Service on Santa Fe May Be Discontinued

It has been reported that the Post Office Department is planning the cancellation of its contract with the Panhandle Santa Fe Railroad from the Sweetwater, and will attempt to deliver mail by truck. The Santa Fe is now serving the area and touching most points served by rail. A group of Chillicothe citizens recently signed a petition to the regional director of the Post Office Department in Dallas, urging the retention of the present contract with the Santa Fe. These Chillicothe citizens feel the rail mail service is much more dependable than truck service. According to those who have signed the proposed new plan, the Santa Fe would deliver mail much slower than the Chillicothe paper said. A change is said to have been made by the regional director.

SOUTH AND FLOOD — Texas knows both. Here, at Possum Kingdom Reservoir, an installation of the Brazos River Authority, flood waters are pouring over the spillway. Up to May 1, Possum Kingdom released 1,773,540 acre-feet of water downstream. Meanwhile the dam was holding vast quantities of water. Just a few weeks earlier this was drought-parched land. The U. S. Corps of Engineers estimated that, up to May 1, the two great flood-control dams — Whitney and Belton — had prevented damage of $23,700,000 during recent floods in the Brazos River Basin. The B.R.A. master plan calls for many more dams, for flood control and conservation, on the main Brazos and its tributaries.

News Begins 67th Year Next Issue

With this issue of the paper, the News will have completed sixty-six years continuous service to Crowell and Foard County. With the next issue, Thursday, July 18, the paper will begin its 67th year.

The News had its beginning in 1891 and is the oldest business in Crowell. It was a very small sheet in the beginning and had many obstacles to overcome in the early days of its existence. The hardy pioneers of that day realized the importance of having a newspaper and put forth every effort to keep the publication going.

There never has been a time when the town and county did not need a weekly paper and the need today is as great or greater than at any time in the past. A town without a newspaper is in a desperate situation and most people don't realize it some times until it is too late. Business institutions benefit from the weekly editions of a newspaper whether they use it to advertise their merchandise or not.

The excellent cooperation and patronage of the people of Foard County and local business firms have been largely responsible for the continuous publication of the paper through this long period of time.

People render a great help to the printing of a "newsy" paper by reporting news items to this office or giving them to one of the five excellent rural correspondents who send them in regularly each week.

Funeral Held Last Friday in Thalia for Lee Mason, Auto Accident Victim

Funeral services for Jasper Lee Mason, 56, were held in the Thalia Church of Christ last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock conducted by the minister of the church, C. H. Casada, assisted by Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, pastor of the Thalia Baptist Church.

Resident of Thalia for almost 50 years, Mr. Mason was killed Wednesday night of last week about 9 o'clock when struck by an automobile as he was crossing Highway 70 in the business section of Thalia.

Highway Patrolman Bob Stinnett of Vernon, who investigated, listed the driver of the car as Thomas John Boley, insurance man of Paducah. He also said the accident was unavoidable.

Mr. Mason, a farm worker for Jim Moore, had just been brought to Thalia by Mr. Moore and left the car at the Lee Shultz station. Witnesses at the station said Mr. Mason had complained of being tired and said he was going home to bed. He left the station, started across the darkened Highway 70 and was struck by the car.

Mr. Stinnett said the man was wearing dark clothes and a dark hat, making it extremely difficult to have seen him as he crossed the highway. He walked right into the path of the car, Mr. Stinnett said.

The highway patrolman said the car carried Mr. Mason 260 feet, the body being caught on the car's bumper. He was killed instantly.

Mr. Boley had been in Vernon to enter the Hill Crest Invitational Golf Tournament and was returning home.

Pall bearers were Oran Ford, B. K. Lindsey, Jim Moore, Clyde Self, Fred Brown and Tom Abston.

Following the services, burial was in the Thalia Cemetery under the direction of Womack Funeral Home of Crowell.

Grass Fires Here Keep Crowell Fire Department Busy

A rash of grass and weed fires on vacant lots throughout Crowell during the past week has kept the Crowell Volunteer Fire Department busy. Friday morning of last week, grass fires were extinguished on lots west of H. E. Minyard's home and also one near the John Wishon home.

On Saturday morning, a fire west of H. E. Monks' home was extinguished, and Sunday morning, the department was called to a fire on the edge of the farm road south of Bill Bell's home.

