Jackson Makes 31 Bushels Per Acre on Ten Acres

Ten acres of land on the Cap Morris farm north of Thalia produced 31 bushels of wheat per acre for J. M. Jackson this year. The land was fertilized with 300 pounds of phosphate four years ago and seeded with 20 pounds of vetch per acre. In the fall he harvested 700 pounds per acre of re-cleaned vetch seed which sold for 20c per pound, amounting to $140 per acre, or $1,400 for the plot of land.

In 1950 the vetch re-seeded itself and in the fall was damaged by hail, but still made 300 pounds per acre. The ground was plowed during the summer and in the fall of 1951 it was again planted in wheat which made 61 1/3 bushels per acre at harvest time in 1952. The vetch continues to re-seed itself and begins growing before the wheat is harvested. Vetch does not harm or interfere with the wheat crop in any way, but on the other hand, makes it produce more abundantly.

When Mr. Jackson started this experiment in soil building four years ago, he was given full support by his landlord, Mr. Morris, who lives in Clarendon, and they are both very proud of its success.

Foard County's 1953 Wheat Crop Harvested; 611,000 Bushels Cut from Poorest Crop in Several Years

After harvesting one of the poorer wheat crops made in this county during the past 10 years, almost all of the combine crews have departed to the ripening, but lean crops on the rolling plains and the various regions of Oklahoma.

According to the most accurate figures obtained from the grain elevators in this county, it was conservatively estimated that the total number of bushels harvested this year will reach 611,000. This figure represents approximately one-half of the amount made in this county last year.

The yield this year was poor because of the evident lack of moisture which greatly stunted the wheat's growth. Fields having the most productive wheat were located in the eastern section of the county. In many localities, however, the wheat harvested was insufficient to pay for the combining.

At the beginning of the harvest season, the market price was $2.00 per bushel but this price has declined somewhat and Wednesday the market reports indicated that wheat was selling for $1.96 per bushel. The total value of the crop would probably be around $1,222,000.

Boy Scouts to Take Overnight Hike

The Boy Scouts of Troop 49 will meet tonight, Thursday, at FFW hall at 6:30 p. m. ready for their first overnight hike and sleeping out trip since reorganization last fall. Chairman Bedford W. Smith of the Scout committee has perfected arrangements with Troop committeemen Lawrence Hallmark and J. C. Prosser, outdoor committee leaders, and Scoutmaster Marcus Mills for what promises to be a wonderful trip and profitable experience for the boys. The troop, committeemen, and fathers of the Scouts are all urged to come prepared to spend the night out in the open, stated Mr. Smith. Each Scout and man should come prepared with bed roll, food and equipment to cook his own meals. The Scouts will go to the J. C. Prosser farm by car, and then take off on a hike, to be followed by swimming at the Prosser tank, and fishing.

On Friday morning older Scouts and others will take a qualifying hike, necessary to higher rank. Committeeman Elmo Todd will be present to give swimming instruction for those who do not know how or need to swim better. It is the aim of the Scoutmaster and committee to help every boy enrolled in Scouting to move up one rank before the end of summer when the troop will send in application for an extension of their charter another year. In line with this, several committeemen are boning up to help in various lines. Committeeman Clyde James gave the boys a lesson last Thursday on map reading. Farmers May Apply for New Farms' Wheat Allotment

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1951, 1952 and 1953, may apply for a 1954 wheat acreage allotment, according to Mrs. Jean Reeder, office manager of the Foard County Production and Marketing Administration of Crowell, and Jesse T. Blank application forms are available in the county PMA office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Hot Dry Weather Continues Here

Torrid temperatures accompanied by high and dry winds continued to dominate most of Foard County the past week. Small scattered showers were reported in a few localities in this vicinity last Friday night, however. These showers, received in small areas in the western section of the county, were measured up to one-fourth of an inch. Other sections of the county experienced the same dry, windy weather that has prevailed in this locality for a long period.

