Sand Storms! Bah!!

Did you ever get sand in your eye? Up your nose? Down your throat? It was terrible, wasn't it? But, what a wonderful feeling when you had had a good bath and somehow, even the memory of the sand, (dirty old stuff) had faded away.

Well—so it is in life—just as a bright beautiful morning is marred when the wind rises and begins to whip up a little dust—here and there—so is our brightest morning made ugly by some little bit of gossip, some disliked task to be done, some unthoughtful remark to be heard. Then, just as the winds may become stronger and the dust may all but choke you, so may your troubles all but cause you to lose a grasp on life. When it seems that things are so bad that they can't get worse, they get better. Remember, the once howling, finally begins to come in puffs, then calms, then ceases, and once again the sun begins to peep through the rising dust, and presently—almost miraculously—it shines once more in a beautiful blue sky.

Too, those troubles that were so terrible seem to lift gradually—and then fade away—in the happiness of being alive in the wonder of the world.

Maybe it takes the beautiful day—maybe it takes sorrow to make us appreciate joy—maybe it takes ups and downs to make life itself.

Students Attend FHA Meet

On your mark! Get set! Go! Where? To assembly today at 12:30 p. m. Many surprises are in store. Don't miss it! Catch—it'll cost you 25c. But, you'll get your money's worth! We promise! Oh, yes, I started into say that our own Peggy Cates starred in a production in Stephenville—on Hollywood—on Saturday, March 6. She was Alice in Home Economics Land. She started out as a dreamer with no particular aim in life but had a rude awakening and learned that the future held many possibilities in Home Economics Land.

Carol Bell was the voting delegate from Crowell. Cecelia Drabek was on the registration committee. Lillie Polk and Virginia Hudgens went along to get new ideas for programs.

The highlight of the program was a talk by Mrs. Woodson Arms of Fort Worth, entitled "Career of a Homemaker."

The girls were accompanied by Mrs. Kenner.

Fourth Annual Variety in Review Presented

On Friday night, March 6, the Crowell High School Band presented its fourth annual Variety in Review.

The stage was decorated with glittering stars and musical notes; also a large 1959 was written across the back curtain.

The band made between $150 and $200 profit from the show. There was a full auditorium and the band students are very proud of the response of the town people.

Outstanding band student award was presented to Melvin (Pod) Johnson. The showmanship trophy that the stage band brought back from Brownwood was also presented to Mr. Graves on behalf of the stage band.

There were many special acts. One was a very entertaining comedy made up of band directors from the surrounding area. The junior band also played several numbers.

The band is very proud of the success of the show and hope that in the years to come, it will be just as successful. We also wish to thank everyone who had a part in making our show possible.

Trampoline Star Entertains Student Body

Harold Coates, one-time performer on Ed Sullivan's TV show, presented a hilarious Southern Assembly to the Crowell student body Monday, March 9. Mr. Coates, now a national diving champion, dived into his program with a bang, demonstrating various trampoline stunts which took much skill and practice.

The trampoline stunts pointed out that the body must be kept in good physical condition for such tricks. He commented, "A healthy body plus a healthy mind equals a healthy person."

Gerald Bradford and Jo Carol Cooper tried their skill on the trampoline at Mr. Coates' request.

Rotarians Compliment Stage Band

In appreciation of the excellent accomplishments of the members of the stage band, the Rotary Club invited them and their sponsor, Mr. Hesse, to be their guests at the regular Rotary meeting on March 4.

The group presented the same program that was presented in contest competition at Brownwood; of course, you've all heard that they won top honors there, but have you seen the trophy that they brought home? It's a beauty! The band wishes to say "thanks" to all Rotarians for the special interest shown them.

Library News

The bulletin board prepared this past week by Helen Vessel was very appropriate indeed. "March Winds Blow Good Books Your Way" really portrayed the weather of the past few days as well as a good thought from the library to those we serve. Thank you, Helen, for a job well done.

