Teachers Endorse Amendment No. 4

The Crowell Classroom Teachers Association, with Mrs. Newell Hofmann as president, is asking the support of Amendment No. 4 in the general election next Tuesday. This amendment would modernize the Texas Teacher Retirement System adopted during a late depression year.

Teachers Endorse Amendment No. 4

Although there is no serious shortage of teachers locally at the present time, there certainly is a shortage throughout the state and nation. According to Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson, it would take half of the present college students to take care of this shortage. Seven thousand teachers must be hired every year to replace the trained persons leaving the teaching profession in Texas. Another 4,000 must be recruited to handle an enrollment that annually increases by 100,000.

Teachers Endorse Amendment No. 4

Amendment No. 4 would increase the security, prestige and attractiveness of teaching as a profession, thus easing the task of teacher recruitment. It would also encourage teachers to stay on the job, despite the better pay and other inducements offered by private employers.

Teachers Endorse Amendment No. 4

Teachers could contribute six per cent of their pay, compared to a present maximum of five per cent. The state would match this additional one per cent. Teachers retiring at 60, after 20 years of service, would qualify for a minimum monthly payment of $100, compared to present amounts ranging much less than half that amount. Compensation for death or disability would be added.

In conjunction with the marching contest, the region twirling contest will also be held in Wichita Falls. All of the twirlers in the Wildcat band will participate. These include Nelda Brooks, Jerry Fairchild, Jeanie Johnson, Betty Knox and Sandra Sanders.

Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director, was advised this week of the designation of Farmers Home Administration to execute certification forms in connection with reduced freight rates recently worked out between the President and railroad representatives to further assist farmers and stockmen in drought stricken areas. ## CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

The eight constitutional amendments to be voted on appear below the names of candidates. Gist of the amendments and arguments pro and con follow:

1. Authorizes the legislature to compensate persons fined or imprisoned for crimes they did not commit. Pro: Would make amends for hardships unjustly imposed on the innocent. Con: Might open the door to numerous fraudulent claims.

2. Allows county commissioners courts to vary allocations of tax money without special elections. Pro: Greater flexibility would make for greater efficiency in county financial management. Con: Commissioners courts would have too much authority.

3. Adds other colleges to the building program financed by the University of Texas Permanent Fund and authorizes investment of the fund in corporate stocks and bonds as well as government bonds. Pro: Would provide an increase in college building money without new taxes. Con: Risk involved in wider investments is not worth the possible return.

4. Increases the benefits of the teacher retirement system. Pro: Would attract more persons to the dwindling profession. Con: Would increase taxpayer obligations by $4,500,000, take a larger nick out of teachers' salaries.

5. Authorizes another $100,000,000 bond issue for veterans land buying. Pro: Program has been put in order, and additional money is needed to enable more veterans to participate. Con: Program does not merit public confidence; only about one per cent of Texas veterans have benefitted.

6. Provides a different oath of office form for elective and appointive officials. Pro: Would clarify present inconsistencies. Con: Clutters constitution with minor details.

7. Requires competent medical or psychiatric testimony before commitment of a person to a mental institution and allows waiver of jury trial, except in criminal cases. Pro: A mentally ill person should not be "convicted" as a criminal. Con: Jury trial is a safeguard against "railroading" of persons into mental institutions.

8. Permits judge to deny bail to persons convicted of two previous felonies. Pro: Would curb habitual criminals. Con: Right of bail is one of our fundamental civil rights.

THE NIGHT BEFORE
Does anyone know the real meaning of Halloween? No? I didn't think you did—not after what I saw last night.
As a matter of fact, I saw so many contradictory occurrences last night that I doubt if anyone knows the real origin of Halloween.

Some ambitious youth of today are reverting to the earlier meaning by collecting money for the church. Still others become expert "panhandlers" in order to gain the personal riches of "trick-or-treating," and then there are those that we don't like to talk about—the ones who turn Halloween into a night of anxiety for the home owners who lose a night's sleep lest some costly damage fall their lot to repair.

I just got to thinking—thinking about qualities that make up an ideal girl or boy—wondered what some one else thought too—so asked a boy and girl to write down those traits of character that they admired most in the opposite sex. Printed below is what they turned up with.

NATIONAL SECURITY

When the voters go to the polls on November 6 to choose the man to be Commander-in-Chief of all the armed forces of this Nation, the safety of our whole Nation will be in their hands.

To think of war is not a desire for a war; but life itself is a continuous war with some kind of calamity such as sickness, disease, or melancholia state of mind.