On several occasions, clouded skies offered hope of much needed moisture and relief from the sizzling heat, but to everyone's regret these hopes soon faded when the sun pierced the clouds and "ole man heat" was here again.

News from the Congress

Congressman Frank Ikard... it was my great... to have the group of 67... visiting Washington un-... sponsorship of the Bowie... Travel Club as my guests for breakfast at the Capitol. Even though most of the group were from Bowie, it included a great many high school seniors, and there were those in the group who were from Nocona and Henrietta. During the breakfast Senator Lyndon B. Johnson came by to speak to the group, and the Secretary of the Navy, R. B. Anderson from Vernon, was also there and extended his greetings to them. From all reports, they had an extremely busy day after having visited the Capitol. The House passed a bill this week creating a commission to make a study of the relationships between the State Governments and the Federal Government. Even though I feel that we probably have too many commissions, and many times after one is created, it fails to function in any constructive way, it seems to me that this commission certainly has a very fine purpose in that it will study the ways in which the Federal Government might have encroached on the activities of the State government. This is certainly a fertile field for investigation. I am hopeful that the commission will come up with some very constructive and specific recommendations about how to decentralize some of our governmental activities and return them to a State level where they belong.

There was also created a commission on the organization of the Executive Branch of the Government which is to carry on the work of the so-called Hoover Commission. This commission will seek to study ways to eliminate non-essential services and activities, to define responsibilities of public officials and to reorganize and relocate agencies in the Executive Branch of the Government. We are all acquainted with the good work that the Hoover Commission did, and I think it is now generally known that the greater percentage of the recommendations of that Commission have been enacted into law. I am hopeful that this new commission will continue to work on the high level of the old Hoover Commission and produce the same worthwhile results.

In addition to our visitors from Bowie this week, the following were here: W. H. Wright of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bass and daughters, Ida Kay and Alzada, and niece, Mary June Davis, of Wichita Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lanford of Bowie.

Government Should Not Support The People

"The lesson should be constantly enforced that, though the people support the government, the government should not support the people."

Does that sound like something that was said yesterday? Actually, it was said by President Grover Cleveland 76 years ago, in the course of vetoing a long-forgotten bill.

The principle which President Cleveland laid down was important then. It is a thousand times more important now. In the intervening years millions of us, knowingly or otherwise, have been infected with the virus of government paternalism. We have become accustomed to being supported, wholly or partly, by government. And that trend, unless checked and reversed, can end only in dictatorship, tyranny and

Did you know that you can plant annual flowers this summer for fall blooms to be dried for winter arrangements? Many flowers adapt themselves to this treatment, but certain annuals give more color and distinctive form.

For instance cockscomb comes in several varieties and colors, but the deep red retains much of its color after drying.

Another popular flower for hot summer months is the bachelor button. Colors range from white to orange and from pink to deep purple. You can dye the light colored plants to be used in the same

Campaign to Air Condition Chapel Hall Falls Short

Since April 1, 1953, the Social Service Department of the Woman's Forum of Wichita Falls has attempted to collect $12,000 to air condition Chapel Hall at the Wichita Falls State Hospital. To date, with the mercury soaring, only one-fourth of the fund has been collected.

This chapel building is the center of all recreational activities, parties, dancing, moving pictures, card games, church services, and planned group participation makes use of the chapel morning, afternoon and evening, five days a week and Sunday morning and afternoon.

The extreme heat made necessary the closing of all night activities May 30 until cool fall weather comes. Within a week or so all day-time activities will cease.

Mrs. Nell Hutcheson, chairman of the social service department of the Woman's Forum, stated, "The Wichita Falls State Hospital with 2772 patients serves 77 counties. Foard County is in this district with 16 patients. This county has contributed $33.50 to this vital need. Surely many citizens of your county will spare a dollar or more."

All donations should be forwarded to the Social Service Department, Woman's Forum, 2120 Speedway, Wichita Falls, Texas.

ernment does not write finis to the long, dramatic story of submerged lands.

