THE HOME OF FREE PEOPLE

To me America means freedom, a chance to make friends, and a place where ambitious people may hold top-ranking positions if they apply themselves. In America the little man is as important as a millionaire. If he becomes sick, the doctors will take care of him whether he can afford the treatment or not. In Russia the little man is just another cog in Malenkov's machine. If he becomes ill, he is merely replaced with another worker, and he is discarded as useless, just as a worn cog is thrown away. We are not told when to speak, how to speak, or where to go to church as in Russia.

If Russia and America were to clash in combat, we would be fighting for our freedom, but the Russians would be fighting because the head man told them to. What we lack in men or machines, we make it up in spirit.

We, the people of America, should guard our freedoms from the nations who would destroy our way of living, with our own lives if necessary.

and Buddy Caddell, senior favorites; Sue Meason and DuWayne Elliott, junior favorites; Vida Tarver and Jackie Walker, sophomore favorites; Maxine Walker and Edward Howard, freshman favorites; Roma Jan Spikes and Lindell McBeath, friendliest; Billye Bell and James Denton, most athletic; CloYonne McKown and Vance Barker, most courteous; Zonell Eddy and Norman Shultz, wittiest; and Billye McCoy, Barbara Fairchild, CloYonne McKown and Dorothy Gamble, the four most attractive girls. The favorites' pictures will appear in the annual this year.

ANNUAL SALE—OCT. 12-17

The time has come when the yearbook staff must complete the planning of this year's edition. In order to do this it is necessary that we know how much money is to be available from the sale of copies.

It is therefore necessary that we have your subscription promptly. The cost of an annual is $4.00. It may be paid in two installments—$2.00 now and the remainder just before the delivery of the book.

The money is to be paid to the following circulation editors: senior, Mary Lynn Hough; junior, Mike Wishon; sophomore, Bill Halbert, and freshman, Patricia Todd.

We have had excellent response from the business men in placement of advertisements. If we have a successful sales drive, we should be able to publish an annual that you will be proud to possess.

WILDCAT DESERVES SUPPORT OF STUDENT BODY

How proud we are of "The Wildcat," our school's section of the local paper! Not only does the paper deserve every student's support, but it also gets it. This is obvious as everyone makes a "mad" rush for the Wildcat on Thursday.

This column contains all the exciting news; the latest in sports, fads, styles; interesting editorials, and any other activity or event around the busy campus.

The staff has proposed a plan to have a separate paper from the paper put out weekly. If enough students respond to this cause, we will have a paper of our own which will be issued every other week. The charge will be about ten cents per copy, but the school will have to receive this money before the paper can be printed in order to insure the printers that they will get their money. If enough students respond to this, I believe that the school paper will be a success.

Whether the plan succeeds or not, let's give our hard working staff our full support to make it the best paper possible.

BUTANE, A FARM HAZARD

Butane gas should be handled with great caution. My experience with butane was a dangerous one. One day last summer I started to fill up a butane tractor. Butane started coming out of the eighty per cent pop off valve. I shut off the valve and the hose coming from the main tank. As I started to take the hose loose from the tractor tank, all of a sudden, butane shot out and before I realized what had happened, it had nearly frozen my hands. As quickly as I could, I managed to screw the hose back on the tractor tank. Then I looked down at my hands; they were iced all over. I rubbed them together and saved them from freezing. The results of all of that was a second degree burn on one of my fingers.

Note: This is a true incident.

SENIOR JEAN WHITBY AVID SPORTS ENTHUSIAST

Anyone hearing Jean Whitby ambling down the hall muttering, "I just can't fight that," will know instantly that it's her pet expression, especially when she's peevish or provoked.

A tall, blue eyed blonde, Jean has been secretary of her sophomore class, sophomore representative on the annual staff, junior favorite, and president of her MYF group in the Methodist Church. She belongs to the Thespian Society, Dramatic Club, F. H. A. and pep squad. She was in the band for two years, and is editor of the Wildcat this, her senior year. She was elected senior favorite this year.

