Railroads Unexcelled As Low Cost All-Purpose Carriers

"A free competitive market for all transportation is not feared by the railroads, according to Clair M. Roddewig, president of the Association of Western Railroads. Ton for ton and mile for mile, he says, the railroads are the most economical in the utilization of such important resources as manpower and fuel. They are unexcelled as low cost all-purpose carriers."—Antigo, Wis., Daily Journal.

ARE NOT WASTING THEIR TIME

"Do not waste time, for that is the stuff life is made of." About thirty-five girls are really putting the above quotation into practice. They are qualifying under the Homemaking program for the summer under the direction of Mrs. Doyle Kenner, home economics teacher in Crowell High School. They will receive one-half credit when their goals are finished.

These ambitious girls are Nellie Ruth Aranda, Donna Bell, Geraldine Bradford, Cloma Brown, Marilyn Cates, Ruthie Doyal, Kathy Eubank, LaRue Gidney, Sharon Glover, Sharon Golden, Patsy Hall, Judy Harper, Carolyn Hickman, Ella Hollenbaugh, Kathy James, Rosa Lee Latimer, Joy Little, Sharon Mapp, Saunna Martin, Jean McCurley, Jimmie Moore, Ronni Sue Oliphant, Elizabeth Pittillo, Carole Priest, Mary Quintero, Shirley Mike Rasberry, Gayle Russell, Karen Shirley, Merida Taylor, Terri Thomas, Beverly Thompson, Dena Todd, Paula Vecera, Trinidad Villereal and Linda Whitley.

Each girl makes a plan for work to be done and this plan is put on file. As the work progresses, each girl sends in reports telling the amount of work accomplished. Home visits will be made for the purpose of giving aid when needed and to give a final check for credit.

This group has already refinished all of the woodwork in the homemaking cottage this summer as a group project.

County Receives More Rain Friday, Saturday Nights

Prospects for a "good" summer for cotton and feed growers in Foard County were added to last week end as the county received additional moisture. One-quarter of an inch fell Friday night and .8 inch fell Saturday night.

Although the rains are making the weeds grow in the cotton at the present, Foard farmers are not complaining as they are glad to get the moisture in the ground for future use this summer.

The continued wet conditions are also delaying wheat farmers in turning under wheat stubble. The rain Saturday night was accompanied by high west winds and a considerable amount of lightning.

The high humidity brought on by the rains has made the 80 and 90 degree readings of the past two weeks seem much higher than the actual reading of the mercury. Another rain fell Monday night with .18 inch recorded, and late Tuesday afternoon, a thunderstorm, accompanied by high winds brought one-half inch to Crowell. Reports from Good Creek are that wind there did some damage to farm buildings Tuesday.

The total rainfall for June is now 3.41 inches, which is nearly the average total rainfall for the month.

High and low temperatures recorded during the week follow:
June 6: high 89, low 68.
June 7: high 91, low 76.
June 8: high 85, low 68.
June 9: high 90, low 64.
June 10: high 95, low 70.
June 11: high 89, low 75.
June 12: low 66.

Little League News

BY MARION CROWELL
 It seems to happen about once each season. "But why, oh why," moaned Gary Eddy, "must it happen to me?"
 He referred, of course, to the Friday night game of last week wherein a peculiar thing happened: the bases were loaded for Crowell State Bank; two men were out. Gary Eddy lashed out what appeared to be a perfect, close-line base hit. But Paul Stapp (in center field) grabbed up the old horsehide, fired it to second base to force George Brown, and the side was retired, with a base hit turned into a fielder's choice and with Gary Eddy robbed of a base hit!
 Bill Bell and I attended the district meeting of Little League in Seymour last Saturday night. We learned from District Representative Arch Hughes that he would retire after this year; that the area tournaments have been changed up this year; that Crowell is in the area tournament with Seymour and Munday (yes, just three teams in the tournament); that Crowell will play Munday in the first game on Thursday night, July 18, with the winner of that game to play Seymour on Friday night for the area championship; that there will be several new changes in rules next season; that June 10-17 has been proclaimed Little League week by our President; that we MUST have more lights to ever qualify for an area tournament.
 In the Pee Wee league, Bill Erwin finds himself in a Dick Todd situation. Remember the story of Dick Todd's playing in a practice game with one team, having them leading 14-0 at half-time? Then his coach, Grady Graves, changed him over to the other team to even things up a bit. He obliged by scoring two TDs for them, and the game ended with the score tied at 14-14, with Dick having scored all the points.