Texas, for example, owns the lands under the Gulf of Mexico to a distance of 10.3 miles (or three leagues). Beyond that line, the "continental shelf" is the property of the federal government.

It is expected that now the tidelands controversy is settled, both the state and the federal government will start leasing land for oil development.

What will that do? Will great production from the continental shelf cut down the demand for Texas (including tidelands) oil?

These are questions that remain to be answered, and they have considerable significance for Texans, because the oil industry is the state's greatest taxpayer.

If, for example, the tidelands produce heavily and provide a tremendous revenue to the state, other tax sources will not have to be tapped heavily.

If, on the other hand, the continental shelf becomes a major oil producer, the tax revenue will go to the federal government, and Texas taxpayers will suffer accordingly.

Answers to the questions posed here may be long in coming, but in the meantime there are bound to be many columns of newspaper space devoted to them.

Top issues are involved. For instance, if the tidelands yield sufficient tax revenue, the teachers' pay can be increased—and therein lies one of the hottest governmental issues in Texas today.

It is an issue, by the way, that will certainly figure outstandingly in the political campaigns of next summer.

You may be certain that prospective candidates, who are writing their platforms now, are putting the question of teacher pay at the top of their lists.

There remains, of course, the possibility that a special session of the legislature may solve the problem by providing more money for teachers.

Even so, teacher pay will remain a political issue, both in state and local races.

Legislators seeking re-election may in some instances have a hard time if it is shown that they opposed the $600 per month pay increase for teachers.

Current demand for Texas oil was boosted when the Exchange Crude Oil Producing Company of Dallas offered to buy from the state 15,000 barrels of oil per day for a price two per cent or five cents a barrel above the top market price.

New Mexico already has accepted a similar proposal, which is part of an overall project to operate a pipeline from Midland to Los Angeles.

The West Coast Pipeline Company would operate the 960-mile facility, which would cost a billion dollars and carry a total of 300,000 barrels of crude per day. Land Commissioner Bascom Giles said he would probably ask for more money for the Texas offer, and that a decision on the offer would be made in about two weeks.

The state supreme court upheld its former decision by ruling against rehearing two test cases attacking the natural gas "gathering" tax.

This tax was passed by the 1951 Legislature and immediately challenged by the gas companies. It has been in the courts ever since, and the revenue from the tax has been piling up, unspent.

If and when the court's decision becomes final, it is expected that Governor Shivers will call a special session of the Legislature to appropriate the money.

Governor Shivers has signed a bill that hits at beer taverns and undertakes to keep liquor gangsters out of Texas.

The bill, sponsored by the state liquor control board and the liquor and beer associations, gives the board wider powers to close up beer and liquor establishments that are indecent or jeopardize the public safety.

Under the new law there are 31 causes for which the Liquor Control Board may suspend or cancel a beer retailer's permit, as compared with 15 in the present law.

It attempts to keep gangsters out of Texas by requiring that liquor establishments must be 51 per cent Texas-owned.

Another provision is that counties may vote to permit sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only. That would put the beer tavern out of the picture.

Four illicit stills were seized by Texas Liquor Control Board agents during April, and Coke R. Stevenson Jr., the board's administrator, commented that high federal taxes on whiskey encourages moonshining.

The administrator recalled that the national conference of liquor administrators, recently held in Minneapolis passed a resolution asking the federal government to reduce taxes on whiskey so that it can be sold at a price that is more competitive with the moonshine.

Dr. J. M. Bethea assumed his duties as executive director of the state board for hospitals and special schools. Thus he will be in charge of the care and treatment of 30,000 persons in state institutions.

A retired army general, Dr. Bethea was formerly commanding officer of McCloskey General Hospital at Temple. Previously he was head of Brooke Army Medical Center, San Antonio.

Previously, the regulations were set by the legislature itself. One purpose of the new law was to bring about legalized killing of deer which, game experts say, are getting too numerous.