The Commander-in-Chief of our Nation should be thoroughly experienced in the rudiment of war; if we expect to remain as a free Nation combatting a world of Communism which will destroy our very own way of life.

ness," and that the other is for the "little man." As a matter of fact, it is the "little men"—as stockholders—who own and control big business in this country.

The U. S. will have a gross national income of about $400 billion this year, but there are far fewer millionaires than there were in 1920, or in 1930, when national income was only a fraction of that amount.

There are certain fundamental trends that surmount politics. One of those which has more long-time importance than is generally recognized, I call the "Financial Revolution."

The financial revolution in the United States is, however, producing results which are second in importance only to the industrial revolution.

Wages of unskilled laborers, for example, have increased from an average of $3.04 per 8-hour day 30 years ago, to $11.00 per day.

The tremendously costly political campaigns have been largely financed by small contributions. Unions affiliated with the AFL-CIO asked their members to contribute $1 each to their political funds.

Recently, I attended a church revival meeting in a predominantly laboring area of St. Louis. The evangelist raised about $80,000 without much effort.

I then said to myself, "This is the result of the financial revolution."

Thanks God for His Accident

During World War I, William Francis, now 62, of New York State, had a shell burst near him; shortly after he lost his sight.

About a year ago he was riding in a car driven by the courthouse superintendent. While stopped for a red light, their car was rammed by another car.

"I felt as if something went into my left eye. I began to see out of it that night in the hospital," he said, "I went home the next day, and all that night I kept turning on lights. I could see them!"

An eye specialist said, "It could be that the shock of the head injury helped his sight."

"I'm so happy I am almost crazy," exclaimed Francis. "I can see! All I could do before was to hear footsteps; now I can see God's light. It is wonderful! Praise God!"

"Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun," said the wise man of old (Ecclesiastes 11:7).

It is wonderful for a person to behold the sun; but it is much more wonderful for one to behold the Son who said, "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness" (John 12:46).

It comes as a great shock to the average person to discover he is blind spiritually and cannot see where he is going.

What a joy to turn to the Lord Jesus Christ in faith and be able to say, "I can see that God loves me—Christ died and rose for me—He is now in the glory representing me—He will come again and take me, along with all others who have trusted Him, to the Father's house, the place of many mansions. Blessed be His name!"

Duck and Goose Season to Begin Friday Morning

Prospects for the waterfowl season opening in Texas at one half hour before sunrise tomorrow, November 2, were described as "promising" by H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the situation represented strange angles since the migrating duck and goose population "seems to be tremendous" but that the flocks may not be able to occupy many favorite wintering areas because of fresh water shortage.

The most acutely dry area now, said Mr. Dodgen, "is the Upper Texas Gulf Coast where unfortunately there is such a great concentration of hunters. If we can get some substantial rains right away, the incoming birds will stop at their old haunts because feed there is reported adequate."

He said "the back country hunter" apparently will get some breaks since recent rains filled up tanks, tanks and small streams "which are always irresistible to touring ducks and geese."

The duck and goose seasons open simultaneously this fall, with the sixty day goose season closing on December 31, while the duck season comprising seventy-five days continues through Jan. 15.

Regulations otherwise are identical with last year—five ducks a day, ten in possession; five geese a day and five in possession; daily hunting from one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The goose regulation stipulates that the daily possession limit "shall not contain more than two Canada geese, or its subspecies or two whitefront geese, or one of each."

Car Inspections Behind Schedule

Texas motorists are exercising the old American custom of putting off until tomorrow what ought to be done today and Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety has expressed some concern that the practice is responsible for considerable lagging in the state's motor vehicle inspection program.

The first month of the new inspection period ended on Oct. 15 and Garrison noted that only 4 per cent of the registered vehicles have been inspected. The period runs through April 15, 1957.

"The inspection period embraces a full seven months," Garrison said, "and that means that a minimum of 14 per cent of the cars must be checked each month in order to avoid unnecessary rushes on the inspection stations in the final weeks of the period."

Meanwhile, George W. Busby, DPS Motor Vehicle Inspection Division Chief, reported that a total of 3,663,000 cars were inspected during the year which ended last September 14. Of these, slightly more than 1 1/2 million, or 43 per cent needed some adjustment or repair before meeting the approved standards.

The most common defect found by the State's more than 4,200 licensed inspection stations during the year was in 29 per cent of the cars which needed headlights adjusted or repaired, Busby announced.