When you of the Crowell High School check out a library book, do you ever stop to think that you are being trusted to take good care of what you have borrowed? If the librarians and faculty didn't trust the students, we might not be able to have the library. Then it wouldn't be nearly so easy to find material for reports, essays, and good reading.

The results of this would naturally be lower grades. But if you are trusted to borrow a book, and you don't take good care of it, and it gets torn up, what then? You say "You could buy another copy." But do you realize that if you let the book become damaged or lost, then you have to pay for it, and for some, this is rather hard.

This wasn't meant to be a sermon, but is an earnest plea. When you check out a book, please be careful with it. Remember: (1) The teachers and librarians are counting on you to take the best possible care of the books. (2) If the books are torn up, it is usually the user's fault, so don't say it's because of "that old library." (3) If you damage or lose a book, you are the one who must pay.

Recently, new plastic covers have been purchased for most of the magazines. This is just another attempt to help you keep good reading material.

So, please, when you ask for the responsibility of using a book, prove that you can be responsible.

P. S. Tis true! Those windows still rattle!

Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants, in this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up "cuter" phrases that will blow off the top of your head later.

3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait till he is 21, and then let him "decide for himself."

4. Avoid the use of the word "wrong." It may develop a guilt complex. This will condition him to believe, later, when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society is against him and he is being persecuted.

5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around—books, shoes, and clothing. Do everything for him so he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on to others.

6. Let him read any printed matter he can get his hands on. Be careful that the silverware and drinking glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage.

7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way, they will not be too shocked when the home is broken up later.

8. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?

9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and comfort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustrations.

10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, and policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.

11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying, "I never could do anything with him."

12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be apt to have it. (Prepared by the Police Department of Houston, Texas.)

Roving Reporter's Report

I decided to try something a little different this week. Instead of watching everyone, I picked two prime "targets" and watched to see what they were each day. It's nice to look stunning one day, but how good is your follow-up? Let's see how these two did.

The lady in the crowd—let's call her Miss X—started off Monday in a violet plaid skirt with a solid violet knit blouse that featured a tie made of the same material as her skirt. Tuesday brought her back in a brown dress with a merry go round design. The dress featured a wide brown belt, was complemented by a brown sweater, and the entire outfit was set off with her choice of black flats. She returned Wednesday in a black skirt, white blouse, and a blue sweater. Her loafer and bobby sox completed this school outfit. A brown skirt with rust-colored flecks, topped by a rust-colored jersey blouse made her fashion choice for Thursday. Since we didn't have school Friday, it wouldn't be feasible to tell you what she wore that day.

The male half—called Mr. X, of course—came to dear old CHS Monday in red ivy-leaves, a knit shirt of red, black and white. He returned Tuesday in a shirt that featured stripes from light to dark blue through purple on a white background. Grey slacks with black pin stripes completed the outfit. On Wednesday he appeared in grey slacks, a knit shirt of blue, black and white stripes that featured an open collar and short sleeves. Black leather loafer style shoes added the finishing touch.

If you can't guess who these people are, I'll tell you next week. I was really proud of both of them for being so well dressed all week.

Mr. and Miss X weren't the only fashion news. Bubba wore a beautiful blue silk shirt with white embroidery. Jerry Ann and Ronald showed off their matching cowboy shirts. Marcia Carroll wore a plaid pleated skirt and orange-tan sweater that was certainly becoming. Dianne Sledge topped a black and white skirt with a

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—If you can't beat 'em, don't knock 'em. That sentiment, in varying degrees, is being often expressed by legislators struggling to write bills to fill the yawning holes in the state's money supply.

Opponents of a tobacco tax plan got short shrift before the House Committee. "If you come criticizing, don't you think you should come up with some solution to the tax problem?" asked Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock. Similarly, anyone who comes to push a money-spending bill is challenged to produce a money-making bill to match it.

Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth drew cheers from fellow House members when he criticized the approach of a teachers' letter writing campaign. Gladden said the teachers had been instructed to ask for higher pay but make no statement on what taxes they would favor.

