Beware of July 4th Traffic Accidents

A total of 370 Americans will die in highway accidents during the coming three-day July Fourth week end, according to a prediction released this week by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies.

The Association's estimate, based upon "a conservative expansion of the accident rates of three-day Independence Day holidays in the past," breaks down the causes of the fatal accidents into six principal categories.

Speeding is expected to kill 123 persons; excessive use of alcohol will account for 82 more, both motorists and pedestrians; failure to keep to the right of the centerline, 37 deaths; failure to yield the right-of-way, 26 deaths; over-fatigued drivers or actually asleep at the wheel; deaths; miscellaneous causes.

In releasing the prediction, the Association pointed out that the Memorial Day week end were "grimly close to each other for that holiday, not one die until sometime after the week end was over, was 362. The prediction had predicted 360 deaths."

POSTAL RECEIPTS DECREASE

May postal receipts in 123 Texas post offices were 6 per cent below April, following a 5.3 per cent drop in April from March, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The May total still was 5 per cent more than May, 1953, however, with Killeen reporting the largest increase in that category, 49 per cent.

Despite the general April-May decrease, some cities did record May gains. Receipts were up 76 per cent in Alice, 73 per cent in Gilmer, 32 per cent in Pittsburg, 30 per cent in Lampasas, and 24 per cent in both Borger and Killeen.

Largest May decreases were Sweetwater, 45 per cent; Cuero, 34 per cent; and Huntsville, 31 per cent.

Texas Solves Problem with Neighbor Board

by Raymond Moley

(Reprinted from The Dallas Morning News of Tuesday, May 11, 1954.)

There are right ways and wrong ways of dealing with racial and nationalistic differences and antagonisms. One of the wrong ways is coercive measures at the federal level. In fact, any coercive measure is likely to be a wrong way. And certainly any federal effort, coercive or noncoercive, is wrong. There remains, however, a means based on common sense, decency, and persuasive suggestions. That can be done by private organizations or by a local or state agency supported by local or state government.

The best example I have seen of a workable and sensible attack upon this problem is the Good Neighbor Commission of the State of Texas. For a great many years—in fact, ever since Texas ceased to be a part of Mexico—there had been recurring problems over the border in search of opportunities for better economic conditions. Their labor was welcome and the pay was good. But they were denied certain privileges and prerogatives and were often subjected to outbreaks of intolerance.

Finally, during the war, in 1943 when Mexicans were coming in legally in great numbers, the Mexican government began to register sharp diplomatic protests against the treatment of its nationals in Texas. As a result, Gov. Coke Stevenson on his own authority set up a Good Neighbor Commission to give effect to a policy of the state which he declared to be to give full and equal accommodations, advantages, and privileges to Mexicans and other Latin Americans residing or visiting in the state. Four years later this commission was given full legal status by the Legislature.

According to an interesting new history of the first ten years of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission by Nellie Ward Kingren, Texas Christian University Press, the first two years of the commission were devoted to securing by good offices and persuasion better educational and health advantages for the Mexicans, young and old. Then there followed a period during which the problems of labor relations and conditions were the main concern.

The first chairman of the commission was Robert E. Smith, who won respect and honor from his fellow Texans as well as the government of Mexico by his outstanding services. Five years ago Smith was succeeded by Neville G. Penrose, a resident of Fort Worth who had over the years maintained many business connections in Mexico. Since his appointment Penrose has given almost full time to the commission.

The Penrose policies are based upon great common sense and patience. He has avoided recourse either to an overdose of welfare, with all the attendant conferences and paternalism which it involves, or to anything that suggests coercion of either Mexicans or Texans. His motto is eternal vigilance.

Wherever discrimination appears, the good offices of the commission are enlisted. Persuasion rather than threats or pressure is used to iron out even small instances of discrimination. For Penrose well realizes that in matters of racial relations serious results can come from small beginnings. He has fostered through his influence in Texas a great increase in the teaching of Spanish in the schools and also attention to the history of our neighboring Latin-American nations.

An exchange of teachers between Mexico and Texas also has

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

Last Monday, June 28, we had the training meeting on cool summer beverages. Your club leaders will give this demonstration at the July meetings. With all this hot weather in prospect I know you will want to attend this meeting so that you can get these recipes and see this demonstration.

