Progress Being Made in Beautifying Grounds of Truscott Community House

Progress in the work planned by the grounds committee of the Truscott Community House is now visible to the eye. The committee composed of R. Owens, Mrs. Jack Hicks, Q. D. Williams, J. H. Newt Bryant, worked out a plan of steps to be accomplished this year of their committee. These steps included a clean-up of the community grounds, including burning and cleaning away trash; building an out-door picnic area; thinning out mesquites; putting out the front lawn; planting of canna's, petunias and other hardy plants in a bed across the front of the building; repairing children's out-door play area; and planting of trees in areas as special recreation fields.

Started in January

Work was begun when a group of workers met in late January and chopped and burned the tall weeds and grass over a fire lane. A fire lane had been established by the county maintainer. On March 22 an all-day work party was attended by a group of workers who hoed, raked, hauled and planted the flower bed. The work was done by Mr. Stoker; away scrubby mesquite, iris across the front, built a stone fireplace, brought old paper hanging table to picnic area, and cleared away for a second picnic area. The concrete slab which was on the floor of the old auditorium was fixed with outdoor lighting last year by blue ribbon winner. Some of the rules for the exhibitors follow: Entries will be received from 7:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. Late entries will be displayed marked not for competition. Specimens entered for exhibition must be grown by exhibitor, and should be labeled as to variety whenever possible.

Only one entry in each class may be made by an exhibitor. Potted plants must have been in exhibitor's possession at least three months. The decision of the judges will be final. All pot plants and dried arrangements are to be brought to the building the afternoon before the show between the hours of 4 to 6.

All single flowers for specimen should be brought in Dr. Pepper bottles or milk bottles, according to size. A special invitation is extended by members of the Garden Club to men to visit the show and see the flowers grown in Foard County.

Foard Pioneer Dies at Home in Harlingen April 22

Ben Moncus, 92, father of Mrs. R. J. Thomas of Crowell and one of the early settlers of Foard County, passed away at his home in Harlingen Tuesday night, April 22.

Mr. Moncus was born Jan. 26, 1860. He was married to Miss Virginia Hoot in the year of 1886 at Gatesville, Texas. After living in Foard County for many years they moved to Harlingen in the Rio Grande Valley nearly 35 years ago. Mrs. Moncus died three years ago.

Mr. Moncus was a member of the Methodist Church for over fifty years. Survivors include three daughters and five sons. They are Mrs. Thomas of Crowell, Mrs. Frank Zettlemoyer of Hummel's Wharf, Pa., Mrs. H. E. Whitley of Harlingen; B. J. Moncus of Corpus Christi; Gid Moncus, C. W. Moncus, Horace Moncus and Bill Moncus, all of Harlingen.

Jones Plumbing Co. of Quanah New Agent For Soft Water Service

The Jones Plumbing Co. of Quanah has announced that it is the franchised dealer for the Culligan Soft Water Service Company in Crowell and Foard County. The soft water service unit will be sold here, provides filtered, zero soft water at the turn of a faucet.

The unit, depending upon the hardness of the water and the number of persons in the family, is exchanged periodically for one freshly recharged. The unit that is removed is taken to the service department to be sterilized and regenerated for use again.

Circle Eight Square Dance Club

In exchange for lumber from outbuildings on the grounds, Mr. Stoker set out a dozen Paradise trees along the west side of the terrace and in a wide arc west of the picnic area near the swings and see-saws. This last site is expected to be a favorite of the children who can play on the out-door equipment and also use the stone fireplace for weiner roasts and picnics. On a wide, grassy lawn, it will, within a few years, be well shaded in the summer afternoons by the trees set out this year.

The other recreation site, the Terrace, also features an outdoor fireplace. A filled-in abandoned cistern only a few steps away serves crockers for barbecues and weiner roasts. All these outdoor facilities are free and open to be used by anyone in the Truscott community. If the floodlights on the Terrace are to be turned on, a fee of $3.00 should be paid to Mrs. Edgar Jones or Seth Woods.

