Foard County Voters Will Cast Ballots in General Election Next Tuesday, Nov. 4; Two Amendments Appear on Ballot

Voters of Foard County will go to the polls next Tuesday, Nov. 4, to cast ballots in the general election. They will have the privilege of voting for the President of the United States and on down the line to precinct officers. There are also two amendments to the Constitution of the State of Texas to be voted on and they appear on the bottom of the ballot. One would authorize the Legislature to provide workman's compensation insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages, the other would provide for the establishment of a State Medical Education Fund from which grants, loans or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine.

The unusually large ballot carries eight columns, one for Democratic Party, Republican Party, Prohibition Party, Progressive Party, Christian Nationalist Party, Constitution Party, Independent and one column for write-ins. This is probably the first ballot ever used in Foard County in which a man's name, who was reared in Crowell, appears as a candidate for President of the United States. He is Stuart Hamblen, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Hamblen of Abilene, former Crowell resident. Hamblen is a candidate on the Prohibition ticket.

Polls open at 8 o'clock and close at 7 o'clock. Location of the voting boxes in this county and the presiding judges follow:

Precinct No. 1, Luther Tamplen, clerk's office; Precinct No. 2, L. A. Andrews, county judge's office; Precinct No. 3, Glenn Jones, sheriff's office; Precinct No. 4, Otis Gafford, county attorney's office; Precinct No. 5, W. F. Bradford, school house at Margaret; Precinct No. 6, T. H. Matthews, Farmers Gin at Thalia; Precinct No. 7, Raymond Grimm, school house, Thalia; Precinct No. 8, Jack Welch, school house at Foard City; Precinct No. 11, Tom Lawson, Lockett Gin at Rayland.

Every citizen in the county who is entitled to a vote is urged to go to the polls and vote on next Tuesday, Nov. 4.

The second in a series of monthly "Dollar Days" will be held in Crowell Friday and Saturday, October 31 and November 1. All residents of Crowell and this trade territory are cordially invited to visit the stores in Crowell on these days and benefit from the many bargains being offered by the merchants of this city. The Crowell Booster Club, sponsor of the event, indicated that the initial "Dollar Days" held last month were successful and reported that local business institutions are diligently striving to present the people of this trade area with even greater savings than before.

This issue of the Foard County News is being mailed to all residents of this area in an effort to better acquaint the people with the substantial savings located in the various sections of this issue. It is the desire of the merchants that each individual take notice of this opportunity and accept this means as a cordial invitation to visit Crowell on this occasion.

Crowell Wildcats Leading District 1A-9 After 32 to 6 Victory Over Chillicothe Last Week; Play Archer City Friday

The Crowell High School football team won its third straight conference game here last Friday night by defeating the Chillicothe Eagles 32 to 6. This makes Crowell the only team in District 1A-9 with a perfect record. Holiday and Archer City played to an 18-18 tie, while Iowa Park and Newcastles played a 7-7 tie last Friday night. Henrietta was idle last week.

The Eagles made a defensive line that was plenty tough and the Cats had to go to the air lanes to run up the impressive score of 32 points. James Denton, defensive fullback for Crowell, set the first score up on a pass interception on Chillicothe's 38-yard line. Don Gobin threw a pass to Ginger Johnson, left halfback for the Wildcats, that resulted in a 22-yard gain and the first touchdown of the game. Jim Paul Norman, left end, converted to make the first quarter end 7 to 0 for Crowell.

Gordon Graves, right defensive end for the Cats, pounced on a fumble that was jarred from an Eagle by the aggressive Buddy Caddell, left guard for Crowell. This gave Crowell the ball on the Eagle 34-yard mark. From this point, Gobin shot another pay-off to Johnson, running the score

Heavy movement of cattle and calves continued this week. However, a stronger stocker and feeder market and broader demand for replacement cattle and calves helped prices away to a better start at Fort Worth Monday. Fat calves shared the stronger market. Many sales of stockers and fat calves were $1 or more above a week ago at Fort Worth. First interest in many weeks in lightweight stocker calves this week resulted in some calf sales sharply higher for their kind. Typical was a lot of 42 calves at 216 pounds at $24.50. Hugh Rogers, Knox County, had 32 stocker steer yearlings at 521 lbs. at $22.50, with 31 heifers at 493 lbs. at $18. G. R. White, Brady, had cows at $14.50 and $15.50. Curtis Martin, Motley County, sold cows at $14 and $16 at Fort Worth Monday. Mrs. Jessie Mae Williams, Midland, had three loads of 96-lb. cows at $12.50. C. F. Mock, Oklahoma, had two loads of 145-lb. steers at $29.