Even though the summer heat may dull interest in eating and cooking — remember that it's just as important as ever to see to it that the family eats the "three squares a day." Check your menus regularly to see that all the foods on the Texas Food Standard are included.

The Texas Extension Services have a bulletin on Sweets for the Family Table, which contains many preserve, jelly, marmalade, jam and fruit butter recipes. Since many of us will begin to make these things soon, please call or come by my office if you would like one of these bulletins.

Our recipe this week is for—

Peach Preserves

- 1 pound prepared peaches, 3/4 to 1 pound sugar.
- Select any variety of white or yellow peach of good dessert quality, at firm ripe stages.
- Wash and pare the peaches.
- Leave whole or cut into uniform pieces such as halves, quarters, or eighths.
- Combine the fruit and sugar in alternate layers. Let stand 8 to 10 hours or overnight before cooking, or add the sugar and one fourth cup water for each pound of fruit and cook at once.
- In either case stir carefully while heating to boiling.
- Cook until the syrup is somewhat thick, stirring occasionally to prevent burning.
- Fill hot sterilized jars three-fourths full with the preserved fruit. If paraffin is to be used, add enough syrup to fill the jar to within one-fourth inch of the top; otherwise, fill to top of jar.
- Seal, label and store.

been promoted. Finally, by publicity relating to instances of friendly relations. Penrose has sought to minimize the occasional stories of prejudice and discrimination.

This, it would seem, is an example of the right way to deal with an old and troublesome problem.

Public Urged to Assist in Prevention of Polio During Summer

This is the season of the year when an increase in poliomyelitis can be expected and Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, is urging the public to cooperate in helping to prevent the spread of this crippling disease.

"Children should not visit homes where poliomyelitis or symptoms of this disease are present. Promptness in diagnosing poliomyelitis is one of the most important factors in its control," Dr. Holle declared.

"Direct contact between persons is the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis and since carriers are difficult to determine, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts during any outbreaks of this disease."

Dr. Holle stressed the fact that a rigid program of sanitation is advisable since it has been suspected that flies and other seasonal insects may convey the virus or germ of poliomyelitis. He added that insect transmission has not been scientifically demonstrated but pointed out that sanitation is always advisable in controlling disease and that filth is likely to prove dangerous.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, unusual drowsiness, and irritability, followed by stiffness in the neck and back.

Children under five years are most susceptible and all children under twelve years should be watched for suspicious symptoms.

Dr. Holle urged that a physician be called immediately if infantile paralysis is suspected. If the disease is definitely diagnosed, local health authorities should be contacted immediately and patients isolated for at least 21 days.

CHRYSLER BREAKS WORLD STOCK CAR RECORD

World speed and endurance records for stock cars were broken when a 1954 Chrysler FirePower 235-horsepower V-8 completed a 24-hour continuous run with an average speed of 118.18 miles per hour for 2836.42 miles. Picture shows American Automobile Association official Bill Vanderwater giving AAA champion Tony Benhausen the checkered flag ending the successful run at the Chrysler proving ground track at Chelsea, Michigan. Only 26 pit stops were made.

State Capitol NEWS by VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas — This year's campaign for the governorship of Texas is boiling down to an old-fashioned political battle. Governor Allan Shivers and his opponent Ralph Yarborough are touring the state and throwing punches.

Who Speeds on Highways?

The year 1953 saw more than two million casualties—the worst automobile accident toll in the nation's history—recorded on our streets and highways.

Even worse—except in a few cases where thoughtful people are very much concerned about this mobile slaughter—the totals were recorded without many of us realizing what was happening.

The Travelers Insurance Companies of Hartford, Connecticut, report 38,500 people killed and 2,140,000 injured in 1953.

The lessons to be gained from previous statistics continued unheeded in 1953. Excessive speed was the most dangerous driving mistake again last year.

There are hundreds of splendid safety organizations in this country dedicated to safety education.

State, county, local police are constantly patrolling streets and highways. More and better engineered thruways are coming off the drawing boards.

Almost everyone, that is, but the drivers. The problem starts and could ideally end with the drivers.

