

Best Load of Foard County's 1956 Wheat Crop Brought in Wednesday of Last Week; Harvest Now in Full Swing

Harvesting of Foard County's wheat crop got under way last week and the yield per acre and the quality of the grain is far beyond expectations of the most optimistic.

The cool, and at times, damp weather during the past six or eight weeks, has been a great factor in bringing to maturity the wheat crop now being harvested.

The general yield on probably 50 per cent of the crop is around 16 to 20 bushels per acre. However, some yields are as high as 40 bushels per acre and as low as 6 or 7 bushels. The test is 60 or above and as high as 63.

The first load of the 1956 Foard County wheat crop arrived at the Foard County Mill here at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon of last week, May 16. The load contained 104 bushels, tested 60 pounds, with a moisture test of 14.4.

The wheat was grown on a 60-acre tract, north of Crowell. The land is leased by W. B. Johnson and farmed by Glendon Russell.

Rudolph Pechacek brought the first '56 wheat to the Farmers Elevator in Crowell about 5:30 the same afternoon. It was a 90-bushel load, tested 60 with a moisture test of 14. The Rosetta variety, it averaged 16 bushels per acre on the 60-acre block, which was finished cutting on Friday. Mr. Pechacek sold it to the Farmers Elevator for $2.00 per bushel, with a 15 cent per bushel bonus on the first load.

First Load at Truscott
The first load of 1956 wheat for the Farmers Elevator in Truscott was also received Wednesday afternoon, Lester Hickman, manager, reported. The wheat was grown by J. G. Adecock, one-half mile east of Truscott, and contained 60 bushels. It had a moisture test of 62 pounds and a moisture test of 12.92.

311,000 Bushels Wednesday
The elevators of Crowell, Farmers Co-Op, and Foard County Mill, reported they had received 311,000 bushels of wheat up to Wednesday noon.

Mrs. J. N. Bryson Buried Here Last Wednesday

Bryson, 82, pioneer resident of Foard County, was laid to rest in the Crowell Cemetery Wednesday afternoon, May 16, following funeral services conducted at the Methodist Church by her nephew, Rev. Vernon Henderson of Brownwood, assisted by Rev. Grady Adecock and Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald. Womack Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

World War II Veteran
His own request, his draft was moved up three that he might be in the draft contingent to leave County in World War II, his first training in food. He entered officers' school at Fort Sill, August, 1942, and early he was commissioned a lieutenant in the Army Artillery of the United States. He spent the rest of his service as a cargo officer on supply ships.

A LETTER TO THE SENIORS

You seniors aren't in CHS today. You're in Galveston on the senior trip and probably having one of the best times of your lives—one last good time together before you scatter to enter colleges and take up jobs all over the nation; some never to see each other again.

We'll miss you next year, but not for long, because we'll be caught up in the wonderful whirl of football games and banquets and all the other things that make up our high school lives. But today the halls seem empty, the campus bare. Today there are empty desks in CHS and empty places in our hearts.

No one knows what the future holds for you. No one knows what decisions you will have to make. It's a frightening time in a way. The past with all its memories and carefree happiness seems to reach out and make you want to cling to things near and dear. At the same time the future beckons with its bright promises of things to come. There is no holding back. You must go forward with heads high to meet the metamorphosis that will transform you from boys and girls into men and women.

We at CHS can only hope that your decisions will be the right ones and that your futures will be filled with love and laughter and all the things that make life worth living.

MRS. HART RETIRES

When the school bells ring out this fall, it will be the first time in over half a century that Mrs. Carrie Hart will not answer their summons. Since the time when Mrs. Hart, then a little girl with two uncles who were teachers, arranged her dolls in a neat row and solemnly began to teach them their ABC's, she has had one ambition—to be a teacher.

She attained that goal and secured her first teaching position in 1901. There is no way of knowing how many lives have been influenced by this remarkable woman since. Today, Mrs. Hart is teaching the grandchildren of former pupils, and each Christmas finds her mail box overflowing with cards from people in every walk of life and every state in the union. One of her ex-students whom we are all familiar with is Mrs. Lena Davis, who went on to become a teacher, too, has taught in Crowell for many years.

In 1911, "Miss Carrie," as Mrs. Davis says, married A. S. Hart, Crowell druggist and moved to Rockwood, Texas, where she lived until 1942, except for one year spent teaching in high school, she has taught the primary grades.

