JOHN BEN SHEPPERD
Secretary of State
Speaks at High School Wednesday

The students of Crowell High School had a rare treat in assembly Wednesday morning, Dec. 5; they were given an opportunity to hear one of the foremost speakers of the time—John Ben Shepperd. Mr. Shepperd was introduced by Foster Davis, local County Attorney. Mr. Davis stated in his introduction that Mr. Shepperd is at the present time Secretary of the State of Texas; past president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce; and is one of the most promising young statesmen of the century. He is only 35 years of age, but has acquired the reputation of being an outstanding speaker for civic clubs, student bodies, and celebrations. He possesses a keen sense of humor that holds an audience every moment he is speaking.

He stressed most assuredly that people should take part in elections and other governmental and civic affairs and not let all the vicious "isms" of today take hold in America. These so-called "evil spirits" could be the downfall of a democracy. He warned his audience of the danger of both communism and totalitarianism. Moral irresponsibility has touched the most of us and has made the people addicts of worse things than narcotics; our lack of interest in the home, community, and government is a tendency to allow the little malignant substitutes called "isms" in its place; in other words he is afraid we are losing the spirit of Democracy. A fourth "R" should be added to the Reading, Riting and "Rithmetic of education—the "R" for responsibility. Democracy is not equal rights for all, but equal responsibility to be held accountable for them. He believes that high school students are America's insurance policies on the future.

It was indeed a great honor to have the distinguished, intelligent and humorous John Ben Shepperd in our community to appear before our High School student body. He has appeared before many high schools, colleges and civic clubs throughout the State in the last month using the theme "Democracy in Action." He spoke at Childress last evening and went from Crowell to Quanah to appear before the Lions Club of that city for an address at noon.

Injured in Crash Near Lockett Last Friday Afternoon

J. R. Beverly of Crowell and his brother-in-law, David M. Thomson of Honolulu, T. H., were injured in an automobile accident on the Crowell-Vernon highway near Lockett late last Friday afternoon when the car in which they were riding crashed into a culvert. Both men were brought to Crowell by a Henderson Funeral Home ambulance of Vernon and placed in the Foard County Hospital. Mr. Beverly received bruises and broken ribs, but was released from the hospital that night. Mr. Thomson's injuries were more serious and included a fractured left ankle and a dislocated right hip bone. His condition is reported to be satisfactory. Mrs. Beverly and Mrs. Thomson were also in the car but escaped without injury with the exception of bruises and shock. The accident occurred when the car, driven by Mr. Beverly, crashed into the culvert in order to miss a Mexican cotton picker's pickup which turned off the road in front of him.

All-Time Oil Production for Foard County Totals 2,361,473 Barrels; Oil First Discovered in 1929 Near Thalia

The all-time production of oil in Foard County up to 1950 was 2,361,473 barrels, according to Wendell Bedichek, director of information of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The 1950 output totaled 22,151 barrels. Although two tests had been made, one at the north edge of the present city limits in 1911-12, financed by individuals, and one put down by The Texas Company on the Leo Havaty land about 7 miles north of Crowell, the first oil discovered was on the J. F. Matthews farm north of Thalia, in what is now known as the Thalia field. A production of 55 barrels per day was obtained at 1,492 feet. The well was drilled deeper with no results and later was junked.

Gas for Crowell and Thalia

The Matthews No. 2 was then drilled by Culbertson Bros. and an excellent gas flow was encountered at 982 feet. Drilling was shut down at that depth and the well was completed as a gasser to supply Crowell and Thalia.

Taxaco Field

The Texas Company started its first oil test in the west part of the county after securing a block of approximately 10,000 acres from Leslie McAdams and L. K. Johnson and small royalty owners in the territory with the obligation to drill a 4,000-foot test not later than 90 days after approval of title to property. The first producer, The Texas Company's L. K. Johnson No. 3, blew in Thursday, July 20, 1933, at the rate of 75 barrels daily from a depth of 3,563 feet and the flow was increased to 256 barrels of 44 gravity oil within a few days. A 24-hour test was put on No. 3 in October, 1933, and it was found that the well flowed 2,776 barrels of oil. The oil was accompanied by a heavy gas flow. Drilling of this well was started in June, 1932. There were three extra large gas sands in the discovery well and also a few small ones, all of which were capable of producing around 120,000 cubic feet daily. A gas stripping plant was built by the Texas Company at a cost of $150,000. Processing of the natural gas into casing-head gasoline was done for the first time in this region on Monday, March 6, 1934.

In 1940 oil was discovered on the Mack Gamble farm but the field was later abandoned on account of salt water. Production of oil in Foard County at the present time is listed each Sunday in the Wichita Daily Times as around 50 barrels daily and does not include the recent discovery on the W. B. Johnson ranch northwest of Crowell.

Weekly Sermon

RIGHTEOUSNESS
from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

A current magazine carries a picture and paragraph telling of an airplane factory in California which carries an interesting sign on its main building. The building is very long, and across the upper part of the structure there are letters nine by twelve feet, which phrase this striking declaration: "Nothing short of right is right."

When not only the safety of the pilot but even the safety of the nation may depend on the planes turned out by the plant, all of us can see the necessity for exactness. Instruments of precision guarantee the thousandth of an inch. It must be right.

It would be easy for men concerned with scientific accuracy to understand that such an important matter as God's requirement for human salvation and character has not been left to mere good intention. God in His Word declares that nothing less than right is right. Lower standards may satisfy men, but after all it is God who is to be satisfied.

