Two cattle feed lots have recently been completed in the north part of the county and are in operation.

The first to begin operation was put in by Jimmy Johnson and is located a few miles north of Margaret. A large metal silo holds the feed and a truck is used to move the feed from the silo to the feeding troughs. Mr. Johnson has several hundred head of cattle now being fed.

W. B. Eby Jr. has also completed construction of his cattle feeding plant at his farm between Margaret and Crowell. Mr. Eby also stores his feed in a large silo and the feed is augered from the silo to the feeding troughs. He is now stocking his pen with cattle.

Mr. Eby reported Monday that he plans to construct another silo near the present one, which will allow him to feed out a larger number of calves. He said each silo holds 360 tons of cut feed.

Mr. and Mrs. Eby live on the farm they purchased from Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hunter. Mrs. Eby is the former Miss Louise Whitley.

Wildcats Drop Conference Game Archer City

The Crowell High School football team lost an important 11A game Friday night by the score of 10-0. The lighter Crowell team really made a good fight against the strong Archer City team before suffering their first conference loss of the season.

Archer City had previously defeated two other district foes, Paducah and Paducah, by four touchdowns, respectively. The first quarter was played on the terms until the last play of the period. At this point, Mike Bird, left half for Archer, went through right tackle and ran 55 yards for the first count of the game. Fullback Barry Johnson kicked the extra point.

The second quarter was scored by Crowell made one good drive during this period, marching from its 14-yard line into enemy territory before losing the pigskin fumble. The first downs were due to six for Archer City during the first half. The long 55-yard scamper by Stewart was the only one.

Archer City looked like Crowell was going to tie the ball game up in the second quarter when Larry Henry, half, took a pass from quarterback Dan Mike Bird and ran to the ten-yard line. The Crowell boy was about to intercept the pass, when Henry reached his shoulders and swiped the ball. Crowell pushed on down the three-yard line before losing it on downs. The thing that broke Crowell's back came in the next play. Barney Oliver, punter, kicked the ball into the end zone.

Junior Rifle Club Members Receive Accuracy Awards

During the month of October, four medals have been awarded to members of the Crowell Junior Rifle Club for accuracy of marksmanship in their target work. Miss Mary Ann Ramsey and Tommie McRae earned Pro-Marksman medals, the first award in the National Rifle Association ratings for junior club members. To qualify as a pro-marksman, candidates must hit 10 official 50-ft-distance targets with 5 shots per target, accumulating at least 20 points for each target. Recipients of Marksman medals, the second step up the NRA scale, were Tommie McRae and Ken Ferguson. The marksman award indicates that a shooter has already qualified as a pro-marksman and that he also has accumulated 25 points in shooting 5 times at each of 10 official targets. Dr. Walter Stapp said the club is proud of having members achieve these honors, and that Marksman First Class and Sharp-shooter medals are on hand, waiting to be awarded as soon as they have been earned.

The club is enjoying its indoor target facilities at the American Legion building, and wishes to express its gratitude to all those who had a part in providing these facilities. With daylight hours growing so short during this season of the year, it would be difficult for the members to shoot a complete practice session at their outdoor range.

Dr. Stapp also announced that on October 18, H. L. Ayers Jr. received his official certificate as a Certified Rifle Instructor from the NRA. The club is very fortunate to have such a fine staff of instructors and supervisors.

An invitation is extended to all area youths between 12 and 18 years of age to attend the meetings at the American Legion building each Tuesday afternoon at 5:30.

The proposed project would employ 90,000 acre feet of water in a reservoir near Hedley at a cost of around $9 million. It will be proposed that the cities finance $7.2 million through revenue bonds to be sold to the state and that the remainder be purchased directly by the state for future use by area cities.

Person Charm—Available to All

The qualities which contribute to personal charm vary with different individuals. There are, however, certain qualities which are necessary for the accomplishment of a charming personality that apply to everyone. Since it is only natural to form an impression of a person from the looks and condition of his clothes, taste and appropriateness of dress are very important in gaining personal charm. Many people fail to secure jobs simply because their clothes create a bad impression, and, consequently, they are not allowed to show their ability to do the work.

