HE IS AN AMERICAN

Joe Drabek was born March 29, 1891, in a small village in Czechoslovakia. There were thirteen in the family. When he finished what we call grammar school, he was apprenticed in a furniture factory where he started learning to operate a wood lathe.

Conditions in that village were bad; everyone was very poor. One of Joe's brother-in-laws came to America. He found work in Texas and found life so much easier in Ennis, Texas, that he wrote for his wife and family to join him. She was afraid to make the long journey with only her three small children; consequently, she asked

Joe to go along with her. He jumped at the chance, but they had to get permission from their father. Finally he gave his permission, since he knew there was no opportunity for Joe to earn more than a bare living there.

Joe even had to borrow the money for his transportation from his sister. They sailed on the German freighter, Kooeln. There were thirteen hundred people on board. It wasn't a very pleasant trip for Joe because on the third day out, he became seasick and was seasick the remainder of the voyage, nineteen days. Nine hundred of the passengers landed at Baltimore and the rest sailed on to Galveston. They arrived March 7, 1907. There Joe was, not even sixteen years old, in a strange country unable to speak a word of that language, owing his sister $53.00.

Joe went with his sister to Ennis, where he worked for his brother-in-law and other Czechs. He worked for $9.00 a month except during cotton picking. Then he received 45c a hundred for clean cotton and it had to be CLEAN. Even with these low wages, he paid back his sister and saved $160 in four years.

Joe was dissatisfied at Ennis. He was associated with only other Czechs. He was speaking only their language. He was in America, but he was not learning to be an American. He wanted to learn to speak English, so that he could join the army. One day, in the Czech newspaper, he read a letter from a fellow Czech working in Foard County. He wrote this young man and asked if he could get Joe a job there, too. He wrote back saying he had a job for Joe, working for Muldoon.

March 25, 1911, Joe came to Crowell. The young Czech was supposed to meet Joe at the depot, but he wasn't there. Joe didn't know how to find him because he still couldn't speak one word of English. He remembered the name of a family living near Crowell. He had read about this family in that same newspaper. It was a paper printed in Texas, which all Czech people read and wrote letters to, thus keeping in touch with all of their nationality. He started into town, hoping to find someone who would know this family and help him get in touch with them. A man spoke to Joe, noticing that he was a stranger. This man was Mr. Jonas. Mr. Jonas made him understand he was looking for Joseph Pechacek. Mr. Jonas took Joe to the pool hall and pointed out Rudolph Pechacek. While Joe was talking to Rudolph, the young man came in looking for him. The road had been bad and made him late getting to town.

Joe stayed with his friend while working for Muldoon. This friend married a Czech girl from Seymour while Joe lived with him. Joe still was not happy because he was not learning to speak English. He told Mr. Pechacek and Mr. Pechacek found him a job with Mr. Wishon. Joe was happy there. Not only was it a better job, the pay going from $20 a month at Muldoon's to $25 a month with Wishon, but at last he was working with English speaking people. The Wishon boys, Charley, Carl and John, taught him to speak English. They asked him questions and he answered them in English. He learned enough English in six weeks to get by. He worked for Wishon three years.

Nov. 26, 1913, he married Rosa Pechacek. They decided to start farming for themselves and rented a farm near Margaret. Mr. Drabek bought, on credit, a wagon, planter, cultivator and good cow from M. S. Henry and a cow from Bax Middlebrook. He and John Cope estimated he'd need $50 worth of groceries from January 1 to cotton picking time; so Mr. Cope took a mortgage on two horses and four bales of cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Drabek were not content with renting; therefore, as soon as possible, they bought 100 acres. The down payment was $300, two mares, two colts and two calves.

Mr. and Mrs. Drabek have three children, Charley, Bill and Rosalie. When the children were born, Mr. Drabek didn't want them to learn to speak any German, but Mrs. Drabek said, "Joe, we don't speak very good English; let's wait and let the teacher, when they start to school, teach them good English." That was what they did, but Mr. Drabek says proudly, "Now, none of us speak good German."

Mr. Drabek enjoys talking about working for Wishon's because they were so good to him. He says, "Mrs. Wishon was the best cook I ever saw—until I met Mamma."