"They steadily ignore the righteousness which God demands; they try to set up a private standard of righteousness, and so have practically rebelled against the righteousness of God." Way's translation (Romans 10:3).

Here is seen the necessity for revelation. Unless God had spoken men would have been forever ignorant of what He required. But here also is seen the necessity for a Saviour. "Since then from this faith we have attained to righteousness, let us enjoy peace with God. We can procure it now through our Lord Jesus the Messiah" Way's translation (Romans 5:1).

In the third chapter of Romans, God tells us of human failure, "All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (v. 23). He doesn't say all have come short in the same measure or the same manner, but merely "all have come

Quail Hunters Are Requested to Mail in Wings of Birds Killed

Quail hunters are reminded by W. C. Glazener of the Texas Game and Fish Commission that quail wings are again wanted this season to complete the study started last year on age and sex ratio and other important information concerning bobwhite quail.

Mr. Glazener said, "If you or any of your friends are in a position to participate, just let us know. We will be glad to mail you a supply of return envelopes on which you need not pay any postage."

Continuing, he explained, "It is our opinion that 300 to 500 wings will be required to serve as a dependable sample from a given county. Therefore, we will greatly appreciate any efforts you might make to fill such a need."

To the hunters who sent in quail wings last year will be sent an analysis report if they request it.

Hog Producers Warned of Swine Flu

Hog producers are warned to be on the alert for swine flu. The weather during this season of the year—warm days and cold nights—is favorable for flu development, says Joe Burkett, County Agent of Foard County.

Hogs should be protected from the elements. A well-bedded shed that is clean and properly ventilated is the best shelter for hogs at this season of the year. Better check to see that the hogs use the shelter you provide, because they will probably prefer to stay outside, says Burkett.

Swine flu, says the agent, is seldom fatal, but the loss of flesh is mighty important. In addition to the losses on fat hogs, gilts that are being kept for brood sows may also be affected. Small, weak litters often result when the gilts have had a bad case of flu.

Whenever there is doubt about the diagnosis of sick hogs, Burkett suggests calling in a veterinarian, for there is a chance the hogs might have a disease that would prove fatal. Hogs that have flu should be provided with a comfortable house that is free from drafts and should be fed on a light, short. The concern of the plane manufacturer is that no one "come short" of exactness. That's God's concern also. But we do. And by His grace He has provided One to be our righteousness, "even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon them that believe" (Romans 3:22).

slightly laxative diet. Burkett says it's a good idea to check all hogs daily, especially those running in the field. Prompt and proper attention for the sick animals is a must for all farm animals if they are to produce maximum returns for their owners.

An acorn was frequently used as a design on Colonial furniture because it was considered a symbol of hospitality.

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Editor: I believe that every student in CHS deserves a "pat on the back" for the good behavior at the basketball game last Thursday night.

ACC HOST TO CHS SPEECH AND JOURNALISM REPRESENTATIVES

Five high school students, V. A. Smith, Don Gobin, Billy Johnson, Camille Todd and Marcia Kincaid, representing the speech and journalism departments of Crowell High School, accompanied by Mrs. Elmo Todd and Mrs. Lewis Sloan, attended the third annual Student Activities Conference on speech and journalism at Abilene Saturday sponsored jointly by the University Interscholastic League high schools of Central West Texas and ACC.

veals character and is motivated by thought just as it does in real life situations.

The statement was made that it was a general belief that today, as perhaps never before, drama has a place, especially in the high school and college, to awaken the imagination of the youth in a day when youth seems to be losing this faculty.

The journalism activities began with a talk by Norris Davis of the University of Texas at the University of Texas at the ISPC, outline of the day's program. "This is the 25th anniversary of the Interscholastic League Press Conference," Mr. Davis pointed out.

Heber Taylor, presiding chairman, then introduced the principal speaker of the day, Wendell Bedichek, director of information of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"I had rather be known as a good reporter than anything else," Bedichek declared. "A good reporter, the man, the woman, the girl or the boy is what makes the wheels go around on any newspaper. Ambition and determination to be a good reporter are what the editor looks for first."

Bedichek went on to say that the life of a newspaper reporter is in a way like the movie version, colorful and exciting; however, there is another side to the picture like anything else, the hard work and the digging side.

Dr. Fred Barton, head of the ACC speech department, and Heber Taylor, journalism instructor, were responsible for outlining the interesting program which included demonstrations and speeches for those high school students interested in furthering their knowledge in either speech or journalism.

Although all speech demonstrations were very interesting, the speech students especially enjoyed the play, "Nothing but the Truth" which was presented by the Mel-pomanean Players of ACC.

The students profited much from the technical demonstrations which showed such things as the effectiveness of hinged flats hooked together supported on wagons in relation to the quick shifting of scenery from one act to another.

Lighting was discussed and demonstrations of how venetian blinds were used to give illusion of distance and provide a contrast of the drabness and richness of colors in different scenes.

spoke on feature writing and photography.

The public relations man for ACC gave the boys some valuable pointers on sports writing. It was Mr. Norris Davis from the University of Texas who left this closing thought. Freedom of the press is one of the most important parts of the most precious example of the teachings of Jesus Christ, the Constitution of the United States. Freedom of the press is the first thing that a dictatorship must do away with, if it is to survive.

ATOMS, DID YOU SAY?