A showdown test of the State Parks Board's powers to borrow $3,000,000 to build three resort hotels in Texas is in motion.

Plans are drawn for three, one million dollar lodges and other facilities to be built with private capital in state parks at Lake Texoma, near Denison; Inks Dam, near Burnet and Possum Kingdom Lake near Mineral Wells.

A court test will undoubtedly be necessary to determine the validity of the financial plan.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd advised a legislative committee that issuance of negotiable revenue bonds for the purpose would be illegal.

Representative Jack Fisk of Wharton tried unsuccessfully to have the 1953 Legislature a law prohibiting creation of a junction suit against the state if necessary to stop the action.

Fisk contends that the state would compete with private courts and hotels and that the projects failed the state would be liable.

AMERICA'S NEW RAILROAD

A 50-yard dash with a potato on a spoon! An exciting bit of Americana—but it's not the

World's Greatest Potato Race

That's the 2200-mile dash on the Santa Fe with 1,350,000,000 potatoes

Santa Fe "reefers" are dispatched to the "Potato Capital of the West."

There the cars are cleaned, checked, loaded, switched. And iced fast (a car a minute, if you please). These potatoes can't wait!

In servicing the cars as they speed east, new icing docks at Bakersfield and Needles, Calif., Belen, N. Mex., Waynoka, Okla. and Kansas City work the clock around. Electronically-controlled "hump" yards speed the switching.

SANTA FE PRECISION—SANTA FE SPEED

On-time delivery calls for full-time precision to keep these schedules "on the advertised."

After the potatoes come the wheat... citrus fruits... grapes... melons... and green vegetables all year long—flooding east from Santa Fe country to you. Everything from avocados to zucchini.

It costs Santa Fe millions of dollars to serve you so—and provide you with Super Chiefs, too! But we're proud to say they are earned dollars. Not one penny comes from the taxes you pay.

Austin Highlights

by Senator George Moffett

The 53rd Legislature devoted considerable time to water legislation. It is difficult to frame water laws on a state-wide basis for a State as large as Texas. El Paso has an average of eight inches of rain per year, while over in the Sabine River area more than 32 inches of rain have already fallen this year, and the annual average is around 50 inches.

Eight bills were passed by the 53rd Legislature relating to the various aspects of the water problems in this State. The authority of the Board of Water Engineers was increased so that they can approve or reject applications for a water permit according to whatever the circumstances dictate should be done. Heretofore, this Board has had very little authority. It was mainly a record keeping agency.

A constitutional amendment which sought to levy a tax on the right to use water created more commotion than any of the water bills offered. Its purpose was to levy a tax on the right to use water from any public stream or lake in Texas. It would even have placed a small tax on water impounded in a ranch pond. Its worst defect lay in the fact that it would levy a double tax upon water and irrigation districts which had already voted a tax upon themselves with which to build dams, lay pipelines, dig canals, etc., through and by which they would be assured of an ample water supply for the use of the people living within said cities and irrigation districts. This water tax amendment to the constitution failed to recognize that some areas in Texas had already incurred heavy indebtedness in efforts to solve their own water problems. There are ten cities in the Senatorial District which I represent which have taken care of their water problems in this manner.

The plea in behalf of this state-wide water tax amendment was that by levying a tax on the use of water throughout the State a fund could be created from which other dams and water facilities could be built. In practice, this would have meant that Central and East Texas would have gotten the benefit of the taxes levied because, in most places in West Texas, the various cities have already constructed dams and are paying for them out of local taxation. Most of the West Texas members were against this state-wide water tax proposal. I was glad to have been active in bringing about the defeat of this unjust and inequitable water tax amendment. It will probably be brought up again at a future session. If it is, I hope it will exempt those cities and irrigation districts which have already had forethought enough to take care of their own needs.

Unquestionably, much thought should be given toward solving the various water problems that exist in Texas, and West Texans should be continuously alert that their interests are properly safeguarded in any future legislation written in Austin. I plan to do my part in this matter.