He said the second most frequent mechanical deficiency was the 10 per cent of cars which required adjustment or repairs of foot brakes.

The Washington Monument is 555 feet high.

Erring Hunters Fined Heavily

For the benefit of itchy-fingered hunters eager for the major fall harvest seasons to get underway, E. M. Sprott, director of Law Enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission, called attention to some compromising and costly experiences of some careless gunners.

Seventy-six persons were listed in the monthly arrest report as having hunted out of season, or too early or too late. Thirty-five of these, including some who took more than the law allows, lost their hunting rights for one year, in addition to paying substantial fines.

Mr. Sprott called particular attention to another common error—that of hunting from an automobile. Forty-six persons were charged with that offense in the combined report from field men. Exceeding the bag limit on doves brought cash penalties against 24 persons.

The unlucky number was "3" for two clusters of offenders. Three men from Three Rivers paid a total of $300 in fines plus court costs for shooting wild turkey out of season. Three men from Willis paid $300 in fines plus court costs for "telephoning" fish. Eight persons in all were fined for using this illegal shocking device to take fish.

The largest fine average was for pollution. Ten cases brought levies of $800 plus court costs.

Looking ahead to the coming major harvests, the Director said his best advice to the "sportsmen" is to keep your shotgun plugged, shoot within the legal hours, watch the limits, beware shooting from cars and from public roads, always obtain landowners' permission to hunt and, above all, to contact the local game warden if in any doubt about any phase of the hunting periods.

special election on Nov. 13. Each amendment will be printed on the ballot twice—once preceded by FOR and once by AGAINST. Voters must mark out the statement they oppose and leave the other clear.

Gist of the amendments and arguments pro and con:

1. Authorizes the legislature to compensate persons fined or imprisoned for crimes they did not commit. Pro: Would make amends for hardships unjustly imposed on the innocent. Con: Might open the door to numerous fraudulent claims.

2. Allows county commissioners courts to vary allocations of tax money without special elections. Pro: Greater flexibility would make for greater efficiency in county financial management. Con: Commissioners courts would have too much authority.

3. Adds other colleges to the building program financed by the University of Texas Permanent Fund and authorizes investment of the fund in corporate stocks and bonds as well as government bonds. Pro: Would provide an increase in college building money without new taxes. Con: Risk involved in wider investments is not worth the possible return.

4. Increases the benefits of the teacher retirement system. Pro: Would attract more persons to the dwindling profession. Con:

Would increase taxpayer obligations by $4,500,000, take a larger nick out of teachers' salaries.

5. Authorizes another $100,000,000 bond issue for veterans land buying. Pro: Program has been put in order, and additional money is needed to enable more veterans to participate. Con: Program does not merit public confidence; only about one per cent of Texas veterans have benefited.

6. Provides a different oath of office form for elective and appointive officials. Pro: Would clarify present inconsistencies. Con: Clutters constitution with minor details.

7. Requires competent medical or psychiatric testimony before commitment of a person to a mental institution and allows waiver of jury trial, except in criminal cases. Pro: A mentally ill person should not be "convicted" as a criminal. Con: Jury trial is a safeguard against "railroading" of persons into mental institutions.

8. Permits judge to deny bail to persons convicted of two previous felonies. Pro: Would curb habitual criminals. Con: Right of bail is one of our fundamental civil rights.

9. Authorizes the Legislature to give aid with federal assistance to citizens permanently and totally disabled by a mental or physical handicap. Pro: State has a moral obligation to these needy persons. Con: Tie-in with federal program would lead to more federal encroachment.

BALLOT SCRATCHING—While candidates and campaign camps are busy "scratching" for votes, voters are busy learning how to "scratch" ballots.

Ballot scratching is legal. You don't have to vote the straight Democratic ticket, or the straight Republican ticket.

All you have to do to scratch a ballot is to cross out or draw a line through the name of the candidate you do not want to vote for, and leave unmarked the names of the candidates for whom you do want to vote. Just be sure you vote for only one candidate for each office. It's as simple as that.

Machine voting is even simpler. All you do is pull the lever by the name of the candidate you want to vote for, in whatever columns you choose. The machines are so designed that you can vote only for one candidate for any office.

If you want to vote for a candidate whose name does not appear on the printed ballot, you can write his name in—in the write-in column which is provided for that purpose. Such a column appears both on the paper ballots and the machine ballots. On the paper ballots you should scratch out the names of all other candidates for that same office.