Some favorites of this all-round senior are broiled steak and Mexican food. As her hobby, she loves to cook different foods to experiment. Although she has nightmares about them, Jean loves to read mystery books with every page chock full of suspense. Really sports minded, this taffy-haired senior thrives on watching a breathlessly close football game. Tennis and swimming are her favorite participant sports, the latter leading for summertime enjoyment. Dancing to popular music is perhaps tops for year-round entertainment. A movie starring Dale Robertson and Doris Day would be the closest-to-perfect evening Jean could dream of.

Since her trip to Colorado last summer, Jean's hidden ambition has become that someday she will own a ranch in that state and raise thoroughbred race horses. Her ambition that is closer to coming true is entering North Texas State or Texas Tech and majoring in math, journalism or history, her favorite subjects throughout school.

DENTON, FOOTBALL BIG SHOT, HAS SECRET AMBITION

Ho! Hum! He's a lazy bum who spends all his possible spare time hunting and fishing. These hobbies are exciting as well as educational. They put your wits against those of nature.

His favorite foods are a big chicken fried steak with gravy, mashed potatoes, and rolls. Of course, a quart of milk goes with this small meal.

Since football is a favorite spectator sport, his pet peeve is "for some downtown quarterback to sit right beside me and tell me what he would have done, had he been calling the game."

As you don't know the student, we'll give you his description. He is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 145 pounds, has red hair, and blue eyes and a freckled face. Yes, it's James Denton. With a teasing nature, this all-around boy might be dubbed as the "I don't care" type, but in his more serious moments, James is a whiz at his favorite subject, algebra.

Typical of his popularity throughout school, James has been class officer twice, class favorite once, and was voted most athletic boy this year. Because of that ability in his blood, James is an outstanding backfielder on the football team.

When asked his secret ambition, James replied, "I cannot tell because it would no longer be a secret," but he has a desire to be a geologist or petroleum engineer.

And we are sure that James proven versatility and initiative will help him achieve his goal.

GRADE SCHOOLERS WIN HONORS AT T-O FAIR

Three grade school 4-H boys attended the sheep show at the T-O Fair in Iowa Park Sept. 30.

Carroll Chowning, son of Marion Chowning Jr. of Truscott, placed first and second with his two fat lambs in the Corredale division and also fifteenth in the southdown fat lamb class. This was Carroll's first 4-H project and also his first showing.

Don Welch had had luck with his own sheep project and did not enter the T-O Fair, but he did help Charles Todd show his Hampshire, Charles, who had also lost some of the best of his show flock, managed to win champion Hampshire ram, fifth fat lamb, and fourth, fifth, and seventh places with his ewes.

THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

Hi! Guys and Gals! Here we are again after a very busy week behind us with all the picture taking and voting. This will be a busy week, too, with six weeks tests and the game Friday.

The FHA girls are preparing to go to the Dallas Fair Oct. 17. Congratulations to ex-senior Marcia Kincaid who has been selected to be a member of the Curran Club at the University of Texas where she attends college.

We were glad to see other ex-seniors, Carolyn Bell, Billy Abston, Jean Hughston and Doyle McNeese home for the week end. We will all agree that the band put on an excellent performance Friday in spite of the crowded schedule that they had last week. Don't miss the performance this Friday night, because it is going to be a special one.

WILDCATS CRUSH MEMPHIS

Crowell Wildcats coasted to their fourth straight win last Friday night as they defeated the Memphis Cyclones 28 to 6 after a scoreless first quarter.

The Cats got rolling in the second quarter when Wayne Borchardt broke loose around right end for a pickup of thirty yards down to the Cyclone's fifteen. Two plays later Borchardt crashed over from the five. He went ten yards through the line for the second score. Just before the half Jimmy Everson made a twelve yard Gordon Graves in the end zone to make the time score 21-0. In the quarter, fullback James P. the Wildcats' final score.

The Cyclones moved in the third quarter against the cat reserves and were able to score on a thirty-five yard from Duke Frisbie, Memphis quarterback.

Standing out in the line were Buddy Caddell, DuWayne Elliott (who, by the way, kicked out of four extra points), Jimmy Everson. Hard run was shown by backs James Tillo and Wayne Borchardt. All will open their contest play Friday night when they play a strong Iowa Park eleven at Wildcat Stadium.

