He spent a few days in Honolulu in Guam, he was assigned to the personnel office where now serving. His address is: N. Payne, 489-79-19, Navy, Box 67, U. A. P. 61, San Francisco, Calif.

Antiques to Go on National Exhibition

Antiques of six Tulsa, Okla., school students have been selected for exhibit in the National Exhibition of Antiques at the Tulsa Convention Center. The work done by the pupils was among 100 selections made from more than 1,000 entries from 40 states and the District of Columbia. The exhibition of the youngsters' work will open June 11 in New York City. The Smithsonian Institution will circulate the exhibit throughout the nation for the next two years, the sponsor stated. Louis Hoover, Bloomington, Ill., was sponsor of the exhibition.

One of Margaret Collier is former Anna Jo Lankford, was reared in Crowell.

Farmers Elevator Buys Able Property

Deal was closed here last week where the Farmers Co-Op. Elevator Association bought the Able Elevator property, which stood of the office building with a sheet metal building with 100-bushel capacity. The latter building will be repaired and used for storing oats.

Mail Deadline Set for Local Post Office

Effective Monday, June 10, mail will be in the post office by 4:30 p. m. to leave the same day. Postmaster Alva Spencer announced.

TOWN BIBLE CLASS

The opening exercises of the Town Bible Class Sunday morning, Mrs. Marjorie Ferguson, two numbers as soloists with Paul Shirley as accompanist. The Womack delivered the opening message. Mrs. Wilkins has been selected as regular pianist for the class. She will take the place of Mrs. Shirley, who has served in that capacity for several months. There were 27 present, including one out-of-town visitor, Mrs. Dickerson of Abilene.

Swimming Pool Opened Saturday

The Crowell swimming pool opened last Saturday with 203 taking advantage of the first swim of the season. There have been an average of 117 per day participating thus far this year. The average for last summer was 136. The weather was rather cool during the first few days of operation. Most pools in this part of the State will not open until this week end.

There have been 52 season tickets sold at this date. There should be quite a demand for the adult season tickets as the weather warms up, as they sell for the same amount as children's season tickets.

The pool is under the management of Gordon Erwin again this year, with George Morgan and Don Hunter serving as life guards.

Riverside Couple Celebrate 50 Years of Married Life

Mr. and Mrs. Ignac Zacek, long-time residents of the Riverside community, were honored on their golden wedding anniversary Sunday by three of their children and families. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Zacek of Floyd, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mobley of El Paso, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coulter of that community. A brother of Mrs. Zacek, Fred Kveton, and wife of Abernathy were also present. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scales, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richter, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kajs and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Koenig, Mr. and Mrs. Jarom Hrnecik and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Matyssek, Mrs. George Petrus, J. J. Hrnecik and Rev. Sebastian Krempel.

Those sending gifts were Mrs. Delmar McBeath, Mrs. Anna Zimbrick, Mrs. Tom Lawson and Mrs. Lee Whitman.

A two-tiered wedding cake and punch were served to the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Zacek have been substantial and highly respected citizens of the Riverside community for many years and have a host of friends.

Bird Dog Gives Birth to 13 Puppies

If a good quail crop materializes in the county next fall, Ed Thomas will be one hunter who won't have to look far for a bird dog.

His liver-and-white colored pointer, Susie, gave birth to 13 puppies last Friday morning. There were seven males and six females in the litter. Sunday morning, two of the pups died, and Tuesday, two more died. Father of the young bird dogs is a live-and-white pointer owned by John Rader.

ROTARY CLUB

Visitors at the Wednesday noon luncheon of the Rotary Club were Rotarians George W. Lawn of Jamestown, N. Y., and Vance Fawcett of Quanah.

Marvin Myers was in charge of the program with R. H. McCoy and Larry Hord conducting an egg-grading demonstration which they recently gave on a television program in Wichita Falls.

Grover Moore Completes Application of All Planned Conservation Practices

Grover Moore, cooperator with the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, has recently completed the application of all planned conservation practices on the Lozelle Turnbough farm on which he lives and operates about 4 miles east of Margaret, Mrs. Turnbough has been very cooperative in carrying on conservation work on this farm and another farm in the southwest part of the county.

A complete soil and water conservation plan was made on this farm in May, 1949, with the local district, and since that time, Mr. Moore has done an outstanding job in conservation. On the more sloping land on this farm, he reworked an old terrace system and has been maintaining them to protect this land from water erosion. He contour-farmed this land using the terraces as guide lines. He also constructed a diversion terrace to pick up outside water and prevent it from damaging cropland further down the slope.

Mr. Moore has used a crop rotation consisting of alfalfa, cotton, small grain, vetch and grain sorghum. The legume crops of vetch and alfalfa were used as soil building crops, cover crops during the blowing season, and also hay crops. The grain sorghum and small grain stubble also provided good protection against blowing. Mr. Moore has an excellent cover of rye and vetch at the present time on about 25 acres. He recently applied 200 pounds of super phosphate per acre on about 63 acres and seeded it to vetch. He plans to leave the vetch as long as possible before he plants cotton.

In the past two years, Mr. Moore and his landlady have put in two manifold irrigation systems with which he plans to irrigate cotton, alfalfa and small grain. He has leveled his cropland in order to get a more effective and efficient job done in irrigating his crops and to conserve more water.

Mr. Moore has 16 hives of bees on this farm which are beneficial, not only for the honey they produce, but for pollination of alfalfa, vetch, fruit trees, vegetables and cotton.

In addition to the conservation measures that Mr. Moore has applied, this farm has two good shelterbelts on the south and west sides which provide good protection against blowing. The shelterbelts are also excellent cover crop for quail, squirrel and other wildlife. These shelterbelts consist of the following types of trees: American elm, black walnut, mulberry, apricot, cedar, locust and bois de arc.

Mr. Moore has planted a young orchard the past year or two which consists of peach, plum, cherry, apricot, pear and also some grapes and strawberries.

Funeral for O. O. Hollingsworth Held Saturday

Funeral services for O. O. Hollingsworth, 73, prominent Sweetwater business man and sports lover, and a former resident of Crowell, were held Saturday afternoon at the Highland Heights Methodist Church in Sweetwater. He died Thursday night at his home after a serious illness of approximately one year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Russell, Gus Russell and Mrs. Greer Renhardt of Crowell attended the services.

A native of Weatherford, he married Miss Theo Pearl Ramey in 1908 in Chickasha, Okla. The family moved to Sweetwater in 1937.

Mr. Hollingsworth and family lived in Crowell for several years, coming here from Ringling, Okla. He came to Crowell to work in the tin and plumbing shop of M. S. Henry & Co. He later established a plumbing business of his own which he operated until he moved to Sweetwater to enter the plumbing business there.