 With Bill Erwin playing on the same team with terrific Lee J. Whitley, it seemed too one-sided. So Bill has agreed to switch over to the Tiger team to give them a little help. All of us hope this move will make the league just about even-steven, and that Bill Erwin won't mind too much being switched over to the other club . . . and a great big tip of the hat to manager Richard Blackburn for agreeing to this change. (To Richard it was almost like giving up his good right arm!)

Natural Gas Industry Has $1 Billion Invested in "Empty" Space

The U. S. natural gas industry has a capital investment of $1 billion in "empty" space. This is far from an empty investment, however. The "empty" space involved consists of the underground storage areas in which natural gas is "banked" for use in periods of peak demand.

Electricity Inexpensive

The cost of electricity makes up only 1.4 per cent of consumer expenditures and only 1.9 per cent of value added in manufacturing. Furthermore, electricity is one item the price of which has not gone up two or three times. While the cost of living has about tripled since World War I, the price of electricity to the residential customer is less than two-thirds of what it was then.

Each New Home Means New Jobs

What makes it possible to build and enjoy a modern home miles from town? It's electric power! Can you imagine modern living without it?
 Because rural electric power is available, someone has decided to build. This decision means sales of everything from roofing nails to plumbing fixtures and floor coverings. These sales benefit local lumber yards, hardware stores, appliance dealers, and a host of other merchants.
 Because rural electric power is there, the jobs are there. Local workmen get employment that otherwise would never come about.
 Adding up the score, we've found that new rural housing opens up more than 50 kinds of sales and jobs for local merchants and workmen. That's why we say Rural Electrification is good for all Americans.

Two Minutes With the Bible

"Good News from Calvary"

All through the Old Testament the cross is but dimly seen. Through a hundred historical characters and a hundred more Levitical sacrifices and rituals were typical of Christ and His finished work, not once does the Old Testament specify this. The silence is profound. The clearest Old Testament prophecy of Christ's death, Isaiah 53, does not even specify who the Sufferer would be.

It was the same during our Lord's stay on earth, for only toward the close of His ministry do we read: "From that time forth Jesus began to show unto His disciples how that He must go unto Jerusalem and suffer . . . and be killed . . ." (Matt. 16:21). And what was their response? "Then Peter took Him and began to rebuke Him" (Ver. 22). Luke 18:34 states three times that they did not have the slightest idea He would even die, much less did they understand all that the cross would accomplish. Even at Pentecost Peter blamed his hearers for the death of Christ and called upon them to "repent and be baptized every one . . . for the remission of sins" (Acts 2:38). The twelve were preaching "the gospel of the kingdom" and knew little about the cross and its purpose.

Not until the Apostle Paul, that other apostle, do we have what is properly called "the preaching of the cross," i. e., as good news. And in Paul's great message our Lord is no longer seen as the Victim, but as the Victor, not merely after death, or over death, but in death. His death itself is seen as His greatest triumph.

In Heb. 10:12,14 we read: "After He had offered one sacrifice for sins (He) sat down . . . for by one offering He hath perfected forever them that are sanctified." And in Col. 2:14,15 Paul describes Christ at Calvary nailing the Law to the cross and utterly defeating Satan and his hosts, "triumphing over them in it (i. e., in the cross)." Little wonder the apostle exclaimed: "God forbid that I should boast, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ . . ." (Gal. 6:14).

Plenty of Sugar

"Sugar already on hand or committed to the United States for 1963 totals 500,000 tons more than last year's entire national consumption," reported Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy in comments made recently regarding the upswing in domestic sugar prices.

"These new commitments have been made within the past few days," he added, "and the speculative bubble in sugar is bound to burst in the face of this plentiful supply."

"Speculators may be able to keep the bubble going for a while but not for very long," he declared.

At the same time, he warned that people who load up high priced sugar may sustain losses when the price goes down.

"Current Congressional hearing on the sugar situation," he said, "will show plentiful supplies and this will help restore stability in the sugar market."

He noted that a relatively tight situation in world sugar supplies early this year created uncertainty in the market, and gave speculators a chance to bid up prices.