WILDCAT PURRS

Undefeated, untied, remaining Crowell Wildcats with the conference game to be played Friday night.

Seen at church Sunday were Buddy, Patricia, Billye, don, Doris and Joe Vernon. Nancy, why was your hair?

ARTHRITIS

I have been wonderfully relieved in being restored to a life after being crippled in every joint in my body and muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism. My hands were deformed and my feet were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you write me I will reply at once. Tell me how I received this wonderful relief.

BAND WINS TROPHY

It was a sizzling hot day as the Crowell Wildcat Band marched through the streets of Iowa Park last Wednesday afternoon at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair. Despite the heat, they played two peppy marches, "March on America" and "Blazing the Trail." The band looked snappy, and won second place in marching against the top bands of this district as they competed. To achieve this goal the boys and girls of the band worked together long hours for union, cooperation and patience. As a reward for this hard work, after the contest, the band attended the fair and everyone ran for the midway to spend his money on rides and winning a panda. When 8 p. m. rolled around the group was grimy from the dust, broke, and happy, telling how they were gypped. The band buses pulled out with the bright lights and happy noises of carnival life behind them. Everyone thought the whole day a memorable one for CHS.

CLASSES ELECT FAVORITES

With work on the annual well underway, the election of favorites has been completed. Each place was voted separately and when all the votes were counted, there was a run-off between the two highest.

The favorites were elected as follows: George Ann Davis and James Pittillo, most popular; Gwynne Johnson, football queen; Janis Crowell, band sweetheart; Peggy New, FFA queen; Gaylon Whitley, FHA king; Jean Whitby

As Farmers Could Benefit by Reducing Number of Farm Fires

As farmers could add as much as $5,000,000 to their annual income by reducing the number of farm fires, an Austin insurance agent says.

W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, a trade association which compiles statistics on fire accidents that fires in 1952 destroyed at least $5,000,000 worth of farm buildings and crops. The figures for 1953 may be even higher unless something is done to reduce farm fires.

Nationally, the picture is even worse. Fires across the nation last year cost farmers $100,000,000.

Three safeguards are suggested by Mr. Parker to help reduce farm fires:

1. Use care and forethought in the construction, maintenance and use of all farm property with a view to eliminating all needless fire danger;

2. Equip farm homes and out-buildings with simple fire-extinguishing equipment to enable individuals to extinguish fires before they reach the serious stage; and

3. Organize farm community fire-fighting brigades equipped with more effective equipment than an individual farmer can afford to fight larger fires.

Farmers throughout the state are being urged to check their fire defenses as a part of the national observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10.

Service Plus

"Oil—At Your Service" is the slogan which the oil industry is using this year to mark Oil Progress Week (October 11-17).

It is a particularly appropriate slogan, for there are few industries which exemplify "service" around the clock, year in and year out, more or better than oil. To confirm this, all we have to do is look around at the many service stations which compete for our business; or to pick up a telephone and get in touch with a fuel oil dealer.

Probably most of us are more familiar with service stations than with any other phase of the oil industry. Before we go much further, we could make a note of the fact that the oil industry is a big industry, and does a big job. But don't let the word "big" confuse you. A recent study by the Oil Industry Information Committee shows there are at least 42,000 separate enterprises in the oil business; and that doesn't include service stations, of which there are about 200,000. It just goes to show that it takes a whole lot of small businesses, medium businesses and large businesses to make up an industry.

Service stations are typically American institutions. Ninety-five per cent of them are independent operations—run by local men merchandising brands and products. Service station men also are sort of junior chambers of commerce. It is impossible to list the number of times they are asked for information about hotels, stores, cafes, good roads, detours, short cuts, and even where the hunting or fishing is particularly good at any given time.

Over and above this, of course, are the millions of windshields that are wiped, the equally countless number of radiators and batteries that are checked and filled, and the number of tires that are filled with air—all, just part of the station's regular "service."

It's true that the progressive oil industry works in many ways, and certainly one of the most pleasant contributions is the service station, and the men who attend it. It's nice to salute them

News items below were taken from the issue of The Foard County News of Friday, Oct. 5, 1923:

Politicians are working up a head of steam that will blow off when President Eisenhower visits Texas this month.