Not content with her education, Miss Carrie returned to college and received her B. A. degree in 1945, the same year that her only son, Jim, received his degree from Texas Tech. Among the many fine colleges that she has attended are Denton State College, Sul Ross, Texas Tech, and the University of Texas.

Mrs. Hart is enthusiastic over the progress made in public education during her career, and she looks forward to seeing even better schools in the future.

When asked how she managed to keep looking so young, she seemed embarrassed, then said, "It is part of my philosophy of life that if it will help to worry about something, then it is all right to worry about it, but if nothing can be done, then it is foolish to worry." Mrs. Hart also believes that it does many times more good to commend a child than to reprimand him. She puts this belief into daily use, and her pupils love and respect her for it. Miss Carrie teaches her students much more than how to read and write; she teaches them honesty, self control, and fair play, for she feels that the main aim of education is character building.

A member of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Hart is active in the Missionary Society and sings in the choir. During her full life, her favorite scripture, the 23rd Psalm, has encouraged and strengthened her.

Due to ill health, Mrs. Hart is forced to retire next year, but her future is bright with plans. She has always had one problem—there never seems to be enough time to do all the things that she would like to do.

This summer she will spend with her son in Columbia, Mo., where he will be working on his doctorate. Jim Hart has followed in his mother's footsteps and is teaching journalism at the University of Illinois. Mrs. Hart plans to devote some of her time to club work. Reading is her hobby, and she hopes to read some of the books that she has always wanted to read. Mrs. Hart also wants to do some traveling and to visit some of her many friends.

We salute you, Mrs. Hart, for carrying out your life's work with a personal charm and grace that underscores your place as one of the outstanding teachers whose example and influence will persist to benefit generations who come after you.

NEW SWIMMING POOL

Opening of the new swimming pool will probably bring a new rush for one of the most popular sports and one that ranks high

Jane Wyman and Rock Hudson as they appear in a romantic scene from Universal-International's "All That Heaven Allows." Douglas Sirk directed the new Technicolor film which was produced by Ross Hunter. The picture will be shown on the Rialto Theatre screen Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 29, 30 and 31.

in building strong bodies. Swimming exercises all the muscles and gives a feeling of animation. Outdoor pools offer sunshine, a great producer of vitamin D. This vitamin chases impurities from our system.

The well supervised pool greatly reduces hazards. Most of the drownings occur in tanks, creeks and other lonely spots. These tragedies emphasize the need to have children taught to swim at an early age. Inexpensive classes which will be taught at our pool during the summer will be a convenient way to gain this valuable skill and safety insurance. Eventually we may be able to gain the coveted life guard pin.

It is an asset that our school has been able to help in the building of this pool. To offer swimming in our own pool is a welcome stride in making Crowell children healthier and stronger people and safer against mishaps in water. If each school made the ability to swim a certain distance one of the requirements of graduation, this would lessen many tragedies of swimming.

MY SENIOR YEAR

My senior year has turned out to be exactly what I expected—"loads" of fun and "lots" of work.

During this year I have worked harder than any other of my school years, not on English and algebra, but on the "Wildcat," the annual staff, senior trip activities, and so forth.

Last year I was the art editor of the annual staff; this year I am a business manager. That alone is more work than the previous year's, but I also helped with the art work.

This year I was the chief editor of the Wildcat, our school paper, not just a reporter. I have enjoyed the job immensely, but it was much easier just to write. But is there any progress for one who is afraid of work?

Ah, yes—my senior activities. I never realized before just how much effort was involved with a senior trip. Bakery sales, senior stand—even collecting and selling old paper. One thing that I have really gained from this type of work is all the acquaintances that I have made.

The previous line is associated with all the work this year. While peddling and doing that many things this senior year, I met and made many new friends, people who have lived in Crowell all their lives, but whom I had never had the opportunity to meet. And isn't there an old adage, something about "the more friends, the fuller the life," or "one is a composite of all the friends he has." Either way, I feel that I have gained a great deal this year.

STUDENT COUNCIL DRAFTS CONSTITUTION

The Student Council of CHS, which has been recently organized, is sponsored by Marvin Myers. The council has been very busy drawing up its constitution.