Don't be surprised if a mass of electrons, neutrons, or protons hit you in the face. The general discussion in Solli's Chemistry Class is atoms and has been for the past week.

Did you know that an electron circles the nucleus in an orbit that might have a radius of the distance from Crowell to Thalia and yet you cannot see the atom itself? Don't be surprised if you see Don Brisco with neutrons in his eyes, Thurston Edgin with electrons in his hair, or John Diggs with protons in his mind.

Everybody watches Solli's because he might try to set an atomic blast off in their shoes.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

The FHA girls are sponsoring a very different project this year to make money. It is going to be a Sadie Hawkins Day.

As you all know, if you read Lil Abner in the funnies, Sadie Hawkins Day is the time when the girls hunt a husband (rather, chase a husband in a bona fide manhunt). This is exactly what the FHA girls are going to do Friday, only in a different way.

The boys will be marched across the stage. As each boy crosses, the girls bid for him. He is then "sold" to the highest bidder. He has to carry the girl's books, walk to her locker, and be her "slave" for a week. One good part about it is that the girls ask the boys that they buy for dates.

This will be lots of fun if everyone will cooperate. Everyone has to be behind it 100 per cent. All you girls bring your money to school Friday and get you a boyfriend. This could start a romance. All you boys get behind this project and be good sports. Help the FHA girls and have fun!

CONGRATULATIONS, PAT

We, the members of the staff, remember the good work of Pat Owens on the Wildcat last year and are glad to hear that Pat is now a member of the staff of the school paper at St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo.

HERE COMES SANTA CLAUS

Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the band journeyed to Vernon to participate in the opening of the Christmas season.

Each band gave a short concert consisting of two numbers while Santa passed out candy to all the small children.

The band will play here in Crowell tomorrow night to open the Christmas season.

A car with piston rings, two rear tires and no front springs; has no fenders, seat or tank, burns lots of gas and is hard to crank. The carburetor is busted in two, engine missing, hits on two. Eleven years old, was twelve this spring, has shock absorber and everything. Radiator's busted; sure does leak; differentials are dry—you can hear them squeak. Ten spokes are missing, front all bent; tires blown out; ain't worth a cent. Tires all off, has been run on the rim; to

VIVACIOUS SENIOR LIKES PEOPLE BEST

If you don't know Jamile Caram, you have missed something. This fun-loving vivacious senior can be recognized by her big smile and friendly "Hi."

Jamile was born August 2, 1934, near Truscott. She attended Truscott Grammar School until she entered Crowell High School as a freshman in 1947.

Her favorites include fried chicken, Cokes, iced tea, reading books by Frank Yerby, John Wayne, "Because of You," by Nat King Cole, telling and listening to jokes, and dancing.

Jamile has few dislikes, but one thing she cannot stand is to be poked in the ribs or tickled.

Jamile is undecided about what she will do after graduation. She says, "Well, Mother tells me I'm going to college, but I want to work."

No matter what she does, it will be something involving a lot of people because she likes people more than anything else.

Crowell High, stopped in the hall one day to watch a 5 ft., 11 inch blue-eyed brown-haired boy turn around to talk to a group of students who hailed him as "Scout." She was impressed by his casual and friendly manner and wondered who he was.

Had this little girl bothered to inquire, she would have found out that almost every student could identify this boy as Clinton Marlow. She would have also found out he is a basketball, baseball and track letterman.

This girl could have had a talk with Scout himself. She would have found out that he was born October 4, 1933, at Thalia and attended Thalia Elementary School until he entered Crowell High School as a freshman in 1947.

When she asked about his likes and dislikes, Scout would have told the little girl that he enjoys western movies, steak, french fries, western clothes, swimming and hunting.

Scout would have made this girl very happy when he told her that one of his favorite pastimes is dancing, and his favorite type of girl is one who is cute, full of life, and can dance.

As for the future—well, there is a war on, you know, and Scout will, in all probability, be over there "Shooting it out with them."

ROVING REPORTER

This is your roving reporter again bringing you his ideas on interesting incidents.

Upon examining the disturbance in the hall Monday morning that resembled an atomic explosion, I found it was nothing but several "Fish" carrying chairs to the band hall.

Upon examining the remains of Don's car, I hereby declare that he was "clobbered" by a semi-truck.

Upon examining Truscott hotels, I find the beds comfortable and the doors hard to open.

Upon examining "class cutters" and "hooker" players, I find that "crime doesn't pay."

Volleyball season is just getting in swing. I also hear that Billye Bell has been asked to practice with the A team. The team sure looks good.

I will have to admit that I have no idea on how Mary Lou talked Don out of his ring. When I looked in on Henry's Spanish class Monday morning, my mouth watered from hunger. Cakes, ice cream and cakes, no less.

As I fondly look over my report card, I find that "Goodness gracious, not another F!"

It seems that Noma Kelly is just tickled pink about her new band uniform.

Upon examining the delightful smell of limburger cheese in English Monday I found ??? eating cheese crisps.

When asked my theme song, I reply "The Roving Kind."

This is your Roving Reporter, John Diggs, signing off.

IOWA PARK VOLLEYBALL GIRLS WIN OVER CROWELL

Volley ball season opened last Thursday night, Nov. 29, when the Crowell girls met and were defeated by the girls from Iowa Park.

The A team, composed of Mary Bergt, Mary Matus, Norma Mathews, Jackie Rashberry, Rosemary Moss and Leta Scott, played first and were defeated 15 to 4. High point girl for the A game was Mary Matus with seven points.