Clothes need not be expensive to look nice, but they must be clean and in good repair. Of course, clothes have only a temporary effect—it is the person in the clothes who will make the lasting impression.

That person should have good physical habits in order to give a favorable impression to those with whom he comes in contact. Clean hands and fingernails, gleaming teeth, well-kept hair, and good posture, as well as a clean, odor-free body, contribute greatly towards personal charm.

Another important factor in personal charm is the ability to speak well and effectively. One of the best methods of increasing word power is by reading. However, the effective use of words must be accompanied by a knowledge of the time and place to remain quiet.

Manners and character also enter into the picture of a charming personality. A simple "please" or "thanks" can be of greater value than perhaps any other thing. Such good manners come only from a person with a good character; so, it is necessary to cultivate honesty, sincerity, and other traits that contribute to a good character.

Yes, personal charm can be accomplished by everyone if he wants to be charming. Proper clothes, good physical appearance and habits, appropriate speech, and good character and behavior—these are essential to charm, but determination to be charming is also necessary in order to maintain the other characteristics.

Western Day Sponsored by Student Council

Bang! Bang! Bang!—No, it was not the Fourth of July—it was Western Day at CHS last Wednesday, Oct. 16. Western Day, sponsored by the Student Council, was deemed a great success, and it did add a little variety to the "hum drum" routine of ordinary activities.

The majority of the students, as well as the faculty, did participate by dressing in attire, varying from real "he-men" cowboy chaps, spurs, and guns to petite cowgirl western skirts, blouses, and neck-chiefs.

The highlight of the day was during the noon hour when a sheriff and a group of law-abiding citizens, amid the burst of gunfire, pursued a desperado who had staged a daring robbery. The sheriff was killed, but the enraged citizen captured the robber and hanged him by the neck to the limb of a nearby tree. Unfortunately, the desperado escaped when the tree limb broke!

Oh, well—the Student Council wishes to thank everyone for participating in Western Day and for helping make it a success.

Crowell Wildcats Lose 13-0

The game between the Archer City Wildcats and the Crowell Wildcats, played on the home field last Friday night, was dedicated by the coaches and team to Jackie Hickman, an ex-ball player, who received a serious injury last week.

Anyone who did not see this game missed a good one even if the CHS Wildcats did fall to the ACHS Wildcats 13-0. It was a game hard fought during every minute. The Crowell Wildcats nearly scored once when they penetrated Archer City's 2-yard line, but they could not muster out a touchdown.

Let's not let this happen again. Be at the Chillicothe game next Friday night to cheer the Wildcats to an outstanding victory. Yea, Wildcats!

FHA Meeting

The Crowell chapter of F. H. A. met Tuesday, Oct. 15, in the Homemaking Cottage for a regular meeting.

Beverlie Gray presided over the business session in which it was decided to charge members five cents for each meeting missed, and after three consecutive absences, to drop the member from the roll. Nominees for the Harvest Queen contest to be held in November were revealed.

Janell Gray acted as narrator for a skit on parliamentary procedure. Freshman girls participating in the skit were Joylyn Haynie, Debra Jones, Billye McClain, Joy Traweck, Janis James, Margaret Collins, Jon Ann Carter and Sandra Chowning.

 Gayle Smith led the group in songs and games of musical bingo to conclude the meeting.

Senior Personality

Kenney William Ownbey, a brown-eyed, brown haired "guy," is the lively senior personality for this week. Kenney enjoys being an active member of CHS and of such organizations as the FFA, basketball team, and Wildcat staff.

Some of his favorites are the color, red; the food, steak; the sport, basketball; the teacher, Mrs. Manard; and the subject, world history. He dislikes most the person who insults one's intelligence.