Mr. Myers stated that the Student Council hoped to be so well organized by next year that it will be able to carry responsibility. Its purpose is the furthering of the interests of the high school, the assumption of some of the administrative problems, the development of a sense of responsibility in the students, and the creation of a closer and more friendly relationship between the students and faculty.

CHUCK WAGON SUPPER

At 6 p. m. Tuesday afternoon four Homemaking III girls prepared and served a delicious chuck wagon meal to several guests.

After the guests went through a race of Good Guys and Bad Guys, they were served by Dana "Wild Bill" Roberts, DeAnna "Alkali" Ferguson, Anna "Foxy" Fiske and Layoy "Gabby" Rummel.

The meal consisted of Doggies in Toasted Buns, Little Tex Sauce, Texas Fries, Cowpuncher Sticks, Horseshoe Cake, and Muddy Water, all of which were enjoyed by the following guests: Sandra Choate, Jo Ann Fox, Jo Helen Aly, Wilma Polk, Pat Cates, Louise Gordon, Mrs. Gilbert Choate, Mrs. August Rummel, Mrs. Doyle Kenner, FHA advisor, and the four hostesses.

JOTTINGS BY JAN AND MARKINGS BY MARKETTA

Well, the time for summing up has come. We can look back over an "almost completed" school year and perhaps learn a few lessons and glean a few ideas for the future. Especially sophomores and juniors might stop and "take stock" to see just what has been accomplished in contrast to what might have been, and set up next year's goals accordingly.

One problem, ball consideration, should be practiced next year—less noise such as banging lockers. The way that some students (and I mean only some) drive around school is really terrible. It seems that something very definite should be done about poor driving—ignoring stop signs, speeding, and being generally discourteous to other drivers. Maybe something could also be done about keeping paper and other litter off the campus and out of the classroom. It's all up to y'all who "remain."

Thanks are in order for the new Student Council which will work for the improvement of the school; the wizards (the pep squad) for the support that they Austin, Tex. — Record turnouts at this year's precinct conventions produced a surprising by-product—a flood of suggestions for election law changes.

County convention resolutions sent the Secretary of State's office reflect interest at the grassroots in giving more power to the people and less to the pros.

Ector County Democrats charged the party has become "of . . . by . . . and for the politicians." They passed a resolution to prohibit any officeholder, state or federal employe from being a national convention delegate.

Yoakum and Harrison County conventions recommended preferential primaries for presidential nominees.

A number of resolutions were aimed at forcing conservative Democrats into becoming Republicans. Two counties, Swisher and Wilson, resolved that voters be required to register party preferences when they pay poll taxes.

Gray County Democrats also took a dim view of present procedures. Something is wrong, they said, when admitted Republicans are so scarce they can hold "pre-ent conventions in a telephone booth" yet carry the state in a general election.

AMERICAN GUARANTY CLEARED — Two Austin corporations, American Guaranty Underwriters and the Karisch Co., have been cleared of charges of violating the state securities act.

In an agreed judgment, the firms were absolved of any wrongdoing.

The judgment directed American Guaranty to refrain from reselling its own stock. It also was directed to call in, and require payment within 60 days, loans made to Aviation Finance Co. and Metropolitan Finance Co., both of San Antonio.

There was no allegation of insolvency involved.

Calvin C. Huffman, Austin attorney, is president of American Guaranty. He is a former newspaper publisher from Eagle Pass.

STATE MAY SUE SALESMEN — Civil recovery suits may yet be filed against the salesmen of the Certified Drafts of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty Co.

At the request of the Insurance Department's liquidation division, the attorney general is preparing a ruling on the legality of such suits.

Testimony from buyers would be the basis of charges.

INSURANCE DEADLINE NEARS — Some 120 insurance companies have yet to meet the legal requirements for annual permits to do business in Texas.

The Insurance Commission has indicated that it will take prompt action toward closing the firms that fail to make the June 1 deadline. The firms include 20 stock life insurance companies and 100 mutuals of various sorts. Most are small concerns.

Farm Tractors Can Be Killers

Farm tractor accidents now take more than 1,000 lives annually. A great majority of these lives could have been saved, says Joe Burkett, county agent, if the tractor had been operated with care and foresight.