ROCKY ROAD — Overall, the tax picture is still "all shook up." Rep. Jamie Clements' bill to remove the tax exemption on cigarettes sold on military bases was sent by the House Taxation Committee to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. Question to Wilson is whether the state can collect a tax from a federal agency.

A proposed liquor tax hike suddenly gained redoubled potency when the sponsor, Rep. Pete LaValle tacked on an amendment that would legalize liquor-by-the-drink sales. Gov. Daniel, who had argued the original bill, promptly protested. Bill was sent to subcommittee for study.

House Appropriations Committee is apparently taking note of the Tax Committee's rocky road. It is reportedly doing some painful paring of spending requests.

WIDE OPEN FIELD — Meanwhile, many more "little tax" ideas are swirling about. Most apparently are aimed at avoiding a bitter deadlock over a new "big tax."

Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont introduced a bill to tax gross receipts of scrap metal sales, and Rep. W. T. Oliver, Port Neches, a five per cent gross receipts tax on advertising sold by newspapers, radio and TV stations and billboards. Oliver also is said to be considering taxes on phonograph records and parking lots.

Other possibilities being discussed are (1) a 1.5 per cent general sales tax, exempting food, feed and fertilizer, by Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, (2) an across-the-board increase in the omnibus tax system which includes almost all present levies, (3) a registration fee for airplanes, similar to auto licensing.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus said he would prefer to raise money through legalized liquor-by-the-drink and horse racing, heavily taxed, than by a general sales tax.

HIGH-VOLTAGE ISSUE — House State Affairs Committee will take on a supercharged issue March 16—the long struggle between private utilities and REA co-ops.

REAs are seeking a law that would assure their being able to continue to operate in a once-rural area after it is annexed by a city. Under the measure sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, the co-ops could serve old customers and recruit new ones for a period of 10 years. After this, a municipal franchise would be required.

Private power companies, offering stiff opposition, say the non-tax-paying co-ops want to spread through the cities, socialize the power industry. Co-ops retort they are the ones being swallowed up by spreading cities.

RE-REORGANIZATION ASKED — A bill has been introduced to reorganize the State Insurance Department, which was reorganized by the Legislature two years ago.

Rep. George Cook's measure would set up a part-time board of nine members "familiar with the insurance field."

Cook indicated the proposal was in answer to complaints that the present three-member board (1) does not represent industry and (2) serves full-time, contrary to "legislative intent."

KEEPING THE SABBATH — Sunday beer buying seems likely to continue, but not Sunday auto buying.

A bill to ban beer sales on Sunday and after 10 p. m. on weekdays has been sent to an unfriendly House subcommittee. A spokesman for "dry" irritated committee members from beer-drinking areas by implying use of beer "separated the saved from the unsaved."

Senate Transportation Committee approved the ban of Sunday auto sales, after dealers presented a solid front of support. Only opponents were representatives of Seventh Day Adventists, who observe Saturday as their day of worship.

COLLEGE EXPANSION OKAYED — Elevation of two junior colleges—Arlington State and John Tarleton—to full four-year status has been approved by the House.

Economy advocates protested that "we have 16 fully supported state four-year colleges now—more than any other state."

But supporters replied that no additional appropriation would be needed immediately.

"LITTLE HOOVER" BILL — Creation of a state commission to conduct an efficiency study—similar to the Hoover Commission for federal government—has gained House approval.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria, sponsor, pointed out that the Hoover

News From the Congress

The Department of Interior will shortly be deciding which of several processes will be the one used to remove salt from sea water. After the process is decided upon, an experimental plant will be built somewhere on the Coast.

The purpose of these experiments will be to develop a means to make sea water useable at a cost that will make it practical. There seems to be little doubt but what a feasible method will be developed within the next few years. When this occurs, vast areas of non-productive land can be irrigated. Also, part of this water treatment experiment will be the development of a process to treat brackish or gyp water. These experimental stations should be in operation within the next couple of years. They are a part of a scientific research program under way to develop new sources for water. Their success will be a boon to the great Southwest.

