessity to make the band. A new drum stand is needed and also a case for the large horn for this adds several years to the life of any horn.

The Band Hall does not have water; however, through the kindness of several people we hope to have water for our youngsters. Joe Smith has offered to dig the ditch. Mr. Graves tells us that the school will pipe it and we feel that it is our duty to get the fountain. We have a start with Mrs. Jack McCoy's donation of $25 and the Garden Club's donation of $5.00. The fountain costs approximately $125. Our children will surely be happy to see this done.

The school has ordered a new majorette uniform which will make four uniforms of this type for the band. We hope it arrives in the very near future.

The items listed are only a few needed but are the most important at this time. We hope to be able to raise these and many more to come. Any suggestions on how to raise money or any donations will be greatly appreciated. Please contact Mrs. C. R. Moore, chairman, or Mrs. James Weiss, co-chairman for this purpose.

YOUTH CONSERVATION THEME OF ASSEMBLY

"Your community is what you, the youth make it," said Miss Eudora Hawkins, representative of the West Texas Utilities Co. speaking in behalf of the Federated Women's Clubs of America, in an assembly Wednesday morning, Sept. 12. Miss Hawkins told the student body of the many things it could do to improve its community and explained that the teenagers' influence over their elders can be used to gain better facilities for the youth in our town. In her discussion, she stressed the fact that juvenile delinquency is a spiritual problem, not one for the law enforcement officers. She said, "Any young person who truly believes in God will not become a juvenile delinquent."

Miss Hawkins also presented a film, "Make Way with Youth," depicting the way in which one community organized a youth council and founded a youth center, thus breaking down many social and racial barriers and uniting the youth in a common cause—the good of the community.

At the end of the movie, Mrs. Ray Shirley announced that the members of the Youth Council are to be elected soon. One student will be elected from each class, one from every organization in high school, and one from each of the two sub-junior study clubs in Crowell.

CHS-ITE FINDS SUMMER PROFITABLE

Maurine Youree, after winning an essay contest, enrolled in a dramatics course as her prize. This course was offered at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

She stayed at Regent Hall on the University campus, where 18 other girls and 14 boys roomed. Maurine stated that the discipline was very strict. The only place one could go on school nights was the library from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Entertainment was to be had in the form of attending plays and visiting points of interest around Boulder. The scenic view which Maurine most enjoyed on her trip was Isabel Glacier, which she recommends to us as a good place to go if we're ever touring Colorado.

The climate this year in Colorado was rather unusual. She says that one day the students wear sweaters and skirts and perhaps the next day they wear backless dresses. This was in July, quite different from our Texas weather. Maurine had a role in four scenes from different plays, where the students direct and act at the same time. When asked if college was a good place to make friends, she replied, "Definitely." We know that Renie thought the boys were very nice, especially one from New York. Are we right, Maurine?

She still has her ambition to be a speech teacher, and we know that after taking that wonderful course, Maurine will have reached one more step toward her ambition.

EXPERT MARIMBA ARTIST ENTERTAINS 1ST SOUTHERN SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

The first program of the year, which is of a series of Southern School Assemblies, was presented to the student body Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the auditorium.

This highly entertaining program featured Mr. Erman Gray on his Deagan Imperial Marimba. Mr. Gray, a combined marimba artist, musician, actor, teacher, entertainer, and traveler, is from a musical family. "The Musical Grays," composed of his father, mother, and their six children, whose family band, orchestra, and dramatic company toured the country. A brother, Leon Gray, has been trumpeter and vocalist with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians for the past twelve years.

Mr. Gray, in his very dignified, very spirited stage mannerism, played a wide range of musical selections which held the attention of his audience.

He specialized in a four mallet technique that brought out the tonal beauty and range of the brilliant Deagan Imperial Marimba with its bars of Honduras rosewood and mahogany frame considered by experts as being the finest ever made. This instrument has a tonal quality much like that of the organ making his classical selections and lullabies especially lovely.