When asked if he'd like to go back to Czechoslovakia, Mr. Drabek said that while his people were alive, he would have liked to visit them, but now that they were all gone, he didn't want to go back at all. He said he knew the Russians would put him in prison if he went there now because he would say what he thought of them. As for going there to live, not for anything would Mr. Drabek do that. He is an American.

NEW CHURCH OF CHRIST MINISTER SPEAKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

"The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork," quoted Minister Mac Layton of the East Side Church of Christ in the opening sentences of assembly last Tuesday morning.

Throughout his short, effective talk, Mr. Layton elaborated on the scripture. He discussed atheism and its connection to the world, universe, and God. "The heavens and all the world about us constantly prove God's existence."

As an example of the tangible, yet unseen Creator, the pastor cited a story about two men, a Christian and an atheist, the latter arguing God's existence because he couldn't see him. A caravan passed the tent where they were camped in the night, and the tracks were visible in the morning. The atheist remarked about the caravan saying that the Christian said that he had no proof that it had passed, thereby showing that although God is unseen, the world proves His existence by its very being.

After the talk, each student felt that he had gotten a closer insight into God's realm. Mr. Layton, who is one of Crowell's youngest ministers, recently moved to Crowell from Abilene. The entire student body and faculty wish to thank Minister Layton for a very well-organized and thought-provoking assembly.

A WILDCAT

Works to leave his school a better place because of his presence. Enthusiastically supports all school activities and is scholastically eligible to represent his school at all times.

Thinks of others. Earnestly acquaints himself with school rules in order to be a better citizen. Remembers he receives in proportion to what he gives. Never ceases to improve. Endeavors to live so that he and his fellow Wildcats may be proud of Crowell High School.

Realizes that dependability is essential. Will your name be listed in the upper 50 per cent?

THIS WEEK—SOPH

This week we spotlight the sophomore vice president, a five foot, ten inches tall, 190 pound guy who smiles at you out of friendly brown eyes. Of course, all you sophomores know who we are talking about; for the rest of you—well, it's C. T. McDaniel.

C. T., whose primary interests are football, hunting, and swimming, occasionally finds time to read a book, about football, of course, or to run around with his pals, "Lefty" or Davis.

"Cedar," as he is sometimes called, rates algebra his favorite subject; while English, he tells us, is his most difficult one. He likes just about anything to eat, but reserves an especially warm spot in his heart, or perhaps we should say stomach, for fried chicken.

Though only a sophomore, C. T. already knows what he wants to be. Petroleum engineering sounds good to him, and we wish him the best of luck.

A YEAR AGO THIS WEEK

The advantages of a small school were highlighted in the editorial.

The Jonny-Jackson couple was finished.

Still a true blue steady; Doris and Bud.

James Hall and Jackie Rasberry were in the senior spotlight.

Gaylon and Carolyn had called it quits. For good?

C. T. McDaniel, Coleman Self and Rufus Whitman were available and unattached males running loose.

Thaxton and Maxine were seen together.

The one-act play cast had been chosen.

Crowell's volley ball team beat Benjamin.

The Red Cross drive was in full swing.

Roma Jan and Jackie were together again.

Miss Hays' second grade had set an example in brotherly love.

THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

Here it is, already time for three weeks' tests again!

The band members have finally received their attractive all-black band jackets with gold laces.

There were three substitute teachers in CHS Monday, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Hulse and Mrs. Manard were absent: Mrs. Moody Bursey, Mac Layton and Mrs. Clinton McLain were good substitutes.

We're sorry to hear that Mrs. Hulse has had a severe case of the flu. Mrs. Todd has also been out this week with the flu.

The Wayland College International Choir was enthusiastically received last Friday afternoon by Crowell students and guests. They presented an unusually original program which was enjoyed by all attending.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Latrelle Duckworth, June King, Nan Sue Shultz and Mrs. Doyle Kenner left for Stephenville where the annual area IV FHA meeting was held. Reaching Stephenville at 7 p. m. and going to John Tarleton College, Nan Sue went to the auditorium as a voting delegate and the others went to the Lula Gough Hall where they were to stay.