Mr. Hollingsworth had operated a plumbing business in Sweetwater for 20 years and had been a leader in the community. He belonged to the Masonic Lodge, the Elks Lodge, the Eastern Star and the Rotary Club, as well as the Highland Heights Methodist Church.

He was a charter member of the Rotary Club of Crowell and a member of the Crowell Methodist Church. He had many friends here. Survivors include Mrs. Hollingsworth; two sons, Clyde Hollingsworth of Sweetwater and Woodrow Hollingsworth of Slaton; three grandchildren, one great grandchild and one sister.

TELLS BECK REPAID "LOANS" — Teamster bookkeeper Donald McDonald testifies before the Senate Labor Rackets Committee in Washington, D. C. McDonald said that there was no loan to Beck listed on union records at the time Beck insists he was "borrowing" money from the union. A total of $370,000 has been repaid in the past few weeks.

Conservation Activities Listed for Foard Farmers

Several hundred acres of winter legumes were planted in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District last fall, but several times this amount is needed annually on the cropland within the district.

Soil bacteria, which decompose plant material, use carbon and nitrogen in decomposition. Nitrogen may be used up in the soil to the extent that growing crops may suffer. Fresh organic matter, such as wheat straw and sorghum stubble, contains a large amount of carbon and a small amount of nitrogen. Generally, the ratio of carbon to nitrogen is too wide and organic matter decomposes very slowly. Nitrogen is essential, then, not only for growing crops, but for decomposing organic matter.

The restoring of soil organic matter, then, is a problem of increasing the nitrogen level of the soil. This is the basic principle behind the use of legumes. They use nitrogen from the air instead of the soil, and thus serve to increase the amount of nitrogen in the soil. Commercial nitrogen used on wheat straw and other crop residue will produce similar results.

Some of the farmers and ranchers planting winter legumes in the district are M. L. Hughton, Leon Speer, Travis Vecera, B. A. Whitman, Walker Todd, Grover Moore, W. F. Statser, Archie Campbell and Fred Vecera.

Grady Halbert and W. F. Statser have recently completed construction of farm ponds on their respective farms.

Roy Ayers seeded about six acres of Caddo Switch grass just before the last rains.

Roy Steele, Leo Cates, Grady Halbert, G. C. Owens and Grady Adcock have seeded a mixture of native grasses on some range land and some on cropland that has been put in the conservation reserve.

More Rain Falls Here Friday; Total for April and May Now Up to 18 Inches

Turbulent weather last Friday afternoon, during which the tornado alarm was sounded, sent most Crowellites scurrying for cellars about 3 o'clock. A rain accompanied the stormy weather, and measured .85 of an inch at the government gauge. About 8 o'clock that evening, an ominous looking cloud came up from the south, bringing extremely high winds, but no moisture. Skies were clear over the week, but Monday threatening clouds hung in the south and west.

Thalia received about four inches of rain on Wednesday morning of last week, and the water was running over the highway in several places in and near Thalia most of the day. Paradise Creek was overflowing east of the town, and many houses in town were surrounded by water. Several Thalia residents stated that they had never seen as much water in town as there was last Wednesday.

Wheat over the county is looking remarkably well, considering the excessive moisture it has received. Some of it has begun to lay over, but barring more bad weather, the combines will be able to pick most of it up. Some reports have been received of bug and worm damage, but as yet it is only minor.

The rainfall has varied considerably over the county, but Crowell has received 9.45 inches thus far during May, and the total for April and May has now risen to 18 inches, more than has ever been recorded here during these two months. In May, 1954, 10.98 inches were received, and the total for April and May of that year was 14.62 inches.

The Truscott and Gilliland areas have not received as much moisture as in Foard County, and some of the wheat there will probably be cut this week end, barring more rain.

As wet as the fields are here, it will be some time yet, before combines can get in the fields.

Pastures of the county are ablaze with various wild flowers and weeds, some of which have not been seen here for many years.

Roads of the county have suffered considerable damage by the excessive rains, and with no more wet weather for awhile, it will still be some time before they can be returned to the normal good condition.

Mrs. S. P. Ferguson to Be Buried Here Friday Afternoon

Mrs. S. P. Ferguson passed away in the Foard County Hospital Wednesday morning, May 29, following a long illness. She had been confined to the hospital for the past three months.

Funeral services will be held in the Crowell Methodist Church Friday afternoon, May 31, at 3 o'clock conducted by the pastor, Rev. Grady Adcock.

Interment will be in the Crowell Cemetery by the grave of her husband who died Jan. 9, 1953. Womack Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Ferguson, formerly Miss Lillie Goode, was married to S. P. (Percy) Ferguson Dec. 16, 1914. She died on her birthday, May 29.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Haskell B. Smith, of Bayard, N. M. Mrs. Smith and her family arrived here Wednesday afternoon.

750 Poppies Sold by Legion Auxiliary Last Saturday

Over 750 poppies were sold in the annual American Legion Poppy Drive held in Crowell last Saturday. Cub Scout Pack No. 1 won a $5.00 prize for taking in the most money and Cub Scout Pack No. 2 won a $5.00 prize for selling a poppy for the highest price.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary who helped with the poppy-selling were Mrs. Lewis Ballard, Mrs. Glen Goodwin, Mrs. S. E. Tate, Mrs. Wm. E. Wells, Mrs. Nelson Oliphant, Mrs. John Cogdell, Mrs. Clyde Cobb, Mrs. Sonny Eddy, Mrs. Glen Chappell. Money received will be used for veterans' welfare. Glen Goodwin, post adjutant, stated.

Mrs. R. C. Craven of Quanah Injured in Automobile Accident

Mrs. R. C. Craven of Quanah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehba of Crowell, was painfully injured Saturday night when the car in which she and her husband and small daughter, Debbie, were riding was in collision with another car on the outskirts of Quanah.

Mrs. Craven is in the Quanah Hospital for treatment. Several of her front teeth were knocked out. Mr. Craven and their daughter received only slight injuries.

LAMPASAS RESIDENTS VISIT HERE TUESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCandless of Lampasas visited friends in Crowell Tuesday. Their business was destroyed during the recent flood in Lampasas, however, they were out of town at the time. They were returning to Lampasas from Clarendon Tuesday when they stopped in Crowell for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. McCandless and daughter, Debbie, were Crowell residents for several years during which time they operated the Ben Franklin store.

TAKES PART IN TESTS

Army Pfc. Richard L. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harper of Crowell, recently took part in special Nike guided missile firing tests with the 26th Anti-aircraft Artillery Group's 28th Battalion at Fort Bliss, Texas. Harper is regularly assigned as a mechanic in the battalion's Battery D at Fort Lawton, Wash.

