Most heartening news to livestock producers in weeks was the rally of cow prices at Fort Worth late last week and which carried over into Monday's trade. Cows sold Monday $1 to $2 above the low time last week. There was a better feel to the trade, though stocker demand remained very dull, and some signs of improving stocker demand at northern points were encouraging.

Lighter runs of sheep around the market circle set off a little rally in the sheep yards at Fort Worth Monday. Some lambs and some ewes sold 50 cents higher.

Hogs opened the week with a 25 cents higher to 25 cents lower market to top at $18.50 to $19 at Fort Worth. It was notable that hogs closed at the day's low points here and at other major markets. Sows drew $14 to $17.

The stronger tone to the market at Fort Worth and at other points around the market circle was particularly good news since October's twin goblines, deteriorating ranges and heavy receipts, plumped calves and sheep to the lowest levels for the current crop and to the lowest point since OPA controls were removed in October, 1946, just a week ago.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold for $23 to $31, and common to medium sorts sold for $13 to $21, with cutter grades at $10 to $13. Fat cows sold for $12.50 to $15.50 and some heifers topped at $18. Canners and cutters sold for $8 to $13, few under $8. Bulls drew mostly $10 to $17, a few best to $18 and above.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold mostly at $16 to $22 and a few fancy heavies of 500 to 600 pounds drew $22 to $26 and better in the baby beef class. Common and medium slaughter calves drew $12 to $16 and culls sold for $10 to $12. Choice stocker steer calves and steer yearlings sold at $22 down, sparingly, mostly $21 down. A few cows went back to the country at $12 to $16.

Slaughter ewes sold from $3.50 to $5.25 at the close, with old wethers from $7 down. Yearlings cashed at $6.50 to $16, and fat lambs sold from $23 downward. Feeder and stocker lambs sold from $8 to $17, with cull slaughter lambs from $6.50 to $8. Old bucks sold from $3.50 to $4.50.

ma, served as recording secretary at the regional convention held in Wichita Falls Saturday, Oct. 18.

In a very impressive candle-light ceremony conducted by Dr. Madge Davis, state first vice president, Mesdames J. G. McCarrill, Harry Norwood of Vernon and E. T. Stevenson of Quanah were initiated into Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary society for women educators. A 20-voice choir composed of members of the hostess chapter, Beta Rho, furnished the background music.

In the morning session a report of the national convention was made by Miss Hicks of Gainesville. The aims of Delta Kappa Gamma and the way the organization might be strengthened were discussed by Mrs. Horace Lovelady, assisted by Mesdames Hollis Miller and C. J. Price, Mrs. Jeffries, regional director, conducted a skit, "Toward a More Intelligent Use of the Constitution."

Miss Rosenthal, the state president, was the guest speaker at the luncheon. She used for her subject the theme of the convention, "Looking Forward with Understanding and Vision." Miss Rosenthal urged each member to understand herself, her profession, and her professional organization. She told of the crying need for good leadership and discerning following.

Miss Nancy Whitcomb of Wales was a special guest. Miss Whitcomb was an exchange teacher to the United States in 1948-49 and is now studying at Texas Christian University on a Delta Kappa Gamma scholarship.

Some 200 women educators, from 15 counties, were in attendance. Beta Gamma Chapter won the attendance award, a brass bowl inscribed with the Delta Kappa Gamma seal. Local members present were Misses Florence Black, Frankie Kirkpatrick and Cora Carter.

Day of Prayer Set for Oct. 29

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church is setting aside Wed., Oct. 29, as a day of prayer in compliance with a request sent out in one thousand letters by the San Angelo ministers and women's prayer group, urging prayer before the Nov. 4 election which have been mailed out over the United States and Hawaii.

All ladies of all churches in all communities of Foard County are invited and urged to join in the day of prayer.

The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. and a sandwich lunch will be served at noon, according to Mrs. J. W. Bruce, president of the W. S. C. S.

Discussing the day of prayer on a national scale, the Rev. Rodney Gibson of the First Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., said that a group of local women, small in number but mighty in faith, have come up with an unusual bit of vision for the country as a whole, and the country would do well to pick it up.

HEALTH LETTER

From Texas State Dept. of Health

The annual revision of the Texas State Plan for construction of hospitals and public health centers has been approved by the U. S. Public Health Service, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It has as its objective, under the provisions of the Hill-Burton Act, the development of an interrelated system of general hospitals and related institutions improving.

which will be made available to all the citizens of the state without discrimination as to race, creed, color, or financial resources, looking toward a broadened program of medical service covering all categories of illness.