He believes his aunt and uncle have been very influential to him. Kenney, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Ownbey, plans to attend Ciseo Junior College next year; he hopes to become a teacher.

Greenhands Initiated

The Crowell chapter of Future Farmers of America met last Tuesday, Oct. 15, at the V. A. building. The main business of this meeting was the initiation of 19 new members into the chapter. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 4, at the V. A. hall.

Band Report

During the half-time performance at the Archer City-Crowell game last Friday night, the Crowell band formed four straight lines as they played an entrance fanfare. As they marched to the center of the field, "Corcoran Cadets" was played. Then, the talents of the band members flourished as they did a dance kick-step to "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy." Also, the drill team and majorettes were featured doing dance routines. Anyone could see from the next movement that Mr. Lykins had done a superb job of teaching each student how to waltz to the "Shenandoah Waltz." Again, the drill team and majorettes did waltz steps. Leaving the field, the fight song was played.

Juniors Take PSAT

On Oct. 15, twelve junior students took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. The PSAT is a shorter version of Scholastic Aptitude Test which is required of applicants for admission to colleges such as Texas Tech, TCU, SMU, State University, etc. Both tests measure abilities that are important in college-level work; the ability to read, to understand to use words, and to reason with words and numbers.
 The results will be obtained at a later date. However, they will not be sent to any college. This test is merely a practice test for those students who plan to take the CEEB test during their senior year.
 The test, which cost each student one dollar, was administered at Crowell High School. Those taking the test were Jean Burkett, David Denton, Ken Ferguson, Mike Gambie, Seth Halbert, Toye McCurley, Otis Smith, Rick Traweck, Barbara Womack, Scherry Goodwin, Suella Smith, and Gary Taylor.

Sale of Quarters and Sides of Beef Is on the Increase

Despite today's trend toward smaller packages of food and convenient foods, the sale of quarters and sides of beef is on the increase. Joe W. Doby, Knox Agent, said this week. In cases, buying beef in this can save the consumer money he says it is advisable to carefully at the economies of purchases. Unfortunately, a carcass is not steak and a large portion is cutting loss bone and low price cuts. In it takes about 2.16 pounds choice grade live animal to just one pound of U. S. beef in a retail store, Doby says. In making the decision to buy a side of beef, first mine the price of each of the for retail cuts at the local store. These cuts are rib 8 per cent of the carcass; roast, 19 per cent; ground 18 per cent; T-bone and porterhouse steak, 6 per cent; steak, 10 per cent; rump 5 per cent; sirloin, 8 per cent and stew beef, 6 per cent.