Fire Chief Herman Kincheloe has asked that any Crowell resident who has a vacant lot they would like to have burned off, to please contact the fire department and they will stand by with a fire truck to keep the fire under control. Anyone wishing this service should contact either Mr. Kincheloe, Ed Thomas, Houston Adkins or Joe Don Brown. Mr. Kincheloe stated that it would be much safer to make arrangements for a truck to be present when the lot is burned, as the fire can be kept under control at all times.

The department was called out Monday afternoon to a fire near the home of Mrs. C. W. Branch. A small shed near the home was practically destroyed and the fire swept over several acres of pasture land north of the Branch home.

The department extinguished a grass fire south of Howard Bell's home on Tuesday morning.

Hints on Controlling Household Insects

Seldom can one observe a home and its surroundings without finding some form of insect life. That's the text of a new leaflet compiled by extension entomologists offering today's best control measures for household pests, according to Joe Burkett, county agent.

Certain pests may be found outside and controlled before they enter the home, says the agent. Some pests live entirely within the home, however, and must be controlled by applying insecticidal sprays or dusts inside the dwelling.

Entomologists say insect activity changes from season to season. While some feed on fabrics, contaminate food, or attack dwellings, others bite humans, carry diseases, or cause infections. Sanitation and good housekeeping are usually effective in controlling or preventing most of these nuisances. But even the best-kept homes sometimes become infested, points out the agent, and require more direct action. Many types of sprayers and dusters designed for use in controlling household pests are now on the market.

This new bulletin classifies all major pests except the termite into specific categories relating to type of damage. Illustrations, descriptions and summaries of common habits supplement clear, concise control measures listed for each insect.

Some cautions listed by the agent concerning application of oil solutions include: never spray near pilot lights or other open flames; don't apply directly to the skin of humans or pets and always allow sprayed surfaces to dry before touching them to prevent smears. Read the manufacturers' labels on all insecticides and follow directions to the letter. Store out of children's reach and label home mixtures.

The "Texas Guide for Controlling Household Insects" is available from Burkett. Ask for Bulletin L-311.

THIS WEEK - In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

In Washington this week, there is cautious optimism that an easing may be taking place in the cold war before long, but there still are plenty of skeptics.

Confidential military and diplomatic reports to congressional leaders and members of a few key committees have had the effect of raising hope that real progress toward a more stable peace is possible.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, however, has cautioned the Senate Foreign Relations committee against letting down our guard too soon just because Russia wants to talk about ending the arms race.

"Experience," he told the committee, "has demonstrated that agreements with the Communists are not dependable so long as they are merely based on paper accord."

It is possible now, without violating security provisions, to reveal the essential facts which have raised hopes for at least a start toward an easing of the threat of World War III.

Russian leaders appear, according to reports from Moscow, to have become convinced they cannot win either a cold war by present tactics, or an all-out military conflict at this time.

There has been no change, so far as U. S. diplomats can learn, in Russia's ultimate objective of spreading communism throughout the world. Plans for doing that, however, apparently are being changed.

Military intelligence reports indicate Russian leaders have become convinced neither side could win a fighting war, now or in the foreseeable future. Neither side has a defense that could stop the offense of the other.

The Communists, therefore, face the necessity of changing their tactics. Almost everything they have tried since 1945 has failed to crack Western defense against the spread of Communism.

First, the effort to undermine democratic governments through infiltration, subversion and sabotage failed. There are fewer communists outside of Russia than there were 10 or 12 years ago.

Second, Russia counted on a serious post-war depression among the democracies to develop a fertile ground for spread of communism. Economic progress has been more rapid among the democracies than in Russia.

Third, it was reasoned that the U. S. would not extend military and economic aid on a broad scale to all parts of the Free World. They counted on the U. S. to return to isolationism, as it did after World War I.

Fourth, that Americans would not spend the many billions necessary to match the military buildup being forced on the Russian people. In 10 years we have spent about $400 billion.

For a dozen years Russia has probed the Free World for signs of weakness, and has met only unexpected strength. Russian ambitions have been thwarted time after time.

Russia seems to Washington to be preparing the way for a change in strategy, not in objectives. She may be thinking of easing the burden of a costly military machine, and thus the threat of a shooting war.

The Kremlin objective, as seen here, is time to strengthen the Russian economy, stamp out resistance from the peoples of subjugated nations, and gather strength for a propaganda campaign to spread communist influence among smaller nations in the Western alliance.