The rest room was built by hired labor, but all the other work was done by volunteer workers. Another picnic site is to be established and also a volley ball court and tennis court. Mrs. Williams and her fellow workers have been supported enthusiastically by the whole town each time they have called for volunteers and they now encourage everyone to feel free to use the improved recreation areas. They are to be used by church groups, family or private party groups, as well as for the local clubs. There is no charge for using them, day or night.

Former Crowell Man Expert Jungle Clearer

A very interesting feature story appeared in the April 26 issue of the Saturday Evening Post telling of the exploits of Tex Taylor as a jungle clearer. Mr. Taylor, known here as Bill Taylor, is a nephew of Mrs. T. W. Cooper of Crowell, and was reared here. Operator of heavy machinery, his latest adventure was taking a job of clearing the Gal Oya jungle of 350,000 acres in Ceylon. Mr. Taylor took the Gal Oya jungle-clearing job in Ceylon because everybody insisted it couldn't be done. Soon after he started, he had native crews, which he had trained, leveling about 300 acres of trees and brush a day.

Last Sunday, April 27, marked the 61st anniversary of the founding of Foard County. The county was organized April 27, 1891. It was created by an act of the Texas Legislature on Feb. 12, 1891. At that time Hardeman County, which was organized in 1884, included what is now Foard County and the county seat was located at Old Margaret on Pease River.

On Feb. 7, 1890, an election was held to move the old county seat to Quanah which carried by a large majority.

Monday, April 28, 1952, was the tenth anniversary of the tornado that laid flat large sections of Crowell leaving approximately 1,500 residents homeless, many of whom had to rely on Red Cross and other relief agencies for shelter and care. Ten people lost their lives and approximately 125 were injured.

During the ten years since, Crowell has made a remarkable come-back and no signs of the terrible destruction can now be seen.

Spring Football Training Began 3rd Week Tuesday

The Crowell High School football team went into its third week of spring training Tuesday afternoon minus Lee Roy Rice, a splendid end-prospect. Lee Roy had the misfortune of breaking both bones of his left leg just above the ankle in last Friday's scrimmage. However, he is recovering satisfactorily in the Foard County Hospital.

Coaches Thayne Amoneit and Gordon Erwin were not too well pleased with their first spring scrimmage last Friday. Even though the Wildcats defeated a team composed of a combination of exes and substitutes by the score of 13 to 0, they showed that there is much work to be done before the opening of the regular season next fall. Hack Norman, one of the Crowell High stars of by-gone days, was in the Wildcats' hair all afternoon. Ginger Johnson, regular left half-back, has been working out for the State Track Meet and was sorely missed in this scrimmage.

The Coaches are planning on another scrimmage the latter part of next week. There is a probability of some of the exes who are attending college being used on the opposition team for this contest.

RECOVERY FIGURES MISLEADING
Figures are frequently cited to show that European countries aided by the Marshall Plan have increased their industrial production by 50 per cent since 1938. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in recommending a $5 billion limit to foreign aid spending next fiscal year, says the figures are misleading. The Chamber says that when total production, including agriculture, is taken into account, the rate of recovery in Europe has been much smaller. Citing the example of Great Britain, which has an outstanding recovery record, the Chamber says that total production in 1950 was only 12.6 per cent higher than in 1938 and the net production per person at work was only 3.1 per cent higher.
HOW U. S. AID IS USED
The Italian government, with the help of "counterpart funds" made available by U. S. aid, are building a mile-long railway station in Rome. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States says that the station will be larger than New York's Pennsylvania and Grand Central stations, the Cleveland Union Station and all the railroad stations in Chicago, all combined.

WILLING AND ABLE

It costs money to meet this nation's present and future electric power requirements—huge sums of money.

During the last four years alone, the light and power industry has spent the neat total of $8,000,000,000 on generating and other facilities. The value of its operating plant is now well above $20,000,000,000. And by 1953 that value will approach the $30,000,000,000 level.

This should answer those who still believe that the government is the only agency which can carry out major expansion work in the power field—and that the groaning taxpayers are the only people who can pay for it. The truth is there is no need for government to spend a nickel of our money on power development. Private enterprise, under public regulation, is 100 per cent willing and able to do the whole huge job.