In addition to the marimba, Mr. Gray is also an expert on the saxophone and clarinet. His brilliant novelties on these instruments delighted his entire audience, especially the younger set.

Mr. Gray's son, Bill Gray, attended the eighth grade here last year and is remembered by the students as a real friend and classmate.

NEW ROUND-UP STAFF

Thirteen students began work Monday, Sept. 17, on the first edition of the 1952 Round-Up.

All members of the staff are new. Even the sponsor, Mrs. Earl Manard, is new. However, they have an early start and we predict that they will put out the best annual they possibly can.

At an assembly first period Monday morning, the staff was introduced to the student body. The following were introduced by Maurine Youree, the editor of the Round-Up. Sales managers are V. A. Smith, and Glyndon Johnson. Serving as class representatives are Jimmy Woods, Don Brown, Jean Whitby and Billy Bell. Charles Gafford and Gordon Graves are artists. Photographers are Norma Jones and Mary Cooper. Typists are Lana Short and Elba Caddell.

The class representatives are working for a $5.00 prize. The one who sells the largest percentage of annuals by the end of this week will get the $5.00 prize. See your class representatives and buy your annual now!

Let's reach our goal early for everyone wants an annual. Think of the fun your parents have when perusing their old annuals.

FRESHMEN ELECT CLASS MOTHERS

The freshman class met Monday, Sept. 17, to elect their class mothers. Mrs. Bill Bell, Mrs. Otis Gafford, Mrs. Merl Kincaid and Mrs. Gerald Knox were elected.

The class also elected an entertainment committee with Billy McCoy as chairman. DuWayne Elliott and Nita June Carroll will serve on the committee too.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

The following are two reports selected from those given by English III classes on the general

subject, "Summer Activities."

A Trip to Cool, Colorful Colorado About the middle of July we arrived in Denver, a city of nearly five-hundred thousand people.

The capital was our first stop. The dome of the capitol is much nicer and more elegant than the one at Austin. The inside is deep rich mahogany and marble. It is very easy to get lost in the many labyrinths.

Next was a visit to the Denver Museum of Natural History just opposite the capitol. It contained miniature Indian layouts showing them hunting, raiding, dancing and every phase of Indian life. It also contained miniature forts. In an adjoining room was a miniature of Denver in 1880 made with toothpicks. This surely gave someone a big headache; I don't know how anyone could do it.

Across west of the capital is the City Hall, which was a half circle and very beautiful. The entrance hall about twenty feet square, was lined with solid marble and extended from one end to the other. This created an echo of our footsteps as we walked. When we looked behind us, to our surprise, no one was there.

The United States Mint, which looked as though it were a mint, had steel grills on every door and window. It was dark gray stone and covered one-half a block. We soon discovered that there were 3,000 people signed to go through and only 60 can be shown through in a day. The following day we went south to Colorado Springs, a (Continued on Page 7)

THE WILDCAT

tiful city of boulevards lined with trees.

First we saw the Van Briggie Art Pottery plant. In it we saw the second largest vase in the world to be made by one continuous operation of the potter's wheel. The largest, also made by Mr. Van Briggie, is in the Louvre in Paris, France.

The Garden of the Gods was next. They are huge and unusual formations of rock which are all over this area. The Balanced Rock and Steamboat Rock were most interesting to me.

Although we didn't ascend Pikes Peak, we went to the foot of the Peak which is Manitou Springs, a suburb of Colorado Springs. That night we saw Seven Falls with colored lights hidden underneath. This was very beautiful but very damp. Afterwards, my new straw hat looked like a wet noodle.

The third day we went to the Royal Gorge, which is 52 miles southwest of the Springs. The suspension bridge seemed to sway if you had the courage to look down. We went back through Phantom Canyon which was beautiful but tiresome as the road was narrow and rocky. It was necessary to drive in low; so the radiator boiled, but luckily a stream was nearby.