After the voting meeting was over, they went to the college drug store, where they ate supper. The girls report that they had a very good time Friday night. Up at 7 a. m. Saturday they went to breakfast at the college cafeteria. At 9 a. m. they went to the auditorium for the meeting. They enjoyed a talk by Mrs. Ingrid Griggs from Norway. They were adjourned at 11 a. m.

Mrs. Kenner went to the sponsors' meeting while the girls visited the home ec building, the library, and the administration building. After lunch they went back to the auditorium for the installation of new officers. Leaving Stephenville in the afternoon, they arrived at Crowell at 7:30 p. m.

BAND ATTENDS M. U.'S CALVACADE OF MELODY

Band music, singing, and dancing which highlighted the annual Calvacade of Melody sponsored by the Midwestern University Indian Band, brought tremendous applause from members of the Crowell Band and hundreds of other people in the audience.

Approximately 35 members of the Wildcat Band and their dates, chaperoned by band director, Eddie Rickard, and band mothers, Mrs. Foster Davis, Mrs. Guy Morgan, Mrs. Marion Crowell and Mrs. John Teague, left at 5:30 Friday afternoon on school buses for Wichita Falls and the municipal auditorium, where the calvacade was held.

Long lines had already formed when they arrived, but Mr. Rickard, being a past member of the Indian Band, obtained tickets easily.

After a very entertaining show lasting three hours, the group returned home believing that they had seen what was equal to a professional show.

BARKER IN HOSPITAL

Students and faculty have missed a friendly senior boy, Vance Barker, who has been out of school the past two weeks because of an attack of yellow jaundice.

Vance is ill in the Memorial Hospital at Quanoh. He should be released soon, but he will be required to stay in bed for two weeks after he gets home.

We wish you a very, very speedy recovery, Vance.

SPRING ATHLETICS GET IN FULL SWING THIS MONTH

Now that the basketball season is over and the warm temperature of spring has arrived, the local high school athletes have begun participating in the various sports that the season offers.

The track stars have donned their shorts and shoes and begun, under the direction of Coach Amonett, to prepare for the district meet that is to be held April 10. Coach Amonett has only a few returning lettermen from last year's squad. They are Jimmy Everson, Wayne Borchardt, Robert Graves, and James Denton.

Baseball has also gotten under way during the past week. Crowell has not had a baseball team the last few years; therefore, Coach Erwin will be forced to start from scratch in preparing for the rough schedule that faces the Wildcats.

With the tennis courts near completion, Coach Eddy Rickard is waiting to complete his boys and girls net teams for the district matches in April.

THE WILDCAT PURRS

Have you noticed the theme song of Foard County? "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'". Mutt and Jeff; Vida Tarver and Bill Halbert were seen in Vernon Friday night.

Karen Hall is on the loose. Girls, watch your beaus!

Seen skating in Vernon Thursday night were Norman-Virginia, Lindell-Nan Sue, Coleman-Mary Lynn and Kenneth-June. Quite a view!

Mary Lou Denton and Henry Earl Pruitt are quite friendly of late. New twosome? Coleman, does June really want your picture?

Peggy and Jimmy Harper are still going strong. My, my, she seems to have forgotten Boyce already.

Triangle of the week: Norman Shultz, Virginia Florida, and Kenneth Oliver. Sy should be mentioned just about here, but I couldn't squeeze him in.

Seen riding around Monday night were J. M. and Nelda.

Billy Doyle, won't the girls leave you alone?

Flash! Latest crush combo of CHS: Mary Lou Denton and Buddy Caddell.

Pat and Chumpy enjoyed the movie at the Rialto Saturday night.

Back together: Buddy and Patricia.

Lula and J. T. Rutherford were seen riding around Sunday afternoon.

Betty McKown wishes Devin would give her a chance.

Patricia looks pretty lonely since Buddy went to Illinois.

Is Fred Barker having wife trouble? A good time was had by all concerned when the band attended Midwestern's Calvacade of Melody. Couples from here were James and Gwynne, DuWayne and Billye, Gerry and Sue. Why don't Maxine and Jackie give Gerald and Jackie a chance? Crowell was well represented in Vernon Saturday night: Barbara, Gwynne - James, Wayne - Billye, Frances, C. Barbara, Ted, Betty Sue, C. Lefty and Gerald, Jean-C. George Ann-Ginger. Now readers, rest your eyes. Chum, what's this we hear?