Election laws say that your write-in ballot will be counted even though your spelling may not be exactly correct—and even the last name of the candidate is sufficient.

NAACP BAN GRANTED

Pending further court tests, the NAACP is out of business in Texas. After a tedious five-week hearing, Tyler Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan granted a temporary injunction sought by the state against the NAACP.

STATE LOSES LAND CASE—Private owners won out in an argument with the state over what constitutes "submerged land."

Texas Supreme Court ruled that "ordinary high tide" rather than "highest tide" is the determining factor. As a result, private owners retain 472 acres in Copano Bay, Aransas County. Texas had sought to claim the area, which is near oil and gas fields, as tidelands.

SHORT SNORTS—Texas' eligible voting strength will be at an all-time high Nov. 6. Comptroller's estimate is 2,410,188, compared to the previous record of 2,338,261 in 1952. . . . More than 90 per cent of Texas counties now are eligible for emergency drought relief. . . . A low bid of $977,659 was received by the Texas Turnpike Authority for erection of four buildings along the Dallas-Fort Worth Toll Road. Structures will include two restaurant-service stations, a maintenance building and an operations building. . . . With school enrollments going up, number of prospective teachers is going down, reports the University of Texas Teacher Placement Bureau.

This year, 1,143 candidates for teaching positions registered, compared to 1,172 last year. . . . Texas November oil production has been set by the Railroad Commission at 3,314,390 barrels a day on a 15-day producing pattern. This will be a 72,986 barrel-a-day increase over October. . . . Texas Department of Health is urging intensive mosquito control campaigns to halt increased outbreak of encephalitis (sleeping sickness). More than 300 cases have been reported in the state this year. . . . Asst. Atty. Gen. William King has been named to succeed Bradley Bourland as state securities commissioner. Bourland resigned, effective Nov. 1, to practice law in Austin. He also is a former assistant attorney general. . . . Texas December draft quota is for 877 men. It is the largest quota this year, according to State Selective Service Headquarters. . . . Traffic fatalities in Texas this year already have passed the total for this time a year ago. Third-quarter total for 1956 was 1,872; last year it was 1,804, says the Department of Public Safety.

Twelve Hunting Deaths Recorded in Texas in 1956

Instead of reciting the time-worn safety measures, H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission cited the cold causes of the twelve Texas hunting deaths to date this year.

Of the fatalities unofficially reported, two were removing a loaded gun from their car, two were climbing through fences, two stepped into line of fire of a companion's gun. One was mistaken for a squirrel, one when clubbing an opossum, one when a gun leaning against a fence post fell and was discharged, one when a companion lost his balance while riding a tractor on a hunting trip, one when a gun was discharged in a moving car, and one when a companion was removing a loaded gun from a car.

Teen agers were either the victims or were involved in nine of the tragedies. Wounds of five victims were last year had the unhappy distinction of leading the nation with its thirty-five hunting deaths unofficially reported.

"BLINKERS" READ FASTER

Are you a "blinker"? If you are, chances are you're a better than average reader. According to statistics from the Murine Company of Chicago, good readers blink more often than poor ones. It is generally believed that the blinks make it possible to ignore non-essential objects, such as punctuation marks and other gaps in the text. Normal persons seem to blink at about the rate of 25 times a minute.

Slander is oral abuse.

Local Grocerymen Invited to Food Store Workshop

Food store owners and managers in this area are eligible to attend a University of Texas Division of Extension workshop on food store management Nov. 6-7 in Amarillo. "Modernize to Merchandise" will be the workshop theme. Lighting, fixtures and refrigeration are among topics to be discussed.

Speakers will include William O. Mullins of Amarillo National Bank; Tom Lynn of Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo; Garth Close of Plan-ex Corporation, Lubbock; D. S. Tomlinson of National Cash Register Company, Dallas; M. B. Few of Tyler Refrigeration Company, Waxahatchie; and Mrs. Pauline Burbrink of the University of Texas Division of Extension staff.

Mead's Bakery and Panhandle Fruit Company will sponsor luncheons for workshop participants.

Cooperating in the workshop are the Texas Education Agency and Texas Retail Grocers Association. Registration information may be obtained from Mrs. Pauline Burbrink, Division of Extension, University of Texas, Austin 12.

Rains Aid Prospects for Fall Hunting

The outlook for fall hunting has improved in Texas but some of the driest areas have not had substantial moisture, according to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said conditions still "are far from normal" and that unless heavy rains come to strategic areas, such as the upper Gulf Coast, the fall harvest will be hard hit.