We passed through Cripple Creek, a famous gold mining town of long ago. They still produce gold in several mines nearby such as the famous Molly Kathleen.

The cave of the winds, a miniature Carlsbad Caverns, was very interesting because we walked under a mountain for three-fourths of a mile. It is very cool, and the formations are beautiful. The trip up was very exciting as there were a few hairpin turns, which were difficult to make, especially when meeting the big Cadillac belonging to the Gray Line Touring Co.

A few of the places we wanted to see but didn't were in Denver. The Gates Rubber Plant which covered ten square blocks, the Samonite Luggage plant and the Modern Museum of Art.

Like most Americans, even on a vacation, we were in a hurry. While nearing home we agreed that it was a wonderful trip, but "How good to be home."

summer.

She left Lubbock on Sunday, June 24, in the company of her aunt, Mrs. Harvey Turnbough, her daughter, Jo Ann, and a friend, Charlotte Cranford, all of Lubbock.

Before starting, the four agreed that they would try to do and see just as much as was possible in the three weeks time.

After a brief halt en route at the White Sands of Alamogordo, N. M., it wasn't long until San Diego came into sight.

San Diego's many speedways proved to be something very new for them and a real problem. They still say that they are sure they spent at least an hour driving in perfect circles before the speedways chase to unwind themselves and finally consent to letting them into San Diego's city limits.

The Navy Yard and harbor was their first real drawing card, and there they saw for the first time huge destroyers and submarines, sailors in training and sailors being shipped across the seas.

At Laguna Beach, strictly a vacation resort and playground, they took their first dip in the ocean where they had practically to learn to swim all over again, so different was the ocean to our "sheltered" concrete swimming pools.

Long Beach in Los Angeles was their next stop and there the major part of their trip unfolded itself for them. A continuous series of interesting places, most of them world famous, Pasadena Playhouse where the opening of its annual midsummer drama festival featured George M. Cohan's great play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate"; Knot's Berry Farm at Buena Park with its Ghost Town, Mark Smith's Horse Revue, the singing around the great campfire after a whole day of interesting attractions and fun on the farm, including a delicious home cooked country meal.

Over to Catalina Island on the "Santa Catalina" occupied another rewarding day. They chose to take two tours: one on Catalina's famous glass bottom boat and to beautiful "Bird Park."

Of course, when back again at Los Angeles in a special time set aside for the purpose, they spent a wonderful afternoon just window shopping.

At Hollywood they toured Warner Bros. Studios, and at Beverly Hills, they saw many stars' homes: Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Jose Iturbi, Ann Blyth, Shirley Temple, and many more. When the driver reached Clark Gable's home, he pointed out that Gary Cooper lived just across the street. Then he said, "Here is where most of the women get off the bus."

However, it wasn't until they arrived at a small town just out of Hollywood that they saw a real live movie star, Kirk Douglas and others in the cast of "Big Trees" soon to make its first showing, were on location near the huge redwood trees in that vicinity. The stars made a personal appearance at the local theatre there.

At San Francisco the majestic Golden Gate Bridge was the object of their attentions. In following their course as they gradually left California, they didn't leave the coastal road. They agreed that the ocean acted as a magnet for them because even when their road left the coast at Seattle, they were loath to leave sight of the Pacific. Miles and miles of gigantic redwoods out of San Francisco toward Seattle never ceased to be breath-taking to them and like the ocean, were hard to leave behind.

At Seattle, they boarded the Princess Patricia for Victoria, Canada. Here it seemed was a place where only the wealthy lived. Their tour took them to the homes of millionaires and they saw where Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, will reside on their intended visit to Canada and the United States.

At Victoria a new experience offered itself for our sight-seers. It was the first time that the girls had handled foreign money or put a strange stamp on an envelope addressed home, and they took advantage of both opportunities.