Each one of us knows the answer to that question. Let each one of us ponder these latest grim figures and then determine a proper and safer and saner course of action.

It Sure Finds Oil!

Writing in The Reader's Digest, Wolfgang Langewiesche, who has earned a unique reputation as a flying reporter, asks and answers a $64 question—“Why Don't We Run Out of Oil?”

Mr. Langewiesche pointed out that, despite our tremendous production and consumption of oil, our proved reserves—oil which is still in the ground but is available at any time—are at an all-time record level.

The difference is not in the men but in the hitch-up under which men work. The American factor in all their oil-finding is the system of working without system; the non-coordinated effort, without guidance from Higher Levels, without Master Plans.

In other words, our system is based on giving the greatest possible degree of freedom and opportunity to all concerned. And it not only finds oil—it finds on makes incredible quantities of everything we need and want!

The United States production of all types of stainless and heat-resisting steels in 1953 exceeded 1,000,000 ingot tons, a record annual volume.

Record Production. About 40 percent of this was composed of nickel-bearing grades which consumed some 45,000,000 pounds of nickel.

General American directors, although not naming the source, had complained that many of their troubles arose when a candidate for governor had charged that a Texas insurance firm was deeply in the red.

A committee set up to aid the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools has commended Governor Allan Shivers for advances made in mental and tubercular care.

Headed by Dr. R. L. Sutherland of Austin, the group listed progress in the state mental and tubercular treatment program as including more patients being discharged from hospitals, reduced hospitalization time, a decline in the death rate of patients, and construction of new buildings.

Members of the Austin Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi became concerned about this unhappy situation and decided to do something about it.

“A little spending money, that's all they want,” said Bill Gardner, chapter president. “Just enough to jingle in an otherwise empty pocket. Enough to buy a Coke, or an ice cream cone, or a candy bar—just like the other boys and girls.”

So SDJ invited Robert Boyd, superintendent of the school, to come to Austin and talk to the chapter.

As a consequence the journalists have promised to raise enough cash to keep these 60 young orphan boys and girls in spending

Notes and Comments

Speeding is profitable only for the undertakers.

The main trouble with the human race is human beings.

Being tired too often causes people to be broke too often.

Experts are like ordinary people—they seldom agree.

It's always easy to find an excuse for delaying hard work.

What the nation needs is more “lemme” and less “gimme.”

You have a right to live your own life if you have the courage to live it.

No man has more pride than the man who insists that he has none.

You can judge your friends by what they do rather than by what they say.

Expressing faith in your own religion never insults those who disagree with you.

It's rather peculiar, but tolerance is a virtue that your adversary rarely possesses.

Advertising is a good servant if wisely controlled; undoubtedly advertising pays when properly used.

With all our talk about charity and helping our fellow man, few of us ever hurt ourselves by generosity.

The man who borrows his neighbor's copy of The Foard County News knows a good thing when he can get it.

Crowell can accomplish much for the common good if its people will get together and work together.

The business of Crowell is your business; make it a practice to buy what you need from local merchants.

The human race, in the struggle for improvement, is handicapped by two classes of citizens; those who take everything lightly and those who take everything too seriously.

A starving nobody can steal a loaf of bread and go to jail, and a prosperous, smooth-operating business man can steal a million dollars and be considered a smart business man.

Underground Development. The underground development in International Nickel's producing mines in the Sudbury District of Ontario was advanced about 27 miles during 1953, making the total almost 352 miles or more than the distance between New York City and Montreal.

High Court Candidates. Two Texas lawyers have been named as possible candidates, either by appointment or election, for the position of the late Graham B. Smedley on the state Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Clyde E. Grison of the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals, and W. N. Stokes, formerly of the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals, have been suggested.

Shivers Lauded. A committee set up to aid the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools has commended Governor Allan Shivers for advances made in mental and tubercular care.

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

One member of Congress recently said that he thought that we ought to do away with the last month of every session of Congress. When you see the frantic effort to schedule legislation during the closing days of the session and the effort made to hurry a matter along without being too concerned about what form it is in, one cannot help but partially agree with him.