The B team, composed of Dorothy Wilson, Margaret Thompson, Mary Alice Werley, Charlica Ketchersid, Mary Lynn Hough and Nora Lee Davidson, got off to a good start by defeating the Iowa Park B team 15 to 9 the first game; however, the second game was lost, 12 to 15. The Crowell girls tired easily and lost the third game 15 to 0.

High scorer for the B team was Mary Lynn Hough with 8 points. The Crowell girls will journey to Iowa Park Dec. 11 when they will again play the Iowa Park volleyball girls.

Coach "Tiny" Taylor states: "I think the girls can win this time; they just needed more training."

B TEAM CAGERS WIN FIRST GAME 36-14

The Crowell High School B team started its season off right last Thursday night by beating Matador 36-14. The B boys were never behind from the start to the finish. They played heads-up basketball throughout the entire game. Scoring honors were divided between "Grim" Stinebaugh and Gaylon Whitley. They had 12 points each; however Stinebaugh would have led in scoring had he not gotten turned around and made a field goal for the Matador team. Gobin was second with seven points.

Most of Crowell's scoring came in the second quarter. They caught fire and scored eleven points. Matador scored only one point in this quarter.

James Hall's ball handling and LeRoy Bice's rebound work helped Crowell to a great deal. That boy Bice can jump like a deer.

The high scoring man on the Matador team was Fair, who scored 3 points.

The B team will be in much stronger competition this week when they take on the Quannah Indian B team.

MATADOR BOWS TO CROWELL

The Wildcat Cage team, paced by Jim Paul Norman and Roy Whitley, soundly ran over the Matador's quintet 52-21 here Thursday night in both teams' initial encounter.

Errors frequently hindered both teams' offenses due to lack of polish this early in the season; however, these mistakes were expected and coaches were enthusiastic over our showing. The sharp shooting of Whitley combined with floor work by Norman and determined hustle on the part of Ginger Johnson, Clinton and James McBeath, were instrumental factors in the victory.

The reserves figured also in this opener, and during their tenure on the floor, the display of hustle for a position was quite evident. Our team should be headed for another fine season if the opener's score is any indication of our basketball powers.

NORMA'S NONSENSE

This business of writing the nonsense isn't all it's cracked up to be; in fact, about the only thing that is cracked up is yours truly!

James Denton, isn't it about time you gave some girl a break and asked her for a date? Phone 225-W.

Wonder why the girls haven't discovered "Chumpy" Cates yet, or why "Chumpy" hasn't discovered them.

Noma Kelly's theme song is "I'm Just Looking for a Boy Friend." If Rosemary ever makes up her mind as to which man will win the race for her affections, the nonsense column will really have a scoop! Unlike Mary Bergt, she loves 'em, but can't bear to leave them.

Pauline Wheeler never gets as many words in typing as she used to; maybe it's the effect Floyd Porter has on her.

Glyndon Johnson, just who was loading your car down Friday night going to Foard City? Was there a big party?

"Ellis," what happened to your band jacket?

Seen at church were Joe Don and Betty Sue, R. C. and Lareta, DuWayne and Billye Bell.

Don Gobin has to keep a close watch over Dorothy Gamble since Bobby Weiss has stepped in.

"Rabbit" Graves, when are you going to realize that there are women in this "ole" world?

How do the Truscott girls rate to keep a certain boy's car?

Orval Raisback and Tim Wilson were seen with some Vernon girls over the week end. What's the matter with Crowell girls?

Couples seen over the week end: Don Clard and Jane, "Chick" and Jean H., Carolyn and Billy, "Dob" and Norma, Bobby Jack and Camille, Buddy and George Ann, Raymond, Wayne and "Babe" seem to be interested in grade school.

The Thalia couple is Mary Alice and Antone Kajs. Good luck, kids!

Billy Johnson, why don't you pay attention to some girls?

Wonder why Paul and David don't find them a girl? (Maybe, they're just hashful girls.)

Norman Shultz and Nita June had a good time after church Sunday night.

I forgot to put this in the column last week, so I'll put it in this week: Welcome home, Exes. Seen at school during Thanksgiving holidays were Bubba Bell, Charles Wishon, Peggy Weaver, Barbara White, Betty Barker and Jimmy Rasberry. Come back to see us again.

Increase in Pay of Railroad Employees Hikes Freight Rates

Washington, Dec. 2—Increases in rates of pay of railroad employees and reductions in hours of work in the last three years have added more than a billion dollars per year to transportation costs, Howard Neitzert, counsel for the railroads, today told a Presidential Emergency Board.

The board is holding hearings on the two-year-old dispute between the railroads and their firemen.

Neitzert said in his opening statement that the railroads had negotiated agreements in 1950 and 1951 with twenty of the railroad labor organizations, representing about 90 per cent of all employees. These agreements include cost-of-living escalator clauses.

The firemen, engineers and conductors—representing the other 10 per cent—have held out for better terms. Similar arrangements with the three hold-out unions, Neitzert said, would boost railroad expenses another $105 million annually. Further pay raises promised with the application of a five-day week to yard service employees would add another thirteen and one-half million.

Neitzert told the board there is "no conceivable reason for more favored treatment for firemen than for other employees."

The dispute, which originated over demands for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour week for employees in yard service, now includes rule changes and wage increases for both yard and road employees.