Even though a little travel weary by this time, they enjoyed the snow that they encountered on that July day in Yellowstone National Park. It was a pleasant surprise. In Manitou Springs, Colo., Van Briggles Pottery House and the trip up Manitou Mountain proved to be fun.

Back again in Lubbock on a Sunday, exactly three weeks from the time they left, our travelers were just a little tired of traveling for the time being, but they were very happy. The world can add to its list four more enthusiastic admirers of our beautiful West Coast.

Marcia Kincaid.
CROWELL BEATS PADUCAH
Four thousand pounds of muscle in the form of boys brought home a victory last Friday night over the Paducah Dragons by a score of 26-7. It looks as if the local eleven are stuck on 26.

Two attempts were made to score by the Wildcats when they almost crossed the goal. Then Paducah made a long run for a touchdown which set the fuse for the local gridders. After driving all the way down the field, Raymond Halenack ran over for a score. Then a fake kick and a pass made the point. Later in the game Halenack scored again. Then Ginger Johnson scored twice in the third period. All scores were short runs.

The boys who saw action in this game were James Denton, DuWayne Elliott, Billy Abston, LeRoy Bice, Jim Norman, Leon Pechacek, Robert Brock, Ginger Johnson, George Scott, Raymond Halenack, Buddy Caddell, James Pittillo, Coy Payne, Roy Whitely and Don Gobin.

CHS SALUTES ROBERT BROCK

Probably the most under-rated football player in the Wildcat roster is a blond haired boy who plays a lot of defensive end for the local eleven. This 160 pound lad is none other than our own Robert Brock.

Robert started playing football in elementary school and has continued playing throughout his last three years in CHS. Brock broke into the starting line-up last year and gained recognition by the coaches and fellow teammates as a good defensive lineman, and his playing in the Wildcats' excellent season last year.

This modest son of CHS is not generally considered a pass catching specialist, but is termed by his fellow players a vicious blocker and a hard tackler.

For his enduring spirit and determination as well as teamwork, we salute Robert Brock.

NORMA'S NONSENSE

I think that I shall never see, a boy who's not a mystery. A boy who falls for every skirt, and then gets angry when you flirt. Who makes a date at eight and then comes by for you at ten till ten.

A boy who either drives too fast, or "accidentally" has no gas. A boy who thinks it's cute to wear, a shaved head instead of hair. And yet the cad will have to do, cause I can't kiss a tree, can you?

Everyone enjoyed the football game Friday night. Some of the couples who were seen were: A. L. and Noma, James and Elba, Maurine and Don, Mary Lou and Mike Hudgens.

Come on, Ronny, quit playing hard to get. Signed, the freshman girls.

CloVonne is a cute little soph that hasn't gotten a particular boy friend. Take heed, a certain junior boy. Initials B. R. L.

Billie McCoy, that cute, little brown haired, brown eyed "fish" is still carrying the torch for DuWayne, one of the future football miracles.

I see Marcia and Ginger are still together—and as usual they are still one of the best matched couples we can think of.

Nell Johnson enjoys swinging a hammer at certain people. Eh! Eh!
"Ace," "Chick," "Rat," and "Grin" certainly are inseparable these days.

Say, what's this we hear about Raymond Halenack wishing he was back in the 8th grade. Reason: Barbara Fairchild.

Seen painting the town red were Genevieve McDaniel and V. A. Smith.

Helen Ribble is still true to her soldier boy. Good luck.
Joe Don has finally broken the ice and was seen Sunday night with three cute girls.

We hear that Jimmy Woods seems to like Oklahoma now. Wonder why?

Charles Spears and Betty Bartley are a two-some seen now adays.

Margaret and Hack have been seen lately together. Reckon they are trying to start all over?

Leon, we hear a certain senior girl has a tooth she will sell you cheap.

All of CHS is looking forward to Fred Barker coming back to school. Here's hoping it won't be long until we can see Fred's friendly face in old CHS.