Lambs were strong to 50 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday, and ewes were mostly 50 cents up. Feeders and yearlings ruled steady.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $23 to $31, and plain and medium sorts sold from $14 to $21, with cutter grades from $10 to $13. Fat cows cashed at $13 to $16, a few heiferettes to $18. Cannons and cutters cleared at $7 to $13. Bulls sold from $10 to $18.50.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold for $18 to $23, with fancy heavyweights of 500 to 600 pounds at $23 to $26. Plain and medium butcher sorts cashed at $14 to $17, with cull sorts from $10 to $13.

Hogs topped at $18, lowest since April, 1952. Sows drew $14 to $16.50.

Good and choice stocker calves ranged from $17 to $24.50, some mixed steer and heifer calves averaging 216 pounds at $24.50, and some plain and medium kinds sold from $13 to $17. Stocker steer yearlings cashed at $14 to $22.50. Stocker cows drew $11 to $18. Several sizable shipments of feeder steers and heifers sold in the $16 to $19 bracket.

Medium, good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $18 to $23, and stocker and feeder lambs sold from $8 to $15. Cull lambs and lambs, as well as some cull two's, sold from $6 to $8. Aged wethers sold from $4 to $8, and slaughter ewes drew $3.50 to $5. Old bucks sold from $3 to $4. Slaughter yearlings drew $8 to $15.

The most beautiful play of the game was Crowell's last score when Gobin threw a 20-yard pass to Johnson, who in turn, ran the remaining 41 yards to paydirt. With several reserves in the lineup, Crowell was marching deep in Eagles territory when an aggressive Chillicothe lineman jarred Graves loose from the pigskin and Waymon Gibson, Eagle tackle, caught the fumble in the air and raced 76 yards to Crowell's five before Buddy Caddell caught up with him. At this point the Wildcats were ruled off-side on the next play which gave the Eagles the ball on the one. Silas Boone, fullback for Chillicothe, ran the ball over to give them their only touchdown of the game. The final score was 32 to 6 for Crowell.

Buddy Burt, Quinton Hampton and Charles Crocker played good defense for Chillicothe. Dan Morrison and Silas Boone did Chillicothe's best ball carrying. It was little Buddy Caddell, big George Scott, James Pittillo and James Denton who looked exceptionally good for Crowell on defense.

The Wildcats go to Archer City this week for an important conference game. Archer City has the largest boys of any team in the district and lost only two players from last year's team. They have had from three to five regulars out most of the time this season. Their record is one win, one loss, and one tie in conference play. Crowell has been able to defeat them only twice in the last seven years. The fans should see the hardest fought game of the district race at Archer City tomorrow (Friday) night.

Supplemental Pastures
Can Bridge the Gap

There are a lot of mighty good reasons why farmers and livestock producers should plant now supplemental pastures. E. M. Trew, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, lists some of them.

Because of the drought, he says, perennial pastures have taken a terrific beating and livestock should not be permitted to graze them until the pastures have had a chance to come back. The plants that come back, after rains do fall, will be in very poor condition and if grazed off immediately, the desirable pasture plants may be lost. Then too, livestock no doubt will go into the winter in poor condition and the cost of wintering will be much greater per animal if supplemental grazing is not provided.

A recent study made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that in Central Texas the cost for supplemental feed for wintering an ewe was $10 more and for a cow $24 more when no pasture was available.

Stockmen, points out Trew, who use supplemental pastures for late fall, winter and spring grazing know their value not only from the standpoint of what is done for the cattle but also, for soil improvement. He recommends the planting of at least one acre of supplemental pasture for each cow or animal unit.

Another mighty important reason for planting pastures now is to supply the need for green feed. A lack of green feed or a good substitute over an extended period of time can result in vitamin A deficiency and other troubles.

Right now most areas of the state do not have moisture available for germinating seed but Trew suggests, if the seed bed has been prepared, that seeding can be done even if the seed must be dusted in. The time gained by this operation, prior to a rain, will mean two weeks to a month earlier grazing. He says put down the fertilizer because it will not be lost even if no rain falls.