Furthermore, when private enterprise does it, we, the taxpayers, make a handsome profit—by contrast with having our money squandered when government does it. According to the latest statistics, taxes now take 23 per cent—nearly one-quarter—out of every last dollar of income of the electric utilities, and taxes will go higher yet. The socialized power systems either pay no taxes, or make relatively small donations in lieu of taxes—and all of them are tax-subsidized to the hilt.

The moral is plain: we don't need government in the power business—or in any business. We don't want socialism in this country.—Industrial News Review.

CAR & HOME SUPPLY

Chrysler V-8 Saratoga Sedan, gasoline economy winner in Class "F". Entered and driven in the 1952 Mobil Gas Economy Run by Chrysler Dealer Mel Aisbury, Hollywood. It was one of three Chrysler FirePower V-8's to win in their respective classes.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145 1/2-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here in the FirePower V-8 engine is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF . . .

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done . . . not only in engine performance, but in power steering, power brakes, new shock absorbers, passenger comfort . . . to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"

ARMED FORCES GROWING

The armed services of the nation are making faster progress in increasing the number of men than the industry of the nation is making in providing the military supplies, equipment and facilities that are needed.

In the thirteen months since the invasion of South Korea, the total strength of our armed forces has moved from 1,450,000 officers and men to about 3,339,000. At the same time, Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson says that $10,000,000,000 of supplies have been delivered since the fighting started in Korea but that deliveries should reach $1,000,000,000 a week by next June. Plane and tank production, it is said, is about twenty per cent behind schedule.

The strength of the armed forces includes 1,550,000 men in the Army, 735,000 men in the Navy, 850,000 men in the Air Force and 204,000 men in the Marine Corps. The Navy and Air Force have practically doubled their number, while the Army and Marines have about tripled their numbers in the past thirteen months. A year ago, the Navy had 258 major warships in operation but now has 348, including three battleships.

AMERICA AND UN BUDGET

In connection with the international organizations established by the United Nations, the United States, since the end of the war, has been contributing a rather heavy percentage of the total cost. The opinion is strong in this country that other nations should meet their share of this financial burden. This probably explains the action of the House in cutting $3 million off the budget request for $30 million to make good the pledged contribution of the United States.

President Truman, in asking for full amount requested, says that the saving of $3 million involves the risk of ruining the organizations and suggests that if the members of Congress oppose the work, as a whole, it would be better and more honorable to offer legislation ending our participation in these groups.

The President pointed out that the House had fixed a limit of thirty-three and one-third per cent as this country's contribution to any organization and pointed out that it was the aim of the government to bring our share to this level, or lower, eventually. The U. S. share of the United Nations budget, he said, is slightly over thirty per cent of that organization's total cost, but our percentage is being cut down regularly. It was necessary, of course, just after the war for the United States to assume a disproportionate share of the expenses of international groups. Many of the other nations of the world, which could have been expected to contribute, were suffering from the economic devastation of war. Temporarily, at least, the other nations were not able to put up their full share but, in the years that have passed, most of them have given indication of their willingness to do so.

Finest Quarter Horses in Area to Be Shown at Santa Rosa Roundup

Admirers of good horsemanship will find thrills galore at this year's Santa Rosa Round-Up and Quarter Horse Show in Vernon, April 28-May 3. The finest quarter horses in the Texas-Oklahoma area are expected to be shown in the official quarter horse show to be held at the rodeo grounds during the rodeo.

In addition to that, the best saddle horses in the area will be seen in the opening day parade, and the grand entry of the rodeo. These horses will be ridden by members of any number of uniformed riding clubs from upwards of 150 miles of Vernon. The parade is expected to attract the largest array of horses and riders ever gathered in one place, even in the great state of Texas.

The famed Vernon Santa Rosa Palomino Club is acting as host for the riding clubs, and since the Palomino Club has visited many communities in the past year, literally scores of clubs are planning to return the visit. Liberal prizes have been offered for both the rodeo and the registered quarter horse show. The quarter horse show will be held at the rodeo grounds in nearby stock barns. The show is now open to all quarter horses registered with either the American Quarter Horse Association or the National Horse Breeders Association, or others eligible under the show's rules.