Crowell School's Attendance Record Averages 515 Daily

According to Superintendent Grady Graves, the average daily attendance for the Crowell Public School for the past term was 515. This A. D. A. is 35 less than it was last year and will give the school only one less teacher for the 1957-58 term than it had the past term. All of the faculty was elected back at a recent School Board meeting, with James Welch, science teacher, granted a leave for a year, to attend the University of Texas to do graduate work on a scholarship that has been awarded him by the National Science Foundation. Mr. Graves wants to thank the patrons and students for the good cooperation in keeping the attendance up during the last few weeks of the school year. The first semester A. D. A. report looked like the school might lose two teachers on the account of low attendance. This low A. D. A. was due to a falling off of enrollment.

The Colored School maintained an A. D. A. of 52 for the term. This will give them their three teachers for another year. They have to have an A. D. A. of 48 to be eligible for three teachers.

Thalia School Has Eighth Grade Graduation May 23

Graduation exercises for the eighth grade of the Thalia school were held in the auditorium last Thursday night, May 23, at 8 o'clock. Graduates were Bruce Casada, valedictorian; Joan Schwartz, salutatorian; and Wesley Chism.

The program consisted of the procession played by Mrs. Walter Ramsey, invocation by Rev. C. C. Lamb, song by the 7th grade, piano duet by Gaye Ramsey and Vickie Farrar. The principal address to the class was delivered by C. H. Casada.

Mrs. Howard Bursey, principal, presented the diplomas and awards. Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald pronounced the benediction and Mrs. Walter Ramsey played the recessional.

Perfect attendance awards were presented to the following: Buddy Hamilton, Mary Sue Carpenter, Linda Faye Hopkins, Freddie McCurley, Bob Moore, Linda Joyce Hamilton, James Hayes, Jimmie Moore, Mildred McCurley, Jimmie Dale Hayes, Troy Hayes, Carolyn Werley, Rhett Cates, Mary McCurley and Kay Ann Taylor.

A special award was presented to Gaye Ramsey for attending school for six consecutive years without being absent one time.

TWO NEW PICKUPS

Two new pickups were registered in the sheriff's office on May 15: J. T. Brooks, 1957 Ford and John W. Wishon, 1957 Chevrolet.

history books. But the real story comes within the next few months when hundreds of new laws take effect.

They'll change people's lives—a little bit or a lot. Voter reaction to these changes will provide grist for the 56th session and determine how many 55th legislators will survive for the 56th.

Biggest issues of the past five months were water, segregation, reform measures, teacher pay and insurance. Here's what the lawmakers did:

WATER—Passed a proposed constitutional amendment for a $200,000,000 bond issue to help local governments build dams and reservoirs. Failed, despite frantic last-minute efforts, to pass another amendment for a $100,000,000 bond issue to buy water storage space in federal reservoirs.

SEGREGATION—Passed two of eight segregation bills. One allows local school boards to assign pupils to certain schools; other requires local option election before schools can be integrated.

Another, requiring registration of groups advocating integration or segregation, was declared unconstitutional by the attorney general. He said it would violate freedom of speech and press. Other House-passed bills died on the vine after repeated Senate filibusters made it apparent it would take all summer to get them through.

OFFICIAL REFORM—Passed a code of ethics bill prohibiting state officials and employees from engaging in outside activity "in conflict with the public interest." A sprinkling of officials already have filed statements of their private interest with the secretary of state as stipulated in the law. A lobbyist registration bill died when the House and Senate couldn't iron out differences. A host of others proposed as reforms were ditched earlier.

TEACHER PAY—Legislators, with Gov. Price Daniel's help, found, after raking and scraping, enough money to give each public school teacher a $399 a year raise. It meant recalling two other money bills, one to pay off some old bonds and one to refund taxes paid under an unconstitutional law. Situation was tense when Comptroller Robert S. Calvert first ruled the state's kitty was $13,000,000 short of enough to cover.

INSURANCE—Passed a host of laws bringing a whole new system headed by new men into the battle-scarred Insurance Commission. Deadlock over a full-time or part-time board was finally compromised with a full-time board for one year, part-time thereafter. Policy-making board members will get $15,000 a year when working full time. Added to setup will be a full-time $30,000-a-year Commissioner of Insurance who will be top administrator.

Stemming mostly from the multi-million-dollar ICT and US Trust failures, several other bills were passed placing stricter requirements and limitations on insurance company officials. However, the Legislators fell flat on their faces when it came to requiring publication of financial statements by insurance companies. The bill never got out of the House Committee on Insurance. So only those companies that want the public to know will print them.

AND THESE, TOO—Aside from the big issues, scores of not-so-major laws will cause Texans to change their way of doing things. Here are a few:

A "Scratched Ballot" is the only legal way to vote in future elections. No more choice between

Truscott MARY K. CHOWNING

Edward Daniel of near Guthrie spent Friday and Friday night visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eubank returned home Friday from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Loyd McLaughlin, and family in Carlsbad, N. M., and their son, Louis Eubank, and family in Denver City.

Mrs. Ed Cox of Iowa Park brought her sister, Mrs. Florence Good, home Friday from a visit with their sister, Mrs. Roy Dennis, and family in Lubbock.

The Truscott Ground Observer Post met Sunday at the depot for a practice alert. The following members attended: G. T. Taylor, Jr., Tommy Westbrook and family, Mrs. Paul Bullion and Miss Mary K. Chowning.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitaker and daughter, Gene Ann, of Pampa spent the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Haynie.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hamilton of near Marfa plan on moving to this community next Monday. He will be section foreman for the railroad here. They will live in the D. S. Ellis house here.

George Myers is ill in the Knox County Hospital at the time of this writing.

Out of town visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Robinson and George Myers Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cogdell and children of Crosbyton, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Robinson and Mrs. J. M. Robinson of Vera, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pitts and daughter, Connie, and Mrs. Susie Pitts of Wichita Falls.

Homer Houston of Rails brought Mrs. J. M. Chilcoat home Thursday from a visit of some time in the home of her daughter, Mrs.

Texas Woman's University at Denton, once Texas State College for Women and before that, CIA, will be the nation's first in that category. Women have a right to change their minds, reasoned solons. Besides, there were hundreds of cute little coeds around, a 'lobbyin'.

State Judges, both district and appellate, will get raises of about $5,000 a year apiece.

City Officials can be elected for four instead of two years if voters okay a proposed constitutional amendment. Individual cities would then have to adopt the four-year plan.

Flooded Lampasas and wind-swept Siverton will get $40,000 to help rebuild public property under an emergency bill.