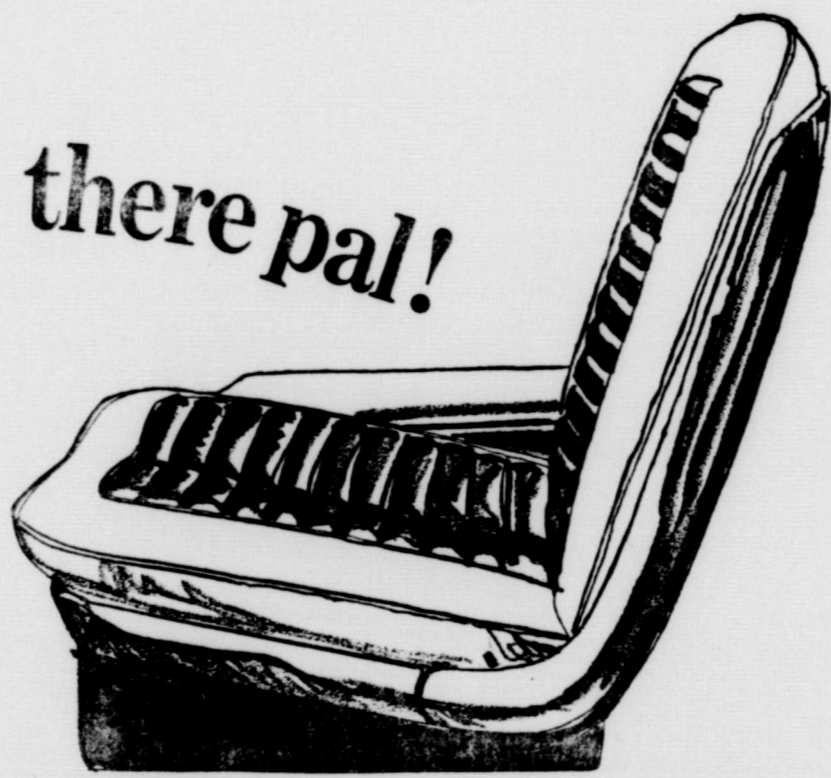

To compute the total cost of retail beef, multiply the price of each of the cuts by the price of that cut in the retail store. Then add these individual costs and divide the total per cent, the carcass minus fat and cutting loss. This the average retail cost per if the beef were purchased the retail counter, Doby says.

To compare this price with one quoted for beef by the first divide the price per side by 80 and add the price storage of the meat, about 5 per pound. To decide if beef by the side is really a gain, compare this figure with retail price per pound, Doby concluded.

To compute the total cost of retail beef, multiply the price of each of the cuts by the price of that cut in the retail store. Then add these individual costs and divide the total per cent, the carcass minus fat and cutting loss. This the average retail cost per if the beef were purchased the retail counter, Doby says.

Will Have to Step Up Production

"If the U. S. has enough nuclear weapons to kill three times the present world population as many believe, and it wishes to maintain this ratio, it probably will have to step up production, as the world population is increasing rapidly."—Grayson, Ky., Journal-Enquirer.

Now Is the Most Dangerous Time of Year for Driving

"Mr. Motorist," have you noticed in the last few weeks that the shadows of darkness are creeping upon you much earlier than they did during the summer months? Sgt. D. R. Dowdy, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area, stated that October is the first of the three months in which hours of darkness are much longer than those of other months of the year. If these three months follow true to form as they have over the past years, it will mean more traffic accidents.

A survey was made comparing the number of accidents occurring during the months of October, November and December of the past three years to the three months in which occurred the greatest number of accidents out of the other nine months during this three year period. The results were 20,000 more accidents occurred in October, November and December.

The veteran patrol supervisor listed some laws and procedures for night driving: (1) Turn on your low beam headlights before dusk. The law requires headlights burning from one half hour after sunset to one half hour before sunrise, and during daytime when a person or vehicle cannot be seen 500 feet away. (2) The law requires you to keep headlights on low beam when you approach an oncoming vehicle within 500 feet and when you are following a vehicle within 200 feet. (3) Do not overdrive your headlights. Good visibility on high beam may vary from 250 to 300 feet. (4) If blinded by oncoming lights, ease off the accelerator and glance along the right edge of the pavement across the hood to be sure you keep in your lane. (5) Watch shoulder of highway for cyclists, pedestrians or animals, and (6) do not wear sunglasses at night, at dusk or in daytime when visibility is low.

Cecil Smith to Be Honored in San Antonio Sunday

The legendary Cecil Smith, who has rewritten the polo record book during his 38 years as an active player, will be honored in San Antonio Sunday with a special high-goal game.

It will be the first time that the Llano cowboy has been honored in his home state with a polo match.

The "Cecil Smith Day" game will pit eight top Texas-trained players against each other in one of the great matches of the year in the nation. Each team is rated at 23 goals.

And Smith, who has held a 10-goal rating—the highest possible—for 25 straight years, will play in the game with his youngest son. The game starts at 3 p. m. at Brackenridge Park, oldest municipal polo field in the nation.

Sunday's game is open to the public. Seating, parking and refreshments will be available.

Playing with the two Smiths will be Bill Barry and Bob Beveridge. On the other team will be Tom Crea, Ray Harrington Jr., Roy L. Barry Jr. and John Armstrong.