"The principal deer range in the Hill Country has been getting enough showers to stimulate badly needed green stuff for the whitetails' diet," explained Mr. Dodgen.

"In fact, our field reports indicate that deer already are showing the benefits, which give hope that much of the venison will be prime when the open season under the General State Law opens November 16."

"The waterfowl picture likewise has improved," he added. "But we must remember that drought-imposed conditions were so unfavorable that the only change possible would be for the better."

Rains, reaching heavy proportions in places, have restored water tanks and some lakes to attract migrating waterfowl, said the executive secretary, but major critical areas still are as dry as ever. He said he referred particularly to the Upper Coast, once the favorite spot of countless thousands of ducks and geese.

"Our waterfowl man, Biologist Robert Singleton, just reported that an aerial survey is mainly negative," he said. "The duck count is just a fraction of what it should be. Some of the Houston area has just been added to the drought disaster relief program for the first time. As an example of the aridity and the consequences, Lake Surprise, in Chambers County, heretofore a perennial rendezvous for canvassbacks and other ducks, is just a small mud hole."

Tex Says He's No Expert But He Believes Ike Is

The other night a bunch of us were sitting around in the drug store after the football game, drinking coffee and talking. You know how it is after a game in a small town, especially after the home team loses. Nearly every man in the crowd had a theory as to why we didn't win the game. Most of them, of course, blamed the coach. I couldn't help remembering that before we consolidated the county schools we didn't even have enough boys to make up a football team. And these same football experts who were saying what Rockne or Bud Wilkinson would have done, up until a few years ago they didn't know a football from a watermelon.

But that's the way it is in a small town (and in big ones, too, I understand). I guess there's no real harm done, although sometimes it's pretty rough on the coach.

I guess we have a right, in this free country, to be self-appointed experts in any line we want to pick out. It seems to me that most people choose either football or politics.

Take this presidential election coming up next Tuesday: During the last few weeks I have heard so many stories and theories from so many different political experts that I nearly get confused sometimes. I have to stop and think that the fellow who is talking probably doesn't know any more about it than I do, and that helps me keep straightened out.

In fact, I guess I have had my mind made up all along. To make no bones about it, I like Ike. He's a man you can always look up to and respect—the kind of man you'd be proud to point out to any person, from any country on the face of the globe, and say: "That's our President!"

About Adlai, now, I'm not so sure. Of course, if he was elected, he would be my President, too, and I would hope he'd do a lot better than most people around here seem to think he would. This is something I don't think we need to worry about, because from all I can hear and read, Ike is going to win it again.

It seems to me that if Adlai ever had a chance around here, he threw it away when he came out with that H-bomb business. Now, the folks in our town don't know much about H-bombs, except that they don't want any personal dealings with them. Our scientific knowledge of H-bombs is about on a par with our football knowledge, I reckon. But we do know one thing: We don't want some misguided, inexperienced fellow fooling around with our national defense. When it comes to trusting what Bulgainin says or what Eisenhower says, I'll take Ike. So will the rest of the country, if I don't miss my guess.

Just before we broke up the other night Doc Brown came into the drug store, and somebody asked him: "Hey, Doc, how's Ike doing?" (Doc's a big Eisenhower man.) Doc said: "Well, it's a busy campaign for the medical profession. Last week Ike went and got his heart examined; and I understand that this week Adlai is going to get his head examined."

Yours truly,

NICKEL SILVERS

For many years the nickel silvers — a series of alloys of copper, nickel and zinc — have been popular materials for many decorative purposes. These alloys, which contain 10 to 30 per cent nickel, are silvery in appearance and are especially suitable for use as plumbing fittings and interior decorative trim. Silver-plated ware, such as spoons and forks, consists of nickel silver with an electroplated coating of pure silver.

WATER NEEDS TO DOUBLE IN FIFTY YEARS

If Texas continues its present rate of growth for the next fifty years, water use by urban dwellers will be doubled. This fact is pointed out in a publication released by the Brazos River Authority. It is noted that this expected increase in water use does not include industrial needs.

VOTE FOR RETIREMENT

AMENDMENT NO. 4

Our children deserve good teachers who feel a sense of security in their profession. Let's improve the Teacher Retirement System to recruit needed young people and to hold our capable experienced teachers.

This Amendment will bring up to date a retirement program enacted in 1937 during the depression. It will permit teachers to contribute more to improve their own retirement program. It will provide disability, death, and survivors benefits comparable to those available in industry and government service.