Price Daniel family will get a better roof over its head. Money was authorized to repair the Mansion ceiling that collapsed recently, just missed the governor.

Texas archives will get a brand new building. Shunting of historical documents from barns to basements to quonset huts in past years had brought a hue and cry from civic groups.

Auto license tags will cost 10 per cent more. Highway Department is to use the extra funds to share 50-50 with cities and counties, the cost of right-of-way for new roads. Previously cities and counties have had to bear all land costs.

Governor's signature is still pending on many bills, of course, but vetoes are not expected on any of the above.

In addition, this legislature, as others, passed literally hundreds of "local and uncontested" bills. These are ground out in batches, usually without anyone but the author knowing what they do or why.

NEW FORCE—Future office-seekers will have a new force to reckon with—the Democrats of Texas.

D. O. T., a new name for the old Liberal-Loyalist wing of the party, has set itself two goals—to gain control of the party machinery in Texas and to put its adherents in control of state government.

Some 1,500 delegates from 106 counties attended the organizing rally in Austin, Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, Texas' liberal-minded national committeewoman, was named leader. New U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough flexed down from Washington to speak.

D. O. T. is frowned on by Gov. Daniel and Executive Committee Chairman Jim Lindsey. D. O. T. charges them with "usurping" party control at the Fort Worth convention.

SHORT SNORTS—Texas Railroad Commission has cut the June oil allowable to 3,434,618 barrels a day on a 15-day producing pattern. It's a big come-down from March's all-time high—3,733,054 on an 18-day pattern.

Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano will be president pro tempore of the Senate for the interval between sessions. He succeeds Sen. Otis Lusk of Lufkin. Before adjourning, the Senate confirmed three appointments by Governor Daniel to the Texas Prison Board. They are Lewis Nurdyke of Amarillo, Jack Vaughn of Dallas, and J. M. Windham of Livingston. Appointed and confirmed for the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools are George W. Pirtle of Tyler, French Robertson of Abilene, Nat Goldsmith of San Antonio and Howard Tellespen of Houston. James D. Sartwell of Houston goes on the Board of Public Welfare.

Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carroll of Crowell spent Tuesday visiting in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Marion Chowning Jr., and family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ped Davidson of Big Spring spent Tuesday visiting old friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniel and Mrs. Don Daniel were Wichita Falls visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Faye Gardner of Decatur, Ill., and her sister, Mrs. Ed Cox of Iowa Park spent Tuesday visiting another sister, Mrs. Florence Good, here. They went to Lubbock to visit another sister, Mrs. Doy Dennis, and family.

Gardner remained there to help take care of Mr. Dennis who is very ill.

Mrs. Bill Rake of Vernon visited friends here Tuesday.

Mrs. Bud Myers and daughter, Diane, and Mrs. L. A. Haynie and Oma Faulkner spent Tuesday night and Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitaker and daughter, Gene Ann, and Mrs. Dean Taylor and family in Pampa. Miss Rose Mary Taylor returned home with Mrs. Myers for a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tarpley left Monday for San Angelo where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Doc Abbott, and Linda.

Billy Smith of Fort Worth spent several days last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith.

Bill Taylor spent several days this past week visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Green, in Seymour.

Miss Jewel Haynie, Mrs. Carl Haynie took Mrs. Vanderford to her home in Leuders Thursday after she spent several days visiting in the Haynie and Jim Jones homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Brown and daughter, Ruth Ann, of Electra spent Thursday night and Friday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brown, and family, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones. Ruth Ann remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Creekmore and children, Sue and Rusty, left Saturday for a vacation. They will visit relatives in Commerce before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams of Vernon spent several days this past week visiting friends here.

Miss Nettie Black of Crowell spent the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Black, and friends here.

Rev. A. G. Abbott of Electra preached the morning and evening services at the First Christian Church here Sunday.

Several from this community attended the graduation exercises for Crowell grammar school Friday. The following from Truscott were members of the class: Linda Caddell, Jackie Hickman and Joe Barry.

Several from this community attended the commencement exercises for the Crowell High School Friday night. Edward Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniel of Truscott, was a member of the class.

Each U. S. Congressman represents approximately 280,674 people.

Home Demonstration Notes MRS. MARY D. BROWN

Due to the recent heavy rains many of our cisterns and wells have been flooded. Surface waters that flood into your cistern or well can contaminate your drinking water, and of course, we know that contaminated drinking water can be a source of typhoid fever or amoebic dysentery. I have in my office a leaflet put out by the Texas State Department of Health on "Procedure to be followed in treatment of water of questionable quality from small water supplies." I would be glad for you to call or come by for a copy of this at any time.

We have finished our demonstrations on insecticides this month. Remember, with only 4 insecticides we can take care of all the insects which attack our shrubs and ornamental plants. These insecticides are chlordane, DDT, malathion and poison bait. If you did not get a copy of this leaflet "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants," I will be glad to send you one. This leaflet describes the insect and the type of damage it does and it tells which insecticide to use and how to use it.

I also have leaflets on controlling household insects and one on controlling insects in the vegetable garden if you are interested.

Since we've had so much rain there have been many more insects than usual. Particularly we seem to have more pill bugs, sow bugs, and termites.

The pillbugs and sow bugs are light gray to black and roll up in the shape of a pill when inactive or when disturbed. They seem to be particularly active in or under violets this spring and a 10 per cent chlordane dust will take care of them as well as the millions of termites we have had in our lawns and under our shrubs since the rain.

Our recipe this week is: Peppermint Brownies

Melt over low flame: 1/3 cup shortening, 2 one oz. squares unsweetened chocolate. Combine 2 well beaten eggs, 1 cup sugar. Add chocolate mixture to egg mixture. Sift together and add, mixing well, 2/3 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Stir in 1/2 cup chopped nut meats and 1 teaspoon peppermint flavoring.

Pour into greased 8-in. square pan and bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool 5 minutes. Cut in two-inch squares.

American Legion Warns Against Repeal of Immigration Laws

The American Legion this week issued an extraordinary call to its nearly 4,000,000 members and Auxiliary Unit members, for national action to defeat all moves in Congress to weaken or repeal U. S. immigration laws.

A special message in the Legion's "Firing Line," bi-monthly policy bulletin, instructed more than 30,000 Legion, Posts and Auxiliary Units to take specific steps in the national drive. At the same time, 4,000 phonograph records and 200 tapes for radio stations carrying vocal instructions issued by the National Commander, W. C. "Dan" Daniel, were sent to key Legion Posts.