The schedule for this week is a good example of how fast the tempo sometimes gets. Scheduled for consideration in the House this week are the Mutual Security Act (foreign aid), the Agricultural Act, Vocational Rehabilitation Act, the Tanker Bill, the Espionage and Sabotage Act, the Harboring of Fugitives Act, and the extension of unemployment compensation insurance. Some of these bills have not even been reported out of committee and, therefore, as this is written, it is impossible for anyone to know just exactly what provisions the bills will contain. Also, everything on the program for this week is a major piece of legislation which should be very carefully considered by the House and not rushed through. To say the least, it is somewhat discouraging to sit through two or three days of debate on some bill that is of no consequence, and then to have to consider something as important as the foreign aid program or agricultural program limited to just a matter of a few hours.

This practice, I think, is largely responsible for much of the bad legislation that we get.

This week saw the visit of Sir Winston Churchill, the Prime Minister of Britain and his Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden, to Washington. Of course, the decisions that were made at the conference with our President and Secretary of State are of the utmost importance and have been closely watched by every one; however, almost overshadowing the importance of the meeting was the realization of most people that this would probably be the last official visit of the Prime Minister to the United States.

Regardless of what a person might think of him, there is no question but that he has been one of the great men in the world of this century, and one cannot but feel a touch of sadness in knowing that on account of his age and the condition of his health, within a short time he will have to retire from the world scene. He has certainly served his country well and I know that everyone is hopeful that he can realize his last ambition, which he has stated to be the establishing of real peace in the world.

Proclamation Issued on Farm Safety Week

"More accidental deaths occur for each 100,000 workers, in agriculture than in any other major industry of the nation. Texas, with its widespread farming and ranching operations, is in a position to help reduce this accident toll," said Governor Allan Shivers in the proclamation he signed on June 8 designating the week of July 25-31 Farm Safety Week.

"A disabling injury strikes some farm person in America on the average of every 25 seconds. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council are cooperating in a campaign designed to reduce the huge number of avoidable farm accidents and I urge all Texans engaged in farming activities to exercise all possible caution in their work."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety committee is the organization in the state through which cooperative efforts are being directed toward reducing the farm accident rate. Committee members represent state and federal agencies working in agriculture and home economics, farm organizations, press and radio, commercial, industrial and business concerns and individuals who are all interested in seeing the label, "Nation's most hazardous occupation," removed from agriculture.

Paul Walser of the Soil Conservation Service is chairman of the general committee and H. Walter Hammond, president, Texas Farm Bureau, is chairman of the Executive Board of the committee. E. C. Martin, state agriculture leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, serve as vice chairman and secretary of the groups.

The State committee is urging all Texans to not only observe the special week of July 25-31 but to make the other 51 weeks just as safe as humanly possible. Says Executive Board chairman Hammond: "It's a real challenge to every farm family. I have never yet met a farmer or a member of his family who wanted to get involved in an accident. The way to avoid them is practice prevention every day."

Chrysler Receives 1,700 Orders in Day

A general business upswing with a marked increase in interested prospects is reported by a group of Chrysler sales executives who have completed a series of meetings held in 16 major metropolitan U. S. markets, reports E. M. Braden, general sales manager, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Members of the group held meetings with Chrysler metropolitan dealer groups with a total membership of over 1,000 dealers to present Chrysler sales and merchandising plans for the remainder of 1954 and to learn at first hand from the dealers the problems currently encountered at the retail level.

"Generally speaking we found that dealers feel that all business is improving and that sales will tend to be better than was anticipated a few months ago," Braden said.

Traffic Judge Says Distractions Cause 75 Per Cent of Accidents

Distractions cause 75 per cent of all automobile accidents, according to a prominent woman traffic judge.

Window shopping, looking at pretty girls, settling squabbles among the children in the back seat, head-winding conversations with passengers, lighting a cigarette—these are the things that cause accidents, in the opinion of Judge Geraldine F. Macelwane of the Toledo, Ohio, Municipal Court.

Hearing 80 to 120 traffic violation cases a day, she qualifies as an expert on human behavior behind the wheel. In 1953, she heard 7,300 traffic cases.

"It takes only a second of distraction on the part of the driver to cause a serious injury or death," Judge Macelwane points out. "If a moving car is left unguided, even for a second, a serious accident can result."