RIGHT TO WORK

The late Chief Justice Hughes said: "It requires no argument to show that the right to work for a living in the common occupations of the community is of the very essence of the personal freedom and opportunity that it was the purpose of the (Fourteenth) Amendment to secure." Associate Justice Douglas said: "The right to work, I had assumed, was the most precious liberty that man possesses. . . . To work means to eat. It also means to live."

Mung Beans Proving to Be Profitable Crop

Mung beans, a summer legume adapted to most deep soils in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, provide cover for the land, furnish grazing, add nitrogen to the soil and serve as a cash crop.

Mung beans should be planted from May 1 to August 15 at the rate of 7 to 10 pounds per acre in rows and covered about 1 1/2 to 2 inches. The seed should be inoculated with the proper inoculant before planting.

H. S. Medley, who is being "banked" by Quana, states that he made more profit per acre of mung beans than he did wheat.

This year district farmers are expected to plant 100 acres of Mung beans.

Some of the weakly sure America's future is being "banked" by One Texas gas company storing its supplies in a gas field—the deepest storage project in the day. Up to 30 billion of gas will be banked for the convenience of customers than 8,000 feet.

Petroleum makes up 55 PER CENT OF FREIGHT of all the freight moving oceans of the world.

Veterans Are of "Tight" Market
 20,000 Texas veterans victims of an unfavorable market.
 Statement was made by Commissioner Earl Rudder to inquiries concerning processing applications to purchase land under the Veterans' Land Program.

 "So far, we haven't been able to sell our bonds," the Commissioner continued.
 "When a second $100,000,000 bond issue was passed by voters in November, many veterans assumed that loans would be available immediately. This has not been the case," Commissioner Rudder said.
 "Aside from time necessary to enact legislation putting the new program into effect, inability to sell the bonds has prevented the program from developing as was hoped. In addition, the maximum rate of three per cent that can be paid on bonds, which is prescribed by law, is a limiting factor."

 "How is the program progressing?" Commissioner Rudder said he is frequently asked.
 "We are processing a few loans as money becomes available from the revolving fund created by bonds sold during the first program. We are also watching the money market very carefully and exploring every possibility of sale. The bonds will be offered again just as soon as we feel there is a possibility of selling them," he said.

Hurricane Audrey Leaves Mark on Coast

Hurricane Audrey left her mark on the Texas coast, but without too much damage to fishing resources, according to Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.
 "For a while it looked like nature had done a wonderful job of opening some of our passes," he said. "However, these passes have been refilled with sand. They did permit the flow of water from the Gulf into some of the bays and this was beneficial."
 Fishing was badly hit along the coast last week, with many boats staying inside the harbor. The Gulf waters remained choppy this week, but conditions looked much more favorable in the bay areas.

Bass Bite Good in Lake Raven
 Texas now has another "hot" fishing lake, according to the Texas Game and Fish Magazine, official publication of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. It is Lake Raven, in the Huntsville State Park. The lake is the result of rebuilding a dam washed out in 1940. It was stocked with bass, which had attained a good size when the lake was officially opened to fishing on June 1.
 Excellent facilities are available at the lake on the Prairie branch of the Chiniquapin creeks in Waller County. All 304 holders of permits caught their limit of five bass each on opening day. Many fine catches also have been reported since then.

Long Shadow
 There is one phase of the tax problem which deserves more attention than it has been getting. That is what excessive taxation will do to future employment and opportunity in this country.
 Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has pointed out that our labor force is growing by almost 1.5 million people a year. But, he says, if the government keeps on taking as much money out of the economy as it does now, there won't be sufficient capital available to pay for the industrial expansion needed to create jobs for all these new workers.
 The tax problem isn't just limited to how much we must pay this year or next. It is casting a long shadow on our children's future.

GRASS-ROOTS OPINION
 "Unions are private non-governmental organizations. So are churches, so are political parties. The membership activities of private organizations morally range in the recruitment realm of voluntarism, and such organizations, in our opinion, enjoy no ethical rights of arbitrary conscription."

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

The date of the adjournment of this session of Congress continues to be uncertain. It all hinges on what is finally done about the "civil rights" bill. This matter is now pending in the Senate, and it seems that the debate there on this measure may postpone adjournment indefinitely. Senator Richard Russell of Georgia fired the opening round in the battle yesterday when he suggested a national referendum on the civil rights question. While this would be an excellent way to acquaint the people with the provisions of this bill. There can be little doubt but if the people knew what it contained, that it would not be adopted.