The development of public health centers and related facilities for the provision of community public health services is also taken into consideration.

The over-all Plan is based on information obtained from a comprehensive hospital survey and from additional surveys and from supplementary data gained from experience in the operation of the Plan during the past four years. It provides for minimum standards of construction, operation and maintenance of hospitals and recommends type, size and locations of facilities needed.

The plan meets all of the requirements relative to planning set forth in the state and federal statutes and regulations. The general manner in which priority of projects is determined conforms with the principles contained in Public Law 725. Insofar as it has been developed in a manner to maintain a proper balance, reflecting the proportionate need, for each of the five categories of facilities; namely, general, mental, tuberculosis, chronic diseases, health centers and related facilities.

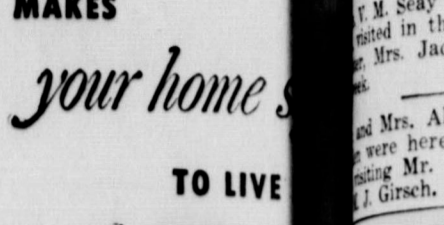

Priorities for general hospital service areas have been determined on the percentage of bed needs already met in relation to the population as indicated in U. S. Census of 1950.

Copies of the Revised State Plan have already been widely distributed to state and county authorities and to chambers of commerce and other organizations and associations throughout the state. An approved copy of the Plan is available at all offices of the State Dept. of Health for public examination.

Tommy Cotner Gives Recital Sunday P. M.

Mrs. B. W. Self was hostess to the Columbia Club for the annual Fine Arts program on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 19. As a courtesy, not only to the club, but to the community as well, Mrs. Self presented Tommy Cotner of Altus, Okla., in an organ recital.

The recital was given in the Methodist Church and included organ and piano numbers, artistically rendered. The program consisted of both classical and semi-classical music and an arrangement by the artist himself.

Tommy, the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson, was accompanied to Crowell by his mother, Mrs. H. W. Cotner; his brother, Frank Cotner, and his piano instructor, Mrs. Fincher, all of Altus.

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA

Crowell, Texas, Oct. 1, 1952

My Dear Son:

I have read your soul-stirring letter over and over many, many times, but since you have asked me not to mail my tears to you I will only say that your brave attitude makes me doubly proud to be the mother of a boy who, after losing his foot on the battlefield, can yet face the future with faith and courage.

It was just about ten years ago, son, that you and I received notice that your father had been critically wounded in battle. Just think of it, two bloody wars in ten short years. I can recall as though it was yesterday, you, a boy of ten, standing by my chair and with your childish hand raising my chin high, saying, "Mother, Daddy will be all right."

So it was just a few months ago when you placed your manly arms about my shoulders, your lips to my forehead and with that same bigger hand raised my chin again, telling me to keep it high while you were gone. Though I have my share of troubles, they cannot mar the heavenly happiness that you and your Dad have crowded into my heart.

This leads me to think that the strength of our country lies not in the material but rather in those behaviors, ideals and virtues constituting the pulse beat of the happy united family.

You asked me to report fully the conditions on the home front. These, my son, are almost as disheartening and confusing as are conditions over there.

First, let me tell you of my own activities. Doubtless you will recall that in 1942, the year your father died, I inherited $10,000 from my mother's estate which I invested in savings bonds. Well, today at their maturity I cashed them in, with the consciousness that their buying power had shrunk fifty per cent since the day of their purchase. This is true of all savings accounts, social benefits and insurance policies acquired when a dollar was a dollar before the present, ever-spiralling inflation. The sad part is that many otherwise conscientious people seem utterly unconcerned about this ruthless robbery. Instead of thinking of the future, perhaps you and I should have spent this money in repairing and refurbishing our home and in giving some attention to the lesser extravagancies of living.

As you know, shortly after your departure, I quit my secretarial job and took a position in this defense plant where I could make more money and at the same time feel that I was working more directly for your welfare and safety. Of course, I was forced to join a union and in a few days the leaders of this union called a strike for higher wages, shorter hours, more holidays and the reinstatement of two workers who insisted upon smoking in the powder room. I pleaded against this work stoppage as all soldiers' mothers would, on the grounds that my boy was serving his country for a pitance and at great danger to his life. This plea did not register in their lustful souls. My heart urged me to defy the picket lines while my baffled reasoning pointed out the futility of such an attempt.

You must not assume from this that the great bulk of Labor is calloused and selfish for there are millions like myself who have loved ones in the Army. However, this affair does convince me that the sacrifices of war should be borne by every group of the citizenry. Some should not be made to die while others gloat that they never had it so good.