Neitzert said the railroads and the firemen's organization are in agreement on the amount of the immediate wage increase—34 cents per hour for yard employees who are paid on an hourly basis and 19½ cents for road employees who are paid largely on a mileage basis. However, there are differences on a further increase for yard employees when the 40-hour week becomes effective. The railroads have offered an additional 4 cents an hour while the union demands 9½ cents.

Other major issues in the dispute are carrier-proposed changes in working rules, which Neitzert said are "necessary to effectuate a 40-hour week" and "to eliminate practices which interfere with efficient operation."

The railroad spokesman said that since 1937 the unions had been resisting efforts by the carriers "to eliminate featherbedding, make-work rules, on reasonable and unearned arbitrations and special allowances, and pay for time not worked and services not performed." The carriers' proposals, he said, have been recommended by three emergency boards.

"The railroads are engaged in furnishing a public service and the public has a right to expect the highest quality of rail transportation at the lowest permissible cost," Neitzert said. "Neither the unions nor the employees of the railroads, nor anyone else, has a legitimate interest in perpetuating rules or practices that result in waste and inefficiency or which defeat the purposes for which the railroads exist."

Neitzert told the board that "it has been the unions and not the carriers that are responsible for the delay and failure in reaching settlement of this dispute," and he pointed out that it was the unions "that asked for government seizure of the railroads."

"The carriers are opposed to government control and during this movement for a 40-hour week with 48 hours' pay the carriers have been subjected to four strikes by their employees without asking for government seizure."

"Following government seizure the carriers and the chiefs of the four operating unions signed a memorandum of agreement at the White House on December 21, 1950, which contemplated a complete settlement of their differences. It was the unions and not the carriers that repudiated this agreement."

"The carriers have repeatedly offered to arbitrate all of the rules issues that are before your board."

The disputed rules proposals include: Interdivisional runs—Rules on many railroads, Neitzert said, prohibit crews running through division terminals. "The purpose of the carriers' proposal is to eliminate unnecessary stops and avoid delay for the purpose of changing crews, to eliminate pay for time not worked and miles not run." He said the unions have "selfishly prevented extension and consolidation of divisions." Most divisions were established, he said, at a time when the speeds of trains were only a fraction of present day speeds and when a run over a division usually had some reasonable relation to a day's work. The carriers propose that the railroads should have the right to establish interdivisional runs under conditions agreed upon by the parties involved or to be determined by arbitration. The carriers' proposal was accepted by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen which represents more than half of all operating employees.

More than one class of service: The Carriers' proposal, Neitzert told the Board, is "to restore the original purpose and intent of the rule," which has been widely mis-construed to require a minimum payment of not less than one basic day for each class of service performed during a single tour of duty. Under the carriers' proposal, crews in road service that perform more than one class of road service would be paid at the high rate applicable to any class of service performed. This provision is included in the Trainmen's agreement as the result of the decision of an arbitrator.

Switching Limits — Neitzert said the present rule is interpreted in such a way as to prevent the carriers from changing switching limits without the consent of the unions and to prohibit the use of yard crews outside of such established switching limits. "Featherbedding, inefficiency, waste and injury to the service result from these interpretations," he said. The carriers propose if they are unable to negotiate a mutually satisfactory agreement with the union, the matter be arbitrated; also that new industries locating not more than four miles outside of established switching limits may be assured switching service by yard crews without penalty to the carrier. This change was accepted by the Trainmen.

Reporting for duty—The carriers propose that in circumstances such as a delayed train, they be allowed to defer the reporting time of a fireman in assigned service by advance notice one time only. Neitzert said that this was the practice on 90 per cent of the railroads and was agreed to by the Trainmen.

$13,815 IN ICEBOX

Allentown, Pa. — Mrs. John Knopf, 65, gave her old ice box to a junkman and bought a new electric refrigerator. The junkman left the ice box in his truck, parked on a vacant lot, over the week end. Two children, Arthur Ross 12 and Joyce Kline 10—decided to "play house" on the truck and accidentally kicked open the ice compartment of the ice box. Inside was a small green box wrapped in some newspapers and, inside that, $13,815 in cash. Arthur hurried the box to his father, who found the Knopf address scratched on the side. Mrs. Knopf, astounded, said her retired farmer-husband, now 82 and ill, apparently had saved the money and then hidden it in the ice box. She gave the children a reward and then deposited the cash in the bank.

Results of Socialism

What would happen if the government took over all the electric power producing and distributing resources of the country—which is what an entrenched group of socialist-minded politicians obviously is planning for?

The president of one of our business-managed utility companies recently gave his answer to that question, with these five simple statements: "Electric customers would get less service at higher cost. Employees would be less free to progress, to invent, to grow, and to draw good pay. Investors would lose their right to a fair profit upon the money they have invested in this business. Everybody would pay higher taxes, higher rates, or both. The government would soon move to take over other industries."

Thorough-going surveys have proven beyond doubt that the "cheap power" rates charged by public plants are the result of tax-subsidization and tax-exemption, and that when all costs are honestly figured the rates of the publicly-regulated, heavily-taxed private utilities are lower. The heads of a number of labor unions have protested that the socialized power systems often pay less, give their workers fewer benefits, and are more likely to pursue unfair labor practices than private utilities. And when the bureaucrats get a stranglehold on one business, they just can't wait until they get hold of another.

Socialism is a milder version of communism. It destroys the basic freedoms, as it bleeds the people white to pay extortionate taxes.