The Committee on Agriculture has held more hearings on cotton prices. The cotton mills are becoming quite insistent that they be given some relief from the present high priced cotton at home and cheap cotton abroad. The committee continues to direct its study in the direction of achieving a competitive position for American cotton in the world market. Last week the committee favorably reported the humane slaughter and the bill which would farmers to use up to three bushels of wheat for food and feed out penalty.

The President has directed another study be made of the imports question. This matter has been under study for over years now, and it seems that time to take some positive steps to limit imports if the present industry in this country is not to be driven out of business. Many people think that the ports concern only oil prices. Nothing could be further from the truth. Each day that the oil in Texas are shut down, the of Texas loses millions of in tax revenue. If imports continue to be uncurbed and at the rate that they have last few months, it will be sary for our state to seek sources of revenue. In the the imports question affects man, woman, and child in for a special session in the fall. It might mean new taxes, said Carr, since the last Legislature appropriated nearly every cent now in sight for the next two years.

Gov. Price Daniel, who is considering the special session, hastened to say that he had "no idea" of submitting a new tax request. He pointed to his recent effort to get foreign oil imports limited so Texas production could be increased. Much of Texas' tax revenue comes from oil production, so this move, if successful, could improve the state's financial outlook.

Another source of uneasiness is the Travis County grand jury—hard at work, despite the heat. Insiders predict six or seven indictments resulting from the ICT and bribery investigations begun by the Legislature.

If true, this means more people are in trouble than outsiders can as yet account for.

Others are critical of the State Water Board's inaction. Plagued by internal disagreements, the board has delayed a year in ruling on the Canyon Dam squabble. In this case the City of San Antonio and the Guadalupe - Blanco River Authority locked horns over whether San Antonio could get water from the proposed dam.

Governor Daniel will be able to make a new appointment to this board in August.

COX TRIAL DUE — Trial of ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe is set to open Monday (July 15) but there are good indications it'll be delayed.

Cox was indicted last spring on charges of consenting to accept a bribe, Dist. Atty. Les Procter says the state is "ready to go." But defense attorneys admit they'd rather wait until publicity dies out and the weather cools off. They spoke of probable postponement moves.

Reporters, recalling the sweltering weeks spent covering the trial of Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles two summers ago, admit they're not eager to see this one start now.

INSURANCE STUDY ON — An overall survey of the Texas Insurance Commission's operations by a private outside agency is going forward with official approval from all sides.

First action of the new Insurance Board was to request a Texas Research League study of the department. Actually, the League already had begun the task after requests last spring by then-Comm. John Osorio and by a House investigating committee.

Reorganized board took the reins after swearing in of new members, David B. Irons and Joe P. Gibbs, who had served "temporarily" for the past few months. Former Dist. Judge Penn Jackson was installed earlier.

Governor Daniel expressed confidence the board would soon get rid of the few "rotten apples" still remaining in the insurance industry. None of the men sought at the jobs, said the governor; they were

Soil Conservation News of District

Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Lower Pease River District Board: W. C. Howard, Grady Halbert, O. T. Holmes, O. H. Brandon, H. L. Ayers.

Heavy spring rains have made 1957 an excellent year for seeding grass. Several thousand acres of grass have been seeded this year by cooperators of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District. Many of these cooperators have reported that they have good stands of grass up and that it is getting off to a good start. The major grasses being seeded are: sorghum alnum, weeping lovegrass, sand lovegrass and blue panic. Some other grasses such as K. R. bluestem, switchgrass, Buffalograss, sideoats grama and blue grama have also been seeded.

State Board of Education voted to hike state aid to schools by $4 per pupil. It means $82 per pupil for roughly two million pupils in the 1957-58 year.

Board also gave final confirmation to a plan to raise accreditation requirements for high schools. Future graduates will have to have 16 units of study, one more than before. Health and physical education won't count, but credits must include four in English, two in math, two in laboratory science. Beginning in 1959 accredited high schools must have four, instead of three, full time teachers.

UT SALARIES RAISED — Teachers in the University of Texas system can look forward to raises averaging $800 a year for the coming school year.

Due to bigger Legislative appropriations, new budget adopted by UT regents is 16 per cent higher than this year's. Faculty members will get $500 to $2,500 raises, depending on rank. For the average prof, it means a jump from $6,000 to $6,815 per year.

RAIN NEEDED AGAIN — Almost a month of dry sunny weather has many Texas farmers returning to an old refrain—"more rain."

U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that most of the state, except that touched by the hurricane, needs showers.