The rodeo will present all the traditional rodeo events, attracting many world champions and former champions with a purse of $7,400. In addition, a variety of new features will be seen. The rodeo is to be presented in the big all-weather Santa Rosa arena, rain or shine. Ticket offices already have been opened in the Wilbarger Hotel under the direction of H. A. McCarty, who has been in charge of the tickets since the show started.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, M. D., State Health Officer.

Pumping 2,500 gallons of blood every 24 hours is the astonishing work done by the heart, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The heart is about the size of a man's fist and is rated at 1/240th of a horse-power; it never sleeps, loafs or takes a vacation from the beginning of life to the end. The only rest it gets is between beats. Yet, with all the work the heart has to do it does not give out suddenly unless it has been injured or ill-treated.

Under pressure of work the average person neglects his heart and unwittingly abuses it. The chief causes of heart trouble, aside from the deterioration of old age, are rheumatic fever, acute infectious diseases, chronic infections, syphilis, too abrupt return to activity after a serious illness, too strenuous exercise and overweight may be a factor.

Many of the signs which you may think mean heart trouble can be caused by some other disorder. Indigestion, lung trouble, or nervousness may cause pain near the heart, shortness of breath, fainting and irregularity of beat. If you have any of these symptoms do not try to diagnose the condition yourself, but go to your doctor for an examination. He will be able to find out what is wrong and may tell you that your heart is sound. Have a regular periodic examination and follow your doctor's advice.

About the most discouraged person we've ever seen was the fellow who had written a long overdue letter, and then lost it before getting it mailed.

Air Force Trying to Locate 117 Reservists

The Air Force is trying to locate 117 air reservists in 10 Texas counties in the Childress area.

The search is in no way connected with recall to active duty, but is part of 3d Air Reserve District's current mail-type reserve personnel survey in the area, according to Colonel W. B. Magnus, Executive Officer for the district, headquartered in Austin.

Questionnaires were mailed to all air reservists in the 10 counties early this month, and the 117 men are those who have not yet returned their completed forms to the district headquarters.

The entire survey program is intended to give the Air Force accurate and correct facts and figures on its reservists in case of a national emergency. However, the program also is designed to enable reservists to determine where they stand in today's Air Force Reserve program.

Surveys underway in more densely-populated regions of Texas and New Mexico feature personal interviews with reservists. The Childress area mail survey is the second undertaken by the district. The Big Bend region of Texas was surveyed earlier this year via the mail avenue.

Counties included in the Childress survey are Childress, Wheeler, Donley, Collingsworth, Briscoe, Hall, Hardeman, Foard, King and Knox.

In an attempt to locate the "lost" reservists who may have moved from the area since their last contact with the Air Force, the district has forwarded lists of the reservists to newspapers and radio stations in the region. Citizens are requested to advise their Air Reservist-friends listed in the group that the Air Force is endeavoring to contact them in order to correct their obsolete military records.

For additional information on the survey, reservists should write to 3d Air Reserve District Headquarters, 1414 Lavaca, Austin.

As of early this week, reserve headquarters had been unable to contact the following reservists in Foard County:

Crockett C. Fox Jr., William F. Hill, Herbert K. Edwards Jr., Leo

for it is a worthwhile creation.

Article IV. All our other worldly belongings, consisting of notebooks, pencils, athletic records, and many other things too numerous to mention, including all the scholastic and other honors we have had, we have made arrangements to be sold at a public auction; the proceeds to be used to build a new gymnasium, and air conditioning throughout the high school building.

Article V. Our diplomas—we are keeping them—not that they are worth anything to us; but it seems to be an old Crowell High School custom for seniors to keep their diplomas. Some day we may be able to have them put in the archives at Washington as important papers of the state. Maybe James McBeath will put them up in the White House when he becomes President.

Article VI. To the whole school we want to leave a bit of convenience. Since nearly everyone goes down the stairs "sitting down" at one time during high school, we want to leave an escalator. Now you can go down in a sitting position without so much danger (or embarrassment).

There is a certain satisfaction in sitting down and contemplating all that high school has meant for us, and in figuring out just what we should do with our personal property—that is, what we should do if we had any property. In that spirit is this will inscribed, this the 22nd day of April, in the office of the principal of the Crowell High School.

If we had any good grades, and if we did, we wouldn't know why we deserved them, we would will them to the whole student body, share and share alike, well knowing that there wouldn't be enough to quarrel over.