Both the "Firing Line" orders and the instructions issued vocally by National Commander Daniel, directed Post and Auxiliary Unit members to write, telegraph and telephone Senators and Congressmen that they want no tampering with the protection afforded by the U. S. Immigration and Nationality Act (McCarran-Walter Law). The dual written and verbal orders executed a resolution adopted unanimously by the Legion membership at their 1956 annual convention.

"The 1957 Communist campaign to utterly destroy American immigration law has moved into vicious, well-financed and effective high gear," warned the Legion's special bulletin. "The simple but clever Communist tactic of persuading well-meaning liberals, and the public, that the Red drive against the Immigration and Nationality Act is no Communist move at all—that it is simply a program of wise and moderate amendments—has fooled some legislators again. These legislators have reintroduced in Congress seemingly moderate proposals which, if adopted, would actually wipe out every protection now in the law against unrestricted, unscreened, almost unlimited foreign immigration into the United States. This situation is dangerous in the extreme."

Advocates of repeal and amendments badly weakening immigration law came so close to winning in 1956 that amending bills were actually adopted by the Senate, the "Firing Line" reminded Legionnaires. Unless American voters tell Congress how they feel about immigration protection, said the message, patriotic legislators can no longer hold off the enemy. A blunt Legion analysis outlined the grim crisis of 1957 in Congress.

Only a spontaneous, powerful expression from the voters, directed to their legislators by mail, telegraph, telephone and personal visits, can avert crushing Free World defeat in this crisis. Otherwise, Communism's contrived and organized clamor may induce congressional action permitting—rather, inviting—an entire dissatisfied world's underprivileged to come and settle permanently in the United States.

"Never before have the minority pressure organizations been so united or determined to destroy major security law. Nor have they heretofore been so quietly powerful."

Meeting the issue squarely, Legion headquarters' instructions to the Post officials were specific.

"The time has come to back up our (annual convention) resolution," said the message. "Move a resolution of your local post, demanding that the McCarran-Walter Immigration and Nationality Act be preserved without weakening amendments."

"Send a copy of the Post resolution to your Congressmen and Senators. Let Congress know that where the Legion stands, the Legion fights. Let Congress know we will read the roll calls."

A concluding admonition of the Legion instructions warned Post officials that Communist moves to wipe out all immigration protection were clever, and deceptive.

"The greatest victory Communism ever won in the shrinking Free World," said the headquarters message, "has been their phenomenal success in convincing the gullible that Red proposals are really not Communist schemes at all—and that danger to the world from Communism is a myth, a thing to be belittled and laughed away."

"Don't laugh away the Communist campaign to chop down our bars against unrestricted and unlimited immigration. Make no mistake: the Red enemy is alert, active and dangerous. His target today is the basic immigration law of the United States. Call on Congress, loudly and powerfully, to defeat him."

SCHOOL BOY WRITES ON FEDERAL BUDGET

This terse but searching commentary on the federal budget problem was written by a third-grade Virginia school boy and published in his class newspaper: "Eisenhower made a big budget and Congress wants him to cut it down. Eisenhower told Congress to cut it down and Congress passed the buck to Eisenhower again. Now they are arguing, in a friendly, polite way about who should cut it. In the meantime the budget is as fat as ever."

You Help Pay These Losses

Suppose the government opened a store, or a restaurant, or a theatre for some other kind of business in your community, and then sold the merchandise or services at a loss, making it up out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

You'd certainly consider that unfair and unjustifiable competition with local business people—and it certainly would be.

And that is exactly the sort of competition a government agency is imposing on certain privately owned businesses, which get no favors or subsidies, and must pay their own way in every particular—including the payment of taxes.

The government agency in question is the post office with its fourth-class mail service—which is the parcel post classification. The business parcel post competes against local cartage men, along with motor carriers and the rail express services.

Parcel post is a losing venture—which means that it is a tax-subsidized venture. In the 1923-55 period, its losses are estimated at $1.2 billion. And it is estimated that, in addition, parcel post results in direct losses running to $43 million a year.

If any economic principle is paramount in our kind of system, it is that the people who want and use goods or services should pay the full cost for them—and not be allowed to shift part of the cost on to non-users. That is the test of parcel post.

The Press Battles for its Freedom

JOHN PETER ZENGER was arrested for printing and publishing several seditious libels dispersed throughout his journals or newspapers.

Zenger was a New York printer in the days when Governor Cosby ruled the colony. Governor Cosby ruled in such an autocratic, overbearing manner that several indignant citizens started a newspaper to arouse the public against his tyranny. Zenger undertook to publish the newspaper.

Zenger was thrown into prison, and his bail was fixed at 800 pounds, a large sum for those days and quite beyond his ability to furnish. He stayed in jail for months, and his situation appeared hopeless.

The case finally was called to the attention of Andrew Hamilton, a distinguished Pennsylvania lawyer, who took up Zenger's case as a public service. Hamilton forced the case to trial, and his speech to the jury, which led to Zenger's acquittal, is a ringing statement of what the press is America most vitally engaged in fighting for.

All men have the right, Hamilton maintained, "publicly to remonstrate the abuses of power, and to assert with courage the sense they have of the blessing of liberty, and their resolution at all hazards to preserve it."

"Today in our country encroachments by governments and private interests alike upon freedom of the press are counter to law. Nevertheless, even today the press must battle constantly to keep that freedom intact."

How to Encourage More Inflation

The proposal to extend the federal minimum wage laws to enterprises, including the larger retailers, which have been exempt ever since the law's beginnings, should be given careful examination.

Various authorities have recently pointed to some of the dangers in this proposal. For one thing, it would, beyond doubt, be inflationary at a time when inflation has again become a serious national problem. Retail profit margins are exceedingly small today, and the higher wage costs would have to be reflected in higher prices.

For another, the suggestion that the extended coverage be limited to larger stores would be discriminatory to an extreme. This has accurately been termed an anti-chain store recommendation. It would mitigate against fair and open competition in the retail trades, and that always works to a disadvantage of the consumer.

For the third thing, retailing and other service businesses are essentially local in character, and must adapt themselves to local needs, living costs, wage patterns and other such considerations. If wage-hour laws are needed, they can best be passed and administered by the states. Twenty-nine states have such laws now, and others may adopt them this year.

There is still another point that should be emphasized. Extending the minimum wage would not be limited to raising the pay of people now receiving less than $1 an hour to that level. Higher-wage employees would naturally demand that their differentials be maintained—and thus wages would be shoved up all along the line. This would further intensify the inflationary effects of the law.

No Blending

Writing in the Oregon Voter, Ralph T. Moore tells of a lecture he attended. The speaker was a Hindu college professor, and the burden of his talk was that "his native land would never forsake democracy for communism but would employ the best in both ideologies to build a new nation dedicated to the best interests of its people and catering to no formal economic or political system now extant."