For plantings in East Texas, Trew recommends oats, barley, rye or ryegrass with vetch or Crimson clover. For the Gulf Coast area, oats, barley or Italian ryegrass with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover. In the Blacklands and Grand Prairie areas, oats, barley, wheat or Italian ryegrass overseeded with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover. For the West Cross Timbers area, oats, wheat, barley, Abruzzi rye with hairy vetch or overseeded with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover. For the Central Basin, Rio Grande Plain and the Edwards Plateau areas, oats, wheat or barley with Hubam or Madrid sweetclover and for the Rolling and High Plains area, wheat, oats, barley and rye with Madrid sweetclover.

And finally, Trew says, don't forget the perennial pastures. When rains come, these pastures should be renovated and fertilized so that when growing conditions become favorable, they can get off to a good start.

DeWitt County
Farmer Sold on Value of Soil Testing

Many farmers are not sold on the value of soil testing but Edwin Sager of the Arneckeville community in DeWitt County, is not now numbered among this group.

Last spring Sager visited the office of DeWitt County Agent Dewey Compton seeking information as to the grade and amount of fertilizer he should use to insure a good crop of red top hay. The county agent suggested that a soil sample from the field to be planted be submitted to the laboratory operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

The suggestion was carried out but when the results of the analysis and the accompanying recommendations were returned to Sager, he returned to Compton with the remark that he couldn't afford to use that much fertilizer under his hay crop. The recommendation that 400 pounds of 10-10-0 fertilizer be applied per acre.

There were good reasons for questioning the recommendation, says the county agent. The land was an eight acre block that was being rented. It had been in cultivation for many years and was a poor lime rock soil. The best corn yield that could be expected from it was about 20 bushels per acre and conditions had to be right to get such a yield. The doubts thus were justified.

After further discussion, Sager decided to follow the recommendation made by M. K. Thornton, Extension agricultural chemist who has charge of the laboratory. And that is why today he is a strong believer in soil testing.

In July, he cut and baled 1,073 bales of excellent red top hay from the eight acres. That figures 134 bales per acre and at market value the crop was worth $167.50 per acre. The cost of seed—and he seeded heavily—and fertilizer was $22 per acre and labor for planting and baling pushed this to $59.58. A little simple arithmetic shows a net income per acre of $107.92.

Compton concludes in his report that very few fields of cotton in the county will yield such a return. Sager concludes the dollar he spent for the soil test was the best investment he had ever made.

START TRIP ON FRI., 13TH

Afraid to start a trip on Friday the 13th?

Actually, says the National Safety Council, fewer people are killed or injured in traffic accidents on Friday the 13th than on Saturday the 14th—for the simple reason that there is more traffic on Saturday than on Friday.

"Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook, shows that 21 per cent of the 32,500 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year, occurred on Saturdays.

Sunday was second highest, with 19 per cent of the fatal accidents. Then came Friday with 14 per cent. Monday and Wednesday each had 12 per cent of the fatal accidents, and Tuesday and Thursday 11 per cent.

Saturday also led the list last year for all motor vehicle accidents, including those causing property damage as well as injury, with 19 per cent occurring on that day. Sunday was next with 16 per cent.

The sun is 700 times heavier than the total weight of the nine planets.

Small Towns Combine Services to Cut Cost of Local Government

Oklahoma City, Okla. — Many small towns and cities in the country are giving increased attention to problems arising from the fact that area within their legal bounds is not the logical service area for many of their programs.

As a result many of them are consolidating into one jurisdiction making agreements for exchange of services, and establishing jointly financed agencies to administer a program for several units of local government.

Typical of the consolidation of units was the merger of Fairfield and Osborn, Okla., to form one community. Britton, Okla., a town of 6,000 population, dissolved its city government to be annexed by Oklahoma City, as did a number of other small communities adjacent to larger municipalities.

As an example of exchanges of services, many communities are making contracts for fire and police protection, joint collection of trash and garbage, property assessment and tax collection and common use of recreational facilities.

Establishment of a jointly administered and financed unit to provide a specific service to two or more independent jurisdictions is usually a city-county arrangement concerning public health, parks, recreation, welfare and civil service programs.

Small towns are finding these consolidation moves the answer to the cheaper government and the only solution to present day inflation.