She cited the example of a tearful and trembling young mother who recently appeared in her court. The mother had made the common mistake of allowing her small child to stand on the front seat beside her.

"As the driver of the car ahead signaled an intention to turn left, the child diverted the mother's attention for an instant—long enough for the car ahead to stop for oncoming traffic," Judge Macelwane said. "The woman crashed into it, the child required hospital treatment, and she was hailed into my court on a reckless driving charge."

Improving the driver's knowledge and attitudes is more important than punitive action in such cases, Judge Macelwane believes. "Although women can rally public support for enforcement and engineering advances, they can be even more effective in reducing accidents by focusing attention on more common dangers, like distraction," she says.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

by Lyndon B. Johnson U. S. SENATOR

Defense Bill: Defense appropriations of $28,861,584,486 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955, have been recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

That sum is $5,451,736,514 less than total appropriations for the current fiscal year. It is $1,025,470,514 below the budget estimate.

The recommended appropriation is equivalent to more than $170 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Aircraft: Committee hearings on the defense appropriations bill brought out the fact that aircraft procurement expenditures by the Air Force, Army and Navy will account for some 22 per cent of all defense spending in 1955.

This reflects continuing emphasis on building up our air power.

They all went to Seymour Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Mann Tackett.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bullion and Sam spent last Sunday in Abilene attending a family reunion.

Buster Laquey has recently left to enter the service.

Mrs. C. A. McNeese has returned home from the Crowell hospital where she spent several days.

Mrs. Clifford Ohr Jr. of Lubbock spent last week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Haynie, and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McRoberts, Mrs. Berg, Miss Patsy Owens, Mrs. Bill Owens and Miss Sharon Kincaid were Vernon visitors one day this past week.

Mrs. C. M. Guynn and Mrs. Oscar Solomon were Munday visitors several days this past week.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newt Bryant and girls, Mary and Betty, of O'Brien were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker, all of Truscott.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Turner visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Woodward in Knox City Sunday.

Another visitor in the home of the Woodward's were Ed L. Turner and family of Abilene.

Mrs. Frank Adcock accompanied Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Turner to Benjamin where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Young and family.

V. W. Browning was a Wichita Falls visitor Thursday.

During the current year, aircraft procurement expenditures are 20 per cent of total defense spending. Last year, the figure was 17 per cent.

By July 1, 1957, it is planned that the Air Force will be organized into 137 wings, of which 125 will be combat wings. The air arm of the Navy will include 16 carrier air groups and 15 carrier anti-submarine warfare squadrons. The Marine Corps will have three air wings.

Ships: Under terms of the bill, expenditures for shipbuilding will total approximately one billion dollars next year. That is about the same amount being spent this year.

At the end of June, 1955, the active fleet of the Navy will consist of 1,080 ships. Of these, 404 will be major combatant types—aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers, submarines, and so on—and 676 will be mine warfare, amphibious warfare, patrol, and auxiliary vessels.

Personnel: At the present time, we have approximately 3,330,000 men in our armed forces. That is a reduction of about 72,000 since the first of this year.

The Defense Department reports that it expects the total to be reduced to 3,047,000 by next June—1,173,000 in the Army, 970,000 in the Air Force, 689,000 in the Navy, and 215,000 in the Marine Corps. Only the Air Force will show an increase in manpower during the coming year.

When I served as chairman of the Senate Preparedness Committee, my investigations convinced me that there was a great waste of military manpower. I am glad to see efforts continued to cut out this waste. The Armed Forces are working to bring about a higher ratio of combat to non-combat personnel.

Training Cost: Average cost of training an Air Force pilot is $60,000. A B-47 pilot—cross-trained as a bombardier, navigator and radar operator—represents an investment of $210,000 for training alone.

Munition Cost: During the fiscal years from 1951 through the requested Defense Department appropriation for 1955, approximately $9,400,000,000 will have been spent for ammunition and explosives.

For Our Security: We have to face the fact that the cost of national security will remain high for many years to come. It is a price we must pay.

I believe the American people are willing to pay it. I believe, also, that they want the men representing them in Congress to keep a close watch on expenditures for military purposes. Wasteful and extravagant practices must be eliminated.