Our caps and gowns—they are just rented anyway—we return to the supply house, hoping that the next class that gets them will feel that it is wearing the toga of an illustrious people.

Now what can we leave to the freshmen? Well, they'll need a can of spinach to give them strength, so we hope they get it.

The sophomores? They won't need anything. They have their nerve. If there is anything which can equal the nerve of a sophomore, we have failed to find it.

Our beloved juniors? We wish them all the happiness in the world. They've certainly had little happiness in their school life up to this point. We hope they can enjoy themselves when get out of their way.

Some personal abilities and possessions being willed to lower classmen are as follows:

Robert Brock wills his athletic prowess to V. A. Smith, together with his medals. He hopes that V. A. makes very good use of these in the future.

The tight sweaters that Neva Lou Potts willed to Camille Todd last year, Camille would like to pass on to Norma Jones, hoping that she has as much luck with them as they did.

"Scout" Marlow wills his ability to play basketball to his brother Billy in hopes that he will keep up the good work—just to keep it in the family.

Coy Payne wills his outstanding ability to chew gum in Mrs. Davis' algebra class, to Mary Ermine Cooper in hopes that she can get by half as well even in study hall.

Norma Mathews and Jane Bruce will their boy friends in Vernon to Faye Black and Margaret Thompson, since they won't be needing them any longer—they're going out to look for a wider variety (of boys).

Dorothy Wilson wouldn't dare will Vernon to anyone, but she tells me that she won't mind parting with all the pictures of her old admirers. I think her reason for this is that she doesn't want Vernon to see them. She says that Martha Athey can have the five albums that she keeps them in.

Don Brisco wills his several volumes on "How to Get Along with City Marshals," to Jimmy Stinebaugh, with a note attached — "It can't be done, Grin!"

Nettie Black wills her "way to get along with teachers" to just anybody who needs it. This will be a help to some students, although there aren't many that need anything like this.

John Diggs wills his manual on "How to Win Friends and Influence Mrs. Sloan" to Glydon Johnson, Ginger Johnson and Billy Abston. Not that they need it, but John's motto is "Always Be Prepared." He's a cub scout, you know.

Thurston Edgin wills his car to Sam Bullion and Doyle McNeese, explaining that all it needs is a new motor, four new tires, a new radiator, a repair job on the head lights and tail lights, and new seat covers. (Of course they'll have to have new seats to put the seat covers on.)

Leonard Myers leaves all of his sex appeal to Donald Werley. Leonard says that since he is not going to be around teachers anymore he won't have much use for it.

James McBeath wills his notorious reputation to James Hall and Jimmy Hallmark in order that there still may be outlaws in Crowell High School even after he is gone. The reason he willed it to two individuals, he explained, is because he doesn't believe that one could possibly do all the work by himself.

Gene Paul Pogue would like for L. C. Gordon, Tim Wilson, Antone Kajs and Floyd Porter to have the little black book in which he keeps the addresses of all his old girl friends and hopes that they acquire some new ones to put in it. He has a special technique that he wants to give to these boys, but he says that it is a secret and will have to be told privately.

Elwin Setliff as treasurer of the senior class leaves all the money left from the senior trip to Kenneth Fox, Kenneth Hopkins and Rudolph Richter and also a book of instructions on how to divide a piece of bubble gum three ways.

R. C. Sanders wills his outstanding physique to Jim Paul Norman and Billy Ray Latimer. His secret is in a book called, "How to Create Muscles and Keep Women Away."

Jimmy Woods wills his ability to ride Ed Dunn's horse (the one at the big red barn just south of the railroad tracks) to Martin Langham and Roy Whitley. He adds that he hopes that they hit a softer spot when they come off than he did.

John Greening leaves his motorcycle to the care of Billy George Pruitt. His advice to Billy is: "Keep a tight hold on your girl friend while driving, because she might fall off." Many is the girl he lost in this way.

Mary Ebert wills Vance Nelson to the care of Loretta Lyons, if she can get him. This does not include the secret on how to get an engagement ring.

Elba Caddell wills to Jackie Rasberry her special ability to fall asleep during any good show or assembly in the auditorium. She says that her dreams about her boy friends are much more interesting.