From now until "lay-by time" the farm tractor will be the workhorse on most farms. Operators will spend long hours plowing, plowing, applying insecticides and performing the many other jobs now done with a tractor. Use the tractor safely. Be sure operators are properly instructed and supervised and always remember, that fatigue is often a factor in farm accidents.

Excessive speed is the number one cause of tractor accidents. The improper use of wheel brakes, rough roads or a quick turn can bring tragedy if the speed is too high.

Far too many teen-age tractor operators are involved in accidents. Work with these youngsters and give them instructions and supervision until they are fully qualified. A tractor cannot carry extra passengers safely and ranking high as a cause of accidents is the extra rider. Children, in particular, often meet with serious injury or death as extra riders.

About a third of tractor fatalities occur on public roads while many more happen on private lanes and drives. Mile for mile, of my commission on these sales to the land board," hence the refund.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd said, as to the commissions, "There is no allegation of fraud involved."

ANTI-TB WAR LAUNCHED — A 10-year "total war" against tuberculosis is under way in Texas. There are 20,000 active cases in the state, not including an estimated three per cent of the wetbacks who enter the state illegally.

Strategy was mapped in Austin by some 300 health experts and laymen. They met under auspices of the Texas Tuberculosis Association.

Out of discussions came 20 recommendations for "killing the killer." Included were (1) intensified efforts to find and treat tuberculars, (2) increased aid to dependents of TB victims, and (3) more incentive to medical personnel to work in TB hospitals.

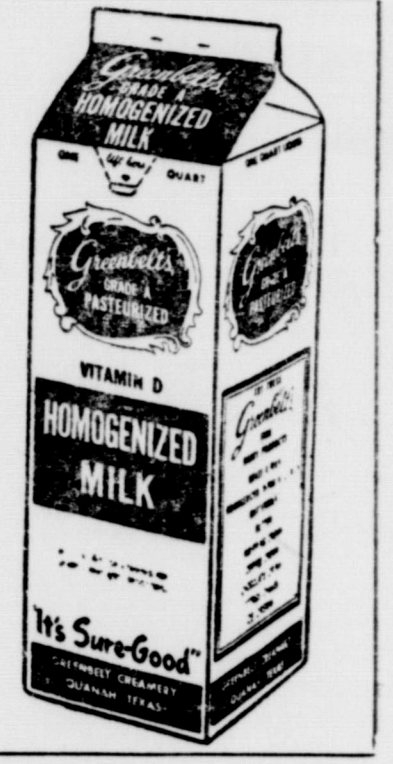

it is safer, points out the agent, to operate a car on public roads than a tractor. The heavier the traffic, the greater the hazard. Plan farm work so as to reduce the exposure of slow-moving tractors and farm machinery to traffic hazards. If machinery must be on the road after dark, be sure it is properly lighted. White lights on the front and red lights on the rear. Reflective material applied to tractors and machinery is an added safeguard. A red flag to warn motorists of slow-moving equipment during daylight hours is also another safeguard.

But above all, cautions Burkett, think before doing any job with the tractor. It can be a killer.

Gregg Lawrence, 74, brother-in-law of Mrs. C. E. Gafford of Crowell and a rancher and land owner in Matagorda County for 32 years, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon, May 16, at 5:45.

Mr. Lawrence, who, with his wife had lived at their Sugar Valley ranch for years, had suffered a severe heart attack several months ago, but was apparently in fair health and able to be up and about as usual at the time of his death.

Funeral services were from Taylor Bros. Funeral Home Friday morning at 10 o'clock with Arden Lawrence, pastor of the Church of Christ, officiating.

Mr. Lawrence is survived by his wife and one son, Ira, of Bay City, Mrs. Lawrence is the former Miss Allie Tuttle, daughter of a pioneer Foard County couple.

Boys Ranch, founded by Cal Farley of Amarillo, has provided homes for youngsters who, for various reasons, were homeless and needed help. They have a small city which is almost without fire protection. This fact was borne out some time ago during a fire which destroyed their barn, along with a great deal of feed.

All efforts to battle the lack of proved futile because of the lack of a dependable piece of fire apparatus.

The Crowell Volunteer Fire Department is a member of this organization. Contributions will come from members and anyone else who desires to help a worthy cause.