Mayor of Wisconsin
Town Feuds with Fire Department

Chippewa Falls, Wis. — The feuding mayor of Chippewa Falls, Harry J. Webb, has a new battle on his hands. It is over a rule that says the town's firemen must wear neckties while on duty. The mayor insists it be enforced. The firemen call it ridiculous.

Webb has had numerous other difficulties as mayor. When parking meters were first put in, for example, he ordered them installed in a block not specified in the ordinance. The council overruled him on that.

On another occasion, when the new city hall was dedicated he insisted that his car be first in the parade. The American Legion color guard said that the colors should be first. He backed down on that one too.

The necktie question is the latest.

WHY WORRY?
from Moody Bible Institute,

One of the greatest curses afflicting our race is worry. We worry over decisions to be made, over financial problems both present and future, over things that never happen.

Worry is an enemy of health. It causes indigestion and stomach disorders. During the war thousands of our American service boys were forced to wait in far-away lands. Soon they began to worry and long for their homes; as a result many wound up in hospitals as victims of ulcers.

Worry is also a sin, for the Christian. It tends to make us hypocrites, for when we worry we deny our professed faith in God. We pray "Thy will be done" and still we fret. Worry is a reflection on our Christian faith in the eyes of those who watch us. It portrays the difference between our possession and profession in Christ.

But how can we keep from worrying? The cure is simply to live by the strength of God. He promises manifold grace, guidance and power. The Bible says, "Be anxious for nothing." That is a command. If we are to live a happy, fruitful Christian life we must obey; we must keep in constant touch with God through prayer. As we put our faith in Him, He will bring peace, for Christ has said, "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

This is a world of confusion and turmoil. Those of us with faith have a high mission so to live that others who are perplexed may be aided by our example.

DEMS TURN TABLES ON GOP—Neatest political switch of the week takes place at Williamstown, Mass. Republicans, learning Democrats were opening headquarters in store at right, plastered adjoining windows with Eisenhower-Nixon posters. But Stevenson-Sparkman forces had last word—and last laugh—as they added a phrase to "We like Ike" banner next door. GOP soon took their sign down, studied next move.

State Fair of Texas Sets New Record with 2,387,140 Visitors

The State Fair of Texas shattered its own attendance record and set a new national record for annual fairs for the tenth straight time as its most successful exposition in history ended, Sunday, Oct. 19.

James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager, said a total of 2,387,140 visitors attended the fair during its 16-day run. This exceeded by 67,011 the number who attended the 1951 fair and was more than twice that for any other fair in America this year. The fair's biggest day was Sunday, Oct. 12, when 281,228 attended.

The fair has set a new attendance record each year since 1939; no fairs were held during the war years, 1942-45.

The giant exposition ended on a solemn religious note, with a Cotton Bowl religious festival Sunday night, dedicated to the late Dan D. Rogers, who had helped plan and organize the festival and who died suddenly three days before.

More than 85,000 people saw and enjoyed the Dean Martin-Jerry Lewis show in the auditorium, a record attendance for a revue-type show at the fair. About 115,000 saw Ice Cycles of 1953 in the Ice Arena, which has a larger seating capacity.

About 150,000 people visited the sensational new Rotor on the Midway. This is the whirling barrel that suspends its riders in mid-air, pinned against the walls of the barrel by centrifugal force. Only about 40 per cent of the people actually rode the Rotor. The rest just watched and seemed to enjoy it just as much.

Statistics in all other phases of the fair's operation were giant-sized also, from the 500,000 squirts of perfume dispensed to fair visitors by one exhibitor to the 2,500,000 cold drinks consumed.

"People seemed to enjoy this year's fair more than they ever have before," Mr. Stewart said. "They seemed to like particularly the great Automobile Show, the Story Book of Texas Agriculture, the unusually large array of excellent exhibits, the many free shows of top entertainment quality and the lively procession of livestock shows."

Mr. Stewart said the fair's success was due to the support and hard work of thousands of people from throughout Texas.

With the 1952 fair a page in Texas history now, and with a new record on the books to shoot at, plans are already being laid for an even greater exposition next fall, Mr. Stewart said.

"We'll have to work hard to match this one, the biggest and best of them all in the 67 years the fair has existed," Mr. Stewart pointed out, "but we're sure going to try!"