Well, the presidential campaign is getting hotter by the minute. Truman is strutting across the land blaming General Eisenhower for selling out to "good old Joe" at both Yalta and Potsdam, thus making inevitable the war that has cost you so dearly. And to gain adherence to this falsification in other States he is promising them a slice of our Tidelands. Just to hear him deny responsibility for the immorality and the lack of foresightedness in his Administration, one would think him a buck private rather than the Commander-in-Chief.

Both Stevenson and Sparkman are in accord with Truman on the tidelands issue and are advocating the confiscation of this property and the division of the proceeds therefrom proportionately amongst the school children in the several states. Knowing the spirit of Texas, as you do, you will be shocked to learn that Sammy Rayburn and Lyndie Johnson are supporting these candidates. They are doing this in defiance of a mandate issued by the Texas Democratic Convention at Amarillo, calling upon all true Texas Democrats to support the candidacy of General Eisenhower. Since Sammy is pretty busy figuring out ways and means to retain the Speakership job and since Lyndie can well remember the close call he experienced in a controversial election squabble they have concluded that it is safer for their political futures to disavow the mandate of the Texas Democratic Convention and place their allegiance with the northern wing of the National Party. This radical wing has little in common with the basic and traditional concepts of the people of Texas as is shown by the divergence of opinion on issues such as property rights, the FEPC and the right of filibuster.

The other evening, Sammy Rayburn made a radio address, appealing to the stomachs of the voters and gloating over a war prosperity, a prosperity, my son, rooted in the carnage of battlefields and in the sweat and toil of unborn generations. Not once did he mention the Hell of war or suggest ways of ending it. Not once did he mention the two hundred and sixty-three billion dollars national debt, which you, though maimed, must help to pay. Not once did he mention the debasement of our currency which robbed you and me of fifty percent of the original buying power of our savings. Not once did he admit any mistakes in foreign policy, mistakes instrumental in causing your loss and your suffering. Not once did he make any apology for the success of the Hisses in gaining favors from the Administration. Not once did he attempt to raise us up from our degeneracy by condemning the graft, the thievery, and the immorality rampant in our government. When he told the voters of Texas that they never had it so good and not let General Eisenhower take it from them, I grabbed my little portable radio and was in the act of smashing it to splinters when I seemed to hear your voice, as of old, "Oh-oh, Mother, don't lose your temper." Thank God, you do not have to listen to these soulless belly-gorging appeals while you lie in some lonely hospital bed, suffering, as you say, stabbing nerve pains darting through mangled toes left on the battlefield.

Son, there are too many people obsessed with the craving for financial security at the expense of greater human values. Little do they realize that this security once acquired can be destroyed, as in our case, by forces beyond their control. No material holding is safe outside the protection of our moral code.

Since you know little about Adlai Stevenson, I will hit the highlights focused upon him at the Democratic Convention and in his campaign as of now.

In a pre-convention statement Adlai said he was physically, temperamentally and mentally unfit for the Presidency and if nominated he may resort to suicide. Of course, this was just shrewd political window-dressing, for the stage had long been perfectly set by Harry Truman, the big labor leaders and the big city political bosses, but to make it appear that the cards were not stacked, they permitted several roll-calls at the Convention before the squeeze was applied and the process of liquidating one by one the other contesting candidates was begun. First, old Man Barkley went down with a thud, then Senator Russell and finally Senator Estes Kefauver, who came to the Convention the choice of the people as expressed in many State presidential primaries. The stage was now a perfect setting for the entrance of the drafted candidate. He was proclaimed a man of and from the common people, a man, both by heritage and association, opposed to monopolies, corporations and the monied interests. Why, son, in all this ballyhoo one could almost see him with a cottonsack around his neck and a grubbing hoe in his hands.

Withholding any final conclusions, I followed the Cadillac procession transporting the draftee from a mansion out on the North Shore Drive to the podium of the Convention Hall where he, with some reluctance and much humility, accepted the nomination. I can tell you one thing, his speech accent does not jive with the melody of that of a cotton-picker.

Much effort is being expended in this campaign to mirror him the common man. It is shocking to what depths his campaign managers will descend to hold his mirrored image before the voters. Why, they even had the aristocratic Adlai pose for a picture wearing a worn out pair of shoes, borrowed from a porter working at the Governor's mansion. This is, as you can see, just a low appeal for the votes of people such as you and me.

There is no disgrace in the rich wearing good clothes, riding in costly cars and living in mansions, provided these things are honestly acquired. In truth, the rich are benefactors when they put their wealth in circulation thereby creating work and stimulating business.