Commentary on Communism

Apparently the most welcome thing that has happened in Russia in a long time is Malenkov's promise that the output of consumer goods will be greatly increased, and that quality, which has been miserably low in many cases, will be improved. The New York communist paper, the Daily Worker, recently published a story from a correspondent who had just toured Russia in which he said, "I heard a vast and varied tide of conversation flowing around one subject—the swift expansion of food production and consumers' goods in two or three years."

The communists and their fellow travelers don't seem to realize that this provides an ironic commentary on a system in which the state decides everything and bosses everyone—and has a large assortment of prisons and forced-labor camps to take care of dissenters. The Russian people—except for the elite, who live on a regal scale—have been lucky if they could buy enough in the government-run retail stores to keep body and soul together. Now, it seems, the store stocks are to be bettered a bit—but at any time in the future, if the Kremlin so decides, the gains can be wiped out overnight by an order. In this country a factory or a store that doesn't please the people goes broke—because in this country business is competitive and must earn public favor. As a matter of fact, the American system of production and distribution of goods is the best practical answer to communism ever devised.

The Problem of Chronic Illness

One of the most difficult of medical problems lies in the financial strain imposed on families when a member is afflicted with long-term chronic illness. It is estimated that some 4,000,000 Americans suffer from this kind of illness.

Luckily, very intensive work is being given to find solutions. In 1949 the American Medical Association and other groups founded a commission for the express purpose of making a detailed study of the whole problem. And the AMA has joined with the American Hospital Association, the The American Public Health Association, the U. S. Public Health Service, and the American Public Welfare Association in sponsoring a major conference on the subject to be held this year. The conference will be divided into five major categories covering the chronically ill—the patient at home, the patient in an institution, integration of facilities, research needed, and methods of financing.

We would be foolish indeed to believe that so complex a problem can be solved in a hurry. We would be equally foolish to believe it is incapable of sound solution. The improvement that has taken place in many fields and phases of medical care in a relatively short time is nothing short of amazing. An outstanding example here is the growth of the various voluntary prepayment plans which now provide tens of millions of people with protection against the economic effects of short-term illness. American medicine, in company with other agencies, is vigorously working on every medical problem not yet solved, and is confident of ultimate success.

YOUR Senator Reports
by LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Re-Statement: As the tempo of congressional activity increases, I would like to state again my idea of the proper role of the Democratic minority in this Congress.

It is the right and responsibility of the majority to present a legislative program. It is the right and responsibility of the minority to point out the weak and the strong points of this program. Both opposition and support must be based on principle—not on partisanship.

Farm Program: This means that in considering farm legislation, for example, now the subject of committee hearings in both Senate and House, we must work for a program which will protect our farm economy without being unfair to other groups in our national life.

I oppose the sliding scale price support system—not for the sake of opposition, but because I know farmers already are in trouble and I don't want to see them pushed farther down the economic ladder. We can't get away from the record of history, which shows that the lower farm prices go—the higher farm surpluses rise.

Taxes: This concept of the minority's rightful role means that in considering tax reduction, to take another example, our purpose—during this period of "economic readjustment"—should be to seek the fairest means by which to increase consumer purchasing power.

That is why I favor increasing the personal income tax exemption. A $200 per year increase would mean an annual saving of about $160 for a married man with two children. Every family would have proportionately that much more money to spend for goods.

Treaty Powers: Debate and voting on the Bricker Amendment was almost wholly along non-partisan lines. The amendment reported by the Senate Judiciary Committee never came to the floor for a vote. After voting for several provisions designed to close the constitutional loophole with respect to treaty-making powers, I urged Senator George to introduce a substitute amendment that would attain the basic objectives of Bricker Amendment.

He did so. His amendment was supported by Senator Bricker and others among the sponsors of the original amendment. We lost by just one vote.

Nevertheless, a valuable purpose has been served. Americans have been alerted to the need for action to protect the constitutional rights of the States and of the people generally. The issue will be with us again, and I predict that some such basic objective will finally be enacted.

For Texas: I believe Texans generally feel, as I do, that all

American Shipping Saved England

You may never have seen a shipyard. You may live a thousand miles from the nearest one. But you have a personal interest in shipbuilding and in the American merchant marine.