Do Away with Fish Odors, Says Agent

Fish sometimes loses its popularity in the American home because odor remains in the kitchen long after it has been eaten. Mrs. Mary D. Brown, Acting County Home Demonstration Agent, has these tips for conquering that fishy odor.

Rinse hands in cold water before touching the fish. Afterwards, wash hands with hot water and salt. Soap won't do the job, the agent warns.

Fishy odors can be removed from frying pans and dishes by soaking them in hot water and salt. Apply no soap until the salt has had a chance to do its work.

When fish is stored in the refrigerator, be sure that it is wrapped in a plastic bag or other airtight material, so that the fish odor will not penetrate other foods.

Lucile Kimsey got her left arm fractured between the wrist and elbow Tuesday when she slipped and fell on the concrete sidewalk at the school house.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bruce are the proud parents of a 6-lb. baby girl who arrived Wednesday at their home.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will conduct an old-time spelling match in the district court room on the evening of Dec. 16 at 7:30.

The metal work on the new Baptist Church will be completed Tuesday by the tin shop of M. S. Henry & Co.

Glenn Hightower came in Wednesday from Canyon to visit relatives.

Mrs. J. H. Cope and small daughter, Marjory Ann, of Quannah are here visiting relatives.

A party of Fort Worth business men were here the first of the week on a hunting trip. They were Amon G. Carter of the Star-Telegram; Bert Hone, secretary-treasurer of the Star-Telegram; Will Stripling of Stripling Dry Goods Co.; W. C. Hendrick of the Hendrick Construction Co.; John C. Ryan of Ryan Land Co.; Mack Thompson and Beverly Thompson, attorneys. With M. S. Henry and other men of Crowell, they hunted birds south of town Monday and were at the Worsham & Johnson Ranch Tuesday where Baxter Johnson entertained them. Tuesday night a turkey dinner was served to the visitors at the T. N. Bell home.

How to Discourage Free Enterprise

The Freeman magazine recently ran an interesting little editorial on what happens when the government goes into business, using TVA as a prime example.

"First it was that government dams were primarily for land reclamation and flood control; electric energy would be a by-product," the Freeman said. "The Tennessee Valley Authority was so represented. At the very most, it would use electric energy as a kind of yardstick to show what the price of power ought to be. Now the TVA is building steam plants to produce competitive electric energy. Senator Murray has introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to experiment with windmills as a source of electric energy. In the statements he made on introducing the bill occurs this bit of illumination:

"Because of the regulation of the rates by the Federal Power Commission the private utilities are practically inhibited from taking up the installation of aerogenerators, as all savings would lead only to an equivalent reduction of rates, with all the risk at the cost of the utilities. It seems that with the object of adding a new and very-low-cost source of electric energy the expense of the first unit should be borne by some agency of the government."

"The well known procedure. First, chain down the profit motive, and then cry out: Venture capital, where are you? If you won't the government will."

When government goes into business, it often starts on a relatively small scale, but it grows like a fungus from there on. The ambition of every bureaucrat is more power, more authority—and of course, more of the taxpayers' money to throw around on one scheme or another.

Given a decent chance, the power utilities will provide every last kilowatt of electric energy the country can use, now and tomorrow. And they won't pass the bills on to the taxpayers — or create menacing political monopolies, a la TVA, in the process.

Can't Be Done

The Defense Production Act contains an amendment, known as the Herlong Amendment, which is all important to American retailing. This provision guarantees a percentage margin approach to price control. In other words, under it the retailer is allowed to add a moderate percentage to his costs to determine the price at which an article may be sold, which is the traditional way of doing business.

Certain price control officials have been bitter in their opposition to the Herlong Amendment. They want to get rid of it and replace it with a system whereby inflexible dollar-and-cents ceilings would be imposed upon all retailers. That means that they wish the power to force retailers to absorb wholesale and other costs which are totally beyond retailing's control.

According to retail experts, the effect of this would be shattering. It would pose the most serious sort of survival problem for the chains and other big stores—and it would undoubtedly force a great many small stores to close. In all probability, the ultimate result would be to make it legally obligatory for retailers to sell commodities at no profit, and perhaps at a loss. For, in our competitive economy, retailing's profit is very small—a penny to four or five pennies on each dollar received in sales, depending on the character of goods involved. There is simply no margin to make possible the absorption of further increases in commodity costs or other expense.

The consumer naturally wants the low prices—but also wants and needs progressive, highly efficient retailing. In the long run, he would suffer most of all if our fine retailing system were disrupted.

Black Friday, September 26, 1869, was the day of financial panic in Wall Street.

Another Record

This year, the American people will burn a record-breaking 46,500,000,000 gallons of motor fuel. Since 1948, the increase in demand alone has amounted to 40,000,000,000 gallons—more than the total daily consumption of gas as recently as 1929.

On top of that, we will use over 60,000,000,000 gallons of other oil products by the time 1951 becomes history. Total consumption comes to about two gallons per day per man, woman and child.

These facts are clues to the high state of American living standards. In the home, in industry, on the farm, on the highway, oil has been a revolutionary factor. It does—efficiently, quickly, cheaply—a thousand and one tasks that used to be performed with the muscles of man or beast. And it is the source of a multitude of valuable products—from cosmetics to "soaps"—which, in many instances, bear no superficial resemblance to oil at all.

Freedom of Choice

Under free enterprise, the consumer has freedom of choice. He can go into any store, look around and buy or not buy, as he pleases. He can shop about from store to store seeking the most attractive deal.