Wishing to pursue this "common man" myth further, with its accompanying hatred for monopolies, corporations and entrenched wealth, I finally found out that Adlai, a few years ago, wooed and married the daughter of a wealthy soap manufacturer. This is not all. According to his income tax reports he has been a director of a great railroad, two national banks and his income tax reports show that 65 per cent of his income for the past ten years was derived from the earnings of giant corporations such as Standard Oil of New Jersey. If this be the technique of hating, man has yet to learn the technique of loving.

Son, you certainly can't complain about the brevity of this letter. Just keep your chin up, as you tell me, and know how proud you make me when you feel, as you say you do, no bitterness toward your fellowman or your God, and proud in the knowledge that you have performed a duty for your country. I would not have it otherwise.

Love,
MOTHER.

Marine Band Will Visit Vernon on Tour of 17 States

The colorful United States Marine Band, the oldest military symphonic musical organization in the country, under the direction of Lt. Col. William F. Santelmann, will appear in Vernon on October 30 for two concerts under the auspices of the Band Parents Association. Mrs. C. C. Hamm, in making the announcement, stated that the net proceeds from these concerts will be used for the Vernon High School Music Department.

The tour will carry the Marine Band 10,000 miles through the eastern, midwestern and far western sections of the country. The Marine Band is known to millions of Americans through its coast-to-coast radio broadcasts over two networks. It is one of the nation's "firsts." It was the first official band to represent the U. S. Military Service—first to receive congressional recognition—it was the first military symphonic musical organization in the country, preceding even the New York Philharmonic—it was the first band to broadcast over radio and the first military band to be presented in a series of concerts on television.

T. F. W. C. Convention in Austin Nov. 10-13

"What Are You For?" will be the theme set by Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, for their 55th annual convention Nov. 10-13 in Austin.

This year's state convention of Texas' 50,000 clubwomen will be a homecoming, held at their federation headquarters with 600 delegates expected to attend.

Monday's opening activities feature a Fine Arts Festival the first night at 8 o'clock, followed by an open house. The Fine Arts department will hold the program, which includes exhibits of antiques, prize paintings from district competitions, a special show of oils by a guest artist, Don Brown of Centenary College at Shreveport, light opera numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Scott Griffiths of Fort Worth, and A&M's Singing Cadets.

Robert Montgomery, well-known Hollywood actor and speaker, has tentatively accepted an invitation to present "A Free Man's Manifesto" on the evening program.

Pre-convention events begin Monday morning at 9 with an executive committee meeting and include trustee meeting at 10 and district presidents' meeting at 11 o'clock.

The state board of directors meet at 2 o'clock. Two past state presidents, Mrs. Richard J. Turrentine and Mrs. J. W. Fincher, will be among clubwomen honored in the "In Memoriam" service set for 3:30 Monday. That night's formal dinner for the state board of directors will be held in the Georgian tea room at headquarters.

The receiving line, headed by Mrs. Curtis Casey, included the honoree, Mrs. Owen New, and Miss Peggy New.

Mrs. Turner invited the guests into the dining room where Mrs. C. A. Bullion poured tea from a pretty lace laid table centered with a bouquet of white and pink flowers. Candies in the crystal candelabra gave the only illumination. Miss Mary Brown assisted in the dining room.

Mrs. Jack Brown presided at the guest register. Mrs. Chester Pogue directed the guests into the gift rooms. Misses Margaret Bullion and Carol Pogue assisted with the gifts.

About fifty guests registered during the afternoon.

MARY DEEB BROWN

Hallowe'en is getting closer and some of you are planning a party or friendly "get together" at that time. If you are having trouble with ideas for decorations, games, or Hallowe'en refreshments, come by my office to look through my Hallowe'en party file.

At Council this last Saturday, the date for the Food Sale and Achievement Day was moved to Nov. 22. That is the Saturday before Thanksgiving, so don't forget.

Here is a spicy doughnut recipe which really tastes good with coffee on these cool nights.

Two eggs, one and one-half cups brown sugar, one cup milk, half cup orange juice, thawed but undiluted, quarter cup melted shortening, 1 tsp. salt, half tsp. cinnamon, half tsp. nutmeg, 2 tb. baking powder, 3 cups flour, enough to make a soft dough.

Sift the dry ingredients together. Then beat eggs, add sugar, milk, orange juice and melted shortening. Add dry ingredients. (Dough should be firm enough to roll but as soft as possible). Roll out dough quarter inch thick and cut with floured doughnut cutter. Let stand about 15 minutes. Fry in deep fat (375 degrees) until brown, turning only once. Drain on unglazed and sprinkle with powdered sugar or frost as desired.