Practicing What They Preach Is a Problem

National Review says: "Practicing what they preach is proving quite a problem for Liberia and the Cameroons which, with the other African nations at Addis Ababa assembled, declared ideological war on Portugal and South Africa. Liberia decided to show its displeasure by expelling all Portuguese to be found within her boundaries—all six of them, as it turned out. The Cameroons fired off a tart note breaking diplomatic relations, and didn't much like it when Lisbon replied by pointing out that much as it would like to oblige, the two countries never had had any diplomatic ties which they now could break. Very well then, said the Cameroons, we will instead close all our ports and airfields to Portuguese ships and planes—a prohibition which has not visibly upset Lisbon since the last Portuguese sailor to touch shore in the Cameroons was, historians appear to agree, Vasco de Gama."

No Reason for Being a Pessimist in U. S.

"There is no logical or common sense reason for anyone to be a pessimist living in the United States. If he will only open his eyes and see. As an individual in the United States, you have free access to its gigantic wealth through your own initiative and ability. As long as you do not encroach upon the rights of others, you can acquire as much of it as your capacity warrants. It is all yours."—Sioux Rapids, Iowa, Bulletin-Press.

Farm Bureau, vocational agriculture teachers, county agents and local USDA personnel lend a helping hand.

Last year, 27 demonstrations were carried out on 23 cooperating farms. In them, farmers learned—and taught their neighbors—how to knock out bindweed and Johnson grass, control mesquite, lick the alfalfa spider, use fertilizer efficiently and select the best hybrids and varieties for efficient crop production.

The program also has shown that A&M officials were on the right track in seeking a more efficient way to serve the people of Texas. Plans now are underway to select key locations representing major crop producing areas, to develop them into well equipped, completely staffed research-extension centers, and to expand on-the-farm research demonstrations.

No wholesale abandonment of field stations is planned, the agent said. Some will close while others likely will be retained for out-of-field experiments and demonstrations. Technical personnel now at these stations will be used to strengthen staffs at the new research-extension centers.

"Our hats are off to the progressive people of Collingsworth, Wheeler and Hall counties," says R. E. Patterson, A&M's dean of agriculture and experiment station director. "This new approach which they have pioneered so successfully will make it possible for us to utilize available funds, personnel and other resources far more effectively in the years to come."

Instead, it was decided to initiate an intensive series of on-the-farm research demonstrations to run for a 3-year period. This eliminated the need for costly new facilities and additional technical personnel that a new substation would have required, Burkett explained. Sponsored jointly by the Extension Service and experiment station, the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration Program was formally organized in 1957. Hall county joined the effort, and the program got off the ground in March with the employment of Duane L. Scott, a young Collingsworth county farmer, as farm demonstration assistant.

The program operates within the framework of local program building committees, but everyone is in the act. Farmer-rancher advisory groups keep research scientists at Chillicothe, Lubbock and Bushland informed of problems that need attention and help select suitable demonstration sites to evaluate new developments for local use. USDA and state experiment station scientists, with the help of extension subject matter specialists, design and layout on-the-farm test plots. Soil conservation districts provide many items of scarce equipment and 20 commercial firms joined together to provide needed seed, fertilizer and herbicides. Bankers, service clubs, chambers of commerce,

Even our most irresponsible politicians and rosey-minded theorists should be able to see that history is against them. If they can't or won't then the same people of the United States should shower them with protests.

Cut taxes yes, but at the same time cut spending more.—Scandal Sheet, Graham.

Banning of Books on Increase in U. S.

"There are indications that the banning of books is on the increase in the United States. This apparently reflects the growth of a widespread but mistaken idea that someone ought to be telling others what to read. . . . In 1954, for example, Hans Christian Anderson's beloved fairy tales were stamped in red ink, 'For Adult Readers Only,' by order of the Illinois secretary of state, Mark Twain's 'Huckleberry Fin,' possibly America's greatest novel, was banned in New York because an influential organization disliked one of its characters. Other examples, involving even such masterpieces as plays by Shakespeare, are numerous."—Lititz, Pa., Record-Express.