Should Be a War For All Men

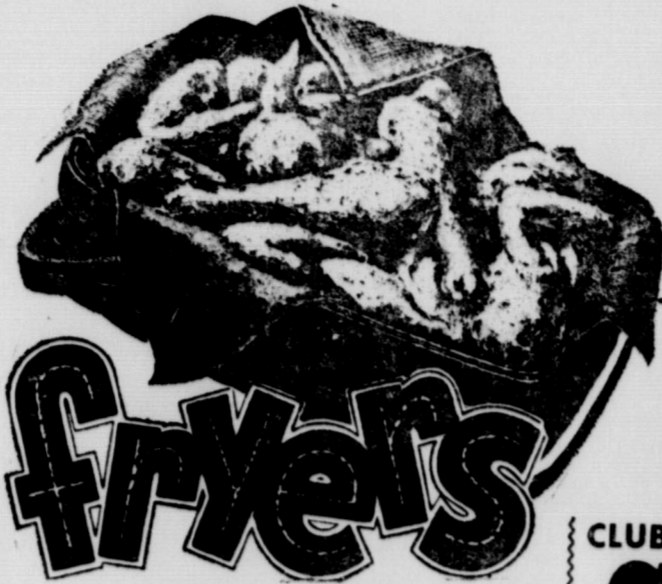

"When laws are used to force one private citizen to hire, rent to, sell to, another specific person or group of persons, every American citizen loses a little more of his individual freedom. The negro loses that freedom right along with the rest of the people. It may look like a good trade now, but his children may well wish he had guarded his rights as a citizen as zealously as he fought for recognition. The fight against discrimination will go on, but let's hope all groups keep their eyes on the common goal. It should be a war to free all men from the bondage of prejudice, not to ensnare them in a common bondage of laws that limit personal freedom."—Antioch, Ill., News.

USDA Offers Cotton 'Mike' Service thru Ginners

How can you get a "mike reading" on your cotton?

Ask your ginner to apply for this U. S. Department of Agriculture service, says C. E. Cox, in charge of the Altus Cotton Classing Office.

Last year, 129 gins served by the Altus and Memphis classing offices applied for free classing services available to farmers in organized Smith-Doxey groups.

Mr. Cox points out that all of these groups are eligible for the "mike" service at a fee of 8 cents per sample.

"But the gins must apply for it under a special application," he emphasizes.

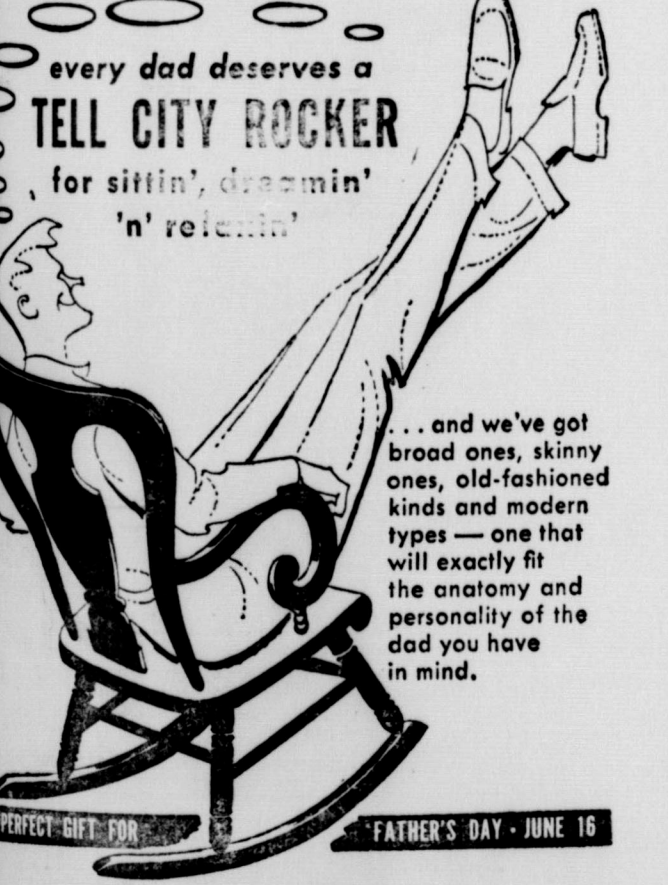

Applications should be received by July 1, so that the local cotton office can determine how much equipment and personnel it will need to provide the "mike" service to all gins asking for it.