ENTERTAINS FOR FATHER

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Halenckak of Margaret entertained with a birthday dinner for Mrs. Halenckak's father, C. W. Ross, last Sunday, Oct. 20. In the afternoon gifts were presented to the honoree and the birthday cake was served with coffee.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prosser and daughter, Patricia, of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Malone of Margaret and Don Ross Malone of Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross of Flomot.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

A missionary from Africa will speak at the Foard City church Wednesday night of next week, Oct. 29, at 7 o'clock. The public is invited to hear him.

J. H. Minniek of Crowell and Miss Mary Sam Crews of Houston.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Saturday, Oct. 18, Mrs. James Long entertained her two daughters, Christy and Connie, with a birthday party at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Frank Long. This was Christy's fifth birthday and Connie's second birthday.

Cake, ice cream and Hallowe'en favors were served to the following guests: Mary Frances Adams, Dusty Adams, Milburn Carroll Jr., Deborah Jones, Wade Adams Jr., Carolyn Adams, Ella Ann Cates, Frances Cates, James Allen Welch Jr., Mrs. Milburn Carroll Sr., Mrs. Dee Adams, Mrs. Wade Adams Sr., Mrs. James Welch, Mrs. Daurice Naron and Mrs. Frank Long of Crowell. Out-of-town guests were Peggy, Jo Frances and Meribob Long of Thalia, Nan and Gwenn Naron of Quanah, Mrs. Bob Gray and daughter, Sheri Lynne, of Vernon. Those sending gifts were Mary Jan Welch and Marcia Carroll of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gray and J. W. Dunn of Vernon.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

"You may use the basic sweet dough recipe for a number of variations such as cinnamon rolls, swedish rolls, tea rings and others," Mrs. Mary Brown explained to the ladies of the West Side Club when they met with Mrs. J. T. King on October 14.

Visitors present were Mrs. Wm. Wells, Mrs. Ed Norris and Mrs. Josie Jones. Members present were Mesdames S. H. Ross, Oscar Gentry, M. O'Connell, R. J. Roberts, D. Norris, T. W. Cooper, G. H. Kincheloe, Jack Lyon, E. A. Dunagan, C. R. Bryson, J. L. Kincheloe, Mrs. King and Mrs. Brown.

The club will meet again on Oct. 28 with Mrs. O'Connell as hostess. A sewing machine demonstration will be given.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Tom Russell was given a surprise birthday dinner at the home of Mrs. A. Y. Beverly on Wednesday evening, Oct. 15, when Mrs. Beverly, Mrs. W. C. Erwin and Miss Dorothy Erwin were hostesses.

A lovely dinner was served at individual tables where games were later enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Van W. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Clint White, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Erwin, Mrs. Charlie Thompson, Mrs. Maggie French, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Klepper, Mrs. Beverly and Miss Erwin.

The honoree was given a shower of birthday remembrances.

A study made recently by the Texas Tuberculosis Association indicates 49,000 Texans need some medical supervision for tuberculosis infection.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Adelphian Club members met at the club for a regular club meeting on October 15 with Mrs. E. C. King and Mrs. C. G. Graves as hostesses.

Leader for the afternoon was Mrs. Guy Todd. After giving a brief sketch of the life and works of Herman Wouk, she introduced Mrs. Virgil Johnson, speaker for the afternoon.

Mrs. Johnson gave a most delightful review of Mr. Wouk's latest work, "The Cain Mutiny."

Her characterizations were highly entertaining and her interpretation was most interesting.

Members of the club were happy to have the house guest of Mrs. Mark Henry, Mrs. Tully Henry, of Los Angeles, Calif., present.

Following the study hour, Mrs. Graves invited the guests into the dining room where Mrs. King served orange punch from a beautiful appointed refreshment table, which reflected the autumn theme. Twenty-two members were present at this meeting.

MEAT

While cattle are going up in increasing numbers, farmers are getting less for them, there is little of any cut in the prices in the near future. The demand for meat and distribution are about twenty-five per cent higher a year ago.

MR. FARMER:

Don't you think control of the farm program should be in your hands?

Don't you think you are capable of running your own business?

Then vote for Texas Ike for President. He is pledged to decentralize the farm program, to place control on the state, district and county levels.

Here's what Ike said at Waco: "Our farm policies ought to begin, as well as end, out where the plowing and the planting are actually done. It should be a unified program, one in which the left hand knows what the right hand is doing."