First Meeting Held of New Group of Dealers

Members of the Lower Peace River Dealer-District Conservation Program held their first meeting at the Dinner Bell Cafe in Quanah on Monday night with Garland Turner of the Turner Farm Supply in Quanah, president, in charge.

This is the first Dealer-District Program organization to be formed in the Panhandle of Texas and its membership includes all the farm equipment dealers of Hardeman and Foard counties, which makes up the Lower Peace River Soil Conservation District.

Dealers present were: Mr. Turner; Clinton McLain of Crowell, vice president; Jack Sims of Chillicothe, secretary; and Percy Stevens of Chillicothe, and Leonard French, U. H. Joiner and D. L. Hickey, all of Quanah.

Others present were John Thornbury of Quanah, district field man of the John Deere Plow Co.; O. T. Holmes and W. C. Howard, supervisors of the Lower Peace River Soil Conservation District; and Bomer Harris of the Soil Conservation Service.

Purpose of the meeting was to ascertain how implement dealers can work with the district supervisors "to encourage closer cooperation between farm equipment dealers and soil conservation officials in helping farmers and ranchers improve their income by developing and conserving their soil and water resources in all parts of the country."

The above objective was mapped for implement dealers by the National Retail Farm Equipment Association, the Farm Equipment Institute and the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

The dealer-district organization is a nation-wide program and when each implement dealer has carried out the objectives of the organization, such as interviewing five conservation farmers, conducting a field demonstration of conservation practices, participating in joint meetings with the district governing body to help farmers with their conservation work, maintain a continuous display of conservation booklets, show conservation films to farmer audiences, attending meetings with district governing body, visit the local S. C. D. office, and participate in tours of conservation farms arranged by the local district they will be given recognition.

When the first three objectives listed above have been completed and two of the remaining four have been carried out, the implement dealer will be certified by the local district board of supervisors and be presented a beautiful conservation award.

The Dealer-District group will hold their second meeting on Monday night, June 25, in Quanah.

Crowell-Seymour Road Opposed by Baylor Farmers

(The following article appeared in last week's issue of the Baylor County Banner. As it concerns the Crowell-Seymour road, the News thought it might be of interest to Foard County readers.)

"The long-proposed highway connecting link from Crowell to Seymour was the subject of discussion Monday afternoon when a group of farmers met with the commissioners court in an effort to block the newly proposed route.

"Within the last few weeks the State Highway Department's office in Seymour has completed a survey of the route and turned the right-of-way deeds over to the court for their decision. The court had appointed L. D. Jones and L. O. Newton as a committee to contact the Waggoner Estate in Vernon to see what arrangements could be made with them to let the highway cross their property in the north part of the county. County Judge J. F. Lester said he did not know the farm group would be in attendance until he returned from lunch to find them present. Also in the group were several Seymour men working for the highway.

"The highway as proposed now, leaves Seymour by the Lake Kemp road, turning to the northwest one mile north of the end of the present Lake Road pavement. In its northwesterly angle it cuts across farm land belonging to Charlie Peck, Glenn Miller, R. F. Hewitt, and possibly others before entering the Waggoner property.

TELEVISION NEWS

WHAT'S just around the corner for us in television field? According to the experts here's what is coming up right away: Portable TV's. Several of the manufacturers have already announced their small, portable sets. RCA makes a set with an eight inch screen (the entire set is about size of a Model T headlight!); Admiral has just announced a ten inch screen model. G. E. has just announced a 14 inch portable for quite some time. Other manufacturers have promised portables of 17 inch sizes. So far they all have two things in common. They are small and light, and they're very little in them; and they are not actually designed to operate in the fringe areas.

Regarding color TV: Next month (June) is expected to be "kick-off" month for color TV. One of the objections—during the past year—to buying color TV has been not enough color programming—enough color shows. Every week day "Afternoon inee" is in color (full hour show); so is the "Doody" show each week day afternoon at 3:30. We've had only a few night shows in color. Much color is predicted soon, with possibility of strong for at least one color show each night. Good are the sets? They're wonderful instruments. Expensive, yes, but with more color shows, you're seeing more and more sets here in Crowell, for color in TV—as in home movies—is terrific!

Sincerely, Marion Crowell.

THIS WEEK -In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

The Soil Bank proposal has had such speedy and enthusiastic acceptance in Washington that there has been little time to figure out how it would affect the average farmer.