The "Little Man" Pays

Economic Intelligence, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, points out that our present program of heavy government spending and soaring taxes is threatening the efficient performance and future growth of the American economy.

It has burdened even the low-income groups with a weight of taxation which, up to now, was known only in the days of the greatest despots.

Economic Highlights

The Korean war is one of the strangest and most terrible conflicts ever fought. Geographically, it is a small war—in terms of human and material costs it is a big one. Veterans of some of the most difficult and bloody campaigns of World War II say that Korea is even worse—in terrain, in climate, and in the character of the enemy. It is a war which we cannot win under present conditions, and it is also a war which seems to be half-forgotten at home. Even if a truce is finally reached, it will be an uneasy one, and unless there is a reversal of policy our troops will remain on guard in that rickled land, watching and waiting to see if the enemy has more grim surprises in store for us.

Theoretically, it is a war of the United Nations against an aggressor. Actually, it is a war in which one country, the United States, is doing almost all of the fighting, providing almost all of the money and weapons, and taking the vast majority of the losses. Our casualties approach the 100,000 figure, and of them well over 15,000 are known to be dead. The death rate among those now listed as missing is expected to be exceedingly high. Our allies have fought bravely and taken their casualties too, but, as U. S. News & World Report accurately said, the "U. S., with 150,000,000 people, is being called upon to assume losses of its ground force youths that are far higher than losses of U. N. allies with 240,000,000 people. The proportion aiding our anticommunist allies. That is a phony alibi. Very heavy cuts in government spending—perhaps as much as $10,000,000,000 a year—could be made without harming a sound arms or aid-to-Europe program in any way. This is the money which is being wasted on projects which are either totally unnecessary, or which could be indefinitely postponed.

Today it is the "little man" who must bear the main burdens of taxation. He, and he alone, must pay for the bulk of any new tax increases. It remains to be seen whether he will continue to let the government waste his money by the billions—while his take-home pay shrinks and shrinks because of the tax collector.

tion of U. S. casualties to those of its U. N. allies now is about 13 to 1, and is rising gradually week by week."

It is common knowledge that our major ally, Great Britain, has small stomach for fighting, and that Russia may conclude that this particular Red cause is lost. In the meantime, the Korean war in unlike any this nation ever fought.

new lethal weapons, suitable for tactical use by ground troops, may be on the way. Hope is strong that the Chinese may be losing their stomach for fighting, and that Russia may conclude that this particular Red cause is lost. In the meantime, the Korean war in unlike any this nation ever fought.

It was General MacArthur's conviction that the war must be carried to the heart of the enemy, which means to the heart of China. It was stating and restating this that he was relieved. Yet, if all else fails, the American government, though reluctantly, may be forced into that course. It is inconceivable that the war should be allowed to go on indefinitely. The drain on our manpower is too great.

On the bright side are reports from the front that the losses taken by the Chinese, in men and equipment, have been incredibly high—so high that it is doubtful if they are in a position to mount new major offensives. And the feeling grows—and has been buttressed by the most recent atomic tests in Nevada—that tremendous

Edward Everett Horton to Star in Fort Worth Musical

Fort Worth, Dec. 6.—Edward Everett Horton, movie, stage and radio star, has been signed for the comic lead in "The Merry Widow," to be presented in Fort Worth January 30 through Feb. 3. The popular comedian will play the role of Baron Popoff in the tuneful operetta that will provide added entertainment during the final five days of the 10-day Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

QUICK WORK SAVES MAN

Kansas City—Seeing a fiery object coming toward him on the highway, J. A. Comer, bus driver, turned his bus, with 34 passengers, into a ditch but the flaming motorcycle crashed into the front of the bus and bounced away. Comer sprayed the rider with a fire extinguisher, putting out the blaze. The rider, Joel W. Maupin, 17, very badly burned, was taken to a hospital. A leaky gas tank is thought to have sprayed both Maupin and the motorcycle with fuel before bursting into flames.

DETERMINED THIEVES

North Hollywood, Calif.—When the city recreation office was looted two years ago, the strongbox was ordered imbedded in the concrete floor. Recently, the playground staff found that the safe had been chiseled out. Gone were the safe and $200 in week-end swimming pool receipts.

DUST STORM DITCHES CARS

Moses Lake, Wash.—A recent dust storm, blown by a 60-mile-an-hour wind piled fifteen automobiles into a ditch 14 miles east of here. Street lights were out. Visibility was 100 feet in town, 5 feet on the highway.

QUICK CHOICE

Ottawa, Ill.—Mrs. Louise Lub-scheina was about to cross the Burlington Railroad tracks when she saw Joseph Wells, 3, with a wagon in tow, step in front of her automobile. Rather than hit the child, Mrs. Lub-scheina jammed on her brakes in front of the slowly-moving engine, which bumped her car. Little Joseph reached the other side of the street safely. Mrs. Lub-scheina was only slightly injured but her car was wrecked.

"BAIT" TICKS

Kelso, Wash. — M. C. Autel found a big salmon, nearly 3 feet long, floating on the water. Inside the big fish was a seventeen-jewel watch, still ticking when extracted from the fish's stomach.

FALL FROM CAR FATAL

Oakland, Calif. — While out riding with her grandfather, Wm. Russell, 72, little Kathleen Sullivan, 5, climbed into the back seat to open a window. She grasped the wrong handle, opened the door and fell out. She was fatally injured.