This, Mr. Moore observed, would indeed be an ideal course—seems to answer all the questions and solve all the problems. "But," he then wrote, "it simply won't work because both democracy and communism are integrated patterns of life. One must accept or reject each in toto. There can be no blending of parts."

Long ago, Lincoln expressed such a principle in an immortal phrase. He said that no nation can endure half slave and half free. This country's power, as Mr. Moore well put it, "stems from an almost complete absence of force and coercion. Its motivation is voluntary and therefore of spiritual nature." Soviet power, on the other hand, stems from the use of absolute force and coercion. The individual has no choice; he must submit to the will of the state or be destroyed.

For any nation to attempt to reconcile such opposed systems,

REFUSES TESTIMONY—Virgil W. Disabled Persons Should Contact Social Security Office

Although over 300 disabled people in the Wichita Falls area have already applied to have their social security records frozen, many more may lose valuable social security protection if they do not apply before July, 1957.

This warning came from Erton Tate, district manager of social security in Wichita Falls. He explained that an application filed before July, 1957, by a disabled worker could be effective as of the time his disability actually started if certain work requirements were met at that time. After June 30, 1957, a disabled person cannot freeze his social security record for a period beginning earlier than 1 year before the date he applies for the freeze. This means that many workers who have been disabled for a long time will not be able to get their record frozen if they do not apply before June 30, 1957.

Any person in the area who is severely disabled and who worked regularly for 5 years in work covered by social security before becoming disabled should immediately contact the social security office located at 421 Post Office building in Wichita Falls or see their representative who visits Crowell regularly.

The circumference of the globe is 25,020 miles.

and to seek to employ the best in each as the Hindu professor so hopelessly urged, is worse than impossible. It is suicidal. Freedom and oppression cannot blend any more than can oil and water.

Mrs. Johnson's husband, Major Thomas B. Johnson, will arrive here about June 15 to join his family for a visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Craig and children of Dalhart, Mrs. Ed Roddy of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wilson and small son of Electra and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Abston and children of Thalia visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Abston in Crowell, during the week end and attended the commencement exercises of Crowell High School Friday night.

Mrs. J. V. Fuller and son, Mike, and Mrs. Jim Odom of Sherman visited Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Fuller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Callaway.

Rev. and Mrs. Grady Adcock, Mrs. Jeff Bruce and Mrs. Floyd Ferguson went to Amarillo Tuesday where they attended the annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Abston spent from Saturday until Tuesday in Abilene visiting their children, Mrs. Bobbie Ruth Bills and Bill Abston. They attended commencement exercises at Abilene Christian College at which time their son received his degree.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carhile of Bryson, former Crowell residents, spent Tuesday night here visiting friends. They went to Quanah Wednesday and expected to leave Friday for San Fernando, Calif., to spend their vacation with relatives.

Highway Patrol to Begin "Get Tough" Policy During Summer

Captain K. R. Hallmark, in charge of the Wichita Falls District of the Texas Highway Patrol, says, "Beginning with Memorial Day and continuing through Labor Day, there will be a national safety effort based on the slogan 'Slow Down and Live.' This special effort is slated for this particular time due to the fact that many people will be on our highways during this period of time who do not normally drive much outside of cities and towns. Many people will be trying to cover too many miles in too short a time. The resultant driver fatigue, due to long hours of driving, and the speed to which the driver is unaccustomed will kill many of our citizens.

"This slaughter can be avoided by planning on the part of our vacationers. Plan your trip to allow for frequent rest stops and don't try to make too many miles in one day. See that your car is in shape before you leave and then make a point of obeying all traffic laws and traffic signs on your trip. Remember 85 per cent of all accidents in Texas last year involved at least one driver who was in violation of traffic regulations. Driving too fast was by far the highest causative factor in fatal accidents last year. Slow down and live.

"The Governor of Texas has called on your Texas Highway Patrol to cut down on deaths on our rural highways. He has asked us to step up our enforcement of traffic laws giving special attention to violations causing the accidents. This means of course that more people are going to be arrested for violation of traffic laws.

We sincerely hope that none of our drivers will need to be arrested, but past experience shows that many of our drivers will get out of bounds and be subject to arrest.

"Beginning May 20th, and continuing through Labor Day, the patrolmen in the Wichita Falls district and throughout the state, are under orders to pay particular attention to the 'Hurry' violations, speeding, passing in no-pass zones, passing without sufficient clearance and similar violations. They not to get a ticket, but by all means don't get a headstone.

"The Highway Patrol will be using radar extensively over the summer vacation period and throughout the entire year. This radar will be used as a traffic control device and for the law-abiding driver, there is no fear of arrest. For the traffic violator, all we can say is be alert. We will be in many places detecting and arresting the 'Hurry Bug' in an effort to reduce the rising death toll on our streets and highways. When 2,611 people die needlessly on our streets and highways, enforcement of the traffic laws cease to be a sporting proposition and your Highway Patrol fully intends to enforce the traffic laws by all available means. Radar will be concealed in many places and if you are unlucky enough to be apprehended by it, remember you have no one to blame but yourself. 'Speed is no accident, only the ingredients of one. Be alert today, Alive Tomorrow!'

Lack of License Brings Arrest for 75 Fishermen

In the springtime when a man's fancy turns to thoughts of fishing, he should have a license. This is the warning of E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

In a report of game wardens for the month of April, 75 persons were shown to have been arrested for fishing without licenses. There were 13 arrests for water pollution and 15 for trespassing during the same period.

"So many people now have new boats and motors and are getting out onto the water," the officer said, "Many of them take a rod and reel along and neglect to get the license. It happens every spring, particularly when fishing is good."

The proposal approved by the voters authorized the City Commission to lease to WTU the City of Spur's municipal electric plant and system for a term of 40 years. The lease arrangement will include a 40-year franchise for the utility company.

Since 1928, both WTU and the municipal plant have served Spur residents.

Fishing Improving on Texas Gulf Coast

Fishing conditions along the Texas coast are beginning to show improvement, according to Howard T. Lee, director of the Coastal Fisheries Division of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

The waters are still very choppy from high winds. Muddy water, however, is clearing up rapidly. Night fishing on lighted piers has been reported very good, with many fine catches of trout.

Many Deer Die in Brazos Area

The game crop in Fort Bend and Brazoria counties suffered heavily from the recent high waters and flooding in that area, according to Warden H. T. Mayne at Angleton. An estimated 60 per cent of the fawn crop was lost.

A total of 45 dead deer have been recovered, so far. Of the dead, 41 fawns, two spike bucks, and two does. Thirty-eight dead deer were found on a railroad dump between Angleton and East Columbia.