President Kennedy and his advisers as well as most labor leaders, politicians and many others agree that a tax cut will help the country. Some say it will help no matter how much it adds to the deficit.

Experience has shown repeatedly that easy money, deficit spending schemes do not achieve their purpose. More conservative methods do. Only recently Germany and France have demonstrated that by turning from deficit spending to conservative operation, their countries showed a miraculous recovery. Germany turned down an "easy money" plan put forth by Mr. Heller, the Administration's chief economic advisor and others in 1951. France's economic comeback has taken place since 1958 when Pres. de Gaulle put an end to the inflationary habits which had brought about the collapse of one government after another.

Now...
new name, new size, new style, new spirit,
new car!

Only this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. The Chevelle is a highly polished car on a trim 115-inch wheelbase. Remarkably agile and easy to handle and park. But it's roomy inside, with many of the comforts you'd expect in a bigger car.

Its ride comes from the people who developed the Jet-smooth kind. Its four engines—V8 or 6—carry that irrepressible Chevrolet spirit all the way up to 220 hp*. Its lively, graceful styling and Body by Fisher craftsmanship make its modest price all the more remarkable. And it comes in three series and eleven models—wagons, sedans, sport coupes, convertibles.

Want to check further? Consider this your invitation for a real hood-raising, door-slammng, seat-bouncing, wheel-turning time of it at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Columbian Club

"Essentials of Social Security in the United States" was the subject of a talk given by Joe A. Nesbitt of Wichita Falls at a meeting of the Columbian Club Oct. 16 in the home of Mrs. Marion Crowell.

Mrs. Roy Barker, program leader, introduced the Social Security expert. Mr. Nesbitt began his talk with an explanation of the passage of the Social Security Act in 1935.

He said the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance is over-seeing payments to 16,000,000 persons in the United States. Retirement benefits to these people range from $40 to $127 a month. Widows receive 82.5 per cent of their husband's benefits. A question and answer period followed Mr. Nesbitt's talk.

Mrs. J. M. Chowning presided at a brief business meeting following the program. She gave a summary of the club's history since its organization. The Columbian Club president pointed out there have been many changes in the nation since the club's organization, including the addition of four states to the union, the election of 8 presidents and participation in three wars.

Mrs. R. J. Thomas gave the devotional from the 147 Psalms. Roll call was answered with a current event. The next meeting will be Oct. 30 in the home of Mrs. Grady Halbert.

Two Minutes With the Bible

"It's All in the Bible"

We couldn't help hearing it! This woman had a voice that could be heard at considerable distance and we distinctly heard her say: "I doped it all out from the Bible."

"Well, at least somebody's interested in the Bible," we said to each other.

But as she prattled on it turned out that she had used the records in an old family Bible to establish her claim to part of an estate. These records, introduced in court, had won the case for her.

There was, after all, no indication that she was interested in the Bible—only in those pages between the Old and New Testament which, in some editions of the Bible are kept for family records.

Actually she was no different from the masses about us who go about from day to day interested only in the things of this life and ignore almost completely the things that really matter: God, heaven, hell and their own eternal destiny.

If these people only knew what treasures are to be found in the Bible! There are "riches of mercy" (Eph. 4:2), "riches of grace" (Eph. 1:7), "riches of glory" (Phil. 4:19), "riches of wisdom and knowledge" (Rom. 11:33), "the riches of the full assurance of understanding" (Col. 2:3), "the unsearchable riches of Christ" (Eph. 3:8).

And the best part of it is that anyone may have these riches simply for the asking:

"For there is no difference . . . for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him.

"For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Rom. 10:12,13).

society with problems different from anything that has existed before. This is not true. . . . Consider the experience of William Caxton, one of the great printers in the 15th century that set up a London establishment of Stationers objected to this fangled method of using machinery to turn out books. They refused to know what would happen to the scribes whose livelihood depended on the demand for books copied by hand. What happened was that the printing absorbed the copyists and provided jobs for many of them."—Carlsbad, N. M., Carls Argus.