Does this seem an exaggeration? Then listen to something said by Senator Butler of Maryland, who recently made a survey of shipbuilding in Europe. He was told by high authorities abroad that England would have collapsed in World War II had it not been for the capacity of American shipyards. And, grim as the world picture may be today, it would be infinitely more grim had that happened.

President Eisenhower, whose knowledge of military and defense matters is certainly second to none, has described the merchant of us are Americans before we are members of any political party. As your Senator, I want to act in the best interests of Texas and of America. I have no higher ambition.

News Briefs: Congressman Wright Patman of Texas was widely honored by Texans in Washington on his 25th anniversary as a member of the House. The celebration included publication by Bantam Books, New York, of his book, "Our American Government." . . . Texas State Society honored me with a second term as president . . . I accompanied them and made a statement urging an appropriation to keep this vital project moving along . . . Joe T. Steadham and W. H. Winchester of Austin and John G. Carr of Cleburne were welcome visitors. They were here in the interests of the Railroad Brotherhoods . . . I was glad to see State Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg . . . marine as our Fourth Arm of Defense, which puts it in the same category as the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Senator Butler also said that he favors government financial assistance to the American shipbuilding industry, but dislikes the term "subsidy" in this case. The reason for that assistance is basic—the cost of building ships in this country, as well as the cost of operating them under the American flag, is far greater than in the other maritime nations.

Labor Favors Private Enterprise

The New York State Federation of Labor legislative committee has taken a stand unequivocally in favor of development of hydroelectric power on the Niagara River and elsewhere by private enterprise. It officially requests the Federation "to use every means available to defeat any legislation dealing with the development of electric power in this state by any agency other than private industry."

That is in accord with the policies of a number of major unions whose members are employed in the electric power business. These unions have had wide experience with both the private utility with municipal, state and power systems and projects almost every case, they found that the worker got a better deal in private enterprise—and that it is far easier to negotiate favorable labor agreements with private enterprise than with socialized enterprise.

There should be no reason to the reason for this. When government is in the saddle, it is the government that is involved take what is offered—there is no other alternative. Men can't strike against government. And government is many of the laws and traditions that govern industry's dealings with workers' unions.

We see this in its extreme in the totalitarian countries. free enterprise dies, free dies with it. All are enemies.

AGRICULTURE WORLD CHANGED BY CHEMICALS FROM PETROLEUM

Petroleum has helped to create chemicals that are making profound changes in the agricultural world. Chemicals from petroleum, called "petrochemicals," go into herbicides, soil conditioners, fungicides, defoliants, growth regulators and insecticides. These are used in the farmer's fields and barns to improve crops, increase yields and lessen the farmer's labor. They have enabled the American farmer to set another world's record this year in farm productivity.

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

Probably the biggest news story to come out of Washington in recent months was the shooting up of the House of Representatives by four Puerto Rican Nationalists. I know that by now all of you are well acquainted with the story and have read of it in your newspapers and have heard about it over the radio and television. Because it was one of those incredible things, and happened with complete surprise, it caught everyone on the floor of the House completely off guard.

Few of us realized what was happening until it was all over. I was sitting approximately in the middle of the House and looked up and saw the four people shooting down on the floor. My first thought was that they must be firing blanks for it was impossible for me to believe that anyone would stand in the gallery and shoot live ammunition at the members on the floor; however, this conclusion was changed in just a split second when I heard the bullets crashing into the seats and panding in the House chamber and saw several of the members fall after they had been hit. It is hard to understand the thinking of the people who would commit this crime. Their excuse was, of course, that they did it to attract attention to the fact that their native land, Puerto Rico, is not free; however, this is a senseless excuse since this country has repeatedly told Puerto Rico that we would grant them their freedom any time they wanted it, and just recently they have, by a popular election, refused to accept their freedom.

The shooting also raised the question of what kind of security should be provided for the members of the House. There have been all kinds of suggestions made. It seems to me that you can never protect people in government from fanatics such as these four were, no matter what precautions you take. It is, I believe, of utmost importance that the citizens of this country be able to come and go in the galleries of the House and Senate freely and to see both of these bodies function. My guess is that after all the shooting dies down and the confusion ends, that we will continue to do business as we have in the past.