Tension grows daily over the coming crisis in Berlin. As we approach the May deadline set by Khrushchev, it becomes more and more evident that we cannot afford to back down in Berlin. Any retreat there would simply mean that the Russians would be encouraged and make more and greater demands. If we have learned anything about the Russians since World War II, it is that they will honor their agreements only so long as it is convenient for them to do so and that they respect only one thing—force.

Opponents protested the Cory commission would be just another money-spending state agency; Cory contended the $100,000 it would cost would be regained many times.

The bill providing for statehood for Hawaii is scheduled for early consideration by the House. As I have previously indicated, it now appears that this measure will be overwhelmingly approved by the Congress.

Passport Plea

Rep. Armistead Seiden (D., Ala.) says statements in from Moscow recently by a United States communist dramatize the need for passage of his bill to restrict issuance of passports. Seiden, in a House talk, referred to James Jackson, secretary of the Communist party in the United States, who denounced United States policies before the twenty-first Communist party Congress held earlier in the year.

Seiden said Jackson and other Communists have received United States passports to go abroad because of last year's Supreme Court decisions denying the State Department the right to restrict passports.

Rep. W. S. Heatly Reports on Affairs of State Legislature

Austin—The House of Representatives is getting down to serious work now, with legislation of more importance coming out of committee.

Rep. W. S. Heatly divided the appropriations committee into sub-committees for the task of writing a general appropriations bill.

In charge of writing sections of the bill are Rep. John Hubbard of Bay City, judiciary; Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene, departmental; Rep. B. H. Dewey Jr. of Bryan, higher education; and Rep. Jess Osbourne of Muleshoe, special schools and state hospitals.

Heatly thinks that the appropriations bill may be molded into form by March 20.

Introduced in the House last week was one of the most important tax bills seen thus far, said Rep. Heatly. This bill would raise the tax on beer from $4.30 per barrel to $10 per barrel. This is the level of the beer tax in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

However, it will bring the tax on beer to only 3 cents per bottle, or a sales tax of 9 per cent as compared to the sales tax on gasoline of 16 1/2 per cent.

A brigade is usually composed of three regiments.

CAUSE OF RECESSION

Any lingering doubt that the need for income tax rate reductions had reached the full-blown status of critical urgency was dispelled at a 24-day House Ways and Means Committee public hearings.

"A parade of witnesses—representative of all facets of the nation's economic life—offered strong evidence that the current business recession results largely from oppressive personal and corporate tax rates and that reform of these rates is vital to recovery." —Crown Point, Ind., Lake County Star.

Time to Wake Up!

Still asleep . . . after 14 years. On January 20, 1945, Paul So-wa of Chicago was a normal 6-year-old boy. "A real little slugger," his mother says.

But then he developed encephalitis—sleeping sickness. He hasn't gained consciousness since.

Paul sleeps during the night and "awakens" in the morning—he opens his eyes to stare.

His mother force feeds him strained baby foods, bathes him, changes his clothing, and cares for his personal needs.

"He tenses when he's afraid or in pain," she says, "and his eyes flash when there's a sudden loud noise. But he doesn't understand anything. He doesn't know what's happening."

Living sleep is a terrible thing. Spiritual sleep is much worse.

God's creation. His loving kindness. His grace and mercy—these call to us with a loud voice saying, "Acknowledge the Lord. Recognize your great debt to Him. Give Him your heart's devotion."

But the call is not heard. We are spiritually asleep.

Even those who make a religious profession lack awareness, for the apostle Paul had to write, "It is high time to awake out of sleep; for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed" (Romans 13:11).

Mrs. So-wa longs to see her son awake to radiant manhood. God wants to see us become conscious of our potential blessings in Him.

"Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (Ephesians 5:14).

Is the Federal Highway Program a "White Elephant"?

"An old time King of Siam had a nasty way of getting even with any noble he happened to dislike. He would give the man a white elephant."

"Since the white elephant was sacred to the Siamese, anyone who happened to own such a beast was required to keep it in style. In fact, the cost of maintaining a white elephant was so great that any noble who received one was automatically condemned to financial ruin."