Over the long pull, economic strength is an indispensable prerequisite for military strength. Our economic strength, together with our faith in our free society, is the basic source of our military power. We must never forget that.

Interior Bill: I was much interested in the appropriation bill for the Department of the Interior, since I had made recommendations to the committee about several provisions of the bill.

I welcomed the opportunity to help bring about Senate adoption of my recommendations to insure adequate funds for enforcement of the Connally Hot Oil Act; for research in the utilization of salt water; for improvement and repair of the Inks Fish Hatchery near Burnet; and to prevent shutting down the Wichita Falls office of the Bureau of Mines.

Reciprocal Trade: The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act expired on June 12. The House has passed a bill extending the law for one year from that date, and action is expected in the Senate shortly.

I favor extending the law. Texas is a state which has always been prosperous in periods when world trade is operating at high levels and has always been hard hit when international trade barriers have become too high to surmount.

Primarily, Texas is a producing state. We must sell our production not merely to the rest of the United States but to the rest of the world. We must buy if we hope to sell—and Texas has much to sell.

New Construction: Spending for new construction will set an all-time high record of 36 billion dollars this year, predicts a report by the Commerce and Labor Departments. That would be 2 per cent more than the 1953 level, highest so far.

Residential and commercial construction is expected to be up, and so is building by religious and private educational institutions and by state and local governments. Federal spending for construction will be reduced, the report says.

One Nation Under God: Both houses of Congress passed, and the President signed, the resolution adding the words "under God" to the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The new wording was used for the first time in official Flag Day ceremonies, in which I was privileged to participate, at the Capitol on June 14.

Record Number of Employees The total number of employees of International Nickel and its subsidiaries at the year-end of 1954 was over 27,000, the highest in the company's history.

Over 500,000 people visit the Statue of Liberty every year.

Health Officer Warns Texans to Use Care in Handling Food

Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, warns that now that hot weather is here, everyone should be careful in handling and storing food to prevent food poisoning. The organism grows best in foods that are quite fatty, such as ham, pork, salads or sandwiches with rich dressings, cream pies, cream puffs, or any food with custard filling. Keep this in mind when you prepare a picnic lunch or when anyone in the family takes a lunch to work during the hot months.

Symptoms of food poisoning usually strike quickly and explosively, and those who do not eat the contaminated food do not become ill. Usually from one to four hours after eating contaminated food, victims feel ill. If it is a mild case of food poisoning, recovery usually begins in eight to 12 hours, but victims may feel the ill effects for several days.

Usual symptoms of food poisoning are diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, and weakness. Whenever you feel these symptoms, be sure to call your physician. Do not wait, hoping it will wear off. Sometimes food poisoning causes death. Careless handling of food before cooking or serving, improper home canning, storing food too long at room temperature, and improper heating of leftover foods are the main cause of contamination. So, in order to endanger your family's health and storing food. Never let or sore place on your hand. Never, don't take on a picnic pack in a lunch, fat meats, with egg dressings, cream cream puffs, or any food, custard filling, unless you keep them properly chilled serving.

Ground, Maryland. They will possibly continue preparatory training at The Signal School, Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. This preparatory schooling will last from a few weeks to several months, depending on the type of training and the complexity of the weapon, or part of weapon on which they will work.

Following preparatory schooling, actual atomic training will begin at Sandia Base, Albuquerque, N. M. Here, at the center of the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project, details of the amazing atomic weapons are learned. Graduates will repair the mechanical, electrical or electronic components of the weapons in this country's atomic arsenal.

"Such training will prepare qualified personnel for a future as promising as atomic energy itself," Sgt. Bailey said. He also emphasized that "volunteers are accepted for these courses before they enlist."

The recruiter further pointed out that women are eligible to apply for a number of the Army's 87 technical training courses.

High school graduates interested in this specialized training program are urged to contact the U. S. Army Recruiting Station at Childress, where they may obtain detailed information without obligation on their part on the Army's technical training program.

What Do You Know About Safe Driving?

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of questions and answers prepared by the Texas Safety Association, Inc., in their "Slow Down and Live" campaign.)

Test 2
Which of the three choices best completes the statement? Underline your choice. Correct answers are given under the test.