Recently, Senator Williams of Delaware and Aiken of Vermont have introduced legislation to cut the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent. The committee that handles these matters in the House has left depletion alone, but the fight may be made to lower the depletion allowance when the tax bill reaches the Senate. Many people not familiar with the oil and gas industry, which includes many members of Congress, simply do not understand how vital the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance is to the industry. It is the only thing, of course, that keeps the small independent producer in business, and he is responsible for about 85 per cent of all of our oil and gas discoveries.

The Secretary of Labor has endorsed a compulsory F. E. P. C. bill. Mr. Mitchell testified in favor of an F.E.P.C. measure introduced by Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Senator Ives of New York. A bill of this kind raises its ugly head every once in a while. It is always disappointing to see the Executive Branch of the government, regardless of whether it is Democratic or Republican, come running to Capitol Hill to testify in favor of such a measure.

This week Captain Tom Hickman of Gainesville was in Washington. He and I appeared before the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee concerning the development program of the Elm Fork Watershed Association. The Appropriations committee indicated a great interest in this program, which is so essential to Montague, Cooke, and Denton Counties.

How Nation Is Protected Against Another Depression

There are good reasons for believing that whatever kind of economic ailment we are having—recession or dip—will not be transformed into any serious depression, according to Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, director of Economic Research, Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Our economy today has a number of built-in stabilizers which it did not have in the depression of the early 1930's. These stabilizers have already indicated what they can do. They helped to prevent the dip in 1949 from becoming serious.

Here are some of the stabilizers listed by Dr. Schmidt:

1. The farm price support program. A flexible support program would be much more desirable in the opinion of many farmers and most businessmen because it would provide a sensible guide to production and consumption and would spare taxpayers the necessity of having to buy surplus farm products at high levels. Nevertheless the present rigid program can also exert a stabilizing influence by discouraging disorderly marketing, price slashing and undue competitive pressures.

2. The unemployment compensation system. The system is backed up by a trust fund of almost $9 billion, which provides payments (ranging up to 26 weeks in some states) for employees temporarily laid off.

3. The numerous private and public pension programs, including the federal government's Social Security system. These will continue to pay money to beneficiaries and thus help to keep up the continuity of sales, regardless of economic conditions.

4. The Federal Deposit Insurance System, which makes a bank run inconceivable.

5. The tax reduction which went into effect January 1, and others in prospect. These tend to leave more money in the hands of business for investment in new job-making enterprises, and in the hands of consumers for spending.

6. The amortized nature of most of our private debt. While debt has grown too rapidly for good economic health and has helped cause inflation, it is still only about half as much as it was in 1929, relative to the national income.

7. The volume of liquid assets held by individuals and businesses. The volume has grown from $65 billion before the war, to an estimated $270 billion today. This means that the rush to get assets in a liquid condition, one of the characteristics of a downdrag, is not likely to be the kind of powerful deflationary force it was in the 1930's.

8. The quick reactions which occur in our tax structure, with its heavy reliance on the income tax. As employment and business drop off, the tax liability of individuals and businesses also quickly declines and the government is forced to borrow. The government has a wide range of choices on how to borrow, and can do so in a way that will help maintain the money supply.

One thing that perhaps distinguishes the present economic downturn from its predecessors is that its causes have been apparent since early 1953. What happened was that when the Korean war broke out the government adopted a policy of encouraging the expansion of our economic base so that if a third world war came we would have surplus capacities for turning out steel, aluminum and other vital products.

While building up these extra capacities we generated larger incomes on the part of business, employees and almost everybody else and this income was readily spent for houses, goods, services and all the rest. We had "guns" and even more than the normal "butter" at the same time.

It does not seem reasonable to expect, therefore, that all this expanded industrial base should now in peacetime be operated at full capacity. That was not the intention. In fact, the contrary was intended. The government's plan was to have this expanded industrial base standing by, ready in case of an emergency. The theory was that even with these facilities standing by, we could still operate on a prosperous level. How do you move from this kind of expansion into a period of normal prosperity without cutting back output and employment? That is a delicate, difficult job which we now face. Well timed fiscal and monetary policies on the part of the federal government can smooth the way. Meantime, business will accelerate research and new product development and step up sales and promotion effort.