This is all in the "scandal" for now, so till next week, tell me all the gossip about anyone you know and we'll shovel it all up for next week.

WEEKLY HA! HA!

Mr. Sollis, "Before we begin this final exam, are there any questions?"

John Diggs, "What's the name of this course?"

What if this were true of CHS students?
He was so crooked he had to screw his socks on.

His feet were so big that he had to put his pants on over his swimming.

UNEXPECTED GUESTS

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Chantilly lace dress, designed with a gathered tulle yoke, defined with a tulle ruffle and a band of seed pearls at the neck. The bodice was scalloped onto the yoke and petal-point sleeves were edged with a ruffle. The full skirt ended in a chapel-length train.

W. M. S.

The First Baptist W. M. S. met Monday afternoon Sept. 17, at 3:30 in the home of Mrs. Glen Goodwin.

The program began with group singing. Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin led in prayer.

After a short business session, Mrs. T. W. Cooper brought the lesson from the Mission study book, "Prayer." Mrs. Cooper gave several good points on how to pray. To begin with, we should pray "Lord, teach me to pray," she said.

After the lesson the group sang "Whisper a Prayer in the Morning."

The hostess, Mrs. Goodwin, served lovely cakes and coffee to the 18 members present.

There will be a state mission program at the church Friday, Sept. 21. The program begins at 9 a. m. and continues until 11 a. m. It is hoped that a large group will attend this meeting.

The W. M. S. will meet Sept. 24 in the home of Mrs. Homer Zeibig for Bible study. Rev. Bernard Franklin will bring the lesson.

Offering the opening number on the program was Maurine Youree giving a brief outline of plans for the coming year. Next were Carolyn Bell, Marcia Kincaid and Maurine Youree giving reviews of their summer travels. Carolyn and Marcia told of their trips to the west coast and Maurine reviewed her summer school days at Boulder University in Colorado. For the musical portion of the program, Jean Hughston played a piano solo, "My Rosary."

After a short business session the club was adjourned to convene again on Wed., Sept. 26.

Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

So many of you have asked for these "recipes" I decided to write them out here for you to clip and keep.

To make a dustless dust cloth mix 1 tablespoon of kerosene with 1 quart of hot water. Dip squares of clean soft cloth into this solution, wring out, dry and store in a covered container such as a fruit jar or coffee can. Prepare several cloths at a time and wash often. Treat cloths after each washing.

To clean paper walls brush off the dust with a long handled brush of soft hair or a broom covered with a clean, soft cloth. Try removing grease spots by placing a clean blotter on the spot or pressing with a warm iron. Change blotters often. Or try mixing fullers earth or magnesia with enough carbon tetrachloride to make a stiff paste. Caution: use carbon tetrachloride in a ventilated room. Spread this mixture over the spot 1/8 inch thick and allow it to remain on the spot until thoroughly dried. Remove the dry powder with a soft brush.

Here is a simple formula for cleaning woodwork or white painted surfaces. One part kerosene oil to one part vinegar. Rub over the soiled area and wipe off with a dry cloth. For varnished surfaces mix three tablespoons of linseed oil with one quart of hot water and one tablespoon turpentine. Wring cloth out of this mixture, wash woodwork, and wipe dry. Polish with a soft cloth. Protect the wall with a heavy cardboard or metal strip with a straight edge.

If you are interested in cleaning leather or upholstered furniture call or come by for those "recipes."

The other day I visited Mrs. Glen Shook of Foard City. She is the cereal demonstrator for her club and is particularly interested in the freezing part of the program. I'm sure she will be able to give us all some good pointers at the end of the year.

In fact all of the cereal demonstrators I have visited so far this summer are doing a fine job. Mrs. Grover Moore of the Riverside Club is working with recipes from the Master Mix and buying cereals. Mrs. Raymond A. Bell and Mrs. Jim Owens are cereal demonstrators for the Margaret Club and both are doing fine work. We should have some very good reports at the end of the year.