As far as any public announcement is concerned, the reason for Ike's Texas trip is to join President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico in the dedication of Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande.

But it is clear that H. J. Porter of Houston, Republican national committeeman, will use the presidential trip as a means of rallying G. O. P. support in Texas.

When Eisenhower gets to Texas, his official host will be Governor Allan Shivers. The president will stay at the Shivers' palatial home at Sharyland, near Mission.

While Shivers led the Democratic Party of Texas in helping to elect Eisenhower last year.

there is no indication that the governor and his political friends will line up with the Texas Republicans as a permanent arrangement.

On the contrary, Shivers has said that the G. O. P. has "decisions of grandeur" on the question of making Texas a two-party state.

In other words, the Shivers Democrats were for Eisenhower—but that does not mean that they will move over into the Republican ranks in the Texas political battles of next year.

At the Falcon Dam celebration there will be represented a third political faction, the Texas Democrats who supported Adlai Stevenson.

Senator Lyndon Johnson, a Stevenson Democrat, is expected to be present at the border celebration.

Porter, by the way, has announced that the Texas Democrats will put up the strongest candidate they can find to oppose Johnson next year.

That candidate may be Ben Guill, who once served as a Texas Republican congressman from the Panhandle district.

Guill is now an executive assistant to Postmaster General Summerfield.

Workers in state departments and some of those in state hospitals and other institutions received $15 per month pay increases on the first of this month. Increases ranging up to $300 per year also went to faculty members of state colleges and universities.

And some state workers received "incentive" raises amounting to as much as $50 per month under a new law authorizing such boosts out of savings effected by decreasing the number of employees.

There will be more pay hikes if the courts uphold the Texas natural gas gathering tax, Governor Shivers has said.

Death took George B. Butler, 49, chairman of the Texas Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Butler died of a malignancy in a Temple hospital, and funeral services were held in Austin.

Another member of the Board, Paul H. Brown, has been at McCloskey Hospital, since he suffered a heart stroke last February.

Twenty-one church schools formed an association and will ask Texas business and industry for a million dollars to balance their budgets this year.

Texas Foundation of Voluntarily Supported Colleges and Universities is the long name of the organization, whose board of directors will meet in Dallas November 1.

Dr. W. R. White, president of the foundation and head of Baylor University, said the organization already has the support of the National Association of Manufacturers, the Texas Association of Manufacturers, and the United States Chamber of Commerce.

To be employed by the Texas Turnpike Authority is a firm of consulting engineers—yet to be named—who will survey the Dallas-Fort Worth toll road project and determine its economic feasibility.

Controversy over the tidelands is not ended.

Two states, Alabama and Arkansas, have filed suits attacking the validity of national legislation quit claiming the tidelands to the coastal states.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd of Texas issued a statement charging that some of Alabama's contentions in its suit are "inconsistent with the truth and the law."

Shepperd said that the Alabama suit is based on the theory that all of the states entered the union on an equal footing with the original states, "but the doctrine of equal footing has never had any application to the tidelands matter."

Both Texas senators, Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel, will speak at the first annual meeting of the Texas Research League October 15.

Chairman of the league is Ben H. Wooten of Dallas. The organization was formed to study the state government and seek ways to bring about greater economy and efficiency in its operation.

Every 65 minutes around the clock fire destroys a Texas home.

Norris W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Association, is responsible for the statistics.

Urging fire prevention, said that unless people are careful, homes lost by fire as will total 8,000 for the year. Also going up in smoke are 97 schools, 88 churches, 160 hotels, 25 hospitals, and 35 lumber yards.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Fort Worth — Movement of livestock to market at the start of the week was moderate at Southwestern markets, but heavy at Midwest and Western centers. Dealers reported a huge sheep run and Omaha had almost 30,000 cattle on Monday.

Prices were stable at Fort Worth Monday. Some interests bid easier prices on cows and bulls, but were unable to get many bought that way. Steers, yearlings and stockers were firm. Some top fat calves sold up to $15 to $15.50, and a few to $16 were definitely higher.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold from $17 to $22, and choice to prime cattle are quotable to $25 or better, some club steers late last week selling to $26. Common and medium grassers sold for $10 to $15, and cutter grades sold from $7 to $9.