Good Fences Are a Must on Stock Farms

Good fences properly located are a must on the stock farm or ranch. Maximum returns from grazing crop residues such as stalk fields, stubble or drouth stunted crops, cannot be obtained unless the fields are fenced. Joe Burkett, County Agent, also points out that efficient use of pastures and supplementary grazing crops often depends upon the fencing arrangements.

Good management of grazing herds is made easier; time and labor are saved in transferring the stock and greater safety is provided for the attendants when properly located and strong fences are used.

Burkett offers these suggestions to those who may be planning new fences for the farm. The outside or boundary fences, he says, should be placed on lines established by a licensed surveyor. This practice will eliminate disputes between property owners over the location of property lines. These fences should be strong and well-kept for they add to the attractiveness of the farm as well as to its actual value.

The cost of constructing new fences, says Burkett, is classified by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as a capital investment and may be depreciated for tax purposes. Repairs made on established fences may be treated as farm operating expenses in tax reporting.

Cross-fences, says the agent, may be of lighter construction and in many cases, the electric fence may prove most practical for this purpose. The electric fence is easy to construct and has proved effective for holding most types of livestock.

The division fences should be planned to permit maximum use of the central lanes for easy moving and transfer of livestock. It is important to lay out the field plats or divisions on the farm with as long rows as is possible to eliminate excessive turning with the tractor when plowing and seeding.

Another important item in fence building is posts and the advantage of using treated or steel posts or those made from long lasting wood should not be overlooked, says Burkett. Compared to 1940 prices, wire and posts are now relatively expensive, but labor usually accounts for about half of the total fencing costs. If posts are used which will last for 20 or more years, labor costs will amount to only about a third as much as when posts are used that must be replaced in six or seven years.

Good fences, concludes Burkett, are profit makers when used to get the maximum returns from the areas devoted to pasture and

Health Letter

Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas, Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Poor eyesight can make a child "slow" in school. Uncorrected visual defects can cause a normally bright youngster to dislike school, fall behind in his class and become self-conscious about playing sports and games, says Dr. Geo.

W. Cox, State Health Officer. A child will rarely complain about poor vision. It may be blurred, he may see double, yet in three cases out of four, he will not tell anyone because he does not know how well he should see. That is why it is so important for parents and teachers to know the symptoms of eye trouble. An intelligent child may be victimized by poor vision both at school and with his playmates.

4—THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

Too often a youngster's eyes are neglected because no one knows that they will need care, Dr. Cox points out. For this reason, visual tests should be continued throughout the child's school career.

Some of the symptoms which may mean that a youngster has eye trouble are:

1. Rubs eyes often, attempts to brush away blur.
2. Becomes irritable when doing close work.
3. Blinks more than usual, stumbles or trips over small objects.
4. Is over-sensitive to light, can't play games requiring distant vision.
5. Red-rimmed, encrusted or swollen eye lids.

the child's condition should his eyes examined at once, correction will save many days of unpleasantness and possibly blindness.

RUSSELL IS THE GEORGIA SENATOR FOR WHOM GOVERNOR SHIVERS AND TEXAS DELEGATION VOTED UNANIMOUSLY ON ALL BALLOTS AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN CHICAGO

Senator Dick Russell of Georgia, the man the Texas Delegation headed by Gov. Allan Shivers supported on all ballots at the national Democratic convention in Chicago, predicted last week that Adlai Stevenson and John J. Sparkman will be elected by one of the largest majorities given a national ticket in recent years.

Senator Russell, who is chairman of the senate armed services committee and of the senate subcommittee on agriculture, said: "General Eisenhower's evident confusion in his efforts to grapple with vital political issues has clearly demonstrated to the American people the grave danger of placing our government in the hands of a military man. . . . No military career, however great, can be a substitute for familiarity with the operation of a government which traditionally and by law is dependent on civilian control. . . .

"As one who has admired General Eisenhower as a military leader, I have been bewildered by the endless contradictions of his political pronouncements. It would require a book to catalog them.

"Shortly after stating that he did not understand the term 'Farm Parity,' he assured the American farmer of 100% parity for all the products of his soil. As one who has devoted a large part of his legislative service to overcoming Republican opposition to fair farm legislation I have vainly awaited an endorsement of this last farm statement from General Eisenhower's Republican congressional supporters. I have failed to see where one of them has disclaimed his record of opposition to the soil conservation program and to the laws which enabled these farmers to have some idea when they plant their crops what they will receive from their harvest.