"What brings this to mind is the national highway program, now in its second year. Has this program become a white elephant to America's car and truck owners?"

"If things keep on the way they've been going in the program's first two years, a project that was presented as a boon to the nation's car and truck owners will turn into the biggest and costliest white elephant ever wished on a group of suffering taxpayers."—Plentywood, Montana, Herald.

Possibility of Realignment of the Two Political Parties
There is speculation in Washington over the possibility of bringing about a realignment of the two political parties into liberal and conservative groups. One report says this might happen more rapidly than is generally believed likely. Both parties now contain high elected officials who have virtually nothing in common. In 1957, average family income in this country was $5,000. About one-tenth of our 44 million families had incomes of $10,000 or more, while two-fifths were in the $5,000-$10,000 range.

Rep. Heatly Speaks to University of Texas Students

Austin—Rep. W. S. Heatly appeared on a 30-minute un-rehearsed television program, "Meet the Press," here Monday night and Tuesday spoke to University of Texas students at Campus Guild. At the University, he discussed greeting friends in Thalia Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Gray visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crisp, of Northside Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bomar of Crowell visited Mr. and Mrs. Homer McBeath Sunday. The Bomars, accompanied by Mrs. Bonnie Bell, visited Mr. and Mrs. Cobb and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart of the Five-in-One community.

Mrs. Carolyn Haney Leutwyler and children, Vic, Ric and David, visited the G. A. Shultzes and Roy Shultz Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Roberts of Crowell spent Sunday with Mrs. E. H. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Matthews of Alamogordo, N. M., are visiting his father, T. H. Matthews, and Mrs. Matthews, who is in a Vernon hospital.

the possibility of a tuition hike which has been causing quite a bit of uproar on the University campus, stating that he does not believe a bill to raise tuition will pass the Legislature this week.

"I know of no bill to raise tuition that has been introduced," he emphasized.

Mr. Heatly said that "if we compare teachers' salaries in higher education with teachers' salaries in other states, we should also compare tuition. Texas ranks 43rd in the nation on tuition."

He pointed out that he is committed against both a sales tax and a state income tax, predicting that most funds to take care of the deficit will be raised by re-amping the omnibus sales tax.

"Texas is doing a masterful job on higher education," he told the students. "We have fine colleges and universities and still keep costs down for students."

On television Monday, Mr. Heatly noted that higher education has asked for the biggest budget increase, but hospitals and special schools may be more deserving of the biggest increases, percentage-wise. This is the general feeling, he thinks, of the appropriations committee.

State higher education, including medical schools, has asked for some $90 million, he said.

Also, there was introduced a tax bill which would raise the tax on beer from $4.30 per barrel to $10 per barrel, which would bring it to the level of the tax in Oklahoma. This would amount to 3 cents per bottle.

"Each time the beer tax is increased 1 cent per bottle, it would net the state some $32 million biennially," he said.

It appears that with the deficit, plus normal growth and improvement, plus normal increase, plus the difference between present appropriations and biennial income, tax bill may run to $200 million, Mr. Heatly added.

Difficult for Senator to Move to White House

Editor Ralph McGill of The Atlanta Constitution writes: "It is very difficult for a senator to move from the Senate to the White House. In all history, only one man, Warren Harding, has made the move. Vice presidents have a different time too. Only one has made a direct transfer—Van Buren. "Governors have the best chance. Especially one who is out of the controversial national issues."

Fewer Births Last Year

According to the American Medical Association News, there were 3,505,000 births in this country during the first ten months of last year—1.3 per cent fewer than in the same months of 1957. There were 1,203,000 marriages—also slightly less than in the corresponding 1957 period.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Commissioner of Health.

Texas is fortunate as far as stream and river pollution is concerned compared to many other states, but there is still room for much improvement of sewage treatment facilities.

To encourage cities to improve their sewage treatment facilities, Federal funds are available under Section 6 of Public Law 650 to construct outfall lines and sewage treatment works. The Texas State Department of Health is the administering agency in Texas.