Apparently the adult deer managed to survive. Large numbers of them were found on ridges and in high places above the reaches of the water. The fawns, however, suffered heavily.

A large percentage of the quail crop was destroyed, also, but most of the brood stock is believed to have survived. Nests and young quail fell victims to the unexpected floods. However, there is hope that most of the quail will nest again, providing at least a partial crop for fall hunting.

loves to cut loose and cover the miles!

If you're looking for a real "escape artist," a car that loves to step out and get away from it all—well, it just happens that Chevy was born with that urge.

If there ever was a car that loved to cut loose and cover the miles, it's this one. Yet it's so easy to handle that it even makes city traffic seem a bit lighter and parking places a bit bigger.

Chevy's pretty easygoing out on the highway too. Not pokey. Far from it. You find, for example, there isn't a hill around that can make it breathe hard —not with Chevrolet's high-performance V8 on the pulling end. You've got up to 245* horsepower here for the biggest helping of driving pleasure found in the low-price field!

Chevy's new Positraction rear axle (optional at extra cost) adds still more pleasure. It delivers greater power to the wheel that grips, not the wheel that slips. You have surer control and better traction on any road surface.

One of the odd things in Washington is the different viewpoints Congress and the White House take on the "Communist situation." It worries both, but for different reasons.

Congress likes to ferret out communists in this country and bring them up before investigating committees, where they invariably hide behind the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution.

The Administration takes a dim view of the hide-and-go-seek game the lawmakers play. The President thinks Congress is wasting its time when it ought to be paying more attention to such far-away places as the Far East, the Near East, Africa and Eastern Europe.

It is becoming more and more difficult for Mr. Eisenhower to get as much foreign aid out of Congress as he would like. And, every time there is talk about cutting the defense budget he calls a group of Congressmen to the White House to lecture them.

The explanation of these differences may not be hard to find. The President assumes that the FBI already knows who the communists are in this country and is watching them. Recently some Congressmen have been poking around odd places in the world and gathering their own information.

One of those is Rep. Jamie L. Whitten of Mississippi, a veteran of the important House Appropriations Committee. He spent two weeks back of the Iron Curtain as a tourist, strictly a tourist, going wherever he wished and talking with whomever he pleased.

Some of the things he observed and reported give you a pretty good idea of why not all congressmen roll over and play dead when somebody shouts "the communists are coming." By no stretch of the imagination could you call Whitten a pro-communist, either before or after his Russian tour.

"Frankly," he told us, "we were greatly surprised at many of the things we found. Also, we were surprised at the friendliness of the people toward the United States. In Russia, of course, they are not the government."

"The Soviet Union is largely a 19th century group of republics attempting to compete in a 20th century world. It is a nation of dirt roads, 35-mile-per-hour trains, few railroads, poor communications, and horse-and-buggy transportation."

"There are a few show-places built to impress Western visitors, but in most things it is a backward nation as compared with the United States. The efficiency in agriculture, and in most light industry, is at least 50 years behind the U. S."

"A disproportionately large amount of farm work is hand labor, and half or more is performed by women. There is very little light, power machinery. In cities we saw innumerable middle-aged and older women with home made brooms, sweeping leaves from the sidewalk, one by one, as they fell."

Whitten found that the Russian people do not seem dissatisfied with their life under the present regime, but neither do they appear enthusiastic in their support. "It appears," he said, "that their present system is generally satisfactory to them, since it is no worse than they've been accustomed to through the centuries."

Russia's greatest weakness, Whitten said, is its backward and inefficient agriculture, and lack of transportation. Practically all of the farm land is north of 40 degree latitude, the same latitude as northern Minnesota. Roads are impassable much of the year.

Whatever the ambitions and intentions of the Russian rulers are, the country certainly could not sustain a long war. Whitten declared.

Big Budget Quiz

The quiz show has become one of the phenomena of the times. Television is now crowded with programs in which contestants can win all manner of prizes if they are able to answer enough questions correctly.

The Citizens Committee for The Hoover Report also has produced a quiz. It involves billions of dollars—some of which comes out of your own pockets. It is called the "Big Budget" quiz—and here are the questions and answers.

1. How much is the government's proposed budget for fiscal 1958? The answer: $71,800,000,000.

2. How long would it take you an individual citizen, to spend this sum at the rate of $100,000 a day? The answer: Nearly 2,000 years.

3. Has the government ever spent more in a single year? The answer: Only in wartime.

4. How does the 1958 budget compare with federal spending 20 years ago? The answer: 1,000 per cent increase.

5. What will 1958 budget costs mean to families and individuals? The answer: $1,400 per average American family, or $427 per capita.

6. How high is the national debt now? The answer: $274,000,000,000.

7. What is the average family's share of this debt? The answer: $7,000.

8. What was the average family's share 20 years ago? The answer: Less than $1,000.

9. The Hoover Report points to eventual savings of $5,000,000,000 yearly. What would this mean in savings per average family? The answer: $100 a year.

10. Who must move for action on the Hoover Report? The answer: Congress, the Administration—and You!

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

The first appropriation bill in the 1958 budget to reach the President was finally passed by both the House and the Senate, and it is important to note the kind of cuts that were made. The Senate's action on the State and Justice Departments' appropriation bill is even more significant for in the Senate the funds were reduced further than the House had reduced them. The President had requested $665,649,802 to operate these two Departments for the next year, and action of the two Houses of Congress cut it to $563,085,294 which amounts to a reduction of slightly more than 15 per cent. The bill is now in the Conference Committee in an effort to iron out the differences between the House and Senate Bills. The important thing is that a pattern of reduction in the budget has been set, and in all probability will be fairly closely followed in the appropriation bills yet to be acted upon.

The troubles of the Treasury Department grew as Secretary Humphrey attempted earlier this month to re-finance some 4.2 billion dollars in the U. S. Government bonds which became due this month. It had been assumed that the recent increase in interest yields would be sufficient to lure reluctant investors to quickly buy up the new issue. Such was not the case, however, and distressed Treasury officials face what now seems to be an extremely difficult task of re-financing government issues as they come due. As we all know, interest rates for the last several years have been creeping upward. This increase has resulted in an additional expense for servicing the national debt of about $931,000,000 annually. This extra cost in interest on the public debt is about enough to pay for this year's big highway building program, or to put it another way, it could finance the Defense Department's entire research and development program or build 620 new jet fighter planes or buy three fully equipped aircraft carriers of the largest class.

The Chancellor of Germany, Konrad Adenauer, is visiting in this country. He is truly a remarkable man. Under his leadership, West Germany has risen from the terrible destruction of World War II to become the most prosperous country in Western Europe and by far the strongest economically. He has been strong in his opposition to the Communists. It is also refreshing to know that on his visit here he does not seek American dollars but only asks us to help him bring about German unity and to back him up in his strong anti-Red stand.