A number of excellent cotton yields are being made by the farmers of Ford County. Garnet Jones, who lives on the M. L. Hughton farm 6 1/2 miles east of Crowell, had his 102nd bale ginned in Crowell Wednesday from this year's crop. After plowing up 80 acres, he still had 190 acres left and expects to gather a total of 150 to 160 bales from this acreage.

Billy Hammonds of Thalia was in the hospital this week for medical treatment.

Leo Spencer has been appointed administrator of Welfare and Employment Board in Ford County.

The Modern Beauty Shoppe opened last week in the second story of the Lanier building with two experienced operators, Miss Ammie May Gray and Miss Treva McLain in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riels and son, Roy Joe, have moved to Perryton where Mr. Riels assumed duties Monday as manager of the Burrow Lumber Co.

Although they entered the game as favorites to win, the Crowell High School Wildcats exceeded the most optimistic expectations of their backers in defeating Chillicothe 50 to 0 last Thursday night at Quanah.

The City Marshal has killed eighteen stray dogs since the extermination campaign in this respect was started by the city a week ago.

Miss Mary Nell Merriman and Clarence Barker were united in marriage by Rev. C. V. Allen at his home in Crowell Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barker accompanied the couple to Crowell.

F. L. Maytag, founder and retiring president of the Maytag Washing Machine Company of Newton, Iowa, visited in Crowell a short time Monday while on his way from a meeting at Childress to Abilene for a similar meeting Tuesday.

Claude Callaway is now working as collector for The Allen Chevrolet.

Crews Cooper and Ernest Spears were visitors in Lubbock over the week end. They attended the Louisiana Tech-Texas Tech football game Friday night.

Henry L. Brunk's Comedians will be in Crowell for a week's engagement beginning Monday.

A piano was purchased at Margaret last Saturday for the Good Creek school and church.

Charlie Chatfield has returned to his home at Sanger after a visit with relatives in the Good Creek community.

Gilliland Farmers Co-Operative Gin has ginned 2,275 bales of cotton this season.

The spooks and goblins are busy this week getting ready for their bright night.

Halloween is almost here again. The ancient observance of All Hallows' Even in modern times is turned over largely to the very small fry. The tots and toddlers take full advantage of the occasion to dress in scary costumes and mooch cookies and candies from the neighbors with the traditional call of "Trick or Treat!"

The rugged, rampant vandalism of a past generation is largely passe. But there are still some safety hazards to the youngsters who roam the neighborhoods and ring doorbells.

Make your small spooks' costumes of bright colors. You might even sew on some strips of reflective tape. In the excitement of the occasion, they might dart into the street. A full face mask can cause trouble, if there's a chance right half for Archer, broke into the clear and raced 84 yards before Mike Shrode caught up and brought him down on Crowell's 12. It took only three plays before fullback Gary Tepfer scored Archer's second and final TD of the contest. The extra point try was no good to leave the final count 13 to 0.

Neither team threatened during the last quarter. Archer's big defensive linemen had blasted Crowell's lighter backs until they were unable to stare the comeback that they have been noted for in several other games during the season.

Archer City made 13 first downs to Crowell's 10. Most of their 300 yards were picked up on the ground. The Crowell team looked exceptionally good in the air, racking up 165 yards on nine completions out of 18 tries. They ran for an additional 70 yards to make a total of 235. The game was very clean with only two penalties on each side.

Larry Henry are the Crowell that played in this game. Linscott, Barney Oliver and Stewart were standouts for er City.

Crowell and Chillicothe be well matched in a contest game at Chillicothe this night. The Eagles got off slow start, but since the coaches and having several boys out for football, they come to life. In fact, they won their two district games still think they might have a chance at the championship. They have not played any big three, Archer City, and Henrietta. The loser contest will find it rough from here on out.