Interested cities must submit their applications for Federal funds by May 1, 1959. Applicants are graded on the other to determine priority for the Federal fiscal year 1959-60. Those with applications already on file should request reactivation before the deadline date, including any additional information.

Five major points are considered when grading the cities. They are: financial need of the city; existing facilities; existing pollution problem; nuisance conditions; and the "readiness to go" of the applying city.

During the past three years about 100 cities have made application for the funds which are limited to 30 per cent of the cost up to a $250,000 maximum. The amount available has totaled about 1.7 million dollars for each year.

However, the President's proposed budget has cut the total appropriation to $20 million. Texas' share would be $685,430. This represents a 60 per cent reduction from the available money which has been allocated to Texas for each of the past three years.

The program is primarily designed in the home of their mother, Mrs. F. A. Streit, of Lockett Sunday.

THIS WEEK

-In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

Agriculture Secretary Benson has told Congress he is ready to give up the battle to support farm prices and control production.

"You must admit," he told the Senate Agriculture Committee, "that our attempts at price fixing have failed, and that attempts to control production have failed."

"Why," he asked, "continue a program that is bankrupt?"

He says farm programs this year will cost taxpayers almost $7.5 billion and that all the country has to show for that is "artificially high" prices and $9 billion worth of excess farm crops in government storage.

The way to correct the situation, he contends, is to let farm prices seek their law of supply and demand level. It doesn't make sense, he says, to pay farmers to produce for the government.

Kill or Cure

It is bitter medicine that Benson is prescribing for farmers. It is the kind of blunt talk that few farmers ever expected to hear from a Secretary of Agriculture.

Benson told Congress that if it will give him a free hand he will start slashing price supports to the point where production will move into use rather than into storage, the cost of which is almost a billion dollars a year.

High price supports, Benson says, are the cause of excessive production. Lower prices, he argues, would cause some farmers to quit farming and others to reduce their production. Food prices, too, would go down.

Congressmen who are opposing his proposals argue that their adoption would bankrupt at least a million farm families and drive them penniless into cities where already there are almost 5 million unemployed.

A Difference of Opinion

Not everyone, and that probably includes a majority of Congress, agrees with Secretary Benson. They point out that in the past six years prices received by farmers have declined an average of 20 per cent and that farm income had declined by one-third.

Those who disagree with him cite USDA figures to show that the average of farm income is less than half of that of the average factory worker, and that the average city worker can buy 50 per cent more food now with pay for hour's work than he could in 1940.

They also use USDA figures to show that only a fraction of the $7.5 billion in "farm program costs" actually is received by farmers. A third of that cost goes for export of food and fibers to friendly nations who are helping us fight communism.

Another third of it is spent for such things as school lunches distribution of food to needy people in cities, forest preservation, meat inspection, soil conservation, and salaries of some 80,000 USDA employees.

If farm prices had gone up (instead of going down by 20 per cent) by as much as the cost of things farmers buy since 1952, U. S. consumers would be paying at least $10 billion a year more for their food and clothing.

It is this difference of opinion that makes the Washington farm battle one of the liveliest in many years.

Adelphian Club

The Adelphian Club met Wednesday, March 4, at the club house. The business was conducted by the president, Miss Dorothy Erwin.

Mrs. W. B. Johnson was the leader for the afternoon with "Originality Among Clubwomen" as her subject. Mrs. W. B. Ty-singer gave an interesting talk on art and she showed several of her paintings. Mike Manard played several favorite popular selections on the piano. Jo Wynn Ekern played three of her favorite religious songs. Mrs. DuWayne Elliott gave an interesting article on "The Power of a Woman."

The hostess, Miss Martha Rettig, served refreshments to the group.

The club adjourned to meet March 18 with Mrs. Bill McClain as leader and Mrs. Virgil Johnson as hostess.

WILL CUTS SABLE WRAP

London, England — Mrs. J. Abrahams bequeathed one half the sable wrap to each of her daughters, in a will made recently.

"Mother always wanted us to have equal shares of everything," commented one of the daughters.