An oncoming driver slammed on his brakes to avert a smashup with him and skidded into a utility pole. The irate driver was Joe, the nephew. Uncle Leslie got a negligent driving ticket, anyway.

CARD OF THANKS

There just could not be adequate words to express our thanks to the response that was given to all our needs, in this, our darkest hour. It was impossible to get the names of all who brought food, but we think every one in Foard County must have responded. To those who helped in any way, also the doctor and nurses who did all in their power, to those who helped in any way to get Thomas Lee home, you will always be tops in our memory.

Facts As Against Rumors

Every now and then it is noted that retailers are making excessive profits on some commodity or group of commodities, recently happened in the case of meat, and the clamor was sent to cause a Department of Agriculture investigation.

What was found? As a network news program reported, the Department's report, conclusion is that there is widespread disparity in changes in the price of being sold off the farm to the meats at the local shops. The Department says that, on the whole, no abnormal profits have been making any unusual profits.

When the facts are seen from the rumors, it is proven that profiteering is as rare as hen's teeth in a competitive system. Retail all its branches is a part of good example. When all are paid, typical retailers left, as profit, only from three or four cents out of dollar taken in.

Ford rides on a Ball-Joint cushion

...and it handles with ball-bearing ease

CONVENTIONAL KINGPIN SUSPENSION depends on hinge-like joints for movement of front wheels up and down or right and left. This system also requires lubrication at 8 points of wear at each front wheel. Doesn't permit maximum up-and-down wheel travel and is not sealed against dirt and water.

NEW FORD BALL-JOINT FRONT SUSPENSION replaces "hinges" for pivoting and up-and-down wheel movement with sealed ball joints. This eliminates 12 points of wear ... helps keep front wheels in line longer. You get a smoother, more level ride. Your Ford keeps that new car "feel" longer.

IT'S THE GREATEST chassis advance in 20 years. And only the '54 Ford in its field has it! It pays off with the smoothest ride you've ever experienced in a low-priced car... easier handling... fewer service worries... and many, many other advantages.

And besides this revolutionary advance, Ford offers two brand new deep-block power plants: the 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the 115-h.p. I-block Six. You'll also find a new stronger frame... a beautiful new Astra-Dial control panel... new styling inside and out... plus all the other fine-features that have already established Ford as America's "worth more" car!

Why doesn't Mike Wishon give the girls a chance? Bobby Norman really likes these Crowell gals, Barbara Fairchild Friday night, CloVonne on Sunday.

Why was Peggy so happy Saturday night? Couldn't be because Boyce called her long distance, could it? Reckon that's enough gab for this week. So we remain, your ever lovin'— Cat's Tail.

Labor Under Socialism

Working people who still believe that government ownership or control of basic industry is in their interest would do well to read a recent Reader's Digest article by Joseph A. Fisher, president of the Utility Workers Union (CIO) of America.

Mr. Fisher said: "We know from experience that our members employed by Government-sponsored co-ops of the Rural Electrification Administration, as well as those employed by municipalities which run their own light-and-power business, work under conditions inferior to those enjoyed by our members employed in private industry. . . . Consumer rates, wages and conditions of employment are fixed by political management while the worker is denied the right to use either economic or legal appeal against the Government."

The concluding sentence to Mr. Fisher's article is also memorable. He said: "Our union calls for curtailment of Government encroachment on private enterprise and a return of the electric-power business to regulated, taxpaying privately owned companies."

Brood Black Bass Being Treated for Fungus Growth

Apparent success in treating brood black bass for a deadly fungus growth was announced by the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission as reports came in of the first state hatchery bass production this year.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said brood bass were being treated at the Ingram and Possum Kingdom hatcheries.

Previous tests produced complications although they checked the fungus. The chemical used on the brood bass killed microscopic food urgently needed for the fry. Now it is believed a solution has been found to treat the parent fish without destroying food for their young.

The Olmito hatchery at Brownsville reported a limited number of bass already had spawned. This is a normal time for the semitropical climate on the Rio Grande border.

Meanwhile, some adjustments were being made to try to compensate for the lack of water at two hatcheries at Medina and Cisco, and the temporary delay at

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said the state will help make up the difference under an arrangement to operate the Federal fish hatchery at San Angelo, which has been shut down for the time being. The Federal hatchery will be operated in conjunction with the regular state hatchery at San Angelo.