I, Jamile Caram, will my reducing pills to Jean Hughston. I hope Jean will get better results than I did, and since Jean needs them they will go to a worthy cause.

Margaret Caram wills her hearty laugh which can be heard all over the halls of CHS to Nell Johnson, who has no sense of humor and can certainly use a hearty laugh.

Eva Rae Geaslin wills her collection of honky tonk jazz records to Virginia Tamplen. She says that she is going modern and has now started dancing to bebop music, which has more rhythm to it.

Bertha Johnson wills her place at the soda fountain to Billy Johnson and Leon Pechacek. She knows that they will make excellent jerks (soda jerks that is).

Charliea Ketchersid wills her next year's supply of food to Don Brown and Don Gobin. She says that she won't need it for she is living on love. Lewis, however, does not agree!

Mary Matus wills her beauty pills to Jane Cooper. She doesn't mean to offend her, but can you think of anybody who needs them more?

Lana Short leaves her beautiful red hair to Naida King and Mary Lou Woods. Since they have always wanted to have red hair, Lana knows they envy her.

Barbara Thaxton wills her remaining dog food to Marcia Kincaid assuring her that it will be a sufficient supply to last her 6 months after she gets her poodle.

Pauline Wheeler wills her ever-growing affection for Floyd Porter to Wanda Jones hoping that she'll take up where Pauline left off.

Maurine wills the nickname of "Abigail," so endearingly given to her by James McBeath, to Helen Ribble. It isn't that she doesn't like the name, but she just figures she doesn't need it anymore.

This being the last of the personal property to be willed, the will has now come to a conclusion. We have nominated and appointed Jamile Caram as executor of this our last will and testament. She made out poor on her message of Shakespeare to Mrs. Sloan and we expect her to mess up the execution of this will. So a little advice to the legatees on the side: Don't count too much on your inheritance under the terms of this will.

Signed: The Graduating Class of 1952 of Crowell High School.

Weekly Sermon SUCCESSFUL LIVING

from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Most people conduct their lives as though living, in itself, was the most important task before them. They seem to have lost sight of the fact that the most important thing, after all, is not living in this life, but preparing in this life for a larger life which is still to come.

With the many suggestions that are forthcoming from every source as to the secret of successful living, it will profit us to consider briefly some of the things that the Lord Jesus Christ set before His disciples and, through them, before us. He ever sought to inculcate in them the importance of putting first things first and laying the emphasis in one's life on those things that are of vital importance.

Jesus said, "I am come that ye might have life." He spoke of living men, but He spoke not of physical life, but of that infinitely more important state, spiritual life.

To His disciples He gave certain challenges. One of these challenging words is to be found in Matthew 16:24, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." We must have an intimate relationship with Jesus Christ which makes us a vital part of Himself. The child of God, who follows Jesus Christ with simplicity of faith, will discover that life will take on a new meaning to him, and there will be a fullness of life that has never been experienced before.

Speaking again to His people, Jesus said, "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." Just before He left this earth, Jesus commissioned His disciples to go into the world and make disciples of those who had not yet heard the gospel. The obedience of those early disciples to that great commission resulted in the rapid spread of Christianity and additions to the Christian church, which made it a force to be reckoned with before the close of the first century. Some of us in this latter day seem to think that the sole responsibility for giving a witness to Jesus Christ is reserved for the ordained minister, or those who are sent to the foreign field. Though there is a rightful place which the clergy should occupy, those who leave witnessing for Jesus Christ to the clergy are not only disobedient, but miss the glorious privilege of leading some other soul to Christ.

There is joy in living if, in living, we are serving. There is joy in serving if our service is as unto God, and for the express purpose of leading other souls to know Jesus.

GROWING TAX BURDEN

The federal personal income tax was adopted in 1913, with rates ranging from 1 to 7 per cent. Today rates range from 22.2 to 92 per cent. The corporation tax, when adopted in 1909, amounted to 1 per cent. Today it averages 60 per cent of corporations' earnings. The total tax burden — direct and hidden; federal, state and local—now is approaching 35 per cent for the average American. Those in the $2,000 to $3,000 income group pay almost 30 per cent of their incomes. These facts were reported by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in recommending that proposed foreign aid spending be cut from $10.5 billion to $5 billion next fiscal year.