To get a reliable estimate on the practical application of the program we have talked with Agriculture Department officials, congressmen and farm leaders. Not all of them agree on details.

Some call it a scheme for paying farmers not to produce. Others describe it as an investment in storing soil fertility against the time when our growing population will need the full productivity of all of our land.

The plan has two objectives: To reduce surpluses now and to store soil fertility for future use. It includes an appropriation of $1.2 billion a year as the Federal share of the cost of operation. Administrative details are left to the Secretary of Agriculture.

The Bank has two main parts. One is an Acreage Reserve, the other a Conservation Reserve. In both cases farmers would get government payments for taking land out of cultivation.

Acreage Reserve: Objective is to take 15,000,000 additional acres out of crops now in surplus, including cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco. Farmers who agree to underplant their allotments would receive government certificates that could be cashed or exchanged for commodities owned by CCC.

The value of the certificates would be set by the Secretary and based on a percentage of the normal crop yields of the land put into the Acreage Reserve. The Secretary also would set the minimum and maximum percentages by which each crop allotment could be reduced in order to qualify for payments.

Farmers would have to agree not to plant the land in other crops, to cut hay from it or to graze it. Growers would be encouraged to sign up for more than one year. Congress has estimated the maximum cost of the Acreage Reserve program at $750 million a year.

Conservation Reserve: Provides for cash payments to farmers for taking land out of non-allotment crops and converting it to grasses, legumes, timber or other conservation practices. This land could not be grazed, or hay cut from it.

To qualify each farmer would have to sign a contract extending at least through January 1, 1959, not to graze or grow crops on the land taken out. The government would pay most of the cost of putting in conservation work.

In addition to initial cost payments, farmers would receive annual rental payments based on a percentage of the normal income from the land over a previous number of years. This probably would average about $15 an acre per year.

At the start of each year the Secretary would announce a National Conservation Reserve acreage goal and the minimum and maximum percentages of crop land that could be put into the program. Cost of the Conservation Reserve program is estimated at $450 million a year.

Mrs. Davis was situated in Grand Central Station. Time drew near to board her train, so she asked a redcap which direction would take her to the train she wished to ride.
"Turn left and you'll be right,"
said the redcap.
"Don't act so fresh, young man," snapped Mrs. Davis.
"O. K., lady, have it your way," answered the redcap. "Turn right and you'll be left."

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN
Those of you who didn't go to Quannah last Friday to hear Mrs.
Janie Scott's talk really missed a treat. I think we all enjoyed it and I'm sorry more of you were not able to attend. Those going from Foard County were Miss Myrtle Fish, Miss Neoma
Fish, Mrs. Allen Fish, Mrs. Arthur Sandlin, Mrs. Herman Kinche-loe, Mrs. Alton Abston, Mrs. Baylor Weatherred, Mrs. S. H. Ross.
Let's all make an effort to attend the swimming pool opening this Friday, May 25, at 11:30 a.
m. and don't forget each family is to bring 12 sandwiches. By the way, remember that warm weather increases the danger of food poisoning. If you are going to make your sandwiches very early that morning you might want to make them dry and just meat and bread or cheese or jelly and then add salad dressing, etc., after you get here. Ham, ground meats, chicken salad, tuna fish, and chopped egg are "red flag" foods if not properly refrigerated. Mayonnaise and salad dressings on sandwiches are always dangerous if not properly refrigerated.
The season for bagworms is at hand and the time to control them effectively is while they are small, as chemical controls do no good if applied after the worms are grown.
The worms hatch in the late spring or early summer and larvae feed on the foliage of ornamental plants. The young worms spin a silk sack and attaches bits of leaves to it as it feeds. The bag is carried by the worm wherever it goes and the bag produced by a full grown worm may be from one and a half to two inches long.
The female bagworm crawls from the bag and dies after depositing her eggs. The bags should be picked from infested plants and burned for the eggs for next season's worms go through the winter in the bags. Either chlodane or toxaphene as a 10 per cent dust is recommended. For a spray, 40 per cent chlordane emulsion concentrate or toxaphene, 60 per cent emulsion, applied at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water will give good control if used while the worms are small. Lead arsenate used at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water also is a good spray.
I have in my office copies of L199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants.
It lists controls for insects which