"Last year, farmers in this territory had nearly all of their cotton classed — about 378,000 bales," Mr. Cox reports.

"Since the 'mike reading' has become such an important factor in selling cotton, we expect a large share of the cotton we class will be 'miked' also," he explains.

The applicant may terminate this USDA testing service at any time by giving written notice to the cotton classing office.

Ki-Nun-Ka's Have Overnight Campout

The Ki-Nun-Ka Camp Fire girl group, composed of upcoming fifth graders, had their first overnight camp-out at the Boy Scout hut last Tuesday night. The girls cooked in foil for their meal Thursday night, fixing their meat and vegetables in one package and corn on the cob in another. They made a pineapple upside down cake in a dutch oven. Doughboys were baked over hot coals at their breakfast.

Tuesday night, the group had the first council fire. It was a ceremonial fire at which the charter and membership cards were presented to the group. The three sponsors—Clinton McLain, Howard Bell and R. J. Owens—were guests, and Mrs. McLain presented the charter. A WoHeLo candlelight ceremony was used and the girls closed their council fire by singing camp fire and other songs. After the council fire, the girls made ice cream in an old-fashioned ice cream freezer, and had ice cream and cookies for a late snack. They got up early Wednesday morning and cooked their breakfast so they could clean up and all could attend Bible school.

Girls and guardians attending were Sara Bell, Niki Woods, Peggy Welch, Kay Shirley, Charlotte Walker, Peggy Rasberry, Shayne Garrett, Sherry Prince, Kristi McLain, Mike Owens and Messrs. Norman Hopper and Ray Shirley.

Registrations were sent in this week for the group to attend the Camp Fire girl day camp at Vernon during the week of June 24. The Crowell girls were invited to attend by the Wilbarger Camp Fire Girl Council.

Candy money was used to insure every girl for one year which will protect them for all camp fire activities. In making a comment on the program, Mrs. Ray Shirley had this to say. "The Camp Fire Girls of Foard County have initiated a program where the monies contributed to their organization remain here and are used strictly for the benefit of the county girls. Foard County now has four groups: one Horizon (senior high school), a fifth grade group, a fourth grade group and a combination group in Truscott. It is hoped that other guardians can be found so that other groups can be formed to cover all age levels. A second grade Blue Bird group is being planned for the fall. Wilbarger Camp Fire Council has cordially invited any interested person to any training session they have. There will be at least three of us attending the day camp training session in Vernon on Friday, June 14, but anyone who is interested in Camp Fire work may go."

Governor John Connally is shown here at his desk in Austin proclaiming June 16-22 as "Crop Insurance Week." Standing (right) is Ben A. Nature's Most Nearly Perfect Food Is Milk

June is the month when nature's most nearly perfect food, milk, is abundant. And it is a health giving food, says Carpenter, area dairy extension Service.

The story of dairymaking in this country is closely tied to the progress of the settlers in town and later pioneers on the dairy cow for milk. The dairy cow is just as important to us as the fifty of our states.

The dairy cow is a machine that takes grass and makes it into food we enjoy. Milk not only gives us energy but is an excellent curb the appetites of watchers, says the speaker.

Housewives get a lot of dairy products. The food that they furnish for their family would cost 43 cents per gallon if they had to buy products from other sources. The products consumed by the family contains about 20 percent of the calories, 40 percent of the protein, 75 percent of the calcium, and 100 percent of the vitamins.

The dairy industry is an agricultural endeavor that has thrived on in every state. It forms one of the mainstays of the nation's agriculture.

What a difference

Grandma may talk about the good old days, but a whole team of horses couldn't drag her back to an old fashioned kitchen. When you compare the two pictures, you observe an important fact. All the marvelously improved conveniences you see are made possible by electricity — every single one. Yes, electricity makes the difference, and what a difference it makes! It eliminates drudgery and creates more leisure time by performing countless tasks in the home at the flip of a switch. It turns factory wheels, lights the darkness, and does all these things effortlessly and economically. That is one of two reasons why the use of electricity is increasing here in the Center of the Southwest. The other is that more people, more businesses, more industries are coming our way. Our expansion program is keyed to this increase, for we are convinced our service area faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.