Mrs. Merl Kincaid when Mrs. Kincaid, Mrs. Jack Turner and Mrs. Karl ten Brink of Electra were hostesses.

Mrs. Kincaid received at the door and presented the guests to the receiving line with Miss Drabek; her mother, Mrs. Joe Drabek; and Mrs. A. D. Pruet of Benjamin, sister-in-law of the bride-elect. All members of the receiving line wore corsages of white roses.

Mrs. Bobby Henderson of Chillicothe, a cousin of the bride-elect, presided at the guest register. The table was ornamented with white candles and orange blossoms and white rosebuds in a milk-glass container.

From the register, the guests were directed by Mrs. Turner into the dining room where the pretty table was centered with an arrangement of white iris and orange blossoms in a large oblong container. Crystal candelabra with white candles were tied together with white ribbon streamers. Mrs. ten Brink and Mrs. Charlie Drabek alternated at the punch bowl from which frosted punch was served with tiny cookies, nuts and mints.

Buffet decorations followed the white bridal motif with milk-glass candle sticks and orange blossoms in candle vases. It was centered with a lovely arrangement of white flowers and all was intertwined with white ribbon.

Mrs. Viola Biggerstaff invited the guests from the dining room into adjoining rooms where the many beautiful gifts were arranged. Yard flowers prevailed in colors of blue and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Mrs. M. O'Connell, Mrs. Parker Churchill and Mrs. Dan Pechacek assisted further with entertaining duties. Mrs. Paul Shirley and Mrs. Leon Speer alternated during the tea hours with piano numbers.

TRUSCOTT DILETTANTE CLUB

"To conserve moisture around the roots of trees and shrubs, bury an old leather shoe or woolen garment when you plant," instructed Mrs. Oscar Solomon, on Wednesday, April 23 as guest speaker to the Truscott Dilettante Club.

During Mrs. Solomon's talk on "Landscaping and Gardening in West Texas," she discussed the most suitable types of landscaping for homes where children need play areas and parents need areas for relaxing and entertaining, all with flowers and shrubs requiring a minimum of care.

Hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. Jim Davis and Mrs. Jack Hickman. Mrs. Marion Chowning Jr., as program leader, introduced the speaker. During the business session the interior decorating committee, Mrs. T. E. Smith and Mrs. Q. D. Williams, reported that nearly all the points for beautifying the club room had been carried out. The past three club meetings have been used to accomplish this, in cooperation with the H. D. Club. At the next meeting all members are to bring gifts for a white elephant sale, the proceeds to go for paint for the room's floor.

Mrs. Oscar Solomon agreed to teach the club a course in ceramics. Non-members may take the course for a fee of $5.00 for the series. The school date will be announced in the near future. For Saturday night a picnic was planned for members and families.

The next meeting will feature a flower show with Mrs. T. E. Smith and Mrs. Q. D. Williams as hostesses. Non-members and members are invited to enter their arrangements, with three prizes to be awarded. The date for the show is May 14 at 3 o'clock at the Truscott community house.

VIVIAN H. D. CLUB

The Vivian Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, April 23, in an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. W. O. Fish.

Mrs. Darwin Bell, vice president, was in charge. Roll call was answered by the different topics chosen by the members. Mrs. Arthur Sandlin read the club prayer. A "get well" card was sent to Dee Gilbert, who is in the Quannah Hospital.

Mrs. Arthur Sandlin gave the council report.

Mrs. Clyde Bowley, who was to demonstrate two kinds of needlework, was unable to be present, so the afternoon was spent in visiting.

Mrs. E. E. Self, a former club member, and daughter, Glenna, from Walnut, Calif., were welcome guests; also Mrs. W. H. Prater, Mrs. Warren Prater and daughter, Jeanette, and Mrs. H. H. Fish of Paducah, Mrs. W. R. Henderson and daughters, Suzanne and June Elaine, of Vernon, and Mrs. A. L. Walling and Mrs. R. L. Walling, and the following members: Mrs. Allen Fish, Mrs. Leslie McAdams, Mrs. J. W. Carroll, Mrs. Arthur Sandlin, Mrs. Darwin Bell, Mrs. A. J. King, Mrs. I. D. Gilbert Jr. and Della Ree, and Misses Myrtle and Neoma Fish and the hostess.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. B. Raspberry or Mrs. T. W. Cooper on Thursday, May 8.