The added bass production will be used to distribute young fish to the area ordinarily covered by the watershort Cisco installation.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said it is too early yet to estimate this year hatchery bass production. The state hatcheries ordinarily have a potential output of 150,000,000 bass, but the actual output is only a fraction of the figure because of the high casualty rate.

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Some folks are old at sixty while others are mentally and physically alert at eighty. The number of years one has lived may not be a true index to one's physical condition. Actually, the length of a person's life span is influenced by the condition of his arteries. "Premature hardening of the arteries, often due to avoidable infections, improper diet and possibly worry and strain is to a certain extent preventable," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Many of the problems connected with the hygiene of old age are due to lowered mental power. Therefore, a cheerful and optimistic attitude toward the aged, especially during sickness, is essential to their well being.

Old people regard their condition as far less serious when they can be fully dressed and out of bed. When they can be up, the excretory organs function more satisfactorily. However, when an elderly person complains of being overtired, or otherwise not physically fit, a day of rest in bed is advisable. By providing light and easily digested food and applying warmth to the body of an aged patient, he is often tied over a mild or threatened illness.

Special attention should also be paid to proper clothing, diet and exercise of the elderly. With reasonable attention to certain well defined and easily followed principles of personal hygiene, it is possible to grow old gracefully. Furthermore it is also possible, in many instances, to retain one's faculties to such an extent as to make old age a pleasure rather than a burden.

Alton R. Griffin Announces for County Judge

Alton R. Griffin, senior law student in the University of Texas, authorizes the News to announce that he is a candidate for County Judge and School Superintendent of Foard County, subject to action of the July Primaries. In connection with his announcement he released the following statement:

"Having been a resident of Foard County my entire life, it is my belief that the majority of the residents of the county are personally acquainted with me.

"Being well aware of the serious responsibilities which are connected with the office of County Judge and School Superintendent, I assure you if elected that at all times my utmost ability will be used to discharge the duties of the office in a courteous, fair and impartial manner. I believe my experience and training to have amply equipped me to capably fulfill the requirements of such a responsible position which is sought by me.

"After serving two years with the U. S. Army during World War II and having served with the Army of Occupation in Germany, upon receiving an honorable discharge therefrom, I entered Texas Tech College and received from that school a Bachelor of Science degree in Education. Being currently enrolled as a senior in the School of Law of the University of Texas, it is my belief that this experience and education will essentially and fundamentally qualify me for the position to which I seek election.

"It is my earnest desire to serve the people of Foard County, and each vote and any influence which you may give me will be deeply and sincerely appreciated."

Campbell advised that he may name a number of brokerage or investment firms in Texas to join with the successful bidder. It is hoped that the successful bidder will be a Texas firm as he desires to retain in West Texas the present high ratio of stock ownership.

Sixty-five per cent of the present preferred stockholders live in Texas and own 62 per cent of all the outstanding preferred stock. Of the funds received from the sale of this new preferred stock, about $5,000,000 will be used in the exchange and expense of calling the old preferred stock. The remainder of about $1,000,000 is to be used in the company's construction program for this year.

Details of the new stock issue and exchange offer will be made available to the individual stockholders and the public in the near future.

Health Insurance Is Competitive

Some interesting factual testimony on the remarkable growth of health and accident insurance coverage was recently given before a House committee which has been inquiring into the country's health needs.

A few decades ago insurance of this character was written by only 47 companies. Now about 800 offer it. The obvious result has been a highly competitive situation. And that, in turn, has created two very important benefits for the purchaser of the insurance.

First of all, the policies have been steadily broadened and liberalized. There are fewer exclusions than there were in earlier days, and benefits generally are larger and are payable for longer periods of time.

Second, costs have been held to very reasonable levels. Naturally, these costs vary widely, depending on the provisions of a particular policy. But good protection is obtainable for well under $1.00 a week.

It is estimated that some 100,000,000 people now have voluntary health insurance coverage of one kind or another, covering those covered by both the insurance companies and the Blue Cross order. That is a tremendous national asset without saying. And the promises very great additional progress—particularly in the of long-term, catastrophic problems involved in insurance against that are being intensely studied now.