"The American voters are thinking for themselves in 1952. Neither the bedlam of this campaign nor the military glamor of the Republican candidate will confuse them. They will go to the polls in the greatest number in our history on November 4 to maintain in power the party of the people. . . .

"Governor Stevenson has the potentialities which can make him one of the greatest presidents who has ever served our country. With the support and prayers of the American people and the aid of the Almighty he devoutly worships, he will see this nation safely through the dangers of today's world."

Boys' Ranch Unit Complete—Cowboys Move in New Home

Twenty-four lucky boys have been excitedly hanging curtains, washing windows, waxing floors and putting the final home-like touches in their rooms in the recently-completed housing unit at America's First Boys' Ranch, 40 miles northwest of Amarillo.

Most of the boys had a hand in the construction of the building and for months they waited anxiously for the date when 24 boys would be chosen to take up residence. Since all the boys could not live in this first of the proposed series of units, a merit system was devised to select those who would call the new unit their home.

The young Ranchers are keeping their rooms spotless, perhaps more than necessary, but they are very proud of their new home and intend to see that nothing is done to mar its beauty and comfort.

The housing unit has an exterior of red Colorado stone and green vertical siding. The boys' rooms have a natural, varnished finish with exposed roof beams. A masonite tile bath adjoins each of the six 4-boy rooms and every boy has his own private closet.

Quarters for a counselor and his wife are provided at one end of the unit and a recreation room, complete with library, is situated at the other end. The counselor has charge of the unit and is responsible for the program of the boys.

All furnishings are Brandt heavy oak pieces that are finished naturally. Double bunks, four chairs and a desk complete the furnishings of the boys' rooms. And each room has an Arvin radio, the gift of Hollywood's Queen for a Day when she visited Boys' Ranch. The boys' personal effects are arranged to suit individual tastes.

Plans for the new unit were drawn up by the 5th year architectural class of Texas A&M, the same group that will plan and design most of the buildings in the long-range Boys' Ranch expansion program.

The boys are extremely proud of their new home and invite all their friends to visit the Ranch and see it. This, and other new units will gradually make it possible for Boys' Ranch to take more homeless and destitute boys from all over the nation and give them a home and the training and education they need so badly.

Agent Urges Farmers to Kill Rats on Farms

Rats are mighty expensive rodents to have around the farm. It is estimated that each will actually eat $2 worth of food but the big loss comes in what is wasted and destroyed — about $20 worth. In addition, says Joe Burkett, County Agent, rats are known to be carriers of some 27 different diseases including typhus fever and bubonic plague.

With the coming of cooler weather, Burkett says these undesirable tenants will be moving into their winter quarters especially into grain bins, feed stacks and buildings where the winter's feed supplies are stored. The first step in a successful rat control program is a farm clean-up.

Pile posts and lumber on supports at least two feet above the ground and scrap lumber, not worth saving, and junk should be destroyed or removed from the farm. Stack bottoms, other feed waste and manure piles should be scattered in the field so they will not provide hiding places for rats. Tall weeds also make fine rat hide-outs if left standing.

Clean up, poison and then rat-proof farm buildings is Burkett's advice. Farm buildings in a good state of repair aren't likely to be infested with rats. Check to see that walls are tight, and foundations and floors are in good shape.

A strip of galvanized metal, three feet high, placed around the building will keep rats out, Burkett says, provided they can't get in through the floor. If a new granary is being built, set it in piers at least two feet above the ground, and then construct it so rats can't get in.

Warfarin, says Burkett, has worked very well in rat eradication. It is relatively safe to use because a single dose is not fatal and it acts as an anti-blood coagulant, causing internal bleeding which so weakens the rats until they die. Bait usually must be taken for some five days before death results.

In some cases, other types of poison must be used to completely rid a farm of rats, says Burkett. Other effective poisons are available but many must be used with extreme caution, he adds, because they are deadly poisons.

With feed supplies short in most sections of the state, Burkett says farmers just can't afford to feed rats. The $22 per head they eat and waste will go a long way toward taking care of the feed needs of the farm livestock, especially if the rat population on the farm is high.

It is about 232 miles shorter from Chicago to New York by air than by automobile.

The Hindu and the Jewish are the two oldest existing legal systems in the entire world.