Juniors and Seniors Hold Banquet Under "Big Top" at Liberty Cafe on Tuesday, April 22; Prom at Country Club

The 1952 Junior-Senior banquet took place under an improvised but thrilling "big top" at the Liberty Steak House, April 22, in accordance with the unique circus theme.

Upon entering this scene of excitement and fantasy in which the clown and the daredevil reigned as undisputed kings of thrills, the guests were hilariously entertained by Gordon Graves disguised as a clown.

The ringmaster of C. H. S., Grady Graves, gave the invocation. First in the spotlight was toastmaster V. A. Smith, in the role of Barnum's speller with the Junior "Toast of Welcome." Robert Brock, starred as "Hippo Potamus," replied with a toast of thanks on behalf of the senior class.

Virginia Tamplen as the one and only "Ella Phunt," gave her version of a particular type of ballyhoo. Her musical reading was entitled "Talk, Talk, Talk."

In the spirit of the old saying only too familiar, "The show must go on," the program continued with a cornet trio's rendition of "Cracker Jacks." Featured as "Hamburger and His Trio," the cornetists were Don Brown, A. L. McGinnis and Cy Moore.

The "world famous fortune teller, Liz Erd," Faye Black, gave an

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Members of the Columbian Club will observe their traditional Mother's Day meeting at the Christian Church on Wednesday, May 7, at 3 p. m. This promises to be an occasion of unusual interest as the program will be changed somewhat from the ordinary custom. There will be an award to the outstanding mother.

A baby show is also planned which includes babies from 6 to 18 months of age, then those from 18 months to school age.

Possibly there are mothers who have a family group within this age they would like to enter, which would be very interesting. Mothers, young and old, are invited to attend.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ketchersid of Crowell wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Charicia Gay Nell, to Cpl. John Lewis Hunter III of Stewart Air Force Base, Tenn. Mr. Hunter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hunter Jr. of Margaret.

Although no definite date has been set, the wedding will take place in the very near future.

outstanding number called "On Parade in the Future." This was followed by two musical selections by the Circus Glamour Girls. The quartet sang "The Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze" and the livelier, "I've Got a Lovely Bunch of Coconuts." The Glamour Girls were Faye Black, Norma Jean Mathews, Elba Caddell and Mary Lou Woods. They were accompanied by Marcia Kincaid.

The finale proved to be as outstanding as its position was important to the success of the show. "Pulling Up Stakes" or the class will be read by the chosen representative of the senior class, Jamie Caram, or "Midge Itt," as she is more generally known under the "big top."

From the sides of the "big top" gay colored accordion clowns looked down with snaggled grins and then resumed their dangling dances. Humorously observing their antics but with more reserve were colored balloons with painted faces and huge noses. The ceiling was a solid mass of color. Waving pennants and great clusters of balloons criss-crossed each other.

A miniature parade of tiny elephants, kangaroos, monkeys, and clowns made its way around the center of the horse shoe shaped banquet table.

Immediately following the banquet was the prom which was held at the Spring Lake Country Club. The club house was also cleverly decorated. The same mischievous clowns and balloons with faces perched on the wall. One thing outstandingly different, however, was one huge clown which dominated all others from its place behind the orchestra.

Delicious cookies and Cokes were served throughout the dance. As a result of a misunderstanding as to the date of the prom, the scheduled orchestra did not arrive. Jimmy Johnson came to the rescue and very graciously played dance tunes on his accordion throughout the entire evening.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

The Baptist Women's Missionary Society met Tuesday at noon at the church for a luncheon and Bible study.

THIEF LEAVES TRAIL

New York — A cop, spotted broken store window, followed trail of coins until he caught the "burglar," a 9-year-old who was carrying a bag full of coins which were dropping one by one. The boy had smothered the window with a hammer taken $150, mostly in change from a March of "wishing well."

A ring stamped 18K is 75 cent gold.