SOMEWHAT DELAYED

Avezzano, Italy — A package, containing a layette, mailed in Boston, Mass., 45 years ago, was received by Mrs. Enrichetta de Angelis recently. The layette had been sent to Mrs. de Angelis by her husband, who had emigrated to the United States, for their first born. It will now be used for that first-born's grandchild.

GIVES HIS CENTS

Pottstown, Pa.—When Lester L. Zern, 31-year-old truck driver, heard that Uncle Sam was running short of pennies, he showed up at a bank with 52,682 of them — enough to almost fill a big tin washtub. Zern explained that he had started saving pennies "just for fun" when he finished high school and added: "The penny I put in the parking meter at the bank was the first I spent since then."

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.
Austin, Texas—One of your most valued assets is good eyes. Many people thoughtlessly abuse the eyes and think little about it until trouble comes, declares Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.
What can you do to protect your eyes? Avoid unnecessary strain by reading in good position and with sufficient light. If your eyes bother you, have them examined by a physician trained especially in diseases of the eye.
Eye strain begins when you need to use too much effort to focus clearly. If you have normal eyes, you do not need to use the focusing muscles to see clearly at a distance; and when you look at something close, like reading matter, you need to focus only a little. If you are far-sighted, your eyes have to focus even when you look far away; and when you read, you have to focus a lot more than a person with normal eyes.
Children have strong focusing muscles, and their eyes do not tire easily or usually need glasses unless they have a large amount of far-sightedness. Then they need glasses to do the focusing and give their eyes a rest. Older people have weaker focusing muscles and usually need glasses for reading when they are about 45 years old. For other specific eye difficulties glasses may be needed.

 The theme, "American Home," was the subject to provide the Columbian Club program at the regular meeting in the home of Mrs. M. N. Kenner Wednesday, Nov. 28.
 Mrs. W. R. Womack was the leader. A round table discussion brought out many worthwhile suggestions that apply to every day home problems.
 Due to illness and other reasons a number of members were absent.
 Mrs. Kenner served delicious refreshments appropriate to the season.

HENRY CIRCLE
 The Henry Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday in the home of Mrs. Foster Davis. Sixteen members and one guest, Mrs. Grice, were present.
 Christmas carols were played, and Mrs. M. S. Henry led in prayer.

 The hostesses, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Henry, served a dainty refreshment plate to those present.

CO-LABORERS CLASS
 The members of the Co-Laborers Class of the Methodist Sunday School met for their monthly social meeting in the home of Mrs. J. W. Bruce on Thursday evening with Mrs. Bruce being assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. Oscar Gentry and Mrs. Sam Mills.
 The lesson on Ephesians was led by Mrs. Pearl Young. Mrs. M. S. Henry read the scripture lesson and Mrs. Charlie Thompson led in prayer. Mrs. Young was assisted in presenting the lesson by Mrs. R. J. Thomas. Mrs. Allen Sanders directed the song service. Mrs. Cressie Erwin told an inspiring story.

 After the lesson which was prefaced by a short business meeting with Mrs. W. C. Erwin, president, in charge, the hostesses served a delicious refreshment plate.

W. S. C. S.
 Mrs. M. A. Walker, Mrs. G. G. Mills, Mrs. Clint White, Mrs. D. R. Magee and Miss Dine Mitchell were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Walker Monday afternoon to the members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in their annual Christmas meeting.

 Mrs. F. B. Fleisher climaxed the program by reading the Christmas story, "The Littlest Angel." "Silent Night" was hummed by the group during the benediction.
 The hostesses served a lovely plate of Christmas refreshments to the members present.

CHANTERS HERE TODAY
 The McMurry Chanters will give a concert in the Crowell High School auditorium this afternoon at 2 o'clock. In a news release from the college last week it was stated they would be in Crowell on Dec. 4. However, in a statement to the school officials, the college stated that the Chanters would be in Crowell this afternoon.

It was against the law to observe Christmas in the U. S. in 1759.
 The American Flag was first used at Cooth's Bridge during the Revolutionary War.

Home Demonstration Notes

MARY DEEB BROWN

Clubs will have their Christmas parties this month, and then in January we will start our new year's work. As most of you know we will continue our living room and cereal demonstrations. In the cereal programs, we will stress yeast breads this coming year.

Now is the time many of us begin to think of Christmas goodies to feed our family. Here is an excellent recipe for Date Nut Bars you might be interested in:
 3 eggs, beaten separately; 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, a tsp. baking powder, one-eighth tsp. salt, 2 c dates, chopped; 1 c pecans, chopped.
 Beat egg yolks until thick, beat in sugar. Sift flour, baking powder and salt over dates and nuts and mix well. Combine mixtures and blend. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and spread mixture in a well greased and floured shallow pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 25 minutes. Cut in bars and roll in powdered sugar while warm. Makes about forty bars.

County Federation Meets at Margaret

The Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs met on Friday, Nov. 30, with the Margaret Home Demonstration Club as hostess. This was the second of the four regular meetings as listed in the club calendar.
 As always the morning session was devoted to minutes, roll call and routine business.
 Mrs. Arthur Bell of Margaret is president and Mrs. W. A. Dunn, secretary-treasurer.

Following an impromptu program after the business session, a most delicious covered dish luncheon was served.
 In the afternoon, Mrs. Hubert Brown delighted her listeners with an account of her recent one-day visit to the United Nations Headquarters in New York. She saw and heard some of the world's leaders who are making history dealing with international problems.