1. When approaching a curve on the highway, you should: (a) slow down going into the curve and speed up going out of it; (b) continue into the curve at the speed the car was going and apply the brakes only if necessary; (c) slow down before reaching the curve, depress the clutch and coast around the curve.

2. You are driving on a slippery surface and have to stop quickly. The best way to do this is: (a) pump the brake pedal; (b) slam the brakes on hard; (c) shift into low gear.

3. When a car's speed is increased from 35 to 70 miles an hour, the potential damage it can cause when striking another car is greater by: (a) twice; (b) four times; (c) three times.

4. The pleasure and satisfaction a driver gets from his car depends on: (a) how he drives and maintains it; (b) how fast it can go; (c) how much power it has.

5. The kind of driver you are depends mostly on: (a) the speed with which you react; (b) the condition of your car; (c) how you learned to drive.

6. When the school bus in front of you makes a stop to discharge passengers, you should: (a) slow down and pass if no children are crossing; (b) sound your horn and pass; (c) stop behind the bus, then proceed cautiously at a speed not to exceed 10 miles per hour.

7. Night accidents occur relatively more frequently than day accidents because: (a) visibility is reduced; (b) drivers are tired at night; (c) people drive faster at night than during the day.

8. A driver should realize when driving on a bump road that his (a) braking distance will be shorter than usual; (b) reaction time will be longer; (c) braking distance will be longer than usual.

9. When you "overdrive" your headlights: (a) you blind other drivers with your lights; (b) you are being very discourteous; (c) you cannot stop within the distance you can see.

10. When approaching the crest of a hill: (a) increase speed to make up for speed lost on the grade; (b) slow down; (c) continue at the same speed.

A MAGNIFICENT HOME
Along the lakefront of Chicago there is a lovely penthouse. Seventeen stories up, overlooking the lake, it is exquisitely furnished with art treasures and tasteful furniture chosen from all over the world. The rooms are magnificent — large and spacious, well-lighted and beautifully decorated. As you walk about them you feel that here is wealth and taste—an artistic temperament with the necessary wherewithal to choose from the world's best. Surely the owner of this penthouse and all these treasures had everything she could need for happiness in this world.

That penthouse belonged to Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett, who at 72 last May 2 plunged to her death from the patio outside her luxurious living quarters. Despondent, and feeling that life was not worth living any longer, Miss Bartlett, a wealthy spinster who had devoted much of her time to finding art treasures from many different countries, and who had poured thousands of dollars into financing art museums throughout the country, climbed onto the three-foot wall of the patio and threw herself into space. The coroner's verdict listed her death as suicide.

Someone has well said that money buys everything — except happiness; and is a passport to every place — except heaven. The poorest man in all the world is the one who has no home in eternity. The richest of all is the person who has made his peace with God by accepting Jesus Christ, and who has thus been assured of a heavenly home forevermore.

There is no housing shortage in heaven. Jesus said: "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would

Contaminated Water Can Ruin Family's Summer Vacation

One of the most important factors contributing to the well-being of summer vacationists is a safe and healthful water supply. Contaminated water is the annual cause of much sickness and many fatalities. Water from sources not known to be safe should never be used to supply vacation needs.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, stated this week that most municipal water supplies in Texas are periodically inspected and samples submitted to the State or local public health laboratories for examination. He advised that it is always best, when in doubt, to endeavor to secure water from a municipal supply.

"Families away from home on picnics, excursions, or vacation trips," Dr. Holle said, "should either ascertain that their water supply is safe or they should make it safe for human consumption. Water can be rendered safe by boiling for 15 minutes or by the addition of chlorine. A few ounces of ordinary chlorine bleach can be added to a gallon of clear water and if the water is allowed to stand for 15 minutes it may be used for drinking.

If drinking water is obtained from a private well, Dr. Holle advised vacationists to look for these protective features: A site protected from flooding; a platform surrounding the well; a pump mounted on the platform top through packing, and enter through a turned-down pipe; a platform surrounding the well; a pump mounted on the platform top through packing, and enter through a turned-down pipe; a platform surrounding the well; a pump mounted on the platform top through packing, and enter through a turned-down pipe.