FIRST RODEO BROADCAST HELD AT STOCKYARDS

As the preparations go forward for the Pioneer Days Celebration at the Stockyards area in Fort Worth, it was recalled this week that the world's first broadcast of rodeo contests came from the old North Side Coliseum, where the May 30-June 1 rodeo will be held. This is the site where radio station WBAP, then only one year old, sent forth an account of the rodeo to people sitting around the crystal sets and wearing the earphones of early days in radio.

The broadcast was voiced by Harold Hough, now director of radio and television for Carter Publications at Fort Worth, owners of WBAP and WBAP-TV. Hough was one of the pioneer radio personalities of that era and was known around the world as the "Hired Hand."

He is being invited to renew broadcasting at the North Side event during the celebration by the North Fort Worth Business Association. This will be the first rodeo in 15 years at the site.

Red Cross Aiding in Various Disaster Areas in Texas

Silverton buried its dead last week as relief workers continued to arrive in the small West Texas town to assist the victims of the devastating tornado. At Red Cross disaster headquarters in the Methodist Church, tornado survivors began arriving to seek help and advice in recovering from the devastation of the twisters, which hospitalized 31, injured 60 in Briscoe County and one in Donley County, leveled 27 homes and damaged 41 others.

Among the first survivors to report to the disaster headquarters were James Whitfield, and his wife. They had just been released from a nearby hospital and stopped at Red Cross headquarters en route to the home of friends, where they will live temporarily.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield were among those persons in their homes when the twister struck, leaving only two walls of the residence standing. They are the parents of two teen-age boys who were away from home at the time of the disaster.

Red Cross officials reported that disaster victims and volunteer workers were being fed at the Methodist Church feeding center, and supplies of food and clothing had been provided for disaster victims in need of emergency assistance.

Welfare inquiries continued to pour in from all parts of the country over the town's only two long distance telephone circuits. At one time during the early hours of the emergency as many as 350 messages received on the Red Cross telecommunications system at Wichita Falls chapter awaited relay to Silverton. The assistance of local radio amateurs was credited by Red Cross disaster director Ted Higgins with relieving some of the pressure on volunteers at the disaster headquarters message center. While the Red Cross continued to handle a capacity load of inquiries, the amateurs sent some 100 outgoing messages from local residents, advising relatives of their safety.

The radio message operation was organized by Don Thomas, 18, Silverton high school senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thomas. Although he is not a licensed radio operator himself, Thomas enlisted the help of radio hams from neighboring communities, coordinated their work and assisted them in stringing antennae, assembling equipment, and recording messages during the emergency. Young Thomas, a radio and television repairman, also assisted by using his repair truck as an ambulance, taking two victims to the hospital.

As storm victims began returning to the disaster area in Friday's stormy weather to survey the wreckage of their homes, Kenneth Fleming and friends from Byers began building a storm shelter in the front yard of his home. Mr. Fleming, whose house on the edge of the tornado's path was only slightly damaged, lives a block from the shambles of the J. D. Bingham home. Mr. Fleming told Red Cross field workers that he found Mr. Bingham's body 200 yards from his home, in the middle of the rodeo grounds.

Characteristics of Retail Trade

A discussion of the economic characteristics of retail trade, by Jules Backman, professor of economics at New York University, is of general interest today, in the light of proposals to extend the federal minimum wage laws to all or a large part of retailing.

First of all, he points out, retailing is essentially local in nature. Regardless of the size of the store, its activities are centered

A $1,000 check for the Red Cross Disaster Fund was received by Lampasas radio station ICYL from a wool and mohair firm in the Massachusetts capital with a letter wishing the flood victims a speedy recovery from the disaster. In Kerrville, radio station KERV began broadcasting an appeal for contributions to the dangerously depleted Red Cross national disaster fund.

J. B. Green, Red Cross disaster director in Lampasas, reported that 222 families affected by the flood had registered for rehabilitation assistance by Saturday morning and applications were still being received. Forty persons were sheltered by Red Cross Friday night, and 300 persons, including disaster workers, were served at the stationery feeding center. The Red Cross mobile center donated by the AFL-CIO continued to tour the disaster area on a 24-hour-a-day schedule.

Explorer Scouts from Goldthwaite and Brownwood began assisting hard pressed volunteers of the Seventh Day Adventist Church at the well-stocked Red Cross warehouse, where tons of food and clothing donated by individuals in many Texas communities have been issued to flood sufferers since last Sunday. The Scouts also assisted by posting information circulars throughout the town offering Red Cross assistance.

Caseworkers and building experts called on flood victims who had returned to their damaged property, and began issuing orders to local merchants for essential household furnishings and building supplies. Most merchants, hard hit by the flood, were bringing in new stock to fill the Red Cross orders.

ed in a relatively small area. Second, retail stores are relatively small both in volume of business. For a chain store system may be business—but its individual stores are not. Their volume of business is often in line with that of independent stores operating locally. And they must

He then explains that the retail trade also has certain special characteristics. Retailing offers relatively few opportunities for the advancement of seasonal employment. It employs large numbers of part-time employees and inexperienced workers. Services are of comparatively low value. And, finally, wage rates determined by local factors, a statement that is as true of outlets as of any other store.

These facts indicate why retailing and other service industries of a local nature have been hurt from the federal wage-hike during their entire existence. It indicates why that wage should be continued, and attention left to the states.

TRACTOR GENERATOR is demonstrated for rural civil defense officials as a source of supplementary power when regular electric lines are knocked out by storm or attack, or when located some distance from the farm buildings wired for electric service. The generator can furnish electricity for such chores as saw- ing wood, post-hole digging or welding. In an emergency, the generator would be invaluable for running milking machines, in- cubators, refrigerators, deep freezers, water pumps and lighting.

Red Cross President Praises Volunteer Workers in Texas

General Alfred M. Gruenther, president of American National Red Cross by telegram to Lampasas, has expressed praise for the work of Red Cross volunteers in the state of Texas in this time of sorrow and destruction brought on by flood and tornadoes. He said Red Cross workers have provided the hope that springs from the Red Cross symbol in full measure.

Among the thousands of visitors who swarmed into Lampasas to witness the destruction which flood waters had left one week earlier, were representatives of a dozen understanding Red Cross chapters.

During a brief meeting, Red Cross workers were encouraged by words of Gen. Gruenther.

In his telegram, General Gruen-ther said "never in Red Cross disaster experience in Texas has this organization faced such a continuous and gruelling series of floods and tornadoes. I know that there is grateful realizations that