Range growth has slowed, said USDA, and cotton is running very late. But it predicted good feed crops, possibly one of the largest sorghum harvests on record.

It costs Uncle Sam about one cent to make a dollar bill.

Miss Dorothy Stone and Rev. Mullinax Wed at Foard City

Miss Dorothy May Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stone, and Rev. George Finley Mullinax were united in marriage Friday, June 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Foard City Church.

The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mullinax of Kermit. Rev. Bill Crews, pastor of the Plainview Baptist Church near Stamford, read the double ring ceremony.

Miss Una Clyde Mullinax, sister of the groom, sang "True Love" and "Because" preceding the ceremony. Miss Betty Steward, Memphis, played the accompaniment and the wedding procession and recessional.

Maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Stone, and Miss Arlyne Stokes of Stamford, bridesmaid, were dressed identically in pink polished cotton dresses made with a scoop neckline and very full skirts. They carried semi-cascade arrangements of dark pink carnations and wore flowered headbands in their hair.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lace and tulle dress over taffeta. The dress featured a high scalloped neckline and sleeves, tight bodice, and a full skirt. She wore tiny lace wristlets and her veil was attached to a headpiece decorated with iridescent sequins.

The bride's bouquet was orchids on a background of broadened ribbon and clusters of seed pearls. The vows were exchanged before an arch composed of candelabra decorated with greenery and white flowers.

Best man was Milford Prichard, Abilene. Groomsman was Lewis Price, Sweetwater. Ushers were Thomas Stone and Charles Burrows, Abilene. Charles also assisted Myrna Reed, Paint Rock, in lighting the candles.

A small reception was held at the bride's home for the wedding party and relatives of the couple. The table was covered in white and the main attraction was the four-tier cake topped with light pink wedding bells.

After the throwing of the bouquet, a rain of rice, and decoration of the car by friends, the couple left on a short trip. The bride was wearing a pink sheath dress and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

The couple is now at home in Abilene where the groom is a senior at Hardin-Simmons University. Mrs. Mullinax graduated from H-S. U. in spring, 1957.

Granddaughter of Truscott Couple Wed in San Angelo June 29

Miss Linda Carol Abbott, daughter of Mrs. Lorraine T. Abbott of San Angelo, became the bride of John G. Cull Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cull, also of San Angelo, on Saturday, June 29. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tarpley of Truscott.

Nuptials were read in the chapel of the First Christian Church in San Angelo with Rev. James L. Christensen officiating.

Music was provided by Miss Jessie Francis Neal and Mrs. T. P. Holmes. Guests were seated by Tom Connally and Lynn Simmons before the bride entered the church with her grandfather, Mr. Tarpley.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

It may come as a blow to the male ego, but the facts are inescapable: men belong to the weaker sex—outnumbered, outwitted, and outlived by the sturdier female.

Are women biologically more resistant to disease and death than men? Is the male animal shortening his life by greater aggressiveness, greater exposure to stress and disease, or by ignoring the laws of health? Can anything be done to reduce male mortality?

Male birth rates—106 boys for each 100 girls—as well as death rates have always been higher than the female rate. It has long been assumed that women are biologically more resistant to disease, tolerating pain and illness better than men.

There are also striking sex differences in causes of death. Lung cancer kills six times more men than women. The male peptic ulcer rate is four times as high, and tuberculosis and syphilis are twice as high. Three times more men than women commit suicide or are murdered. The odd thing is that higher male mortality, compared with females, extends to most animal species as well as to humans.

If differences in longevity of men and women were due solely to female biological superiority, the difference in death rate should remain constant. But instead, the female death rate has actually declined more rapidly than the male rate. In 1900, the white American female averaged 1.9 more years of life than her male counterpart. In 1953, she was living 7.2 years longer than the male.

Men are helping shorten their own lives. They have insisted on carrying the greater responsibility and have had to develop aggressiveness to meet that responsibility. Result: more worries, more stress, more contact with disease and physical dangers.

Women, on the other hand, are more likely to release pressure through tears, rest when they feel poorly, consult their doctor early when ill, and follow medical instructions better than men.

Much can be done to reduce excessive male mortality. One investigator has suggested a nationwide inventory of the physical, mental, and emotional assets and liabilities of men in preparation for intensifying the attack on accidents and occupational diseases and the research into cardiovascular diseases and cancer.

Alleviating the stresses of competitive living in a materialistic age requires that the fragile male be continuously instructed in the laws of health and encouraged to follow them.