Fat cows cleared at $9 to $11, with some heiferish kinds to $12. Canners and cutters drew $5.50 to $9, some old shells down to $5. Bulls drew $8 to $12, odd head above and below that range.

Fat calves of good and choice kinds sold mainly from $12.50 to $15, with some around 500 pounds and over strictly fat kinds to $15.50 and $16. Common and medium sorts sold from $9 to $12, with culls from $6 to $9.

Good and choice stocker steer calves sold from $12 to $16.50, and plainer kinds sold around $9 to $11. Stocker and feeder steers and steer yearlings cashed at $9 to $15.50. Stocker cows were slow at $8 to $12.

Many financial backers of stock men are dropping broad hints at this time to the effect that feed bills of the size of those paid last year can not be financed by them this year.

This situation may result in heavier than planned liquidation of herds in many cases. It will surely result in increased pressure for cheap feed through a government program.

The financiers take the stand that a cow or a ewe that already is carrying a heavy feed bill from the past two or three years of dry weather can very easily "eat her entire value up between now and spring."

Hog prices were 25 cents higher to 25 cents lower at Fort Worth Monday. Shippers and small packers paid the higher prices, while major packers followed the Northern trend into a lower market.

Top hogs sold for $24 to $25 at Fort Worth. This compares with a top of $23 to $23.50 at Chicago the same day. Sows at Fort Worth drew $20 to $22, and were 50 cents off.

Lambs climbed 50 cents again at Fort Worth Monday and topped at $19. These lambs came from Brewster County and weighed 82 pounds.

Good and choice lambs sold from $17 to $19, cull, common to medium kinds drew $10 to $16. Feeders sold around $12, and are quotable to $13.50. Old ewes drew $4.25 to $6. Old wethers and two's sold from $7 to $9. Fat yearlings drew $11 to $12.

By the way, last week some lambs from Brewster County (Big Bend Country) and a long way from Fort Worth, came in and sale weight was within a pound and a half of the weight when they left home. They really took to the alfalfa hay and water to make a remarkable small shrink like that.

New Variety of Barley Introduced

Barley, once widely used in Texas for livestock feeding but now one of the state's lesser grains, may get a shot in the arm with the introduction of Cordova, a new high yielding variety. The new strain, recently developed and released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, has made outstanding yields in tests conducted by various experimental stations and under farm conditions when grown by a selected group of certified seed growers.

According to Joe Burkett, County Agent, Cordova averaged 45.5 bushels per acre at the Denton, Greenville and Stephenville Experiment Stations. This average is 10 bushels more than Wintex, the variety Cordova is recommended to replace in those areas. At three central Texas stations the new variety produced 45.5 bushels to the acre, compared to Texan with a yield of 40.5 bushels.

It is hoped, says Dr. Atkins, Cordova will renew interest in barley for it is a crop worthy of consideration in any farming program. Barley, a fattening food, has a livestock feeding value estimated at about 95 per cent of corn.

In the hands of farmers, Cordova out-produced other barley varieties in the central and north Texas areas and growers were generally pleased with its behavior in the field, its ability to stand for combine harvesting and for the quality of seed. The highest yield on an individual farm was 72 bushels an acre.

Although barley has been of minor agricultural importance in recent years and the acreage in Texas is small, in tests conducted at the Temple Station in 1951, steers fed ground barley produced an average of 2.49 pounds of gain per day, the highest in the test. This was a greater gain than steers fed on corn alone, a mixture of barley and corn, sorghum alone or sorghum and corn.

Barley also merits consideration for several other reasons. It produces the quickest grazing of any small grain after seeding in the fall and furnishes winter pasture as well as a good ground cover. In central Texas, Cordova barley seeded in combination with Madrid clover has proved a valuable pasture crop. For north central Texas, the variety is recommended in combination with Madrid and Hubam clover, with clover sown in the spring. Barley matures earlier than either oats or wheat, thus it furnishes an abundance of early grazing. The new strain is not recommended on the High Plains because of easy winter kill.

Large quantities of seed of the Cordova variety are now available from certified seed growers over the state.
